DIGEST OF DECISIONS RELATING T0 NATIONAL BANKS.

[^0]
CHECKS.

OBLIGATION OF BANK TO PAYEE OR HOLDER.

Assignments-Check as "assignment"—Letters of advice.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) That simultaneously with the drawing of a check on a bank by a foreign depositor the depositor, pursuant to the usual practice between the parties, sent the common letter of advice which frequently goes with a foreign check, to the bank, directing it to protect the check, did not create an "assignment" in view of Negotiable Instruments Law N. Y. (Consol. Laws, c. 38), section 325, providing that a check does not operate as an assignment and that the bank is not liable to the holder unless and until it accepts or certifies the check. (Eastman Kodak Co.v. National Park Bank et al., 231 Fed. Rep., 320.)
Checks-Payment through clearing house.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) A check drawn on one bank in favor of another was presented for payment at the clearing house and marked as a credit to the payee bank on the sheet of the drawee, but before the clearing house closed it was returned to the payee with the statement that the drawee had no instructions to pay it. Under the rules of the clearing house, the whole day must expire before the credit entries are to be taken as receiving the assent of the debtor members, and it makes no difference for what reason they decline to admit the item. Held, that there was no payment of the check, and it did not alter the situation that the payee, upon return of the check, drew its check and in form made a repayment to the drawee instead of changing the clearing-house entries. (Ib.)
Checks-Refusal to pay-Liability.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) That a bank's refusal to pay a check was based upon a mistake of fact, in that it incorrectly believed it had received no letter of advice from the depositor directing payment of the check, did not make the bank liable to the holder of the check in view of Negotiable Instruments Law N. Y. section 325 , providing that a check doesnot operate as an assigument and that the bank is not liable to the holder unlessit accepts or certifies the check. (Ib.)
Checks-Acceptance.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) A check drawn on a bank by a foreign depositor in favor of another bank was presented for payment at the clearing house and credited to the payee, but on the same day it was returned to the payee with the statement: "No instructions to pay. Present again." Held, that there was no acceptance, and moreover the clearing house is a means of payment of checks and not of their acceptance, and checks do not contemplate acceptance, but payment. (Ib.)
Checks-Equities.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Where a check or draft to the order of a bank for plaintiff's account was purchased from a drawer who made an assignment for the benefit of creditors and against whom a petition in bankruptcy was filed before payment of the check or draft, plaintiff had no greater equities than other creditors of the drawer and was not entitled to have the drawee adjudged to hold the amount of the draft in trust for it. (Ib.)

Courts-Jurisdiction-Law or equity.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) A draft or check was purchased in England and sent by the purchaser to a bank for plaintiff's account. It was presented for payment at the clearing house and credited to the payee, but subsequently returned on the ground that the drawee had received no instructions to pay it; whereupon the payee bank drew its check and in form repaid the amount to the drawee. Before payment, the drawer made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, and a petition in bankruptcy was filed against him in New York. A creditor attempted to attach the account in the drawee bank, and plaintiff sued the bank to declare a trust for plaintiff and named as defendants the drawee bank, the attaching creditor, the purchaser of the draft, the drawer, his assignee, the petitioning creditors in bankruptcy, and the receiver in bankruptcy. Held, that there being the requisite diversity of citizenship between plaintiff and the drawee bank, the court had jurisdiction, since, if equitable jurisdiction did not exist; jurisdiction at law existed on the theory that there was a claim in personam against the drawee for money had and received under a mistake of fact, and under the new equity rules the claim would be disposed of whether at law or in equity. (Ib.)

Certification of checks.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) A bank which certifies a check, though the depositor is without funds, is not liable to anyone, save a bona fide holder for value; and that rule applies where a bank issues a certificate of deposit, though none has been made.-(National City Bank of Seattle v. Titlow, 233 Fed. Rep., 838.)

COLLATERAL SECURITIES.

(Warehouse Act.)

One who has no title to chattels can not transfer title.
(U. S. Sup. Ct. 1915.) One who has no title to chattels can not transfer title unless the owner has given authority or is estopped, nor can he, in the absence of such authority or estoppel, transfer title by warehousing the goods and indorsing the receipts. If, however, the owner of chattels clothes another with apparent ownership through the possession of warehouse receipts negotiable in form, a bona fide purchaser for value to whom the receipts are negotiated can be protected. (Commercial National Bank of New Orleans v. Canal Louisiana Bank & Trust Company, 239 U. S., R. 520.)
Possession of negotiable warehouse receipts as representation of title.
(U. S. Sup. Ct. 1915.) The clear import of the applicable provisions of the uniform warehouse receipts act enacted in Louisiana in 1908, is that if the owner of goods permits another to have possession or custody of negotiable warehouse receipts running to the latter or to bearer, it is a representation of title upon which bona fide purchasers for value may rely, notwithstanding breaches of trust or violations of agreement on the part of the apparent owner. (Ib.)
Construction of warehouse act.
(U. S. Sup. Ct. 1915.) The provision in section 57 of the uniform warehouse act as enacted in Louisiana in 1908, and as the same has been enacted in other States, that the act is to be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those States which enact it, is a rule of construction that prevents the act from being regarded as an offshoot of local laws to be construed in the light of decisions under former statutes of the enacting State, and requires the statute to be construed in the light of the cardinal principle of the act itself. The uniform acts relating to commercial affairs have been enacted in various States for the beneficent object of unifying so far as possible under one dual system of government the commercial law of the country, and to give effect, within prescribed limits, to the mercantile view of documents of title, and this principle should be recognized in construing the acts to the exclusion of any inconsistent doctrine previously obtaining in any of the enacting States. (Ib.)
When later equities will prevail over earlier equities.
(U. S. Sup. Ct. 1915.) Where the holder of warehouse receipts clothes another with such indicia of ownership of the goods that a bona fide purchaser for value is enabled to take title thereto, the rule that the earlier of equal equities should prevail does not apply, as the later equities are based upon the action of the holder of the earlier equity who is estopped thereby. In a controversy between claimants of goods, held that giving to another negotiable bills of lading under trust receipts which authorized the taker to receive the avails of the goods or the documents therefor, so clothes the latter with indicia of ownership of the goods that the equities of a bona fide purchaser for value of warehouse receipts obtained for the goods on the bills of lading surrendered in exchange therefor are superior to those of the original owner of the bills of lading who had indorsed and delivered them under trust receipts which had been violated by the party transferring to the later purchaser. 211 Fed. Rep. 337, reversed. (Ib.)

When later equities will prevail over earlier equities-Continued.

INSOLVENCY AND RECEIVERS.

JURISDICTION IN ACTIONS BY AND AGAINST RECEIVERS.

United States courts-Jurisdiction-Actions under banking statutes.
(U. S. D. C.,1916.) Where a suit against a national bank and its receiver upon the bank's covenant in a lease to indemnify the lessor from any loss of rent in case of the lessor's reentry was one to wind up the affairs of the bank, a Federal court had jurisdiction.-(Providence Building Co. v. Atlantic National Bank of Providence et al., 228 Fed. Rep., 814.)

LIQUIDATION.

Voluntary liquidation of national banks--Effect of, on assets of bank and rights of creditors.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) The action of the stockholders of a national bank in voting to go into voluntary liquidation and in appointing a liquidation agent, pursuant to Revised Statutes, sections 5220, 5221 (Comp. St. 1913, secs. 9806, 9808), is equivalent to the appointment of a receiver by the comptroller in its effect on the property and the rights of the creditors. The assets of the bank become a trust fund to be administered for the benefit of all creditors pro rata, and while the bank retains its corporate existence and may be sued, the effect of a judgment obtained against it by a creditor is only to fix the amount of the debt, and the judgment plaintiff can acquire no lien which will give him an advantage over other creditors. (Merchants National Bank of Richmond $v$. National Bank of Lillington, 231 Fed. Rep., 556.)
Stockholders suing on behalf of bank-Pleading.
(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) In a national bank stockholders' action for the benefit of the corporation, it being neither shown by the complaint nor alleged in the defense that a resolution for a voluntary liquidation was adopted prior to the commencement of the action, a defense that there must be a demand upon the liquidating committee and their refusal to bring the action, before plaintiff as a stockholder can bring it, was insufficient. (Planten $v$. National Nassau Bank of New York et al., 160 N. Y. Supp., 297.)
Dissolution of national banks-Liquidating committee.
(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) Under Revised Statutes United States, section 5220 (U. S. Comp. St., 1913, sec. 9806 ), providing that any association may go into liquidation by a two-thirds vote of its slareholders, and section 5221 (sec. 9808), providing that, when a vote is taken to go into liquidation, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to cause the Comptroller of the Currency to be noified under the seal of the association by its president or cashier, and providing for newspaper publication, there being no express provision for the appointment of a liquidating committee on voluntary dissolution, the adoption of a resolution for voluntary liquidation does not effect a dissolution of the corporation, or, in the absence of other action by the stockholders, oust the directors from office, but merely suspends the ordinary functions of the corporation. (Ib.)
Corporations-Stockholders' suits in behalf of corporation-Parties.
(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) While the authority of a stockholder to sue in the right of the corporation is a rule of necessity, resting solely on judicial decisions, to protect the stockholders when those in authority fail or refuse to protect the rights of the corporation, when a proper foundation is laid for the action by a stockholder, although the cause of action belongs to the corporation, the fruits of the litigation inure to its benefit, and it must be made a party defendant, the control of the litigation becomes vested in the shareholder who brings it and such others as may join therein. (Ib.)

Corporations-Stockholders-Suits in behalfof corporation-Conditions precedent.
(N Y. Supp., 1916.) In order that a stockholder may not be permitted unnecessarily to maintain an action for the benefit of the corporation, he is required to show, as a condition precedent to his right to sue, a demand and refusal by those authorized to represent the corporation, and whose duty it is to bring the action, or facts indicating that a demand upon them would be futile, or that they would not be likely to prosecute the action in good faith. (Ib.)
Corporations-Stockholders-Suit in behalf of corporation-Conditions precedentTrustees and receivers.
(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) Where the affairs of a corporation are in the hands of a receiver, or trustee, or other person who has superseded the board of directors, and is clothed with authority to sue, a stockholder must make demand upon him before bringing action for the benefit of the corporation, regardless of whether or not the directors are hostile, for in such case their attitude is immaterial. (Ib.)

National banks-Stockholders-Meetings-Notice.

(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) A stockholder of a national bank is charged with notice of the adoption of a resolution to appoint a liquidating committee, adopted at a meeting of the shareholders duly convened, whether he appeared or not. (Ib.)
National banks-Liquidating committee-Powers.
(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) A liquidating committee, appointed to take charge of assets and property of a national bank, could not maintain an action for the benefit of the bank in their own names, but must bring it in the name of the bank. (Ib.)
National banks-Liquidation-Liquidating committee under the supervision of the board of directors.
(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) Under Code of Civil Procedure, section 525, subdivision 1, providing that the authority to bring or defend an action is vested in the board of directors, and where a complaint or answer is verified, it must be verified by an officer of the corporation, section 3343, subdivision 18, providing that a national bank located in New York is regarded as a domestic corporation; section 43, subdivision 3, providing that service upon the members of the liquidating committee of a national bank is insufficient, in the absence of Federal statutory authority or any decision of the Federal courts holding that the authority of the board of directors of a national bank is suspended pending a liquidation, where a liquidating committee has been appointed, but the bank is not dissolved, the authority of the liquidating committee is subject to the supervision and control of the board of directors, and a stockholder is not required to show a demand upon and refusal by the liquidating committee before bringing action for the benefit of the bank. (Ib.)

National banks-Stockholders-Actions for benefit of bank-Conditions precedent.

(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) In a national bank stockholders' action on behalf of the bank, the plaintiff was not required to show a demand upon and refusal by a liquidating committee, appointed to liquidate the affairs of the bank, before bringing the action. (Ib.)

National banks—Stockholders' suits in behalf of bank-Demand on stockholders.

(N. Y. Supp., 1916.) Although the cause of action is the same, and recovery must be the same, whether action is brought in the name or in the right of a corporation, in whatever jurisdiction the remedy is sought to be enforced, the remedy must be prescribed by the law of the forum in which the action is brought, and under the well-established law of the State of New York, that the business of a corporation must be conducted by its board of directors, and that the stockholders can not control their action, a stockholder in a national bank may bring an action for the benefit of the bank without making demand upon the stockholders. (Ib.)

NEGOTIABLE PAPER.

GENERALLY.
Certificate of deposit a negotiable instrument.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) A certificate of deposit is a negotiable instrument. (National City Bank of Seattle v. Titlow, 233 Fed. Rep., 838.)
Bona fide holder-Due course-Infirmatives on face of instrument.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Rem. and Bal. Code Wash., 3443, declares that a holder in due course is one who has taken a negotiable instrument, complete and regular on its face, without notice, at the time of negotiation, of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in title of the person negotiating it. Section 3574 declares that where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him, while section 3440 declares that, where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferor had, and for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. The insolvent bank requested plaintiff bank to carry a bag company, and plaintiff bank offered to do so on the credit of the insolvent institution. Thereupon, though no deposit was actually made, the insolvent bank issued to the bag company a certificate of deposit which appeared regular on its face, and which the bag company indorsed to plaintiff. Held, that as the certificate of deposit was not signed by the insolvent bank, and as plaintiff had notice that the insolvent bank was furnishing credit for the bag company, it had sufficient knowledge to put it on inquiry as to whether the deposit was actually made, and none having been made, recovery could be defeated for want of consideration. (Ib.)

OFFICERS.

POWERS OF AND REPRESENTATION OF BANK BY OFFICERS.

President-Agency of.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where a depositor authorized the president of a bank to act for him in making payments on notes, the fact that the depositor was only an accommodation maker of the notes is immaterial on the question of the president's agency. (Stallo $v$. Wagner, 233 Fed. Rep., 379.)
President-Agency of.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where national bank depositor gave the president of the bank bonds to be sold and the proceeds to be deposited, and also checks for the amount to be realized from the sale, which were to be applied by the president to certain payments, the president was the agent of the depositor, and not of the bank, in making the application of the proceeds, and the bank is not liable for misapplication therefor, for such notice to the president was not notice to the bank. (Ib.)
Claims-Liability-Fraud.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where a depositor, several years after he had received his statements and signed receipts, attacked the balances, claiming that large sums had been diverted from his account, there could be no recovery against a receiver of the bank, unless fraud was shown. (Ib.)
Sufficiency of evidence.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where a depositor, several years after receiving his statements, alleged that large sums had been diverted from his account, evidence held insufficient to establish any fraud on the part of the bank, warranting recovery against a receiver of the bank. (Ib.)
Burden of proof.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where depositor and president of bank were closely allied in business transactions, and president made deposits and in many respects controlled the depositor's account, the depositor, in an action against the receiver of the bank, has burden of proving that president was agent of bank, and not his agent, in misapplying funds. (Ib.)

Knowledge of cashier-Notice to bank.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where a bank cashier who received a note for discount with another institution, the proceeds to be used to buy land for the makers, fraudulently represented to them that he had destroyed it, and then pledged it to secure his own debt, his own bank, from which he appropriated funds to pay his debt, can not assert equitable rights in the note, being charged with the agent's knowledge. (Pensacola State Bank $v$. Thornberry, 226 Fed. Rep., 611.)

Representation of bank by officer-Individual interest of officer.
(U. S. D. C., 191.5.) Where a third person deals with an officer of a bank in a matter in which the officer is personally interested, the officer acts in a dual and inconsistent capacity, and his acts are not binding upon the bank. (Florida National Bank of Gainesville, Fla., v. Merchants and Farmers Bank of Claxton, Ga., 227 Fed. Rep., 714.)
Representation of bank by officers-Individual interest of officer.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Where the holder of a certificate of stock in a bank as collateral security for a debt of its cashier sent such certificate to the bank itself, with a request that smaller certificates be issued in lieu thereof and returned, which the bank undertook to do, it was responsible for the proper execution and return of the new certificates, and is liable for the action of its cashier in raising certain of the certificates after they were signed, sending the raised certificates, and retaining others equal to the difference. (Ib.)

OFFICERS-CIVIL LIABILITY OF.
LIABHITY OF DIRECTORS FOR MISMANAGEMENT.
Liability of directors.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) There is a liability on the part of national bank directors for failure to perform the duties which the general principles of law cast upon them when they become directors, distinct from and in addition to the duties and liabilities expressly imposed by the statutes. (Williams $v$. Brady et al., 232 Fed. Rep., 740.)

LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS FOR FALSE STATEMENTS.

(U. S. Sup. Ct., 1916.) The trial court, having found that defendants had knowingly made false statements as to the condition of a national bank of which they were directors, and that plaintiffs were entitled to recover from defendants their losses by reason of their reliance thereon, this court reverses the Supreme Court of the State and affirms the judgment of the trial court; and held, that plaintiffs, as creditors of a national bank, may recover from those directors who knowingly made statements required by the national bank act that were false or who knowingly permitted, assented to and allowed the same to be made and published; and also held that in this case the findings of the trial court as to the condition of the bank and the knowledge by the defendant directors of the falsity of the statements made and published under the Federal statute, and the reliance thereon by the plaintiffs, were supported by substantial evidence. 93 Nebraska 121 reversed. (Jones National Bank $v$. Yates, Bank of Staplehurst $v$. same, Utica Bank $v$. same, Bailey $v$. same, 240 U. S. R., 541.)

ACTIONS BY SHAREHOLDERS.

Jurisdiction of suits of stockholders against divectors of national banks.
(U. S. Sup. Ct., 1915.) The rule that, in the absence of diversity of citizenship, jurisdiction of the district court over a suit depends upon whether there is a Federal cause of action stated in the bill applies to suits against national banks and their directors. Under the act of August 13, 1888, the Federal courts have not, in the absence of diverse citizenship, jurisdiction of a suit by a stockholder against directors of a national bank and the bank to compel the directors to reimburse the bank for wrongfully investing its funds, nor has the district court any jurisdiction of such a suit under paragraph 16 of section 24 , Judicial Code. The intention of Congress to make such a radical change in the rule prevailing for many years as to confer jurisdiction on the Federal courts of all suits by and against national banks will not be presumed in the absence of clear manifestation of such purpose. (Herrmann $v$. Edwards, 238 U. S. R., 107.)

RECEIVER'S SUIT AGAINST DIRECTORS.
Suit against directors.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) The directors of a national bank are severally liable for the failure to perform their official duties, and a suit by a receiver may be brought against one, all, or any number of them. (Williams $v$. Brady et al., 232 Fed. Rep., 740.)
Abatement and revival-Action against director of national bank-Survival.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) An action against a national bank director, whether based on the common law or Revised Statutes, section 5239 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 9831), survives against his personal representatives. (Ib.)

Suit against directors-Sufficiency of bill.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) The bill in a suit by the receiver of a national bank against its directors held to sufficiently charge a breach of their common-law duty on the part of certain defendants by setting out their continued failure and refusal to attend meetings of the directors at which action was taken resulting in losses to the bank. (Ib.)
Action by receiver to enforce liability of directors.
(U.S. D. C., 1915.) The receiver of an insolvent national bank may maintain a suit for the benefit of its creditors and stockholders to recover from its directors for losses alleged to have been sustained in various ways by reason of their illegal, fraudulent, and negligent acts in the management of its business, and such suit is cognizable in equity. (Freeman v. Jackson et al., 227 Fed. Rep., 688.)
Suit by receiver against directors-Pleading.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Various exceptions to a bill by the receiver of an insolvent national bank against its directors to enforce their liability for losses sustained through their negligent and fraudulent acts considered. (Ib.)
Liabilities of directors for failing to make examinations at proper times and in proper manner.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) The by-laws of a national bank provided that every six months, which was supposed to be immediately preceding the declaring of the semiannual dividend, there should be appointed by the board of directors "a committee whose duty it shall be to examine into the affairs of the bank, to count its cash and compare its assets and liabilities with the balance on the general ledger, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the books are correctly kept and the condition of the bank in a sound and solvent condition." The deposits averaged between $$ 300,000$ and $$ 400,000$. During the three years and three months preceding its closing the bookkeeper who kept the deposit ledger was stealing from the bank in increasing amounts, which argregated $$ 310,000$. His method was the drawing of checks on the bank, which were cashed in a city and returned with other checks through the clearing house. He received the checks, withdrew his own, and charged the sum to other deposit accounts, until the amount grew too large to be covered in that way, and then made false entries and footings, which an examination of his ledger would have readily detected. During the time the directors made but two examinations, and on neither occasion did the committee examine the deposit ledger, nor compare the checks received through the clearing house with the lists which accompanied the same, from which the remittances were made. There were also other circumstances which should have put them on inquiry. Held, that the directors were negligent in failing to make examinations at proper times and in proper manner, and were liable for the losses of the bank through the thefts after the time when a proper examination would have disclosed the same. (Bates $v$. Dresser et al., 229 Fed. Rep., 772.)
Jurisdiction of Federal courts-Suit by receiver of national bank.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) The fact that a suit is brought by the receiver of a national bank in the course of winding up its affairs gives a Federal district court jurisdiction, under Judicial Code (act Mar. 3, 1911, ch. 231), section 24, paragraph 16, 36 Statutes, 1092 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 991), regardless of the citizenship of the parties. (Ib.)

Action by bank receiver against directors-Survival of.

(U.S. D. C., 1915.) An action by the receiver of an insolvent national bank against its directors, to recover for losses sustained through their misconduct or negligence for the benefit of creditors and stockholders, is ex contractu, and survives the death of a defendant. (Ib.)

OFFIOERS, CRIMINAL LIABILITY OF.

AIDERS AND ABETTORS.

Officers-Offenses-" Bill of exchange"--Cashier's check.
(U. S. C. O. A., 1916.) A cashier's check drawn by the cashier of a bank, payable to the order of a named person, is a bill of exchange, within Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 9772), providing that every president, director, cashier, or agent of any banking association, who, without authority from the directors, draws any order or bill of exchange with intent to injure or defraud the association and every person who with like intent aids or abets, shall be guilty of crime; a "bill of exchange" being a writtn order or request by one person to another for the payment of a specified sum of money to the order of a third person absolutely and at all events. (Hoss v. U. S., 232 Fed. Rep., 328.)
Officers-Offenses-Fraud-Bills of exchange-Evidence.
(U. S. O. C. A., 1916.) Evidence held to warrant a finding that a cashier drew cashier's checks with intent to defraud a banking association, contrary to Revised Statutes, section 5209, and that plaintiff in error aided and abetted him with like intent. (Ib.)
Offenses-Accessories-Jurisdiction of court-"Principal"-"Felony."
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) The Penal Code which went into effect January 1, 1910 (act Mar. 4, 1909, ch. 321, 35 Stat., 1152), provides in section 332 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 10506) that whoever directly commits any act constituting an offense

- defined in any law of the United States, or aids, abets, or procures its commission, is a "principal," while section 335 (sec. 10509) declares that all offenses which may be punished by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year shall be deemed felonies. Revised Statutes, section 5209, provides that every cashier, officer, or agent of any banking association, who without authority shall draw any order or bill of exchange with intent to injure or defraud the association and every person who shall aid or abet him with like intent, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned not less than five years nor more than ten years. Held that, after the enactment of the Penal Code, the offense must be deemed a "felony," and therefore, under the rule that where a statute provides that an accessory may be prosecuted and convicted as for a substantive felony, one who aided and abetted in the offense, though he was at the time without the district in which the offense wasa ctually committed, may be convicted in the district where the offense was committed, if such court had jurisdiction over the principal. (Id.)

PROSECUTIONS.

INDICTMENT.

Criminal prosecutions-Indictment.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) An indictment charged in substance that accused, while president of a national bank and by the use of the authority of his position, loaned its funds to a mill company, which was known by him and not known by the bank or its directors to be hopelessly insolvent, under circumstances naturally leading to the loss of the money loaned and so resulting, all with intent to injure and defraud the bank. Held, that this, with the details set forth, sufficiently stated an offense under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 9772), providing that every president of a national banking association who willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or credits of the association shall be punished as therein provided. (Stout $v$. United States, 227 Fed. Rep., 799.)
Indictment and information-Duplicity-Series of acts constituting same offense.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 9772), provides that every cashier, etc., of a national banking association, who without authority from the directors issues or puts forth any certificate of Indictment and information-Duplicity-Series of acts constituting same offense-Con. deposit with intent to injure or defraud the association, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. Held, that an indictment charging that defendant, without authority and with intent to injure and defraud the bank of which he was cashier, did issue and put forth a certain certificate of deposit was not duplicitous and bad, since, when an offense may be committed in one or more of several ways, or where a penal statute mentions several acts disjunctively and prescribes that each shall constitute the same offense, an indictment may in a single count charge any or all of the acts conjunctively, or charge the commission of the offense in any or all of the ways specified. (Simpson et al.v. U.S., 229 Fed. Rep., 940.)

Former jeopardy-Discharge of jury without verdict.
(U.S.C.C.A., 1916). A prosecution on a defective indictment did not bar a subsequent prosecution, where there was no acquittal on the merits, but the court, upon the defects being called to its attention, after the close of the testimony and the arguments to the jury, discharged the jury. (Ib.)
Indictment and information-Objections-Manner of taking objections.
(U.S.C.C. A., 1916). Orderly procedure requires that objections to an indictment should be made either by motion to quash, by demurrer, or by motion in arrest of judgment, and the practice of permitting such objections to be urged during the trial by objections to the testimony, or by requests for instructions, is not to be commended and should not be encouraged. (Ib.)
Venue-Offenses committed partly in different districts.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916). Judicial Code (act Mar. 3, 1911, ch. 231), section 42, 36 Statute, 1100 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 1024), provides that, when any offense against the United States is begun in one judicial district and completed in another, it shall be deemed to have been committed in either, and may be dealt with, tried, and punished in either district as if it had been actually and wholly committed therein. Held that, where a certificate of deposit was signed in blank by the cashier of a bank in Idaho, and was filled in by another party in Mississippi, and negotiated in Kentucky, a prosecution for issuing and putting forth such certificate with intent to injure and defraud the bank, and for aiding and abetting the cashier to so issue and put it forth, was maintainable in Idaho. (Ib.)
Criminal offenses-Defenses.
(U.S.C.C. A., 1916). Where a certificate of deposit was issued by the cashier of a national bank without authority from the directors and with intent to injure and defraud the bank, in violation of Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St. 1913, sec. 9772), the criminal act was then complete, and the subsequent ratification of its issuance by the directors could not change the character of the acts. (Ib.)
Conspiracy-Criminal liability-Overt act.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) The commission of conspiracy is not complete until one or more of the conspirators do some overt act or acts in execution or furtherance of the conspiracy, which acts may be innocent in and of themselves, or criminal acts in their very nature or by virtue of some statute of the United States. (United States $v$. Rogers et al, 226 Fed. Rep. 512.)
Conspiracy-Indictment-Overt acts.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) An indictment for conspiracy must plainly and distinctly set out the overt acts, or some of them, and if the conspiracy be that one was to do the overt act and that the other should aid and abet him, the indictment necessarily and properly charges what each was to do. (Ib.)
Indictment and information-Federal statute-Duplicity-Conspiracy.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St. 1913, sec. 9772), provides that a teller who embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any of the funds of the bank, with intent to injure or defraud, and every person who with like intent aids or abets him in any such act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Penal Code (act Mar. 4, 1909, ch. 321), section 332, 35 Stat., 1152 (Comp. St. 1913, sec. 10506), provides that whoever directly commits any act constituting an offense defined in any law of the United States, or aids or abets its commission, is a principal. An indictment charged a conspiracy between defendants to commit an offense against the United States, in that one of them, acting as teller in a national bank, would abstract its funds, and that the other defendants would aid and abet him in so doing. Held that, while it was unnecessary to allege that the overt act constituted a crime, the rule against duplicity did not prohibit the charging of overt acts in and of themselves crimes, or a statement that such acts of themselves constituted a crime, since the conspiracy to commit a crime against the Government and the commission of the crime are separate and distinct crimes, and since, if the proof failed to establish the conspiracy, the whole count fails, and a defendant could not be convicted under a conspiracy count on ashowing that he had committed the acts charged therein as an overt act. (Ib.)

Indictment and information-Duplicity-Conspiracy.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) An indictment for conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States, charging that one of the defendants, as teller of a national bank, abstracted, misapplied, and embezzled moneys, and in each of such counts charging that the other defendants aided and abetted such acts, was not bad for duplicity, since, under Penal Code, section 332, one aiding and abetting an offense against the United States becomes a principal and commits the same crime. (Ib.)

EVIDENCE.

Offenses-Intent.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St. 1913, sec. 9772), declaring that every clerk of any national banking association who abstracts any of the credits of the association with intent to injure or defraud, and every person who with like intent aids or abets any clerk, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, the intent of accused to injure, defraud, or deceive by the abstraction of credits is an essential element of the offense. (Cummins v. U. S. 232, Fed. Rep., 844.)

Evidence-Intent.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1916). Where the intent with which accused aided a clerk of a national bank to abstract credits was material, in a prosecution therefor, accused may testify as to his intent. (Ib.)
Evidence-Similar transactions.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916). In such prosecution, evidence of other drafts and transactions between the parties to the scheme, issued and occurring about the same time, is admissible, all the occurrences being related. (Hoss v. U. S., 232 Fed. Rep., 328.)
Witnesses-Evidence-Admissions-Privilege.
(U. S. D. C., 1915). A defendant in a criminal case, who testifies in behalf of himself and other defendants, may, when it is proper cross-examination, be asked as to a written statement voluntarily made by him to the district attorney prior to any charge against him relating to the general subject matter, or if he did not testify to certain facts before a grand jury, other than the one which afterwards indicted him, after expressly waiving immunity in writing. (U. S. v. Oppenheim et al., 228 Fed. Rep., 220.)

Evidence-Admission by accused.
(U. S. D. C., 1915). When it becomes a question of fact whether or not a confession or admission was voluntary, the same is admissible in evidence, and the jury is to determine the fact, and what credit they will give the statement made. (Ib.)
Privilege of accused in criminal cases-Cross-examination.
(U.S. D. C., 1915). Where the defendant in a criminal case takes the stand and testifies, he waives his constitutional privilege of silence, and may be crossexamined with the same latitude as other witnesses. (Ib.)

INSUFFICIENT DEFENSES.
Criminal offenses-Defenses.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915). Where, though the directors of a national bank knew that loans were being made to a mill company upon so-called bills of exchange, with wheat tickets attached indicating the amount of wheat purchased by the mill company, there was evidence that it was accused, the president of the bank, and not the directors, who established this custom, that he alone knew the mill company was insolvent and was not keeping the wheat or the flour product as security for the loans, and that in fact the loans were wholly unsecured, that he purposely refrained from informing the directors of the true condition, and in some instances expressly misrepresented it to them, the knowledge of the directors of the custom and the apparent form of the loans, and their reliance upon the semblance of security which did not in fact exist, did not relieve accused of liability for misapplying the funds of the bank. (Stout v. U. S. 227 Fed. Rep., 799.)

Conspiracy-Defenses.
(U.S.D. C., 1915). The fact that conspirators, in doing acts to execute the conspiracy, actually commit the crime which they conspired to commit, is no defense to the charge of conspiracy. (U. S. v. Rogers et al., 226 Fed. Rep., 512.)

INSTRUCTIONS TO JURY.

Griminal prosecutions-Instructions.
(U.S.C.C. A., 1916.) In a criminal prosecution in which the cashier of a national bank was charged with unlawfully issuing and putting forth a certificate of deposit with intent to injure and defraud the bank and without authority from the directors, and another party was charged with aiding and abetting him, evidence was rejected that the cashier executed a deed to his home to secure one of the directors, who advanced money to take up the certificate. The court charged that, when the certificate was sent to another bank at $\mathbb{C}$. and presented for payment, some arrangement was made by which defendants, or one of them, took care of it and protected the bank against loss; that the charge was not that the bank was injured or defrauded, but that the certificate was issued with the intention to injure or defraud; that defendants were not relieved or acquitted because they took care that the bank did not suffer loss; that evidence of this fact of payment would not have been received, except for the contention that the money realized by the use of the certificate got into defendants' private accounts as a result of a misunderstanding between them, and that the mistake was not discovered until some time later; that if defendants had immediately repaired the wrong, before others had knowledge of the existence of the certificate, the jury might very properly conclude that the restoration to the bank of the value of the certificate tended to corroborate their contention of innocent mistake; that whether the jury would give such significance to the restoration at the later date, when the certificate had come to C . and its existence was known, he left to the jury to say; that, except for such light as the payment threw upon the question whether the certificate was intended to be used for defendants' personal benefit, or whether such benefit was the result of inadvertence and misunderstanding, the payment was without significance. Held, that this gave defendants the full benefit of any inference that might be drawn from the fact that the certificate was taken up and paid by them. (Simpson v. U. S., 229 Fed. Rep., 940.)
Instructions-Singling out testimony.
(U.S. C. C. A., 1915.) When an instruction in a criminal case proceeds upon a recital of facts and circumstances of which evidence has been received, and a deduction is drawn from them which, if adopted by the court, would be practically a direction to acquit, the recital should be full and comprehensive and not a mere side light on the case; and hence instructions singling out a part of the proof adduced as being insufficient to show guilt or criminal intent were properly refused. (Stout v. U. S., 227 Fed. Rep., 799.)
Instructions covered by those given.
(U.S. O. C. A., 1915.) Where the charge contained a definite statement of the offense set forth in the indictment, and told the jury that accused could not be convicted of something else, an instruction that accused was not on trial for various defaults or misconducts which were enumerated was unnecessary and properly refused. (Ib.)
Instructions-Construction of charge as a whole.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Portions of the charge claimed to be objectionable should be viewed in their proper context. (Ib.)

Instructions-Failure of accused to testify.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Act March 16, 1878, chapter 37, 20 Stat., 30 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 1465), provides that a person charged with crime shall at his own request, but not otherwise, be a competent witness, and that his failure to make such request shall not create any presumption against him. On a trial on which there had been no wrongful comment on defendant's failure to testify requiring correction by the court on its own motion, defendant requested an instruction that he had seen fit to rest his case upon the Government's evidence, including such testimony as might have been elicited upon crossexamination of the Government's witnesses, that he had a perfect right to do this, and that this fact must in no wise prejudice the jury against him, but that they should take into consideration the entire evidence introduced, etc. Held, that the refusal of such instruction was not error, as the claim of immunity or protection was broader than the statute, since, while there should be no hurtful presumption from the failure of defendant to testify personally; this does not necessarily exclude a prejudice resulting from an entire absence of affirmative evidence in defense, nor inferences from a failure to produce evidence peculiarly within defendant's knowledge or control, not requiring personal disclosures or his presence upon the witness stand, and moreover the court might well have understood that the purpose of the instruction was $t$ a assail the sufficiency of the Government's evidence, rather than to claim the immunity afforded by the statute. (Ib.)
Trial-Comments on failure of accused to testify.
(U.S. G. C. A., 1915). Act March 16, 1878, chapter 37, 20 Stat., 30 (Comp. St. 1913, sec. 1465), restrains both court and counsel from commenting upon the failure of accused to testify. (Ib.)
Instructions-Failure of accused to testify.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) If requested, defendant is entitled to an affirmative instruction that his failure to testify shall not create any presumption against him, even in the absence of wrongful comment; but the instruction requested, if not in the language of the statute, should fairly express its thought, so the court may be apprised of what is desired. (Ib.)
Accessories.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where a statute provides that an accessory may be prosecuted and convicted as for a substantive felony the crime is cognizable in any court having jurisdiction over the principal. (Hoss v. U. S., 232 Fed. Rep. 328.)

Trial-Instructions.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) It is improper to single out individual facts, and call the jury's special attention to them, where the whole matter can be satisfactorily given in the general charge; therefore, in a prosecution of a bank cashier for drawing and issuing bills of exchange with the intent to defraud a banking association, and of other defendants for aiding and abetting therein, contrary to Revised Statutes, section 5209, special instructions relating to kiting of checks, which singled out isolated matters presented by the general charge, were properly refused. (Ib.)
Trial-Instructions-Refusal.
Jury question-Intent.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) While the law presumes that every person intends the natural consequences of his acts knowingly committed, the question whether accused, who participated in a clerk's abstraction of credits from a national banking association, intended to injure or defraud the association, and so was guilty of aiding and abetting, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St., 1913, sec. 9772), is a question for the jury in connection with other evidence, and can not be decided by the court as a matter of law, and therefore an instruction that accused is conclusively presumed to have intended to injure the association by reason of the abstraction is erroneous. (Cummins v. U. S., 232 Fed. Rep., 844.)

Trial-Instructions.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) In a criminal prosecution the court can not peremptorily instruct the jury to find accused guilty, and an instruction which in effect requires a conviction is improper. (Ib.)
Instructions-Further instructions after retirement of jury.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) A Federal court may properly give additional instructions to a jury which has returned into court and reported its inability to determine certain questions of fact, and in doing so may call attention to all or any part of the evidence bearing on such questions and state the contentions of the parties with respect to its bearing and weight. (U. S. v. Oppenheim et al., 228 Fed. Rep., 220.)
Federal courts not affected by State laws or rules governing procedure.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) With respect to the charging of juries a Federal courtis not affected by State statutes or rules of procedure. (Ib.)
Instructions-Weight and effect of evidence.
(U. S. D. C., 1915.) A court in its charge may illustrate the manner in which a fact may be proved other than by direct evidence by stating a hypothetical case. (Ib.)
PRACTICE-JURY.

Impeaching verdict-Misconduct of jury.
(U.S.C.C. A., 1915.) A verdict in a criminal case can not be impeached by showing that the jurors discussed defendant's failure to testify, where there was no outside improper influence upon the jury, and whatever occurred was in the jury room among the jurors alone. (Stout v. U. S., 227 Fed. Rep., 799.)

Trial-Acquittal.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) An acquittal can not be set aside by the court. (Cummins $v$. U. S., 232 Fed. Rep., 844.)

APPEAL.
Appeal-Questions of fact.
(U.S. C. C. A., 1915.) On appeal in a criminal case the question is whether the verdict was supported by substantial evidence, and not whether the proof of guilt was made beyond a reasonable doubt, that being a question for the jury. (Stout v. U. S., 227 Fed. Rep., 799.)

ORGANIZATION.

CONVERSION OF BANKS ORGANIZED UNDER STATE STATUTES INTO NATIONAL BANKS.
State bank converted into national bank-Effect on liability.
(Okla. Supp., 1915.) A State bank, by converting into a national bank, places itself beyond State control and ceases to exist as a State corporation, but does not thereby escape liabilities incurred by it.during its continuance as a State bank. (State ex rel. West, Atty. Gen., v. Farmers' Nat. Bank of Cushing, 150 Pacific Reporter, 212.)
State bank converted into national bank-Effect-Assessment for guaranty fund.
(Okla. Supp., 1915.) The effect of a State bank surrendering its charter and organizing as a national bank, under the United States banking laws, is not to mature or discharge the deferred payments of the assessment levied under section 3 of the act of March 11, 1909. (Ib.)

POWERS.

POWER TO ACT AS TRUSTEE WHEN PERMIT IS GRANTED BY FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD UNDER FEDERAL RESERVE ACT.

Illinois.

.Constitutional law-Delegation of legislative powers-Federal reserve act-Powers of Federal Reserve Board.
(Ill. Sup. 1915.) Federal reserve act December 23, 1913, chapter 6, section 11 ( $k$ ), (38 Stat., 262), providing that the Federal Reserve Board may grant to national banks applying therefor, where not in contravention of State or local law, the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, or registrar of stocks and bonds, under such rules and regulations as the Board may prescribe, is not invalid as an attempted delegation of legislative power, in violation of Constitution of the United States, Article I, section 1, declaring that all legislative power shall be vested in the Congress of the United States, since it was only left to the Federal Reserve Board as a purely administrative matter to apply the provisions of the act to the banks which upon application are entitled to its provisions, and the legislation granting the power remained that of Congress. (People ex rel. First National Bank of Joliet $v$. Brady, auditor of public accounts, 110 N. E. Rep., 864.)

United States-Governmental powers-Constitutional provisions.
(Ill. Sup. 1915.) Under Constitution of the United States amendment 10, declaring that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States, respectively, or to the people, the Government of the United States is one of enumerated powers and can claim no powers not granted to it by the Constitution, and the powers actually granted must be such as are given expressly or by necessary implication. (Ib.)
Banks and banking-Powers of Congress-Federal reserve act-Banks acting as trustees. (III. Sup. 1915.) Federal reserve act December 23, 1913, section 11k, providing that the Federal Reserve Board may grant to national banks applying therefor, when not in contravention of State or local law, the right to act as trustee, executor, registrar, etc., under such rules as the board may prescribe, is not within the power of Congress, as such functions belong exclusively to the States and as the possession of such powers by national banks is not necessary to their continued existence or to their performance of their governmental agencies. (Ib.)
Banks and banking-National banks-Federal reserve act-Right of State-"When not in contravention of State or local law."
(Ill. Sup. 1915.) Federal reserve act December 23, 1913, section 11k, providing that the Federal Reserve Board may grant to national banks applying therefor, "when not in contravention of State or local law," the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, or registrar of stocks and bonds under such rules as the board may prescribe, in view of the board's rules requiring the trust department of a bank, granted permission to execute trusts, to be a separate department, under the management of officers whose duties shall be prescribed by the officers of the bank, that the funds, investments, etc., shall be hold separate from the funds and securities of the bank, that examiners appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency or designated by the board shall make audits of the cash, securities, accounts, and investments of the trust department when examination is made of the banking department, reserving to the board the right to revoke permits where, in its opinion, a bank has willfully violated its regulations or the laws of the State, conflicts with State laws as to State banks and trustees and with the State's control over private property and its acquisition and disposition, and hence is within the exception, "when not in contravention of State or local law," and unauthorized. (Ib.)
Banks and banking-National banks Control of State.
(Ill. Sup. 1915.) National banks are instrumentalities of the Federal Government in carrying out its governmental powers, and in the conduct of their affairs are not subject to the regulation or control of the State, in conflict with the laws of the United States; but Congress is the judge of the extent of powers to be conferred upon national banks, and has the sole authority to regulate and §entrol their operations. (Ib.)

States-Jurisdiction-Regulation of acquisition and distribution of property.
(Ill. Sup. 1915.) The power to regulate property within the limits of the State, the modes of acquiring and transferring it, and the rules of descent and distribution dealt with by trustees, executors, etc., are subjects belonging exclusively to the jurisdiction of the State, not subject to Federal control. (Ib.)

Michigan.

Corporations-Executors and administrators-Trusts—Power of corporation.
(Mich. Sup., 1916.) It is within the power of the legislature to create or provide for creating corporations with the necessary powers to execute trusts, manage trust funds, and act as executors and administrators of deceased persons. (Fellows, Atty. Gen., ex rel. Union Trust Co. et al. v. First National Bank of Bay City, 159 N. W. Rep., 334.)
Corporations-Executors and administrators-Trusts-Power of corporation.
(Mich. Sup., 1916.) Having provided for the creation of such domestic corporations, foreign corporations having proper powers may, upon reasonable conditions prescribed by the legislature, be admitted to do in Michigan what domestic corporations may do. (Ib.)
Executors and administrators-Trusts-Appointment and control of property.
(Mich. Sup., 1916.) A corporation or individual can not act in the capacity of trustee, executor, or administrator, except by appointment, and in such relation is governed by the laws of the State and the orders of the State courts. (Ib.)
Banks and banking-National banks--Nature and status.
(Mich. Sup., 1916.) National banks, being agencies of the Federal Government domesticated in the State, may sue and be sued in the courts of the State, but their powers, management, and control are beyond State authority, except that a national bank may not lawfully possess certain powers in contravention of State law. (Ib.)
Banks and banking-National banks-Power to control and regulate.
(Mich. Sup., 1916.). Where the legislature has not declared that national banks shall not in Michigan have the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, or registrar of stocks and bonds, no State law is contravened by national-bank act June 3, 1864, ch. 106, 13 Stat., 99, nor because a corporation exercises the indicated powers. (Ib.)
Banks and banking-National banks--Powers.
(Mich. Sup., 1916.) Federal reserve act December 23, 1913, ch. 6, sec. 11 (k), 38 Stat., 262 (U. S. Comp. St., 1913, sec. $9794(k)$, providing that the Federal Reserve Board may grant by special permit to national banks applying therefor, when not in contravention of State or local laws, the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, or registrar of stocks and bonds, is a direct invasion of the sovereignty of the State which controls the devolution of estates of deceased persons, the conducting of private business within the State, the creation of corporations, and the duties of such as may engage in the business of acting as trustees, executors and administrators. (Ib.)

ULTRA VIRES ACTS AND CONTRACTS.
Liability for money received under ultra vires contract.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) A national bank which has received money equitably belonging to another can not defend against a suit for its recovery on the ground that it was received as an incident of a contract made by the bank which was ultra vires and not enforceable. (National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis $v$. Equitable Trust Co. of New York, 227 Fed. Rep., 526.)

SHAREHOLDERS.

ASSESSMENTS-LIABILITY OF MARRIED WOMEN.

Husband and wife-Liabilities of stockholders.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Notwithstanding the disabilities of married women under the laws of Florida, a married woman, acquiring stock in a national bank by gift from her husband and collecting the dividends thereon, became, like other stockholders, liable for the debts of the bank which it failed to pay to the extent of her holdings, under Revised Statutes, section 5151, making the shareholders of national banking associations individually responsible equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all debts of the association to the extent of the amount of their stock in addition to the amount invested in such shares. (Keyser et al. v. Milton, 228 Fed. Rep., 594.)

Husband and wife-Liability of married women-Execution against separate property.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Constitution of Florida, article 11, section 1, provides that all property of a wife, owned by her before marriage or lawfully acquired afterwards by gift, devise, bequest, descent, or purchase, shall be her separate property, and shall not be liable for the debts of her husband without her consent, given by some instrument in writing, executed according to the law respecting conveyances by married women. Section 2 provides that a married woman's separate real or personal property may be charged in equity and sold, or the rents and profits sequestrated, for the purchase money thereof, for money or thing due upon any agreement by her in writing for the benefit of her separate property, or for the price of any property purchased by her, or labor and material used with her knowledge or assent in the construction of buildings or repairs or improvements upon her property, or for agricultural or other labor thereon with her knowledge and consent. Section 3 provides that the legislature shall enact such laws as shall be necessary to carry that article into effect. General Statutes of Florida, 1906, section 1600, makes judgments a lien upon the real estate of the defendant in the county where rendered; and section 1618 provides that lands, etc., shall be subject to levy and sale under execution. Held, that article 11, section 2, merely provides for the enforcement of certain obligations in a court of equity and does not prohibit the enforcement of other obligations, and where a valid judgment is recovered against a married woman in a common-law action, such as a judgment on her statutory liability as a stockholder in a national bank, the judgment is enforceable by execution upon her separate property. (Ib.)

Assessments.

ACTIONS BY RECEIVER TO ENFORCE LIABILITY.

Evidence, admissibility-Official documents-Judicial notice.
(Mass. Sup. 1916.) Under Revised Statutes of the United States, section 884, providing that every certificate of the Comptroller of the Currency in pursuance of law, under seal, and all copies certified, shall be received in evidence in all places and courts, and sections 178, 327 (secs. 260, 498), providing that a deputy may exercise the powers of the comptroller's office, and the rule that the courts will take judicial notice that a certain person was a deputy comptroller and assume that at the date of his certificate he was duly authorized to act, all certificates from the comptroller's office, authenticated by seal, are admissible. (Weitzel v. Brown, 112 N. E. Rep., 945.)
Powers of comptroller.
(Mass. Sup. 1916.) Since, under Revised Statutes of the United States, section 5234, the power to adjudicate that a national bank is insolvent, and to appoint a receiver, and to levy assessments on stockholders and order their collection, is vested in the Comptroller of the Currency, a stockholder, sued by the receiver for assessments, can not question the legality of the receiver's appointment. (Ib.)
Validity of national bank's incorporation not open to collateral attack.
(Mass. Sup. 1916.) The validity of a national bank's incorporation is not open to collateral attack by the stockholder whose liability the receiver seeks to enforce. (Ib.)
Assessment by comptroller binds stockholders, even if levied without notice to them.
(Mass. Sup., 1916.) An assessment on stockholders of an insolvent national bank by the comptroller binds stockholders, even if levied without notice to them. (Ib.)
Comptroller's certificate sufficient evidence of receiver's appointment.
(Mass. Sup., 1916.) The comptroller's certificate being sufficient evidence of a receiver's appointment, where the receiver is ordered to enforce shareholder's individual liability, he may sue in his own name. (Ib.)

Receiver of an insolvent national bank in Kentucky may sue in courts of Massachsutets.
(Mass. Sup., 1916.) The receiver of an insolvent national bank in Kentucky may sue in the courts of Massachusetts a stockholder resident in that State, since he is clothed with all the rights the bank itself had. (Ib.)
Liability of stockholder for assessments contractual, and not statutory.
(Mass. Sup.,1916.) The liability of a stockholder for assessments levied on nationalbank stock in contractual, and not statutory. (Ib.)

TAXATION.

TAXATION OF DEPOSITS HELD BY BANK AS RECEIVER.

Property subject to taxation-Property in possession of court-"Receiver."
(U.S.C. C. A., 1915.) Where, in suits by a water company to enjoin the enforcement of water rates fixed by county supervisors, preliminary injunctions were issued on condition that the company should deposit in banks the difference between the rates fixed and those actually collected, to remain until the final outcome of the litigation, and the water company made the deposits directed, the deposits were taxable under Pol. Code of California, section 3647, providing that money in litigation in possession of the court or receiver must be assessed and the taxes paid thereon under the direction of the court, for the banks receiving the deposits were receivers; a "receiver" being an indifferent person between the parties, appointed by the court to receive property pending suit, and to hold possession and dispose of the same as the court may direct. (Spring Valley Water Co. v. City and County of San Francisco et al., 225 Fed. Rep., 728.)
Receivers-Direction to pay taxes.
(U.S.C.C.A., 1915.) Where assessments on money in the possession of banks as receivers of the court were regular, the court could direct the banks to pay the taxes. (Ib.)
Taxation assessments-Validity.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where the records of the court and the accounts kept by different banks, receiving deposits pending suits pursuant to order of the court, showed the particular funds involved and to what suits they are referable, error in assessments going to a misdescription of the funds, or to an unwarranted commingling thereof, by the taxing officers, did not render the assessments invalid, for the question as to what part of the funds was referable to a given suit was a mere matter of account and detail for the court officers. (Ib.)
Receivers-Assessments-Enforcement-Orders of court.
(U. S.C. C. A., 1915.) Where the records of the court and the accounts kept by depositories, receiving money pursuant to order of court in pending suits, showed the particular funds involved in each suit, orders of the court directing payment of the taxes were not erroneous, because they did not specify what amounts should be paid out of the moneys on deposit in each suit. (Ilb.)
Taxation-Assessments-Validity.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where money was deposited with a bank under order of court in a pending suit, an assessment of the money was not vitiated because it was assessed to the bank as receiver. (Ib.)
Taxation-Banks-Constitutional provisions.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) An assessment on deposits in a bank, made pursuant to order of court in pending suits, is not an assessment against the bank or its shares or other property, within constitution California, article 13, section 14, providiag for the taxation of the stock of banks, but is an assessment against funds in the hands of the bank acting as receiver. (Ib.)

INTERNAL-REVENUE TAXES ON CAPITAL

Internal revenue-Excise taxes-Statutory provisions-"Banker."
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Act of Congress October 22, 1914 (C. 331, 38 Stat., 750, sec. 3), provides that bankers shall pay a special tax of $$ 1$ on each $$ 1,000$ of capital employed; that, in estimating capital, surplus and undivided profits shall be included; that every person, firm, or company having a place of business where credits are opened by the deposit or collection of money subject to be paid or remitted, or where money is advanced or loaned on stocks, bonds, etc., or where stocks, bonds, etc., are received for discount or sale, shall be a "banker" thereunder. Held, That the statute is not void, as imposing a direct tax upon the property of a banker merely because of its ownership of such property, as the act does not tax property as such, but levies a special license tax upon one engaged in a particular business, because of the privilege he is exercising, and the fact, if true, that the amount paid is the same as would be paid, had all the property of the banker been taxed on an assessed value basis, is merely incidental and accidental. (Real Estate Title, Ins. & Trust Co. v. Lederer, collector of internal revenue, 229 Fed. Rep., 799.)

TRUSTS.

WHEN DEPOSTT IMPRESSED WITH A TRUST.

Deposit of trust funds-Liability of bank for misappropriation.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where trust funds are deposited in a bank, which has knowledge of their character, if it obtains payment of a debt from the depositor personally to itself from the deposit, or affirmatively and intentionally aids him in wrongfully appropriating any part of the fund to his own use, it becomes liable in equity therefor to the beneficiaries of the trust. (United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Union Bank & Trust Co. et al., 228 Fed. Rep., 448.)
Deposit of trust funds-Liability of bank for misappropriation.
(U.S.C.C. A., 1915.) The bank is not relieved from such liability on account of money received on its own debt by the fact that the depositor had funds of his own mingled in the deposit, but accepts the payment at its peril of having to refund if the trust deposit is thereby depleted. (Ib.)
Deposit of trust funds—Liability of bank for misappropriation.
(U.S.C.C.A., 1915.) Nor is the bank protected from liability by the fact that the money of numerous beneficiaries is mingled in the deposit, which is added to from many sources and drawn against for many purposes until the identity of each owner's part is lost. In such case the amount wrongfully taken from the fund must stand to them in the same relation as the remainder does, and the liability is to them as a class, and where there is no right of preference between them, and in the absence of clear proof that the money of any particular owner remains, they are entitled to share pro rata in the fund remaining, and in such money as may be recovered. (Ib.)
Subrogation-Surety of officer--Subrogation to rights of beneficiaries of trust funds.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where in such case the depositor was a public officer and the beneficiaries, instead of pursuing their remedy against the bank, recover their loss from the surety on his official bond, the right to bring the action passes to the surety under the general principles of subrogation, and by what amounts to an equitable assignment, but subject to any disability which affected the beneficiaries whose claims were paid. (Ib.)
Limitation of actions-Accrual of right of action-Action to recover bank deposit.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Limitation begins to run in favor of a bank against the claim of beneficiaries of a trust fund deposit on demand and refusal of payment, or when the claimants have notice that the bank will not pay, and where the depositor was a public officer, an official report of a committee, which was a matter of public record, that he had drawn out practically all of the fund is equivalent to such notice. (Ib.)
Limitation of actions-Exemption in favor of State-Subrogation of surety paying claim.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where the claim of a State against a public officer for taxescollected was not subject to limitation, the exemption inures to the benefit of a surety who pays the claim and becomes its assignee by subrogation. (Ib.)

Deposits-Trust funds-Suit to recover.
(U.S.C.C.A., 1915.) Where by the decision of the supreme court of a State the State had a first lien on funds in the hands of a public officer for State taxes collected by him, and his surety was required to pay the State's claim, a suit by the surety as subrogee against a bank in which the officer had deposited his official funds, and from which they were wrongfully withdrawn, is one to restore the fund wrongfully diverted from the office of its principal, and it is not essential to recovery to identify the State's money and trace it in specie into the deposit. (Ib.)
Deposits-Trust funds-Suit to recover.
(U.S. C. C. A., 1915.) While the liability of a bank on account of its participation in the misappropriation of a deposit, consisting of trust funds belonging to numerous beneficiaries, is to such beneficiaries as a class, a decision of a State court that the State, as one of such beneficiaries, was entitled to first lien on the funds and priority of payment therefrom so far segregates its claim from the others that a separate suit may be maintained thereon. (Ib.)
Surety-Subrogation to right of action of obligee-Partial payment.
(U.S. C. C. A., 1915.) The right of a surety on a bond to be subrogated for the obligee in a right of action against one wrongfully causing the liability is founded on payment by the surety to the obligee, and does not coms into existence except on full payment of the loss indemnified against, since the cause of action can not be split. (Ib.)
Deposits for special purpose-Loan.
(U.S.C.C. A., 1916.) Where plaintiff, in behali of the mortgagor, deposited money in the bank for the purpose of discharging a mortgage indebtedness to another, and the bank made but retained a certificate of deposit in favor of the mortgagee and notified her thereof, the transaction was not a loan, but the bank held the money in trust for the mortgagee, and on its failure before execution thereof, the plaintiff could recover the sum deposited, as against general creditors of the bank. (Titlow $v$. Sundquist, 234 Fed. Rep., 613.)

COLLECTIONS WHEN IMPRESSED WITH A TRUST.
Knowledge of assistant cashier-Notice.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Where the assistant cashier of a bank knew of its insolvent condition, such knowledge is imputable to the bank and its board of directors. (Clark Sparks & Sons Mule and Horse Co. v. American Natl. Bank et al., 230 Fed Rep., 738.)
Collections by insolvent bank.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Where a bank had knowledge of its insolvency when it collected a draft sent it for collection, and withheld notice from the owner of the draft, such fraud precludes it from acquiring title to the draft. (Ib.)
Title to collections.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Where a draft is sent a bank solely for the purpose of collection, title does not vest in the bank. (Ib.)
Trusts-Trustees-Payments out of trust funds.
(U.S.D. C., 1916.) Where money belonging to a cestui que trust is traced into a general mass in the hands of the trustee, and the trustee makes payments out of the mass, it is always presumed that he makes such payments out of his own funds, and the cestui que trust is entitled to trace his money into the residuum. (Ib.)
Collection of draft-Proceeds-Tracing.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) Complainant drew a draft for over $$ 6,000$ for payment for a shipment of live stock, which was forwarded to an insolvent bank for collection. The debtor agreed to take up the draft by giving his notes to the insolvent bank. Notes of the debtor to the amount of $$ 6,000$ were given, and the bank pledged such notes, with others, to a correspondent bank, which paid over the amount of the loan. At all times thereafter the defendant bank had on hand cash in excess of the amount of the draft. Held that, as the assets of the bank were increased in the sum of $$ 6,000$, complainant is entitled to priority in payment out of the cash on hand to the amount of $$ 6,000$; and as the debtor took up the remainder of the draft by a shifting of credits which did not increase the assets of the bank, complainant is not entitled to priority as to the amount of its claim in excess of $$ 6,000$. (Ib.)

Priorities-Interest.

(U. S. D. C., 1916.) In such case complainant is not entitled to any interest on the amount of his draft. (Ib.)
Priorities—Stay.
(U. S. D. C., 1916.) In such case, as there might be others entitled to priorities out of the cash turned over to the receiver, the receiver of the insolvent bank will be given a period of 30 days in which to call to the court's attention such priorities. (Ib.)

WHAT NECESSARY TO 1MPRESS DEPOSIT WITH A TRUST—TRUST FUNDS—PURSUIT OFEVIDENCE.

Deposit of proceeds of forged notes.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where plaintiffs sought to hold defendant banks for funds, resulting from sale by cashier of one of banks of forged notes to plaintiffs, evidence held insufficient to trace funds and establish trust. (State Bank of Winfield $v$. Alva Security Bank; Second National Bank of New Hampton $v$. Alva Security Bank, 232 Fed. Rep., 847.)
Constructive trusts-Trust funds.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1916.) Where a bank's funds with reserve agents and other banks were classified as cash and sight exchange, plaintiffs can not establish a trust in such fund, where they could not identify their money as being in any particular account. (Ib.)

SPECIAL DEPOSITS OF TRUST FUNDS-COMMISSION OF TRUSTEE.
Special deposits-Commission as trustee.
(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) A trust company, receiving a deposit of $$ 15,000$ on the agreement to pay semi-annual interest at its rate on special deposits, and to pay the principal to the depositor's three children when they arrived at 21, held it merely as a special deposit, and was not entitled to a commission for holding and disbursing the amount; nor wasitentitled to a commission on a subsequent deposit which it received in trust upon the same terms. (Davis Trust Co. of Elkins, W. Va., v. Smith, 226 Fed. Rep., 410.)
Trust companies-Collections-Commission-Reasonable amount.
(U. S. G. C. A., 1915.) A trust company receiving two bonds of the par value of $$ 1,000$ to collect the coupons and apply the money according to the conditions of previous special deposits, after deducting a reasonable sum for the execution of the trust, and subsequently receiving $25 $ 1,000$ bonds on the same conditions; and collecting on the bonds the sum of $$ 20,000$, was entitled to a commission of 5 per cert on the sum collected. (Ib.)
Trust companies-Deposit of stock-Commission.
(U.S.C. C. A., 1915.) A trust company receiving stock of a corporation to be held on the same conditions as interest-bearing bonds which it had also received and held in trust, receiving commission on the interest collected, where the stock paid no dividends, wasentitled to no commission for merely holding it. (Ib.)

Note 1.-Specie payments were suspended from Jan. 1, 1862, to Jan. 1, 1879. During the greater part of that period gold and silver coins were not in circulation except on the Pacific coast where it is estimated the specie circulation was generally about $$ 25,000,000$. This estimated amount is the only coin included in the above statement from 1862 to 1875 , inclusive.

Note 2.-The Director of the Mint recently made a revised estimate of the stock of gold coin, and as a consequence of such revision the estimated stock of gold in the United States and of gold coin in circulation has been reduced $$ 135,000,000$ in the figures for 1907 .

Note 3.-There was a reduction as of June 30,1910 , of $$ 9,700,000$ of subsidiary silver coin as a result of the revision of stock by the Mint Bureau.

Note 4.-Federal reserve notes to the amount of $$ 84,260,500$ for 1915 and $$ 185,168,450$ for 1916 are included in column headed "United States notes and bank notes,' and $$ 74,811,364$ for 1915 and $$ 160,540,000$ for 1916 in gold and gold certificates, held by Federal reserve banks and Fcderal reserve agents against Federal reserve notes, are included in column headed "Coin, bulhion, and paper money in Trcasury as assets."

Exhibit A.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING NATIONAL BANKS IN ACTING AS INSURANCE AGENTS AND AS BROKERS OR AGENTS IN MAKING OR PROCURING LOANS ON REAL ESTATE.

Treasury Department, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, December 1, 1916.

To all National Banks:

An amendment to the Federal reserve act approved September 7, 1916, provides:

That in addition to the powers now vested by law in national banking associations organized under the laws of the United States any such association located and doing business in any place the population of which does not exceed five thousand inhabitants, as shown by the last preceding decennial census, may, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Comptroller of the Currency, act as the agent for any fire, life, or other insurance company authorized by the authorities of the State in which said bank is located to do business in said State, by soliciting and selling insurance and collecting premiums on policies issued by such company; and may receive for services so rendered such fees or commissions as may be agreed upon between the said association and the insurance company for which it may act as agent; and may also act as the broker or agent for others in making or procuring loans on real estate located within one huhdred miles of the place in which said bank may be located, receiving for such services a reasonable fee or commission: Provided, however, That no such bank shall in any case guarantee either the principal or interest of any such loans or assume or guarantee the payment of any premium on insurance policies issued through its agency by its principal: And provided further, That the bank shall not guarantee the truth of any statement made by an assured in filing his application for insurance.

All national banks acting or proposing to act under the provisions of the foregoing law are requested to observe strictly the following regulations:

Where a national bank agts as insurance agent.
It will be seen from the above that in order to avail itself of the provisions of this act relative to acting as agent for an insurance company:
(a) The bank must be located in a place the population of which does not exceed 5,000 as shown by the last preceding decennial census.
(b) The insurance company for which the bank acts as agent must have been authorized by the authorities of the State in which the bank is located to do business in that State.
(c) The activities of the bank as such agent must be restricted to the soliciting and selling of insurance and the collection of premiums on policies issued by the insurance company.
(d) The bank may receive for services so rendered such lawful fees or commissions as may be agreed upon between the bank and the insurance company for which it may act as agent.
(e) The bank is prohibited from assuming or guaranteeing the payment of any premium on insurance policies issued, through its agency, by its principal.
(f) The bank is prohibited from guaranteeing the truth of any statement made by an assured in filing his application for insurance.
(g) The powers conferred are to be exercised under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Comptroller of the Currency.

In pursuance of the foregoing amendment the following regulations are hereby prescribed for national banks which may undertake to act as agents for insurance companies:

1. Each contract of agency must be formally accepted by the board of directors of the agent bank by a resolution spread upon the minutes in the following form:

Be it resolved that the contract of agency entered into on ....... 191. . between the ...... Insurance Company and the ...... National Bank of ....... by ....... president (or vice president) and cashier, a copy of which is on file in this bank, is hereby ratified and approved.
2. A certified copy of such resolution, attested by the president or vice president and by the cashier and by a majority of the directors of the bank, must be forwarded to this office on forms to be furnished by this office.
3. There should be on file in the bank, available for inspection by the examiner, the following documents:
(a) An authoritative statement showing the population of the town according to the last preceding decennial census.
(b) A proper certificate from the authorities of the State in which the bank is located showing as to each insurance company for which the bank is acting as agent that such company has received authority from the said State to transact business in that State.
(c) A proper certificate or other writing of each insurance company for which the bank acts, authorizing the bank to act as its agent, setting forth that the bank does not guarantee the payment of any premium on insurance policies issued through its agency by its principal, and stating that the bank is not to be held responsible for the truth of any statement made by an assured in filing his application for insurance.
(d) Copies of all reports made by the agent bank to each insurance company which it represents.
4. The bank will be required to keep a record as to each company for which it acts as agent, showing: For fire insurance: The amount of each policy, the rate and premium, date of commencement, term, and date of expiration, as well as a description of property insured, with name of assured and to whom loss is payable. As to life insurance: Amount and date of policy, with premium, and a statement as to under what form the insurance is written, giving also name of assured and beneficiary. As to any and all other forms of insurance: The fullest possible particulars as to amounts, dates, rates, premiums, and what is insured by the policy, and of collection of all premiums collected for account of the company, refunds made, the proportion of premium credited to the profits of the bank under its agreement with the company, the proportion due the company, the amounts and dates of all remittances made to the insurance company on account of premiums collected, and the balance, if any, due from the bank to the insurance company.
5. The bank will be required to carry on its general ledger an account which will, at all times, show the amount due to insurance companies for which it is acting as agent, on account of premiums collected but not remitted, and this liability must be shown in reports of condition and in the published statements of the bank under the heading "other liabilities-on account of insurance premiums collected and not remitted," unless specifically provided for in the report.
6. The bank should also keep such records as may be required by each insurance company in the manner and under the forms prescribed by the various companies; all of which should be available for inspection by the examiner on request.
7. The agent bank must not assume any responsibility or liability for either the adjustment, settlement, or payment of losses under any policy issued by or through its agency.
8. The records of all profits derived from the insurance agency should be carried in a separate account on the books of the bank, and the records should be so kept as to enable the examiner readily to trace to the source all items of profit derived in this connection.

WHERE A NATIONAL BANK ACTS AS BROKER OR AGENT IN MAKING OR procuring loans on real estate.

In order to avail itself of this privilege:
(a) The bank must be located in a place the population of which does not exceed 5,000 as shown by the last preceding decennial census.
(b) The real estate by which the loans negotiated are secured must be located within 100 miles of the place in which the negotiating hank is located.
(c) The bank may receive for such services a reasonable fee or commission.
(d) The bank shall in no case guarantee either the principal or interest of any such loans.
(e) The powers conferred are to be exercised under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Comptroller of the Currency.

The following regulations are prescribed for national banks which may undertake to act as agents or brokers in making or procuring loans on real estate:

1. A bank intending to avail itself of this provision of the law must adopt by its board of directors a resolution in the following form:

Be it resolved, That the officers of the ...... National Bank of ...... are hereby authorized and empowered on behalf of this bank, as broker or agent, to accept from customers of this bank deposits of funds to be invested for account of said customers, in loans secured by real estate, and to procure, as broker or agent, for customers of this bank loans which shall be secured by real estate, under the provisions of the act approved September 7, 1916: Provided, That the investment of such funds as stated, and all such procuring of loans or lending of funds for clients shall be undertaken only under written instructions from the customer for whom this bank, through its officers, may act as broker or agent, such written instructions in each case to be first delivered to an officer of this bank. Such instructions shall, in all cases, state clearly that the bank in acting as broker or agent in no way guarantees payment of either the principal or interest of any loan so negotiated.
2. A certified copy of such resolution, attested by the president or vice president and cashier and by a majority of the directors of the bank, must be forwarded to this office on forms to be furnished by this office.
3. No bank shall charge more than one commission or brokerage on the making of any loan; that is to say, if it shall charge a brokerage or commission to the party borrowing the money, it shall not charge a brokerage or commission to the party for whom money is so loaned, and vice versa.
4. Each bank acting under this provision of law will be required to keep a record showing as to each loan negotiated by the bank-
(a) The name and address of the principal for whom the bank is acting.
(b) Date of written instructions from the principal.
(c) Name and address of maker of note.
(d) Date of note.
(e) Date of maturity of note.
(f) Brief description of property securing note, showing location and distance from place in which bank is located.
(g) Character of improvements, etc.
(h) Name and address of party to whom note was transferred or delivered by the bank.
(i) Date of such transfer or delivery.
(j) Amount of principal of note.
(k) Rate of interest or discount.
(l) Rate of commission or brokerage charged by bank for acting as broker or agent.
( $m$ ) Amount of such commission or brokerage, and whether said commission was paid by borrower of the money or by the party for whom it was loaned.
5. A book should be kept showing the date on which each mortgage or deed of trust negotiated by the bank has been admitted to record, the court in which the same is recorded, and the recordation fees paid in each case.
6. The records of all profits derived from acting as broker or agent in negotiating loans on real estate should be carried in a separate account on the books of the bank, and the records should be so kept as to enable the examiner readily to trace to the source all items of profit derived in this connection.
7. Deposits of money received by the bank as broker or agent to be invested in loans secured by real estate as prescribed by law, must be treated as trust funds and kept separate and apart from the other assets of the bank. Such funds must in no case be permitted to pass from the possession of the bank until the loan for which they are to be paid out is formally accepted by or in behalf of the party for whose account negotiated.
8. No bank shall advance or use its own funds in connection with real estate loans negotiated as broker or agent.
9. No loans secured by real estate, which the bank has negotiated as broker or agent, should become a part of the assets of the bank even temporarily, unless such loans conform to the provisions of section 24 of the Federal reserve act, as amended.
10. There should be available in the bank for inspection by the national bank examiner-
(a) An authoritative statement showing the population of the town according to the last preceding decennial census.
(b) All records pertaining to the negotiation of real estate loans as broker or agent.

National banks acting as broker for the placing of loans should prepare blank forms of application to be executed by applicants for loans. These applications should show-
(a) Location of property.
(c) Assessed valuation.
(d) Estimated present value.
$63367^{\circ}$-CUR 1916-ror. 2-59
(e) Brief descriptions of buildings thereon and estimated value of them.
( $f$ ) Whether buildings are insured, and if so, for what amounts and in what companies.
(g) Whether proprety is already encumbered, and if so, for what amount.
( $h$ ) If property is farm property applicant should state whether or not the dwelling is provided with sanitary arrangements approved by the local board of health, and if not, what sanitary arrangements there are.

At the foot of this application should be printed below the signature of the applicant a statement to the effect that "The statements in the foregoing application have been submitted to this bank by the applicant for the loan, but this bank does not undertake to guarantee the correctness of any of the statements made by the applicant."

If any applicant for a loan makes statements in his application which any officers of the bank before whom the application may come may have reason to think are not correct, the attention of the applicant should be called to the possible discrepancy.

John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency.

Exhibit $B$.

AFFIDAVIT AND ANSWER OF JOHN SKELTON WILLIAMS, COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY, IN THE INJUNCTION SUIT OF THE RIGGS NATIONAL BANK.

In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

Equity, No. 33360.

The Riggs National Bank, of Washington, D. C., v. John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency; William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury; John Burke, Treasurer of the United States.

Affidavit of John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency, by way of return to the rule to show cause why the temporary restraining order issued should not be continued and an injunction issue as prayed for in the rule.

District of Columbia, ss:

John Skelton Williams, being sworn, says: I was Assistant Secretary of the Treasury from Maroh 24, 1913, until February 3, 1914, when I became Comptroller of the Currency, and as such Comptroller am one of the defendants in the above-entitled cause.

An application has been made and is pending separately on behalf of each defendant to dismiss the action for want of jurisdiction to review my acts. I am advised and respectfully insist that the exercise of my judgment and discretion as Comptroller is not reviewable by this honorable court. In view, however, of the character of the charges contained in the bill of complaint and of my official position, I take this opportunity to meet and answer in detail the allegations contained in said bill.

I deny that I have conspired with the defendant McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, in any manner whatever to injure or destroy the plaintiff bank, or that I have or had any such intention, or that any of my acts as Assistant Secretary or as Comptroller was caused by malice, hatred, or ill will toward plaintiff or its officers or any of them.

On the contrary, I aver that each and every of my acts complained of was done by me in the honest performance of my duties in said offices, and in the best exercise of my judgment and discretion.

ACQUAINTANCE WITH PLAINTIFF AND ITS OFFICERS.

Before coming to Washington in 1913 I had had no dealings with the plaintiff bank or with any of its officers. I had many years before casually met the president of the plaintiff-Charles C. Glover-but had never met any of its other officers. I had never heard of its vice president, William J. Flather, nor of its cashier, $H_{e n g y}^{2} H$. Flather, nor was I acquainted with its vice president,

After coming to Washington, both Glover and said Ailes made friendly calls upon me in my office as Assistant Secretary. I had at that time no occasion to entertain any feelings other than of a friendly character toward them.

dUTIES OF THE COMPTROLLER.

As Comptroller of the Currency I am the chief of the bureau of the Treasury Department charged with the execution of all laws of Congress relating to the issue and regulation of the national currency secured by United States bonds. The Comptroller is charged with the duty, among others, of examining into all the affairs of national banks for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the banks which necessarily involves the character of their management, to determine whether or not such banks are and have been operated in conformity with the laws and to enable him to recommend amendments to existing laws. Such examinations are to be made by bank examiners appointed for that purpose by èxamination of the records and papers of the bank as well as by oral examination of its officers and by means of reports from the bank itself made pursuant to general or special calls from the Comptroller.

General reports are made by each bank pursuant to calls from the Comptroller, which the law requires at least five times a year. Special reports may be called for from a particular bank whenever in the judgment of the Comptroller additional information is necessary, and calls for special reports are not of infrequent occurrence. The bank exaḿiner usually examines each national bank at least twice a year, or as much oftener as the condition of the bank or the circumstances of the case in the opinion of the Comptroller may require.

CALLS FOR SPECIAL REPORTS FROM PLAINTIFF.

In the summer of 1913 , in connection with the deposit of Government funds with banks throughout the country to aid in moving the crops, and again in the spring of 1914, in preparing data for the Secretary in connection with the so-called "tax deposit" of Government funds with the national banks of the District of Columbia, I nad occasion to look into the condition of the respective national banks in the city of Washington and the class of business which they were doing, and therefore became familiar to some extent with their operations. The regular semiannual examination of the plaintiff was made in May, 1914, by the bank examiner. In these ways I learned that about three-fourths of plaintiff's total loans were upon stocks and securities, and that it had been charged with conducting a stock brokerage and real estate loan business throughout the greater part of its existence. During the said examination in May the examiner reported that certain of the bank's officers had stated and insisted to him that the brokerages and commissions earned in such businesses were earned and appropriated personally by officers of the bank. He reported also that the bank was carrying large loans with stocks as security, in many instances the borrowers not being depositors with the bank.

I deemed it necessary, in order to ascertain the condition of the bank and whether such condition was reflected by the books of the bank, to know whether it was engaged in a stock brokerage and real estate loan business, whether commissions were being charged by the bank and credited to profit and loss, or were being charged by its officers and appropriated to their personal use while the bank was being used to carry these stocks for persons who had no deposit accounts and whose relations with the bank were confined to dealings in stocks and bonds through it.

Thereupon, on June 9, 1914, I called for a special report from plaintiff bank which would throw the desired light upon the condition of the bank in this respect. Thereafter, as matters developed, further special reports were called for and examinations were made by the bank examiners for the like purpose.

RÉSUMÉ of FACTS SHOWN BY investigation.

From the investigations made by ${ }^{*}$ me, from the special reports made pursuant to the aforesaid calls, from the letters of criticism written by my predecessors in office to plaintiff bank and the replies thereto, from the reports of the bank examiners of their examinations of said bank, and from oral examinations of its chief executive officers, it appears that from the time of its organization, or thereabouts, until after the calls for special reports by me plaintiff bank has steadily, persistently, and notwithstanding repeated admonitions and instructions from preceding Comptrollers of the Currency, engaged in business beyond the powers of a national bank; that when objection was made to certain of its practices plaintiff bank adopted devices as hereinafter specified, by means of which the same unlawful businesses were carried on and the bank continued to profit therefrom.

From these same sources I learned that throughout its existence the plaintiff bank has engaged in the business of lending its money on real estate security and in lending on commission the money of others on such security, and has continuously conducted a large and extensive stock-brokerage business and has bought and sold stocks and other securities, both for itself and on commission for others; that immediately after its organization these businesses were carried on directly in the name of the bank; then they were partly conducted in the name of the firm of Glover, Hyde, Johnston, and others, composed of five of the six stockholders of the bank, who at that time together owned three-fifths of its capital stock; that later the entire business was carried on in the name of the bank, and, finally, in the names of certain officers of the bank; but, except during the existence of the firm mentioned, all profits from these businesses, with the exceptions hereinafter stated, went to the bank itself, and the plan of doing business in the names of the officers was a mere device conceived in an attempt to evade the law. In conducting these unlawful businesses the officers of the plaintiff bank in using its funds to lend upon real estate required subordinate employees to give their personal notes to the bank to represent funds so used, said officers furnishing collateral security, but failing themselves to sign the notes.

In many other ways the plaintiff bank and its officers violated the law. From its organization until 1906 the plaintiff bank continuously and against the constant protest of successive Comptrollers made and maintained and carried large loans in excess of the lawful amountin 1903 having fifteen such loans aggregating over $$ 3,000,000$. There was no time during this entire period when the law was not being violated in this respect. Sometimes the excess loans showed upon the bank's books, and in other instances they were concealed by dummy notes of clerks of the bank. The extent to which its officers have been borrowing from plaintiff bank under the cover of dummies is not available to the department owing to their refusal to make the reports on account of which the penalties of $$ 5,000$ have been assessed against the bank, the collection of which is sought to be enjoined in this action. The bank for years engaged in the purchase of stocks on its own account-purchases which were ultra vires-and here again it used the dummy note of an employee, to falsely have it appear that it had disposed of such stocks when in fact it had not done so after having been directed so to do by the then Comptroller. On at least three occasions, and it is believed on many more, officers of the bank have borrowed its money upon notes signed by irresponsible dummies, the collateral to secure such loans being furnished by the borrowing officer and the identity of the actual borrower not being made known to the other directors.

Until the passage of the Federal reserve act the law required a national bank to maintain a reserve equal to 25 per cent of its deposits, one-half of which must be in lawful money in its vaults. Practically continuously from January, 1910, to January, 1914, the regular reports of condition filed by the plaintiff bank show a shortage in its reserve ranging from $$ 70,000$ to $$ 430,000$, and an examination of the bank showed that in practically each instance there was an average shortage in reserve for thirty days prior to the rendition of each report.

During the time he held office one of plaintiff's directors was disqualified by reason of the fact that all his stock in the plaintiff bank was hypothecated for a loan, notwithstanding which, on three separate occasions, he made oath falsely stating that the stock was unpledged.

Because of the unlawful businesses engaged in and the steps taken to conceal the same, the bank's books have not shown the true condition of its affairs, and many of the reports of condition made throughout its existence have contained false items.

In addition to many actual violations of the law, in numerous ways the business of the bank has been conducted irregularly and not with a view to best serving the banking needs of the community. Its officers and directors have borrowed heavily-in May, 1913, at one time as much as $$ 761,631.43$, or approximately one-fourth of its entire capital stock and surplus; large loans have been made to clerks upon the security of stocks, some of which were hazardous and speculative, and its officers have engaged in speculation in the stock market; the bank in the purchase of stocks for others has frequently carried stocks until the purchasers were ready to settle, and carried such stocks as the equivalent of so much cash, this item amounting at one time to as much as $$ 73,000$; up to 1908 the bank frequently loaned to officials of the Treasury Department having to do with the supervision of its affairs; the bulk of the bank's loanssometimes more than 90 per cent-have been made on the security of bonds and stocks; and it has loaned a far smaller proportion of its deposits upon commercial paper or for the needs of the business community than any other national bank in Washington, D. C.

The president of the plaintiff bank Charles C. Glover has held that office throughout its existence. Its vice president Milton E. Ailes has been such since April 16, 1903; for several years prior thereto-during which time plaintiff bank constantly violated the law-he was Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. Its vice president William J. Flather and its cashier Henry H. Flather have been officers or employees of plaintiff during its entire existence. These officers throughout the life of the bank in large part have directed its policy and controlled its management, and are still in control of its affairs. They have caused it to violate the law and exceed its powers. Some of the violations have already been briefly summarized, but before answering the specific averments of the bill of complaint the violations of law, as well as several practices of doubtful propriety, will be set forth under ten heads. In referring to transactions affecting individuals not connected with the bank out of consideration for such persons I have omitted their names and have designated them by letters of the alphabet but am prepared to furnish such names to the court.

1. STOCK brokerage and real estate loan business.

It is ultra vires and unlawful for a national bank to buy and sell stocks on commission or for others or to negotiate loans on real estate on commission. It has been so held by the courts.

July 1, 1896, the plaintiff bank succeeded a private banking firm known as Riggs and Company, which to a large extent had carried on both said businesses.

From its organization as a national bank till the practices were stopped, after my investigations, the plaintiff bank conducted a large and extensive stock brokerage business, and engaged in lending its own moneys upon real estate security, and in negotiating for others on commission loans on such security.

In both businesses the funds of the bank have been extensively used. From its organization to the present time an average of about $80 \%$ of the total loans of the plaintiff bank have been made upon stocks and bonds, many of which were purchased for the owners by the plaintiff bank, and many of which were speculative and of uncertain value. A table made up from plaintiff's reports is attached to the return of the defendant McAdoo as Exhibit F, showing the percentage of plaintiff's loans of this character. Such percentages range from 60.51 to 91.61 . In some of its reports plaintiff has stated untruthfully the facts with respect to its loans upon real estate. I have had compiled from the examiners' reports on the plaintiff a list (hereto attached as Exhibit A) showing, as well as the examiners could ascertain, the amounts of real estate loans unlawfully held by plaintiff bank at the times of such examinations.

Until January, 1897, both businesses were conducted directly by the bank and all commissions were credited to it on its books. In January, 1897, five of the six stockholders, together owning three-fifths of the stock of the bank, organized the firm of Glover, Hyde, Johnston and others, and under that name carried on the real estate loan business until 1902, mainly with the capital and assets of the bank, which took and paid for the real estate mortgages at times out of its assets and at other times for its customers or for others, the said firm dividing among its partners all the commissions and other profits arising from said transactions.

During this period the stock brokerage business was conducted by the bank as before, and the commissions were credited to the bank on its books.

In May, 1902, the firm of Glover, Hyde, Johnston, and others was dissolved; thereafter and until November 30, 1906, both the stock brokerage and real estate loan businesses were conducted by and in the name of the bank, and all commissions and profits were credited to the bank on its books. Purchases and sales of stocks were made on the exchanges in the name of the bank, and statements of accounts to the customers and others were made in its name, and it publicly advertised itself as engaged in the business of buying and selling stocks and bonds for customers.

On three separate occasions in 1903 and 1904 the bank was admonished by the Comptroller in letters of criticism that its stock brokerage business was ultra vires and should be discontinued. But the plaintiff bank ignored these warnings and instructions and persistently continued to engage in said business until after the making of the special reports called for by this defendant in June, 1914.

In 1906 a new bank examiner learned the manner in which the plaintiff was conducting the said stock brokerage business, and the bank was again informed that the same was ciltra vires and could not be continued.

Notwithstanding the fact that the said stock-brokerage business had been carried on in the name of the bank, its officers insisted to said examiner that they had conducted said business as individuals, and the examiner stated that if that were so the business should show upon the books as being carried on in their names. Thereupon, with the knowledge and approval of said examiner and it is claimed of the then Comptroller of the Currency, the bank adopted the following method of conducting said business:

The president of the bank, Charles C. Glover, and its vice president, William J. Flather, both of whom held seats on the Washington Stock Exchange, were to carry on the stock-brokerage business in their own names and were from time to time to give to the bank the profits therefrom.

Accordingly, on November 30, 1906, the plaintiff bunk opened upon its books an account called Charles C. Glover and William J. Flather (hereafter referred to as Glover & Flather). The said account was closed on April 17, 1914, by transferring its balance to the account of Flather & Flather, hereinafter described. From the opening of the Glover & Flather account commissions on transactions on the Washington Stock Exchange were credited to it, and from June 5, 1910, commissions on transactions on other stock exchanges were credited to the same account.

An account known as W. J. and H. H. Flather (hereinafter called Flather & Flather) was opened January 8, 1907, and still stands upon the books of the plaintiff bank. From its opening all commissions and other profits from real estate loans made by any officer of the bank were credited to this account, and after April 17, 1914, upon the closing of the Glover & Flather account, all items theretofore credited to that account were credited to Flather & Flather.

In May, 1914, Examiner Trimble made his first examination of the plaintiff bank. He reported to me that he had inquired of the officers of the bank about the said accounts Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather, and was told by the said W. J. Flather that all profits arising from transactions on the Washington Stock Exchange by Messrs. Glover and W. J. Flather belonged to and were retained by them, the bank having no connection therewith; and that he was told by both said W. J. Flather and H. H. Flather that they as individuals made loans upon real estate in the District of Columbia, disposing of said loans to customers of the bank; that the total volume of such business was about $$ 500,000$ per annum; that the profits and commissions arising therefrom were about $$ 5,000$ per year, which sum was retained by the said Messrs. Flather and Flather and equally divided between them, and that in corroboration of this statement the said W. J. Flather expressed a willingness to exhibit his income-tax return to said examiner. At that time the account showed a balance of a few hundred dollars in favor of Flather & Flather. Mr. Trimble's affidavit is filed herewith.

Accordingly, on June 9, 1914, I called for a special report from the plaintiff bank showing what commissions had been received by it or its officers on transactions of the kind above described. In a letter dated June 16, 1914, the president of the bank stated that no officer thereof had profited personally by any commission received on or in connection with any transaction for or on account of the bank; and in a letter dated June 18, 1914, the president stated, under oath, that no officer of the bank ever claimed or intended to claim any part of the commissions covered into the accounts Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather, and that no one of said officers had ever retained any part thereof or profited personally thereby.

The two statements last mentioned were in direct conflict with the statements made by the said W. J. Flather and H. H. Flather to the bank examiner in May, 1914.

Thereafter the officers of the bank have repeated the assertion of its president that no one of them has ever profited or intended to profit by any of the commissions covered into said accounts Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather; but I have been unable, either through special reports or through an oral examination of the plaintiff's officers conducted by bank examiners, to obtain from them an unequivocal statement as to the ownership of the money and property standing to the credit of the said Flather & Flather account.

Notwithstanding the continued refusal of the plaintiff bank and its officers to answer the simple question as to the ownership of said fund and upon all the information accessible to me, I aver that the commissions, moneys, and property covered into the said account of Flather & Flather and the balance now to the credit of Flather & Flather rightfully belong, and always have belonged, to the plaintiff bank, and that the said commissions, moneys, and property should have been carried upon the books of the bank in its own name.

The moneys and credit of the bank have been largely used in earning the commissions going into said accounts, and in many ways they have been treated as belonging to the bank.

When an application for a loan upon real estate would be made to the bank, if it did not at the time have funds of a customer for such a loan available for that purpose, its officers would make the loan, either out of the funds standing to the credit of Glover & Flather or Flather & Flather, or out of other funds of the bank. In the latter case the officers of the bank would direct a subordinate clerk to sign a note for the amount used and that note would be put through the books of the bank as an ordinary discount, the officer of the bank depositing with it as collateral security stocks or bonds of his own. When such loans on real estate were disposed of the amount would be returned to the bank and the note given by the clerk cancelled. The money of the bank would thus be used over and over again in making these loans.

In conducting the stock brokerage business, after stocks had been bought out of the bank's funds, it frequently happened that such stocks were carried on the books and returned in its reports to the Comptroller as so much cash items, instead of the amounts expended therein being entered upon its books as loans to its customers, or charged against their accounts. As illustrative of this practice, the then Acting Comptroller, by letter of November 11, 1913, called plaintiff's attention to such items, aggregating $$ 55,572.86$, carried at the time of the examination of the bank last preceding.

The officers of the bank claimed to have purchased for one A-_, who was not a depositor with the bank, certain shares of Rock Island preferred and common stock, paying therefor $$ 26,987.50$. The bank carried this stock on its books as a cash item from January 31, 1914, until March 3, 1914, though the said stock had greatly depreciated in value, and on said last-mentioned date was worth not exceeding $$ 11,500$. Ultimately, as a result of this transaction, on December 31, 1914, the sum of $$ 17,254.50$ was charged off as a loss to the Flather & Flather account.

The credits of said accounts were treated from time to time as the funds of the plaintiff bank. Said accounts were used to charge off worthless loans made by the bank, and as a means of charging off amounts paid in settlement of suits against the bank, and of maki.!g contributions for various purposes.

In February, 1908, the plaintiff bank credited to the account of Glover & Flather the sum of $$ 56,918.54$, a profit made by the bank through the purchase and sale of United States bonds in a transaction hạndled on its behalf by its vice president, Ailes. This sum was not earned by President Glover or either of the said Flathers, nor by Mr. Ailes, but was the property of the plaintiff bank.

As showing the position taken by the plaintiff bank, its officers and directors, before my calls for special reports as to whether the bank was conducting a stock-brokerage business or its officers, as individuals, were engaged therein, the plaintiff bank, by letter dated November 19, 1913, signed by the four principal officers of plaintiff and all its directors except three, in replying to the Acting Comptroller's criticism of its practice of carrying items of stock in the cash, said:

With respect to the statement of the examiner that it is the practice of the bank to carry items of stock purchased for customers in the cash, such items amounting to $$ 55,572.86$ at the time of his visit, you are advised that for the most part our purchases for customers are immediately charged against their accounts. It sometimes happens that an order can not be fully executed at once, and we have met with some small delays in completing orders as well as in charging purchases to accounts. The item above mentioned was largely caused by the absence of one of our important customers in Jamaica at the time his order was executed. In the future we will endeavor to avoid carrying these items in cash by making prompt charges against customers' accounts. [Italics ours.]

2. EXCESS LOANS.

Prior to June 22, 1906, the law provided that the total liabilities to any national bank of any person, firm, or corporation for money borrowed should not exceed one-tenth of its capital stock.

From its organization until June 22, 1006, at which time the law was amended to permit a loan not exceeding 10 per cent of the capital and unimpaired surplus of a national bank (act of June 22, 1906, 34 Statutes, 451), the plaintiff bank constantly violated the provisions of the law in this respect.

After its first report the then Deputy Comptroller by letter of August 29, 1896, called attention to three such excess loans, aggregating more than $$ 380,000$, the lawful limit of each loan being $$ 50,000$. From this time on the bank's offenses in this respect grew steadily worse, and until the law was amended every examination of its affairs showed flagrant violation of this provision of the law. In November, 1903, these excess loans, fifteen in number, amounted to more than three million dollars, or three times the total capital of the bank, or one and one-half times its capital and surplus. The Acting Comptroller by letter of June 6, 1906, to the plaintiff bank, just before the amendment of the law, calls attention to the fact that such excess loans then exceeded the sum of $$ 600,000$.

While the bank through the ten years in question openly and continuously violated this law there were several occasions when it apparently attempted to conceal certain of its violations.

In 1903 loans in the name of one D——amounted to $$ 165,937.18$. The said D - apparently desiring to borrow a further sum of $$ 250,000$, the plaintiff bank for some reason deemed it unwise to loan that sum to him in his name, but procured five of its clerks each to sign a note to the bank for $$ 50,000$, and D - deposited with each note 420 shares of stock of the Capital Traction Company owned by him. The said notes were dummy notes and were given by persons financially irresponsible, and were made for the purpose of concealing such excessive loans. The then Acting Comptroller by letter of April 27, 1903, admonished the bank that the excessive loans to D(then amounting to $$ 415,937.18$ ) should be reduced, and that said dummy loans for his benefit in addition to being excessive were inadequately secured.

According to the Comptroller's letter of December 1, 1905, the loans to said D - still aggregated $$ 366,000$ at that time, and the bank was advised that it was out of all proportion to its capital, and was directed to reduce them, together with ten other excess loans-the total aggregating $$ 1,878,193.52$, equal to 85 per cent of its then total capital and surplus-to the lawful limit without unnecessary delay.

Between the date of this letter of criticism and the next examination of the bank, as appears from the Acting Comptroller's letter of June 6, 1906 (just a few weeks before the amendment of the law), the bank, still openly carrying four excessive loans, in violation of the law, went through the form of splitting up the said loan to D - and three other excess loans (the four aggregating over $$ 800,000$ ) into smaller accommodation notes for amounts within the limit. In the last-mentioned letter the bank was admonished that the law could not be evaded by such indirect methods.

A number of these excess loans, made from 12 to 15 years ago, still remain in the bank. At least two of them, approximating $$ 275,000$, are quite doubtful. As to one of these loans, amounting at the time of the examination in May, 1914, to $$ 170,203$, since the investigation made by this defendant the plaintiff bank has charged off to loss the sum of $$ 20,203.71$, thereby reducing the amount of the loan to $$ 150,000$.

A table showing the amounts of such excess loans from 1896 to 1906 is made a part hereof as Exhibit B.
3. STOCK INVESTMENTS.

Plaintiff bank invested large sums in stocks of other corporations, particularly during the years 1896 to 1906.

As early as April 28, 1898, the plaintiff bank was advised by the then Comptroller that the Supreme Court had decided in October, 1896, in California National Bank vs. Kennedy (167 U. S., 362) that the power to purchase or deal in stock of another corporation is not conferred upon national banks, and that such a deal was consequently ultra vires. The bank was thereupon directed without further delay to dispose of all stocks and purchases for investment then owned by it.

Again, on May 1, 1902, the Comptroller called attention to the law, and directed the bank to dispose of stocks in a number of corporations then held by it. Among the stocks so held were shares in five local fire insurance companies and in two local title insurance companies. Notwithstanding repeated admonitions to the same effect, contained in practically every letter written in the years 1903, 1904, and 1905, the plaintiff bank continued to hold large amounts of stocks.

Between the report of December 1, 1905, and the next examination in 1906 the bank made a colorable effort to clean house. As with certain excess loans, it again used the device of a dummy note. One of the clerks of the bank was directed to and did give his note to the bank for $$ 19,563.30$, and the bank placed with this note as security certain of the title insurance and fire insurance company and other stocks held by it.

By letter of June 6, 1906, the Acting Comptroller called attention to this device-the said note then amounting to $$ 11,039.88$-and informed the bank that the transfer of these securities to loans and discounts was not a disposition thereof. The bank was directed to restore the securities to the account of "bonds, securities, claims, etc.." and to so carry them until regularly disposed of.

Notwithstanding this admonition, the bank still refused to dispose of a greater part of the stock in said title insurance companies.

Upon receipt of the above-mentioned instructions, the plaintiff bank, on June 8, 1906, restored to the bonds, securities, claims, etc., account on its ledgers the stocks of said title insurance companies. Instead of promptly disposing thereof, the plaintiff bank openly held the same until 1912, when, under dates of June 10 and October 9, 1912, it transferred said title insurance company stocks to the account of Flather & Flather, crediting itself with the value thereof.

In fact, the said stocks are now and always have been the property of the plaintiff bank and have been held in this indirect manner for the purpose of evading the law. A table of unlawful investments of the plaintiff in stocks is Exhibit C hereto.

Among the stocks which the bank was directed to dispose of in May, 1902, was a large block of stock in the Capital Traction Company, of which Mr. Glover was for many years the vice president, and which at about that time was a heavy borrower from the bank.

At the same time the bank held as collateral security for an excess loan made by the borrower another block of stock in the same company, which did not stand in the name of the bank or its officers. Finally during 1904 and 1905 the bank gradually sold stock which it held as collateral security, substituting therefor the stock standing in the name of its officers, and which it had owned for many years. The result was that the officers of the plaintiff bank still appeared upon the books of the Capital Traction Company as owning a large amount of its stock.

4. EXCESS LIABILITIES.

In April, 1903, at which time the capital stock of plaintiff bank was $$ 1,000,000$, and which sum therefore was the limit of its lawful borrowings, the Acting Camptroller wrote the cashier of the plaintiff bank as follows:

Upon examination of the report of condition of your bank for April 9, 1903, it is found that the liabilities of the bank for U. S. bonds borrowed amounted to $$ 3,100,000$, an amount greatly in excess of the capital stock.

Your attention is called to section 5202, U. S. R. S., which prescribes that-"No association shall at any time be indebted, or in any way liable, to an amount exceeding the amount of its capital stock at such time actually paid in "- except on account of certain demands therein named.
The above liabilities should therefore be reduced to the lawful limit without delay. You are requested to advise this office when this has been done.

The bank's violation of this statute occurred as follows:
Prior and up to April 16th, 1903, Milton E. Ailes had been Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and in charge of the fiscal bureaus.
Prior to April 11th, 1903, the plaintiff bank had the sum of $$ 100,000$ of Government funds on deposit with it. On that day said Ailes, as Acting Secretary of the Treasury, caused to be deposited with plaintiff bank the sum of $$ 2,900,000$ of Government funds, said sum being withdrawn from the National City Bank of New York. Section 5153, R. S. U. S., requires deposits of Government funds in national banks to be secured by the deposit with the Treasury Department of approved securities. The plaintiff bank borrowed from the National City Bank United States bonds of the par value of $$ 2,900,000$ and deposited the same with the Treasury Department as security for said Government funds. As was the custom, no interest was paid to the United States on its funds so deposited with the plaintiff bank.

On April 16th, 1903, five days after he had caused said deposit tebe made with plaintiff bank, said Ailes resigned his office of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and on that day became vice president of plaintiff bank and the Washington representative of said National City Bank, presumably having arranged to become associated with said banks before he caused said Government deposits to be made with it. Immediately after receiving this deposit of Government funds the plaintiff bank redeposited a similar amount with said National City Bank.

The Acting Comptroller's letter of November 11, 1913, called attention to another similar violation of section 5202 by plaintiff bank. In October, 1913, said liability of plaintiff bank amounted to over $$ 2,000,000$; and in May, 1914, it amounted to over $$ 1,500,000$.
5. DEFICIENCIES IN RESERVES.

Sections 5191 and 5195, R. S. U. S., provided that a national bank in a reserve city (Washington being such a city) shall maintain a cash reserve equal to 25 per cent of its total deposits; that one-half of such reserve must be in cash in the vaults of the bank, and that the other half may be deposited in national banks approved by the Comptroller and situated in one of the three central reserve cities.

Practically continuously from January, 1910, to January, 1914, the reports of condition filed by the plaintiff bank with the Comptroller showed a shortage in its cash reserve averaging more than $$ 150,000-$ the shortage June 4, 1913, amounting to $$ 500,363$. Said reports also show throughout the said period a further average shortage in its reserve for the period of thirty days prior to the date of practically every report of condition of the plaintiff bank. Attached hereto, marked Exhibit D and made part hereof, tables showing the amount and percentages of said deficiencies.

Said section 5191 provides that if a national bank shall for a period of thirty days fail to make good its deficiency in reserve, after notification from the Comptroller to that effect, the Comptroller may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, appoint a receiver to wind up its affairs.

6. REAL ESTATE LOANS.

The National Bank Act does not authorize the lending of money upon real estate security. It was held by the Supreme Court of the United States in 1896 (in Bank vs. Matthews, 98 U. S., 621) that such loans are ultra vires and unlawful on the part of the bank, and this ruling was promptly brought to the attention of the officers of the bank by the then Comptroller. The bank's only power to hold real estate as security is and was such as shall be mortgaged to it in good faith by way of security for debts previously contracted. Section 5137, R. S. U. S.

Until 1910 it was the ruling of the Comptroller of the Currency that a bank could not lawfully loan money on'a note secured by mortgage or deed of trust on real estate, nor on a note for which there was given as collateral security another note secured by mortgage or deed of trust on real estate.

From its organization plaintiff bank has continuously violated the law in this respect, notwithstanding repeated admonitions from the Comptroller of the Currency to desist.

By letter of September 14, 1899, to the plaintiff bank the then Comptroller called the attention of plaintiff bank to the fact that it had loans secured by real estate mortgages amounting to $$ 310,338.40$,
"While in your sworn report of condition for June 30, 1899, no amount appeared in the schedule of loans and discounts secured by real estate mortgage, although about the same amount was then held."

On March 12, 1900, the Deputy Comptroller called attention to the fact that the bank then held some sixty-three loans amounting to $$ 282,405.65$; that the loans were made upon notes discounted for "the makers of other loans running to the makers, which latter notes were secured by real estate mortgage, and that the bank accepts this mortgage as collateral on these notes for discount; in many cases the only real estate involved is the real estate mortgage; and that the said loans are in contravention of section 5137, R. S. U. S., and that the practice of making them should be discontinued."

October 17, 1900, the Acting Comptroller called attention to the fact that these loans had increased to $$ 435,904.04$.

May 9,1901 , the Deputy Comptroller called attention to the fact that these loans still amounted to about $$ 400,000$, the security for the greater proportion running to the employees of the bank.

Further attention was called to these loans made in contravention of law in Comptroller's letters of October 25, 1901; May 1, 1902; October 27, 1902; April 27, 1903; November 19, 1903; April 29, 1904; October 22, 1904; May 3, 1905; December 1, 1905; June 6, 1906; and June 24, 1908.

7. DIRECTORS' OATHS.

The law requires that each director of a national bank with a capital stock of more than $$ 25,000$ must own in his own right at least ten shares of its capital stock, and that he must take an oath stating, among other things, that such stock is not hypothecated or in any way pledged as security for a debt. (Sections 5146 and 5147, R. S., U. S.)

63367^{\circ}-\text { CUR 1916-VOL } 2-60

On November 23, 1914, this defendant, in order to ascertain the condition of the plaintiff bank in this respect, called for information from the directors with respect to their oaths of office. The letters in response to said call showed that one of the directors of the plaintiff bank had pledged as security for a debt ten shares of stock, being the only stock that he owned in the bank, which was the sole basis of his qualification as a director, and that during the years 1912, 1913, and 1914 the said director had falsely made oath that his stock was not pledged or hypothecated.

While the reports of condition of the plaintiff bank required by law made during the years 1912, 1913, and 1914 under oath showed over 1,100 shares of stock owned by its vice president, Ailes, each of which statements was signed and attested by the said Ailes, his letter of December 1, 1914, in response to my request, showed that the said Ailes owned in the year 1912 but 180 shares and in the years 1913 and 1914 but 110 shares of stock in the plaintiff bank.

At one time the said Ailes had held some 2,380 shares of stock in the plaintiff bank which belonged to the National City Corporation, but upon the dissolution of that corporation 500 shares of said stock had been purchased by Frank A. Vanderlip, but was still held in the name of said Ailes, and over 500 other shares of said stock standing in the name of said Ailes was owned by individuals connected with the National City Bank and formerly stockholders in the National City Corporation. Why the said stock was still held in the name of said Ailes upon the plaintiff's books was not explained.

As to the stock in the plaintiff bank owned by its vice president Flather, and its cashier, it appeared from their letters that at all times each of them owned ten shares of stock free from incumbrance. but neither was able to designate any specific certificate as representing the unpledged shares. This was due, I believe, to the fact that so large a part of their stock was pledged by them as security for loans.

In addition to these violations of law on the part of the bank other practices of doubtful propriety were shown.

8. LOANS TO TREASURY DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS.

Throughout the time from its organization until the appointment of this defendant as Comptroller of the Currency, his predecessors in that office, after practically every examination of its affairs, were called upon to admonish the plaintiff bank of some violation of law shown by such examination. Such letters of admonition were not written during the period from 1908 to 1913, for the reason, as I am informed and believe, that in 1908 the preexisting practice of the Comptroller's office of writing letters of criticism to banks was suspended and admonitions and instructions were given by the examiners direct.

Notwithstanding the repeated admonitions given by the various Comptrollers to the plaintiff bank, the latter continued in persistent violations of the law.

In response to calls for such reports made by me, the plaintiff bank has furnished lists of loans made by it since its organization to Secretaries of the Treasury, Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury, Comptrollers of the Currency, bank examiners, and employees of the latter's office. From these it appears that throughout its history the plaintiff bank has frequently loaned money to those officers of the Government having to do with the conduct of the Comptroller's office, and has loaned various sums of money to many employees of that office, including even the personal messengers attending upon the Comptroller. Attached hereto is a list of such loans made to Secretaries, Assistant Secretaries, Comptrollers and bank examiners while the said officials occupied office, marked "Exhibit E."

On December 17, 1908, the then Comptroller of the Currener. Honorable L. O. Murray, issued an order forbidding national bank examiners from borrowing moneys from national banks. Thereafter the plaintiff bank made no loans of this character to said bank examiners.

9. DUMMY LOANS.

In addition to the dummy notes heretofore described, namely, those made by five clerks of the bank in 1903, each for $$ 50,000$, to represent a loan of $$ 250,000$ made to one D - and the note made by a clerk of the bank in 1906 for $$ 11,039.88$ to represent the stocks owned by the bank, which it was making a pretense of disposing of, but which as a matter of fact had been deposited in the collaterals as security for the dummy note, the bank appears on frequent occasions to have required its clerks to make notes which represented no loans to them, but moneys used by the officers of the bank in making loans upon real estate security or moneys borrowed by the officers for their own purposes. These notes have not only been made by clerks of the bank, but on several occasions have been made by other persons.

Among such dummy notes is one dated April 24, 1914, for $86,500, made by a teller of the bank. It appeared from their statements that the officers of plaintiff bank, having an application for a loan upon real estate in Washington, caused the sum of $$ 86,500$ of the moneys of the bank to be used for that purpose, and instead of giving their own note therefor, directed the teller to give his note for that sum, depositing therewith stocks belonging to the president of the bank. Thereafter the real estate notes acquired in this way were sold, and the money was returned to the bank, and the note of the teller canceled.

In the special report of November 7, 1914, called for by me on September 24, 1914, the plaintiff bank furnished a list (called Table No. 5) of loans made by the bank since January 1, 1910, the collateral for which did not belong to the signer of the note. This list described about twenty notes made by employees of the bank, representing sums ranging from $$ 700$ to $$ 86,500$ (being the note before described). The collateral attached to the notes did not belong to the makers thereof. I believe and allege that the said notes, with the exceptions stated below, also represented, to a large extent, sums of money belonging to the plaintiff bank used by its officers for the purpose of making loans upon real estate security, and which loans it is not lawful for a national bank to make.

Among said dummy notes is one for $$ 17.500$, dated April 30, 1912, signed by one Felt, who was not an employee of the plaintiff bank: this note represented a loan made to W. J. Flather, vice president of the bank, who furnished the securities attached to said note, and who in this way obtained a loan from the bank for his own use and gave a note therefor which did not show the facts, nor were such facts disclosed to the directors or known to them when they approved the loan.

When the bank was first questioned about this note, it reported that W. J. Flather was interested therein but not liable thereon; it was not until this defendant called for a direct statement as to the interest of the said Flather in this loan that the admission was made that the loan was made entirely for said Flather's benefit, and that his interest therein consisted in obtaining the proceeds of the note.

A similar transaction is represented by the note of one Nevius, dated August 22,1911 , for $$ 26,400$, reduced on May 23,1914 , to $$ 24,000$. As to this loan the bank reported that its cashier, H. H. Flather, was interested in but not liable on it. In response to a call for specific information as to the interest of the said Flather, the bank reported that the said Flather had obtained the proceeds of this loan. It appeared that the maker of the note was a brother of one of the tellers of the bank, but just why the cashier used this dummy note instead of giving his own note for the loan made to him has not been explained. The testimony of the said W. J. Flather and Henry H.

Flather before the bank examiners with respect to said notes is Exhibit F hereto.

10. LOANS TO OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES.

The plaintiff bank has made numerous loans to its officers, directors, and clerks. Sometimes they were made openly and the notes of the borrowers with collateral security were given. Sometimes the notes were not made by the borrower, but by some subordinate clerk of the bank at the direction of the officer borrowing the money. In these instances there was apparently nothing upon the books of the bank to show the true borrower, nor were the real facts brought to the attention of the directors of the bank.

At the time of the examination in May, 1914, it appeared that these loans, so far as they were known, aggregated $$ 487,000$; in May, 1913, they amounted to $$ 761,000$, or one-fourth of the capital stock and surplus of the bank.

In order to ascertain the true condition of the bank, and if possible to learn what part these loans, both direct and indirect or dummy, had played in the real estate and stock-brokerage business of the bank; to ascertain whether the officers of the bank had charged themselves proper rates of interest, and whether or not they had imposed in any way upon the bank or were at the present time indebted to it, on January 22, 1915, by the letter quoted in paragraph XXIX of the bill, I called upon the plaintiff bank to furnish a report showing all direct loans made by it since its organization to certain of its officers and their families, and showing also indirect or dummy or concealed loans made for the benefit, directly or indirectly, of said officers.

This report the plaintiff bank has resolutely declined to furnish. Such refusal, which has been and is still being persistently maintained, was the occasion for the assessment of the penalties aggregating $$ 5,000$, the collection of which is sought to be enjoined in this action.

A list (marked "Exhibit H") of the direct loans to the officers, djrectors, and employees of the plaintiff as discovered from time to time by the bank examiners is filed herewith. It does not show the dummy or concealed loans to them.

SPECIFIC AVERMENTS OF THE BILL OF COMPLAINT.

Considering the specific averments of the bill of complaint, as to those which have not already been fully answered I say as follows:

\mathrm{I}, \mathrm{II}, \mathrm{III}, \text { AND IV. }

As to paragraphs I, II, III, and IV, I deny that plaintiff's record with the Treasury Department and with the officials of that department charged with the duty of supervising national banks was of the very best, or that throughout its history plaintiff complied with the provisions of the national-bank act. On the contrary, from its organization it steadily and persistently violated that act in the many particulars herein set forth. From 1896 to 1908, after practically every examination of the bank, the then Comptroller wrote the bank calling its attention to its various violations of law and admonishing it to desist therefrom.

On many occasions plaintiff bank merely acknowledged the receipt of such letter, while on others it promised to obey the Comptroller's admonitions; but thereafter it disregarded the admonitions and its promises and continued its persistent violation of law. Up to 1908, when the writing of such letters of criticism was for a while suspended, some forty-two letters of this character-not 27 as alleged by plaintiff-were written by the then Comptrollers to the plaintiff. Copies of said letters and of the replies thereto (covering about 70 printed pages) will be submitted to the court, but are not attached for the reason that they contain matters affecting others which I feel should not now be disclosed.

I deny that plaintiff's reports of condition have never been questioned or challenged. On the contrary, said reports were often untrue in some respects. As early as September, 1899, the Comptroller called attention to the fact that the examiner had reported loans secured by real estate of over $$ 310,000$, when the bank's sworn report of June 30,1899 , contained no amount of such loans; up to 1910 the reports of the plaintiff bank with respect to its real estate loans were frequently untrue; after the opening of the Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather accounts-from January, 1907, to the present time-the reports of the bank have been inaccurate and false in that they omitted from the bank's profits and assets and failed to show that portion thereof carried in said accounts.

The report of condition of the plaintiff bank at the close of business March 4, 1915, set forth in Paragraph III of the bill of complaint is untrue in that it fails to show in the item of undivided profits the assets then remaining to the credit of the said account of Flather & Flather, which in reality belong to plaintiff bank.

v. DENIAL OF CONSPIRACY.

I deny every averment of Paragraph V. I have not conspired in any way to injure or ruin plaintiff bank or its business, and it is not and never has been my purpose to inflict injury upon the plaintiff bank. All of my actions have been in the performance of my duties in the premises and in the exercise of my honest judgment and discretion, and without malice, ill will, or bias against the plaintiff bank or its officers.

VI. PENALTY ASSESSED FOR FAILURE TO FILE REPORT.

There are important laws bearing upon this subject besides those quoted in paragraph VI, and my duties and powers under those statutes have already been set forth.

I deny that I have called on the plaintiff bank for impertinent or irrelevant reports or reports which were unnecessary to a full and complete knowledge of its condition; that I have wrongfully subjected the plaintiff bank to the exercise of inquisitorial and visitatorial powers or other than such as were authorized by law; that I have wrongfully assessed or am continuing or threatening to wrongfully assess penalties against the plaintiff, or that I have assessed penalties against the plaintiff aggregating the sum of $$ 150,000$, or that I have assessed any penalty against it other than the one of $$ 5,000$ for its refusal to furnish the special report called for on January 22, 1915.

On and after June 9, 1914, as Comptroller of the Currency, I did call upon the plaintiff bank to make a number of special reports; in each such instance, in my judgment, the special report was necessary in order to a full and complete knowledge of the bank's condition.

In numerous instances plaintiff bank failed to file said reports within the time fixed by law, and thereby subjected itself to a penalty of $$ 100$ per day thereafter. It is true that in the hope that the plaintiff bank might file said special reports within the lawful period I have from time to time called its attention to the fact that it was subjecting itself to such liability. But the plaintiff, as alleged in the bill, did eventually file some sort of report, however inadequate, in response to each call, except that of January 22, 1915.

But that report it persistently refused to file. Accordingly on March 30, 1915, I did assess a part of the penalty to which plaintiff was subject by law for its said failure. This penalty was assessed for the period of fifty days, from February 8,1915 , to and including March 30,1915 , and is the only penalty that has been assessed against plaintiff bank.

I deny that the additional penalties to which plaintiff bank has subjected itself by reason of its failure to file the special report called for within the time fixed by law under any reasonable construction of the calls for said special reports amount to $$ 150,000$ or to anything approximating that sum.
Inasmuch as the plaintiff did ultimately file reports to all the calls (though at times incomplete and evasive), except that of January 22 , 1915, aforesaid, exercising my discretion as Comptroller of the Currency I have no intention of assessing or undertaking to collect any penalty on such calls, notwithstanding the fact that some of said reports were not filed within the time prescribed by law, and I hereby waive the right to assess any penalty on such calls other than said penalty of $$ 5,000$.

I admit that the Treasurer of the United States still retains said sum of $$ 5,000$ interest which on April 1, 1915, became due from the United States on $$ 1,000,000$ of United States bonds. I deny that said detention is unlawful and aver that it is in strict accordance with law.

VII AND VIII. DEFENDANTS ACTED WITHOUT MALICE.

Referring to Paragraphs VII and VIII of the bill, I again deny that while Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, or at any other time, I have manifested or harbored any personal hostility or malice to the plaintiff bank or any of its officers, or that I now harbor any such feeling, except that it is true that I was incensed at the unjust attacks upon my integrity and the charges that I was or could be influenced in my official action by personal animosity, which I know to be unfounded.

For these reasons I was all the more alert to see to it that whilst performing my duty in learning of and, if possible, putting an end to the violations of law on the part of the bank, my actions should at every step be determined by a strictly just and judicial exercise of the powers and discretion vested in me. Because of what I regarded as the false and contradictory statements that had been made to me and to the bank examiners as herein detailed and of the character of the business in which the bank appeared to be engaged, my confidence in the management was shaken and I became suspicious of their assertions and explanations.

I can not recall any acts upon which the plaintiff bases its assertion of malice, unless it be the act of the defendant McAdoo in expelling from the Treasury a clerk in the employ of the National City Bank, or his subsequent act of requiring from all national banks the payment of interest on all Government deposits. The facts as to both of these acts are fully set forth in the affidavit of the defendant. McAdoo.

INTERVIEW OF DECEMBER 4, 1913 , WITH PLAINTIFF'S OFFICERS.

In November, 1913, the national bank examiner, after examining the affairs of the United States Trust Company, had reported that it was in a precarious financial condition, and that unless steps were promptly taken to alter the then existing condition a reveiver would have to be appointed. The said Trust Company had deposits exceeding $$ 6,000,000$ with about 55,000 depositors. Should that company fail I greatly feared the result might be disastrous, not only to its depositors but to other financial institutions of Washington, and in the sensitive situation which then existed might ultimately unsettle financial conditions generally throughout the country.

As the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury charged with supervision of fiscal bureaus, I accordingly took every precaution in my power to avoid the collapse of said institution, and constantly conferred during several days with the representatives of other financial institutions of Washington, including the plaintiff bank, over steps that might be taken to avoid a faikure. The officers of the United States Trust Company entered into negotiations with officers of two other trust companies in Washington-the Continental Trust Company and the Munsey Trust Company-looking to a transfer of its assets to one of them. The officers of said companies asked me what the Treasury Department would be willing to do, and I informed them that if either of them should take over the United States Trust Company the Government would deposit a large sum of money through the national banks of the city to assist the transaction, provided adequate securities be deposited with the Government to safeguard such deposits. The same offer was made by me to the officers of both said Continental and said Munsey Company. Thereafter, late on the night of November 21, 1913, the Munsey Trust Company arranged to take over the United States Trust Company, and on the next day eleven national banks in Washington, including the plaintiff bank, requested the Secretary of the Treasury to deposit for their account in the Munsey Trust Company sums aggregating $$ 1,000,000$, and this was done on the morning of November 22, 1913, the sum of $$ 90,000$ being so deposited for account of plaintiff bank.

Bonds, commercial paper, and collateral loans aggregating more than $$ 1,600,000$ were deposited with the Treasury Department as security for said Government deposits.

On the afternoon of November 21, and before the agreement between the Munsey Trust Company and the United States Trust Company was made, a run had begun on the latter institution, and the said agreement and the deposit of said Government funds prevented the failure of the latter and a probable financial panic in Washington that might have involved or embarrassed all the banks of said city.

Thereafter, on December 3 and December 4, 1913, the New York Tribune published certain articles gravely reflecting on the ability of the Munsey Trust Company to pay the depositors of both itself and the United States Trust Company and containing false and garbled statements and inferences and criticizing both the Treasury Department and myself. The Secretary was informed that said articles had probably been inspired by an officer or officers of the plaintiff bank.

The financial situation in Washington was then still acute. We both felt that articles of this character would have a tendency to disturb the financial situation, cause a run on the Munsey Trust Company, and precipitate the panic which had been so fortunately averted.

Secretary McAdoo thought that it would be well to invite Mr. Glover to call at the Secretary's office and ask him frankly if the officers of his bank were responsible for the publications. The Secretary accordingly sent word, asking if Mr. Glover would call at his office.

Shortly after Mr. Glover's arrival, Secretary McAdoo sent for Mr. Elliott and me. When we arrived, we found that the Secretary and Mr. Glover had already had a brief talk. The Secretary in our presence spoke of the newspaper articles and asked Mr. Glover if he was responsible for them. Mr. Glover protested that he was not, that he was very particular to keep away from newspaper men, and that he knew nothing about the origin of the articles referred to. The Secretary then told him that if he were not responsible himself that he, the Secretary, believed that the other officers of the bank were; and it was then suggested, by whom I do not recall, that Mr. Ailes and Mr. Flather be sent for, and a telephone message requesting them to come over to the Treasury was accordingly sent. When they arrived, the Secretary asked Mr. Flather if he was responsible for the newspaper articles which were the subject of the discussion. Mr. Flather stated that he knew nothing about them.

The Secretary then turned to Mr. Ailes and asked him if he were not responsible for the publication of those articles. Mr. Ailes vigorously denied that he was, although he admitted that he had talked with a great many newspaper men who were at the bank from day to day, but that he had not inspired the newspaper statements referred to and was in no way responsible for them. The Secretary then said that he might be able to produce proof that Ailes had inspired said articles, and repeated his inquiry. Mr. Ailes then asked "What articles do you mean?" Secretary McAdoo then took the copies of the Tribune from his desk and handed them to Ailes and said: "These are the articles I refer to." Mr. Ailes looked them over slowly and then said: "I believe the statements contained in those articles are true." The Secretary then inquired whether he had not approved them as being true before their publication in the Tribune. Mr . Ailes reluctantly admitted that he had done so. I then said to

Mr. Ailes that the articles which he had approved as true were a tissue of falsehoods.

Mr. Ailes then said, referring to me, "When that man was appointed Assistant Secretary I rejoiced, but I have been kicking myself ever since that I should have done so."

Mr. Ailes's manner and statements becoming offensive, Secretary McAdoo, without moving from his chair, said to him in a firm manner that he would be damned if he would tolerate such behavior, or words to that effect, and that if Mr. Ailes persisted it would be necessary for the Secretary to ask him to leave the office.

After Mr. Ailes admitted that he had approved for publication the statement contained in the Tribune article the Secretary turned to Mr. Glover and said, "Mr. Glover, I am pleased to be able to acquit you of responsibility for the publication of the articles referred to."

The Secretary then rose from his chair to indicate that the interview was at an end, and Mr. Ailes and Mr. Flather walked out of the office, and a moment or two later Mr. Elliott and I went out, while Mr. Glover remained with the Secretary.

The statements in the bill of complaint that "the Defendant McAdoo became increasingly violent in his denunciations of the officers of the plaintiff bank," and that Secretary McAdoo arose from his chair and advanced menacingly toward said Ailes and in great anger shouted with a blasphemous oath, "I will order you from the office," and then, turning to said Glover, the Defendant McAdoo said, "Mr. Glover, you know what this means to the Riggs National Bank," are untrue.

IX. CONFIRMATION HEARING.

As to paragraph IX of the bill of complaint, I admit that my nomination to the office of Comptroller of the Currency was by the United States Senate referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency of that body, and that the vice presidents of the plaintiff bank, Flather and Ailes, appeared before that committee and opposed my confirmation. I was present during the hearing. I deny that I made any attack, vicious or otherwise, on said Ailes. I did state to the committee that said Ailes had admitted that he had seen and sanctioned the aforesaid untruthful attacks mate on the Treasury Department in the said articles published in the New York Tribuse on December 3 and 4, 1913.

I deny that before the committee reported favorably on my nomination, or at any other time, I was interrogated as to whether I would be fair and just in my administration of the office of Comptroller or that I fervently and solemnly assured said committee that I could and would fairly discharge the duties of the said office, " notwithstanding the hostility between him and the officers of the plaintiff bank." The fact is that one of the Senators in a courteous way asked me whether I had any feeling or prejudices that would prevent me from fairly and justly administering the duties of the office, and I truthfully replied that I had not.

Since entering upon the performance of the said office of Comptroller I have at all times tried to perform the duties of that office in a strictly just and impartial manner.

X. WITHDRAWAL OF GOVERNMENT DEPOSITS.

After the averments of Paragraph X the facts are set forth in the affidavit of the defendant, the Secretary of the Treasury, which I have read. My connection with the matter is correctly stated therein. In my reports attached to the Secretary's affidavit I stated to the Secretary the facts with reference to the plaintiff bank shown up to that time, which facts I then believed and now believe to be true.

XI. RED CROSS DEPOSITS.

The allegations contained in Article XI of the bill of complaint regarding the circumstances under which the Riggs National Bank ceased to be a depositary for the American Red Cross are not true. The facts are as followis:

While Assistant Secretary of the Treasury I was elected treasurer of the Red Cross by a resolution of the executive committee October 18, 1913. On December 10, 1913, at the annual meeting, I was again elected treasurer of the Red Cross for the ensuing year, and on December 9, 1914, at the annual meeting, was reelected treasurer for the ensuing year.

In the latter part of May, 1914, as treasurer of the Red Cross, I ascertained that the plaintiff bank, which at that time carried the principal portion of the accounts of the Red Cross was only allowing the society interest at the rate of $2 \%$ per annum on the major portion of its balances, although it was allowing $3 \%$ per annum on one particular Red Cross account whose balance at that time amounted to about $20 \%$ of the total of the Red Cross funds on deposit with plaintiff. Knowing that $3 \%$ interest was being generally paid by other leading banking institutions in Washington, I wrote to Gen. Davis, chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross, on May 29th, 1914, in regard to securing a better return upon the Red Cross deposits. This letter was as follows:
Gen. George W. Davis,
Chm. Central Committee American Red Cross, State, War, & Navy Building, Washington, D. U.
Dear General Davis: From memorandum of the treasurer's cash fund balance on hand May 25, 1914, received from Major Coope. it appears that the Red Cross Society has $$ 122,247.01$ with the Riggs National Bank, upon which only $2 \%$. per annum interest is being paid. I understand that the balance with the American Security and Trust Company is drawing $3 \%$ per annum interest. Perhaps you may recall my discussing this subject with you some little time ago, and I am under the impression that the suggestion was made that the executive committee would probably pass a resolution authorizing or directing the treasurer to require the payment of not less than $3 \%$ per annum interest instead of $2 \%$, from its several depositaries.

May I inquire whether any formal action was taken by the committee on this subject, and do you not think that the society should require payment of interest at the rate of not less than $3 \%$ ? There is no doubt about being able to get that rate from thoroughly strong representative banks. An increase of $1 \%$ would increase the income of the society about $$ 1,500$ per annum on the basis of the present balance.

Sincerely, yours,
(Signed)
Jno. Skelton Williams, Treasurer.

In response to this letter to the chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross, the executive committee passed a resolution requesting the treasurer to confer with local bankers with the view of ascertaining the best interest allowances obtainable from the Washington banks and trust companies on deposits of Red Cross funds. Thereupon, letters were addressed to nine of the principal banks and trust companies in Washington, including the plaintiff, inviting them to make their best offers as to interest on both active and inactive accounts of the Red Cross. Nine replies were received from as many banks and trust companies. The offers ranged from $2 \%$ to $35 \%$. The highest bidders were another large national bank, which offered to pay $3 \frac{1}{8} \%$ on active account and $35 \%$ on the inactive account of the Red Cross, and a large local trust company, which offered to pay $3 \%$ on the active account and $3 \frac{1}{4} \%$ on the inactive account. These bids came in during the month of June, but were not formally submitted to the Red Cross committee on acoount of the absence from the city of important members of the committee, including the chairman.

Soon after the outbreak of the European war in August as treasurer I wrote a letter suggesting to the chairman of the Red Cross the desirability of calling upon the local depositaries to provide collateral security for the Red Cross deposits. I felt that these funds represented a particularly sacred trust and that it would be especially unfortunate if anything should happen to tie them up or to prevent their payment at that time by the banks holding them, in view of the urgent need for these deposits for the relief work which the Red Cross so promptly took up in connection with the European war. Pursuant to this suggestion of the treasurer, on August 21, 1914, the executive committee of the Red Cross passed a resolution requiring the treasurer to obtain from local banks or trust companies in which

Red Cross funds should be deposited interest at the rate of not less than $3 \%$ per annum on daily balances, and also directing the treasurer to call upon the depositaries of Red Cross funds to deposit collateral securities for the protection of the balances placed with such banks or trust companies.

Under date of September 26th, 1914, I wrote to Chairman Davis of the central committee a letter advising him that the plaintiff had refused to put up security for the Red Cross funds. In the same letter I reported to Chairman Davis that another certain national bank of Washington, the next largest national bank in the city to the Riggs, and whose offer in the matter of interest on deposits was more favorable to the Red Cross than that of any other bank or trust company, had offered aIso to provide satisfactory collateral security against deposits and at the same time to allow more favorable interest rates on these deposits than any of the other banks which had been invited to submit offers, namely, $3 \frac{1}{2} \%$ per annum interest on the inactive balance and $3 \%$ per annum on the active balance.

On October 1, 1914, the executive committee of the Red Cross adopted a resolution designating the national bank making the favorable offer above referred to as a depositary for Red Cross funds.

By this arrangement the Red Cross receives $3 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum interest on its inactive balances and 3 per cent on its active balances, and at the same time gets collateral security for the money held locally on deposit. Although the plaintiff bank had allowed interest at 3 per cent per annum on a certain portion of the Red Cross funds subsequent to April 1, 1913, it had only allowed 2 per cent per annum interest for the entire period prior thereto during which it had been a Red Cross depositary, covering several years.

The statement in the plaintiff's bill that I as treasurer of the Red Cross at any time solicited and recommended the acceptance of a certain offer of $3 \frac{1}{8} \%$ by a certain local national bank on active accounts and of $34 \%$ from a certain local trust company on the inactive account of the Red Cross is untrue.
The deposits which the Red Cross had with the plaintiff bank were not summarily withdrawn in the midst of the European war crisis, but were only checked out as needed for use in the work of the Society.

The average balance carried by the Red Cross with plaintiff during the six months ending June 30, 1914, was $$ 118,972$. On July 1, 1914, it was $$ 107,044$. On August 1, 1914, it was $$ 101,151$.

For the three months during which financial conditions were most unsettled, August, September, and October, the Red Cross balance with the plaintiff bank averaged: For August, $$ 114,981$; for September, $$ 190,883$; and for October, $$ 148,757$.

The funds were withdrawn beginning in October and were not entirely withdrawn until January, 1915.

I deny that I at any time made efforts to withdraw said Red Cross account from the plaintiff bank save for the purpose of securing for said Red Cross the most favorable interest upon and a greater protection for its deposits.

XII. CALLS FOR REPORTS AND ASSESSMENT OF PENALTY.

As to paragraph XII of the bill of complaint.
On June 9, 1914, as Comptroller of the Currency I called upon plaintiff bank for a special report regarding certain matters which, in my judgment, were necessary to a full and complete knowledge of the plaintiff's condition; the plaintiff bank at first delayed making the special report, and then filed an incomplete report. In compelling the filing of said report and the amendment thereto in order to cover the matters actually asked for, I was forced to and did write the plaintiff bank a number of letters. In calling for further reports which in my judgment were necessary to a full and complete knowledge of the plaintiff's condition, between said June 9, 1914, and the 5th day of April, 1915, I wrote the plaintiff bank a number of letters, some making original calls for special reports and others renewing the calls which had not been obeyed either in whole or in part by the plaintiff bank.

I deny that in so doing I asserted extraordinary, unauthorized, or unlawful inquisitorial or visitatorial powers, or that said calls for reports were unlawful, excessive, or arbitrary; that any of my communications was insulting or insolent under the circumstances disclosed, or contained false imputations against the veracity and integrity of any of the plaintiff's officers or employees; that I distorted facts or emasculated evidence, or condemned any legitimate transactions; or that I composed and published libelous statements respecting plaintiff bank or any of its officers or employees.

The first report so called for was unreasonably delayed by the plaintiff bank. When filed it was incomplete and a further report had to be called for to furnish the matter covered by the original call. In other instances the reports were delayed. The reports and the letters with reference thereto of the plaintiff bank and its officers at times were evasive, and in some instances contained what I believe were false statements. In order to get at the facts I was compelled to frequently renew my calls for reports and to state them in different ways and sometimes by propounding interrogatories in order to avoid, if possible, the evasions, and to have explained, if possible, the contradictions and false statements made.

When certain false statements were discovered in the said special reports and letters I called attention of the plaintiff bank thereto, and when certain illegal and ultra vires practices were disclosed by these reports I condemned the same in emphatic and vigorous terms.

The law provides that a national bank which fails to make and transmit a special report within five days after the receipt of a request therefor from the Comptroller shall be subject to a penalty of $$ 100$ for each day thereafter when said penalty has been assessed by the Comptroller of the Currency.

In a number of instances where the special report was delayed beyond the lawful period I called the attention of the plaintiff bank to the fact that by reason of its delay it was subjecting itself to liability for the penalty fixed by statute, but in the one instance only where the plaintiff bank has absolutely declined to furnish the report called for, namely, that called for on January 22, 1915, have I formally assessed a fine.

XIII TO XVI. SPECLAL REPORTS.

As to paragraphs XIII to XVI of the bill of complaint-
The call of June 9, 1914, to the plaintiff bank for a special report was made under the following circumstances:

In May, 1914, Examiner Trimble, who had recently been appointed to duty in Washington, made his first examination of plaintiff. During that examination he reported to me that the cashier and the vice president, Flather, had informed him that the real estate business of the bank was handled through them, that they made loans on real estate security, the business aggregating about $$ 500,000$ per year, and that the commissions, amounting to about $$ 5,000$ per year, were retained by and divided equally between them; and that all profits from the purchase and sale of securities on the Washington Stock Exchange went to the president and vice president of the bank, who held seats on that exchange; that a large portion of the loans of the plaintiff bank were secured by stocks and bonds, some of which were purchased through Vice President W. J. Flather of the bank, the commissions for which as aforesaid went to the personal benefit of himself and the president of the bank; that the examiner had prepared a list of loans of this class of $$ 5,000$ or over, and had sent his assistant to the bank to ascertain and note from the latter's books the balances carried by such borrowers, and that the officers of the bank had positively declined to permit the assistant to note upon his list the information desired.

I was also aware that plaintiff carried a comparatively small amount of commercial loans; that the bank had been charged by examiners with carrying on an extensive business in negotiating loans on real estate on commission and a stock-brokerage business.

I deemed it necessary, to a complete and full knowledge of the condition of the bank, to ascertain whether it was still engaging and had engaged in a stockbrokerage business and in the business of making real estate loans on commission; whether such commissions, even though the businesses were ultra vires, were received by the bank itself or had been collected and appropriated to their personal use by the bank's officers and were yet due to the bank from its officers; and whether the funds of the bank had been and were being used for legitimate loans to customers upon commercial paper or otherwise or were being used for the purpose of carrying securities purchased through the plaintiff's officers, on which the latter personally profited, and which purchasers were merely engaged in stock speculation through the bank and were not legitimate depositors thereof.
Such a report would tend to show the condition of the bank; it would show whether the bank had earned commissions in these businesses, which had been retained by its officers and which the bank was entitled to recover. It would also show whether the bank was engaging in ultra vires businesses and whether or not it was in position to fulfill its commercial functions in the community.

Accordingly, on June 9, I called upon the plaintiff for a special report showing a list of all borrowers as of May 18,1914 , of $$ 5,000$ or more with the collateral attached and of the statements of the average deposit balances of such borrowers, showing also to what extent commissions had been charged by the bank's officers on such collateral, and whether such commissions went to the personal benefit of the officer or to the bank; and similar information was called for as to commissions on real estate loans negotiated by the bank's officers during the preceding year.

On June 10 the plaintiff bank acknowledged receipt of said call and said that a detailed reply would be sent as soon as practicable, but later, on June 12, declined to furnish the report called for until the request was submitted to the board of directors at a special meeting which had been called for the 18th instant.

On June 13 I wrote the bank that under the law the action of its directors was not necessary in connection with bank reports and that the bank's expressed intention of waiting for the action of its directors was not satisfactory. I thought it was my duty as Comptroller to maintain the law and not permit the establishment of a precedent tending to greatly weaken the powers of the office.

If in each case a bank should take the position that it would not file a report without the formal approval of its directors, the administration of the affairs of the Comptroller's office would be greatly embarrassed and delayed and the safety of stockholders and depositors seriously imperiled. For this reason I called the attention of the plaintiff in said letter to sections 5211 and 5213 , which fixed the time within which special reports should be filed. There then ensued [^26]several letters, the bank refusing to make the special report until authorized by its directors, and I again calling attention to the fact that the statute was imperative and that the plaintiff was subjecting itself to liability thereon. Finally, on June 18, the plaintiff bank wrote that its directors had authorized the furnishing of the special report called for. A report was filed on June 22, but did not fully cover the call. On June 23 I renewed my call for that part of the report which had not been transmitted, and the same was filed on July 14.

The said reports and letters with respect thereto, filed on June 18, June 22, and July 14, state that during its entire existence no one of the plaintiff's officers had ever received a cent for his personal profit growing out of any of the stock brokerage or real estate businesses conducted by the plaintiff bank or its officers or had ever claimed or intended to claim any of the commissions earned thereby. These statements are directly opposed to the affirmative statements earlier made by Vice President Flather and the cashier of the plaintiff bank that all profits from these transactions were retained by the officers individually.

In the course of his letter of June 18, 1914, the president of the bank undertook to outline the manner in which the stock brokerage and real estate loan businesses had been conducted, and mentioned the accounts of Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather, heretofore described. He stated that whether the officers of the bank were entitled to retain commissions going into that account was not material, but added that no one of them had ever claimed or intended to claim any part thereof.

The said accounts at that time showed credits in the sum of $$ 503$ cash and also real estate notes of the aggregate value of $$ 38,000$ and stocks worth about $$ 11,000$. In order to ascertain the true condition of the bank, it became and was necessary to know whether this account represented money and property actually belonging to the bank or to the individual officers in whose names it stood.

When the letter of the plaintiff bank of June 18 showed the discrepancy between the oral statement of the officers of the bank and the written report of its president as to the beneficiaries of the profits credited to the accounts of Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather I became further confirmed in my view that any evidence tending to show the actual ownership of the said funds would throw light upon the condition of the bank, particularly with respect to whether or not the bank was entitled to recover from its officers the credits of such accounts. Therefore on June 19 I called for a special report upon the existence of private telegraph lines in Riggs Bank connecting it with stock-brokerage houses, including the expense thereof to the plaintiff bank or by whom the expense was borne, which report was filed on June 22, 1914, as set forth in paragraph XIV.

Such a report would tend to show whether or not the stockbrokerage business was conducted by or in the name of or at the expense of the plaintiff bank and thus to show the ownership of the said funds, and would also throw light upon whether the bank was then engaged in the ultra vires business of buying and selling stocks and securities on commission, a matter clearly relating to its condition.

In endeavoring to ascertain the true ownership of the funds in said Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather accounts, as bearing upon the condition of the bank, I called upon the plaintiff bank and its officers to furnish certain special reports with reference thereto, and particularly to state the facts of the transactions represented in such accounts. While the officers of the bank asserted that the business represented by said two accounts had been carried on by them as individuals, they refused to give an unequivocal answer as to the ownership of said fund. On the contrary, they replied, if at all, that while the fund might technically and from a purely legal standpoint be said to belong to the officers in whose names it stood upon the books of the bank, yet none of the officers had ever claimed or intended to claim any personal benefit therefrom, and none of them had actually received any personal benefit therefrom.

Thereupon, and in a further effort to ascertain the true ownership of said fund, on July 30, 1914, I called upon the plaintiff bank to make a special report stating to whom the said fund, then to the credit of Flather & Flather, really belonged, and this question the officers of the bank declined to answer on the ground that it was a question of law to which they could hardly be expected to give an opinion under oath.

Again, on August 18, 1914, I asked whether the said money belonged to the Riggs National Bank or to some other person than to the Riggs National Bank, and the plaintiff bank by its officers again replied that these were questions of law about which differences of opinion might be entertained, and which could therefore only be determined judicially.

It seemed to me a remarkable state of affairs as bearing on the condition of the bank when it had in its possession property of so great a value and was unable to state as a matter of fact whether that fund belongs to the bank itself or to its officers as individuals. Until that fact was determined it was impossible to know the condition of the bank as affected by that transaction.

Upon all the information available, I believe and now aver that the said fund is and always has been the property of the plaintiff bank, and that ve plaintifi's refusals to specifically answer the questions relating to its ownership are due to the fact that the said fund has been accumulated in the performance by the bank of ultra vires businesses.

I aver that all of the reports mentioned in Paragraphs XIII to XVI have been necessary to a full and complete knowledge of the condition of the bank, and have been called for by me for that purpose only and in the best exercise of my judgment.

While, as I have already said, I believe that all of the assets in the Flather & Flather account rightfully belonged to the plaintiff bank, the fact is that at the time of my first call for special reports on June 9, 1914, such assets. stood on the books of the bank in the name of Messrs. Flather & Flather. These assets consisted of a number of promissory notes secured by real estate amounting in the aggregate to $$ 38,100$; of a small account of cash, and of stocks in three corporations, the total value being more than $$ 50,000$.

Since June 9, 1914, all of said real estate notes have apparently been sold, and on November 13, 1914, the cash balance of the account was $$ 39,992$. Since November 13, 1914, there have been charged off against the said account bad loans of the plaintiff bank, aggregating $$ 40,797.17$. In this way practically all of the assets of the account, except the stocks, have been transferred to the plaintiff bank.

XVII AND XVIII. REPORTS-INTERROGATORIES.

Plaintiff bank has not furnished every special report lawfully and properly called for by me as Comptroller. I am informed and aver that my power as Comptroller to call for special reports is not limited to reports relating to the financial condition of a national bank, but that such power extends to the matters before described.

I deny that in my calls for special reports or in any other way I used my office as Comptroller with intent to impair or destroy the plaintiff bank.

It is true that in three instances in calling for special report from the plaintiff bank I propounded interrogatories to be answered by each of its four principal officers; as before explained, this was done because reports theretofore made had been evasive and had not fully stated the facts, and the interrogatories were prepared in an effort to secure a full disclosure of all the facts from the plaintiff bank.

It is true that the interrogatories propounded in the call of September 24,1914 , were divided into three classes, and that the plaintiff bank and its officers were directed to make the replies to one class within five days, to the second class within ten days, and to the third class within fifteen days; this amounted in substance to calls for three separate reports.

I deny that it was a physical impossibility to file the said special reports within the time fixed or that the same could not have been reasonably furnished within the time fixed.

XIX. LOANS TO TREASURY OFFICIALS.

As to Paragraph XIX of the bill:
I admit that on November 24, 1914, December 19, 1914, and December 22, 1914, I called on the plaintiff bank for a special report of all loans made by it, directly or indirectly, to Secretaries of the Treasury, Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury, Comptrollers of the Currency, and national-bank examiners, within ten years past; for a supplemental special report showing all such loans made by the bank since its organization in 1896; and for a special report of all loans made to employees of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. The plaintiff bank subsequently filed the special reports so called for.

In my judgment said special reports were necessary to obtain a full and complete knowledge of the condition of the plaintiff bank, and particularly of its management and personnel.

It appeared from an examination of the reports of the bank examiners and the letters of criticism written by preceding Comptrollers prior to the time when the writing of such letters was suspended, and also from the special reports called for by me, that the plaintiff bank had committed many ultra vires acts and violated many of the provisions of the national banking laws; in its letters and special reports it had asserted that many of these ultra vires acts were made known to my predecessors, and that in reply to letters of criticism from such predecessors some officer of the bank had called upon the Treasury officials and explained the reasons for the commission of the said ultra vires and unlawful acts by it, and that the Treasury officials were apparently satisfied with said explanations. Certain o fthese ultra vires and unlawful acts, particularly in dealing in stocks and bonds and the negotiating of real estate loans, continued down to and beyond the first call made by me for a special report.

A list of said loans to Secretaries, Assistant Secretaries, Comptrollers, and bank examiners, as before stated, is made Exhibit E hereto.

XX. PAPER ELIGIBLE AS BASIS FOR EMERGENCY CURRENCY AND FOR REDISCOUNT UNDER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM.

The allegations of Paragraph XX of the bill refer to calls made by me for special reports as to the commercial paper and securities of the plaintiff bank which could be offered by it as the basis for emergency currency under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act, and also calls for schedule of commercial paper eligible for rediscount under the Federal reserve system.

In my judgment the said reports and the information called for therein were necessary to a full knowledge of plaintiff's condition. While the reports were not filed promptly, inasmuch as they were ultimately filed, I have, as before stated, no intention of assessing any penalty thereon.

The facts and circumstances in respect to said calls are as follows;
At the outbreak of the European war the Secretary of the Treasury made arrangements to make immediately available to the banks of the United States, under the provisions of the Aldrich-Vreeland Act, several hundred million dollars of emergency currency. The total amount of such currency so issued, in an exceedingly short space of time, amounted in the aggregate to more than $$ 380,000,000$, and it is believed that the expeditious issuance of this emergency currency stemmed and prevented a panic which might have been unparalleled in its ruinous effects.

In order to supply the emergency currency referred to and meet the demands of the banks the Bureau of Engraving and Printing was forced to work 24 hours a day, and even then many banks.which had deposited acceptable securities under the terms of the AldrichVreeland Act to secure the notes for which they had applied were required to wait many days before the notes to which they were entitled could be printed and furnished them. Telegraphic orders were coming into the department from all parts of the country, and my office was doing its utmost to meet these demands and relieve the necessities of the banks to the fullest extent and as quickly as possible.

While these urgent demands for circulating notes were at the highest, on or about August 6th, an order was received from the plaintiff to expedite the delivery to it of $$ 1,000,000$ of additional currency. The records of the office showed that there was already on hand available for the use of the bank approximately $$ 200,000$ of notes. These notes on hand, from the rate at which the bank had used the currency during the prior 12 months, would have been sufficient to supply the bank for about 3 months, for all purposes except for any new notes which it might require under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act. Therefore I thought it proper to ascertain whether the plaintiff had securities available which it could put up as a basis for the issuance to it of $$ 1,000,000$ of additional notes before giving its order precedence over orders which had been received from other banks who not only had securities available for but who had, in many cases, already deposited with their respective currency associations the securities in anticipation of receiving the notes.

Therefore, on August 10, 1914, I called upon the plaintiff bank for a list of all securities, including commercial paper owned by it upon which additional currency could properly be issued under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act. On August 15th the plaintiff submitted what was claimed to be a schedule of commercial paper owned by it and on hand as of August 6, 1914; also a list-of all securities owned by and on hand as of August 10th which it regarded as the class of securities upon which additional currency could properly be issued under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act.

This list included a large amount of paper which was obviously and clearly not commercial paper or the class of paper contemplated by the Aldrich-Vreeland Act; it embraced accommodation notes and real estate notes.

Thereupon on August 18th, I wrote asking the plaintiff bank whether this list included "only notes representing actual commercial transactions" and for other information with respect to any securities which it might have as collateral for such notes. This information was not then furnished in response to said letter.

The Federal Reserve System was inaugurated on November 16, 1914. It was believed that comparatively few further requests made by banks generally for the issuance of emergency currency under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act would be granted, because under the new system the banks might obtain additional funds when needed by rediscounting their commercial paper with the reserve banks and the currency associations through which the emergency currency was issued were soon to be dissolved. The plaintiff bank's statement of condition as of October 31, 1914, had showed that about $75 \%$ of its total loans and discounts were made upon the security of stocks and bonds, which loans were not discountable at the Federal Reserve Bank. I therefore thought it desirable to ascertain just what amount of commercial paper eligible for rediscount was owned by the plaintiff. I thereupon enclosed to the plaintiff a copy of the regulations of the Federal Reserve Board, describing the class of paper eligible for rediscount, and called upon it for a schedule or special report showing the amount of such paper owned by it.

On November 28th the plaintiff forwarded a schedule of paper beld by it as of October 31, 1914, which the bank said it had regarded as commercial paper eligible for rediscount with the Federal reserve bank prior to the promulgation of the circular defining such paper. The plaintiff stated that it was unable to assert that the paper did in fact arise out of actual commercial transactions or that it met the requirements of the act, and that the only way it could find out such facts was to communicate with the makers of the paper. I did not feel that it was necessary to ask this to be done at that time, and wrote the bank that this office would not ask it to take this step, but left the decision as to that course to its board of directors.

XXI. REPORT ON BORROWED BONDS.

The plaintiff's report of condition as of October 31, 1914, showed $$ 900,000$ of United States bonds borrowed; said report also showed $$ 400,000$ on special deposit with the National City Bank of New York, which sum was counted as part of the reserve of the plaintiff bank.

I called for a special report from the bank which would show the sharacter of the loan of said bonds and whether there was any relationship between said loan and said deposit of $$ 400,000$. Such information would clearly relate to the condition of the bank with respect both to said bonds and to said deposit, and whether or not the said $$ 400,000$ could properly be classed as a portion of the bank's reserve or whether it was tied up as security for the bonds borrowed.

XXII. DIRECTORS" OATHS.

As to paragraph XXII of the bill, it is true that on November 23, 1914, I called upon the plaintiff bank for a special report on the oaths of the plaintiff's directors, and that I stated that I had reason to believe that in some cases the oaths had been violated. The returns made to this call justified my belief, and showed that at least one of the directors for a period of three years past was disqualified, and that during each year he had falsely made oath that he owned ten shares of stock free and unpledged for debt, when in fact throughout that period all his stock had been pledged as security for debt. The facts with respect to this call and the reports in response thereto are more fully set forth in paragraph 7 hereof.

Whether the directors of a national bank are qualified or disqualified clearly bears upon the condition of the bank.

xxiII.

I deny every allegation of Paragraph XXIII of the bill.
XXIV. LASSITER INCIDENT.

As to the averments of Paragraph XXIV, I admit that on September 3d, 1914, plaintiff's cashier, Henry H. Flather, called at my office and asked if it would be satisfactory if a certain special report called for by me be sworn to by the cashier. I replied that I would prefer to have all the officers sign the report, as requested in the formal call.

The rest of said paragraph is immaterial to the matters in issue and to the relief sought, but the facts are as follows:

A day or two earlier Mr. R. W. Lassiter had told me of an interview between himself and said Cashier Flather at the plaintiff's bank, occurring on August 31st, in which he said that when Lassiter had given my name as a reference plaintiff's cashier had been exceedingly rude and offensive to him.

During this call of Cashier Flather I mentioned the said incident, and said Flather stated that he would like to explain it. I requested him to wait until Mr. Lassiter could be present.

In the talk which ensued after Mr. Lassiter's arrival, the said Flather questioned the correctness of the statement made by Mr. Lassiter. I stated that I thought Mr. Lassiter's statement was reliable, and that as to the said Flather I had evidence in my possession of the untruthfulness of statements made by the said Flather.
In making that statement I had reference to the report of Examiner Trimble to me (which had then been reduced to the form of an affidavit), in which he said that the said Flather had claimed that the funds in the Flather & Flather account belonged to himself and his brother, and were retained and divided by them, while in later sworn statements of the said Flather he had stated that he neither claimed nor intended to claim for his personal benefit any of said funds. It is true that in the course of the conversation, and referring to said Flather & Flather accounts, I stated that the plaintiff bank had evaded stating to whom that fund, amounting to $$ 40,000$, belonged. The statement theretofore given to me by said Bank Examiner Trimble is covered in his affidavit filed herewith.

xxv to xxyiil. oral examination of plaintifr's officers.

As to Paragraphs XXV, XXVI, XXVII, and XXVIII of the bill this defendant says the semiannual examination of the plaintiff bank was begun on November 13, 1914, but the bulk of the examination was completed within the period of a weak or ten days.

However, in view of the many irregular and unlawful acts already shown by the special reports and earlier examinations of the plaintiff bank to have been committed, and in order to obtain a full knowledge of its condition, both with reference to its finances and its management and the character of men who had managed its affairs since its organization and who were still in control of its affairs, I directed the bank examiners to make a full examination into certain additional matters, and because of the evasive and unsatisfactory character of the special reports, including the answers to specific interrogatories, I asked the said examiners to orally interrogate the officers of the bank with reference to certain matters relating to the condition of the finances and management of the institution. For this purpose and as bearing on the condition of the bank, the examiners on the 6th, 11th, and 15th days of January orally examined the officers of the plaintiff bank with respect to matters which in their judgment and in my judgment related to the condition of the bank with respect to its finances and management.

The plaintiff bank did furnish to the bank examiner one of the printed copies of certain of the correspondence between it and this defendant, who gave it to me. I deny that I'exhibited said printed copy to anyone not properly entitled to see the same.

The bank had refused to furnish from its books and records the information asked for in the call of January 22. Some of its answers to other calls and to questions put by the bank examiner had been found to be untrue and contradictory. I felt it necessary that a further investigation should be made to determine the true facts in these matters relating to the condition and practices of the plaintiff bank; and as the destruction or mutilation of its records might make this impossible, on February 26, 1915, I notified the plaintiff bank not to destroy any of its correspondence or records, and called upon it for a report as to whether it had, since May 1, 1914, destroyed any such correspondence or records.

XXIX AND XXXI. REFUSAL TO MAKE REPORT AS TO LOANS TO OFFICERSRESULTING IN ASSESSMENT OF PENALTY.
As to Paragraphs XXIX and XXXI of the bill:
It is true that on January 14 and on January 22, 1915, I called for special reports, the said call of January 22 being set forth in Paragraph XXIX.

Prior to this time it had been shown to me, from the examiners' reports and the special reports made by the plaintiff bank and from the examination of its officers by the national bank examiner, that at various times, particularly in recent years, the officers and directors of the bank had borrowed from it large sums of money by loans, in May, 1913, the loans amounting to $$ 761,000$; at the same time I had learned that at least two of the officers of the bank at that time were borrowing additionally from the bank some $$ 41,000$, which was concealed upon the books of the bank, being represented by notes given by persons who had signed the notes at the request of said officers, and who had no personal interest in the loans or the collateral deposited therewith.

It had also been shown that throughout the plaintiff bank's entire history it had engaged in ultra vires and unlawful businesses, through the persistence of its managing officers, and that while for a certain portion of the time the businesses were claimed to be done by such officers as individuals, yet the bank's money had been constantly used in connection therewith and the bank had derived a large mart of the profits therefrom.

It therefore became necessary, in iny judgment as Comptroller, in order to show the true condition of the bank, and particularly as to its management, to know whether or not the officers of the plaintiff bank had borrowed its moneys in large sums for their own use and whether such borrowings, if any, had been made openly and directly in their own names, or whether the officers had pursued the practice of using "dummy" notes of irresponsible and subordinate clerks or strangers for the purpose of concealing their borrowings, and whether such "dummy" loans had concealed excess borrowings on the part of said officers; and whether on all of such loans the plaintiff bank had collected the proper amount of interest from its officers, or whether upon all the facts interest was still due plaintiff for them.

This information would throw light upon the present and past condition, management, and practices of the plaintiff bank and its officers and thus show the condition of the bank as to its personnel and management. If it should appear from such report that through a succession of years the moneys of the bank had been used by the plaintiff's officers or their families in excessive loans to themselves or in improper or concealed loans to themselves for speculative purposes or for practices which were unlawful and ultra vires the powers of the bank, it would be my duty to lay the entire matter before the directors of the bank for their appropriate action with respect to its officers, especially in view of the fact that the plaintiff's officers had testified under oath before the bank examiner as to the particular "dummy" loans heretofore mentioned that the bank's directors did not know its officers were getting the proceeds thereof.

Thereupon, on January 22, 1915, I called on the plaintiff bank for a special report showing all direct loans made by the bank since its organization to its principal officers and the members of their families, and all indirect or "dummy" or concealed loans made diring the same period for the benefit of the said officers or any of them, or where any of said officers got the proceeds of any of said notes.

In reply thereto the plaintiff bank, on February 1, 1915, stated that there was at that date no direct or indirect loan to any of said officers of the bank, and that there was but one loan to any member of the family of an officer, which loan was for the personal benefit of the maker of the note and was fully described, but the plaintiff positively refused to make the special report called for in said letter of January 22, but stated in said letter that its books were subject to the examiner's call at any time.

Thereupon, on February 11, 1915, the Deputy Comptroller repeated the said call and notified the plaintiff that for its refusal to furnish the said report it was liable to the penalty in accordance with sections 5211 and 5213, R. S.

Thereafter, on March 5, the national-bank examiner visited the plaintiff bank and undertook to examine its president, vice president, and cashier under oath with respect to the direct and indirect loans since the organization of the bank, and each of said officers positively declined to answer his questions asked with respect thereto.

It seemed impossible for the said examiner to obtain the desired information from the books of the banks by himself, without the assistance of the officers and clerks, because, as they had already. testified, the books alone would not disclose the "dummy" character of the notes, but that could be ascertained only from the testimony or memory of the several officers and clerks.

On March 9, 1915, I issued a call for the special report showing, among other things, all items of interest collected by the plaintiff bank from its principal officers on money borrowed for or on their account from said bank during the past five years, on direct, indirect, or "dummy" loans. This information was desired to show the condition of the bank and the sums of money, if any, which it might still be rightfully entitled to collect from its officers.

The plaintiff's officers replied on March 13, 1915, stating that all loans made to any of them had been repaid, and with rates of interest not less than the minimum rate which had been charged by them on all loans.

The plaintiff bank and its officers still declining to furnish the said report called for in letters of January 22 and February 11, on March 30,1915 , I assessed a penalty of $$ 100$ per day from February 8,1915 , to and including March 30,1915 , in accordance with sections 5211 and 5213 of the Revised Statutes, and requested the plaintiff to pay said penalty.

XXX. CALL FOR BY-LAWS.

On March 30, 1915, the Deputy Comptroller of the Currency called on the plaintiff to furnish a copy of its by-laws in effect on that date and to state what amendments had been made during the past year, and such call was promptly and fully complied with.

XXXII, XXXIV, AND XXXV. COLLECTION OF PENALTY.

As to Paragraphs XXXII, XXXIV, and XXXV of the bill, I admit that on March 31, 1915, the local national-bank examiner and his assistant delivered to the president of the bank my letter of March 30, 1915, and requested the payment of the penalties therein assessed, but that the plaintiff bank refused to pay the same; that thereafter the defendant, the Treasurer of the United States, refused on April 1,1915 , to pay to the plaintiff the sum of $$ 5,000$, the interest upon one million dollars of United States bonds then on deposit by the plaintiff bank with the Treasurer of the United States to secure its currency.
I again deny that my said acts were the result of any malice or ill will towards the plaintiff bank, or that they were in violation of my lawful powers and duties. In my judgment the report called for in said letter of January 22 was necessary to a full knowledge of the condition of the bank, and upon the continued refusal of the plaintiff bank to make the said report it became my duty, as Comptroller, to endeavor to enforce the law in that respect.

I deny that the plaintiff bank since its organization has strictly complied with every requirement of law respecting the making of each and all of the general and special reports as required by said sections 5211 and 5212 of the Revised Statutes. On the contrary, in addition to the allegations above made in this respect, in numerous instances the plaintiff bank has been guilty of gross negligence and delay in filing said reports, particularly the reports called for in section 5212 , to be filed within ten days after the declaration of any dividend. An examination of the said reports shows that from September 22, 1909, to March 8, 1915, the plaintiff bank has filed twelve dividend reports; that none of them was filed within the ten days specified by law; and that the delay beyond such lawful period ranged from four to fifty-four days.

XXXIII. CROCKER BOND DEAL-APPROFAL OF PLAINTIFF BANK AS RESERVE AGENT.

Paragraph XXXIII of the bill refers to the Crocker National Bank transaction already mentioned, and the light thrown by it on the true ownership of the commissions claimed in the Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather accounts.

In February, 1908, there had been credited to Glover & Flather items aggregating $$ 56,918.54$, called "commission and profits from the sale of United States $4 \%$ bonds." The examiners in interrogating the officers of the plaintiff bank about these items were informed by Vice President Ailes, in the presence of President Glover and Vice President Flather and Cashier Flather, that in the year 1907 the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco had requested Vice President Ailes, of the plaintiff bank, to sell for it certain United States bonds, and that said Ailes had sold the bonds to the National City Bank of New York; that several months later the National City Bank resold the said bonds at a profit of over $$ 100,000$; that the latter bank had offered the said Ailes a commission of one-eighth per cent for the sale of said bonds, but its officers, "feeling pretty good over the transaction," had finally offered to divide the profits and that was done; and that the said items in the Glover & Flather account represented half the profits realized from the sale of these bonds. On being further questioned as to the ownership of this profit and the reason for crediting the same to the Glover & Flather account, said Ailes asserted that plaintiff bank had no interest whatever and had assumed no liability in the transaction, and that the transaction was conducted solely by the National City Bank. Said Ailes also stated that when the profit was credited to the Glover & Flather account, he understood that Messrs. Glover and Flather could do what they pleased with it, but that he thought they were "just a little bit too high class to take it " personally.

Some time after this examination I obtained copies from the National City Bank of the correspondence between it and the plaintiff bank with reference to this transaction. This correspondence showed that the bonds were carried by the National City Bank in a joint account with plaintiff bank, and that the understanding between said banks was that each was to share equally in the profits and losses resulting from the sale of the said bonds. Copies of the testimony of the said Ailes in this connection and of said correspondence are made Exhibit H hereto.

After obtaining this information I .wrote the letter of April 5, 1915, referred to in Faragraph XXXIII and directed that my letter be read to the board of directors and that there be laid before the said directors the stenographic report of the examination of the said Ailes before referred to.
My object in so doing was to acquaint all of the directors of the plaintiff bank with the actual facts and with the accounts of Glover and Flather and Flather and Flather and the transactions entering into these accounts. One of the directors present at the oral examination of the bank's officers had stated that he had had no knowledge and in his opinion none of the other directors had had knowledge of these commission accounts prior to the first call made by me for special reports.

APPROVAL OF PLAINTIFF AS RESERVE AGENT.

The concluding paragraph of my said letter of April 5, 1915, is as follows:

Meanwhile, in view of the unsatisfactory and dangerous conditions which have come to light as a result of the investigation of your bank by this office and the national bank examiner, and in view of the unreliability of statements made by your officers, under oath or otherwise, and your long-continued defiance of the law and disregard of the instructions of this office, you are hereby notified that the Comptroller of the Currency will, until further notice, refuse to approve the Riggs National Bank as a depositary for the reserves of other national banks.

Under the present law a bank in a town or city other than socalled reserve cities must keep an amount equal to 12 per cent of its deposits on hand as a reserve; five-twelfths of this reserve may be kept in national banks in one of the so-called reserve cities, among which is Washington. In each instance the designation of a particular bank as depositary for the reserve of another bank is under the statute subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency.

The act of approving a reserve agent is one vested by law in the judgment and discretion of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the theory of the statute is that such deposits in national banks in reserve cities shall be liquid or the equivalent of cash. In approving such reserve depositaries it is the duty of the comptroller to consider not only the safety of the depository and of the depositing bank, but also the safety of the entire national-bank system.

On April 5 I knew that the plaintiff bank was and had been the reserve agent for a large number of country banks, or banks situated in other than reserve and central reserve cities, and that said country banks had as part of their reserve deposits with plaintiff several hundred thousand dollars.

The figures show that these banks numbered 82 and that their deposits amounted to slightly over $$ 400,000$.

In its last regular report showing its condition, as of March 4, 1915, the plaintiff showed eligible for rediscount under the Federal Reserve System assets of approximately $$ 490,000$, which was but little more than the average balances of reserves kept by other banks with plaintiff.

I regarded the condition of the plaintiff as distinctly unsatisfactory with respect to its commercial paper and assets which were eligible for rediscount. The bank was not fulfilling its proper function as a commercial institution, but was using its assets largely in loaning upon stocks and bonds and in conducting a stock-brokerage business.

At that time approximately 75 per cent of all its loans were of this class, which was a much larger percentage than the average of such loans made by other national banks in Washington and throughout the country.

The table filed as Exhibit "F" to the affidavit of the defendant McAdoo, herein, shows the following figures with respect to the proportion on June 30, 1914, of loans of this character in the plaintiff and other national banks:

Loans made on stocks, securities, etc.: Per cent.

Average all national banks throughout the United States_-....- 37. 4.8

To show more specifically the condition of the plaintiff in this respect, it appears from special reports made by it that in May, 1914, its loans and discounts amounted to $$ 7,746,108.52$. Of these, loans aggregating $$ 5,751,798.44$ were secured upon stocks and securities; and of these stock loans $$ 3,642,699$ were to persons having aggregate deposits of only $$ 24,567.16$.

The extent to which the funds of the bank are now and have been ioaned to a comparatively few borrowers is further shown by Exhibit J, which gives a list of some twenty-four borrowers to whom the bank was lending as of the date of the May, 1914, examination, $$ 1,904,417$.

It appears that these loans, or the loans of which these are the renewals, are all loans which have nearly all been in the Riggs National Bank for more than ten years past.

In these ten years the loans to these particular borrowers have practically absorbed the entire capital stock of the bank and a large portion of its surplus.

At the time of the May, 1914, examination, the bank examiner reported that eight of these borrowers had no deposit accounts in their names in the bank, and the deposit accounts of four of them were overdrawn, while the aggregate deposit balances of the remaining twelve of the twenty-four borrowers amounted, on June 1, 1914, to only $$ 6,823.06$, and that this amount was actually less than the aggregate amount of overdrafts of the four borrowers above referred to whose accounts were overdrawn.

All things considered, I regarded the condition of the plaintiff bank as very unsatisfactory, and the policies and methods which it had been pursuing, contrary to both the letter and the spirit of the national bank act and the instructions of this office, as distinctly dangerous. While unquestionably the bank was solvent, yet because of the ineligibility for rediscount under the Federal Reserve System of any considerable portion of its assets it seemed clear that should a financial emergency occur, the plaintiff might be put in such a position that it would be difficult for these country banks to promptly obtain their reserve deposits. In the exercise of my best judgment as Comptroller of the Currency, I thought that the plaintiff bank under the circumstances was reserve agent for a sufficient number of country banks, and that until there should be a change in its methods it would be prudent, certainly for the present, not to approve it as reserve agent for additional banks.

My conclusion was based also upon other facts disclosed by the investigation into the plaintiff bank heretofore stated; the officers of the plaintiff bank had continuously violated the national banking law; and its officers had, as I had abundant reason to believe, made untrue and contradictory statements to the examiners and in their special reports.

I was also moved to some extent by my knowledge of certain practices of the bank and its officers which 1 considered unsound and hazardous. I knew that several of the active officers of the plaintiff bank were speculating heavily in stocks; that four of its officers were borrowing, principally from other local banking institutions and from a certain national bank in New York, over $$ 750,000$ on stocks and securities. It did not seem to me that such an institution was, all things considered, the best place for any more reserve deposits.

On these grounds, and on others based upon my knowledge of the affairs of the bank, I reached the conclusion above set forth that I would not be warrauted in sanctioning the extension of the business of the bank as a reserve agent at that time by giving my approval to any further applications of that character under prevailing conditions. Such determination, however, did not interfere with the continuance by plaintiff of its existing connections as reserve depositary. It affected, and only until further notice, further applications, as appears from the aforesaid letter of April 5, 1913.

The remaining averments of the bill of complaint are as to matters of law.

I have endeavored in this affidavit to answer specifically and in detail all the allegations of fact contained in the bill of complaint affecting me, without regard to the question of whether they bear upon any issue involved in this action, and to set forth the motives and purposes that have guided me in the matters that are within my exclusive jurisdiction and discretion, and as to which I understand that I am not under any legal obligation to account in this action.

Note.-By a clerical oversight the statement was made in Exhibit $\mathbf{E}$ to the original affidavit as to the $\$ 33,000$ loan of March, 1908, to Mrs. Edwards, as follows: "No record as having been paid." Subsequently the mistake was discovered, and in this copy it is rectified by inserting the word "paid" (p.56) in order to conform to the fact. The attention of the court and counsel will be called to this correction and change when the court shall convene after the summer recess.

testimony of the officers of riggs national banik before the national bank examiner in re dummy loang.

Testimony of Mr. Henry H. Flather.

(The witness was duly sworn by Mr. Trimble.)
Mr. Smith. Mr. Flather, you are the cashier of the Riggs National Bank, are you not?

Mr. H. H. Flather. Yes, sir.
Mr. Smith. In Table No. 5, under date of August 22, 1911, is listed a note of B. L. Nevius, jr., $$ 26,400$; and in the same table, under date of May 23, 1914, is a note of B. L. Nevius, $$ 24,000$, with a notation, "Renewal of balance of loan of August 22, 1911."

Mr. H. H. Flather. What was that last renewal?
Mr. Smith. May 23, 1914, $$ 24,000$.
Mr. H. H. Flather. What is it you want to know?
Mr. Smith. Who got the proceeds of those notes?
Mr. H. H. Flather. Of this $$ 24,000$ ?
Mr. Smiti. The $$ 24,000$ is the renewal of the $$ 26,400$, is it not?
Mr. H. H. Flather. I got it.
Mr. Smith. You got the proceeds of the $$ 26,400$ ?
Mr. H. H. Flather. Whichever one it was.
Mr. Smitir. The $$ 26,400$ is the note dated 1911.
Mr. H. H. Flather. Just let me see [examining book]; 1911, is that, Mr. Smith?

Mr. Smith. Yes; 1911.
Mr. H. H. Flather (examining further). Yes, sir; I got that.
Mr. Smith. Who paid the note when it was paid?
Mr. M. M. Flather. I did.
Mr. Smith. Then all the time from April, 1911, until that note was finally paid in 1914 , you were carrying a note in the bank under the name of B. L. Nevius?

Mr. H. H. Flather. The bank was carrying a note of B. L. Nevius.

Mr. Smith. The bank was carrying a note of B. L. Nevius?
Mr. H. H. Flather. The bank was; yes, sir.
Mr. Smith. Of which you got the proceeds?
Mr. H. H. Flather. Of which I got the proceeds.
Mr. Smith. And which you paid?
Mr. H. H.oFlather. And which I paid.

Mr. Smith. In other words, you were borrowing from the bank in the name of B. L. Nevius?

Mr. H. H. Flather. I was.
Mr. Smith. That is all.
Mr. H. H. Flather. Of course you did not speak about the collateral.

Mr. Sinith. You own the collateral?
Mr. H. H. Flather. I own the collateral. I just wanted to state that.

Testimony of William J. Flather, Esq.
Mr. Smith. In table No. 5 , loans made by the bank the collateral of which did not belong to the signer of the notes, there is a note listed "George H. Felt, $$ 17,500$, secured by 120 shares of Mergenthaler," I think it is.

Mr. W. J. Flather. That is right.
Mr. Smith. The date of that note is April 30, 1912. Is that the same note, or a continuation of a note, that is listed in the letter of July 14,1914 , for $$ 17,500$, secured by 116 shares of Mergenthaler?

Mr. Flather. The same note.
Mr. Smith. Then, it was in the bank from April 30, 1912, until paid in June, 1914?

Mr. Flather. I think so.
Mr. Smith. The correspondence shows that you received the proceeds of that note.

Mr. Flather. I did; yes, sir.
Mr. Smith. Who paid it when it was paid?
Mr. Flather. I paid it.
Mr. Smith. What was the object of procuring Mr. Felt to make that note for you?

Mr. Flather. I do not know that I had any real reason, Mr. Smith, except that I was borrowing some money here, and I thought I would get Mr. Felt to borrow some for me. That is all there is to it. It was my money and my collateral.

Mr. Smith. And you borrowed the money from a national bank in which you were an officer, and in a way that it did not show that you were the borrower?

Mr. Flather. Yes; that is very true.
Mr. Smith. In table No. 5, just referred to -
Mr. Flather. But I never passed on that collateral nor on any other note which I ever had discounted or borrowed money on from the Riggs National Bank.

Mr. Smith. You procured Mr. Felt to give you his note for the purpose of getting the money, did you not?

Mr. Flather. Mr. Felt gave his note with my collateral at my request; yes.

Testimony of W.J. Flather-Continued.
Mr. Smith. The other day, Mr. W. J. Flather, Mr. Glover stated that the proceeds of the A. M. Nevius note were his; in other words, that was an accommodation note procured by him. The George H. Felt note, I believe, was the one you said was an accommodation note for you.

Mr. W. J. Flather. I would not call it an accommodation note.
Mr. Smith. You procured Mr. Felt to give it, and you got the proceeds?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I loaned Mr. Felt that collateral and he borrowed the money on it, the same as you or anybody else would, and gave me the money.

Mr. Smith. As a matter of fact-I think it is covered, but you make that statement now, so I want to ask you again; that is one way, possibly, of stating it. As a matter of fact, did not you procure Mr. George H. Felt to make out his note and put it in the bank for the express purpose of borrowing money from the bank for your use, so that your name would not show as being the borrower?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I do not know that I would put it that way, Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith. Is not that the correct way of putting it?
Mr. W. J. Flather. I will say just what I said before, that I loaned Mr. Felt this stock. He borrowed the money on it from the bank, and I got the proceeds.

Mr. Smith. As a matter of fact, then, you went to him and asked him to give you the note?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I went and asked him to borrow the money.
Mr. Bailey. The note was not given to you at all?
Mr. W. J. Flather. No; the note was not given to me at all.
Mr. Bailey. The note was made direct to the bank?
Mr. W. J. Flather. Made direct to the bank; yes.
Mr. Smith. Did he make the note and put it in the bank, or did you get it from him and put it in the bank yourself?

Mr. W. J. Flather. How is that?
Mr. Smith. Did he present the note to this bank for discount, or did you?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I could not state at this time.
Mr. Smith. What would you think? What is your impression?
Mr. W. J. Flather. I am not testifying to thoughts, am I?

Mr. Smith. You have some thoughts on the matter. You know the transaction; you handled it. In other words, did he actually come into this bank and present a note for discount and get the proceeds in cash and take it outside and give it to you?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I do not think he did.
Mr. Smith. He simply signed the note and turned it over to you?
Mr. W. J. Flather. That is my impression.
Mr. Smith. And you got the proceeds?
Mr. W. J. Flather. That is my impression.
Mr. Smith. Then you procured him to give an accommodation note for you?

Mr. W. J. Flather. You know the exact facts.
Mr. Smith. No; I am asking the question.
Mr. W. J. Flather. I have answered.
Mr. Smith. Did you or did you not procure him to give you an accommodation note for your benefit?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I loaned him my collateral and he borrowed the money from the bank and I got the proceeds.

Mr. Smith. You loaned him your collateral?
Mr. W. J. Flather. Yes.
Mr. Smith. He did not have anything to do with it except the signing of the note, did he, and he signed that at your request?

Mr. W. J. Flather. Yes.
Mr. Smith. Then, why do you say you loaned him the collateral?
Mr. W. J. Flather. To borrow the money from the bank.
Mr. Smith. He did not get any money from the bank, did he? You got the money from the bank?

Mr. W. J. Flather. I used the money.
Mr. Smith. In other words, instead of loaning him collateral he loaned you his name?

Mr. W. J. Flather. You can put it that way if you please.
Mr. Smith. Is not that the correct way of putting it?
Mr. W. J. Flather. I do not know.
Mr. Smith. You are an officer of a national bank and have been for years. You certainly know what is the true statement of a case like that.

Mr. W. J. Flather. I loaned Mr. Felt that collateral, and he borrowed the money and I used it.

Mr. Smith. Did he get any money from the bank?
Mr. W. J. Flather. You mean actual money?
Mr. Smith. Actual money.
Mr. W. J. Flather. I doubt if he did.
Mr. Smith. Funds or credits?
Mr. W. J. Flather. I doubt if he did.

Mr. Smith. Then why do you say he borrowed the money from the bank?

Mr. W. J. Flather. Because he gave his note.
Mr. Smith. But he did not get a cent?
Mr. W. J. Flather. On his note he says, "I promise to pay to the Riggs National Bank " so much.

Mr. Smite. That is all right; but did he get any money?
Mr. Barley. Mr. Flather, you have answered that question three or four times. Decline to answer it any more.

Mr. Smith. Do you decline to answer?
Mr. W. J. Flather. Any more than I have.
Mr. Bailey. Upon the ground you have answered three or four times.

Mr. W. J. Flather. Yes.
Testimony of Mr. W. J. Flather In re knowledge directors had regarding dummy loans.

Mr. Smith. Mr. Flather, in the case of the A. M. Nevius loan, the Felt loan, and B. L. Nevius loan, if those loans were put for approval to the discount committee and afterwards the board of directors, in what manner were they put up? Did it show and were the board and the discount committee informed as to who was the real borrower?

Mr. W. J. Flather. Not to my knowledge, Mr. Smith. We submit a list of all loans made, with the collateral, giving the name of the borrower and the collateral offered and the amount of the loan and the market value of it, and they pass upon that.

Mr. Smith. Did or did not the board of directors know the true borrower?

Mr. W. J. Flather. As far as I know, they only knew the person who gave the note-the name of the person who gave the note.

Mr. Bailey. And the collateral?
Mr. W. J. Flather. And the collateral; yes. You will find that in every bank. As a matter of fact, Senator Bailey, very few banks give the name of the borrower. They simply give the amount of the loan and the collateral.

> Testimony of W.J. Flather, Esq., In re dummy loan-Continued.

Mr. Smith. Mr. Flather, some time ago, in the course of questioning, you were asked about a Felt note for $$ 17,500$, and stated that that was a note on which you got the proceeds, that the collateral belonged to you, and that you paid the note. I would like to ask you what other loans, if any, the Riggs National Bank has made since its organization in the names of persons other than yourself where you got the proceeds or a portion of the proceeds?

Mr. Flather. Mr. Smith, I have told you all I know about the Felt loan. I do not know what other loan or loans I loaned the collateral for and in which I was interested. I do know, however, that neither myself nor anybody who ever borrowed money on my col-lateral-I will restate that this way: I do know, however, that the Riggs National Bank has never lost a cent on any loans made either to me direct or to any other person who borrowed on collateral loaned by me.

Mr. Smith. What I am asking, however, is to be informed what loans other than the Felt loan this bank has discounted, which I will term " accommodation" notes for you.

Mr. Flather. I do not recall any, Mr. Smith.
Mr. Smitir. Are there any others?
Mr. Flather. I do not know of any.
Mr. Smith. Can you state positively that this is the only one?
Mr. Flather. No; I can not state positively, because, as you know for yourself, eighteen years is a long time to remember a thing.

Mr. Smiti. Have you any record personally-
Mr. Flather (interrupting). Not that would disclose that fact.
Mr. Smith. Has the bank any record which would disclose that fact?

Mr. Flather. Not that I know of. Any moneys which I may have borrowed from the bank are on the records.

Mr. Smith. Take this Felt note, for instance. Suppose an examiner goes back on the books and runs across that note entered on the books; there is absolutely nothing on the books showing that Mr. Felt did not get the proceeds but that you did. That is true, is it not?

Mr. Flather. What is that?
Mr. Smith. There is nothing on the books to show the proceeds of this note went to any other

Mr. Flather (interrupting). The books show the record as it was.
Mr. Smith. That is the point I am asking about. Do the books show the record as it was?

Mr. Flather. The books do show the record as made.
Mr. Smith. Do not the records show Mr. Felt borrowed that money?

Mr. Flather. Mr. Felt gave the note. The books show Mr. Felt gave his note.

Mr. Smith. But do not the books show that Mr. Felt borrowed the money?

63367^{\circ} \text {-cul 1916--voL 2-c3 }

Mr. Flathrr. The books show Mr. Felt gave his note, and that the note was secured by adequate collateral.

Mr. Smith. I simply ask this question, and I will ask it again of Mr. Flather, if the books do show

Mr. Flather (interrupting). The books show the transaction as it was made.

Mr. Smith. In other words, the books show that the bank received a note signed by Felt?

Mr. Flather. George H. Felt.
Mr. Smite. With so much collateral for so much money?
Mr. Flather. Yes, sir.
Mr. Smith. But there is nothing on the books to indicate whether Mr. Felt borrowed that money for your benefit?

Mr. Flather. No.
Mr. Smith. In other words, an examination of the books will not determine what other notes may have beell in the bank for your benefit similar to the Felt note?

Mr. Flather. In no instance.
Mr. Smith. Have you any personal record which would enable you to give me a list of those notes?

Mr. Flather. I have not.
Mr. Smith. Then, outside of memory, there is no way of ascertaining it?

Mr. Flather, No.

Part I.

(See Paragraph XXXIII.)

TESTIMONY OF THE OFTICERS OF RIGGS NATIONAL BANK BEFORE THE NATIONAL BANK EXAMINER IN RE CROCLER BOND DEAL.

Testimony of Mr. Glover.

Mr. Glover, in the account of Glover & Flather, under date of February 4, 1908, there is an item listed "Commission and profits, sale of the U. S. 4 per cent bonds, $$ 24,704.16$," and under date of February 24, 1908, "Profits on sale, U. S. 4 per cent bonds of 1925 , $32,214.38."

Mr. Glover. Yes.
Mr. Smith. What knowledge have you of the transaction from which those profits arose?

Mr. Glover. At the present moment I have not any recollection of just how they arose. [To Mr. Ailes:] That was a California matter, was it not?

Mr. Ailes. I have heretofore explained that fully.
Mr. Glover. That was fully explained by Mr. Ailes, who actually had to do with that.

Mr. Smith. You know, then, from what those profits arose?
Mr. Glover. Yes; but I would have to go back over the-there is another officer of the bank who can give you the entire details of that. It was in his hands. It only came to me as a finished transaction.

Mr. Smith. From what transaction did that profit arise?
Mr. Glover. It arose out of the sale of certain bonds. What is that date?

Mr. Smith. February 4th and 24th, 1908.
Mr. Glover. I can not recollect. I would have to go back over that. (After conference with Mr. H. H. Flather:) That can be explained to you by another officer of the bank.

Mr. Smith. By what officer?
Mr. Glover. Mr. Ailes.
Mr. Smith. Mr. Ailes handled the transaction personally?
Mr. Glover. Yes.
Mr. Ailes. I handled it; yes.
Mr. Smith. You had no connection with it yourself?
Mr. Glover. I knew at the time just what was going on.
Mr. Smith. You knew what was going on, but I mean personally you had no connection with it?

Mr. Glover. No. That is, I did not handle the transaction.
Mr. Smith. Was any other officer connected with the handling of the transaction other than Mr. Ailes?

Mr. Glover. I think one of the Flathers had something to do with it, probably the cashier.

Mr. Sminf. That never has been taken up in any of this correspondence, has it, Mr. Ailes?

Mr. Ailes. No; I think that has never been taken up in the correspondence.

Mr. McKenney. Is there any difficulty about it? Is there anything wrong about it?

Mr. Smith. I want to ask for information about it.
Mr. Ailes. I would be very glad to go over it with you, but I am not under oath.

Mr. Smith. I was debating whether to put Mr. Ailes under oath and ask him the questions, or whether I should not ask Mr. Glover one or two questions, and then ask Mr. Ailes. Of course, I had an idea that Mr. Glover would have had full information about it and be capable of giving me the details; that is all.

Mr. Glover. I have not.
Mr. Bafley. It was six years ago.
Mr. Glover. Yes; it was many years ago.

Testimony of Mr. Milton E. Ailes.

Mr. Trimble. Mr. Ailes, you do solemnly swear that the answers which you make to the questions propounded to you in the examination of the affairs of the Riggs National Bank shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help yoa God?

Mr. Ailes. I do.
Mr. Smitir. You are vice president of the Riggs National Bank?
Mr. Ailes. I am.
Mr. Smith. During February, 1908, you were vice president of the Riggs National Bank?

Mr. Ailes. I was.
Mr. Smitir. In the account "Glover & Flather," under date of February 4, 1908, is a credit "Commission and profits, sale of U. S. 4 per cent bonds, $$ 24,704.16$." In the same account, under date of February 24, 1908, "Profits on sale of U. S. 4 per cent bonds of 1925, $$ 32,214.38$." Mr. Glover has stated that you handled that transaction personally. That is so?

Mr. Ailes. I handled the transaction in the bank, but I consulted with Mr. Glover and the other officers of the bank-with the Messrs.

Flathers. I do not know just as to which one at the present timeMr. Henry Flather; I did with him.

Mr. Smith. From what transaction did those profits arrive? Was it the same transaction?

Mr. Ailes. There were two transactions, but they both fall in the same category.

Mr. Smith. Think what these transactions were, Mr. Ailes, please.
Mr. Ailes. They were during the panic of 1907. Crocker National Bank of San Francisco wired to me that they were greatly in need of gold; in fact, they were on the point of a panic out there, and asked me if I could suggest any way by which they could make available some Government bonds. They stated that they had 4 s of 1925. I am giving you this from recollection. I think I suggested to them that we could put them in the circulation account of the National City Bank of New York and take out circulation against them and ship them the circulation. But that was not satisfactory to them, because they do not use paper money very much on the coast. They wanted gold, and they wanted it very badly. I discussed the matter with Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather, and with Mr. Vanderlip, of the National City Bank of New York. They asked us to make an offer for the bonds.

Mr. Smith. Pardon me; they asked-
Mr. Ailes. They asked me here to make an offering for those bonds and give them gold for them. They wanted gold.

Mr. Smiter. You mean the National City asked you to make an offer to Crocker?

Mr. Ailes. No; the Crocker communicated directly with me.
Mr. Smith. And asked you to make an offer?
Mr. Alles. I had quite an acquaintance with the officials of the Crocker Bank, and they wired to me, as I recollect it.

Mr. Smith. I am trying to get the definition of the pronoun "they."

Mr. Ailes. The Crocker National Bank folks did. The upshot of the whole thing was that after conference here with Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather and Mr. Vanderlip I made an offering of 115 for half a million long 4 s , and had an understanding with the National City Bank that those 4 s should go in the circulation account of the Na tional City Bank, which had a large amount of national-bank notes or currency ready for issue. The National City Bank had to pay into the Subtreasury at New York $$ 500,000$ in gold. Simultaneously the assistant treasurer at San Francisco would pay out on Government transfer to the Crocker National Bank $$ 500,000$ in gold. The balance due on the purchase of the bonds, representing the fifteen points of premium, the offering made for the bonds being 115, or $$ 75,000$, was to be credited to the Crocker National Bank on the books of the National City Bank of New York. New York had suspended at that time, and this was to be only a book credit.

The National City Bank recouped itself for cash by talking out $$ 500,000$ bank notes. It parted, however, with $$ 500,000$ of lawful money, or gold, in the manner I have indicated.

Mr. Smith. This was in 1907 ?
Mr. Ailes. In 1907.
Mr. Glover. 1907 or 1908 ?
Mr. Alles. In 1907, right in the very heart of the panic, when the whole country was shaken from one end to the other.

These two transactions probably saved the situation in San Francisco. No sooner had this one been accomplished until the Crocker National Bank came back and said, "Will you take another million?" Of course that was a pretty large sum, and after consultation with Mr. Vanderlip I concluded to offer 110 for the remaining million under the same conditions. The City Bank paid out a million of gold. The ten-point premium, or $$ 100,000$, was to be credited on the books of the City Bank, New York funds, the City Bank to recoup itself by taking out circulation for the cash. They accepted that offer.

Up to that point we really had here-these officers here had little or no understanding as to what share the Riggs National Bank or anybody connected with it had in the transaction. It was carried along at the City Bank for weeks, until the panic subsided, and by and by, some time in February, 1908, they sold the bonds over there. The Riggs Bank never invested a nickel in the transaction, never put up a dollar.

Mr. Balley. Nor became liable?
Mr. Ailes. Nor became liable. When they sold the bonds I went over to see if we were not entitled to some share in the profits, and I was offered, on behalf of these officers here, a commission of one-eighth of one per cent, I think, which is just about the kind of profit that you get in a Government bond transaction. Those profits, that commission had been going, when earned by the officers here, Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather, to these accounts. I did not want to settle on that basis. I felt I had engineered the thing, and I talked it over with Mr. Glover and the other officers down here, and I eventually succeeded in convincing the National City Bank authorities that we had been pretty helpful in the transaction, with the result that they, feeling pretty good over it, offered to divide the account, and so we did; and had these two credits which you find, which were placed to the credit of Glover & Flather, just as the commission of one-eighth of one per cent would have been placed to the credit of that account.

Mr. Sarith. Crocker never paid a commission of one-eighth of one per cent?

Mr. Ailes. No, sir.
Mr. Smith. The only profits the bank officers got out of it was these two items?

Mr. Ailes. Yes.
Mr. Smith. Not these two items, and one-eighth of one per cent commission?

Mr. Ailes. No.
Mr. McKenney. The fact is, the bank was not getting any profit out of it?

Mr. Ailes. No.
Mr. Smitir. When that deal arose did it come to you personally from the Crocker National Bank, or did it come to you as vice president of the Riggs National Bank?

Mr. Ailes. I will have to look at the correspondence for that.
Mr. Smith. The bank has it in the correspondence file, have they?
Mr. Ailes. I dare say.
Mr. Glover. Wasn't it by telegraph?
Mr. Ailes. Oh, yes; it was by telegraph. Of course I felt it largely came to me personally, because of the personal relations with the Crocker National Bank.

Mr. Smith. You had no interest in the Glover & Flather account, had you?

Mr. Alles. No.
Mr. Smith. And you never have had any?
Mr. Smith. What did Mr. Glover or either of the Flathers do in connection with this sale of securities to the National City Bank of New York?

Mr. Alles. They had the same to do with that as they would have with any other transaction.

Mr. Smith. I thought you said you handled the deal with the National City Bank?

Mr. Ailes. I did.
Mr. Smith. After consulting these gentlemen?
Mr. Ailes. I did not go and do it without consulting them.
Mr. Smith. You consulted these gentlemen and then did it?
Mr. Alles. Yes.
Mr. Smith. And you went to New York finally to get more profits than the one-eighth offered?

Mr. Ailes. As I recollect it now, they did not really offer that. I wanted to see-

Mr. Smith (interrupting). You went to New York?
Mr. Alles. Yes; I went to New York.

Mr. Smith. And made the arrangement whereby this $$ 50,000$ off was obtained?

Mr. Ailes. Yes.
Mr. Smith. Did you go to New York and get this division with the National City Bank for the Riggs National Bank, to turn the money over to the Riggs National Bank or to turn the money over to Mr. Flather or the Flathers and Mr. Glover personally, to become their private property, if they never intended to give it to the bank, but to retain it themselves?

Mr. Alles. I do not think I had any thought on either side of that question.

Mr. Smith. You went to get it for the bank, did you not?
Mr. Alles. No; I could not say that I did. I was over to see what I could do about getting that profit.

Mr. Smith. When you got it and came back who did you consider had the profit?

Mr. Ailes. I do not recall at the present time.
Mr. McKenney. The books show the transaction.
Mr. Smith. The books show the transaction?
Mr. Ailes. Yes.
Mr. Smith. The books, however, do not show what you intended to do with that money.

Mr. Ailes. Yes. How do you suppose I could recollect what I was going to do with it?

Mr. Smith. I am asking the question again: Did you intend that that money should go to Mr. Glover and the Flathers personally or to the Riggs National Bank?

Mr. Ailes. It would not have made any difference to me becauseand Mr. Glover has frequently explained it to you-I have known that while Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather have always had the right to any money from the Glover and Flather account, I have also known that they were just a little bit too high class to take it.

Mr. Smith. The question was just raised here as to Mr. Glover saying he never would take any of that and never will hereafter take any of this money.

Mr. Ailes. And never has.
Mr. Smith. In other words, it is an open question?
Mr. Ailes. And never has.
Mr. Smith. He says he never has?
Mr. Ailes. Mr. Smith, the truth of the matter is that, ethically, this bank and its officers-I can speak this way because I have no interest in the account of Glover & Flather, and never have had; but unlike the other bank officers of this town who are members of the stock exchange and who have taken their commissions as they have earned them, on their own seats, just as these officers have, these officers have never taken any of these commissions for themselves. They turned them over to the bank.

Mr. Smith. Of course, I appreciate the information about the other officers in the other banks of the town.

Mr. Anles. For the last two or three years the subject was very considerably discussed here as to whether they would not do it. Of course, that has substantiated the idea in my mind that they have had a perfect right to do it.

Mr. Smith. On whose behalf did you go to New York and get this division-the Riggs National Bank or the individuals?

Mr. Ailes. Of course, as Mr. McKenney says, the record shows that.

Mr. Smith. It does not show for whom you went.
Mr. Glover. I do not think he went-
Mr. Ailes. I do not know. I do not think I went there at that time on that particular mission. I was engaged in visiting the National City Bank once a week on general things. This action came up on one of those visits. I do not think I made á particular visit over there to get this.

Mr. Smith. Was there anything said with the National City Bank about with whom they were dividing this profit?

Mr. Ailes. I do not recall now.
Mr. Smith. Would, in your opinion, have they divided with Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather personally?

Mr. Bailey. Of course, you would not ask him to state under oath what they would do.

Mr. Smith. I am asking his opinion.
Mr. McKenney. He has no right to an opinion.
Mr. Smitif. Has not any right to an opinion?
Mr. McKenney. No; not at all. To put it more tersely, you have no right to interrogate him about his opinion.

Mr. Smith. I am very much obliged for your statement about my rights. That is appreciated.

Mr. McKenney. You are entirely welcome. I was not meaning to be discourteous.

Mr. Smith. It appears that way to me.
Mr. McKenney. I do not mean to be at all discourteous, but I do state that as a matter of law you have a right to examine concerning these conditions about this bank. You have not the right to sit there as an examiner and cross-examine gentlemen with respect to opinions. If that is discourtesy, I am sorry for it. I think it is very courteous. Anything and everything touching the condition of this bank is open to you, and you can get it.

Mr. Smith. At the time you came back, did you know what was done with the profits?

Mr. Ailes. I can not say that I did, right at that time. I knew it was credited to Glover & Flather.

Mr. Smith. Did you not consider that was the same as crediting it to profit and loss?

Mr. Anes. Of course, I knew it would go to profit and loss, unless these gentlemen chose to take it themselves.

Mr. Smith. Wasn't it your understanding that was the same as a profit-and-loss account, and that everything that went into there was going to profit and loss?

Mr. Bailey. Excuse me a minute.
(Mr. Bailey and Mr. Ailes conferred.)
Mr. Ailes. I had known, of course, of the existence of the account of Glover and Flather, and Flather & Flather, from the very beginning, and there has been no misunderstanding in my mind as to its nature or character. I knew that the bank examiner, Mr. Reeves, had suggested that the accounts be opened in the name of Glover & Flather and Flather & Flather, and that the matter had apparently met with the approval of the Comptroller's office, and that the bank had been perfectly without objection heretofore, from 1904 down until recent times.

Mr. Smiti. As a director of the Riggs National Bank and an officer, wasn't it your understanding that these commissions went to undivided profits, and that items were charged off to these accounts the same as they could be charged off to profit-and-loss account of the bank without any other action, and that it was in the bank, the profit-and-loss account of the bank, under another name?

Mr. Alles. No; not strictly so. I knew the accounts were under the personal control and direction of Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather.

Mr. Smith. And you had no control over them, either as an officer or as an individual?

Mr. Aires. No; but I should not have expected them to have used them for any other purpose than to transfer them to the accounts of the bank. There was not any-I knew of no understanding to that effect.

Mr. Smith. As a matter of fact, in obtaining this division with the National City Bank, as an officer of the Riggs National Bank, knowing the details of the transactions from the time they started with the Crocker National Bank, who was entitled to that division? Were Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather personally entitled to it? Mr. Glover has stated here in your presence that the minute any items went to this account they were absolutely out of control of the bank or any official of the bank, and subject only to their checks.

Mr. Alues. Yes.

Mr. Smitir. As individuals.
Mr. Ailes. Yes.
Mr. Smith. That being the case, who was entitled to this money?
Were these gentlemen entitled to it first-the minute it went to their credit, it ceased to have any connection with the bank-or was it a profit of the bank?

Mr. Ailes. I certainly would have, if I had expected Mr. Glover and Mr. Flather to use the money personally for themselves, felt that they were not entitled to do it.

Mr. Smith. You felt the bank was entitled to it?
: Mr. Ailes. I expected them to have it in their account, but-
Mr. Glover. This transaction was made through the City Bank at New York.

Mr. Smith. It went to the City Bank through this bank.
Mr. Glover. They telegraphed to this bank, and the business was transacted through the City Bank.

Mr. Alles. Our bank did not put up a dollar in this business and did not assume any liability.

Mr. Smith. I understand that.
Mr. Ailes. No; we did not.
Mr. Smith. But your understanding was that that profit went to the bank?

Mr. Ailes. I knew that it would go to the bank. I had faith enough in these gentlemen to know it would go to the bank.

Mr. Smith. Mr. Ailes, you have looked up the correspondence from the Crocker National Bank?

Mr. Ailes. Mr. Smith, I have a letter file book here, and the clerks have undertaken to fit some of the loose files into the letterpress book. But I have not gone over them yet, and some of them, I notice, are in code.

Mr. Smith. Let me ask you this: To whom are they addressed?
Mr. Anes. Here is one-
Mr. Smith. In other words, have you the first telegram?
Mr. Ailes. I can not say I have at the moment, unless this should be it. Here is one addressed to "Milton E. Ailes, Riggs National Bank." It reads:
Milton E., Ailes,
Riggs National Bank, Washington, D. C.:
We understand residual refuses funds. Tissue as heretofore. Can not this ruling be modified?

Crocker National Bane.

Mr. Smith. Have you a translation of that?
Mr. Ailes. No; I have not. (Reading:)
"We understand Treasurer U. S. refuses funds." It looks like "For we transfer payable here." "For which transfer payable here as heretofore. Can not this ruling be modified numerous?"

That is pinned to one which undoubtedly refers to a portion of the transaction that you have under consideration. That is dated October 25, 1907; and on the same date here is this one:

"M. E. Ailes,

"V. P. Riggs National Bank, Washington, D. C.:
"If we send you rancidity (translated to mean $$ 500,000$ ) routine (translated to mean 4's of 1925) for sale, will you arrange to have the residual (the Treasurer of the United States) authorize payment through subtreasurer here to us of rancidity ( $$ 500,000$ ) upon shipment routine (that is, 4 's of 1925) by mail to you? If you can not do this, can you make arrangements subtreasurer here car routine (that is, 4's of 1925) ?"
Mr. Bailey. That is evidently the first communication.
Mr. Snirf. The first communication, then, from the Crocker National Bank regarding the sale of $$ 500,000$ long 4 's was addressed to you as vice president of the bank?

Mr. Ailes. So it appears to be, if that is the first communication.
Mr. McKenney. This was addressed to you as Milton E. Ailes, V. P. Riggs National Bank?

Mr. Alles. Yes. The one preceding that is just addressed to me, "Milton E. Ailes, Riggs National Bank."
Mr. Smith. That was an inquiry-
Mr. Ailes. As to a transfer of funds of some kind. I do not know just exactly what that telegram means. But I find in the correspondence here, running through it, some of the telegrams addressed to me personally and some addressed to me as vice president of the bank and some addressed to the bank itself. So that it may be quite admitted that some of this correspondence is signed by the Riggs National Bank and addressed to the Riggs National Bank.

Mr. Smitr. From looking over that correspondence and those telegrams-

Mr. Ailes. For instance, Mr. Smith, here is one. This is addressed to me as vice president of the Riggs National Bank, "Milton E. Ailes, vice president Riggs National Bank." This is dated October 27. (Reading:)

We have sent following telegram to reservoir:
"If we deposit with the assistant reservoir here rant routine, will you please authorize assistant reservoir to-morrow to advance par on them? Our Chicago and New York correspondents can not transfer our funds at present, and we had to assist banks in Nevada by gold shipments. We will use part of this money to assist other banks.

Will much appreciate your favorable action, as conditions here make it necessary for us to make this request. Kindly wire.
"Mr. Ailes, please use your utmost endeavor to have him comply with this request to-morrow, Monday, so that assistant reservoir here may pay us amount on Monday hound we will appreciate anything you may do, and his favorable action will assist New York and Chicago banks.

> "W. Gregg, Jr., Cashier."

Mr. Smith. Have you any letters of confirmation here?
Mr. Arles. Yes; here is one letter of confirmation dated October 29, 1907, the Crocker National Bank, San Francisco, California.

Mr. Glover. This is a letter from you. That is not their letter confirming it. •

Mr. Smith. Very well; read it.
Mr. McKenney. You want letters of confirmation of these telegrams.

Mr. Ailes. We have no confirmation of their telegrams to us. We have confirmations of ours to them.

Mr. Smith. All right.
Mr. Ailes. It reads:

The Crocker Natronal Bank,
San Francisco, California.
Dear Sirs: We confirm our telegram to you to-day advising that the assistant treasurer of the United States at San Francisco had been instructed by wire to turn over to you $$ 500,000$ in cash--gold coin if possible-against $$ 500,000$ U. S. 4 per cent bonds of 1925.

We also confirm the purchase from you, in behalf of the National City Bank of New York, of $$ 500,000$ United States 4 per cent bonds of 1925, which you are to send to us properly assigned, and upon receipt of which the National City Bank is to take out circulation. Upon receipt of the bonds we will adjust the matter of the purchase of the bonds at the rate of 110 and the payment to the Treasurer of the amount of your deposit, which is to be returned.

Very truly, yours,

M. E. Ames, Vice President.

Mr. Smith. Then, from looking over that correspondence, Mr. Ailes, you acted in that matter as vice president of the Riggs National Bank, did you not?

Mr. Ailes. Yes; I think I did.
Mr. Smith. That is all.
Mr. Ailes. I would like, without closing the subject so abruptly, to say that this bank, the Riggs National Bank, never invested a single penny in this transaction; that the matter was carried on by the National City Bank of New York, which put the bonds it got from the Crocker National Bank in its own circulation account, it paid in its own gold to the assistant treasurer at New York, and had it paid out at San Francisco to the Crocker National Bank, and which credited on its own books, the National City Bank's books, the difference, representing the premium in New York funds. At that time payment could only be made through clearing-house certificates, I believe. This bank assumed no liability whatever. This bank never paid a nickel of my expenses to go to New York to see about getting some division of the profits in that transaction, no matter what the correspondence may show as to whether I signed as vice president or not. Of course, after these sums had been credited to Glover & Flather, the transfers were made from Glover & Flather to profit-and-loss account of the Riggs National Bank.

Mr. Bailey. Let me see if I thoroughly understand the transaction. This bank was not buying any of the bonds, assuming, as I understand you to say, no liability, and making absolutely no payment. Therefore it was, whatever it was, a commission or a profit made entirely on a transaction of the National City Bank?
Mr. Ailes. Yes.
Mr. Bailey. And if it was earned, or if it was obtained, then it was not a bank transaction, because the bank had furnished no money, assumed no liability, incurred no expense. Is that what I understand you to say?

Mr. Ailes. That is it exactly.
Mr. Bailey. And if it had been charged directly to the bank, or credited directly to the bank, it would have involved the same explanation that the old commission accounts did, that though it was credited to the bank, as a matter of fact it was earned by others and not by the bank. If it had been credited directly to the bank, then the bank would have brought itself, as I understand it, within the Ridgely letter of September 22, 1904, that advised them that selling stocks and bonds on commission was ultra vires, and yet you had continued it without any liability or expense or obligation on the part of the bank, you believing that the Flather & Flather account or the Glover & Flather account was the place to pass the credit. I understand that.

Mr. McKenney. Please answer that. These gentlemen [indicating the stenographers] can not see a nod of your head.

Mr. Smith. As I understand it, that is an explanation of Mr. Bailey, and he wants it written into the minutes. It does not call for any answer from Mr. Ailes.

Mr. Ailes. I nodded my assent to Senator Bailey, and Mr. McKenney, no doubt correctly enough, said that the stenographers could not be supposed to transcribe that nod.

Mr. Bailey (to Mr. Smith). If I did not understand it, of course I have no right to ask questions I was going to ask, because I wanted the transaction in the record, as I am sure vou do, exactly as it occurred.

Mr. Ailes. I can say to you, if it would be a matter of interest, that this was not the original proposition with the Crocker Bank. Of course there was a good deal of telephoning between Mr. Vanderlip and myself as to how to handle this transaction and help out the situation in San Francisco. These bonds did not belong to the Crocker Bank. They were merely intermediaries in the matter. There was a tremendous saving institution in San Francisco which was sadly in need of gold at that moment. You probably know what institution it is if you know the biggest savings bank there.

Mr. Balley. As a matter of fact, I could go into any court of conscience or law in the world and take that money that Ailes turned over to this bank for Ailes himself. He was absolutely entitled to it, I think, in morals-I know in law.

Mr. Ailes. The first proposition which I put up, undoubtedly as the result of my conferences with Mr. Vanderlip, was this: That we take the bonds and put them into the account of the National City Bank of New York, in its circulation account, and that we ship one half of that circulation to San Francisco, and that the National City Bank keep the other half for its own cash, the matter to be handled in this way, the National City Bank to purchase those bonds at par under an agreement to resell them back to the Crocker Bank at par when all this trouble was over. That would have been a highly desirable thing for that concern out in San Francisco, but it did not want bank notes; it wanted gold; it wanted something people could see, and it would not have lost any money. There would not have been any shrinkage in its bonds if it had accepted the original proposition that had been put up to it; that is, to utilize the circulation account of the National City Bank with these bonds, buying them at par, agreeing to resell them at the same figure, letting them have half of the cash, the National City Bank taking the other half of the cash. But instead of that they declined that, and eventually accepted the proposition by which they could get gold, even though they sustained a very material loss in that big sale of bonds.

Testimony of Mr. II. H. Flather.

Mr. Smitr. On page 108, in regard to the Crocker National Bank bond transaction, in response to the question, "Was any other officer connected with the handling of the transaction other than Mr. Ailes?" Mr. Glover stated, "I think one of the Flathers had something to do with it, probably the cashier." I will ask you, Mr. H. H. Flather, were you cashier in 1908?

Mr. H. H. Flather. Yes.

Mr. Smith. Did you have anything to do with the Crocker National Bank bond deal; and if so, what?

Mr. H. H. Flather. I think only to the extent of doing anything that Mr. Ailes might direct me to.

Mr. Smith. What, if anything, was that? In other words, I mean what active part did you take in it?

Mr. H. H. Flather. I could not say.
Mr. Ailes. Mr. Smith, if you will allow me, I think I can tell you now the active part he did take in it.

Mr. Smith. All right, Mr. Ailes.
Mr. Alles. In looking over the correspondence I find that Mr. Henry H. Flather evidently assisted me in making up the telegramthat is, codes. I was not familiar with the use of the codes.

Mr. Smith. In other words, you think his part was in coding the messages?

Mr. Ailles. Yes.
Mr. Smith. Other than that he had no particular connection with it?

Mr. Alles. That suggested itself to my mind because I find in his handwriting some of the telegrams and the code words, and I lnow that it was my habit to go to the officers of the bank who were very familiar with the use of our codes at the time.

Testimony of Mr. W. J. Flather.
Mr. Smini. Mr. Flather, in the account of Glover and Flather, under date of February 4, 1908, there is a credit of $$ 24,704.16$, and under date of February 24, 1908, $$ 32,214.38$. These are itemized as "Profits from the sale of U. S. 4 per cent bonds." What, if anything, do you know about that transaction?

Mr. Flather. That is a matter Mr. Ailes had entire control of, as far as I know. I had nothing whatever to do with it.
Mr. Smith. In your affidavit, or sworn answer to interrogatories, under date of July 14, 1914, Mr. Flather, you state, in substance, that the commission account is an account to which, in the first instance, profits arising from the purchase and sale of Government and othe: bonds are credited. That being the case, why did not these credits referred to here in February, 1908, go to commission account?

Mr. Flather. I say, Mr. Smith, to repeat what I said before, that I had nothing whatever to do with it.

Part 2.
(See Paragraph XXXIII.)
Correspondence between the Riggs National Bank and the National City Bank, New York, in re Crocker bond deal.
(Copy.)
Riggs National Bank, Washington, D. C., October 29, 1907.
Dear Mr. Vanderlif: I beg to confirm my conversation with you over the long-distance telephone to-day when I advised you that the Crocker National Bank had accepted the proposition we made to them yesterday, namely, that they deposit $$ 500,000$ U. S. $4 \%$ bonds of 1925 with the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at San Francisco, against which they were to receive $$ 500,000$ in gold coin, at the same time forwarding to the Riggs National Bank $$ 500,000$ U. S. 4's of 1925, properly assigned, and in such shape that we can deposit the same to secure circulation of the National City Bank of New York. We are to pay 110 for these bonds, and have advised the Crocker National Bank that we will credit their account for the same at that rate upon their arrival. When the bonds have been received, we will immediately pledge them to secure your circulation, and ask you to deposit $$ 500,000$ with the Assistant Treasurer at New York, representing the return of the public deposit that has been allotted the Crocker National Bank under the conditions imposed by the Treasury.

Very truly, yours,
(Signed)
M. E. Alues, Vice President.

Mr. F. A. Vanderlip, Vice President The National City Bank, New York, N. Y.
Dear Mr. Vanderlip: In order that we may complete promptly the $$ 1,000,000$ circulation of the National City Bank, which is to be shipped to the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco, upon the arrival of $$ 1,000,000$ long 4 's which it is forwarding for deposit in your circulation account, kindly send us specimens of the signatures of your president and cashier at once, so that we may have stamps made. We will get the currency off promptly, carrying the work into the night if necessary.

Very truly, yours,

> The Riggs Nattonal Bank of Washington, D. C., Washington, D. C., Nov. $6,1907$.

The National City Bank, New York City.
Dear Sirs: We beg to advise you that we received from the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco this morning $$ 500,000$ United States registered long $4 s$, which we had purchased from them at 110. We immediately deposited the bonds with the Treasury in your circulation account and are having $$ 500,000$ currency forwarded to you by express to-night.

According to the agreement with the Treasury, it will now be in order for you to deposit $$ 500,000$ at the subtreasury in New York, account of "Transfer of funds" from the Crocker National Bank, in order to secure the release of $$ 500,000$ long 4 s that that bank pledged with the assistant treasurer at San Francisco. Kindly advise us when the transaction is complete, so that we may give notice to the Secretary of the Treasury that the case is closed.

Very truly, yours,

Mr. F. A. Vanderlip,
Vice President, The National City Bank, New York, N. Y.
Dear Mr. Vanderlip: Instructions are being sent from the Treasury this evening to the assistant treasurer at New York to receive from you to-morrow, the 8th instant, $$ 500,000$, "transfer of funds," on account Crocker National Bank of San Francisco. This represents the return to the Treasury of the temporary deposit lodged with the Crocker National Bank. I presume you should wire the Crocker National Bank that you have returned the deposit to the Treasury. As soon as the original certificate is received here in Washington we will have the Treasurer wire the assistant treasurer at San Francisco to return $$ 500,000$ Government bonds to that institution.

Very truly, yours,
(Signed)

The Riggs National Banie, Washington, D.C.

Dear Sirs: We have to-day credited your account with $$ 24,704.16$, one-half the profit in the joint account in United States registered 4s of 1925 (Crocker National operations) resulting from sales made during the month of January. The sales for January were $$ 695,500$ par value, and no sales of these bonds were made prior to January 1st.

The purchases and sales have all been figured on an "and interest" basis on the assumption that the bonds carry themselves in circulation account with no loss, and for this reason no carrying charges are assessed against the joint account in which you are interested. The purchases for this account were as follows:
April 16, 1907, $$ 150,000$ at 130.033 and interest (or $1297 / 8$ ex

November 7, 1907, $\$ 500,000$ at 109.024 and interest (or 110 flat) -.-- $\quad 549,620.00$
November 12, 1907, $$ 1,000,000$ at 109.869 and interest (or 110 flat) - 1, 098, 690.00
$\$ 1,650,000$ at 111.718 and interest (average price) ---------- $\overline{1,843,359.50}$
The average "and interest" selling price for all the bonds sold during January was 118.822 and interest. These sales, therefore, show a profit of 7,104 points, or a total profit on $$ 695,500$ of $$ 49$,408.32 , one-half of which amount is the credit indicated above.

As further sales are made from time to time we will make an accounting to you either crediting or charging your account as the operations show a profit or loss.

Enclosed herewith is the list of sales made for the period ending January 30th.

Very truly, yours,

Dear Sirs: Supplementing our letter of even date, we wish to say that we will be obliged if you will deposit the remaining $$ 20,0002 \mathrm{~s}$ coming from our circulation account with the Comptroller of the Currency, to secure the circulation of the Muskogee National Bank, Muskogee, Okla. We will to-morrow forward, either direct to you or to the Comptroller of the Currency, $$ 5,000$ additional bonds for account of the same bank.

Awaiting your confirmation, we remain,
Very truly, yours,

National City Bank, New York, February 7, 1908.

Mr. M. E. Alles, Vice President, The Riggs National Bank, Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir: It might be of interest to you to know that since our recent accounting to the Riggs National of long 4s held by us in joint account, we have sold $$ 390,500$ additional bonds at the average flat price of 118.07 . This is about $1 / 16$ of $1 \%$ above the quotation at which we figured the prospective profit. We still have $$ 564,000$ of - the bonds in the joint account.

Very truly, yours,

THE FOLLOWING LETTER FROM THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY TO THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY, DATED JUNE 9, 1914, WAS PRINTED AS EXHIBIT " $H$ " TO THE AFFIDAVIT AND ANSWER OF HON. WILLIAM G. Mcadoo, secretary of tee treasury, in tere riggs BANK INJUNOTION SUIT:

> Comptroller of the Currency,
> Washington, June $9,1914$.

Dear Mr. Secretary: Referring to my letter of the 14th ultimo, regarding the status of the Riggs National Bank and that bank's application for a special deposit of District funds, I now beg leave to hand you with this an analysis showing the loans made by all the national banks in the city of Washington as of March 4, 1914.

From this statement you will observe that of the loans of the Riggs National Bank but little more than 25 per cent are made on commercial paper, while approximately 75 per cent of their loans are made on bonds and stocks.

The Commercial National Bank, which in the amount of money loaned ranks next to the Riggs, is lending only 37 per cent of its loans on bonds and stocks and 63 per cent on commercial paper, etc.

The bank ranking next in the amount of money loaned is the National Bank of Washington, which has 47 per cent of its loans on bonds and stocks and 53 per cent on commercial paper, etc.

The examiner advises this office that Mr. Glover, the president of the Riggs National Bank, has for some years past kept a special account in the bank to cover his operations and deals in real estate, from which he has been collecting commissions on real estate loans ${ }^{1}$ which he has been placing for depositors of the bank, the commissions going personally to Mr. Glover. This department is not advised as to whether or not the board of directors were all informed that Mr. Glover was collecting personally these commissions at the same time that he was drawing a salary of $$ 25,000$ per annum from the bank.

The bank examiner informs me that on the 17th of April the real estate account heretofore carried in Glover's name was transferred to the name of W. J. and H. H. Flather, and since that time the deals and operations have been conducted in their name and the commissions collected by them and appropriated for their personal benefit.

I also understand that President Glover and Vice President Flather are both members of the stock exchange, and that the two Flathers, especially, have been and are conducting a brokerage business, charging commissions on the purchase and sale of stocks. It [^28]appears that the bonds and stocks which are thus brought and sold, and the customers for whom the bonds and stocks are being purchased, are being carried by the bank, with whom the Flathers arrange the loans. The two Flathers appear as borrowers of money personally from the Riggs National Bank to the extent of $$ 127,300$, secured by divers bonds and stocks, and nearly all of the assets of the bank have been loaned out on bond and stock collateral, not on commercial paper and not for the promotion of the commercial interests of the city and the advancement of its industries and general business.

There are, however, some large loans in the bank based on local public-utility stocks, such as gas company, street railway company, etc., and there is one loan in the bank for about $$ 170,000$, which has been there, to a greater or less extent, for more than 10 years past, which was made to a former Member of Congress, and which is secured largely by the shares of a street railway company. The former Congressman to whom this loan is made was at one time, I understand, a member of the District Committee of the House, but this I have not yet verified, and I understand that a consolidation of the street car lines took place while he was in Congress.

It is believed that such operations as are being carried on by Mr. Glover and the vice president and cashier of this bank are directly in violation of the provisions of the Federal reserve act.

The Riggs National Bank has been subjected to frequent criticisms by this department for the past 10 years for various irregularitics, but the admonitions of the department have been persistently ignored, the bank feeling, apparently, secure and immune from drastic action on the part of the powers that were.

In April, 1904, Comptroller Ridgely called the attention of the bank to 10 loans, aggregating about $$ 2,000,000$, all excessive. At the same time, he said to them:
"You are again reminded that the stocks of other corporations, which were acquired as investments, should be disposed of, as such investments can not be lawfully made by a national bank.
"The examiner reports 46 loans, aggregating $$ 134,402.65$, for which real estate notes are held as collateral. You are again reminded that it is unlawful for a national bank to make loans of this character, and and such loans should be disposed of and the practice of making them discontinued.
"The examiner also reports the purchase and sale of stocks, bonds, etc., on commission. As heretofore advised, it is ultra vires of a national bank to engage in this business, and this practice should also be discontinued."

About six months later the Comptroller again called attention to eight excessive loans which had been the subject of criticism at the previous examination in April, aggregating about $$ 2,000,000$, which were still being unlawfully carried, and in repeating the instructions which had been given in April, said:
"The stock purchased as an investment by your bank should be disposed of, as it is unlawful for a national bank to purchase stock of other corporations as an investment. As heretofore advised, the bank exceeds its corporate powers in the purchase and sale of stocks, bonds, etc., on commission. This business is evidenced by the character of cash items, and the books of the bank which show commissions on sales and purchases of stocks and bonds, as well as on real estate loans negotiated. It is ultra vires of a national bank to traffic in stocks and bonds by buying and selling such securities on commission.
"The items of stock purchased on account of customers, and interest due on demand loans, now carried in cash-items account, should be transferred to the proper accounts without delay, and this use of cash items should be discontinued.
"Loans aggregating $$ 99,052.65$ are secured by real estate notes. These loans should be disposed of, as it is unlawful for a national bank to make loans on or to discount paper secured directly or indirectly by real estate.
"There was a deficiency of $$ 131,985$ in that portion of the lawful money reserve required to be kept on hand. In this connection attention is called to section 5191, U. S. R. S."

The bank persistently disregarded the instructions of the Comptroller, and therefore, in May, 1905, the Comptroller wrote as follows: "The following loans are excessive and should be reduced to the limit prescribed by section 5200, U.S. R. S.," giving a list of 8 or 10 loans, aggregating about $$ 2,000,000$, which the bank had been warned against in April, 1904. In this lotter the bank was again admonished as to its deficiency in reserve, and the Deputy Comptroller said:
"You are again reminded that the stocks of other corporations acquired by the bank as investments should be disposed of, as such investments can not be lawfully made by a national bank."

It was again warned as to the 49 loans secured by real estate notes, carried improperly. It was also warned as to lending money on the bank's own stock.

Again, in December, 1905, the Comptroller wrote as follows: "The following loans are excessive and should be reduced to the limit prescribed by section 5200, U. S. R. S." Then followed a list of the same loans complained of during the previous three examinations, aggregating about $$ 2,000,000$. The Comptroller said:
"With two exceptions, these accounts were all excessive at the time of the prceeding examination. You were then required to reduce them to the legal limit. They remain practically the same as before.

The accommodation extended Geo. T. Dunlop is not only excessive, but is out of proportion to the capital of your bank. They should all be reduced to the lawful limit without unnecessary delay.
"Effort should be continued to dispose of the 59 loans which are secured by real estate notes held as collateral, as it is unlawful for a national bank to make loans on or to purchase paper secured by real estate in any form.
"It is noted that a large number of shares of various corporations are still carried. These should be disposed of as soon as possible, as it is unlawful for a national bank to invest in the shares of stock of other corporations."

On June 6, 1906, the Deputy Comptroller again wrote the bank, calling attention to the excessive loans which had been complained of more than two years before and at each examination since that time. He also said:
"The stocks of the Columbia Title Insurance Co., Pennsylvania Telegraph Co., People's Insurance Co., and the Real Estate Insurance Co., heretofore carried by the bank in bonds, securities, claims, etc., appear to be still owned by the bank in the form of collateral for a loan of $$ 11,039.88$ to one of the employees of the bank. The transfer of these securities to loans and discounts is not a disposition of these stocks. They should be restored to the account of bonds, securities, claims, etc., and be so carried until regularly disposed of.
"Efforts to dispose of the loans secured by real estate should be continued. In this connection you are referred to office letter of December 1, 1905."

On June 24, 1908, Deputy Kane wrote as follows:
"The lawful money reserve was deficient $$ 94,640$ on the day the examination commenced, but is reported to have been made good the following day. The lawful reserve should be maintained at all times.
"Fourteen loans are reported as secured by real estate notes as collateral. You are again reminded that the loans secured by real estate must be disposed of and the practice of acquiring such assets should be discontinued, as it is unlawful for a national bank to make loans on or discount paper secured by real estate in any form."

Comptroller Murray came in in September, 1908, and for the next several years, under his administration, the bank appears to have been allowed to do largely as they pleased, and few or no letters of admonition and warning were written.

At the time of the first examination under the present administration the bank was found to be carrying $\$ 24,278$ of cash items, representing largely bonds and stocks bought for customers. The bank had been running below the reserve requirements for the preceding 30 days. Vice Presidents Flather and Ailes and Cashier Flather were $63367^{\circ}$-cur 1916-vol 2-65 borrowing from the bank something in excess of $\$ 200,000$, and President Glover was borrowing $\$ 54,000$. The total loans to directors aggregated about $\$ 600,000$.

At the time of the October, 1913, examination the bank was carrying irregular items as cash items, $$ 55,572$, which it claimed were represented by stock purchased for customers and carried in cash instead of being charged to their personal accounts. The bank had at that time $$ 23,344$ of overdrafts, including $$ 6,652$ to Mrs. C. C. Glover. The bank's reserve on the date of this examination was deficient.

The report of the national-bank examiner made in May, 1914, shows a great improvement in the matter of the irregular practices previously complained of. Its funds, however, were still being loaned on bond and stock collateral, rather than on commercial paper, and the bank had more than its reserve on hand. There was also an improvement in the matter of everdrafts.

Sincerely, yours,
(Signed) J. S. Williams.

Exhibit C.

REPORT OF FEDERAL RESERVE AGENTS ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO NATIONAL BANK ACT.

The following is a copy of a report submitted by a committee of Federal reserve agents to all the Federal reserve agents on the subject of changes which it might seem desirable to make in the national bank act to enable national banks to compete more freely with State banks and trust companies.

The report was as follows:

St. Lovis, August 9, 1916.

At the third conference of Federal reserve agents, held in Washington, a committee was appointed to compare the national bank act with the laws under which State banks and trust companies are incorporated and operated in the different States, for the purpose of recommending amendments to the national-bank act, so that national banks would not suffer from competition with State institutions.

At this conference a preliminary report was made by this conmittee, which you will find set out on pages 243 to 249 , inclusive, of volume 3 , covering the proceedings of the third conference. This preliminary report was based on a comparison of the national-banking laws with the laws of 38 States. Since that time digests have been received covering the remaining States, but an examination of them does not change the findings in the preliminary report in any material respects.

In that preliminary report it was suggested:
(1) That no change should be made in the minimum amount of capital stock requirement to put national banks on a parity with the banks in some States, which are allowed under the State laws to have a capital of less than $$ 25,000$.
(2) That the tendency of the legislatures in the different States is to make the State banking laws conform more nearly to the national-bank act, and that the greatest divergence is found in those States where banking supervision has been least highly developed.
(3) That it is probably not wise to make any change in the reserve requirements of national banks, particularly as to the method of hoiding reserves, to make the nationalbanking laws conform to the State banking laws.
(4) That the majority of State banks are allowed to loan money on real estate as security. The Federal reserve act has met this situation by permitting under certain limitations, national banks located outside of central reserve cities, to loan on real estate
(5) That it hardly seems wise to change the limitation of liability of a national bank to any one firm, person, or corporation, from 10 per cent. In this connection it was suggested that consideration might be given to enlarging this limitation by limiting the anount loaned to 10 per cent on unsecured paper and allow a larger limit on secured loans.
(6) It was shown that some States allow domestic acceptances, and it was suggested that national banks should be given this same right. An amendment to this effect has been proposed by the Federal Reserve Board.
(7) It was suggested that it might be well to give national banks the right in specific terms to operate safe-deposit departments and bond departments.

It was further suggested that a comparison of the national banking laws with the State banking laws indicated that good banking principles required not so much an amendment to the national banking laws to make them conform to the State banking laws, as an amendment to many of the State banking laws to make them conform more nearly to the national banking laws, and that the enlargement of the national bankinglaws would have to be considered more from the standpoint of experience and the regurrements of the community than from the viewpoint of our present State banking laws. In this connection, it is well for us to bear in mind the steps that have already been taken, or are proposed to be taken, for the enlargement of national bank power since the enactment of the Federal reserve act.

ADDITIONAL POWERS GIVEN.

(1) Under section 11, subsection K , of the Federal reserve act, such steps are taken as seem possible under the law to grant to national banks the right to act as trustee, executor, etc., thus giving the national banks the right to exercise trust company powers.
(2) Under the Federal reserve act, national banks are allowed to accept drafts based on imports or exports.
(3) By the Federal reserve act, banks not located in central reserve cities, under certain restrictions, are given the right to loan money on improved farm land.

POWERS PROPOSED TO BE GIVEN.

Certain recommendations for amending the national bank act, so as to give national banks enlarged powers, have been proposed by the Federal reserve board:
(1) That they should be permitted to hold stock in banks organized for the special purpose of doing a banking business in foreign countries.
(2) That national banks should be allowed to make domestic acceptances when such acceptances are secured by shipping documents or warehouse receipts, covering readily marketable commodities or against the pledge of goods actually sold.
(3) That national banks be granted the right to establish branch offices within the city, or within the county, in which they are located.
(4) That the right to make loans on real estate, conferred by the Federal reserve act upon national banks located outside of central reserve cities, be further enlarged by allowing such banks to make loans maturing within not over one year on improved real estate located anywhere within a radius of 100 miles of the place of business. The territory for farm loans is also to be extended to lands located within a hundredmile radius of the location of the bank.
In addition to the above, it has been recently suggested by the Comptroller of the Currency that country banks be given the right to act as insurance agents, and as broker or agent for others in making or procuring loans on real estate situated within 100 miles of the location of the bank.
Your committee believes that wherever it can be done consistent with good banking principles, national banks should be placed on a parity with State banks and trust companies. However, it goes without saying that proper banking standards must not be lowered to do a thing of this kind. As suggested in the preliminary report above referred to, it hardly seems that an examination of the State banking laws can furnish a basis for the enlargement of the powers of national banks, and that in many cases this would be a step back ward.

In the foregoing has been shown how the powers of national banks have been enlarged and how they are proposed to be further enlarged. The purpose of this letter is to ask that, as soon as you conveniently can, you write a letter addressed to the chairman of this committee expressing your views as to whether there are other powers than those proposed that should be given national banks to put them on a parity with the State banks and trust companies of your district. It is suggested that your board of directors might be able to make valuable recommendations.

It will be a help to the committee if you can consider this question and send in a reply on or before September 15.

Respectfully,

Charles M. Safyer.
Frederic H. Curtiss.
William McC. Martin, Chairman.

The gentlemen named above are the Federal reserve agents of the Federal reserve banks of Kansas City, of Boston, and of St. Louis, fespectively.

DUTIES AND LIABILITIES OF DIRECTORS OF NATIONAL BANKS and member banks of THe federal reserve system.

Sections of the United States Revised Statutes (Nattonal Bank and Federal Reserve Acts) which Define Certain Duties of Directors of National Banis and Member Banks and Prescribe Penalties for Neglect of such Duties.
(Sec. 5145.) The affairs of each association shall be managed by not less than five directors, who shall be elected by the shareholders at a meeting to be held at any time before the association is authorized by the Comptroller of the Currency to commence the business of banking; and afterward at meetings to be held on such day in January of each year as is specified therefor in the articles of association. The directors shall hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and have qualified.
(Sec. 5146.) Every director must, during his whole term of service, be a citizen of the United States, and at least three-fourths of the directors must have resided in the State, Territory, or District in which the association is located, for at least one year immediately preceding their election, and must be residents therein during their continuance in office. Every director must own, in his own right, at least ten shares of the capital stock of the association of which he is a director unless the capital of the bank shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars, in which case he must own in his own right at least five shares of such capital stock. Any director who ceases to be the owner of the required number of shares of the stock, or who becomes in any other manner disqualified, shall thereby vacate his place.
(Sec. 5147.) Each director, when appointed or elected, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such association, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of this title, and that he is the owner in good faith, and in his own right, of the number of shares of stock required by this title, subscribed by him, or standing in his name on the books of the association, and that the same is not hypothecated, or in any way pledged, as security for any loan or debt. Such oath, subscribed by the director making it, and certified by the officer before whom it is taken, shall be immediately transmitted to the Comptroller of the Currency, and shall be filed and preserved in his office.
(Sec. 5148.) Any vacancy in the board shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors, and any director so appointedshall hold his place until the next election.
(Sec. 5200.) The total liabilities to any association, of any person, or of any company, corporation, or firm for money borrowed, including, in the liabilities of a company or firm, the liabilities of the several members thereof, shall at no time exceed one-tenth part of the amount of the capital stock of such association actually paid in and unimpaired and one-tenth part of its unimpaired surplus fund: Provided, however, That the total of such liabilities shall in no event exceed thirty per centum of the capital stock of the association. But the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same, shall not be considered as money borrowed.
(Sec. 19, F. R. A., as amended Aug. 15, 1914.) If a State bank or trust company is required or permitted by the law of its State to keep its reserves either in its own vaults or with another State bank or trust company or with a national bank, such reserve deposits so kept in such State bank, trust company, or national bank shall be construed within the meaning of this section as if they were reserve deposits in a national bank in a reserve or central reserve city for a period of three years after the Secretary of the Treasury shall have officially announced the establishment of a Federal reserve bank in the district in which such State bank or trust company is situate. Except as thus provided, no member bank shall keep on deposit with any nonmember bank a sum in excess of ten per centum of its own paid-up capital and surplus. No member bank shall act as the medium or agent of a nonmember bank in applying for or receiving discounts from a Federal reserve bank under the provisions of this act except by permission of the Federal Reserve Board.
(Sec. 5199.) The directors of any association may, semiannually, declare a dividend of so much of the net profits of the association as they shall judge expedient; but each association shall, before the declaration of a dividend, carry one-tenth part of its net profits of the preceding half year to its surplus fund until the same shall amount to twenty per centum of its capital stock.
(Sec. 5204.) No association, or any member thereof, shall, during the time it shall continue its banking operations, withdraw, or permit to be withdrawn, either in the form of dividends or otherwise, any portion of its capital. If losses have at any time been sustained by any such association, equal to or exceeding its undivided profits then on hand, no dividend shall be made; and no dividend sliall ever be made by any association, while it continues its banking operations, to an amount greater than its net profits then on hand, deducting therefrom its losses and bad debts. All debts due to any association, on which interest is past due and unpaid for a period of six months, unless the same are well secured, and in process of collection, shall be considered bad debts within the meaning of this section. But nothing in this section shall prevent the reduction of the capital stock of the association under section fifty-one hundred and forty-three.
(Sec. 5239.) If the directors of any national banking association shall knowingly violate, or knowingly permit any of the officers, agents, or servants of the association to violate any of the provisions of this title, all the rights, privileges, and franchises of the association shall be thereby forfeited. Such violation shall, however, be determined and adjudged by a proper circuit, district, or Territorial court of the United States, in a suit brought for that purpose by the Comptroller of the Currency, in his own name, before the association shall be declared dissolved. And in cases of such violation, every director who participated in or assented to the same shall be held liable in his personal and individual capacity for all damages which the association, its shareholders, or any other person shall have sustained in consequence of such violation.
(Sec. 5209.) Every president, director, cashier, teller, clerk, or agent of any association, who embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or credits of the association; or who, without authority from the directors, issues or puts in circulation any of the notes of the association; or who, without such authority, issues or puts forth any certificate of deposit, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, assigns any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree; or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of the association, with intent, in either case, to injure or defraud the association or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer of the association, or any agent appointed to examine the affairs of any such association; and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, clerk, or agent in any violation of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned not less than five years nor more than ten.
(Sec. 22, F. R. A.) No member bank or any officer, director, or employee thereof shall hereafter make any loan or grant any gratuity to any bank examiner. Any bank officer, director, or employee violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not exceeding one year or fined not more than $$ 5,000$, or both; and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given. Any examiner accepting a loan or gratuity from any bank examined by him or from an officer, director, or employee thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not exceeding one year or fined not more than $$ 5,000$, or both; and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given; and shall forever thereafter be disqualified from holding office as a national-bank examiner. No national-bank examiner shall perform any other service for compensation while holding such office for any bank or officer, director, or employee thereof.

Other than the usual salary or director's fee paid to any officer, director, or employee of a member bank and other than a reasonable fee paid by said bank to such officer, director, or employee for services rendered to such bank, no officer, director, employeo, or attorney of a member bank shall be a beneficiary of or receive, directly or indirectly, any fee, commission, gift, or other consideration for or in connection with any transaction or business of the bank. No examiner, public or private, shall disclose the names of borrowers or the collateral for loans of a member bank to other than the proper officers of such bank without first having obtained the express permission in writing from the Comptroller of the Currency, or from the board of directors of such bank, except when ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction, or by direction of the Congress of the United States, or of either House thereof, or any committee of Congress or of either House duly authorized. Any person violating any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $$ 5,000$ or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

Except as provided in existing laws, this provision shall not take effect until sixty days after the passage of this act.

ACT APPROVED JANUARY 20, 1907.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Represenatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be unlawful for any national bank, or any corporation organized by authority of any laws of Congress, to make a money contribution in connection with any election to any political office. It shall also be unlawful for any corporation whatever to make a money contribution in connection with any election at which presidential and vice presidential electors or a Representative in Congress is to be voted for or any election by any State legislature of a United States Senator. Every corporation which shall make any contribution in violation of the foregoing provisions shall be subject to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, and every officer or director of any corporation who shall consent to any contribution by the corporation in violation of the foregoing provisions shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not exceeding one thousand and not less than two hundred and fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for a term of not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. sections of "an act to supplement existiva latws agadnst unla wfut restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes," approved october 15, 1914, as amended may $15,1916$.

Sec. 8. That from and after two years from the date of the approval of this act no person shall at the same time be a director or other officer or employee of more than one bank, banking association, or trust company, organized or operating under the laws of the United States; either of which has deposits, capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating more than $$ 5,000,000$; and no private banker or person who is a director in any bank or trust company, organized and operating under the laws of a State, having deposits, capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating more than $$ 5,000,000$, shall be eligible to be a director in any bank or banking association organized or operating under the laws of the United States. The eligibility of a director, officer, or employee under the foregoing provisions shall be determined by the average amount of deposits, capital, surplus, and undivided profits as shown in the official statements of such bank, banking association, or trust company filed as provided by law during the fiscal year next preceding the date set for the annual election of directors, and when a director, officer, or employee has been elected or selected in accordance with the provisions of this act it shall be lawful for him to continue as such for one year thereafter under said election or employment.

No bank, banking association, or trust company organized or operating under the laws of the United Statess in any city or incorporated town or village of more than two hundred thousand inhabitants, as shown by the last preceding decennial census of the United States, shall have as a director or other officer or employee any private banker or any director or other cfficer or employee of any other bank, banking association, or trust, company located in the same place: Provided, That nothing in this section shall apply to mutual savings banks not having a capital stock represented by shares: Provided further, That a director or other officer or employee of such bank, banking association, or trust company may be a director or other officer or employee of not more than one other bank or trust company organized under the laws of the United States or any State where the entire capital stock of one is owned by stockholders in the other: And provided further, That nothing contained in this section shall forbid a director of class A of a Federal reserve bank, as defined in the Federal reserve act, from being an officer or director, or both an officer and director, in one member bank: And provided further, That nothing in this act shall prohibit any officer, director, or employee of any member bank or class A director of a Federal reserve bank who shall first procure the consent of the Federal Reserve Board, which board is hereby authorized, at its discretion, to grant, withhold, or revoke such consent, from being an officer, director, or employee of not more than two other banks, banking associations, or trust companies, whether organized under the laws of the United States or any State, if such other bank, banking association, or trust company is not in substantial competition with such member bank.

The consent of the Federal Reserve Board may be procured before the person applying therefor has been elected as a class A director of a Federal reserve bank or as a director of any member bank.

That from and after two years from the date of the approval of this act no person at the same time shall be a director in any two or more corporations, any one of which has capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating more than $$ 1,000,000$, engaged in whole or in part in commerce, other than banks, banking associations, trust companies, and common carriers subject to the act to regulate commerce, approved February fourth, eighteen hundred and eightyseven, if such corporations are or shall have been theretofore, by virtue of their business and location of operation, competitors, so that the elimination of competition by agreement between them would constitute a violation of any of the provisions of any of the antitrust laws. The eligibility of a director under the foregoing provision shall be determined by the aggregate amount of the capital, surplus, and undivided profits, exclusive of dividends declared but not paid to stockholders, at the end of the fiscal year of said corporation next preceding the election of directors, and when a director has been elected in accordance with the provisions of this act it shall be lawful for him to continue as such for one year thereafter.

When any person elected or chosen as a director or officer or selected as an employee of any bank or other corporation subject to the provisions of this act is eligible at the time of his election or selection to act for such bank or other corporation in such capacity his eligibility to act in such capacity shall not be affected and he shall not become or be deemed amenable to any of the provisions hereof by reason of any change in the affairs of such bank or other corporation from whatsoever cause, whether specifically excepted by any of the provisions hereof or not, until the expiration of one year from the date of his election or employment.

Sec. 11. That authority to enforce compliance with sections two, three, seven, and eight of this act by the persons respectively subject thereto is hereby vested: In the Interstate Commerce Commission where applicable to common carriers, in the Federal Reserve Board where applicable to banks, banking associations and trust companies, and in the Federal Trade Commission where applicable to all other character of commerce, to be exercised as follows:

CIVIL LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS.

Decisions of the Federal Courts as to the Nature and Extent of the Civil Liability of Directors of National Banks.

Under the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States in Thomas $v$. Taylor ( 224 U. S., 73) and of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Chesbrough et al. v. Woodworth (195 Fed. Rep., 875), when the Comptroller of the Currency has notified directors to collect or charge off certain assets it is a warning that those assets are doubtful, and to disregard such a notice and represent the assets in a statement to be good is a violation of law and renders the directors making the statement liable for damages to one deceived thereby.

The Circuit Court of Appeals in the latter case held that while the duty of charging off such worthless paper was that of the board of directors as an entity, and in such matter the board had a reasonable discretion, yet when the duty existed and was wholly unperformed an individual director who is engaged generally in the performance of his functions may be personally liable because of his participation in the failure to act by failing to make reasonable personal efforts to induce the proper action.

In the case referred to (Chesbrough et al. v. Woodworth) the plaintiff bought stock in the bank in reliance upon a false report of its condition and had suffered damage thereby. He was held to have a right of action against any officer or director who knowing its falsity had authorized such a report. The court held that the measure of the plaintiff's recovery would be the difference in the fair valuation of his stock if all of the paper had been of a character entitling it to be reported as assets and that sum which would have been a fair minimum valuation if the directors in the exercise of due care and good faith had charged off the books and not reported so much of the paper as they knew or had good reason to believe was not good and collectible.

LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS FOR MISMANAGEMENT.

The Supreme Court of the United States has held (Briggs $v$. Spaulding, 141 U. S., 132) that directors of a national bank must exercise ordinary care and prudence in the administration of the affairs of a bank, and this includes something more than officiating as figureheads. They are entitled under the law to commit the banking business, as defined, to their duly authorized officers; but this does not absolve them from the duty of reasonable supervision, nor ought they to be permitted to be shielded from liability because of want of knowledge of wrongdoing, if that ignorance is the result of gross inattention.

It was further held in the same case that the degree of care required of directors of corporations depends upon the subject to which it is to be applied, and each case is to be determined in view of all the circumstances; that the directors of a corporation are not insurers of the fidelity of the agents whom they appoint and they can not be held responsible for losses resulting from the wrongfui .cts or omissions of other directors or agents unless the loss is a consequence of their own neglect of duty.

The United States Circuit Court held (Rankin v. Cooper et al., 149 Fed. Rep., 1010) that it is the duty of directors of a national bank to exercise reasonable control and supervision over its affairs, and to use ordinary care and diligence in ascertaining the condition of its business, which is such care as an ordinarily prudent and diligent man would exercise in view of all the circumstances; and that where the directors of a national bank became aware, through the report of a committee of their number, and also by notices sent them individually by the Comptroller of the Currency, that the bank had been making excessive loans to its president and to other persons, firms, and corporations with which he was associated, but took no effective steps to reduce such loans, or to prevent their increase, which continued until the bank became insolvent, they will be held jointly and severally liable for all losses which the bank sustained through subsequent transactions, and which could have been preverited by a proper discharge of their duties.

The United States Circuit Court has held (Witters, Receiver, etc., $v$. Sowles et al., 31 Fed. Rep., 1) that under Revised Statutes, section 5200 , directors of a national bank who make or assent to the making of a loan to any one person of a sum exceeding the legal limit become personally and individually liable for all loss sustained thereby; but where the borrower in such a case is also one of the directors he is not so liable, but simply as a debtor to the bank.
