tween the Dominion and the Provinces and that between the United states thad the respective states. The difference between the two systems is that all unenumerated powers in Canada belong to the Dominion. In the Unfted States all unenumerated powers belong to the respective states.

Actions. All actlons are commenced by a writ of summons indorsed with a statement of the nature of the clalm made, or the relief or remedy songht. If the elaim is for a iliquidated demand in money arising out or contract, express or implied, for example, on a bill of exchange, promiseory note, check, accomp, or say simple contract debt, amount sought to be recovercd. A defendant, if served within Ontarlo, amount sought to be recoverdi. A defengatht, if served withln Ontario, day of service. If served out of Ontario, further tlime la given, according to distance. If the writ is specially lndored, and the defendant does not appear, judgment may be signed in default of appearance woos not appear, judgment may be signed in default of appearance Should the delendant enter an appearance, pleadings will have to be berved, and the action take its ordinary course. If the dcfendant in a specially indorsed writ appears merely for time, the plaintiff may at once give notice and apply for final judgment, after filing an affdavit settlng forth the facts, made by himself or any other person, or agent, who can swear positively to the debt or canse of action, verifying the cause of action, and stating that in his belief therc ls no defence, and that the eame was entered only for the purpose of delay. The court, upon such application, has power to order immediate and hal judgment to be signed. - Inferior jurisdiction is exercised by the diviaion or county conrta. Llens and Privileges. In casce of insolvency, the unpald vendor of a thing has two privileged rights: A right to revendicate it, and a right to preference on the procecde of the eale; bat these righte must be exercleed whitio thirty days from the date of delivery. liat if the debtor is not insolvent, the ereditor can only revendeate sulject to the following conditions: 1. That the sale is not made on credit. ${ }^{2}$. That the thing rold ts still intact and in the same condition, 3 . That the thing sold las not piesecd tuto the liande of a thild party who has pald the price. 4. That the revendication be exercieed whthin eight daye of the delivery; thifty days in caee of meolvency. Io has aleo the rlgbt to demand the dissolution of the sale, by reazon of nonpayment of the price, it the thing sold remain in possesslon of the bayer; but in case of insolvency, this right can pnly be cxerclsed during tho thirty days next after deilvery. Salo is completo by the consent alone of the partiea, although no delivery be made. The seller is not obilged to deliver the thing if the buyer docs not pay the price, unless a term has been granted for the payment of it, nor, in the atter case, if the parchager, slace the eale, bas become insolvent. Limitation of Actions. Judgments and registered titles to and claims sainst real property can only wo prestibed by thirty ycare, but posseson under a translatory title as proprictor, and in good faith of an immoyable for ten years, covers defecis of title. Actions in restitudon of minors for lesjon, in rectitication of tutors' accounts, and in resclasion of coneracta for crror, fraud, violence, or fear, are prescribed by ten years. After the same delay architects and contractora are discharged frow warranty of work done or directed. Actions on bilis of exchange. promissory noter, acconnts, and generally ali claims of a commercini anture, are prescribable by five years. Prescription of corporate movables take place after the lapee of three yeare, reckoning from the date of possession, in favor of a possespor in yood filth, There are alsa certain ahort prescriptions of two years, and one year, and statutory limitations. Prescription may be revounced or interrupted.

Married Women can not become pabilic traders withoat the authorlzaturn of thelr husbands. A wife, who is a public trader, if separate as to property, obligates herself for all that relates to her commerce to the cxunt of hor own property. If there be commanity of property between Jlable for the debts of the businces carried on by her.
Noter and luills of Exchange. Commercial paper Inclades negothable instruments for the payment of a speciac sum of money, payable absolutely aud at all eventa. If the day on which they would otherwise become due is a legal holiday, the delay is of right extended to the next day. Payment must include interest from the last day of grace and all expenecs of noting and protesting and notices letrally incurred. In the case of bills payable elsewhere than in Canada aud Newfoundland, damagcs are also allowed equal to the costs of exchauge and re-exchange. Indorsers and other parties secondarily liable are only held by protest and notice. Binls of lading and warehonse recelpte are by statute made traneferable by endorecment and delivery, bnt they cau not be transforred as security for au anteccdent indebtedness.
Partnorships miust be registered in the office of the county registrar and prothonotary of the superior court. The same rule applies to jointstock companices and. to persons carrying on businces alone under a ahipe ore derived from the French aud English commercial laws. The pronerty of the partnership is to be applied to the payment of the creditore of the ilro, in preference to the separate creditors of any partner; and in cuse such property be fonnd insuftictent for the purpose, the private property of the partners or of any one of them is also to be applled to the payment of the debts of the partnership; but only after the payment ont of it of the separate creditors of such partners or partuer respectively. Partacrshipg may be limited or generat. If limited, the following declaration must be registered: 1. The name or firm of the partnership. 2. The general nature of the basiness to be carried on. 3. The names of all the geueral and special partnere, distinguishing which are general and which special and their usual place of residence. 4. The nmount of capital contributed by each speclal partner. 5. The period at which the partnershtp commenced and that of its termination. The general partners in a limited partnership are jointly and severally liabie for the debts of the partnership, but the special partners are only liable to the extent of the amount they coutributed. If the above statement is not registered all the partners are jointly and severally liable. In general partnerahips all the partnersare jointly and scverally liable. An agreement by which one of the partners shall not be liable for the losses of the partnership is null as toward third partice, hat binding between the partners themselves. If a partnership be dissolved, or a fudicial demand be made for such dissolution, the court or a jodge, upon demand of one of the partners, after noticegiven to the olhers, has power to appoint one or more Ilquidators. The liquidator mist give the security fixcd by the coart or judge and be sworn to fallhfully perform his dutics before he can act. Ile pis subject to the summary jurisdiction of the court or judge. He ilquidates the businces with the consent of the partners, or in defanlt of liqulates the businces with the consent of the partners, or in defanlt of such consent, with the approval of the court or judge after notice to the such cons partuers.

Wills. Wills may be made in three different forms: 1. In anthentic form, to wit, proved before a notary public and two witnesses, or before two notaries pablic. The original will, made in anthentic form, remains with the notary, who furnlshes certified copies thereof. 2. In bolograph form, to wlt, they must be wholly written and slgned by the testator, and require no witnceses; and a will so made in a foreign country disposing of property in the Province of Quebec would be valid here. 3. In the form derived rom the laws of England, to wit, before two witnesses, who attest and sign the will immediately in presence of the testator and at his request. Wills made in anthentic form need no probate, but those nade in the other forms must be probated. Any one can dispose absolutely, and without restriction, of the whole of his property, movable or immovable, by will. Executors appointed under a will have poseession of the catnte of the testator, and are allowed a year and a day to carry out the provislons of the will. They can be given the most absalute powers by the testator, and their seizlu may be extended beyond the year and the day allowed.
