"Exactly done and corected with great dilligence"

Rand McNally Auto Road Maps are the most widely used in America. There is one for each state, showing roads, with road markings, condition, type of pavement, turns, curves, and crossings. Populations of cities and towns are given, with an index in the margin. Each map is folded in a booklet containing detailed and up-to-date city maps, with the latest hotel and garage information, motor laws, etc. Obtainable at leading booksellers' stationers' drug stores and news stands. Write for descriptive booklets.

QUITE likely, when the maker of the map reproduced above inscribed these words, he felt that the matter was definitely settled.

There it was, "exactly done," a true representation of the coast of Portugal, Anno Domini 1588. Nothing more natural than to assume that in 1788, or 5088, it would be precisely the same.

"Corected with great dilligence" meant only that a few details had been verified, that one or two things previously overlooked had been added, and that now, unless tremendous earth upheavals intervened, this map would serve for all eternity.

Today's maps might well, with a slight revision of spelling, bear the same inscription. But it would mean something entirely different.

For it would involve an idea that is proper to this age alone—the idea that a map must be kept up to date.

It would mean simply that here was a map of Portugal, or Illinois, or Texas, as it appeared in 1927. In 1929 you might need a new map altogether.

Thus in this day of constant changes, and of demands for detailed accuracy, correcting maps requires diligence indeed.

In the various Rand McNally maps more than two hundred thousand revisions must be made each year.

Back and forth goes a continuous correspondence with official sources abroad. Every change is promptly recorded. Old stocks are destroyed and new Rand McNally maps are made.

Rand McNally Maps, Globes and Atlases are always scientific, accurate, up to date. Obtainable at leading booksellers' and stationers', or direct.

The habit of scrupulous accuracy down to the last detail required in the making of maps extends to all Rand McNally & Company's greatly varied activities.

Channels of Canadian Commerce

At 10 o'clock each morning the doors of our 800 branches open. Through these 800 channels a great share of the business of Canada is conducted.

These branches of The Canadian Bank of Commerce are links that bind East to West. They form a mighty chain that unifies the country into one commercial whole and that links the buyer with the seller, even though the whole width of a continent intervene. They thus create a vast commercial arena where all classes mingle to transact business—the farmer in the West with the grain dealer in the East—the manufacturer in Ontario with the merchant in British Columbia.

To assist in the development of Canada's business with other countries, branches and connections of this Bank have been established abroad. Each branch of The Canadian Bank of Commerce is a national clearing house for Canadian business.

KNOWLEDGE and skill in handling bonds for himself and his customer is a more important part of a banker's equipment than ever. It becomes still more important every day. No one man can hope to collect or remember all the facts about all of today's standard securities, but the banker, the bond man, or the business man who uses this Directory can always avail himself of this information because he always knows where to go for it.
