GERMANY.

It has been our experlence, in the non-English-speakiog rountries of Furope that the bett results can be obtalaed by transacting legal butiness through the United States Consuls, and we secommend th's course accordingly.
A A Consul can gencrally give prompt personal attention to businces placed In his hands; but when this is inpossible, being on the ground and knowing theing person 41 ly kuown to him nad acting under his drection, will he sure to render more rrompt and ettclent service than would be nos. 1 ble for one ignorant of our language sud iaws actiog alone. In cases where dmerlean atizens are intereated In forelgn estates. Ihe intervention of lie Consul will be fund of neculiar value , qasimuch ao by traty he ls afforded special pripexpense, which a local lawyer could obtain, if at all, only after much delay and at considerable cost. Legal busidess mas be s-nc to a Consul without interference with his offlal dutles: but, betng personai and unoticlal, correspondente should be prepared to pay him his disbursements and such sum 10r his servicea as mey be just and reasonable.
Tharthe careful to furnish the Consulw acknowledgments taken nbrond should be careful to firnish the Consul with the exact forms of achnowl edgment requirei in therr State. Marking letters Buslacas " will prevent delay, and la suro their being attended to by the ofticer In charge, should the Consul be obsent. Where there fs no consular othcer, end to the nearemt one.

Correspondents ehould be addressed "Rechteanwalt", except those marked with a ", whose title is "Justizrath."
