Note.—Annual total is the sum of seasonally unadjusted expenditures it does not necessarily coincide with the average of seasonally adjusted figures, which include adjustments, when necessary, for systematic tendencies in anticipatory data.

These figures do not agree with the totals included in the gross national product estimates of the Department of Commerce, principally because the latter cover agricultural investment and also certain equipment and construction outlays charged to current expense.

Detail will not necessarily add to totals because of rounding.

SALES AND INVENTORIES - MANUFACTURING AND TRADE

The book value of manufacturers' inventories (seasonally adjusted) declined slightly in September, the first decline since late 1954; sales and new orders also declined. Trade inventories increased slightly while sales declined. Retail sales declined further in October, according to preliminary estimates.
