Sales in the Victory Loan

Part I - Results of the Loan

Sales by Investor Classes

Sales of United States Government securities in the Victory Loan totaled $21.1 billion, thereby exceeding the $11.0 billion National goal by $10.1 billion or 92%. In the Victory Loan the total quota of $11.0 billion was divided between $4.0 billion for individuals and $7.0 billion for corporations and other investors. Sales to both of these groups substantially exceeded their quotas.

Individuals. Sales to individuals aggregated $6.8 billion, $2.8 billion or 69% in excess of the $4.0 billion National goal. The total goal for individuals of $4.0 billion was equally divided between Series E savings bonds and other securities. Series E bond sales totaled $2.2 billion, 10% more than the National quota. Sales of other securities to individuals reached $4.6 billion, thereby exceeding the $2.0 billion goal by more than 125%. As in previous loans, the figures for individuals include sales to partnerships and personal trust accounts.

The formal sales period for individuals extended from October 29 through December 8, 1945. It was stated in the original announcement, however, that non-marketable issues, comprising savings bonds (Series E, F, and G) and savings notes, processed through December 31 would be credited to the drive to allow enough time for the thousands of concerns operating payroll savings plans to issue the bonds. The final date was later extended to January 3, 1946 for Series E bonds and January 2 for other non-marketable securities because of processing lags and the extended holiday weekend.

Corporations and other investors. Sales to corporations and other investors totaled $14.4 billion, thereby oversubscribing the $7.0 billion goal by 105%. Of this group, sales to insurance companies reached $3.1 billion and sales to savings banks aggregated $1.8 billion. The remaining $9.5 billion of sales to corporations and other investors went to nonfinancial corporations and miscellaneous organizations, savings and loan associations, dealers and brokers, and State and local governments. Corporations and other investors were permitted to subscribe to marketable securities during the Victory Loan only from December 3 through December 8.

Summary table. The following table summarizes sales and goals in the Victory Loan by major investor classes.

A distribution of total sales by major investor classes is also presented in Chart 1. Table 1 at the end of this article presents detailed figures on sales of each security to each investor class.

The sales figures reported above and throughout this article refer to gross purchases of securities offered in the Loan and do not necessarily reflect the net new investment by any investor class during the period of the Loan. Net acquisitions of securities by each investor class are affected not only by purchases of new securities but by redemptions and cash maturities of securities already held and by market operations carried on between investor groups. Estimates of ownership as of the end of the drive are presented in Chart 6 and in the section on "Comparison with Prior Loans".

Sales by Issues

Four non-marketable and three marketable securities were offered for sale in the Victory Loan. The table below lists the various issues and the distribution of total sales among them.

	Sales	Percentage distribution
	(In billions of dollars)
Non-marketable issues:
Savings bonds:
Series E.....	2.2	10.4
Series F and G.....	.7	3.1
Savings notes.....	1.7	8.0
Total non-marketable issues	4.5	21.5
Marketable issues:
Restricted as to bank ownership:
2-1/2% Treasury bonds, due 12/15/67-72.....	9.8	46.4
2-1/4% Treasury bonds, due 12/15/59-62.....	3.0	14.4
Total.....	12.9	60.8
Unrestricted marketable issues:
7/8% Certificates of indebtedness, due 12/1/46.....	3.7	17.7
Total marketable issues....	16.6	78.5
Total.....	21.1	100.0

Non-marketable issues. Sales of non-marketable issues totaled $4.5 billion or 21% of total sales as shown in the above table. Sales of Series E savings bonds, as mentioned previously, reached $2.2 billion. About $1.2 billion or 54% of total E bonds sales was accounted for by sales under the payroll savings plan operating in most of the business and government organizations throughout the country. It is estimated that another $.8 billion was made up of sales to farmers and to individuals in the various communities. The remaining $.2 billion was made up of sales to the armed forces through their Finance officers.

A special Series E bond in memory of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt was first made available in the Victory Loan. This bond in the denomination of $200, with an issue price of $150, constituted an additional denomination of Series E bonds. A total of $142 million of these special bonds was sold during the Victory Loan.

Marketable issues restricted as to bank ownership. Of the three marketable securities offered during the Victory Loan, the two long-term issues -- the 2-1/2% and 2-1/4% Treasury bonds -- are restricted as to bank ownership. Neither issue may be owned by commercial banks until the period to the final maturity date does not exceed 10 years. The offering of two such restricted issues, similar to those offered in the Seventh War Loan, was in keeping with Treasury policy that indirect bank participation be kept to a minimum during the Loan.

Subscriptions to the 2-1/2% Treasury bonds reached $9.8 billion or almost half of total sales. This surpassed the peak of similar sales reached in the Seventh War Loan. Combining these sales with the $3.0 billion of sales of the other restricted issue (the 2-1/4% bonds) restricted sales totaled $12.9 billion or 60.8% of total sales.

Moreover, if these sales of restricted issues are combined with the sales of all non-marketable issues, an aggregate amount of $17.4 billion or 82% of total sales during the Victory Loan consisted of securities which may not be shifted to commercial banks, at least for an extended period. The success of this method of discouraging indirect bank participation was greater than in the Seventh War Loan, when such sales accounted for 75% of total sales.

Unrestricted marketable issues. The remaining marketable issue, the 7/8% certificates of indebtedness, was the only unrestricted offering during the Victory Loan. Sales of this security aggregated $3.7 billion.

Preferences among investor classes. Among insurance companies, the 2-1/2% Treasury bonds of 1967-72 were by far the most popular investment during the Victory Loan. This issue made up 85% of their total purchases. Savings bank purchases were also concentrated in the 2-1/2% bonds, with 76% of their purchases in this issue. For both of these investor classes, the 2-1/2% bonds accounted for even a greater proportion of total purchases than in the Seventh War Loan when these percentages were 79% and 42%, respectively.

Nonfinancial corporations, etc. showed considerable preference for short-term issues by placing 60% of their purchases in the 7/8% certificates and the savings notes. Contrary to previous experience, however, nonfinancial corporations, etc. purchased long-term 2-1/2% bonds to the extent of one-quarter of their total purchases.

Savings and loan associations placed over 60% of their purchases in the 2-1/2% bonds. State and local governments placed 44% of their purchases in the 2-1/2% Treasury bonds, and 37% in the one-year certificates.

Dealers and brokers were limited to purchases of the 2-1/4% and 2-1/2% Treasury bonds. There were also restrictions on the amount of these securities which any one organization was permitted to purchase. Subscriptions by insurance companies and savings institutions were subject to limitations for the first time in the Victory Loan. The restrictions on their subscriptions are described in the October 1945 issue of the Treasury Bulletin (p. A-3, footnote 6).

Dating of marketable securities. In the Victory Loan the various marketable securities bore interest from different dates. The 2-1/2% and 2-1/4% Treasury bonds were dated and bore interest from November 15, 1945 and the 7/8% certificates of indebtedness were dated and bore interest from December 3, 1945. Subscriptions from nonbank investors other than individuals for all three issues were not accepted until December 3, whereas individuals were permitted to subscribe starting October 29. Accrued interest from date of issue to date of payment was charged on all marketable issues except for subscriptions of $500 or $1,000 to each of the Treasury bond issues. The Treasury requested that there be no trading in these securities and no purchases other than on direct subscription until after December 8. The chief characteristics of the securities offered in the Victory Loan are described in the "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945 (pages A-3 - A-5).

Sales by States

Each State surpassed its most important quotas, those for sales to individuals as a whole and for E bond sales alone (Maps 2 and 3). The state quotas for total sales and sales to corporations and other investors were also exceeded by substantial amounts (Map 1). 1/

1/ In the War Finance Organization, Northern and Southern California and the District of Columbia are treated as separate States.

Achievements in total sales to individuals.

Sales to individuals in each of the States in relation to the quotas set in those States hit record peaks during the Victory Loan. In 36 of the States, sales reached 150% or more of the goals set. Of these, nine States achieved 200% or more of their goals. The remaining States exceeded their quotas for individuals by 18% or more. All States passed their quotas for sales of securities other than E bonds by 120% or more (Map 4).

State records for E bond quotas. The E bond record of each of the States in relation to their E bond quotas was outstanding in the Victory Loan. Every State surpassed its quota by percentages ranging up to 89%. In eight of the States, the E bond goals were exceeded by 25% or more, with six of those States located in the northwest central area of the country. In ten of the States, E bond sales reached 115% to 125% of the quotas set.

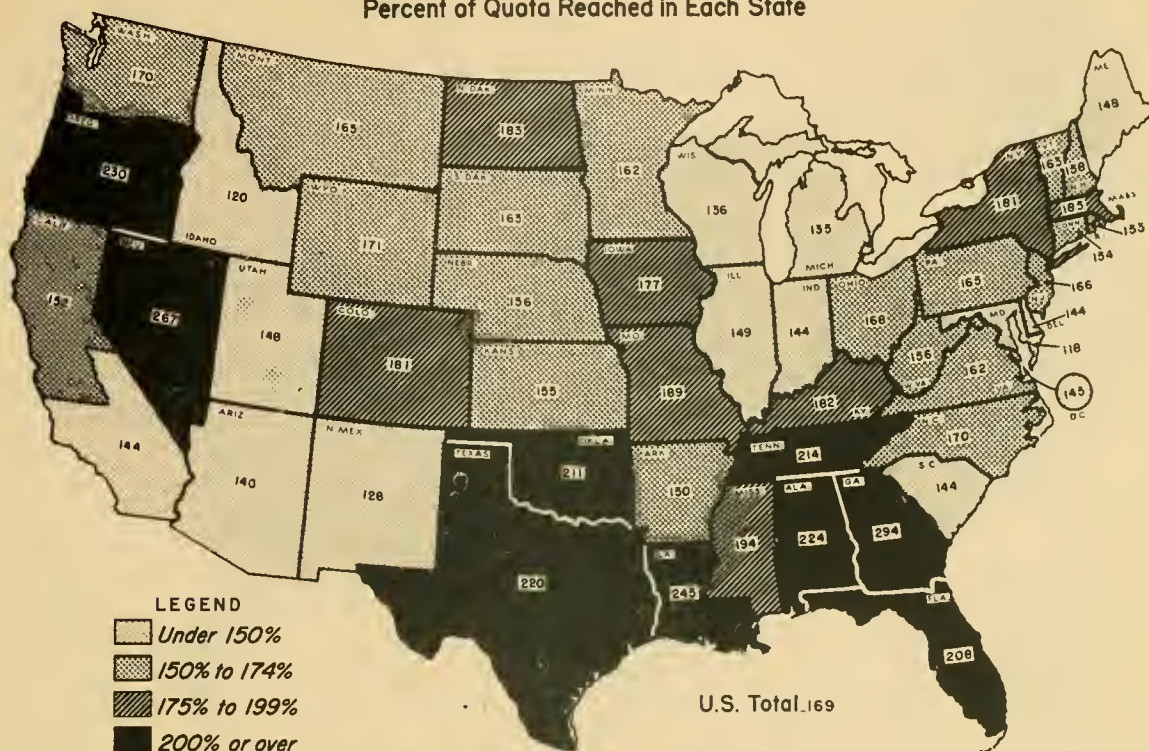

Agricultural States have generally had a better record than industrial States in their achievement of E bond quotas. The following table presents the percent of E bond goals reached in the last four loans in the ten leading industrial States as compared with the five leading farm States. The States are listed in the order of percent of E bond quotas achieved in the Victory Loan.

2/ The agricultural States selected were those which had the highest cash farm income (including Government payments) in the calendar year 1944, according to Department of Agriculture data. For purposes of bond drive analysis, California, Illinois, and Ohio are considered industrial States although they are also leading in cash farm income.

Sales Patterns

Anticipated sales patterns were worked out in advance of the Victory Loan to show what cumulative day-to-day sales would have to be in order to achieve the final quotas. In keeping with the emphasis on sales to individuals during the drive, separate sales patterns were prepared for (1) total sales to individuals, (2) sales of Series E bonds alone, and (3) sales of other securities to individuals. Chart 2 presents a set of these patterns for the United States as a whole. It shows that the national goal for individuals of $4.0 billion was passed on December 5. Sales of E bonds, which lagged behind the pattern in the middle of the drive, rose enough at the end to bring total sales over the goal. Sales of other securities to individuals passed the goal on November 21.

A similar set of patterns was prepared for each State to show progress during the Victory Loan on the State level. Each State War Finance Chairman was provided with the sales patterns for his State.

Subscriptions under the Deferred Payment Plan

In the Victory Loan, a greater proportion than ever before of total sales was made up of sales under the deferred payment plan ($1.5 billion of $21.1 billion). The deferred payment plan permitted certain classes of investors, namely, life insurance companies, savings institution, State and local governmental units, and similar public corporations and agencies, to defer payment in whole or in part at par and accrued interest through February 28, 1946 on their subscriptions to the two long-term Treasury bonds.

Sales to savings banks and insurance companies under the deferred payment plan accounted for $1.2 billion, the major portion of sales under this plan. The following table presents a summary of deferred payment sales.

Comparison with Prior Loans

Combining the sales of $21.1 billion in the Victory Loan with sales in the previous loans, a total of $156.9 billion of Government securities were sold during the eight large scale bond drives alone. Of the total, sales to individuals aggregated $43.3 billion or 28% and sales to corporations and other investors made up $103.5 billion or 66%. Sales to commercial banks, which were included, for limited amounts, in only the first two war loans, made up $10.2 billion or 6% of total sales.

The following table summarizes the distribution of sales in each of the eight loans by major investor classes. Chart 3 also presents the distribution of sales by major investor classes for each loan. Chart 4 shows a distribution of sales in each loan by type of security.

A comparison of the dollar value and number of pieces of E bonds sold in each of the eight loans is shown in Chart 5. In the Victory Loan there were 46 million pieces of Series E bonds sold with a dollar value of $2.2 billion.

At the end of December 1945 there were $276 billion of interest-bearing Federal securities outstanding. Chart 6 shows preliminary estimates of the distribution of outstanding securities among the various investor groups, bank and nonbank. These figures reflect sales during and between drives and take into account maturities, redemptions, and market trading between the investor classes. The chart also shows the growth of these holdings from December 31, 1939 through December 31, 1945. As of the end of the period, individuals held $64 billion or 23% of total securities outstanding and corporations and other investors held $71 billion. Federal agencies and trust funds (primarily Treasury investment accounts) held $27 billion and commercial banks and Federal Reserve Banks together held $114 billion on December 31, 1945. The latter two groups of investors have been excluded from recent war loans except for minor purchases by Federal agencies whose investments are handled outside of the Treasury.

A comparison of goals and sales for each of the eight loans is presented in Chart 7 for the major investor groups. Additional historical information on all loans is given in Tables 4, 5, and 6.

^{1/} Commercial banks were allowed to buy only $5 billion of Federal securities during each of the first two war loans, and were excluded from direct participation in all later war loans.

Part 2 - Background of the Loan

Development of Quotas

Final determination of the national goals in each of the loans held was made after analysis of both the current financial needs of the Treasury and the flow of funds throughout the country. The growth in importance during the war period of Government operations as a part of the national economy made it necessary to study the income flow among all the economic segments of the country in order to analyze the sources available for Federal borrowing. The termination of the war in August did not immediately affect the relative importance of Government fiscal operations nor did it alter the need to study the nation's income flow in finally determining the $11.0 billion national goal for the Victory Loan.

Total expenditures by the different segments of the economy measure the total income flow of the nation. During the war period there has been a disproportionate amount of expenditures by the Federal Government as compared with the income it has received in the form of taxes. At the same time, the people of the country have had a far smaller amount of goods and services available for purchase than the amount of income they have had left after taxes. The deficit the Government incurred and the surplus the remainder of the economy enjoyed were identical. It was this surplus, with its inherent inflationary character, which the Treasury sought to borrow as far as possible during the various war loans in covering the Government's financial needs.

Emphasis has consistently been placed on the investment of liquid savings of individuals in each of the various loans. The actual amount of current savings available for investment by individuals was limited, however, by two types of transactions: (1) transfers to other nonbank investor classes, who in turn have invested in Federal securities, and (2) the need or preference for additional accumulations in cash, including both currency and deposits in commercial banks.

The transfers mentioned here include net payments on insurance by individuals, whereby funds are transferred from individuals to insurance companies and Government insurance funds. Deposits in mutual savings banks and the postal savings system likewise transfer funds to other nonbank investors. It was necessary, therefore, to account for these transfers in order to get the amount of new savings during any period which could either be invested in Government securities or could be used to cover the need for savings in the form of cash.

For the Victory Loan, new factors growing out of the reconversion period had to be considered. Principal among these factors were (1) the estimated lower Federal deficit, (2) the expected drop in employment, and (3) the anticipated decline in individual income resulting from shifts to lower paid peacetime jobs and loss of overtime pay.

The quota of $11.0 billion for the Victory Loan was therefore set to reflect both the somewhat lower Federal deficit and the changes in the general economic situation resulting from the ending of the war. The individual quota of $4.0 billion took into account the anticipated change in the employment and income situation due to cutbacks in war production as well as the funds required by the Treasury.

In conformity with the decentralized operation of the war loan program, the national quotas were broken down by States and supplied to the respective chairmen of the State War Finance Committees some time before the opening of the drive. State quotas were in turn broken down by the State Chairmen by counties and frequently by other geographical units. Local quotas were ultimately determined in each State in conformity with local conditions.

Speculative Purchases Discouraged

Special efforts were again made during the Victory Loan to sell as many securities as possible outside the banking system and to hold indirect participation of commercial banks to a minimum. In this connection, the Treasury Department pointed out that it regarded as an improper practice the acquisition of outstanding securities by banks on the understanding that a substantially like amount of new securities would be subscribed for through such banks, thus enabling them to expand Government deposits in their own banks.

As an actual step in carrying out the policy of minimizing indirect bank participation the unrestricted marketable securities offered during the Victory Loan were limited to only one issue -- the 7/8% certificates of indebtedness -- for all nonbank investors.

GOALS AND SALES IN THE EIGHT LOANS

1/Combined goal of $4 billion for all investors excluding commercial banks.
 2/No separate goal was set for Series E bonds.

The Treasury Department urged the cooperation of all banking institutions in declining to make speculative loans for the purchase of Government securities, and in declining to accept subscriptions from customers which appeared to be entered for speculative purposes. The Treasury stated that it was in favor of the banks making loans to facilitate permanent investment in Government securities provided such loans were made in accordance with the joint statement of national and State bank supervisory authorities on November 23, 1942, which stated that such loans should be on a short-term or amortization basis fully repayable within six months. (This statement was reprinted in the March 1944 issue of the Treasury Bulletin on page A-3.)

Sales Allocations Between States

In order to prevent disturbance to the money market and the banking situation, the practice started in previous war loans was used again to avoid transfers of funds by subscribers who wished to help local communities make their quotas. Under this procedure, the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Banks undertook to give statistical credit to the various localities for subscriptions made by investors with interests in more than one community or for purchases made at the central offices of business organizations operating in more than one area.

In the case of many large business organizations, Series E bonds bought by employees under payroll savings plans or during special plant drives were issued from central offices; the procedure worked out for allocating credit made it possible in these cases to transfer the credit to the purchaser's home address or to the place of his employment. Likewise, stubs representing sales by the Federal Reserve Banks, the Office of the Treasurer of the United States, etc., were sorted by cities in order to pass credits to local communities. Sales by issuing agents whose activities are largely confined to one city or county (such as banks, post offices, etc.) were credited to the place of their location. All subscriptions from insurance companies were assigned to the address of the home office, as in the past.

Sales Promotion

The pattern for promotion of the Victory Loan followed the lines established by experience in the seven war loans. The volunteer organization was based on State, county and local committees, with State War Finance Chairmen taking top responsibility and acting as the channel of communication between national headquarters and local groups.

Company quotas for participation of employees on payroll savings plans were set on a sliding scale, depending on average wages. The range was from $37.50 per employee in companies whose average wage was less than $140 per month to $131.25 per employee in companies whose average wage was $235 or more per month. Companies were asked to submit their overall quotas to the Secretary of the Treasury on a printed card, and thousands did so. The attainment of company quotas depended on increased payroll savings deductions for bonds as well as on extra purchases for cash.

The Victory Loan, like the preceding War Loans, touched every important organization in the country--patriotic, fraternal, religious, educational, farm, labor and countless others. For example, women workers planned special programs and activities for the Victory Loan along lines which had proved most successful in previous drives.

The nation's 25,000,000 school students assumed responsibility for taking home factual information about the investment features of Savings Bonds, along with application blanks.

Agricultural states undertook expanded programs for sales to people in farm areas since the Victory Loan coincided with the period in which a large number of rural people have their peak cash income for the year. This phase of the drive was also actively assisted by rural bankers.

As in previous loan drives the Army and Navy made available facilities and personnel, the most outstanding of which were six "Victory Trains." Army and Navy combat nurses were assigned to State committees as bond speakers; flights of air-borne troops, Navy fighting planes, B-29's and three German U-Boats were exhibited on planned tours. 16 MM. Victory Loan films were shown to over 50,000,000 people. Special programs in retail stores and community theatres and radio appeals by 5-star Generals and Admirals contributed greatly to the success of the drive. The original German and Japanese surrender papers were on exhibit and copies were furnished to all State committees.

Bond admission premieres were given by a large number of motion picture theatres, and bond admission performances by concert and opera stars. Special programs of radio, newspaper and periodical advertising continued at the high level reached in previous drives. Retailers of the nation were perhaps better organized than they had ever been for a drive.

The American Bankers Association through its

• Special Committee on War Bond Drives, cooperated very closely in the sales campaign. The Association's "Plan of Action," which not only featured reporting and recording of bank sales but direct solicitation of depositors, was more widely adopted by banks than ever before. Investment bankers, savings and loan associations and security dealers also stressed special promotions for the sale of E bonds.

Security Purchases Outside the Victory Loan by Commercial Banks and Treasury Investment Accounts

Commercial Banks

Concurrently with the Victory Loan, commercial banks (defined as banks accepting demand deposits) were permitted to subscribe in limited amounts for specified issues included in the loan. The securities made available were the 7/8% certificates of indebtedness, the 2-1/4% and 2-1/2% Treasury bonds, and Series F and G savings bonds, with sales confined to the period December 3 through December 8. Total purchases by any one bank were limited to 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and nonprofit corporations or associations, and of savings deposits, but not more than $500,000 in all. In addition, purchases of the Series F and G savings bonds were restricted by the usual $100,000 annual limit (issue price) for both issues combined applicable to all purchasers of these bonds. Subscriptions by commercial banks concurrently with the Victory Loan were not included in the drive nor were they credited toward any quota.

Subscriptions by commercial banks to the issues available to them under these limits aggregat-ated $1,396 million. Distribution by issues is presented below.

Treasury Investment Accounts

Subscriptions by Treasury investment accounts totaled $1,018.2 million during the period of the Victory Loan. These were divided between $0.5 million for the 7/8% certificates of indebtedness and $1,017.7 million for the 2-1/2% Treasury bonds offered in the drive. These purchases, however, were not included in sales in the Victory Loan. Treasury investment accounts constitute the accounts of those United States Government agencies and trust funds whose investments are handled through the facilities of the Treasury Department.

Financial Statistics of Certain Tax-Exempt Organizations for 1943

On November 17, 1945, the Secretary of the Treasury made public information compiled from returns of certain classes of organizations exempt from the Federal income tax under section 101 of the Internal Revenue Code. The information released was embodied in a report prepared by the Bureau of Internal Revenue entitled "Supplement to Statistics of Income for 1943, Part 2." A brief description of the contents of the Supplement and of the limitations to which they are subject are presented in this article, and summary tables of the basic data follow. 1/

The Supplement presents tabulations from the annual returns (Form 990) of the exempt organizations which were required to file returns under section 54(f) of the Internal Revenue Code as added by section 117 of the Revenue Act of 1943.

The returns of organizations required to file and which are included in the Supplement are those which relate to the calendar year 1943 and fiscal years beginning in 1943. 2/ Section A of the Supplement covers returns which were received in the Bureau of Internal Revenue through December 31, 1944. Section B covers returns which were received between December 31, 1944 and September 1, 1945. The Supplement, therefore, includes all of the first-year returns required by the Revenue Act of 1943 in those instances in which the return was received prior to September 1, 1945.

A complete tabulation was made of the receipts and disbursements of all returns included in Section A of the Supplement. Returns in Section B were tabulated only where total gross income and receipts reported were $50,000 or more.

For purposes of the Supplement, the tax-exempt organizations were classified into two broad groups. The first consists of those types of organizations whose primary functions -- that is, the functions for which the exemption was granted -- are not business activities. This group includes such organizations as labor unions, charitable and educational associations and foundations, business leagues, social clubs and similar organizations. The second group consists of organizations whose primary functions are business activities and includes mutual savings banks, building or savings and loan associations, credit unions, farmers' cooperatives and other exempt business organizations.

Table 1 at the end of this article is a summary of the number of returns received, the total gross income and receipts and the total disbursements of tax-exempt organizations filing returns, distributed by type of organization. The returns and data from Sections A and B of the Supplement are shown separately. In interpreting the data in the table it should be borne in mind that not all exempt organizations are required to file returns on Form 990. Moreover, since it appears that an indeterminate number of those organizations required to file have not done so, the Supplement, while aiming at complete coverage of the first returns required by the Revenue Act of 1943, falls short of this goal.

Table 2 shows the aggregate amounts of the various types of gross income and receipts and disbursements on all returns in Section A of the Supplement combined with those returns in Section B which reported gross income and receipts of $50,000 or more. The totals are shown separately for those organizations whose primary functions are business activities and for those organizations whose primary functions are non-business activities. In interpreting this table, it should be noted that the use of the standardized Form 990 for a great variety of different

- 1/ A detailed discussion and summary of the data contained in the Supplement can be found in a preliminary report of December 15, 1945, entitled "Tax-Exempt Organizations," prepared at the request of the Congressional Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation for Post-war Taxation by the staffs of the Joint Committee, the Treasury Department, and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. This report was ordered printed for purposes of information and discussion, but it has not yet been considered or approved by the Committee or any member thereof.
- 2/ Returns are not required to be filed by any organization exempt from taxation under the provisions of section 101 which is (1) a religious organization exempt under section 101(6); (2) an educational organization exempt under section 101(6), if it normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of pupils or students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are regularly carried on; (3) a charitable organization, or an organization for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, exempt under section 101(6), if supported, in whole or in part, by funds contributed by the United States or any State or political subdivision thereof, or primarily supported by contributions of the general public; (4) an organization exempt under section 101(6), if operated, supervised, or controlled by or in connection with a religious organization exempt under section 101(6); (5) a fraternal beneficiary society, order, or association solely exempt under section 101(3); or (6) a corporation exempt under section 101(15), if wholly owned by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or a wholly owned subsidiary of such corporation.

organizations, such as banking institutions, cemetery companies, farm organizations, social clubs, labor unions, library associations, chambers of commerce, etc., made it necessary for many types of organizations to adapt the results of their own bookkeeping methods to the uniform presentation prescribed by the form. Moreover, since for many of the organizations covered, the filling out of Form 990 represented the first experience of this kind, some inaccuracies are to be expected.

It is also important to note that the data on receipts and disbursements contained in the Supplement are not comparable with the income and deductions data contained in corporation income tax returns. Therefore, it is not possible to determine from these data amounts which would be comparable with the net taxable income of taxable corporations.

The final summary, Table 3, shows for both parts of the Supplement combined, (1) the number of balance sheets from which total assets were tabulated and (2) the total assets reported, distributed by major types of organizations. The data on assets, however, represent information obtained from a limited portion of the tax-exempt organizations. Tax-exempt organizations were required to submit balance sheets only if business or rent receipts were reported. Total assets were tabulated by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in Section A, (1) from balance sheets attached to returns submitted by organizations whose primary functions are non-business activities if the organizations reported business receipts and, (2) from all balance sheets submitted by organizations whose primary functions are business activities. In Section B these data were tabulated for balance sheets of organizations in the above two categories whose gross income and receipts were $50,000 and over.

Maturity of Series B United States Savings Bonds

United States Savings Bonds Series B, originally issued in 1936, began to mature on January 1, 1946. These bonds were sold at 75 percent of maturity value with an annual limit of $10,000 on purchases (maturity value). As of December 31, 1945 about 73 percent of the Series B bonds issued were still outstanding.

Savings bonds were first issued beginning March 1935. All of the issuances in the calendar year 1935 were designated Series A and matured during the calendar year 1945. All 1936 issues were designated Series B and mature during the calendar year 1946. Series C bonds were issued in 1937 and 1938 and Series D bonds in 1939, 1940, and 1941 (January 1 through April 30). Beginning May 1, 1941, Series E, F, and G bonds were introduced and their sale has been continued to date 1/.

Procedure for Payment

On January 11, 1946, Secretary Vinson called attention to the fact that Series B bonds are beginning to mature and stated that they will be paid at their face value on presentation to any qualified paying agent. It was pointed out in his announcement that, since the bonds do not increase in value after maturity, individuals who wish to continue their investment in similar bonds without interruption should present their matured bonds in the month of maturity for reinvestment in United States Savings Bonds of Series E, F, or G. The new bonds purchased will be subject to the regular annual limit on the amount of purchases, namely $5,000 maturity value on Series E bonds, and $100,000 issue price on Series F and G bonds combined.

Bonds of Series E, F, and G purchased with the proceeds of matured Series B bonds will be dated as of the first day of the month in which the proceeds of the matured bonds are presented for payment to agents authorized to issue the new bonds. Any difference between the redemption value of the matured bonds and the purchase price of the new bonds will be paid to the registered owner in cash.

Sales of Series B savings bonds in 1936 were not restricted to natural persons, as is the case with Series E bonds. There are, therefore, some Series B bonds held by banks, corporations, and estates. Since such holders are not eligible to purchase Series E bonds, they are invited to invest the proceeds of their maturing bonds in other issues of United States Government securities which they are eligible to purchase.

Series B United States savings bonds registered in the names of individuals as owners or co-owners may be presented for payment at any bank, trust company, or other financial institution which is qualified as a paying agent for savings bonds; this includes practically all banks and trust companies throughout the country. Maturing bonds registered otherwise than in the name of an individual as owner or co-owner must be presented, after the request for payment has been duly certified, to a Federal Reserve Bank or branch or to the Treasurer of the United States; and bonds registered in the name of an individual as owner or co-owner may be so presented at the owner's option.

Close relatives having possession of maturing bonds of Series B belonging to servicemen abroad are authorized to redeem such bonds for the purpose of purchasing bonds of Series E, F, and G for the servicemen. Full instructions regarding procedure in any such case will be given on application to any Federal Reserve Bank or branch.

Series B bonds outstanding

Series B bonds were originally issued in the amount of $370 million (purchase price). As of December 31, 1945 there were $331 million (current redemption value) of these bonds outstanding. Continuation of the Savings Bond Program

At the time of the announcement of the Victory Loan, Secretary Vinson stated that the sale of Series E, F, and G savings bonds would be continued through payroll savings deductions and through the other accepted channels such as banks, schools, etc., at least until such time as the inflationary pressures have been removed. Inflationary pressures are expected to continue as long as the amount of goods on the market remains below the demands built up by the public during the long period of wartime shortages. Savings bonds, even though they are easily turned into cash, have proven to be a check on immediate spending.

Approval of continuing the sale of bonds has been shown by individuals and labor and business organizations when they were polled on this question. Among individuals, polls were taken by the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup), by "Fortune Magazine" (Elmo Roper) in New York State, and by the Treasury Department and the Division of Program Surveys of the Department of Agriculture in the Detroit area. The results of these three surveys showed that a large majority of those polled thought that continuing the sale of savings bonds was a good idea. A survey of 500 business firms and 70 railroad companies also indicated their approval of retaining the payroll savings plan.

In order to encourage further the sale of bonds, particularly through payroll savings, the Secretary of the Treasury sent a letter to the heads of each of the participating businesses with 100 employees or more expressing the hope that they would continue to make the payroll savings plan available to their employees.

As of January 1, 1946, the War Finance Division was succeeded by the United States Savings Bonds Division to promote the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds in peacetime.

Treasury Market Financing

Historical details of Treasury market financing operations involving bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness, beginning with October 1943, are published in the tables on pages 32 and 33. Details of weekly Treasury bill offerings are shown on pages 34 and 35.

Refunding in December

On December 17, 1945, the Secretary of the Treasury announced the offering of 1-year 7/8% certificates of indebtedness in exchange for .90% Treasury notes due January 1, 1946. Cash subscriptions were not accepted.

The maturing issue, which was outstanding in the amount of $3,416 million, was, in effect, part of the certificate series. It was issued as of December 1, 1944 in exchange for an issue of 7/8% certificates maturing on that date. It was made a 13-month Treasury note to prevent overlapping the certificate issue then being sold in the Sixth War Loan with a maturity date of December 1, 1945.

An analysis of the Treasury reports on the ownership of Government securities indicates that on November 30, 1945 about 82% of this issue of .90% Treasury notes was owned by the reporting commercial banks and Federal Reserve Banks.

The new certificates were dated January 1, 1946 and will mature January 1, 1947. Interest is payable on July 1, 1946 and January 1, 1947. The certificates were issued in bearer form only, in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. The exchange was on a par for par basis. Subscription books were open December 17-19 except for the receipt of subscriptions from holders of $100,000 or less of the maturing notes, for which they remained open through December 22.

Exchanges amounted to $3,330 million, or 97% of the maturing issue, leaving only $86 million to be paid off in cash.

Payment of 3% Conversion Bonds

On January 1, 1946 there also matured a $16 million issue of 3% conversion bonds. These had originally been issued in 1916. This maturity was paid off in cash.

^{1/} Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for purposes of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purposes of computing the annual interest charge and rate of^{2/} Interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90% per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.53%. Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury, and securities guaranteed as to interest only, are not included in this table.

^{1/} Exclude (1) postal saving bonds and (2) Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).

^{2/} It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.

^{3/} Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom. "Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

r Revised.

• Less than $50,000.

1/ At current redemption values except Series G, which is stated at par.

2/ Estimated, except for Series G.

3/ For details concerning investment yields and redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for May 1945, page A-4.

4/ Commercial bank purchases were permitted prior to April 1, 1940, and are estimated to have aggregated about $300 million.

5/ Not yet available.

6/ Series A-D, sold between March 1935 and April 1941, are 10 year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases were limited to $7,500 issue price in any calendar year and from April 1, 1940, could be made only by individuals. Series A bonds began to mature in March 1945. For information on the approximate monthly distribution of maturities during 1945 see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1945, page A-2. The small amounts of matured bonds which have not been redeemed remain in the amount outstanding.

7/ There were $128.7 million of Series A-D and E savings bonds redeemed through December 31, 1945 which had not been identified by series. For purposes of this table, it has been assumed that all of these were Series E bonds.

8/ Series E, on sale since May 1, 1941, is a 10 year discount bond sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases are limited to $3,750 issue price in any calendar year and may be made only by individuals.

9/ Series F and G have been on sale since May 1, 1941. Series F is a 12 year discount bond sold at 74% of maturity value, yielding 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G is a 12 year current income bond, sold at par, bearing interest at the rate of 2-1/2% per annum, redeemable at par on maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity. Purchases of Series F and G combined in any one calendar year are limited to $100,000 issue price ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). Commercial banks were permitted to purchase Series F and G bonds during the calendar year 1944 under certain conditions ("Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9); and from June 15 through June 30, 1945 they were again permitted to make such purchases, subject to the following limitations: (1) purchases of Series F and G bonds from June 15 through June 30 were not to exceed the annual limit of $100,000; and (2) combined purchases of Series F and G bonds, 1-1/2% Treasury bonds due 12/15/50, and 7/8% certificates of indebtedness due 6/1/45 may not exceed 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and non-profit corporations or associations and of savings deposits, or $500,000, whichever may be less.

* Less than $50,000.

- 1/ These notes were originally designed to help taxpayers set aside funds with which to pay taxes and were known as Treasury tax savings notes. Series A notes were designed for the small and moderate taxpayers; Series B and Series C notes were intended for the large taxpayer. When the collection of taxes through withholding at the source commenced, the need for Series A tax savings notes disappeared and their sale was discontinued. Redemption provisions of Series A notes were relaxed to provide for the payment of interest on notes thereafter redeemed for cash (see footnote 3). Sale of Series C notes, which were designed for the investment of idle cash reserves as well as for the accumulation of tax reserves, was continued and the notes were designated Treasury savings notes.
- 2/ Includes matured Treasury savings notes.
- 3/ Series A notes, which were sold from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, yield approximately 1.92% per annum. Through June 22, 1943, the notes could be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price; since that date, the notes have been redeemed for cash at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. (See also footnote 1.) Prior to October 4, 1943, the maximum amount which could be used in payment of each class of tax (income, estate, or gift) by each taxpayer during each taxable year was limited to $5,000 per value; this limitation was removed as of that date.

- 4/ Series B notes were sold from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, to yield approximately 0.48% per annum. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price.

- 5/ Series C notes went on sale September 14, 1942. Interest accrues each month on a graduated scale (see "Treasury Bulletin" for August 1943, page 4) to yield approximately 1.07% per annum if held to maturity. These notes may be used in payment of Federal taxes at any time two months after the date of issue. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash six months after the date of issue at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. Prior to July 27, 1943, notice of 30 days was required for cash redemption. See also footnote 1.

1/ Basis of Computation: (1) Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. (2) Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used.

Back Figures: Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.

2/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of average see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax.

3/ For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussion of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

4/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

5/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised commencing with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.56%. See footnote 2.

6/ Discontinued on December 15 because after that date there were no bonds outstanding due or callable after 15 years.

7/ On days when the exchanges are closed, the date and prices of the previous day are used.

8/ Closed.

9/ Holiday.
