REPORT

Comptroller of the Currency

> Treasury Departarent, Office of tie Comptroller of the Curbency, Washington, Decomber 1, 1924.

Sir: In campliance with the provision of section 333 of the United States Revised Statutes, I have the honor to submit the following annual report covering activities of the Currency Bureau in the year ended October 31, 1924. This is the sixty-second report made to the Congress since the organization of the bureau.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Measured by the volume of clearing-house transactions and the resources of the banks, National and State, the business of the country reached the maximum in 1920. In that year clearings exceeded $$ 464,000,000,000$. Then followed the period of business readjustment, incidentally and necessarily attended by liquidations resulting in failures, corporate and private. The upward turn is shown in the amount of clearings, three hundred and seventy-seven billions in 1922, increasing to three hundred and eighty-one billions in 1923, and advancing to $$ 438,000,000,000$ in 1924 . The volume of bank assets have correspondingly increased, now standing at $$ 57,144,690,000$, as compared with $$ 53,079,108,000$ in 1920.

While more banks, State and National, suspended or failed during the past year than in any one year since the inauguration of the national banking system, national banks generally withstood the strain and continue to maintain an outstanding influence in the financial system of the country. Their resources on June 30, 1924, were equal to 39.49 per cent of the total resources of all reporting banks, their paid-in capital represented 42.84 per cent of reported capital, and their aggregate deposits were 38.47 per cent of the total deposits as compared with 38.20 per cent in 1923.

EARNINGS, LOANS, AND INVESTMENTS OF NATIONAL BANKS

The gross earnings of national banks in the fiscal year ended June 30 , 1924, aggregated $$ 1,074,559,000$, and show a gain in the year of $$ 25,151,000$. After payment of all expenses and charging off miscellaneous losses, the latter being partly offset by recoveries on charged-off assets, the net addition to the profits in the year amounted to $$ 195,706,000$, out of which dividends were declared to the amount of $$ 163,683,000$.

The loans and discounts of these banks were increased $$ 161,057,000$ in the past year and investments in United States Government bonds and other miscellaneous bonds and securities were $$ 72,625,000$ greater than a year ago. Despite the increase in loans and discounts, the amount of losses charged off on bad paper in the year was only eighty-six one-hundredths of 1 per cent of the total loans and discounts, and the amount of losses charged off on account of depreciation of bonds and securities was only forty-eight one-hundredths of 1 per cent of the total bonds and securities.

Legislation recommended

Under the provisions of the national bank act, the Comptroller of the Currency is required to report to Congress any amendments to the banking laws which may, in his opinion, effect an improvement in the banking system. Pursuant to this injunction the Comptroller of the Currency, in the summer of 1923, requested his associates in the bureau to submit to him any modifications in the national banking laws which they felt would be in the interests of the country's business and of banking in general.

The supervision of the national banks is divided into 12 districts, corresponding to the Federal reserve districts, and a district chief national bank examiner is in charge respectively of all of the examiners and assistant examiners. These chief examiners were instructed to discuss this matter with all of their subordinates and, as extensively as they were able, to consult and advise with the bankers of their districts and to have their subordinate examiners do so and report to them. As a result of this a very general expression was obtained from bankers operating in every section of the country as well as from the experts charged with the immediate supervision of the banks.

An analysis of the suggestions received resulted in a remarkable unanimity as to the provisions which required modification in the old laws, and as to recommendations for amendments necessary to meet modern conditions which could not have been contemplated at the time the original laws were enacted. After these recommendations had been digested to such an extent as to assume a reasonably concrete form the Comptroller of the Currency again submitted them for suggestions to the bankers of the country in a very general way, and finally, in the latter part of 1923, Mr. Charles W. Collins, deputy comptroller, formulated these principles into legislative form for presentation to the Congress. This tentative draft was submitted to bankers of every class and section of the United States, and the finest legal and banking talent obtainable gave it the most painstaking study and consideration. After further revision, this draft, with supporting data section by section, was submitted to the Banking and Currency Committees of the House and Senate.

These suggested amendments were given exhaustive study by the members of the Banking and Currency Committees of both Houses, and almost identical bills embodying many of thom were respectively reported out and are now pending (H. R. 8887 and S. 3316).

It has seemed bost to give this somewhat detailed information as to the steps which were taken, and the expert advice which was secured, in order to establish the fact that no phase of banking, no commercial, agricultural, or governmental interest was ignored or forgotten in the recommendations for legislation herewith formally submitted. Particular attention was paid to modifications and changes in section 5200 of the Revised Statutes, which will materially increase the facility and safety with which national banks can handle the great staple commoditics. This is a matter which goes far beyond the simple technique of banking, and if successfully accomplished will aid greatly in the movement and financing of seasonal products.

BRANCH BANKING

In recent years there has been no subject in connection with banking which has been more bitterly disputed than that of branch banking. In the report of the Comptroller of the Currency for 1923 considerable space was devoted to a discussion of the general principle of branch banking as applied to American conditions.

It does not appear nccessary to repeat the arguments previously made, but a reference to the points emphasized in the last report may be made at this time. Bofore summarizing these arguments it would be well to say that in using the term "branch banking" reference is made to a form of banking by which a parent institution owns, controls, and operates subsidiary institutions, called branches, in other municipalities than that of the parent institution. The elemental difference between unit banking and branch banking is based on the fact that in unit banking the residents of a community are afforded banking facilities by residents of the same community, while in the case of branch banking nonresidents control the banking. In the one case it is local control, and in the other absentee control.

The points developed in the previous report referred to were:
First, That branch banking is opposed to public policy as being in its essence monopolistic.

Second, That branch banking is absentee banking, and is conducted for the sole purpose of earning dividends for the stockholders rather than of service to the community.

Third, That with the development of large chains of branch banks the responsibility for the mobilization and transfer of funds would rest with individuals whose prime motive would be personal profit. The resources of banks are, in a large measure, the trust funds of a community, and the conditions which justify the transfor of funds from one community to another should be passed upon and the action controlled by disinterested governmental authority, removed from the influence of personal profit. This is the function of the Federal reserve banks.

Fourth, Branch banking is particularly inconsistent with the American idea of local self-government and Federal coordination. The banking system of the United States as at present constituted is closely analogous to the governmental structure. Under the Federal reserve system local independent units are coordinated, while branch banking proposes that they should be consolidated.

Fifth, As a direct result of absentee control the human element and moral responsibility of the creditor would necessarity be largely eliminated. Absentee control must obviously be exerted through employees governed by rigid rules, operating under the most limited discretion. Undea such conditions a bank would eventually degenerate into a glorified pawnshop, from which collateral had excluded character as an element in credit.

It may seem paradoxical to make the statement that an overwhelming majority of bankers of the United States are opposed to the prineiple of branch banking, and at the same time concede that branch banking is a highly controversial subject. The explanation of the confusion is very simple and rests upon a similarity in physical aspects between a type of local facility offered by certain city banks to their customers and real branch banking, which is absentee banking.

In certain of the larger cities of the United States topographical conditions and changes in city structure, lack of parking facilities, etc., have made it difficult for outlying customers of a bank to reach the banking house. As a result, in some States, laws have been passed which permit the establishment by a single institution of offices and facilities located in different sections of a single city. While there is a difference of opinion as to whether this is a desirable development, it should be constantly borne in mind that the basic principle of absentee control is not involved.

The question as to whether national banks may be granted the opportunity to meet the competition of State banks, in intracity banking, in my opinion, involves the question of the perpetuation of the national banking system. Without at length repeating the statements made in the last report of the Comptroller of the Currency, I desire to cite the situation which prevails in the city of Cleveland, which had at the last census a population of 796,841 , with only three national banks remaining in operation; the city of Dotroit, with a population of 993,678 , having only three national banks left; and the city of New Orloans, with a population of 387,219 , and with only one national bank remaining. I would also call attention to conditions which exist in New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and various othor large municipalities where the State banks are not confined in their operations to a single building. It is but natural that these national banks which do not wish to surrender their charters should advocate a method to meet this competition, and it is equally natural that, owing to the physical and mechanical similarity between this form of intracity banking and the facilities required by absenteo banking, opposition should have been created to legislation of this kind, due to the misconception that it was a step toward branch banking. During the last year discussion of this question has been particularly keen, and the indications seem to be very definite that the matter has been precipitated and clarified in the minds of bankers to such an extent that the elemental distinction between necessary local facilities to mont local conditions and branch banking has been sufficiently differentiated to permit of widespread support of an adjustment which will have the ultimate effeet of curbing, if not entirely preventing, the further spread of absentee banking, and at the same time permitting the national banks to adjust themselves to the competition of State institutions within the limits of a single municipality, which is the proper limit for a bank's direct activities.

A very large proportion of the bankers' associations, composed of both State and national banks, have given indorsement to the general principles which follow, and it seems reasonable to believe that an adjustment which does not involve a compromise on the part of any group has been reached by the banking fraternity of America which can be very simply and easily embodied into law. This adjustment, in its application, invokes the following principles:

First, that the National Government can enact no legislation for the control of State institutions, but that the State institutions would not care to engage in branch banking if it involved the cancellation of their membership in the Federal reserve systen.

Second, that it is perfectly feasible and simple to allow national banks, by Federal act, to mect the competition of the State banks within the limits of a single municipality, but to confine them rigidly to those cities where State banks are already carrying on such activities. This should be, and I believe is, entirely acceptable to most of the State banks. The city must be the unit to which the primary banking functions must be confined. County and state-wide branch bauking is absentee banking, and nation-wide branch banking is only an exaggerated type of the same thing. Such terins as economic spheres, finnncial zones, etc., are mere balderdash, given a different interpretation by every individual who uses them. The city is the natural unit for community endeavor. It is a clearly understandable and definite thing and the confines of a city are not now and never will be so large that personal contact between the banker and his clients can not be established either instantaneously by telephone or in a few moments by conreyance.
The recommendations for legislation which I propose in connection with branch banking may be analyzed as follows:
( 1 ) That no national bank shall be permitted to engage in any form of branch banking (except as below).
(B) That no State bank slaill be permitted to acquire additional branches after the date of the passage of the contemplated legishation and be eligible for or be permitted to retain membership in the Fedcral reserve system (except as below).

Exceptions:
(C) In States where State laws or practices permit the operation of branch banks by State banks, State banks may continue to establish branches within the limits of the municipality in which the parent institution is located and continue to be eligible for or retain their membership in the Federal reserve system. National banks may establish branches within the limits of the city of the parent bank, where banks chartered under the laws of the State exercise that privilege.
Nors.-Čnder (A) and (B) above, neither National nor State member banks may, under any circumstances, establish branehes beyond the limits of the city ofithe parent institution.
(D) State nonmember banks with branches may join the Federal reserve system and bring with them such branches as were established prior to the date of the passage of the bill.
(E) Should any State which does not now permit branch banking by law or practice, after the passage of this bill, enact legislation which will permit of the establishment of branches, the national banks shall not have their facilities extended by such legislation and State banks shall not be permitted to avail themselves of such privileges and retain or become eligible for membership in the Federal reserve system.

The practical effect of this legislation can be summarized by the statement that so far as the operations of members of the Federal reserve system are concerned further extension of branches beyond the limits of a single municipality is definitely prohibited, and both State and National members of the system will, in future extensions, be subject to the same limitation. No additional branch banking privileges will be given to the national banks except such as are confined to the limits of single cities, where State banks are already carrying on the practice.

It is my deliberate opinion that if the general extension of branch banking is not curbed within the Federal reserve system on the one hand, and if the national banks are not permitted equality within city limits on the other hand, defections from the national banking system will take place within a period of a very few years to such an extent as to reduce the national banking system to the position of an unimportant factor in the Nation's financial structure.

ELIMINATION OF DATE OF CHARTER EXPIRATION

Under the present law national bank charters are issued for a term of 99 years. Very frequently banks are offered trust business where the date of the expiration of the trust extends beyond the date of the expiration of the bank's charter. Representatives of these trusts, in many cases, have felt that it was imprudent to have the trust administered where such a condition existed. This has resulted in great embarrassment to all national banks which operate a trust department, and in many cases has resulted in the bank withdrawing from the national system, as very frequently this business is quite profitable and desirable to the bank. It is suggested, therefore, that the national bank act should provide that a national bank be permitted to operate under an indeterminate charter.

There has been some slight misconception as to the effect of this recommendation, in the belief that certain irrevocable privileges would be given in perpetuity if a perpetual charter were granted to a national bank. An indeterminate charter, however, is not a perpetual charter. No bank could exercise any rights under it which are not revocable at the will of Congress, and, furthermore, the charter would be subject to cancellation under the conditions of the act itself. Nll of the conditions which would justify the refusal by the Comptroller of the Currency to granting a new charter to any group in possession of an expiring charter would justify him in applying to the courts for cancellation of the charter of an operating bank if it were operating under an indeterminate charter.

LEGAL LOAN LIMIT TO ANY ONE PERSON

It is recommended that section 5200 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which governs the amount of money that a national bank can lend to any one person, be clarified and harmonized. This section as it now stands on the statute books is a composite of the original provision with a number of amendments which have been made by Congress from time to time. As originally enacted in 1864, it contained a straight limitation of 10 per cent of capital as the amount which any one person might borrow and only two exceptions were made-one in favor of bills of exchange and the other in favor of the discount of commercial or business paper. Later on an amendment increased the limitation to 10 per cent of capital and 10 per cent surplus. Other amendments have been made exempting from this basic limitation the discount of paper growing out of the production and shipment of goods and the marketing of agricultural products.

This provision of law covers perhaps the most vital operations of a bank, and Congress has recognized the necessity of adjusting its term to meet new conditions which grow out of the cconomic development of the country. The section as it now stands is very much in need of clarification and codification in order to remove the difficulties in the way of its interpretation and application by the Comptroller of the Currency, as well as by the banks themselres. The exceptions to the basic limitations are now capable of a varicty of constructions, when it is attempted to apply them to modern financial transactions and have caused more difficulty and embarrassment in their enforeement then any other provisions of the national bank act.

The proposed redraft of section 5200 makes a straightforward statement of the limitation governing the liability of any one person to a national bank. The amount is the same as in the present law, namely, 10 per cent of capital and surplus. This general statement is followed by nine exceptions. None of these exceptions announce any new governmental policy or make any substantial change from the existing law or practice. The wording of these exceptions is necessarily highly technical in character because it defines the legality of banking transactions growing out of complicated commercial procedure.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ISSUANCE OF CHARTERS FOR $$ 100,000$ CAPITAL TO BANES OPERATING IN OUTLYING DISTRICTS OF CITIES OVER 50,000 POPULATION

Under the present law a national bank can not incorporate in a city of over 50,000 population with a capital of less than $$ 200,000$. This provision was probably a wise one at the time the national bank act was passed, because at that time practically all large cities could be roughly divided into a large business section and a single residential section. On account of the growth of some cities and changed conditions, due to the introduction of automobiles and changes in transportation, community business centers have developed at various points through parts of cities that were formerly exclusively residential. The requirements in a banking way of these districts are practically identical with those of smaller indepondent municipalities. There is neeessity for banking lucilities without the requirements of as large a capital as $$ 200,000$. Inability to provide banking facilities on account of this $$ 200,000$ limitation has had a tendeney. to deprive these communities of banking facilitios and to promote the establishment of State rather than mational bank and to eqeato additional demands for beanch banks. It is consivtent with the general tendency of this bill to rastrict bench bunking that this alionative rolicf sloould bo provided. Such a provision woud be unobjectionable and in fact very adrantageous to permit the estabishment of banks with capital of $$ 100,000$ in these outlying distacts. The discretion as to the necessities of these outlying distacts and the definition of what is an ottying district should neeessarily be left with the comptroiler, as conditions vary so widoly in different sections that it is impossible to luy kown any delinite formula. It is cuite possible and has been adrocated by many that it would be wise to reluce this limitation on capitalization to 550,000 . The ubfortunate experience of the past year makes it undesirable to encourage the establishment of any more $$ 25,000$ banks than are already provided for by law.

PERMISSION FOR A NATIONAL BANK TO HOLD REAL ESTATE FOR A LOCATION

The word "immediate" should be omitted from section 5137 , United States Revised Statutes. This change is for the purpose of enabling a national bank to hold real estate purchased for a new location for its banking house until a convenient time for them to erect a building, without subjecting them to the real-estate provisions of the act.

STOCK DIVIDENDS

The ability to declare stock dividends is very much circumscribed under the present act. It is desirable in most cases for a national bank to have a high proportion of capital to its total capital and surplus. The total resources of the bank are not affected in this way, but the larger the proportion of capital the greater the capital liability of shareholders. In the case of a bank with $$ 100,000$ capital and $$ 100,000$ surplus, the protection for the creditors is $$ 300,000$, being the sum of these two items plus the stock liability. If $$ 75,000$ of the surplus were to be convertcd into capital the stock liability would bo incroased by that amount, making the total liability in the case cited above $$ 375,000$. This provision would also have the effect of equa!izing the national and State banking privileges. Thero is nothing new in this suggestion as it merely provides a more simple and direct way of doing an obviously proper thing.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

The establishment of a new officer with the title of "chairman of the board" is desirable. Under the present act, it is provided that one of the directors of a national bank shall be the president of the board. This suggested provision formally legalizes the office of chairman of the board, an oflice which has been created in a very considerable number of banks, largely for the purpose of defining a special class of duties. The office is not mado mandatory but is optional with the bank. In the greater number of banks, of course, the president would act in both capecitics.

Limitation of inabilities which mational bank may incur

It is recommended that section 5202 , Revised Statutes of the United States, bo amonded by providing a new exception to the provision which limits tho liabifitios whech a nation? bank may incur to the amout, of its capital stock. This exeptim was enacted in the apricuitural eredits act of March i, 1023, bet through a tepograplical error in the envoliment of the bil it was andered nul and red.' The linbilities here refered to edate to the discount of paper by the Federal intermediate credit batak for mationd banks. The seven exceptions in the existing law cover liabithtes for national bank notes: moner on deposit; bills of exchange oi dratts; liabilities to stockheders for dividends; lablitios incorred noder Fedematresere aet; liabilities incurred under War Financo corporation act: liabilities on indorsement of aceeptances payable abroad.

CFECE OERTLEICATION

Under the present regulations, it is illegal to certify a check until practically all of the entrics in connection with the deposits against which certification is to be made have been carried to the books of the bank. This sometimes requires a considerable length of time in the large banks aud the wording of the law should be changed to make it legal for the cashice to certify a check, before all of the final entries are completed, when he kuows that sufficient funds to cover it are in the possession of the bank.

AUTHORITY OF OFFICERS TO SIGN REPORTS

The board of directors of a national bank should be permitted to designate officers to sign reports in addition to the president and cashier as now required by section 5211, Revised Statutes of the United States, in order to prevent unnecessary delays in the forwarding of reports to the comptroller, due to the absence of the two officors now designated. This would still keep the matter of authority to sign these reports within the control of the board of directors.

REDISCOUNT LIMITATIONS ON FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

Section 13 of the Federal reserve ast relative to tho rediscount limitation upon the Federal reserve banks should be changed to conform to the exceptions provided in section 5200, Revised Statutes of the United States. The existing law provides that no Federal reserve bank may rediscount paper for a bank bearing the signature of any one borrower to an amount in excess of 10 per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank presenting the paper. Only one exception is made to this limitation and that is in favor of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actual existing values. If the paper is sound and safe enough to be exempt from the 10 per cent limitation of section 5200 for the purposes of the national banks, it is safe enough and sufficiently liquid in form to be accepted for rediscount by the Federal reserve banks. It should be borne in mind that, so far as the Federal reserve banks are concerned, this is a privilege which is optional and not compulsory upon them, the same as with any rediscounts. At the present time there is a considerable amount of commercial paper and notes secured by Government bonds and commodity paper of the class and nature handled by the Federal reserve banks that is excluded on account of the 10 per cent limitation. This debars the Federal- reserve banks from rendering a complete service to the community and to the member banks, which would be profitable to the Federal reserve banks as well as helpful to the country at large. This paper arises out of the various steps of production, transportation, and distribution of goods. A considerable quantity of agricultural, cattle, and other paper that this would make available for rediscount would be of precisely the same nature as that already handled and would be equally safe and equally liquid.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES

The safe-deposit business is a matter of more importance than might appear on the surface. Under the general theory that a national bank can not do anything for which it does not have specific authority of law, this right to operate safe-deposit business should be expressly granted. In addition to permitting the banks to engage directly in the safe-deposit business, they should be authorized to own stock in safe-deposit companies. This affords an easier method of financing the safe-deposit equipment and it further has the advantage over direct ownership of limiting the possible loss to the bank in case of suits of various kinds. Where they operate a safe-deposit business directly, of course, all of the assets of the bank are subject to claims for mishandling of the safe-deposit business. On the other hand, where stock is owned the value of the stock is the limit of the liability.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE AGAINST BANK EXAMINERS

A provision covering theft by national bank examiners seems to be obvious and advisable. Under the present law, a national bank examiner who is guilty of theft must be prosecuted under the laws of the State in which the act is committed, and this operation is subject to a great many hazards so far as effectiveness is concerned. This crime is a very rare occurrence, but when it does occur it is absolutely essential to the protection of the national banks that prosecution be had under Federal laws.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE FOR LIBELLING NATIONAL BANKS

A number of crimes against national banks should be punishable under Federal statutes which are now punishable only, if at all, under State laws. These provisions have been recommended by the national bank division of the American Bankers Association as well as by a number of bankers and State banking associations. Since the national banks and the Federal reserve system are Federal instrumentalities, it is thought proper that crimes against them should be punishable under the Federal laws.

REAL ESTATE LOANS

It is recommended that section 24 of the Federal reserve act which empowers national banks to make loans upon the security of improved real estate, be amendod to provide that the time limit for which a national bank may make a loan upon improved city property be increased from one year to five years. National banks should also be permitted to make such loans upon real estate to an aggregate amount not in excess of 50 per cent of their time deposits. Of all the numerous suggestions made to the office of the comptroller for revision of the national banking laws, on none has there been greater unanimity than on the suggestion for liberalizing the lending powers of national banks upon the security of real estate. From every section of the country, especially from banks located outside of the large cities, there is an insistent demand for the removal of the handicaps which the existing laws impose in this connection.

Section 24 prohibits a national bank from lending money upon first mortgage security upon city property for a longer period than one year and further limits the aggregate amount of such loans to a sum not in excess of one-third of the time deposits. The State banks and trust companies in active competition have no such limitations imposed upon them. A first mortgage upon improved city property is considered a very fine form of security. But real cstate loans are ordinarily made for a longer period than one year. If a national bank is prohibited fromı meeting the needs of its customers in this connection, the customer naturally will go to the State bank to borrow the money upon his real estate, and the State banks as a result will get his account and in many cases his entire commercial businoss. This is one of the severest forms of competition which the national banks outside of the large banking centers face to-day and it accounts in a large measure for the rapid growth of the trust companies in those localities and for the relative reduction of the resources of national banks.

The argument which is most generally advanced against having long-term real estate securities in national banks is that they are not readily convertible. This has been adduced against the removal of the one-year period for city real estate and the five-year period for country real estate. As a matter of fact, the probabilities are that if real estate is to be handled by the banks the liquidity would be greater if indefinite latitude as to time were granted. The banks would then handle most of their mortgage real estate loans in somewhat the same way they handle bonds which they sell. There is a well-established and definite market for real estate mortgages. This market does not cover mortgages of as short a term as one year, and, as a rule, the shortest term is five years. If the banks were able to carry these maturities of five years or over, they would then have the notes and mortgages in such condition that they could be disposed of to a wide clientele. A five-year mortgage is salable and convertible, whereas a one-year mortgage is not. On this account alone it is very possible that, instead of increasing the volume of frozen assets of banks, this longer period would produce greater liquidity and at the same time enable the banks to add very much to their services to their customers.

DEALING IN SECURITIES

Section 24 of the Federal reserve act should be further amended to enable a national bank to buy and sell investment securities such as bonds, notes, debentures, and the like. This would not include the power to buy and sell stocks, since these do not evidence indebtedness. This provision would make very little change in existing practice, since a great number of national banks now buy and sell investment securities, and the office of the comptroller has raised no objection because this has become a recognized service which a bank must render.

RELATIVE GROWTH OF NATIONAL BANES SINCE 1870

The suggestions contained in the legislation recommended are simple, involve no unfair or discriminatory provisions that would militate against the State banks and trust companies, and, in the opinion of many bankers, they are necessary to produce a situation under which the national banking system may maintain its traditional position in the fiscal system of the United States.

The following outline of figures are submitted as indicative of the present tiend:

In 1870 there were 325 State banks and 1.612 national. In 1884 there were 817 State banks, exclusive of savings banks, and 35 trust companies, with aggregate resources of $$ 760,000,000$, and 2,625 national banks with aggregate resources of $$ 2,283,000,000$. Twenty years later, in 1904, there were 6,923 State banks, exelusive of savings banks, and 585 trust companies, with combined resources of $$ 5,240,-$ 000,000 , while there were 5,331 national banks with aggregate resources of $$ 6,656,000,000$. In the next 20 -year period, bringing us up to June 30,1924 , we find 17,436 State banks, exclusire of sarings banks, and 1,664 trust companies, with aggregate resources of about $$ 25,140,000,000$, and 8,085 national banks with aggregate resources of $$ 22,566,000,000$. The increase in aggregate resoturecs of State banks and trust companies for the year euded June, 1924, was $$ 1,478,000,-$ 000 as against an aggregate increase for the national banks of $$ 1,054,-$ 000,000 . Forty years ago the national banks had 75 per cent of the banking resources of commercial banks and trust companies in the United States, whereas by June 30, 1924, they had dropped to about only 47 per cont. During the past two years the increase in national bank resources was about $$ 1,860,000,000$ as against an increase in the resources of State banks and trust companies of about $$ 3,540,000,000$.

Since January 1, 1918, 206 national banks, each with capital of $$ 100,000$ or over, have given up their national charters and taken out State charters. They carried with them total assets of $$ 2,234,-$ 000,000 , being about 10 per cent of the total assets of the national banking system. In the past seven years 60 national banks in California were absorbed into the State system, 27 in New York, 23 in Ohio, and 19 in Pennsylvania. It will be noted that these are States in which branch banking is carried on by State banks. These are very significant figures.

The following charts present graphically the relative position of the national banks in our general banking system during the past 46 years.

gave the national banks a claim to consideration

Twice in great emergencies the national banking system has been tho vehicle by which the Government carried forward its fiscal program. It was not conceived to the end of improving banking facilities but with the primary purpose of creating an instrumentality by which the Government could finance the Ciyl Wir. It was created in a time of netional crisis, and no other governmental instrumentality has ever rendered a greater service than it did during those critical days.

Again, about 50 years later, it was due to the national banks that another crisis was successfully met and passed. Because the Federal Government had authority over the national banks, it was able to create the Federal reserve system. This system was composed exclusively of national banks until the time arrived when its successful operation was demonstrated, when the State banks were invited to avail themselves of its resources upon negotiated terms.

The function which the Federal reserve systom performed in the fiscal operations of the Government during and after the Great War is history and not theory. If the national banks should go out of existence, the Federal reserve system would become entirely a voluntary system; it would be little more than a loose aggregation of banking powers, without coherence, without discipline, and not subject to Federal authority. Its members would be subject to the laws of 48 different States, and moral suasion would take the place of legal control as the only means by which the Government's influence could be exerted. Even if it were assumed that such a loosely controlled system would function under normal conditions, it would cease to be a great machine ready on a moment's notice to meet the Nation's need in a time of crisis.

The national banks afford a strong, aggressive, and permanent membership; they have resources of orer $$ 23,000,000,000$; they comprise units ranging in size from the largest banking aggregations in the world to neighborhood institutions for the service of small and remote communities, and it is unthinkable that, either through direct act or neglect, the Government of the United States should permit the dissolution of such an institution or lose its control over it.

It should never be forgotten that when the Federal reserve system was formed the national banks were not invited to join-they were forced to become members. Having thus been brought in by compulsion, the Government is in duty bound to treat them with fairness or suffer the consequences of the surrender of their charters.

If, at the expiration of the charters of the Federal reserve banks, Congress for any reason should not recharter theso banks, and if at that time the national banking system had gone out of existence, the Federal Government would have lost all direct control over banking.

United states bonds and national bank circulation

By reference to the tables following relating to the public debt of the United States on June 30, 1924, it will be noted that the volume of United States bonds eligible as security for national bank circulation is $$ 793,115,530$, the major part, $$ 599,724,000$, being 2 per cent consols the 2 per cent Panama Canal bonds aggregating $$ 74,901,580$, the reninder being the 4 per cent luan of 1920 , totaling $$ 118,489,900$.

In June last the Secretary announced that the Treasury contemplated calling for redemption and payment on February 1, 1025, the entire issue of the 4's of 1925. With the redemption of these bonds the amount of outstanding issues eligible as socurity for national bank circulation will be reduced to $$ 674,625,630$, approximately but 60 per cent of tho bouk's capital, the latter being the measuro of circulation issuable upon the seeurity of aligible bonds.

The issuance of this announcement on the part of the Secretary of the Treasury has suggested the possibility of the gradual retiremient of all bonds arailable for the issue of circulation. In order to overcome the contemetion of a eirculating medium which such a policy would involve, it is assumed that Federal reserve curency would be issued.

Great importance is attached to the circulation privilege by many national banks. It is true that the profits that can be realized as a result of this operation are at the present time relatively small. Under changing conditions this margin of profit might be somewhat increased, so that from the standpoint of earnings the national banks are interested not alone in conditions as they exist at the present time, but the possibilities for the future.

There is a considerable sentimental value attached to the issuance of currency by the national banks which, because it is intaugible, should not be ignored. It is considered by many banks as a symbol indicating their participation in the fiscai policies of the Government and an advertisement of the governmental relationship, carrying with it the obvious implications of Govenment supervision and official guidance. Even though it should be conceded that the circulation priviloge is of litale financial ralue to the national banke, the fact ihat many of them feel that in its cancellation a privilege is being taken from them is an important consideration.

In other portions of this report the necessity for legislation to improve the condition of the national banking system is stressed at some length. While still probably the most influential financial organization in the world to-day, it is the general opinion that, due largely to lack of enabling legishation, the national banhing system is not keeping its relative position in the Tnited States. Until material relicf is ganted to the national banks, it would seem unwise to curtail in any way the prerogatives which they at prescat excrcise. It is debatable as to whether a sufficient number of the national banks would be adversely affected or be of the opinion that they were so affected to cause many witlairawas from the system on account of the cancellation of the circulation privilese, but it would undoubtedly be considered by all of the national banks as decreasing the incentives which induce them to remain in the system.

In considering the question of the substitution of some other form of circulation that is involved in such a fiscal scheme, it should not be forgoten that to such an extent as national banks withdraw from the national system on account of the loss of the currency privilege, there is a probability in case they are rural banks, of their withdrawing from the Federal reserve system, thereby reducing the resources which the Federal reserve system will have to meet this additional demand for currency. It would therefore seem to be the course of prudence to refrain from any definite policy involving the cancellation of the national bank circulation until such legislative action is taken as will result in placing the privileges of the national banking system on a parity with the banks with which they are obliged to compete within the Federal reserve system.

With the exception of some ten million consols, all of that issue, together with the Panama Canal bonds, are held with the Treasurer for account of national banks to secure circulation and public deposits. Hence it remains only for the banks to acquire these ten million of 2 per cent consols for deposit to secure circulation following the redemption of the 4's to absorb the entire amount of bonds eligible as security for circulation.

In anticipation of the call there has been some activity in the withdrawal of the 4's and substitution of 2 's. Up to October 31 last 4's to the amount of $$ 9,136,000$ had been withdrawn and the 2 per cents increased $$ 2,416,600$; hence a net decrease in the year in the securities held for circulation of $$ 6,719,440$. About 600 banks have on deposit as security for circulation bonds of the loan of 1925.

Supplementing the Secretary's advice with respect to the withdrawal and redemption of the 4 per cent bonds of 1925, the following form of resolution for adoption by boards of directors of national banks, together with instructions relative to the course of procedure prepared by the department is submitted:

Resolution by National Bank Authorizing the Withdrawal and Assignment of United States 4 Per Cent Bonds of the Loan of 1925, Held as Securify for Circulating Notes (and the Substitution of United States 2 Per Cent Bonds)

Resolved, That the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to withdraw from the custody of the Treasurer of the United States and to redeliver to said Treasurer for redemption $$ \ldots-1-\ldots$ face amount of United States 4 per cent bonds of the loan of 1925 held for account of this bank to secure circulating notes, and to deposit

And it is further resolved, That the Treasurer of the Einited States be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to assign and transfer the 4 per cent bonds of the loan of 1925 above described to the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption, (c) $$ \ldots-\ldots$ of the proceeds of redemption to be retained by the Treasurer of the United States and deposited to meet the redemption and retirement of a like amount of circulating notes of this bank now outstanding, which notes are secured by the 4 per cent bonds of the loan of 1925 authorized herein to be withdrawn and redeemed. Payment of the difference between the amount so retained and deposited and the proceeds of redemption to be paid to

INSTRUCTIONS

(a) The space designated " $(a)$ " should be used to designate whether full or partial substitution of other bonds is to be made. If no such substitution is desired, the words "No substitution" should be entered in the biank space.
(b) The space designated " (b)" should be used to designate the amount of 2 per cent bonds to be substituted. If no substitution is desired, the words "No substitution" should be entered in the blank space.
(c) The space designated " (c)" should be used to designate the amount of the proceeds of redemption which it is desired shall be retained by the Treasurer of the United States to meet the retirement of the outstanding circulating notes which were secured by the 4 per cent bonds. If 2 per cent bonds in an amount equivalent to the amount of 4 per cent bonds withdrawn are to be substituted, no retention of proceeds will be necessary, and accordingly the words "No retention" should be entered in the space designated "(c)." If only partial substitution is desired-that is, if the amount of 2 per cent bonds to be substituted is less than the amount of 4 per cent bonds to be withdrawn-there should be entered under " (c)" the amount of the difference necessary to be retained to meet the retirement of outstanding circulating notes which were secured by the 4 per cent bonds.

This resolution should be properly executed and certified, with the seal of the bank impressed, and forwarded to the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., together with the Treasurer's receipt covering the bonds to be withdrawn and the securities, if any, to be submitted.

REDEMPTION OF NATIONAL BANK AND FEDERAL RESERVE BANK CIRCULATION

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, national bank notes, Federal reserve notes, and Federal reserve bank notes to the amount of $$ 2,067,431,535$ were presented to the National Bank Redemption Agency of the Treasurer's office for redemption. Of this amount, $1,506,899,500 were Federal reserve notes, $11,606,830 Federal reserve bank notes, and $$ 548,925,205$ national bank notes. The total expense incident to the redemption of these notes was $$ 723,837.52$.

The average cost per $$ 1,000$ for all notes redeemed through cash was $$ 0.93$; the average cost for redemption of national bank notes, $$ 0.96$; Federal reserve bank notes, $$ 0.97$; and Federal reserve notes, $0.53.

Canceled Federal reserve notes to the amount of $$ 1,466,673,540$ received direct from Federal reserve banks and their branches were not counted into cash, and therefore were not taken into consideration in arriving at the average cost for redemption. The average rate per $$ 1,000$ for expense on account of redemption of this latter class was $$ 0.11$.

Statements showing the amount of national bank notes, Federal reserve bank notes, and Federal reserve notes received monthly for redemption in the year ended October 31, 1924, the source whence received, and the classification of redemptions, with the cost per $$ 1,000$ for each class redeemed, are published in the appendix of this report.

NATIONAL BANKS OF ISSUE

Of the total number of reporting banks December 31, 1923, 8,184, 7,261 had taken advantage of the provision of the national bank act authorizing the issuance of national-bank circulation and had circulating notes outstanding amounting to $$ 725,949,000$. The total capital of all national banks on the date indicated was $$ 1,325,825,000$, and the number of banks not issuing circulation was 923 , with capital of $$ 173 ; 075,000$.

Statements showing the number of reporting banks in each State and Federal reserve district, with the amount of capital and circulation outstanding, of banks of issuc, and the number of banks not issuing circulation and their capital, are published in the appendix of this report.

PROFIT ON NATIONAL BANK CIRCULATION

Elsewhere in this report are computations by the Actuary of the Treasury relative to the profit on national bank circulation based upon the deposit of $$ 100,000$ consols of 1930 , the 4 's of 1925 and the Panama Canal 2's. The computations are based on the cost price of the bonds and the profit is expressed in amounts and per cents in excess of 6 per cent on the investinent. In the computation, from the gross receipts; i. e., interest on the bonds and interest at 6 per cent on circulation, less the 5 per cent redomption fund, there are deductions for the tax on circulation, expense of maintenance and the sinking fund. From the returns it is noted that the 2 per cent consols were at the low point, namely, 102.625, in February last; hence, a profit on circulation secured thereby of 0.606 per cent. In July last the bonds cost 104.577 at which ligure the prolit on circulation is stated at 0.177 per cent in excess of 6 per cent of the cost of the bonds. The cost of the Panama Canal 2's during the year were slightly lower than the consols, hence, the profit on circulation secured thereby was correspondingly greater.

The computations referred to are supplemented with statements covering the monthly range of prices of the bonds in New York from November 1, 1923, to November 1, 1924, and also a computation of the investment value of United States consols, Panama Canal bonds and the bonds of 1925 .

ORGANIZATION AND LIQUIDATION OF NATIONAL BANKS

Under the rarious acts of Congress from 1863 to 1900 national banking associations have been organized and authorized to begin business up to and including October 31, 1924 to the number of 12,590 of which 3,700 have been closed by voluntary liquidation. The liquidations include not only banks closed to discontinue business, but those which may have been reorganized or amalgamated with other banks, State and national, and those consolidated under the act of November 7, 1918. In this period, 1863 to 1924, exclusive of failed banks restored to solvency, some 792 associations were placed in charge of receivers and liquidated in the interest of creditors and others. From the foregoing it appears that approximately only $61 / 4$ per cent of the total number of banks organized resulted in failures. This is notable when comparisons are made with other lines of business. $\Lambda s$ will be noted elsewhere in this report the creditors of national banks, the affairs of which have bcen fully liquidated, received on an average of over 81 per cent in dividends, etc. on their claims.

In the fall of 1914 the Fcderal reserve banks began their operations. On November 1 of that year the capital of the 7,578 national banks in existence was $$ 1,072,000,000$. By October 1, 1924, the number of banks had increased to 8,098 , and their capital was slightly in excess of $$ 1,335,000,000$; hence, a net increase of banks in this period of 520 and in capital of about $$ 263,300,000$. In this 10 year period, while banks to the number of 1,938 , with capital of $$ 190,960,000$ were organized, there were 1,418 liquidations, voluntary and involuntary, including the number lost through consolidations. In the meantime the volume of assets of the going barks increased nearly 100 per cent, or from $$ 11,482,000,000$ to $$ 22,565,900,000$.

In the year onded October 31, 1924, applications for the organization of national banks to the number of 225 were received, the contemplated capital being roundly $$ 23,820,000$. Of the applications received 58 were rejected for various reasons and 83 were abandoned. The number of banks chartered in the year was 135, with authorized capital of $$ 21,375,000$, of which number 29 were conversions of State banks, 7 reorganizations of State or private banks, 2 reorganizations of national banks and 97 primary or independent organizations. During the year 155 banks were placed in voluntary liquidation, 53 of which, exclusive of the 16 consolidated under the act of November 7, 1918, were absorbed by other national banks in the same locality, 96 were absorbed by State banks and 6 discontinued business. In the current year 138 banks, including 1 heretofore in voluntary liquidation, were placed in charge of receivers. This number includes 6 which were afterward restored to solvency and 1 which had been reported out during the previous year.

NATIONAL BANK FAILURES

One hundred and thirty-eight national banks, with aggregate capital of $$ 9,575,250$, were placed in charge of receivers during the year ended October 31, 1924. The date that each bank was authorized to commence business, date of appointment of the receiver, the capital stock, and the circulation outstanding at date of failure are shown in the appendix of this report.

From date of the first failure of a national bank in 1865 to October 31,1924 , the number of banks placed in charge of receivers was 849. Of this number, however, 57 were subsequently restored to solvency and permitted to resume business. The total capital of these banks at date of failure was $$ 112,391,170$, while the book or nominal value of the assets administered by receivers under the supervision of the Comptroller aggregated $$ 560,423,962$ and the total cash thus far realized from the liquidation of these assets amounted to $$ 249,776,265$. In addition to this amount, however, there has been realized from assessments levied against shareholders the sum of $$ 28,234,804$, making the total cash collections from all sources $$ 278,011,069$, which have been disbursed as follows:
In dividends to creditors on claims proved, amounting to $$ 283,-173,708,619$
bilities of the bank other than those of the general creditors...
In payment of legal expenses incurred in the administration of such receiverships
$6,607,886$
In payment of receivers' salaries and other expenses of receiverships

Leaving a balance with the Comptroller and the receivers of...... $9,948,384$
Assets have been returned to agents for shareholders, to be liquidated for their benefit, having a nominal value of $$ 15,818,008$.

The book value of the assets of the 237 national banks that are still in charge of receivers amount to $$ 173,592,648$. The receivers had realized from these assets at the close of business on October 31, 1924, the sum of $$ 51,600,555$ and had collected from the shareholders on account of assessments levied against them to cover deficiencies in assets the further sum of $$ 3,915,617$, making the total collections from all sources in the liquidation of active receiverships the sum of $$ 55,516,172$, which amount has been distributed as follows:

|  | \$17, 663, $88{ }^{\circ}$ |

| Loans paid and other disbursements discharging liabilities of the bank other than those to the general creditors |  |
| Legal expenses | 644, 828 |

| Amount returned to shareholders in cash | 350, 000 |
| Leaving a balance with the Comptroller and the receiv | 9, 523, 048 |

Average rate of dividends paid on claims proved was 74.38 per cent, but including offsets allowed, loans paid, and other disbursements with dividends, creditors received on an average 81.72 per cent.

Expenses incident to the administration of these 612 trusts, that is, receivers' salaries and legal and other expenses, amounted to $$ 16,-$ 382,441 or 4.23 per cent of the nominal value of the assets and 7.36 per cent of the collections from assets and from shareholders. The outstanding circulation of these banks at the date of failure was $$ 30,672,516$, which was secured by United States bonds on deposit in the Treasury of the face value of $$ 33,010,300$. The assessments against shareholders averaged 52.49 per cent of their holdings, while the collections from the assessments levied were 48.87. per cent of the amount assessed. The total amount disbursed in dividends during the current year to the creditors of insolvent banks was $$ 3,870,811.18$.

DISCOUNT AND INTEREST RATES IN LEADING CITIES

In publishing the following statement showing the customary rates charged on loans and discounts, in weeks ended September and October 15, 1924, and in the month ended October 15, 1923, as reported by representative banks in various cities in which Federal reserve banks and their branches are located, the Federal Reserve Board calls attention to the fact that these rates are not averages, but are those at which the bulk of paper of each class is handled by reporting banks. In instances where reports disclose the fact that no one rate clearly covers the bulk of paper handled, the range of rates most commonly charged is given.

In making comparisons between the rates charged in 1924 and those charged at earlier periods it should be borne in mind that the earlier rates refer to an entire month, while the latest figures cover only a week.

Attention is also called to the fact that the method of reporting the rates has been somewhat modified and that slight changes in the rates may reflect these modifications. Rates reported for the week ended October 15 showed little change from those of a month previous.

Of the total banking power representing capital, surplus, and profits, deposits and circulation, the amount shown by these items in the returns from national banks was $$ 19,172,700,000$, the amount contributed by banks other than national was $$ 32,498,400,000$, and Federal reserve banks contributed $$ 4,775,400,000$.

The amount of banking power of each class of banks is shown in the following statement:

Note.-Information for nonreporting private banks has been estimated by using as a basis for the calculation statements of reporting private banks. Only such institutions as are performing the functions of a bank are included in the total number of private banks. Concerns whose business is confined to the selling of investments are not included in the list of private bankers.

BANKS IN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Although the number of banking institutions in the District of Columbia subject to the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency was reduced, through liquidations, in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, from 72 to 69, aggregate assets were increased $$ 7,699$,000 , or to $$ 296,126,000$. Capital stock shows an increase of $$ 1,258,000$ and individual deposits, an increase of $$ 10,580,000$.

Classification of these banks is shown in the following statement:

EARNINGS, EXPENSES, AND DIVIDENDS OF BANKS OTHER THAN NATIONAL, IN THE DISTRICT OF COLOMBIA

Trust companies and savings banks in the District of Columbia accumulated gross earnings in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, of $$ 7,470,000$, an increase in the year of $$ 3,000$.

Expenses paid on account of salaries and wages, interest on deposits, and on borrowed money, together with other miscellaneous exponditures, amounted to $$ 5,262,000$, and show an increase of $$ 250,000$.

These institutions appear to have been fortunate in the past year in that they were required to charge off only $$ 438,000$ on account of worthless assets, compared with $$ 594,000$ in the previous year. They recovered, however, $$ 117,000$ from charged off assets, compared with $$ 135,000$ in the provious year, leaving net addition to profits of $$ 1,887,000$, which shows a slight reduction in the year, out of which dividends were declared to the amount of $$ 1,155,000$, compared with dividends of $$ 1,211,000$ in the previous year.

The net addition to profits of these companies and banks to capital and surplus was 8.85 per cent compared with 9.75 per cent in 1923 , and the percentage of dividends to capital and surplus, 5.42 , compares with 5.89 in the year 1923.

Statement of earnings, expenses, and dividends of these companies and banks for years ended June 30, 1923 and 1924, follows:

EXPENSES INCIDENT TO MAINTENANCE OF CURRENCY BUREAU AND NET PROFIT DERIVED BY GOVERNMENT FROM TAXES ON NATIONAL AND FEDERAL RESERVE BANK NOTES, FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1924

The expense incident to the operation of the Currency Bureau during the fiscal year 1923 was $\$ 5,226,751.46$ as against $\$ 5,109,184.37$ for the past year, showing $\Omega$ net saving of $\$ 117,567.09$ for 1924: over that for 1923.

Of this total expense of $$ 5,109,184.37$ for the maintenance of this bureau for the past year, $$ 1,119,152.45$, represents the amount paid by the Governmeat and $$ 3,990,031.92$ that reimbursed by the National and Federal reserve banks.

The amount paid by the Government in 1923 was $$ 1,012,454.99$, while that for the past year was $$ 1,119,152.45$, which shows an increased expenditure of $$ 106,697.46$ for 1924.

This increase for 1924 was occasioned by the greater volume of national bank notes printed, the cost of which in 1923 was $$ 741,944.99$, while for 1924 it was $$ 859,209.39$, an increase of $$ 117,264.40$, more than the entire additional operating expenses paid by the Government over those incurred in 1923.

There were decreases in the expenses paid by the Government in 1924 over those for 1923 as follows: Salaries, $$ 7,616.53$, and printing, binding, and stationery, $83,304.98$. The increases for the same period were: General expenses, $$ 354.57$, and paper and printing of national bank currency, $$ 117,264.40$, or a net increase of $$ 106,697.46$, as shown above.

The expenses of this bureau reimbursed by the banks in 1923 were $$ 4,214,296.47$, while those for 1924 were $$ 3,990,031.92$, a decrease of $$ 224,264.55$. The items representing this reduction in expenses were as follows: Plates, paper, and printing, $$ 262,614.62$, and postage and insurance on currency shipments from Washington, $$ 41,447.55$, or a gross decrease of $$ 304,062.17$. The increases were: Salaries, $$ 4,786.17$; general expenses, $$ 3,432.48$; and expenses on account of national bank examining service, $$ 71,578.97$, a gross increase of $$ 79,797.62$, or a net decrease of $$ 224,264.55$, as above shown.

The revenue resulting from the tax on national and Federal reserve bank notes was $$ 4,066,599.20$, of which sum the national banks paid $$ 4,063,708.32$ and the Federal reserve banks $$ 2,890.88$. Deducting from this sum the entire expense paid by the Government for the maintenance of this bureau, amounting to $$ 1,119,152.45$, there remains a net revenue of $$ 2,947,446.75$.

CONCLUSION

The operations of the bureau are now conducted under a system of careful and continuous budgeting. Expenses have been materially reduced, while at the same time the efficiency of the service has improved.

The work of supervision of the national banks requires a personnel not only of character and ability but also a technical training and experionce which can only be acquired through years of contact with the work. In order to attain this end it has always been recognized that continuity in the service should be maintained. This governmental policy constitutes one of the outstanding.advantages of the national-banking system.

During the past year adverse financial conditions in certain sections of the country caused unusual demands to be made upon the officials and employees of the Bureau of the Comptroller of the Currency. The response in constructive effort by the national-bank examiners in the territory affected and by the office personnel at Washington is worthy of the best traditions of this bureau. Were it feasible the Comptroller of the Curency would like to mention by name, with an expression of appreciation, each of those who have made signal contributions to the success of the work for the period covered by this report.

In the appendix of this report will be found statistics relating in detail to the assets and liabilities of national banks; data relative to the affairs of national banks in charge of reccivers; information with reference to the condition of barlks under the supervision of the banking departments of the several States, and clearing-house transactions, etc.

Respectfully submitted.
Henry M. Dawes, Comptroller of the Currency.
To the Speaker of the House of Representattyes.

explanatory data on above draft of smction 5200
The first paragraph of the bill limits the total amount for which any ono person may become liable to a national bank to not more than 10 per cent of the bank's capital and surplus. This is the same provision as that of the existing law. The language of the existing law is, however, clarified by this section by defining tho term "obligations" so as to include under the 10 per cent limitation both the person who is primarily liable upon paper discounted as well as the indorser, drawer, or guarantor where such indorser, drawer or guarantor where such indorser, drawer or guarantor is the person who obtains the money from the bank for his own benefit. Under the existing law there is a twilight zone which makes it difficult to define or enforce this 10 per cent limitation against the person who although indirectly liable to the bank on the paper is in fact the person who is the real borrower. Such a borrower, however, may obtain an additional 15 per cent of the bank's capital and surplus under exception number 4.

Exception No. 1 is the same as the existing law and has been a part of the national bank act since 1864.

Exception No. 2 remains also unchanged.
Exception. No. 3 is the same in substance as the existing law; The word "demand" is omitted in front of the word "obligations." Under the language in the bill both demand and time obligations would be eligible for exemption from the 10 per cent limitation.

Exception No. 4 places a limitation of 15 per cent in addition to the 10 per cent of capital and surplus upon indorsed or guaranteed paper other than commercial paper. In other words, it allows a customer to discount in addition to his 10 per cent line an additional line of 15 per cent of notes not arising directly out of commercial transactions. This would include such paper as renewed commercial paper, personal loans, notes in settlement of past due debts, notes given for the purchase of livestock, notes given for personal services and the like. At the present time there is no definite legal limitation upon the amount of this character of paper which a national bank may discount for any one customer. It would seem that 15 per cent additional of such paper is regarded as ample latitude for any national bank. As to renewed commercial paper this exception is a liberalization since renewed commercial paper now under the comptroller's rulings is thrown back upon the regular 10 per cent limitation. As to other notes indicated above, this exception may be regarded as a restriction since now they are regardod as exempt entirely from the 10 per cent limitation and can only be controlled through collateral pressure brought by the comptroller.

Exception No. 5 makes no change in the existing law. Bankers' acceptances are regarded as a highly desirable form of investment. They have a low discount rate. The following may be given as an example of a commercial transaction involving a banker's accoptance. The seller of goods in a foreign country, having made the necessary credit arrangements, draws on a New York bank. When the New York bank accepts the draft it becomes the direct obligation of that bank and is known as a banker's acceptance and as such may be purchased by any national bank without regard to the 10 per cent fimitation of Section 5200. Again a merchant in Chicago buying goods in New York may make arrangements with the Chicago bank to accept drafts drawn by him. He usually takes with him a letter of credit from the Chicago bank, showing his authority to draw. He buys goods from a New York wholesaler, draws on his Chicago bank, and the wholesaler through his New York bank transmits the draft for formal acceptance by the Chicago bank. The paper thus accepted becomes negotiable paper subject to the exemption provided in this exception.

Exception No. 6 covers transactions involving the marketing or temporary storage of readily nonmarketable perishable staples. It would cover such staples as cotton and wheat. It makes no restrictive change in the existing law but makes the following liberalizations:
(1) It changes the time limit at the end of the paragraph from six months in the existing law to 10 months and adds the words "arising from the same transaction and secured upon the identical staples." Under the existing law, a customer may not have in the bank this class of paper for six months in any consecutive 12 months. In other words, he must be absolutely clear of the bank with this class of commodity paper for six months out of any 12 regardless of the amount of such commodities he may have. In other words, having one loan with the bank upon certain staples would bar him from making another loan upon different staples. A customer of the bank who may have cotton, tobacco, and livestock available for security at different times within the year could only have one loan running for six months andno others until the lapse of six months. The bill would permit as many loans as there were staples to secure them to the extent of 115 per cent of the face amount of the notes and each such loan could run for a period of 10 months. Under the bill there must be a period of two months in any consecutive 12 months in which the customer must be clear as to the particular loan. In other words, the section particularly prevents the renewal of commodity paper in order that such commodities may be held for speculation. The customor must clean up each loan after a 10 months' period.
(2) This exception also makes another change in existing law by permitting an additional 5 per cent of capital and surplus exemption for each additional 5 per cent incroase in the value of such staples by a gradual gradation until the value of the staples is not less than 140 per cent of the final additional obligation. The increase in the exemption only applies as to the amount of moncy obtained each time additional security is put up.

Exception No. 7 is substantially the same as existing law. Two changes in language are made as follows:
(1) The requirement for insurance upon livestock is omitted. This requirement has been impossible of application and practice, as no insurance is carried on livestock. Insurance requirements in the existing law relate primarily to readily marketable staples.
(2) The six months' limitation in any consecutive 12 months which was also intended by the existing law to apply primarily to readily marketable staples has been omitted so far as livestock is concerned. No time limit is put in this exception at all, that being a matter which should bo left to the bankers who are familiar with the local conditions involving fattening and shipment of livestock.

Exception No. 8 is the same as the existing law and is self-explanatory with an additional 5 per cent increase in the limitation.

Exception No. 9 is new languago. National banks at the present time are engaged to a greater or lesser extent in buying and seling investment securitics. There is no express pewer given in the national banking laws authorizing the conduct of this character of business. Nevertheless this is a form of service demanded by banks and it has come to be recognized as a legitimate banking service.
