Banks Advertising give Prompt Attention to Collections and Correspondence

THIS Indian Head is recognized at home and abroad as the symbol of one of America's most progressive banking institutions. Banks and mercantile houses seeking a banking connection for foreign trade are invited to correspond. Shawmut correspondents are situated in the leading trade centers of the world, and the bank's large corporate ownership in both the Mercantile Bank of the Americas and the Asia Banking Corporation enables it to offer unusual facilities for business in Latin America and the Far East.

Banking Facilities

FINANCIAL and business affairs today are more than national—they are international. So closely interwoven is the commercial fabric of the whole world that an understanding international in scope is often necessary to the proper handling of big business problems.

An intimate connection with the financial and industrial nerve-centers, not only of this country but of the entire world, enables this institution to offer an especially valuable service to depositors.

We maintain commercial, savings and foreign exchange departments, each of the high standard for which this bank has always been noted.

The Northwestern National Bank

Affiliated with The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company

Minneapolis, Minnesota

Dominant in the Great Northwest

WITH 1900 direct connections throughout the Northwest, the First National, Minneapolis, is the logical bank through which to clear Northwestern items.

To maintain connections of this magnitude calls for a highly developed organization such as few banks in the entire country can equal in size, completeness or efficiency.

For Correspondent Banks this network of direct connections means many days and hours saved; the organization behind them means par in service; the broad, liberal policy of its management means satisfactory and lasting relationships.

The Man Behind the Gun

The hold-up man is apparently becoming a permanent institution in banking circles.

It's impossible to anticipate his visits, but it is possible to secure indemnification for financial loss that he may cause.

A Hold-Up Insurance Policy in this Company supplies this protection.
