PRESIDENT'S LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

THE WHITE HOUSE, August 19, 1959

To the Congress of the United States:

I am transmitting herewith the Fortieth Report to Congress on Lend-Lease Operations for the calendar year 1958.

Most of the governments continued to make payments on their lend-lease accounts as called for by the terms of the settlement agreements. Collections and credits realized during 1958 on these accounts amounted to $30,430,424.54. This comprised payments of $9,592,831.68 on principal and $20,837,592.86 on interest.

As reported heretofore, 409,782,670.64 fine troy ounces of silver bullion were transferred to various countries under lend-lease. The silver was to be returned to the United States by April 27, 1957. As of December 31, 1958, 309,748,836.25 fine troy ounces had been returned and assayed. However, this figure does not include shipments reported to contain 59,566,964.38 fine troy ounces which were received during 1957 and 1958 and not assayed by the close of 1958.

Information on these and other items of lend-lease interest is provided in the report.

FORTIETH REPORT TO CONGRESS ON LEND-LEASE OPERATIONS

PREAMBLE

As of December 31, 1958, payments and credits on the principal of lend-lease settlement accounts amounted to $454,941,504.68 or approximately 29 percent of the total principal repayment obligation of $1,577,570,755.50. As of this date, $214,118,657.95 had been received by the Government of the United States as interest on these accounts. By the close of 1958, payments, credits, and adjustments on the lend-lease cash accounts aggregated $1,301,255,848.32. A balance of $25,679,133.79 is past due and unpaid on these accounts. These figures are exclusive of the lend-lease silver accounts.

Under the lend-lease program the United States loaned various countries 409,782,670.64 fine troy ounces of silver. Most of the governments have returned or have made arrangements to return the silver in kind to the United States. By the close of this reporting period, 309,748,836.25 fine troy ounces had been returned. Shipments of silver received during 1957 and 1958, which had not been assayed by December 31, 1958, are not included in this figure.

Agreements have not been reached as yet with China, Greece, Saudi Arabia, and the U.S.S.R. for settlement of their accounts for lend-lease aid furnished by the United States prior to V-J Day.

Detailed statements prepared by the Treasury Department on the status of the various lend-lease accounts are presented in this report under the caption "General Statements of Account" and in Appendix I.

PAYMENTS AND SETTLEMENTS¹

General

The 1958 payments on the various lend-lease settlement accounts amounted to $30,430,424.54, including interest. This figure comprised dollar payments totaling $29,086,373.74, the equivalent of $1,324,599.45 in foreign currency payments and $19,451.35 in real property and improvements. Additional payments totaling $54,655.00 were received on lend-lease cash accounts.

Lend-Lease Silver Accounts

During World War II, a total of 409,782,670.64 fine troy ounces of silver bullion was transferred to the Governments of Australia, Belgium, Ethiopia, India, the Netherlands, Saudi Arabia, and the United Kingdom under lend-lease. The silver was needed for coinage, industrial uses, or for currency stabilization. The agreements executed with each government provided, in general, that the silver should be returned to the United States Treasury within 5 years after the end of the "existing national emergency as determined by the President of the United States." This five-year period terminated on April 27, 1957. The agreements specified further that the silver was to be returned in an amount of silver bullion of not less than the equivalent in fineness, quantity, and form to the silver transferred. The loan of the silver has always been considered separate from other lend-lease transactions, and the lend-lease settlement agreements reached with various countries specifically exclude the silver from the terms of settlement.

In 1958 the Governments of the United States and Ethiopia reached an understanding for the return to the United States of 5,425,000 fine troy ounces of silver. Ethiopia undertook to return approximately 4,625,000 fine troy ounces of silver by October 27, 1958, and the balance in three shipments to be made semiannually commencing on or about April 27, 1959. Although the documents formalizing the arrangements had not been exchanged by the close of 1958, delivery of a quantity of silver reported to contain 4,625,000 fine troy ounces was made on October 25, 1958. Final data on the actual amount of silver returned will not be available until the silver has been assayed by the U.S. Bureau of the Mint.

As provided in the notes exchanged between the Governments of the Netherlands and the United States dated February 25, 1958, and March 6, 1958, respectively, the Government of the Netherlands returned 4,331,426.81 fine troy ounces of lend-lease silver by December 31, 1958. During the years 1955-57 the Netherlands had returned 52,405,914.44 fine troy ounces. Thus, the entire 56,737,341.25 fine troy ounces of silver transferred to the Netherlands under lend-lease has been returned to the United States.

At the time of the partition of India in 1947, the Governments of India and Pakistan agreed to a division of the obligation to return to the United States the 225,999,904 fine troy ounces of silver originally loaned to undivided India. The Governments of India and Pakistan informed the Government of the United States in 1956 that agreement had been reached between the two Governments that their separate liabilities for the return of the silver are 172,542,107 and 53,457,797 fine troy ounces, respectively.

The Government of the United States exchanged notes with the Government of India on June 20, 1957, and August 27, 1957, formalizing the agreement made in 1956 on the terms for the return of 172,542,107 fine troy ounces of silver to the United States. Although India returned the entire amount during 1957, all of the silver had not been assayed by December 31, 1958. The amount assayed totaled 137,707,189.62 fine troy ounces.

During 1957 the Governments of the United States and Pakistan reached an understanding for the return to the United States of 53,457,797 fine troy ounces of silver. Notes were exchanged on February 28, 1958, and July 21, 1958, agreeing on the terms and arrangements for the return of the silver to the United States. During 1957 Pakistan returned approximately 30,519,360 fine troy ounces of silver, of which 15,000,000 fine troy ounces had been assayed by December 31, 1958. Pakistan agreed to return the balance in five equal annual installments commencing on or about April 27, 1958. A shipment reported to contain 4,587,687 fine troy ounces of silver was received from Pakistan on June 10, 1958, but the assaying had not been completed by the close of 1958.

Under the foregoing agreements with India and Pakistan, a portion of the silver has been accepted by the United States and certain future shipments may be accepted by the United States in alloy form for refining by the U.S. Bureau of the Mint to recover the silver in the required quantity and fineness. Under the agreement with the Netherlands, all of the silver was returned to the United States in alloy form.

In 1947 Belgium returned all of the 261,333.33 fine troy ounces of silver received under lend-lease. During 1957 Australia settled its account by returning 11,772,730.21 fine troy ounces. Of the 88,270,- 241.84 fine troy ounces of silver transferred under lend-lease, the United Kingdom returned 65,691,326.24 fine troy ounces during 1956 and the balance of 22,578,915.60 fine troy ounces during 1957.

The Government of the United States has communicated with the Government of Saudi Arabia concerning the return of 21,316,120.01 fine troy ounces of silver.

AGREEMENT RELATING TO LEND-LEASE

France

Under the terms of the Agreement on Postponement of Installments Pursuant to Paragraph Three of the Agreement of May 28, 1946, and Paragraph Two of the Agreement of December 6, 1947, Between the Governments of the United States of America and the French Republic, dated January 30, 1958, the Government of the French Republic may defer payment of the annual installments of principal and interest which would become payable July 1, 1958, July 1, 1959, and July 1, 1960, under the Mutual Aid Settlement Memorandum of Understanding dated May 28, 1946, and the Surplus Property Credit Agreement dated December 6, 1947. The first deferred installment shall be paid on July 1, 1981, the second on July 1, 1982, and the third on July 1, 1983. Interest on each deferred installment shall be paid annually on July 1 of each year following that in which the deferment occurs. The deferment of these installments does not affect the right of the Government of the United States to exercise its option to request and receive from time to time local currency and real property as provided for in the agreements of May 28, 1946, and December 6, 1947.

The Government of the French Republic deferred payment of the annual installments totaling $29,112,102.65 due July 1, 1958, until July 1, 1981.

GENERAL STATEMENTS OF ACCOUNT

Status of Lend-Lease Accounts

Statements reporting fiscal data for those accounts in various stages of liquidation have been brought up to the close of business on December 31, 1958. Of the following tabulations, Statement (a) reflects payments on lend-lease accounts during 1958; Statement (b) is composed of cumulative figures indicating, by country, the original obligation, the dollar equivalent of principal and interest payments, the amounts remaining to be paid on balances due under the agreements, and the amounts past due and unpaid; and Statement (c), also a cumulative report, shows, by categories, aggregate amounts of principal and interest which have been paid, or credited, to the several lend-lease countries' accounts through December 31, 1958.

Lend-Lease Silver Accounts

Statement (d) shows the status of the lend-lease silver accounts as of the close of the calendar year 1958.

Status of Cash Accounts

Statement (e) is a cumulative statement showing the status of cash accounts as of December 31, 1958. These accounts include amounts payable to the U.S. Government for supplies and services procured under cash reimbursement and cash reimbursable procedures; certain payments made to the U.S. Government under Reciprocal Aid Agreements; funds received for sales of salvaged lend-lease goods, insurance premiums, etc., which funds are credited to the lend-lease account of the foreign government involved; and other sundry postwar receipts from such sources as war production royalties, settlement of claims, and other miscellaneous transactions relevant to lend-lease.

Summary

Continuing the effort made in the Thirty-ninth Report to Congress on Lend-Lease Operations to provide, in condensed form, a recapitulation of the principal phases of the World War II defense aid programs, there is indicated below the progress that has been made toward the liquidation of lend-lease program obligations through 1958.

CONCLUSION

The Appendixes published in the following section of the report show, as revised to include all changes through December 31, 1958, summaries of defense aid furnished (Appendixes I (a), I (b), and I (c)), the customary "Status of Nations" tabulation (Appendix II), and the text of the Lend-Lease Act of March 11, 1941, and pertinent amendments and laws related thereto (Appendix III).

It has not been feasible to carry in every one of these reports continuing reference to the many important phases of lend-lease history. However, for the convenience of those who may be interested, there are cited in the following list, under their respective titles, items about which information is frequently sought, together with the report number in which they were most recently published:

¹ The Office of Lend-Lease Administration was established by Executive Order 8926, October 28, 1941, succeeding Division of Defense Aid Reports established by Executive Order 8751, May 2, 1941; consolidated into Foreign Economic Administration by Executive Order 9380, September 25, 1943. Executive Order 9630, September 27, 1945, terminated FEA and transferred to Department of State, in Part I, par. 2, all lend-lease functions exercised by FEA and its agencies. Lend-lease fiscal responsibilities were transferred to Treasury Department by Executive Order 9726, May 17, 1946.

² This table entitled "Status of Nations" appeared in earlier issues of the Report to Congress on Lend-Lease Operations; it furnished dates of the signing of reciprocal aid agreements, where agreements of that type were made, and the date on which the various governments signed the Declaration by United Nations of 1948 (not to be confused with the Charter of the United Nations which was signed in San Francisco in 1945).

APPENDIX II

STATUS OF NATIONS

The tabulation entitled "Status of Nations," which is presented in the following pages, is to some extent a progress report on what has been accomplished toward settling the lend-lease, reciprocal aid, and other accounts which, together, constituted the overall mutual aid programs of World War II.

For each country there are given references to such pertinent developments as the date of the declaration by the President of its lend-lease eligibility and the date on which its respective master lend-lease agreement with the United States was signed, together with information about where, if published, it may be found.

Similar data concerned with lend-lease and related settlement agreements are provided. All changes and additions resulting from 1958 operations have been included in the tabulation.

NOTE.—Treaties and Other International Acts Series (TIAS) has replaced the Department of State publications Treaty Series (TS) and Executive Agreement Series (EAS). The texts printed in the present series, as in the Treaty Series and Executive Agreement Series, are authentic and, in appropriate cases, are certified by the Department of State. The Treaties and Other International Acts Series begins with number 1501, the last number of the Treaty Series being 994 and of the Executive Agreement Series being 506. The compilation of annual volumes entitled United States Treaties and Other International Agreements (cited as UST) is the successor to the United States Statutes at Large so far as concerns the texts of treaties and agreements which have been entered into force beginning with the year 1950.

NOTE.—See footnotes on p. 28.

² Settlement agreements with some countries covered only lend-lease while agreements with other countries covered such things as lend-lease, surplus property, reciprocal aid, and various claims. This table lists all agreements which in whole or in part pertain to lend-lease settlements.

ADDENDUM

Aid was furnished, under special circumstances and specific conditions, to certain countries which never had formally been declared eligible for formal lend-lease treatment. These are Burma (see preceding table), Denmark, Finland, Greenland, Italy, Sweden, and Thailand.

Transfers to Denmark were made pursuant to arrangements described in the Twenty-first Report to Congress on Lend-Lease Operations, and those made to Italy were pursuant to arrangements described in the Twenty-third Report to Congress on Lend-Lease Operations. In respect to the others named, a modus operandi, very similar to that used for lend-lease cash-reimbursement transactions but not under the Lend-Lease Act, was used to help these governments to acquire approved essential goods and services.

APPENDIX III

THE LEND-LEASE ACT

NOTE.—There are reprinted herein for purposes of convenience most of the principal laws and documents relating to lend-lease. Nearly all of these have been included in previous reports, many of which are now out of print. The text of the Act of March 11, 1941, appears below in the form in which it was originally passed.

PUBLIC LAW 11

SEVENTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

Approved March 11, 1941

AN ACT Further to promote the defense of the United States, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this Act may be cited as "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States".

SECTION 2

As used in this Act—

(a) The term "defense article" means—

(1) Any weapon, munition, aircraft, vessel, or boat;

(2) Any machinery, facility, tool, material, or supply necessary for the manufacture, production, processing, repair, servicing, or operation of any article described in this subsection;

(3) Any component material or part of or equipment for any article described in this subsection;

(4) Any agricultural, industrial or other commodity or article for defense.

Such term "defense article" includes any article described in this subsection: Manufactured or procured pursuant to section 3, or to which the United States or any foreign government has or hereafter acquires title, possession, or control.

(b) The term "defense information" means any plan, specification, design, prototype, or information pertaining to any defense article.

SECTION 3

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, the President may, from time to time, when he deems it in the interest of national defense, authorize the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, or the head of any other department or agency of the Government—

(1) To manufacture in arsenals, factories, and shipyards under their jurisdiction, or otherwise procure, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress, or both, any defense articles for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States.

(2) To sell, transfer title to, exchange, lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of, to any such government any defense article, but no defense article not manufactured or procured under paragraph (1) shall in any way be disposed of under this paragraph, except after consultation with the Chief of Staff of the Army or the Chief of Naval Operations of the Navy, or both. The value of defense articles disposed of in any way under authority of this paragraph, and procured from funds heretofore appropriated, shall not exceed $1,300,000,000. The value of such defense articles shall be determined by the head of the department or agency concerned or such other department, agency or officer as shall be designated in the manner provided in the rules and regulations issued hereunder. Defense articles procured from funds hereafter appropriated to any department or agency of the Government, other than from funds authorized to be appropriated under this Act, shall not be disposed of in any way under authority of this paragraph except to the extent hereafter authorized by the Congress in the Acts appropriating such funds or otherwise.

(3) To test, inspect, prove, repair, outfit, recondition, or otherwise to place in good working order, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress, or both, any defense article for any such government, or to procure any or all such services by private contract.

(4) To communicate to any such government any defense information, pertaining to any defense article furnished to such government under paragraph (2) of this subsection.

(5) To release for export any defense article disposed of in any way under this subsection to any such government.

(b) The terms and conditions upon which any such foreign government receives any aid authorized under subsection (a) shall be those which the President deems satisfactory, and the benefit to the United States may be payment or repayment in kind or property, or any other direct or indirect benefit which the President deems satisfactory.

(c) After June 30, 1943, or after the passage of a concurrent resolution by the two Houses before June 30, 1943, which declares that the powers conferred by or pursuant to subsection (a) are no longer necessary to promote the defense of the United States, neither the President nor the head of any department or agency shall exercise any of the powers conferred by or pursuant to subsection (a); except that until July 1, 1946, any of such powers may be exercised to the extent necessary to carry out a contract or agreement with such a foreign government made before July 1, 1943, or before the passage of such concurrent resolution, whichever is the earlier.

(d) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize or to permit the authorization of convoying vessels by naval vessels of the United States.

(e) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize or to permit the authorization of the entry of any American vessel into a combat area in violation of section 3 of the Neutrality Act of 1939.

SECTION 4

All contracts or agreements made for the disposition of any defense article or defense information pursuant to section 3 shall contain a clause by which the foreign government undertakes that it will not, without the consent of the President, transfer title to or possession of such defense article or defense information by gift, sale, or otherwise, or permit its use by anyone not an officer, employee, or agent of such foreign government.

SECTION 5

(a) The Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, or the head of any other department or agency of the Government involved shall, when any such defense article or defense information is exported, immediately inform the department or agency designated by the President to administer section 6 of the Act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 714), of the quantities, character, value, terms of disposition, and destination of the article and information so exported.

(b) The President from time to time, but not less frequently than once every ninety days, shall transmit to the Congress a report of operations under this Act except such information as he deems incompatible with the public interest to disclose. Reports provided for under this subsection shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate or the Clerk of the House of Representatives, as the case may be, if the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, is not in session.

SECTION 6

(a) There is hereby authorized to be appropriated from time to time, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, such amounts as may be necessary to carry out the provisions and accomplish the purposes of this Act.

(b) All money and all property which is converted into money received under section 3 from any governments shall, with the approval of the Director of the Budget, revert to the respective appropriation or appropriations out of which funds were expended with respect to the defense article or defense information for which such consideration is received, and shall be available for expenditure for the purpose for which such expended funds were appropriated by law, during the fiscal year in which such funds are received and the ensuing fiscal year; but in no event shall any funds so received be available for expenditure after June 30, 1946.

SECTION 7

The Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the head of the department or agency shall in all contracts or agreements for the disposition of any defense article or defense information fully protect the rights of all citizens of the United States who have patent rights in and to any such article or information which is hereby authorized to be disposed of and the payments collected for royalties on such patents shall be paid to the owners and holders of such patents.

SECTION 8

The Secretaries of War and of the Navy are hereby authorized to purchase or otherwise acquire arms, ammunition, and implements of war produced within the jurisdiction of any country to which section 3 is applicable, whenever the President deems such purchase or acquisition to be necessary in the interests of the defense of the United States.

SECTION 9

The President may, from time to time, promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper to carry out any of the provisions of this Act; and he may exercise any power or authority conferred on him by this Act through such department, agency, or officer as he shall direct.

SECTION 10

Nothing in this Act shall be construed to change existing law relating to the use of the land and naval forces of the United States, except insofar as such use relates to the manufacture, procurement, and repair of defense articles, the communication of information and other noncombatant purposes enumerated in this Act.

SECTION 11

If any provision of this Act or the application of such provision to any circumstance shall be held invalid, the validity of the remainder of the Act and the applicability of such provision to other circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Any defense article procured from an appropriation made by this Act shall be retained by or transferred to and for the use of such department or agency of the United States as the President may determine, in lieu of being disposed of to a foreign government whenever in the judgment of the President the defense of the United States will be best served thereby.

time as the President may require to protect the interests of the United States; and, upon payment of the full cost, the President may dispose of such articles, information, or services to such government: Provided, That the total amount of the outstanding contracts under this section, less the amounts which have been paid to the United States under such contracts, shall at no time exceed $600,000,000.

IMPORTATION INTO THE UNITED STATES OF FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION OF LEND-LEASE ORIGIN

The prohibition set forth in Section 414 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended by Section 205(k) of the Mutual Security Act of 1959, applies to certain firearms and ammunition of lend-lease origin. The pertinent provision reads:

SEC. 414 (b) As prescribed in regulations issued under this section, every person who engages in the business of manufacturing, exporting, or importing any arms, ammunition, or implements of war, including technical data relating thereto, designated by the President under subsection (a) shall register with the United States Government agency charged with the administration of this section, and, in addition, shall pay a registration fee which shall be prescribed by such regulations. Such regulations shall prohibit the return to the United States for sale in the United States (other than for the Armed Forces of the United States and its allies) of any military firearms or ammunition of United States manufacture furnished to foreign governments by the United States under this Act or any other foreign assistance program of the United States, whether or not advanced in value or improved in condition in a foreign country. This prohibition shall not extend to similar firearms that have been so substantially transformed as to become, in effect, articles of foreign manufacture.

The Department of State pursuant to authority of Section 414 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended, and Executive Order No. 19575, issued regulations containing the following provisions in Code of Federal Regulations, Title 22—Foreign Relations, Chapter 1, Department of State, Subchapter M—International Traffic in Arms:

SEC. 123.3 IMPORT LICENSES. (a) Licenses to import articles on the United States Munitions List must be applied for on form DSP-38. The Department of State will not issue import licenses if a proposed importation is considered contrary to the interests of world peace or the security or foreign policy of the United States. Prior to the issuance of an import license, the Department of State may also require documentary evidence pertinent to the proposed transaction.

(b) No military firearms or ammunition of United States manufacture may be imported for sale in the United States if such articles were furnished to foreign governments under a United States foreign assistance program, unless purchases by the importer were completed before June 30, 1958. This prohibition is applicable to military firearms and ammunition furnished on a grant basis to, or for which payment in full has not been made by, a foreign government under the Lend-Lease Act of 1941, as amended; the Greek-Turkish Aid Act of 1947, as amended; the China Aid Act of 1948, as amended; the Mutual Defense Assistance Act of 1949, as amended; the Mutual Security Act of 1951, as amended; and the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended.

(c) The above restriction covers firearms and ammunition which are advanced in value or improved in condition in a foreign country, but it does not include those which have been so substantially transformed as to become, in effect, articles of foreign manufacture.

(d) An importer desiring to import military firearms and ammunition which were manufactured in the United States must certify that such firearms or ammunition are not covered by the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section. The certification statement must be based on corroborative evidence, including evidence from overseas sources, and describe the articles being imported. It may be submitted in the following form:

The undersigned certifies that none of the firearms or ammunition described below which he desires to import for sale in the United States was furnished on a grant basis to, or was acquired without full payment by, a foreign government under a foreign assistance program of the United States as set forth in section 123.3 of Title 22, Code of Federal Regulations.

(e) For the purpose of this section, the term military firearms and ammunition includes all firearms and ammunition furnished under the foreign assistance programs of the United States as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. The term "payment in full" as used in paragraph (b) of this section, means the payment of a price established by the United States Government as the full value of the property.

(f) Outstanding licenses authorizing imports of articles covered by the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall remain valid until the date of their expiration unless specifically revoked.
