Maturity of Adjusted Service Bonds on June 15

On April 18, 1945, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau reminded veterans of the First World War that 3% Adjusted Service Bonds of 1945 will mature on June 15, 1945, when the face amount of the bonds and interest for the full nine-year period since they were issued will be payable. The amount due on each bond is $63.50, which includes $50 principal and $13.50 interest. No further interest will accrue after June 15. The bonds were originally issued as of June 15, 1936 in payment of amounts due on Adjusted Service Certificates.

The bonds may be presented at any post office in the United States. After proper identification, the request for payment on the back of each bond must be executed, that is, signed by the registered owner in the presence of the postmaster who will certify the signature. The postmaster will issue a receipt for the bonds, and will forward them to the appropriate Federal Reserve Bank for payment, without charge to the veteran. The bonds may also be presented by owners direct to any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch, or to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., after the requests for payment on the backs of the bonds have been properly executed. Payment will be made, in each instance, by check drawn to the order of the registered owner and mailed to his address.

Many veterans owning Adjusted Service Bonds have expressed the wish to continue their investment in United States securities and have requested the right to exchange their bonds for other interest-bearing securities. While direct exchanges are not possible, the Secretary pointed out the availability of War Savings Bonds, Series E, which are on sale at post offices and commercial banks generally, and at many other agencies. In addition to these bonds, United States Savings Bonds of Series F and G are on continuous sale. During the period of the Seventh War Loan Drive, three series of marketable Treasury bonds will also be available for purchase, in the denominations of $500 and upward. Information concerning any of these securities may be obtained from any commercial bank.

Because of the considerable number of Adjusted Service Bonds outstanding, the Secretary urged veterans to forward their bonds well in advance of June 15, but not before May 15. This will insure prompt payment when due by reducing congestion in handling the bonds. Any bonds received on or after May 15 will be assumed to be presented for redemption on June 15, unless specific instructions for earlier redemption are given by the owner.

The veterans originally received bonds totaling $1,847 millions. Of these almost $217 millions remain outstanding, on which accrued interest to June 15 will amount to about $59 millions. Accordingly, the value of the outstanding bonds at their maturity is $275 millions.

Securities Offered in the Seventh War Loan, May-June 1945

On April 3, Secretary Morgenthau announced the specific maturity dates of the marketable securities to be offered in the Seventh War Loan. The general characteristics of the four nonmarketable and four marketable securities, including the coupon rates on the marketable issues, had been announced previously. The four nonmarketable securities consist of Series E, F, and G savings bonds and Series C savings notes. The four marketable issues comprise 1-year, 7/8% certificates; 5-1/2-year, 1-1/2% Treasury bonds; 2-1/4% Treasury bonds due June 15, 1962, callable June 15, 1959; and 2-1/2% Treasury bonds due June 15, 1972, callable June 15, 1967.

The three issues of savings bonds and the Series C savings notes will be dated the first of the month in which purchased, as explained in Table 1 which presents a comparison of the chief characteristics of the eight securities to be offered during the Seventh War Loan. All sales of these nonmarketable securities (except sales to commercial banks) which are processed by the Federal Reserve Banks or the Treasury between April 9 and July 7 inclusive will be credited to the Seventh War Loan, in order to permit an extended payroll savings campaign to be carried on as part of the drive.

The marketable issues will be dated June 1. Subscriptions will be received from individuals from May 14 through June 30, and from other eligible investors from June 18 through June 30. Accrued interest from June 1 will be charged on all subscriptions entered and paid for after that date except subscriptions amounting to $1,000 or less for the 1-1/2%, 2-1/4%, and 2-1/2% Treasury bonds. Larger subscriptions from all nonbank investors other than individuals must include accrued interest to June 18 or such later date as payment is received. The Treasury is requesting that there be no trading in the new marketable securities until after June 30.

Table 2 shows the redemption values and investment yields of each of the four nonmarketable securities from date of original issuance to date of final maturity.

Series F and G savings bonds. These subscriptions, which will be accepted from June 18 through June 30, will be limited to 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and non-profit corporations or associations and of savings deposits, but not to exceed $500,000. Purchases of Series F and G savings bonds will also be subject to the regular annual limit, applicable to all investors, of $100,000 for both series combined.

6/ For redemption values and investment yields of savings bonds and savings notes, see Table 2.

1/ If inscribed in the name of a bank accepting demand deposits, cash payment at or before maturity will be made only at issue price (par), and without accrual of interest. However, if a note is acquired by any such bank through forfeiture of a loan, cash payment will be made at par plus accrued interest to the month in which so acquired.

6/ Savings notes may be transferred by a corporation to its subsidiary providing that it owns at least 50% of the stock with voting power of such subsidiary.

Geographic Distribution of Bank Deposits

Summary

In keeping with the practice of recent years, the Treasury Department has prepared a compilation of the distribution of bank deposits as of December 31, 1944, by States and counties, in order to help State War Finance Chairmen in setting local quotas for war bond drives. This compilation has been made from data supplied by (1) the Comptroller of the Currency for all national banks and banks in the District of Columbia, (2) the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Reserve Banks for all member banks, and (3) the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for all nonmember insured banks. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation also obtained data on the deposits of noninsured banks from the appropriate State supervisory authorities. All banks in the Continental United States, including commercial, stock savings, and mutual savings banks are included.

The data were compiled to show bank deposits by counties. They cover the time and demand deposits of "individuals, partnerships, and corporations" combined, as used in the call reports of bank supervisory agencies; they exclude the deposits of Federal, State, and local governments, interbank deposits, and certain minor classes of deposits. The total for all deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations as of December 31, 1944, was $102 billions. For purposes of this article, the county figures have been combined to summarize the distribution of the deposit figures among the different States, and between twenty-five large metropolitan areas and the remainder of the country.

In order to retain comparability, the metropolitan areas are the same as those used in a similar report of bank deposits as of December 31, 1943. The areas selected at that time were the twenty-five having the largest volume of deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations. (See article entitled "Geographic Distribution of Bank Deposits" in "Treasury Bulletin", June 1944.) These areas and their component counties are listed in Table 1 (Part D) at the end of this article and in Map 8.

National Figures

The first section of the table below summarizes the amount of total bank deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations in the metropolitan areas, in the remainder of the country, and the total for the United States as of December 31, 1941 through 1944; the second section gives the percentage distribution between the metropolitan areas and the other areas; and the third section of the table shows the annual percentage changes in deposits.

The table shows that deposits in the metropolitan areas increased at a much slower rate than in the other areas. As a result, the percentage of total deposits in these metropolitan areas declined from 66.7% on December 31, 1941, to 59.7% on December 31, 1944. The materially greater percentage increase in the other areas may be accounted for by the geographical shifts in production resulting from the war and by the improved financial position of the agricultural population.

Demand and time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations have increased at sharply different rates over the three-year period. The table below gives a summary of the amounts and the annual percentage changes of time and demand deposits as of December 31, 1941-1944 and the years between. Shown also are demand and time deposits as percentages of total deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations. Time deposits increased more sharply in each successive year while demand deposits showed a declining rate of increase. Thus the percentage increase in demand deposits, which was 26.7% in the calendar year 1942, dropped to 24.0% in 1943 and 10.0% in 1944. Time deposits, on the other hand, increased by only 2.4% in the calendar year 1942 but rose by 14.9% and 21.2% in the calendar years 1943 and 1944, respectively.

The small increase for demand deposits in 1944 reflects to a large extent the timing of the three war loan drives held that year. Demand deposits tend to be built up prior to war loan drives and are brought down sharply during the drives. Thus the fact that the Fourth War Loan started shortly after December 31, 1943, and the Sixth War Loan ended on December 31, 1944, was largely responsible for the relatively small increase in demand deposits shown in the table for 1944.

Table 1, which appears at the end of this article, presents total deposits, and demand and time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations for each of the twenty-five metropolitan areas as of December 31, 1941-1944. The table also shows the absolute and percentage increases for each year and for the total three-year period. Part A of Table 1 provides data on total deposits; Part B, data on demand deposits; and Part C, data on time deposits.

Table 2, Parts A, B, and C give similar information for each of the States and for each State divided between metropolitan areas and other areas.

State Growth in Deposits

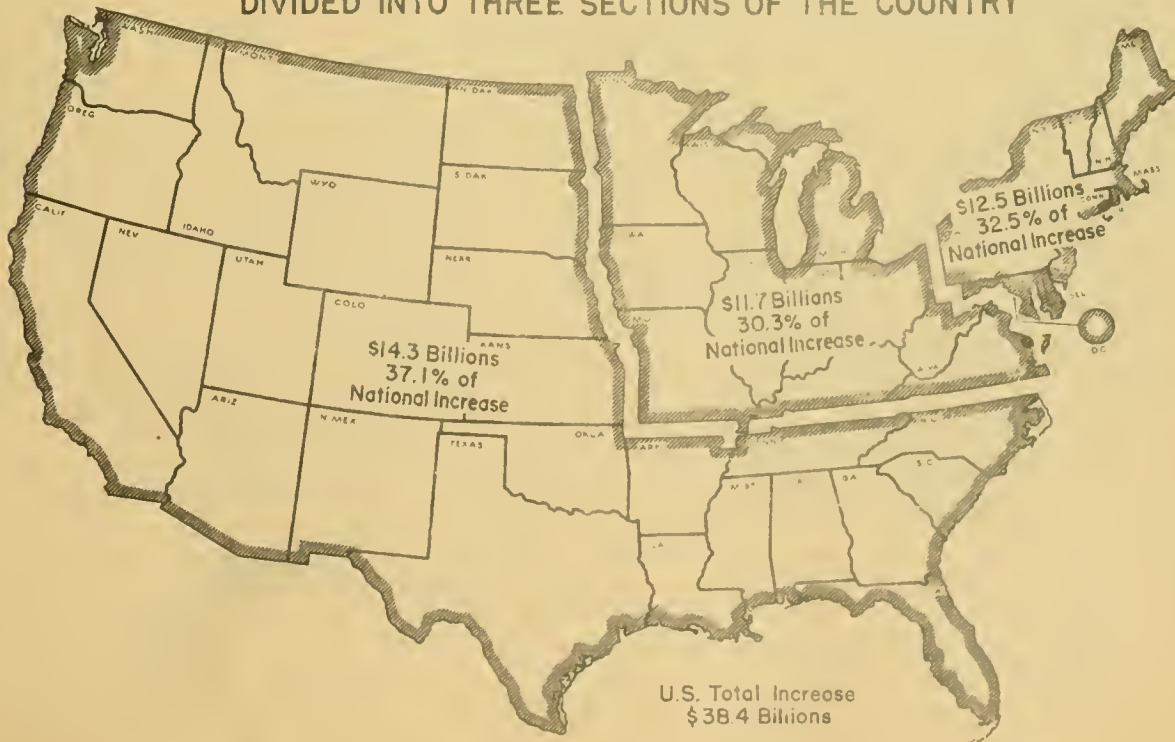

Total deposits. All States have experienced some percentage increase in total bank deposits, demand and time combined, of individuals, partnerships, and corporations. There has been, however, a substantial difference in growth among the various States. The percentage increase in deposits from December 31, 1941, to December 31, 1944, varied from a low of 28% in New York and New Hampshire to a high of 175% in Idaho. State increases on a percentage basis are presented in Map 1. The map has been arranged to separate the country into three regional areas with States having roughly similar percentage growth in deposits. The small detached portion of the map covering New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and all the northeastern States shows the States with the smallest percentage growth in deposits over the period, in each case less than 60%. This region will hereafter be referred to as the Northeastern region.

To the west and south of the Northeastern region is a group of States which have had percentage increases in deposits running from 60% to 99%. This region, which will be called the Central section of the country, includes most of the middle western States, but extends to the Atlantic coast by including Virginia.

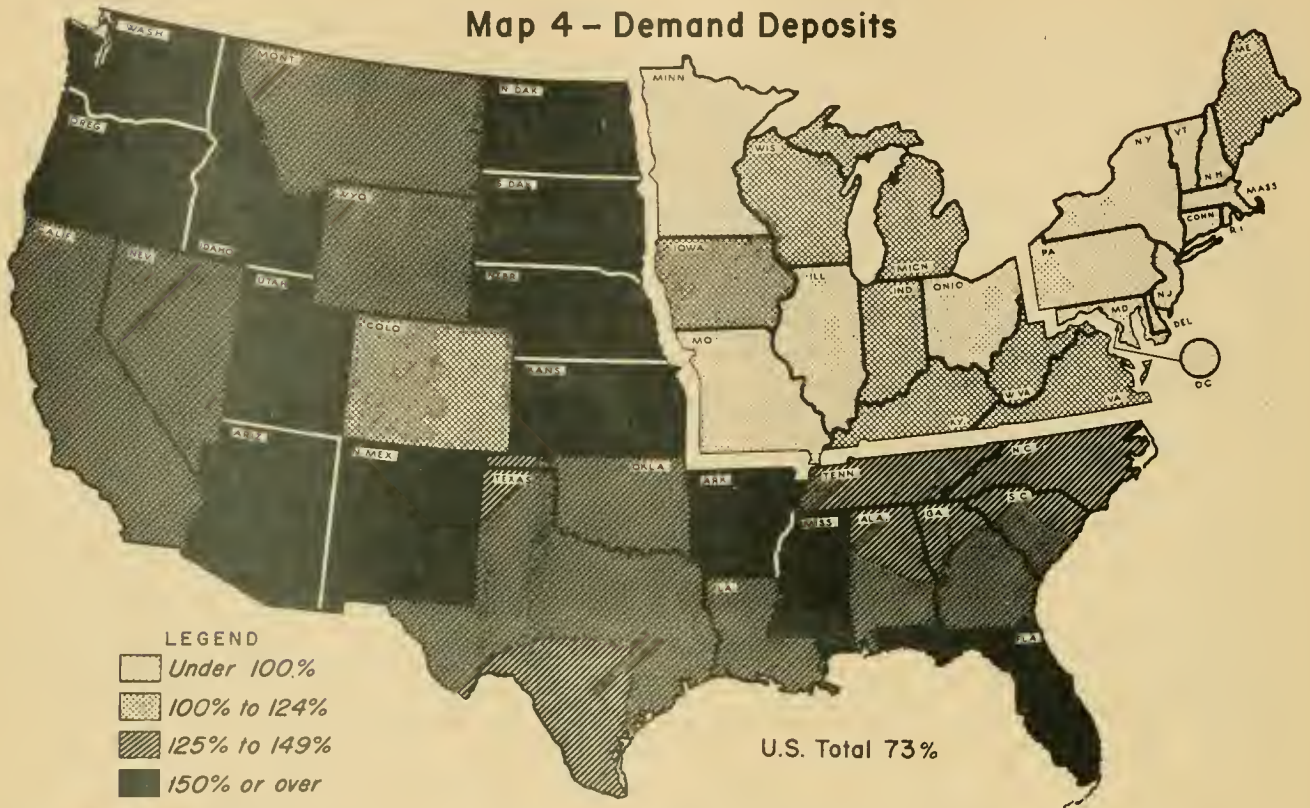

The remainder of the country, which in this article will be called the Western and Southern section, is the section in which the highest percentage increases in deposits occurred. Each State in this region, with two exceptions, showed deposit increases of 100 percent or more over the three-year period. The two exceptions, Wyoming and Colorado, showed increases of almost 100% (97 and 99%, respectively).

Map 4 - Demand Deposits

Map 5 - Time Deposits

It is clear from this map that the smallest percentage increases in deposits occurred in the more highly industrialized east with the middle west running second. On the other hand, the largest percentage increases occurred in areas which were previously less well developed industrially. These sharp differences may be attributed to such factors as (1) the new industrial development brought about by the war in areas formerly predominantly rural, (2) the establishment of military camps in southern and western communities, and (3) the significantly increased income of farmers.

Similar tendencies are brought out in Map 2, which shows separately the percentage change in total deposits over the three-year period in 25 large metropolitan areas and in the States exclusive of the metropolitan areas. Only 3 of the 25 metropolitan areas showed a percentage increase in deposits of 100% or more. Two of these are located on the west coast (Seattle and Los Angeles), and the third is Detroit. All the metropolitan areas in the Northeastern section, except Washington, D. C., and 3 in the Central region had increases of less than 60%; the remaining metropolitan areas had increases between 60% and 99%. The name and location of each of the 25 metropolitan areas are presented in Map 8 at the end of the text of this article.

As the Map shows, all except 5 of the metropolitan areas are located in the Central and Northeastern sections. The effect of separating the metropolitan areas from the States in these sections resulted in changing 4 States to a higher percentage class. Missouri and Illinois climbed into the over 100% group and New Jersey and Maryland rose from the lowest into the 60% to 99% group.

In the Western and Southern section 2 States, California and Washington, changed into higher percentage groups when the metropolitan areas were segregated, whereas Texas and Kansas remained in the same percentage classes. More detailed information on total bank deposits in the metropolitan areas and the States is given in Part A of Tables 1 and 2.

Map 3 presents data on the dollar value of the increase in total deposits over the three-year period, December 31, 1941 to December 31, 1944, divided between the three geographical sections of the country referred to above. Each section accounted for about one-third of the increase in total deposits. Thus although the States in the Western and Southern section had the highest percentage increases in deposits, they accounted for only a little over one-third of the National increase in deposits over the three-year period ($14.3 billions out of $38.4 billions). This reflects the fact that deposits were customarily less heavily concentrated in these States than in States in the Central and Northeastern sections.

On the other hand, States in the Northeastern section of the country had in all cases shown percentage increases of less than 60%, but nevertheless accounted for $12.5 billions or 32.5% of the National increase in deposits. This is obviously due to the large concentration of deposits before the war in these States, principally the huge corporate deposits in New York.

Demand and time deposits. Demand and time deposits have shown significantly different growth patterns in the various States. The percentage changes of these two types of deposits from December 31, 1941 to December 31, 1944 are given by States in Maps 4 and 5.

As presented in Map 4 the percentage changes in demand deposits show a sectional distribution similar to that of total deposits although at a somewhat higher level. Thus the highest percentage increases again occurred in the Western and Southern section. All States in this section except Colorado had increases in demand deposits of 125% or more. In 13 of the States there were increases of 150% or more.

The States in the Northeastern section showed the lowest relative growth over the period. All States in this section except Maine had increases of less than 100%. The Central section, as was the case in total deposits, was between the other two sections in percentage increases. Seven States in the Central section had increases in demand deposits between 100% and 124%, and 4 States had increases under 100%.

Washington, Oregon, Arizona, and Florida, of the States which showed large increases in demand deposits, were the only ones which also increased in time deposits by 100% or more (Map 5). Of the other States with increases of 125% or more in demand deposits, 6 showed increases of less than 50% in time deposits and 15 showed increases between 50% and 99% from December 31, 1941, to December 31, 1944.

For the calendar year 1944 alone, however, the situation was completely different as is shown in Table 2, Parts B and C, at the end of this article. The growth in demand deposits was relatively low all over the country with only 9 States showing increases of 25% or more. Time deposits, on the other hand, increased by 25% or more in 33, or more than two-thirds of the States, from December 31, 1943, to December 31, 1944. A rise of 30% or more occurred in 15 States located, for the most part, in the Western and Southern section of the country.

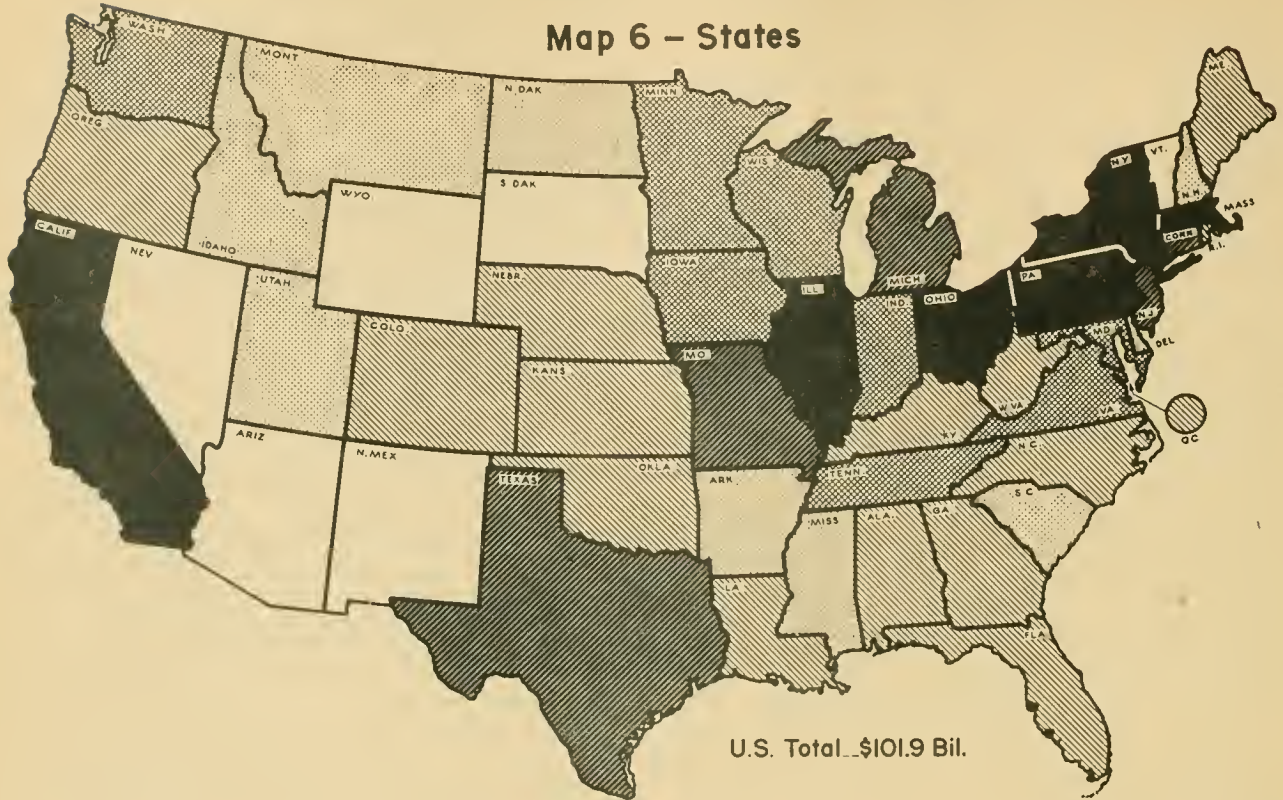

In Tables 1 and 2, Parts B and C, more detailed data on time and demand deposits are presented.

deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations among the States as of December 31, 1944 is shown in Map 6. Total deposits in the 25 metropolitan areas and the States excluding the metropolitan areas are given in Map 7.

As is well known, deposits are highly concentrated in banks in large cities, due to the tendency of large corporations to place their deposits in cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, etc. This is clearly shown in Map 7, which gives the amounts in the metropolitan areas and in the States excluding the metropolitan areas. Of the 20 States in which the 25 metropolitan areas are located, only 6 do not move to a lower bank deposit class with the exclusion of those areas. In the remainder of the country the relatively small portion of remaining deposits is distributed widely.

Additional information is given in Parts A, B, and C of Tables 1 and 2 on total, demand, and time deposits by metropolitan areas and by States. The location of the twenty-five metropolitan areas is presented in Map 8 and in Part D of Table 1.

Treasury Market Financing

Results of March Refunding

Nearly 99% of the 7/8% certificates of indebtedness due April 1, 1945, were exchanged for new 1-year, 7/8% certificates offered by the Treasury in March for the purpose of refunding the maturing issue. The amount of the April 1, 1945, certificates of indebtedness outstanding was $4,877 millions. Of this amount, $4,810 millions was converted into the new certificates due April 1, 1946. 1/

May 1 Certificate Exchange

On April 19, 1945, the Secretary of the Treasury announced the offering of an issue of 1-year, 7/8% certificates of indebtedness, to mature May 1, 1946, in exchange for certificates due May 1, 1945, which were outstanding in the amount of $1,615 millions. The new certificates were offered in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000. Interest is payable November 1, 1945, and May 1, 1946.

Subscription books for the exchange were open April 19-21, inclusive, except for subscriptions from holders of $100,000 or less of the maturing issue, for whom the books were kept open through April 25.

Treasury Bill Offerings 2/

The four weekly Treasury bill offerings during April were for approximately $1,300 millions each. The issue of bills maturing April 5 amounted to $1,205 millions, as compared with about $1,300 millions each for the remaining three issues. Thus $100 millions of new money was raised during April by the issuance of Treasury bills.

HOLC Bonds Called for Redemption

By an announcement dated March 23, 1945, the 1-1/2% bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation maturing June 1, 1947, but callable two years earlier, were called for redemption on their first optional retirement date, June 1, 1945. It was also stated that an offering of Treasury securities in exchange for the maturing bonds would be made at a later date.

The called bonds were issued June 1, 1939, and are outstanding in the amount of $755 millions.

• Less than $500,000.

1/ Based upon estimates as shown in the 1946 Budget. Classifications herein are based upon data susceptible of segregation according to Daily Treasury Statements and will not necessarily agree with classifications in Budget document.

2/ Includes unjust enrichment tax and taxes withheld by employers under both the Revenue Act of 1942 and the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943. For details see following chapter on Receipts and Expenditures and Appropriations, Table 2.

3/ Includes chiefly alcoholic beverage taxes, tobacco taxes, manufacturers' and retailers' excise taxes, and estate taxes.

4/ Includes deposits resulting from the renegotiation of war contracts. Information on the amount of such deposits is not available on the basis of Daily Treasury Statements. On the basis of covering warrants, such deposits were as follows: fiscal year 1943, $558 millions; fiscal year 1944, $2,235 millions, of which $113 millions represented a voluntary return of excess profits. Budget estimates of such deposits for the fiscal year 1945 are $1,685 millions, and for the fiscal year 1946, $952 millions.

5/ For explanation, see tables in next chapter on Social security program.

6/ Includes expenditures for public debt retirements which are chargeable to the sinking fund, etc. under special provisions of law.

7/ Includes expenditures classified as transfers to trust accounts, etc., for the Adjusted Service Certificate Fund and the National Service Life Insurance Fund.

8/ Includes Public works transactions classified as Revolving Funds (net).

9/ Includes Aid to agriculture transactions classified as Revolving Funds (net); expenditures of the Department of Agriculture classified as Departmental in the Daily Treasury Statement; and Office of Distribution transactions classified as transfers to trust accounts, etc.

10/ Includes expenditures classified as transfers to trust accounts, etc. for the Railroad Retirement Account and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Administration Fund. Excludes expenditures made by Office for Emergency Management, War Manpower Commission (U. S. Employment Service) under authority of the Social Security Act.

11/ Includes National Youth Administration.

12/ Represents transfers to public debt accounts for excess profits tax refund bonds.

13/ Includes departmental expenditures not otherwise classified and expenditures classified as transfers to trust accounts, etc., for Government employee retirement and insurance funds.

- ^{1/} Formerly Title VIII of the Social Security Act.
- ^{2/} Formerly Title IX of the Social Security Act. Includes amounts equal to appropriations to Railroad Unemployment Insurance Administration Fund equivalent to amounts of taxes collected with respect to the period from January 1936 to June 1939, inclusive, from employers subject to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (See Table 3 of Section I).
- ^{3/} Prior to January 1, 1940, figures represent amounts transferred to the Old-Age Reserve Account. From January 1 to July 1, 1940 "Transfers" were made to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund. Subsequently receipts have been deposited in the General Fund of the Treasury and "appropriated" directly to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund. Amounts shown as transfers reflect deductions made for reimbursement to the General Fund account to cover administrative expenses, which are shown as expenditures in Section II, Table 1.

- ^{4/} Includes only expenditures from appropriations made specifically for administrative expenses relating to the Social Security Act; namely, Social Security Board, Department of Commerce, and Department of Labor; and administrative expenses reimbursed to the General Fund of the Treasury under Section 201 (f) of the Social Security Act, as amended. Beginning July 1, 1940, includes also administrative expenses under the Wagner-Peyser Act. Excludes administrative expenses payable from other appropriations, principally for the following agencies: Bureau of Internal Revenue of the Treasury Department, and Public Health Service and Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency.
- ^{5/} Covered by appropriations by Congress.
- ^{6/} Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1938, appropriated $41 millions for refunding to certain States portions of Federal employers' tax for 1936 collected under the Social Security Act.

^{1/} In the fiscal years 1935 and 1936, $91 millions and $554 millions, respectively, were transferred from increment on gold to the working balance for retirement of national bank notes. In this statement, however, charges for retirement of national bank notes are reflected directly against increment on gold in the years during which the retirements were actually made. Inactive gold in the amount of $1,087 millions for the fiscal year 1937 is considered as a part of the working balance.

- ^{1/} This is the net budgetary deficit. Excludes amounts for public debt retirement which are chargeable to the sinking fund, etc., under special provisions of law.
- ^{2/} This represents the increase in the gross public debt, except as noted. (See footnote 7.)
- ^{3/} Includes Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund, Unemployment Trust Fund, Railroad Retirement Account, Government insurance and retirement funds and other trust funds.
- ^{4/} Comprises Public Works Administration revolving fund and special deposits (net). Also includes Office of Distribution (formerly Agricultural Marketing Administration) commodity food stamp transactions.
- ^{5/} Includes expenditures for retirement of national bank notes.
- ^{6/} In the fiscal years 1935 and 1936, $91 millions and $554 millions were transferred from increment on gold to the working balance for retirement of national bank notes. In this statement, however, charge for retirement of national bank notes are reflected directly against increment on gold, in the years during which the retirements were actually made. Inactive gold in the amount of $1,087 millions for the fiscal year 1937 is considered as a part of the working balance general and special accounts for the purpose of this table.

- ^{1/} Expenditures for the retirement of national bank notes from increment on gold for the fiscal years 1935 to 1939 (as shown below) are not reflected herein, but are reflected under increment on gold as follows: 1935, $91 millions; 1936, $397 millions; 1937, $99 millions; 1938, $51 millions; and 1939, $5 millions; total, $645 millions. The increase in the public debt shown in the table "Means of Financing Cash Requirements" for the above fiscal years will not agree for the reason stated above.

^{1/} Excludes postal savings bonds, Federal Housing Administration debentures, and guaranteed securities held by the Treasury.

^{2/} It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.

^{3/} Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom.

"Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

Back Figures: For period December 1941 through July 1943, see "Treasury Bulletin" for November 1944, page 32.

p Preliminary.

1/ In the case of the reopening of a previously offered security, the period to first call and to maturity are calculated from the date interest commences on the reopening.

2/ Restricted issues are those which commercial banks (defined for this purpose as banks which accept demand deposits) are not permitted to acquire prior to a specified date, with two exceptions: (1) concurrently with the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth War Loans, commercial banks were permitted to subscribe to the restricted issue offered in the War Loan for limited investment of their savings deposits; (2) commercial banks may temporarily acquire restricted issues through foreclosure when such issues have been used as collateral.

3/ Consists of all public cash subscriptions and of subscriptions by U. S. Government agencies and trust funds.

4/ Reopening of previously offered security.

5/ Interest commenced on October 15, 1943.

6/ Announcement of exchange offering was included in announcement of Third War Loan, August 16, 1943.

7/ Figures on amount of War Loan securities issued consist both of amounts issued in connection with the Drive, and of amounts issued concurrently with Drive to U. S. Government agencies and trust funds and to commercial banks.

8/ Interest commenced on March 15, 1944.

9/ Interest commenced on June 26, 1944.

10/ Interest commenced on September 15, 1944.

11/ This is the same security that was offered in the Sixth War Loan.

12/ Exchanged as of December 15, 1944 and accrued interest charged from December 1 to December 15.

13/ Amounts not yet available.

r Revised.

• Less than $50,000.

^{1/} At current redemption values except Series G, which is stated at par.

^{2/} Estimated, except for Series G.

^{3/} For details concerning investment yields and redemption values, see page A-4.

^{4/} Commercial bank purchases were permitted prior to April 1, 1940, and are estimated to have aggregated about $300 millions.

^{5/} Not yet available.

^{6/} Series A-D, sold between March 1935 and April 1941, are 10 year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases were limited to $7,500 issue price in any calendar year and from April 1, 1940, could be made only by individuals. Series A bonds began to mature in March 1945. For information on the approximate monthly distribution of maturities during 1945 see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1945, page A-2. The small amounts of matured bonds which have not been redeemed remain in the amount outstanding.

^{7/} There were $71.2 millions of Series A-D and E savings bonds redeemed through March 31, 1945 which had not been identified by series. For purposes of this table, it has been assumed that all of these were Series E bonds.

Series E, on sale since May 1, 1941, is a 10 year discount bond sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases are limited to $3,750 issue price in any calendar year and may be made only by individuals.

^{9/}

Series F and G have been on sale since May 1, 1941. Series F is a 12 year discount bond sold at 74% of maturity value, yielding 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G is a 12 year current income bond, sold at par, bearing interest at the rate of 2-1/2% per annum, redeemable at par on maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity. Purchases of Series F and G combined in any one calendar year are limited to $100,000 issue price ($50,000 in calendar year 1944). During the calendar year 1944 commercial banks were permitted to purchase Series F and G bonds under certain conditions. Limitations on such purchases for the period January 1, 1944 through November 19, 1944, were described in the "Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9. The limitation on commercial bank purchases for the period November 20, 1944 through December 31, 1944 was $100,000 providing that total holdings of Series F and G bonds, 2% Treasury bonds of 1952-54, and 2-1/2% Treasury bonds of 1966-71 did not exceed 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and non-profit corporations or associations and of savings deposits, or $500,000, whichever was less.

Table 4.- Redemptions of Series A-D and E Combined, Classified by States

Data on savings bond redemptions by State for Series A-D and E combined became available beginning in October 1944. Figures for the months from October 1944 through February 1945 are shown below. It should be noted that State figures on redemptions are not necessarily comparable with sales data by State inasmuch as bonds which have been purchased in one State may have been redeemed in another. Moreover, the figures on redemptions are on the basis of current redemption value, whereas the sales figures are at issue price.

(In thousands of dollars at current redemption value)

* Less than $50,000.

^{1/} These notes were originally designed to help taxpayers set aside funds with which to pay taxes and were known as Treasury tax savings notes. Series A notes were designed for the small and moderate taxpayer; Series B and Series C notes were intended for the large taxpayer. When the collection of taxes through withholding at the source commenced, the need for Series A tax savings notes disappeared and their sale was discontinued. Redemption provisions of Series A notes were relaxed to provide for the payment of interest on notes thereafter redeemed for cash (see footnote 3). Sale of Series C notes, which were designed for the investment of idle cash reserves as well as for the accumulation of tax reserves, was continued and the notes were designated Treasury savings notes. Includes matured Treasury savings notes.

^{2/} Series A notes, which were sold from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, yield approximately 1.92% per annum. Through June 22, 1943, the notes could be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price; since that date, the notes have been redeemed for cash at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. (See also footnote 1.) Prior to October 4, 1943, the maximum amount which could be used in payment of each class of tax (income, estate, or gift) by each taxpayer during each taxable year was limited to $5,000 par value; this limitation was removed as of that date.

^{4/} Series B notes were sold from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, to yield approximately 0.48% per annum. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price.

^{5/} Series C notes went on sale September 14, 1942. Interest accrues each month on a graduated scale (see "Treasury Bulletin" for August 1943, page 4) to yield approximately 1.07% per annum if held to maturity. These notes may be used in payment of Federal taxes at any time two months after the date of issue. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash six months after the date of issue at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. Prior to July 27, 1943, notice of 30 days was required for cash redemption. See also footnote 1.

$\frac{1/}$ Consists of purchases or sales made by the Treasury. Treasury investment accounts comprise (1) trust funds which by law are under the control of the Secretary of the Treasury or of the Treasurer of the United States, and (2) accounts under the control of certain U. S. Government agencies whose investments are handled through the facilities of the Treasury Department. This table also includes purchases under Section 19 of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and excludes the Exchange Stabilization Fund.

Treasury Survey of Ownership of Securities Issued by the United States Government and by Federal Agencies, February 28, 1945

Section I - Securities Issued or Guaranteed by the United States Government

The tables in Section I present summary data as of February 28, 1945 from the Treasury Survey of Ownership of Securities Issued or Guaranteed by the United States. The banks and insurance companies covered in the survey account for approximately 95 percent of the amount of such securities owned by all banks and insurance companies in the United States.

Section II presents summary data on the ownership of Federal land bank bonds.

Back figures: The Treasury Survey commenced with data for March 31, 1941 and has been published regularly in the "Treasury Bulletin" since May 1941. Revisions of data for September 30, 1944 appeared in the February 1945 issue, page 53; reclassification of data on banks for the period November 1943 through February 1944 appeared in the May 1944 issue, pages 52-57; revisions of data on insurance companies for May 31, 1943 and prior months appeared in the November 1943 issue, pages 52-63.

* Less than $500,000 or less than .05%.

^{1/} Securities held in trust departments are excluded.

^{2/} Includes trust companies.

^{3/} This column includes securities held by those banks and insurance companies which are not covered in the Treasury Survey. See head-note to this section.

^{4/} Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury are not included. Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom. "Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

 $\frac{6}{1}$ Series A-D savings bonds sold prior to March 1, 1941 are partially tax-exempt; those sold on and after that date are taxable.
 $\frac{1}{1}$ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury are not included.

Section II - Interest-Bearing Securities Issued by Federal Agencies But not Guaranteed by the United States $\frac{1}{1}$

Note: Data on Federal land bank bonds held by banks and insurance companies covered in the Treasury Survey are not entirely comparable with figures on holdings of securities issued and guaranteed by the United States because a total of 90 fewer institutions reported with respect to their holdings of Federal land bank bonds. Eventually the two series should be fully comparable.

- ^{1/} When the price of a security is such as to result in a negative yield, the excess of price over zero yield is given in the yield columns in thirty-seconds.
- ^{2/} Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market except that prices of Treasury and Home Owners' Loan Corporation bonds for the period prior to October 1, 1939, represent closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange. "When issued" prices are included beginning October 1, 1939. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.
- ^{3/} Computed on mean price to call date when mean price is above par and to maturity date when mean price is below par.
- ^{4/} Included in the average of long-term taxable Treasury bonds.
- ^{5/} Quoted on a yield basis.

- ^{6/} Not quoted on March 31. From March 24 through March 29, quoted at par. Prior thereto, quoted on a yield basis.
- ^{7/} For amount of this security issued on April 1, 1945, see table on "Offerings of Marketable Issues of Treasury Bonds, Notes, and Certificates" in the chapter on "Public Debt and Guaranteed Obligations of the United States Government."
- ^{8/} This is the only bond eligible to remain in the average of long-term partially tax-exempt Treasury bonds.
- ^{9/} Excludes postal savings bonds.
- ^{10/} Excludes Federal Housing Administration debentures.
- ^{11/} Called on March 23 for redemption on June 1, 1945.

1/ When the price of a security is such as to result in a negative yield, the excess of price over zero yield is given in the yield column in thirty-seconds.
 2/ Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market. "When issued" prices are included beginning November 1, 1941. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.
 3/ Computed on mean price to call date when mean price is above par and to maturity date when mean price is below par.
 4/ Quoted on a yield basis.
 5/ Prices quoted are subject to a dealer's commission.
 6/ Excludes issues completely held by Farm Credit Administration agencies.

YIELDS OF TREASURY SECURITIES MAR. 31, 1945

Based on Mean of Closing Bid and Asked Quotations

Explanation: The points represent yields to call date when prices are above par, and to maturity date when prices are at par or below. The smooth curves for the various classes of points are fitted by eye. Issues for which an exchange offer has been made or which are due or callable in less than 3 months are excluded.

Basis of Computation: (1) Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. (2) Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used.

Back Figures: Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.

1/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of average see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax.

2/ For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussion of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

3/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

4/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised commencing with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.564. See footnote 2.

5/ On days when the exchanges are closed, the date and prices of the previous day are used.

6/ Indicates change in composition of average.

1/ Exchanges were closed.
