Treasury Market Financing: February and March Refundings

Results of February Refunding

On February 1, 1945, the Treasury announced that holders of 92% of the 7 1/8% certificates of indebtedness, maturing February 1, 1945, and the holders of 96% of the 1-1/8% Commodity Credit Corporation notes, maturing February 15, 1945, had accepted the exchange offered them on January 22, and had tendered their maturing securities in payment for a new issue of one-year, 7 1/8% certificates of indebtedness to mature February 1, 1946. The maturing certificates were outstanding in the amount of $5,048 millions, of which $4,649 millions was exchanged for new certificates. The Commodity Credit Corporation notes were outstanding in the amount of $412 millions, of which $395 millions was exchanged.

Refunding of Treasury Notes Due in March

On February 14, 1945, it was announced that on February 19, a new issue of one-year, 7 1/8% certificates of indebtedness would be offered in exchange for three issues of Treasury notes maturing in March. The maturing issues are:

	Amount outstanding (In millions of dollars)
.90% Treas. note, due 3/1/45....	2,127
3 1/4% Treas. note, due 3/15/45....	718
1-1/4% Treas. note, due 3/15/45....	1,606
Total.....	4,451

It was stated that the exchange would be on a par-for-par basis with adjustment of interest to March 1.

Maturity of Series A United States Savings Bonds

On February 12, 1945, Secretary Morgenthau called attention to the fact that the first United States savings bonds issued, those of Series A sold in 1935, would begin to mature on March 1. He pointed out that those who had held their bonds for the full ten years would receive $4 for every $3 which they had invested in 1935. He also stated that arrangements had been made for those individuals who wished to reinvest the proceeds of their maturing Series A savings bonds in Series E bonds to do so outside of the annual limit of $5,000 (maturity value) applicable to purchases of Series E bonds.

Procedure for Payment of Matured Bonds

Series A United States savings bonds registered in the names of individuals as owners or co-owners may be presented for payment at any bank or trust company which is qualified as a paying agent for savings bonds; this includes practically all banks and trust companies throughout the country. Maturing bonds registered otherwise than in the name of an individual as owner or co-owner, e.g., bonds registered in the name of a corporation or an estate, or bonds held by a registered beneficiary, must be presented to a Federal Reserve Bank or branch or to the Treasurer of the United States; and bonds registered in the name of an individual as owner or co-owner may be so presented at the owner's option. In cases where the bonds are presented for payment to a qualified bank or trust company, the request form on the reverse side of the bond should be signed in the presence of a bank officer, following identification of the individual. If bonds are presented to the Federal Reserve Banks or branches, or to the Treasurer of the United States, they should be similarly signed, and the signature certified by a bank officer or other qualified certifying officer prior to forwarding them for payment.

Optional Reinvestment in Series E Bonds

At the time of presenting maturing bonds for payment, individual owners may reinvest the proceeds in Series E United States savings bonds through the established payment and issue procedure. Such reinvestment will be outside of the limit of $5,000, maturity value, placed on bonds which may be acquired by any one individual during the calendar year, provided the transaction is completed during the month in which the Series A bonds mature. Reinvestment may, of course, be made at any time that the holder of Series A bonds presents them for payment, but if it occurs in a month later than the month of maturity, such reinvestment will not receive the benefit of exemption from the annual purchase limit, and the new bonds will be dated as of the first day of the month in which the Series A bonds are presented rather than the month in which they matured. New Series E bonds will be issued in each case in regularly authorized denominations in accordance with the instructions of the registered owner for any amount up to such aggregate amount as the proceeds of the maturing bonds will fully cover. Any balance will be paid to the registered owner. Holders making use of the redemption facilities of Federal Reserve Banks or branches or the office of the Treasurer of the United States, who wish to reinvest in Series E bonds, should include instructions for the issuance of Series E bonds with their request for payment of the Series A bonds.

Sales of Series A savings bonds in 1935 were not restricted to individuals; hence some Series A bonds are held by banks, corporations, and estates. Such holders are not eligible to purchase Series E bonds. They are, however, invited to invest the proceeds of their maturing bonds in other issues of United States Government securities which they are eligible to purchase.

Series A Bonds Outstanding

As of January 31, 1945, Series A bonds were outstanding in the amount of $181 millions (current redemption value). Original sales, redemp-

1/ In the fiscal years 1935 and 1936, $91 millions and $554 millions, respectively, were transferred from increment on gold to the working balance for retirement of national bank notes. In this statement, however, charges for retirement of national bank notes are reflected directly against increment on gold in the years during which the retirements were actually made. Inactive gold in the amount of $1,087 millions for the fiscal year 1937 is considered as a part of the working balance.

1/ Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for purposes of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purposes of computing the annual interest charge and rate of interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90% per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.53%. 2/ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury, and securities guaranteed as to interest only, are not included in this table.

^{1/} Excludes postal savings bonds, Federal Housing Administration debentures, and guaranteed securities held by the Treasury.

^{2/} It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities. The abbreviations refer to the following corporations: Home Owners' Loan Corporation and Commodity Credit Corporation.

^{3/} Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom.

"Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

Revised.

* Less than $50,000.

1/ At current redemption values except Series G, which is stated at par.

2/ Estimated, except for Series G.

3/ For details concerning investment yields and redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for August 1943, page 4.

4/ Commercial bank purchases were permitted prior to April 1, 1940, and are estimated to have aggregated about $300 millions.

5/ Not yet available.

6/ Series A-D, sold between March 1935 and April 1941, are 10 year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases were limited to $7,500 issue price in any calendar year and from April 1, 1940, could be made only by individuals.

7/ There were $66.5 millions of Series A-D and E savings bonds redeemed through January 31, 1945 which had not been identified by series. For purposes of this table, it has been assumed that all of these were Series E bonds.

8/ Series E, on sale since May 1, 1941, is a 10 year discount bond sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases are limited to $3,750 issue price in any calendar year and may be made only by individuals.

9/ Series F and G have been on sale since May 1, 1941. Series F is a 12 year discount bond sold at 74% of maturity value, yielding 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G is a 12 year current income bond, sold at par, bearing interest at the rate of 2-1/2% per annum, redeemable at par on maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity. Purchases of Series F and G combined in any one calendar year are limited to $100,000 issue price ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). During the calendar year 1944 commercial banks were permitted to purchase Series F and G bonds under certain conditions. Limitations on such purchases for the period January 1, 1944 through November 19, 1944, were described in the "Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9. The limitation on commercial bank purchases for the period November 20, 1944 through December 31, 1944 was $100,000 providing that total holdings of Series F and G bonds, 2% Treasury bonds of 1952-54, and 2-1/2% Treasury bonds of 1966-71 did not exceed 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and non-profit corporations or associations and of savings deposits, or $500,000, whichever was less.

Data on savings bond redemptions by States for Series A-D and E combined became available beginning in October 1944. Figures for the months of October, November, and December 1944 are shown below. It should be noted that State figures on redemptions are not necessarily comparable with sales data by States inasmuch as bonds which have been purchased in one State may have been redeemed in another. Moreover, the figures on redemptions are on the basis of current redemption value, whereas the sales figures are at issue price.

* Less than $50,000.

1/ These notes were originally designed to help taxpayers set aside funds with which to pay taxes and were known as Treasury tax savings notes. Series A notes were designed for the small and moderate taxpayer; Series B and Series C notes were intended for the large taxpayer. When the collection of taxes through withholding at the source commenced, the need for Series A tax savings notes disappeared and their sale was discontinued. Redemption provisions on Series A notes were relaxed to provide for the payment of interest on notes thereafter redeemed for cash (see footnote 3). Sale of Series C notes, which were designed for the investment of idle cash reserves as well as for the accumulation of tax reserves, was continued and the notes were designated Treasury savings notes.

2/ Includes matured Treasury savings notes.
 3/ Series A notes, which were sold from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, yield approximately 1.92% per annum. Through June 22, 1943, the notes could be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price; since that date, the notes have been redeemed for cash at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. (See also footnote 1.) Prior to October 4, 1943, the maximum amount which could be used in payment of each class of tax (income, estate, or gift) by each taxpayer during each taxable year was limited to $5,000 par value; this limitation was removed as of that date.

4/ Series B notes were sold from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, to yield approximately 0.48% per annum. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price.

5/ Series C notes went on sale September 18, 1942. Interest accrues each month on a graduated scale (see "Treasury Bulletin" for August 1943, page 4) to yield approximately 1.07% per annum if held to maturity. These notes may be used in payment of Federal taxes at any time two months after the date of issue. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash six months after the date of issue at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. Prior to July 27, 1943, notice of 30 days was required for cash redemption. See also footnote 1.

Source: Daily Treasury Statements commencing November 1, 1942; prior thereto, Post Office Department.

1/ Figures for periods prior to November 1, 1942 are not strictly comparable with subsequent data because of the shift to a Daily Treasury Statement basis. Stamps sold prior to October 1, 1942 were known as postal savings stamps and were obligations of the Postal Savings System but subsequently became public debt obligations.

2/ Estimated on the basis of samples conducted by the Post Office Department.

3/ Sales and redemptions commence with May 1, 1941 when the special defense series of stamps went on sale. The amount of the old series of postal savings stamps outstanding on April 30, 1941 was $150 thousands.

4/ Details not available for May, June, and July 1941.

5/ Includes minor amounts which were exchanged for postal savings certificates. These aggregated $123 thousands for the period August 1, 1941 through June 30, 1942 and $55 thousands for the period July 1, 1942 through October 31, 1942.

6/ Net of sales less redemption. See footnote 1.

7/ Does not include amounts transferred from Postal Savings System to the Treasury to cover outstanding stamps.

Back Figures: The Treasury Survey commenced with data for March 31, 1941 and has been published regularly in the "Treasury Bulletin" since May 1941. Revisions of data for September 30, 1944 appeared in the February 1945 issue, page 53; reclassification of data on banks for the period November 1943 through February 1944 appeared in the May 1944 issue, pages 52-57; revisions of data on insurance companies for May 31, 1943 and prior months appeared in the November 1943 issue, pages 52-63.

* Less than $500,000 or less than .05%.

1/ Securities held in trust departments are excluded.

2/ Includes trust companies.

3/ This column includes securities held by those banks and insurance companies which are not covered in the Treasury Survey. See head-note to this section.

4/ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury are not included. Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom. "Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

1/ United States savings bonds, Series A-D, E, and F are shown at current redemption values. They were reported at maturity value by the banks and insurance companies covered in the Treasury Survey but have been adjusted to current redemption values for use in this statement.

2/ Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom. "Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

3/ Securities held in trust departments are excluded.

4/ Includes trust companies.

5/ This column includes securities held by those banks and insurance companies which are not covered in the Treasury Survey. See head-note to this section.

6/ Series A-D savings bonds sold prior to March 1, 1941 are partially tax-exempt; those sold on and after that date are taxable.

7/ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury are not included.

Basis of Computation: (1) Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. (2) Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used.

Back Figures: Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.

1/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of average see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax.

2/ For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussion of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

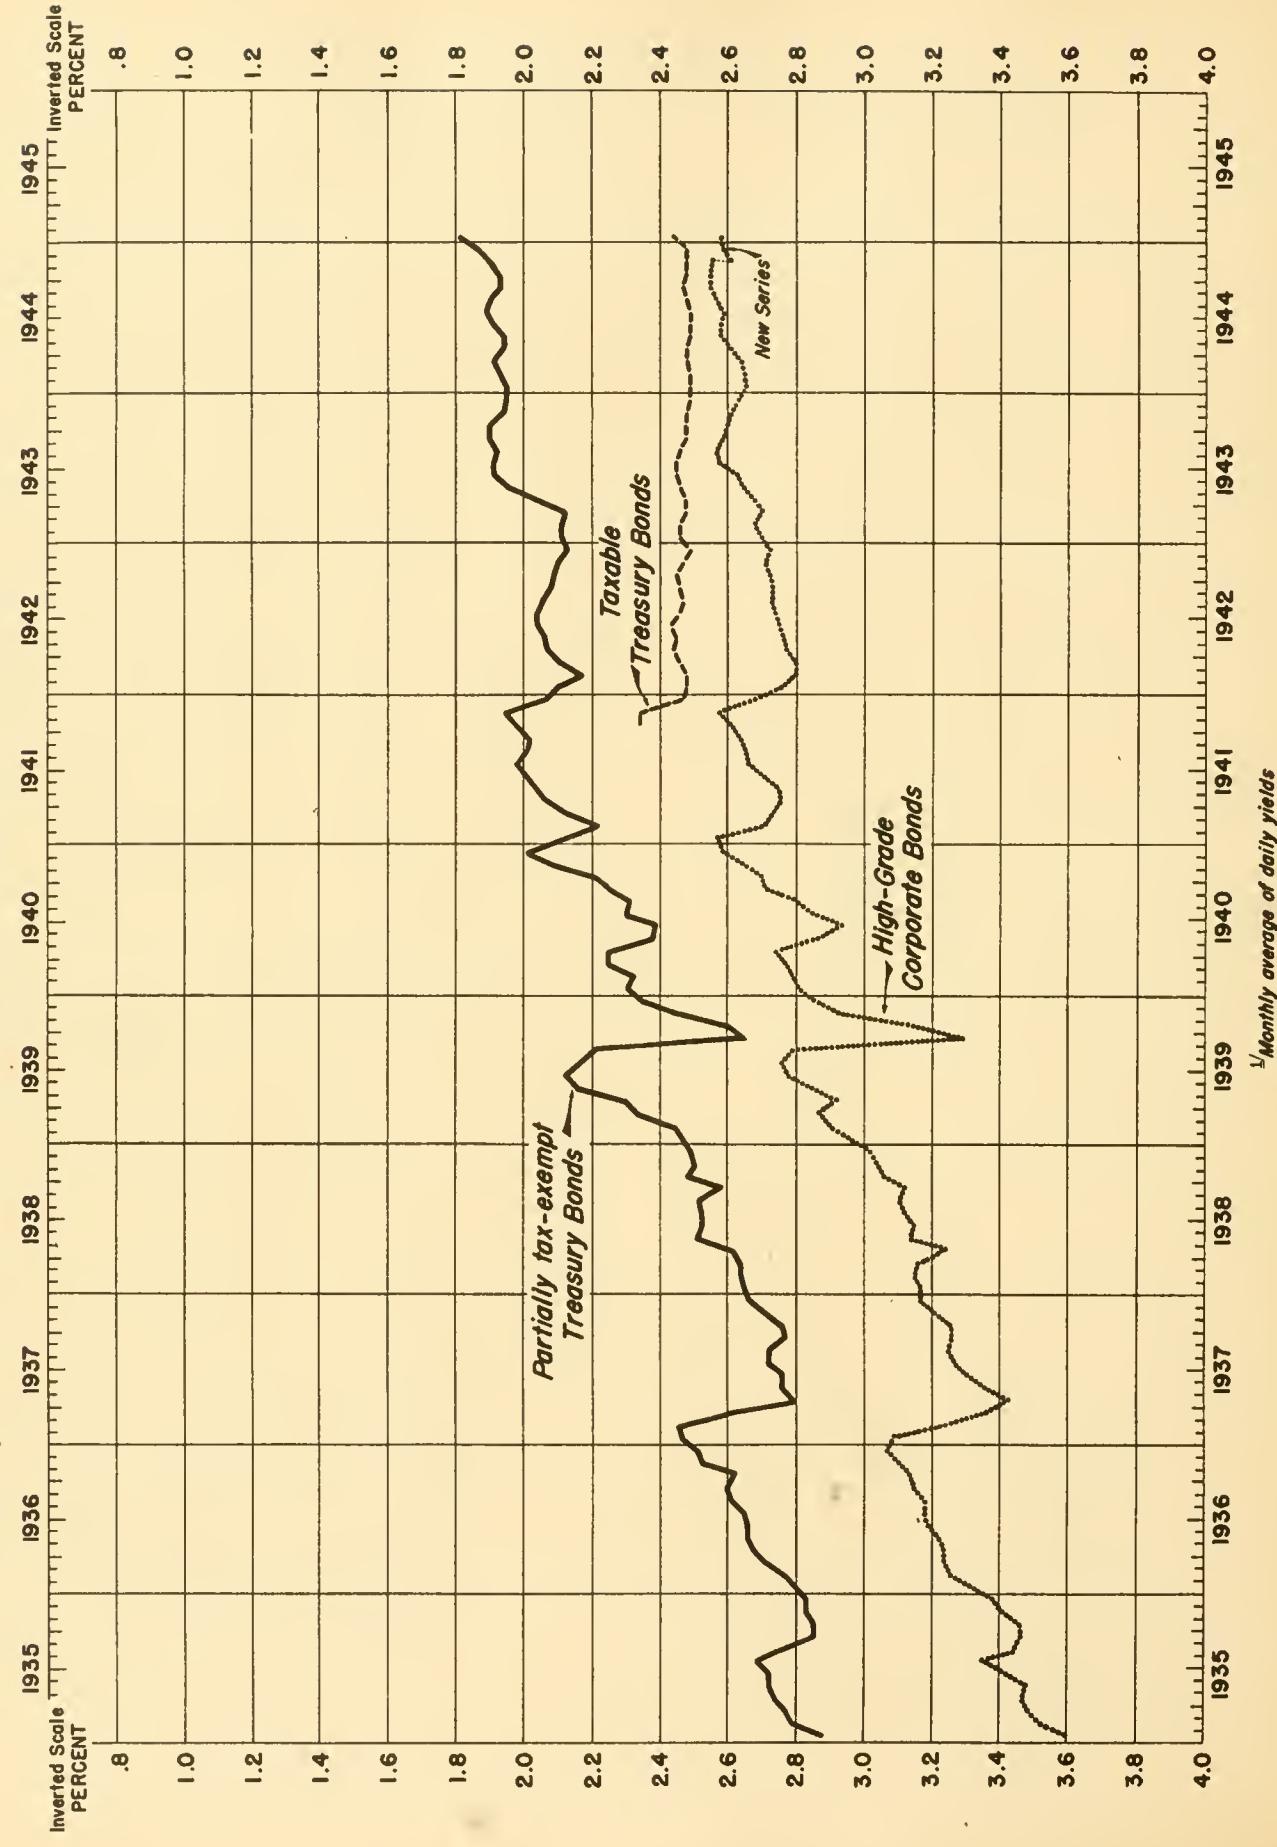

3/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

4/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised commencing with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.56%. See footnote 2.

5/ On days when the exchanges are closed, the date and prices of the previous day are used.

6/ Indicates change in composition of average.
7/ Exchange closed.
