DEBENTURES.

The Company calls the attention of capitalists to its Debenture Bonds, which pay six per cent. interest—interest payable semi-annually. The securities are held in trust by the Knickerbocker Trust Co. of New York City. The holder of the Debentures has the loans as well as the capital of the Company for security. No safer investments were ever offered. The Company guarantees both principal and interest, which are payable in New York City
