Preface

This report covering 1983 is one of a series of annual publications on foreign direct investment transactions in the United States. These reports have been prepared by the Office of Trade and Investment Analysis and its predecessors, the Office of International Investment and the Office of Foreign Investment in the United States.

The transactions listings in this publication are arranged by primary industry of the U.S. company owned/controlled by foreign investors (Appendix A), and by source country (Appendix B). Later this year, the Office of Trade & Investment Analysis will publish a comprehensive set of listings of all transactions identified during the period 1974-83. This listing will be arranged by source country, industry of U.S. company, and state location.

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this report is to identify specific foreign direct investment transactions in the United States during 1983, analyze recent trends in such investments, and provide data and related information on significant transactions. The report incorporates information obtained in carrying out responsibilities assigned to the Secretary of Commerce by Executive Order 11858, dated May 7, 1975. Specifically, the Secretary of Commerce is responsible for "the obtainment, consolidation, and analysis of information on foreign investment in the United States."

Foreign direct investment, as used in this report, means the direct or indirect ownership of 10 percent or more of the voting securities of an incorporated business enterprise, or an equivalent interest in an unincorporated business enterprise, or a 10 percent or more interest in real property transactions.

Transactions values, as used in this report, refer to the reported total cost of the investment -- or the estimated proportion of the investment if a joint venture -- regardless of the source or timing of funds. These values are intended to identify the relative size of various transactions and, in the aggregate, indicate trends in investment activity.

The data and other information contained in this report represent a compilation and distillation of material from generally-available public sources, transaction participants, and miscellaneous contacts. A major portion of the data and information was derived from public secondary sources such as newspapers, magazines, and business and trade journals, as well as from the public files of Federal regulatory agencies.

The primary Federal agency sources for publicly available data are the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and the Federal Reserve Board (FRB). Much of the data obtained from Federal regulatory agencies originated from report series that differ widely in frequency and content. These reports are, in most cases, filed in response to general regulatory responsibilities of the various agencies, rather than for the specific purpose of providing data on foreign investment. Other investment transaction and related data collected by the federal government are not available for this report, since much of that information is business confidential and is collected strictly to facilitate federal regulatory responsibilities or to provide aggregate data for macro-economic analysis purposes.

It should be noted that the aggregate data in this report are not strictly comparable to the other major statistical series on foreign direct investment in the United States published by the Commerce Department's Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA). The BEA aggregate dollar value data on new investments, published annually since 1979, are based on individual firm responses to mandatory reporting requirements (including strict confidentiality provisions protecting the identity of individual reporters). These BEA data are thus likely to provide more comprehensive coverage for the types of transactions included in BEA's reporting requirements.

On the other hand, the data in this report not only identify individual transactions, but include a broader range of investment transactions than the BEA data -- for instance, plant expansions, equity increases, and certain types of real estate investments. Consequently, the two data series are not comparable, although there has been significant correlation in the movement of the overall series over the last several years.

While every effort was made to verify the information obtained from public sources, the U.S. Department of Commerce is not responsible for any inaccuracies or gaps in information presented in this report. Transaction values for many investments are not publicly available. Nevertheless, experience has shown that value and other data for the large majority of major investments is identified in the monitoring process.

Copies of this report are available from the Office of Trade and Investment Analysis, Room 2217, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, and from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Related preliminary data published by the Department of Commerce's Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) confirms this decline in direct investment activity. (See Introduction for discussion of differences between BEA data and that presented in this publication.) The BEA data show that the number of investment acquisitions and establishment of new businesses declined from 1108 in 1982 to 629 in 1983, while investment outlays dropped from $10.8 billion to $7.0 billion. These 1982 figures in turn reflected a drop from 1981, when 1332 transactions were reported to BEA, with investment outlays of $23.2 billion. (Additional details regarding these data are available in the May issue of the Survey of Current Business, a monthly journal of the Bureau of Economic Analysis).

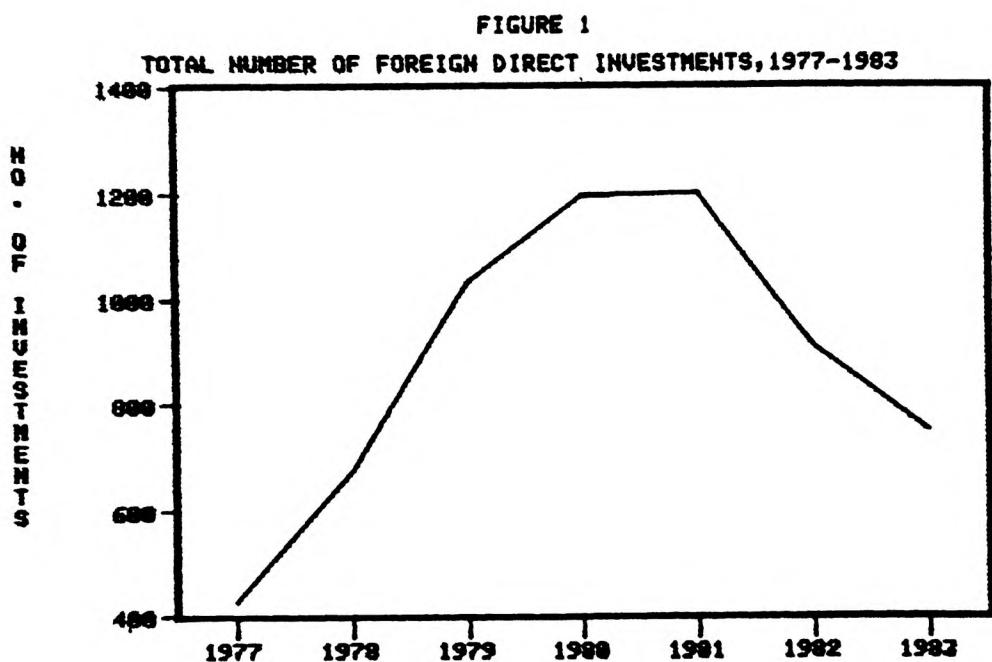

The decline in 1983 foreign direct investment transactions in the United States was consistent with international economic trends during the year. Although U.S. economic activity picked up as the recession abated, foreign economic recovery has been slower. This continued sluggish economic activity, coupled with significant idle industrial capacity, was a major disincentive to new investment. Relatively high interest rates increased the attractiveness of investment in financial instruments versus direct investment, and substantially increased the costs of borrowing to finance new investment. Additionally, the strengthening of the dollar vis-a-vis other major currencies increased the foreign currency costs of foreign investments in the United States. These factors apparently lowered investments in the United States despite the depressed prices of equity shares and assets in U.S. firms resulting from the recession.

OVERVIEW OF FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT IN THE UNITED STATES, 1983

The Office of Trade and Investment Analysis (OTIA) identified from public sources 751 completed foreign investment transactions during 1983. Values were reported for 382 of these individual transactions, for a total of $9.8 billion. Appendices A and B contain listings of all the transactions identified during 1983.

The number of completed 1983 transactions identified is 17.7 percent lower than the 913 identified in 1982, and the lowest since 1978 (figure 1). The value of identified transactions was also lower -- about 30 percent less than the 1982 total. This is a substantial decline compared to 1981, when 1203 transactions were identified, with values known for 570 totalling $27.2 billion.

As in earlier years, a few large transactions accounted for the majority of the total 1983 value, although there were no $1 billion or larger transactions as in some earlier years. In 1983, twenty-six transactions over $100 million each had a combined value of $5.1 billion, 52 percent of the total reported value.

INVESTMENT BY SOURCE COUNTRY

The major industrialized countries, traditionally the source of most direct investment activity in the United States, retained that role in 1983. Seven nations -- Canada, France, Germany, Japan, the Netherlands, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom -- accounted for 556 transactions, or 70 percent of the total identified, slightly less than the comparable percentage for 1982. The aggregate value of these transactions ($8.1 billion), while nearly 35 percent lower than the 1982 value ($11.0 billion), represented more than 83 percent of total 1983 identified values.

Both in terms of numbers of investments and overall value, the United Kingdom was the primary source country in 1983 (see Table 1). Twenty-one percent of all transactions (159) originated in the United Kingdom, with 88 identified values totalling $3.2 billion. Japan was the second largest source country in terms of numbers of transactions, with 105, with 39 values identified totalling $742 million. Canada, while third in the number of transactions with 97, was actually second in terms of value, with $2.1 billion accounted for by 58 transactions. Canada was followed by West Germany (72), France (48), the Netherlands (47), and the Netherlands Antilles (46). (See Figure 1).

Table I shows the number of completed transactions with identified values for 1983, while Table II provides 1980 - 83 transaction counts for major investor countries and reveals the continuing dominance of the major industrialized countries (also our largest trading partners) as sources of foreign direct investment in the United States.

INVESTMENT BY INDUSTRY

Until 1982, investment transactions in the real property sector outnumbered those in the manufacturing sector. In 1983, however, the manufacturing sector occupied first place position with 254 recorded transactions, as compared with 161 transactions for the real property sector.

Of the 254 manufacturing transactions in 1983, values were identified for 120 totalling $3.2 billion; of the 161 in real property, 122 values totalled $2.6 billion. Together, these two sectors accounted for 55 percent of the number of transactions, and 59 percent of the identified value. (Figure 3 and Tables III and IV detail the breakdown by industry sector.)

MODE OF INVESTMENT TRANSACTION

Foreign direct investment transactions in the United States take several major forms, referred to in this report as "modes". The modes are: acquisitions/mergers, equity increases, joint ventures, new plants, plant expansions, real estate, and other types (such as branches, sales and distribution outlets, warehouses, etc.) Appendix C defines these and other terms used in the report.

Acquisition and merger transactions were the most frequent made with 192 transactions identified during the year (table V). They were followed by real property with 161 transactions. Together these two modes included 253 transactions, 33.7 percent of the total 751 transactions.

LOCATION OF INVESTMENT BY STATE

Most states attracted at least one foreign direct investment during 1983 (Table VI). Once again, however, investment transactions were concentrated in a few larger states. New York (125), California (112), Florida (92) and Texas (48) together accounted for just over 50 percent of the 1983 identified transactions.

NUMBER OF INVESTMENTS BY STATE, 1983

By dollar value, a similar picture emerged. California was the largest recipient with $2.3 billion, followed by New York, $1.5 billion, Texas, $0.8 billion, Georgia, $0.7 billion, and Pennsylvania and Florida with $0.5 billion.

MAJOR SECTORAL DEVELOPMENTS

The following sections focus on major investment transaction trends in the more active sectors during 1983. Investment activity by section and major source country appears in Table VII.

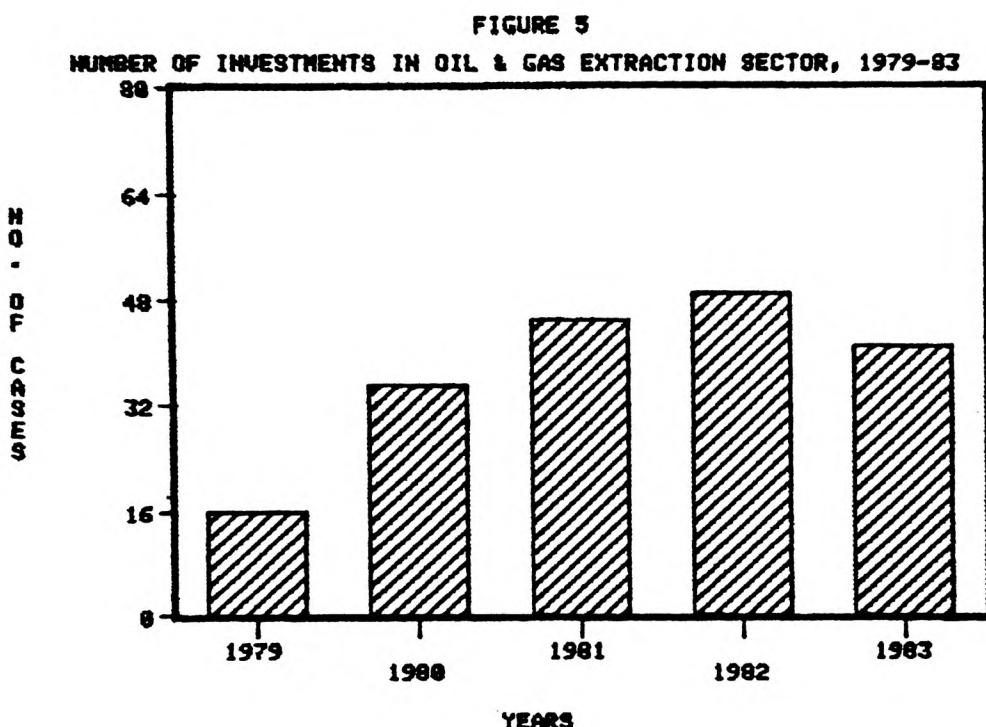

Oil and Gas Extraction (SIC 13) - As oil consumption in the United States continued to decline, foreign investors reduced their spending in the U.S. oil and gas extraction sector in 1983. OTIA identified 41 completed 1983 transactions, 27 of which had a total value of $1.0 billion. This was a 16 percent decrease from 1982 in number of transactions and almost a 50 percent decrease in total value.

Three transactions accounted for more than three-quarters of the 1983 total value figure. The largest transaction was the drilling of the Mukluk well at Mukluk Island, Alaska by Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) which is 53 percent owned by British Petroleum Co. PLC. Sohio, with 10 partners in this $1.6 billion venture, holds a 31.4 percent interest in the well. Other foreign-held partners include Shell Oil Co. with a 14 percent interest, British Petroleum Co. with a 7 percent interest and Societe Nationale Elf Aquitaine S.A. with a 0.3 percent interest. The foreign share of what has been called the most expensive oil well ever drilled is $423.8 million.

The second largest transaction was the acquisition by Sohio, bidding alone and in partnership, of 47 oil leases in the Gulf of Mexico in a transaction valued at $192.9 million. Shell Oil Co., also bidding alone and with partners, acquired leases on 60 blocks in the Gulf of Mexico in a transaction valued at $187.9 million in the third largest transaction. Shell Oil is 69 percent held by the Royal Dutch Shell Group of the Netherlands

The majority of transactions in this sector were acquisitions (26), and more than half of the acquisitions were oil and gas leases (15). Joint ventures (7) and new wells (4) were also identified.

While investors from nine countries were active in the U.S. oil and gas extraction sector in 1983, more than 75 percent of the transactions were made by firms from the United Kingdom (14), the Netherlands (11), and Canada (6). Ten of the transactions were made by two companies with foreign government ownership. The British Petroleum Co. PLC, 39 percent held by the Government of the United Kingdom, investing through Sohio and Britoil PLC, 49 percent held by the British Government, accounted for 9 transactions. Elf Aquitaine Inc., 67 percent held by the Government of France through Societe National Elf Aquitaine S.A., accounted for one transaction.

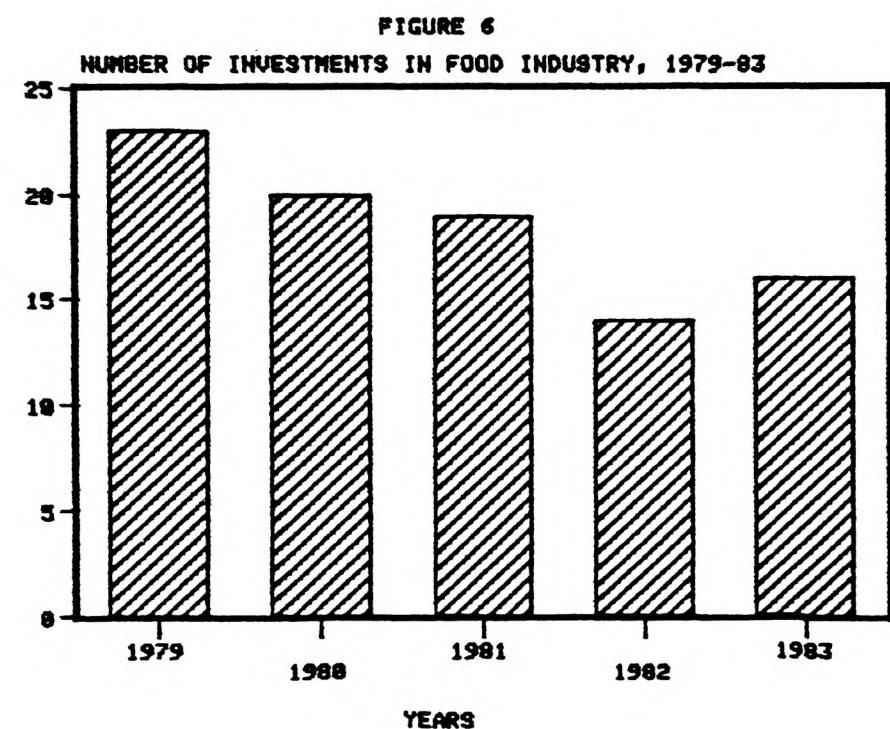

Food & Kindred Products (SIC 20) - The number of foreign direct investments in the food and kindred products industry increased minimally for 1983 with a total of 16 completed transactions and a total value of $455.8 million identified. This compares to 1982 totals of 15 transactions and a dollar value of only $206.8 million.

Acquisitions, 11 in all, were the primary mode of investment for this industry, representing 69 percent of all investments.

Two significant transactions totalling $415 million accounted for 91 percent of the total value for the industry. In the largest foreign direct investment transaction in the foods industry for 1983, Rowntree MacKintosh PLC of York, England acquired the 57-year old Tom's Foods Division from General Mills for $215 million. Tom's Foods, based in Columbus, Georgia manufactures, distributes and sells, under Tom's trademark, a variety of snack foods including nuts, potato chips, baked goods, and candy. The products are distributed in retail outlets and vending machines mainly throughout southeastern and southwestern states. Rowntree is a fast growing confectionery manufacturer with some interests in grocery products and engineering. The Joseph Rowntree Trusts have a 12.7 percent interest in MacKintosh.

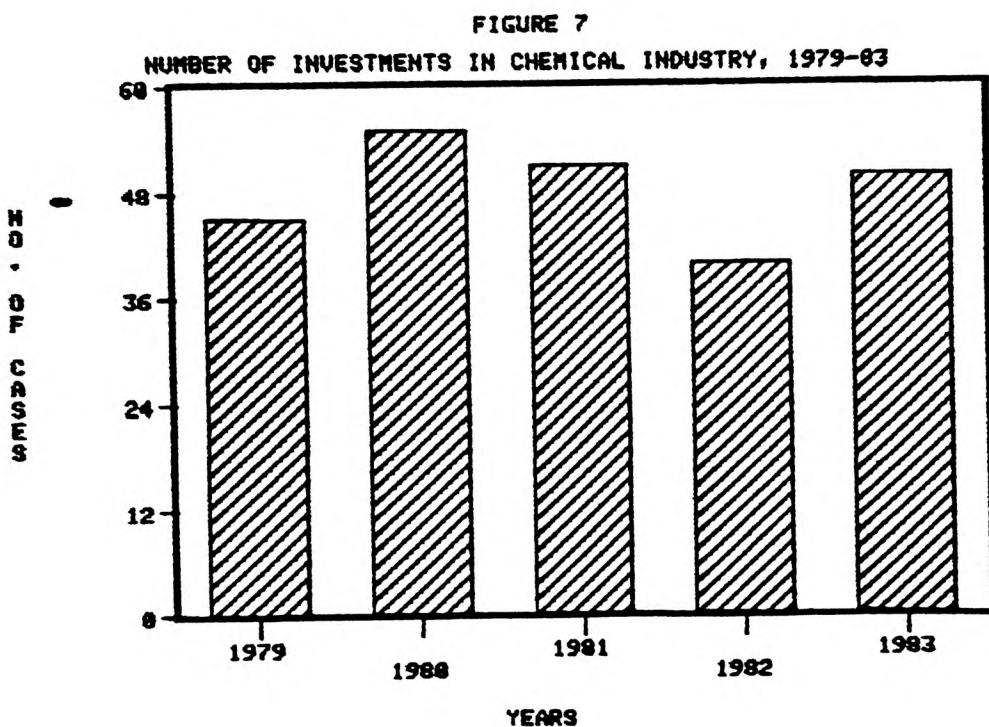

The Coca-Cola Company (Atlanta, Georgia) sold its wine business, called the Wine Spectrum, to Joseph E. Seagram & Sons Inc., New York, for more than $200 million. The Wine Spectrum includes Sterling and Monterey Vineyards in California and Taylor Wine Company, Hammondsport, New York. This acquisition made Seagram the nation's second-largest wine maker. Seagram is a leading producer and marketer of distilled spirits and wines. The Seagram Company Ltd. of Montreal is controlled by the Bronfman family.

Chemical and Allied Products (SIC 28) - Foreign direct investment in the chemical and allied products industry increased in 1983, both in number of transactions identified and dollar value known. During this period there were 50 transactions with values known for 27 totalling nearly $541.0 million. While this is a 25 percent increase in the number of transactions identified over 1982, it is less than a 10 percent increase in the value known for the same period.

The principal foreign investor countries remained the source of 92 percent of the investment in this sector with the United Kingdom accounting for 16 transactions, Japan (7), France (6), Switzerland (5), and Canada and Germany (4 each). Most often they established their own facilities, with 21 new plants. Other forms of investments were acquisitions/mergers 13, and plant expansions 11.

With the exception of California, with 8 transactions, there was little locational concentration, as foreigners invested in another 19 states. There were also no transactions valued at more than $100 million dollars as there have been in the past. Two investments were of moderate dollar value. L'Air Liquide, a French industrial gas manufacturer, increased its interest in Liquid Air Corp. from approximately 57 percent to 78 percent for $70.0 million, and Schering-Plough Corp. sold its paints and home products subsidiary -- DAP Inc.--to the British Beecham Group for $70.0 million.

Petroleum Refining and Related Industries (SIC 29) - Although a slump in demand for energy continued to curtail oil production, foreign investment in petroleum refining and related industries in 1983 almost tripled over the previous year. Thirteen completed transactions were identified and seven of them had a total value of $698.1 million.

Two transactions accounted for almost 97 percent of this value. The largest was a $555.2 plant expansion by Shell Oil Co. at its Carson, California petroleum refinery. Shell Oil is 69.4 percent owned by the Royal Dutch Shell Group of the Netherlands. The second largest transaction was Airco Inc.'s construction of a $119 million needle coke facility in Seadrift, Texas. Needle coke is a raw material used in graphite electrode manufacturing. Airco Inc., based in Montvale, New Jersey, is a subsidiary of BOC International Ltd., a British holding company with interests in chemicals and industrial equipment.

OTIA identified investments from six countries in the U.S. petroleum refining and related products sector in 1983, with investors from Canada, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom the most prominent. The major European oil firms -- The British Petroleum Co. PLC, Petrofina S.A., The Royal Dutch Shell Group, and The Total Group -- accounted for over half of the transactions in this sector.

Eleven of the 13 transactions identified were in the oil refining subsector where refinery utilization rates have been at record low levels during the past few years as consumer demand has continued to fall. This pattern continued in 1983 as U.S. refineries operated at about 70 percent of capacity with several companies either selling off or closing down plants. U.S. subsidiaries of foreign oil companies invested primarily in new plants (8) in 1983. These investments reflected the shakeout and adjustment this industry is presently undergoing as oil producers invest heavily to adjust refinery capacity so that product yield will reflect changing consumer demands.

Electrical & Electronic Machinery, Equipment, and Supplies (SIC 36)

- Electric and electronic equipment continues to be one of the primary industries for foreign investors. The number of identified completed transactions was 34, both for 1982 and 1983. Values for 14 of the 1983 transactions amounted to $407.1 million, compared to a total value of only $196 million in 1982.

The majority of the completed electric and electronic equipment transactions were acquisitions (14). New plants and other forms of investment had 6 transactions each, followed by 3 plant expansions, 3 equity increases and 2 joint ventures.

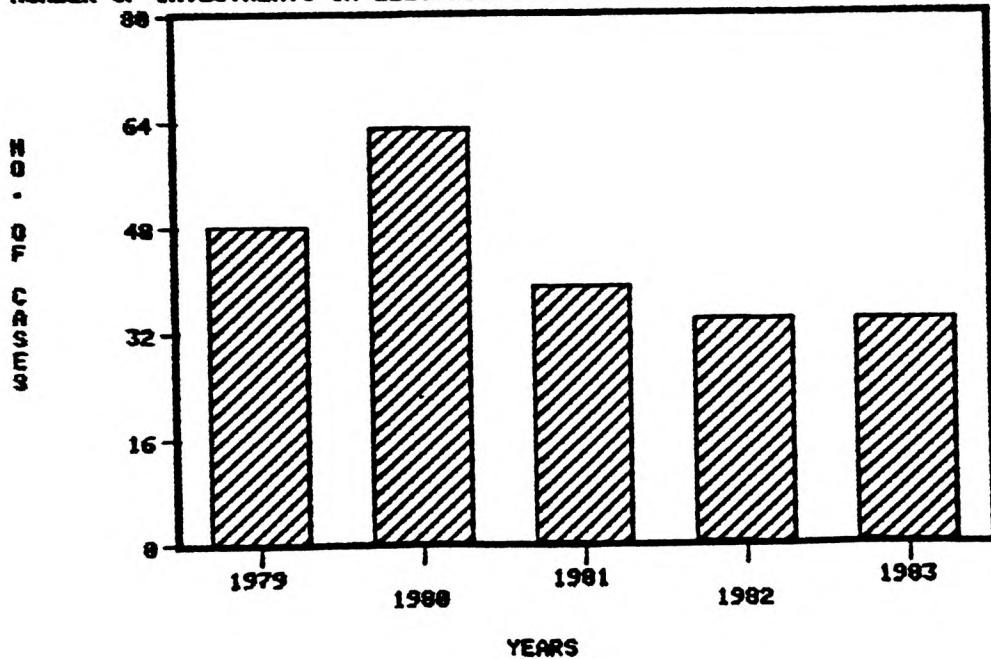

The principal source countries (United Kingdom 10, West Germany 6, Japan 5, Canada 4, and France 3) accounted for 82 percent or 28 of the 34 total completed transactions identified in the electric and electronics industry.

As in 1982, more than half of the foreign direct investments took place in four states -- 6 in Massachusetts, 5 each in Florida and California and 4 in New York.

Philips Gloeilampenfabrieken NV was the most significant investor in the electric and electronics industry. After antitrust review by the Justice Department, North American Philips Corp., a New York-based affiliate of Philips NV of the Netherlands, acquired Westinghouse Electric Corp's lightbulb business for $200 million. Westinghouse, headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, has 10 light bulb plants located throughout the U.S. and one in Mexico. The plants, which employ about 6,000 people, produce an assortment of lightbulbs for the consumer, industrial, and automotive markets. Philips, a holding company with interests in electronics and appliances, is controlled by the Philips Family.

Banking (SIC 60) -- During 1983, 36 completed banking transactions were identified, twenty-eight of which had reported values totalling $860.5 million. This number of transactions represented a slight decline from 39 in 1982. Value, however, declined by nearly 30 percent from 1982.

Most of the banking investments were made in New York, California, and Florida, accounting for over 90 percent of the total and maintaining their respective rankings from the previous year. The foreign banks' predominant choice as "home state" (a choice required by the International Banking Act of 1978) remained New York.

During 1983, investors from the United Kingdom (6), Hong Kong (5), and Venezuela (4) accounted for more than 40 percent of the completed banking transactions. In the previous year, Brazil, France, and Italy accounted for the major share of foreign banking investments here. Investors from the United Kingdom reestablished their importance as investors in the U.S. financial sector, and investors from Hong Kong increased their investments, reflecting concern over the future of the British Crown Colony. Banking investments from these countries suggest a desire to establish a firm financial presence in the United States under relatively non-restrictive regulatory legislation. For the last two years, the majority of banking investments were in agencies, branches, Edge Act companies, and Agreement Corporations. Foreign investors may purchase more U.S. banks if a lower dollar makes banking assets more attractive.

NUMBER OF INVESTMENTS IN FINANCIAL SECTOR, 1979-83

During 1983, three major transactions were identified. The first was National Commercial Bank's (Saudi Arabia) establishment of a new branch in New York City, with U.S. assets of $461 million. The second was Mitsui Trust and Banking Co., Ltd.'s (Japan) establishment of a new agency in Los Angeles, with U.S. assets of $325 million. The last was Saudi International Bank's (Saudi Arabia) establishment of a new branch in New York City for $207 million. One significant foreign banking transaction not complete at yearend 1983 was Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd.'s (Japan) acquisition of 70 percent of Bank of California for $190 million. Bank of California is already 30 percent owned by Edmond de Rothschild of France.

Real Property -- During 1983, 161 commercial real estate investments which involved foreign investors in the purchase and development of U.S. real property were identified. Of these, 122 transactions had known values totalling $2.6 billion. Seven of the 122 had values in excess of $100 million. (Purchases of agricultural land and of individual residential units are not included in this report).

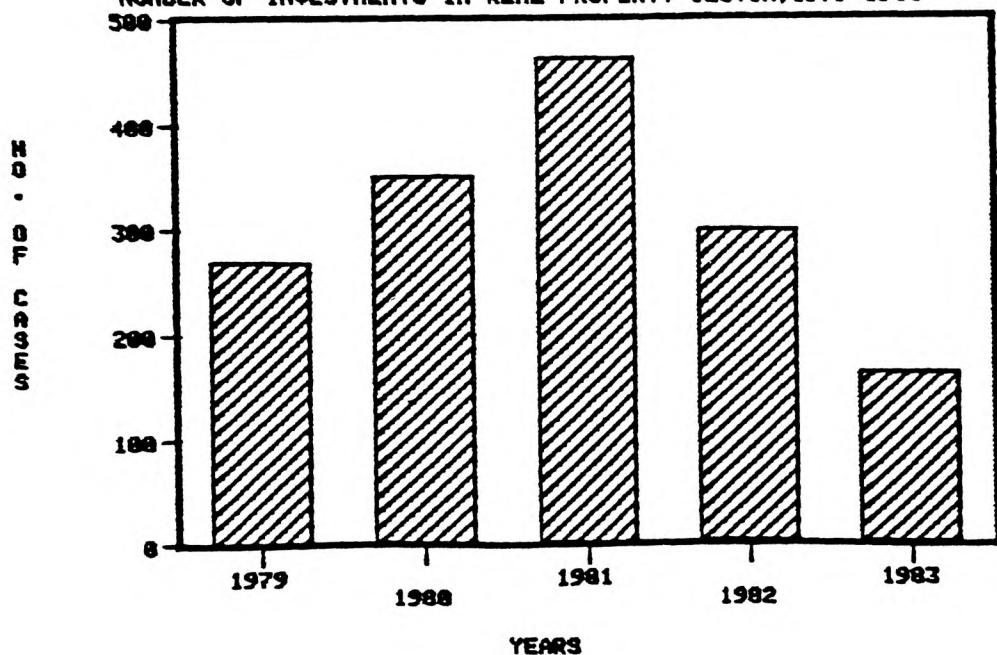

Over the last five years, foreign real estate transactions climbed rapidly to a high of 464 transactions with $7.4 billion in identified value in 1981, and then dropped off equally rapidly to 161 transactions and only $2.6 billion identified value in 1983.

Many reasons can be advanced to explain the rapid rise and fall, and there are in fact different reasons for the successful completion of each transaction. The reasons given below do not cover the entire universe, and readers will be aware of others.

The rise was undoubtedly aided partly by an undervalued dollar from 1978 through most of 1980. Prosperity abroad, the perceived political and economic stability of the United States, the relatively inexpensive nature of U.S. commercial real estate and the availability of a large number of newly-built prime properties contributed further. Additional factors included liberalized capital flow requirements, banking practices of some countries that permitted extensive borrowing for real estate purchases and development, the influx of flight capital, and modest prevailing interest rates.

Much of the decline of foreign investment after 1981 stemmed from a reversal of these same forces. The broad recession and attendant very high interest rates were prime contributors, together with a decline in the availability of prime properties (because of fierce competition) and shelving of building plans (because of the high cost of borrowing for construction).

PENDING TRANSACTIONS

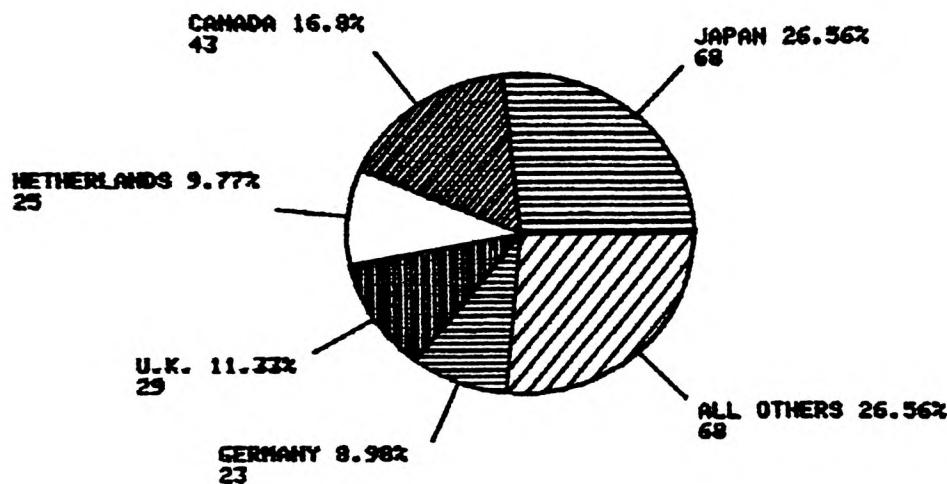

While 751 completed transactions were identified during 1983, another 256 cases were pending at the end of the year. Estimated values were available for 112 of these pending transactions, with an aggregate total of $9.3 billion.

Of this total, nearly 43 percent was accounted for by three large potential transactions: Australia's Brokers Hill Proprietary Co. Ltd. is reportedly interested in acquiring certain operations of Utah International, Inc. for $2.4 billion; Southern Pacific Petroleum NL, also Australian, is considering construction of a new oil shale mine and processing plant at a cost of $1.0 billion; and Oxford Properties of Canada is planning construction of multi-use development, Citicorp Plaza, California, for $600 million.

A further 37 percent, $3.5 billion, was accounted for by 20 transactions ranging in value from $50 to 500 million. The remaining 20 percent, $1.8 billion, was spread among 233 smaller transactions.

All pending transactions are identified in the listings contained in the Appendices, and are displayed by Source Country in Table VII which follows.

APPENDIX C

DESCRIPTION OF KEY TERMS

Acquisition -- a transaction in which title to stock or assets of the U.S. target is secured by another person or enterprise. The substantive result is that one party obtains ownership of another.

Agencies -- foreign financial intermediaries operating in the United States primarily financing international transactions, but prohibited from accepting domestic deposits.

Branches -- foreign financial intermediaries (integral parts of the foreign parent banks) which can accept domestic deposits.

Development -- realty investments that involve construction (as opposed to purchase.)

Equity Increase -- a rise in the percentage of equity securities held, or an equivalent increase in percentage ownership, by a foreign investor.

Foreign Direct Investment -- the direct or indirect ownership by a foreign entity of 10 percent or more of the voting securities of an incorporated business enterprise, or an equivalent interest in an unincorporated business enterprise, and a 10 percent or more interest in real property.

Joint Venture -- a transaction in which two or more parties establish a new corporation to which each contributes according to the provisions of the joint venture agreement.

Merger -- a transaction which results in the dissolution of the acquired business enterprise, into either another already existing or into a reorganized (but not always renamed) company.

New Plant -- a new operating facility, established either in conjunction with an existing foreign-owned productive enterprise or as a completely new venture.

Plant Expansion -- an addition to the capacity of an existing foreign-owned operating facility.

Purchases -- used herein to describe realty transactions, specifically the acquisition of real property.

Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) -- categorizes U.S. industries in a numerical classification series, in accordance with the composition and structure of the domestic economy.

Subsidiaries -- separate legal entities either owned or controlled by foreign investors but permitted to do business in the United States under state and/or federal authority.

Transaction Value -- the reported total cost of the investment, or the estimated proportion of the investment if a joint venture, regardless of the source or timing of funds.
