Statement by Secretary Snyder on H.R.1, before the Senate Finance Committee, April 22, 1947

I am glad to have this opportunity to appear before the Senate Finance Committee. You have before you H.R. 1, a bill which would make the second major postwar tax reduction. I have previously stated my views on tax reduction in my recent appearance before the House Ways and Means Committee. Today, I wish to repeat some of the reasons why I believe that no general tax reduction is advisable at this time and also to comment in more detail on certain specific aspects of H.R. 1.

I am convinced that a general tax reduction at this time is neither necessary nor appropriate. I believe that this conclusion is supported by a careful examination of both the current economic conditions and the budgetary situation. The desirability of maintaining present tax rates for this year is emphasized by the size of the public debt. Moreover, premature reduction of one tax, such as is proposed in H.R. 1, might make later achievement of a comprehensive revision of the tax system difficult or impossible. Finally, even if tax reduction were now appropriate, H.R. 1 does not make the right approach to a tax reduction program.

Economic Conditions

Present economic conditions do not call for a tax reduction. The American economy has already made a remarkably rapid transition from record wartime production to record peacetime output. Employment is high, and national income continues to reach new peacetime levels. Under these favorable economic conditions present taxes do not impose an excessive hardship on the American people.

Under present conditions, I do not believe that a tax reduction would bring about any significant increase in production, nor do I believe that a tax reduction is necessary at this time to assure continued high-level production. The rapid and sustained growth of employment and output achieved in 1946 and the early months of 1947 was accomplished with present tax rates. During that period, millions of demobilized veterans found civilian jobs, and there was a rapid increase in the number of new small business firms. Business as a whole is now operating virtually at capacity. Production is now limited by shortages of materials and labor rather than by lack of venture, capital or markets. All of these facts are evidence of the vigor and adaptability of our free enterprise system. Employment and output will undoubtedly rise still higher in the future with the normal growth of the economy.

Inflationary pressures have still not subsided. Prices and production have not yet fully adjusted to one another. So long as inflationary pressures exist, there is good economic reason for maintaining high taxes. If we should cut taxes prematurely, we could easily contribute to further price rises and to economic instability. If we cut taxes too soon we shall probably find it impossible to reverse our action. On the other hand, it will be time enough to cut taxes when it becomes clear that conditions call for such action.

Budgetary Situation

The current budgetary situation also calls for the maintenance of existing taxes. I am gratified that the latest estimates indicate a budgetary surplus for the fiscal year 1947. If the taxes are not reduced we shall also be able to achieve a budgetary surplus in the fiscal year 1948. It is by no means clear, however, that the surplus in the fiscal year 1948 will exceed the amount foreseen in the President's budget, except for the effect of the subsequent adoption by the Congress of the President's recommendation for extension of the so-called war excise tax rates. Under existing law, revenues for the fiscal year 1948 are estimated at $38.8 billion. The President's budget puts expenditures for the fiscal year 1948 at $37.5 billion. A Conference Committee of the House and Senate is still considering various legislative budget estimates of expenditures. We still do not have any clear evidence that expenditures in the coming fiscal year can be reduced below the President's budget figures of $37.5 billion. In my opinion, it would be unwise to reduce the revenues before we have a clear picture of what expenditures will be authorized.

Public Debt

We have emerged from the war and immediate transition period with a public debt of approximately $258 billion. The size of the debt is a strong argument against a tax reduction at this time. Under present conditions, I believe it will be sound financial policy to achieve as large a budget surplus as is possible and to apply that surplus against the public debt. When national income is high, as it now is, it is prudent to reduce the public debt as rapidly as possible. The present situation gives us an opportunity to make further reduction in the debt. I believe that we should now prove our determination to retire public debt by making as big a payment on it as we can. If we do so, there will be less cause for concern if in some future years we find it desirable to postpone temporarily further debt retirement.

Comprehensive Tax Revisions Later

During recent years, when attention was necessarily devoted almost exclusively to urgent matters of war finance, a great number of technical tax problems have been accumulating. Moreover, much interest has developed in a series of fundamental tax problems. The problems to which I refer are not solely, or even primarily, ones of tax rates. They relate rather to tax structure. These problems now need careful consideration, especially in view of the high level of current and prospective revenue requirements.

Although I do not believe that the time has yet come for revisions involving major tax reductions, it is not too early to begin studies of desirable tax changes to take effect at a later date. The Treasury Department has been studying a large number of important tax problems, working on many of them in close collaboration with the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. The Treasury stands ready to assist the Congress in any way possible.

In anticipation of later tax reductions, we should review the whole tax system. We should re-examine not only the individual income tax, but also the corporation income tax, excise taxes, and estate and gift taxes. Such a comprehensive review should aim at revisions that will fit all major taxes together into a system that will produce adequate revenue, will be fair and equitable, will interfere as little as possible with incentives to work and invest, and will help maintain mass markets for mass production.

There is danger that if we act prematurely by reducing the rates of one tax, without consideration of other problems, we shall make it difficult or impossible to adopt many needed changes at a later time. Many such fundamental tax revisions will involve substantial revenue reduction. If we now make a major reduction along the lines of H.R. 1, we may later find that we are not able to adopt many of the basic revisions in the individual income tax and the other taxes that are necessary for a sound postwar tax system.

Specific Discussion of H.R.1

I turn now to a more specific examination of H.R. 1, as passed by the House. For the use of the Committee, I have appended to my statement several exhibits and an appendix. <sup>1/</sup> This material includes a variety of statistical data on the composition of the individual income tax base and other information that I believe will be helpful in your consideration of H.R. 1 and other proposals for tax reduction.

H.R. 1 includes a general reduction of individual income tax rates and a special additional exemption for taxpayers over 65 years of age. It would reduce the income tax by 30% for taxpayers whose net income in excess of exemptions is $1,000 or less, and by an amount which under the notch provision would rapidly fall to 20% at a net income of $1,396 after exemptions. For net income after exemptions between $1,396 and about $302,400, the reductions would be 20%. For higher incomes the reduction would gradually taper off to 10.5% above $5,000,000. The rate reductions in the amended bill are identical with those in the original bill for all taxable net incomes in excess of $1,396. Only about 1,100 taxpayers would get less than a 20% rate reduction. About 14.4 million taxpayers would get a 20% rate reduction. About 8.5 million would get between 20% and 30%. The remaining 24.8 million taxpayers would get a 30% rate reduction.

H.R. 1 grants a special additional exemption of $500 to persons over 65 years of age. <sup>2/</sup> This additional exemption is subject to the limitation that persons qualifying for it must include in their gross income for tax purposes the first $500 received from certain types of periodic pension or retirement annuity benefits that are now fully exempt from taxation. It is estimated that this additional exemption would reduce the income tax of 2.8 million persons over 65, of whom 825 thousand would be made non-taxable.

<sup>2/</sup> In the case of joint returns, the special additional exemption would be $1,000 where both husband and wife are over 65 and each has $500 or more gross income.

It is estimated that the bill would reduce tax liabilities by $3,769 million for a full year. This is $280 million more than the original bill. Of the total reduction in liabilities, $3,624 million would be attributable to rate reductions and $145 million to the increase in exemptions for taxpayers over 65. <sup>3/</sup>

Since H.R. 1 is retroactive to January 1, 1947, its enactment would reduce receipts in the fiscal year 1948 by more than the amount of one year's reduction in tax liabilities and would also necessitate a large amount of additional tax refunds. It is estimated that the House bill would reduce receipts in the fiscal year 1948 by $3,994 million. It would increase refunds by $751 million. In considering the effect of H.R. 1 on the budget for the fiscal year 1948, it is necessary to combine the decrease in receipts of $3,994 million with the increase in expenditures of $751 million for additional refunds. H.R. 1 would weaken the budget for the fiscal year 1948 by $4,745 million.

As I have already said, I do not believe that a tax reduction is now appropriate. I now wish to point to some inequities in H.R. 1 as a tax reduction measure. Although the bill has been somewhat modified since it was originally introduced, it would still provide relatively too little tax reduction for low and middle incomes as compared with high incomes. As I said to the Ways and Means Committee, it seems to me that if a 1947 tax bill has any place at all in the management of our financial affairs, it should aim primarily at bringing relief to taxpayers who have borne extraordinarily heavy burdens during the war and postwar transition years and should give consideration to inequities. I do not believe that H.R. 1 accomplishes these objectives.

H.R. 1 would not reduce taxes in the same way that we increased them during the war. This can be clearly seen in Exhibit 2, which compares taxes at different net incomes under the 1939 law, present law, and H.R. 1. To illustrate, H.R. 1 would eliminate 22% of the difference between present taxes and 1939 taxes for a married person with no dependents and a net income of $5,000. But at a net income of $1 million, the bill would wipe out 69% of the tax increase since 1939. Taxes at the $5,000 level would still be eight times as high as in 1939, but at the $1 million, taxes would be only a little higher than in 1939. H.R. 1 would reduce taxes on very high incomes to a level only a little higher than that before the war. It would leave taxes on lower and middle incomes much higher than before the war.

Despite modifications at both the lower and upper extremes, H.R. 1 still provides in the main a flat percentage cut in present taxes. Of the \$3,769 million reduction, \$2,262 million is attributable to the 20% reduction, \$724 million is attributable to the 30% reduction, \$520 million to the notch area of 20-30% reduction, \$118 million to the 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ -20% reduction, and \$145 million to the exemption for persons over 65.

So far as I know, a flat percentage cut in individual income taxes has been made only twice before in the history of the Federal income tax. The first time was in the Revenue Act of 1924, applicable to 1923 incomes. That act made a flat 25% reduction, but exemptions were greater and rates on lower incomes were much less than under present law. The second time a flat percentage cut in taxes was made was in the Revenue Act of 1945. But I want to emphasize the important differences between the 1945 Act and the kind of reduction proposed in H.R. 1. The 5% cut under the Revenue Act of 1945 was only one of three important changes in the individual income tax. It accounted for less than one-fourth of the total reduction of the individual income tax. The remaining three-fourths of the 1945 reduction was made in the form of an increase in the normal tax exemptions and a reduction of 3 percentage points in each surtax bracket.

There is a significant difference between a flat percentage cut in existing tax rates and a uniform reduction of a certain number of percentage points in each bracket. A 20% flat reduction would reduce rates 17 percentage points in an 85% rate bracket, but only 4 percentage points in a 20% rate bracket. In contrast, a 5 percentage point reduction in each surtax rate, which would lose about the same amount of revenue, would give a 5.9% reduction in an 85% bracket rate, and a 25% reduction in a 20% bracket rate. An across-the-board percentage cut of the type in H.R. 1

The $500 special tax exemption for persons over 65 years of age included in H.R. 1 is addressed to the special problem of one group. The bill as amended would partially offset the additional exemption by the requirement that taxpayers include in their gross income the first $500 of certain types of pension and retirement income now fully tax exempt, such as social security old-age benefits, railroad retirement benefits, and retirement pay of armed forces personnel retired for disability. This modification is a complication of the original provision, which does not meet the fundamental objections to such a special exemption. I do not believe that exclusions of particular kinds of income from the tax base are an appropriate means of bringing relief to special groups. As I told the Ways and Means Committee, I am opposed to extension of present exclusions from the individual income tax base. I do not believe that it would be fair to increase income tax exemptions for persons over 65 years of age and not for similarly situated persons under 65.

H.R. 1 is not only deficient from the standpoint of equity. It is not the well-balanced approach to the important problem of maintaining incentives and markets, which will be essential when a tax reduction is appropriate. In a tax reduction program, the whole problem of incentives and markets merits broad and careful consideration. The problem is not merely one of individual income tax rates. It includes other phases of the tax system and many features of the individual income tax not treated in H.R. 1. Subjects that will need to be considered include the taxation of dividend income, tax treatment of different forms of business, loss carrybacks and carryforwards, depreciation, treatment of family income, exemptions and other matters.

Enactment of H.R. 1 would complicate the individual income tax and increase administrative costs. It would cancel a part of the great progress that has been made in recent years toward simplification of tax forms. The different rates of reduction from tentative tax, the "notch" rate, and the provision for the aged involving the partial inclusion of income now excluded would be confusing to many taxpayers. There would be an increase in refunds, particularly for low income taxpayers.

Conclusion

In my opinion, H.R. 1 should not be enacted. It would make reduction in revenues of almost $4 billion and necessitate an increase in expenditures of $751 million for tax refunds at a time when a balanced budget and substantial debt reduction should be our first objective. By concentrating a large reduction in one tax, H.R. 1 would make later well-balanced tax revision more difficult, and perhaps impossible. H.R. 1 would not be an equitable tax reduction. It would unnecessarily complicate the individual income tax.

In conclusion, I wish to repeat that, in my judgment, economic conditions, budgetary uncertainties, and the size of the public debt all call for maintaining present tax rates in 1947. Under present conditions, it is sound financial policy to achieve as large a surplus as possible. The Administration will continue to make every effort to hold Government expenditures for the fiscal year 1948 to the lowest level possible in view of our national obligations and public needs. I am sure, however, that any surplus that is likely to be realized in 1948 could best be applied to the reduction of the public debt.

Treasury Market Financing

Historical details of Treasury market financing operations involving bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness, beginning with the Fifth War Loan, are published in the tables on pages 30 and 31. Details of weekly Treasury bill offerings are shown on pages 32 and 33.

Reduction in Treasury Bills in April

On April 9, 1947, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announced that the offering of bills on April 17 would amount to $1.1 billion. The bills maturing on that date totaled $1.3 billion, so Treasury bills outstanding were reduced by $0.2 billion.

In this announcement, Secretary Snyder stated that "this reduction of $200 million in bills is a continuation of the Treasury's policy for the retirement of debt held by the banking system. There are no other securities maturing until June 1 - the May 1 certificate was paid off in full last year - and since the Treasury has an ample cash balance, part of it is being applied to retire Treasury bills now."

The release also included a statement by the Secretary "that the retirement of bills has no relation to Treasury policy with respect to interest rates and that no change in policy is presently contemplated."

The issuance of bills in the amount of $1.1 billion as against maturities of $1.3 billion took place again on April 24. On April 25, it was announced that another reduction of $0.2 billion would take place on May 1.

From March 1, 1946, when the debt pay-off program began, through April 30, 1947, the total public debt was reduced by $22 billion - from $279.8 billion, the all-time peak, to $257.9 billion. A detailed discussion of the debt reduction program since it was started was presented in the "Treasury Market Financing" article on page A-18 of the May 1947 issue of the "Treasury Bulletin."

Change in Procedure for Treasury Bill Issuance

On April 25, 1947, Secretary Snyder announced that beginning with the issue of Treasury bills dated May 1, 1947, the Treasury would invite tenders for bills in exchange for maturing bills, as well as for cash, and that exchange and cash tenders would be accorded equal treatment. Cash adjustments are to be made for differences between the par value of maturing bills accepted in exchange and the issue price of the new bills.

The announcement explained that the "procedure for accepting exchange as well as cash tenders is being adopted to facilitate weekly re-funding operations in bills. The bill holdings of the Federal Reserve Banks recently were $15 billion out of a total of $17 billion outstanding. Under existing procedure, the Federal Reserve Banks replace their weekly maturing bill issues, in large part, by purchasing new issues from security dealers, who ordinarily bid for amounts greatly in excess of market needs. This is done solely to facilitate the bill operation, as the dealers charge no commission for this service, and obtain only the nominal profit from the transaction which is available to anyone. Under the new procedure the Federal Reserve Banks will be in a position to bid directly on an exchange basis for new issues in amounts not in excess of those required to replace maturing issues of bills originally acquired in the market.

"Any addition to Federal Reserve holdings of bills would be purchased in the open market as at present."

Individual and Taxable Fiduciary Income Tax Returns for 1943

The Bureau of Internal Revenue recently completed tabulations of data from the 1943 individual and taxable fiduciary income and victory tax returns. The tabulations cover all returns, and present more complete data than were included in the advance tabulations reported on in the August 1945 issue of the "Treasury Bulletin." The final report, "Statistics of Income for 1943, Part 1," will be published at some future date.

Transition to a "Pay-As-You-Go" Basis

The year 1943 marked the transition to a "pay-as-you-go" basis for the collection of individual income taxes. During the first six months of the year, payments were made by taxpayers on their 1942 tax liabilities, as computed in the returns filed in March 1943. During this six-month period victory tax was withheld at the source by employers on 1943 wages. On July 1, 1943, in accordance with the provisions of the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943, a new system of withholding of income taxes and victory taxes at the source by employers was instituted. In addition, quarterly payments on declarations of estimated tax were required to cover incomes not subject to withholding. A final settlement was made in March 1944, when complete tax returns for the year 1943 were filed.

The shift to a current income tax collection basis required 3 tax computations.

- (1) The 1942 tax. This tax was computed on 1942 incomes, and reported in returns filed in March 1943.
- (2) The 1943 tax. This tax was computed on 1943 incomes, independently of any subsequent consideration of the merging of the 1942 and 1943 tax liabilities. This computation was reported in the 1943 tax returns filed in March 1944. (See facsimile of page 1 of Form 1040 attached.)
- (3) The 1942-1943 tax. This was the final tax computed from both the 1942 and 1943 taxes, and was the eventual liability of the taxpayer on 1942 and 1943 incomes.

The following table presents a comparison of the 1942 and 1943 taxes, and a reconciliation of the 1943 and 1942-1943 taxes.

- 1/ Alternate method of computing tax on long-term capital gains (limit 25%), rather than including such capital gains in the higher range of tax levies.
- 2/ Tax computed on Form 1040A (short form). This applies to incomes not exceeding $3,000, and derived wholly from salaries, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities.

The adjustment which bridged the transition of income tax payments to a current basis, was computed as part of the 1943 tax returns. The 1942-1943 tax liability was the sum of (1) the full tax for 1942 or 1943, whichever was larger, and (2) the unforgiven portion of the other (smaller tax). The forgiveness feature applicable to the smaller tax (either 1942 or 1943) was as follows: 100% forgiveness for taxes of $50 or less, forgiveness ranging between 100% and 75% for taxes between $50 and $66.67, and 75% forgiveness for taxes over $66.67. (See lines 16-22 on facsimile of page 4 of Form 1040 attached.)

In making final settlements in March 1944, against the 1942-1943 tax liability, credits were made for:

- (1) Income tax paid on 1942 income,
- (2) Income and victory tax withheld by employers in 1943, and

- (3) Tax paid on 1943 income by quarterly payments on declaration of estimated tax.

Any remaining amounts of liability were due and payable by March 15, 1944 (except that payment of one-half of the unforgiven portion of smaller tax could be postponed until not later than March 15, 1945). It should be noted that neither the 1942 tax nor the 1943 tax was paid in full as such. The 1942-1943 tax liability was the one which was paid.

The Current Tax Payment Act of 1943 did not affect fiduciary returns, since they were not made subject to current collections.

Comparison of Returns for 1942 and 1943

Although the Current Tax Payment Act merged the 1942 and 1943 tax liability of individuals, separate returns were filed for 1942 and 1943 incomes. The 1942 returns were already filed when the law was passed, and the 1943 returns were used as a base for computing the final tax liability. There are, therefore, data available for comparing the number of returns, net income, and the 1942 and 1943 taxes.

Number of returns, net income, and taxes.
The number of individual and taxable fiduciary returns filed for the income tax year 1943 totaled almost 44 million, an increase of 19% over the number of returns filed for 1942. These were distributed among the three types of forms as follows:

Type of form	Number of returns
	(In thousands)
Individual returns:
Form 1040.....	23,381 <sup>1/</sup>
Form 1040A.....	20,342

Taxable fiduciary returns:
Form 1041.....	97
Total individual and taxable fiduciary returns.....	43,819

The returns for 1943 reported a net income of $99.6 billion as compared with $78.9 billion reported for 1942. This represented an increase in net income reported of $20.7 billion, or 26%, from 1942 to 1943. The figure on net income for 1943 includes $31.1 billion of gross income reported on Form 1040A, which does not provide for reporting net income. (See facsimile of page 1 of Form 1040A attached.) The tax on all returns increased from $8.9 billion to $14.6 billion from 1942 to 1943, an increase of $5.7 billion or 64%.

The following table presents a summary comparison of the major items from individual and taxable fiduciary returns for 1942 and 1943.

The tables at the end of this article give more detailed data from individual and taxable fiduciary returns. Table 1 presents a summary of the sources of income and deductions. Table 2 presents figures on income, number of returns, and tax liability distributed by States. Table 3 presents a distribution by net income classes of number of returns, net income, credits, and tax liability. More complete tabulations in the form of a supplement will be available shortly upon request to the Treasury Department.

Returns Included and Classification of Returns

The returns from which the statistics were tabulated are as follows:

Forms	Description
Individual returns: Form 1040.....	Regular individual returns.
Form 1040A.....	Optional returns for individuals with a gross income of not more than $3,000 and derived wholly from salaries, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities.
Form 1040B.....	Returns filed by nonresident aliens with businesses or offices within the United States.
Taxable fiduciary returns: Form 1041.....	Estate and trust returns.

The returns were classified as taxable or nontaxable, depending on whether or not there was a tax (either income or victory) on the income reported for 1943. The complex results of consolidating the 1942 and 1943 taxes into a final tax liability were disregarded. Returns with net income were those in which the total income exceeded total deductions, and in the case of fiduciary returns, the total income exceeded the sum of deductions and the amount distributable to the beneficiaries. Optional returns, Form 1040A, which show only gross income, were classified as returns with net income. Returns with net income were segregated into net income classes, except that returns made on Form 1040A were shown in aggregate.

The segregation of returns by States and territories was determined by the location of the collection district of filing, except for the District of Columbia. Returns from the Territory of Alaska were included in the State of Washington.

Changes in the Income Tax Laws

The data from 1943 returns as compared with 1942 were affected by provisions of (1) the Revenue Act of 1942, (2) the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943 and (3) the Revenue Act of 1943.

The principal changes were the following:

- (1) A return was required to be filed for 1943 for (a) a married person living with husband or wife with gross income of $624 as compared with $1,200 in previous tax year; (b) any person liable for income tax for 1942; and (c) any person entitled to a refund on account of excessive withholding or overpayment on estimated declaration.

- (2) A victory tax was imposed of 5% of victory tax net income after a specific exemption of $624. This tax was applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1943. A victory tax credit was allowed with regard to marital status and number of dependents. The amount of victory tax was limited to the excess of 90% of net income over the regular income tax.
- (3) Current collection of the income tax liability of individuals was effected through withholding upon wages and through payments on declaration of estimated tax. Every withholding agent was required to deduct and withhold upon wages a tax equal to 5% of the excess of each wage payment over the withholding deduction allowable on payrolls after January 1, 1943. The withholding upon wages was increased to 20% of the excess of each wage payment over the withholding exemption allowable, effective for the first complete payroll period after July 1, 1943. To provide for the current collection of taxes on income not subject to withholding, persons receiving more than specified amounts of such income were required to file on September 15, 1943, a declaration of estimated tax for the taxable year. After deducting the estimated tax to be withheld and the payments on 1942 tax, payment of the remaining estimated tax was due in two instalments. The first instalment was to be paid at the time of filing the declaration, and the second on December 15, 1943. Amounts actually withheld upon wages and those paid on account of the declaration as well as payments on 1942 tax were considered payments on the total income and victory tax liability on the complete return for 1943.
- (4) In adopting the system of current collection of the tax liability of individuals, the income tax liability for 1942 was discharged, except that (a) for individuals whose income tax liability for 1942 was greater than for 1943, the tax liability for 1943 was increased by the amount by which the 1942 tax exceeded the tax for 1943; (b) for individuals whose smaller tax liability, either 1942 or 1943, exceeded $66.67, the tax liability for 1943 was increased by 25% of the smaller tax; and (c) for individuals whose smaller tax liability, either 1942 or 1943, was more than $50 but less than $66.67, the tax liability for 1943 was increased by the excess of the smaller tax over $50. In effect, the provisions of the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943 granted relief to those taxpayers who otherwise would have been liable for payment during 1943 of taxes due for both 1942 and 1943, through the discharge (or forgiveness) of 100% of the lower tax where the lower tax liability was $50 or less; a percentage somewhat less than 100% but greater than 75% where the lower tax liability was between $50 and $66.67; and 75% where the lower tax liability exceeded $66.67.

In computing the increase in (a) above for an individual who was in the active service of the military or naval forces of the United States or any of the other United Nations at any time during the taxable year 1942 or 1943, the increase in the merged 1942 and 1943 tax liability was reduced by the amount by which the 1942 tax had been increased by reason of the inclusion in 1942 net income of earned net income.

- (5) Military and naval personnel exclude from the 1943 gross income $1,500 compensation received while in active service in the military or naval forces of the United States. This provision applies to both enlisted personnel and officers as well as to citizens or residents of the United States who are members of the military or naval forces of other United Nations.
- (6) Returns for a fiscal year ending in the period January through June 1944, are subject to the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1943, as well as the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1944. A tentative tax is computed under each law, after which each tax is prorated according to the number of days in each year, and the total tax is the sum of the prorated taxes.

Description of Sample and Limitations of Data

The material covered in this report was derived from a basic sample of all individual returns and a complete tabulation of taxable fiduciary returns. The sample of individual returns was made up as follows:

- (1) 1% of taxable Form 1040A returns;
- (2) 1% of nontaxable Form 1040A returns;
- (3) 1% of taxable Form 1040 returns with net income under $5,000 (or with deficit) and with total receipts from business under $25,000;
- (4) 1% of nontaxable Form 1040 returns with net income under $5,000 (or with deficit) and with total receipts from business under $25,000;
- (5) 10% of taxable Form 1040 returns with net income under $5,000 (or with deficit) and with total receipts from business of $25,000 or more;
- (6) 10% of nontaxable Form 1040 returns with net income under $5,000 (or with deficit) and with total receipts from business of $25,000 or more;
- (7) 10% of Form 1040 returns with net income from $5,000 to $10,000;
- (8) 20% of Form 1040 returns with net income from $10,000 to $20,000; and
- (9) 100% of Form 1040 returns with net income of $20,000 and over.

Returns in each of the strata (1) to (8), inclusive, were selected according to prescribed random sampling techniques uniformly applicable to all States, and data tabulated therefrom were extended to the respective universes on a national basis.

In the case of the data by States, taxable fiduciary returns with net income were tabulated in full; supplementary samples were added to the basic sample of individual income tax returns described above, resulting in 100% representation in the net income classes above $5,000 for all States. Supplementation in the under $5,000 area was prescribed where necessary to achieve a total of at least 4,500 individual income tax returns of each form, per State. Inasmuch as the degree of supplementation varied by States, individual income tax returns for each State were separately tabulated and extended to the proper State universe. Although the prescribed supplements in the under $5,000 net income area were not achieved for all States, the sample is considered adequate, nevertheless, in dealing with returns with net income, since sampling variability associated with the total number of such returns per State is relatively negligible. Returns with deficit, however, are very meager and the standard errors of sampling are too large to permit their distribution by States.

In view of the different samples used for the distributions on a national basis and for the State distributions, the aggregate data relative to individual returns with net income by States do not precisely agree with corresponding United States totals presented in the rest of this article. Apart from the sampling error involved, the difference between the number of individual returns with net income for the United States in the body of the article and the corresponding aggregate of State frequencies is in part due to the use of rounded ratios in extending the data from the samples of all returns with net income under $5,000 to the universes. Thus, although the United States universe used in evolving the national extension ratio equalled the total of the State universes used in evolving State extension ratios, the tabulated number of returns for the United States varies somewhat from the total for the States as a result of using rounded extension ratios.

As stated above, samples were used for national and State distributions in the case of returns with net income under $5,000; however, in the net income range from $5,000 to $20,000, State data were derived from a complete tabulation, and not from a sample as was the case with national data. Since State totals on a nonsample basis were available for number of returns, income, and tax by size classes from $5,000 to $20,000, these precise data were used in extending the national sample, and no sampling variability is associated with these items in Table 3 in net income classes above $5,000.

In computing the possible variation of a given frequency due to random sampling, a range of two standard errors was used; chances are 19 out of 20 that the frequency as estimated from the sample tabulation differs from the actual frequency, if the entire universe were tabulated, by less than twice the standard error. Variation beyond the two-error limit would occur only 1 time in 20 and would be sufficiently rare to justify a two-error range in defining sampling variability. The majority of the frequencies, in the case of Form 1040 taxable net income classes under $5,000 in Table 3 are of the magnitude of one million or more and are subject to variation of less than 2.5%. The smallest frequency, associated with the "Under $500" class, is subject to maximum variation of approximately 5.5%. In the case of Form 1040 nontaxable net income classes, the maximum variation of the class frequencies ranges from about 2.5% for the "Under $500" class to a maximum of about 7.5% for the "$750 under $1,000" class. The largest relative variation, approximately 20%, is associated with the 17,438 frequency for the taxable deficit class. The greater part of the deficit returns, Forms 1040, however, falls in the nontaxable category for which the frequency, almost 200,000, is subject to a maximum variation of only 6%. The degrees of variability noted above relate only to cell frequencies and do not indicate the variability associated with money amounts of income, deductions, or tax.

- Less than $50,000 or 50 returns.
- e Estimated.
- n.a. Not available.
- 1/ Dividends include dividends on share accounts in Federal savings and loan associations issued on or after March 28, 1942, but exclude such dividends on prior issues and all dividends received through partnerships and fiduciaries.
- 2/ Income from this source on Form 1040A is included in "Other income."
- 3/ Interest received or accrued from Government bonds is the net amount after deducting the amortizable bond premium for the taxable year where the taxpayer elects to report on that basis, but unlike last year, the interest on corporation bonds is the amount before the deduction for amortizable bond premium, which is reported in other deductions.
- 4/ Partially tax-exempt interest is that received on certain Government obligations issued prior to March 1, 1941, namely, United States savings bonds and Treasury bonds owned in excess of $5,000, and obligations of instrumentalities of the United States other than Federal land banks, Federal intermediate credit banks, or joint stock land banks, and unlike last year, includes dividends on share accounts in Federal savings and loan associations issued prior to March 28, 1942, which are also partially tax-exempt. The amount reported includes such interest and dividends received through partnerships and fiduciaries, and is not subject to normal tax or victory tax.
- 5/ Taxable interest on Government obligations is that received on Treasury notes issued on or after December 1, 1940; United States savings bonds and other obligations of the United States or any instrumentality thereof issued on or after March 1, 1941. The amount reported excludes such interest received through partnerships and fiduciaries.
- 6/ Net gain from sales of capital assets is the amount taken into account in computing net income whether or not the alternative tax is imposed. It is a combination of net short- and long-term capital gain and loss; also the net capital loss carried over from 1942 has been deducted. Net gain from such sales includes each participant's share of net short- and long-term capital gains and losses to be taken into account from partnerships and common trust funds, worthless stocks, worthless bonds if they are capital assets, non-business bad debts, and certain distributions from employees' trust plans. Net gain from sales of capital assets is not subject to victory tax.
- 7/ Net gain or loss from sales of property other than capital assets is that from the sale of (1) property used in trade or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation, (2) obligations of the United States or any of its possessions, a State or Territory or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, issued on or after March 1, 1941, on a discount basis and payable without interest at a fixed maturity date not exceeding one year from date of issue, and (3) real property used in trade or business.
- 8/ Current year profit or loss from business or profession (sole proprietorship). (Net operating loss deduction is reported in "Other deductions.")
- 9/ Partnership profit or loss, as reported on the income tax return of the partner, excludes (1) partially tax-exempt interest on Government obligations and (2) net gain or loss from sales or exchanges of capital assets, each of which is reported in its respective source of income or deduction, and (3) dividends on share accounts in Federal savings and loan associations issued prior to March 28, 1942, which are reported in the schedule for interest on Government obligations. In computing partnership profit or loss, charitable contributions are not deductible nor is the net operating loss deduction allowed. However, the pro rata shares of contributions, and of prior year income and losses of the partnership are taken into account by each partner in determining his own contributions and net operating loss deduction.
- 10/ Income from fiduciaries, as reported on the income tax return of the beneficiary, excludes (1) partially tax-exempt interest on Government obligations, and (2) net gain or loss from sales or exchanges of capital assets received from common trust funds, each of which is reported in its respective source of income or deduction and (3) dividends on share accounts in Federal savings and loan associations issued prior to March 28, 1942, which are reported in the schedule for interest on Government obligations. The net operating loss deduction is allowed to estates and trusts generally, and is deducted in computing the income to be distributed. However, in the case of a common trust fund the net operating loss deduction is not allowable, but each participant's share of prior year income and losses of the fund is taken into account in determining his own net operating loss deduction.
- 11/ Other income includes alimony received, earnings of minors, prizes, sweepstakes, gambling profits, etc. The amount of dividends, interest, and annuities reported in one sum on individual returns, Form 1040A, is tabulated as other income.
- 12/ Form 1040A (optional return), which may be filed by individuals whose gross income is from certain sources only and is not more than $3,000, does not provide for reporting the amount of net income. Consequently, no deductions are shown for these returns, and gross income is tabulated both as total income and net income.
- 13/ Net loss from sales of capital assets is the amount reported as a deduction. It is the result of combining net short- and long-term capital gain and loss and the net capital loss carried over from 1942; however, the deduction is limited to the amount of net loss, or to the net income (computed without regard to capital gains and losses), or to $1,000, whichever is smallest. Loss from sales of capital assets includes each participant's share of net short- and long-term capital gains and losses to be taken into account from partnerships and common trust funds, worthless stocks, worthless bonds if they are capital assets, nonbusiness bad debts, and certain distributions from employees' trust plans. Net loss from sales of capital assets is not deductible in computing the victory tax.
- 14/ Contributions, including each partner's share of charitable contributions of partnerships, is limited to 15 percent of net income computed without this deduction or the deduction for medical, dental, etc., expenses.
- 15/ Deductions for interest, taxes, and losses from fire, storm, shipwreck, etc., or theft exclude amounts reported in schedules for (1) rents and royalties and (2) business or profession.
- 16/ Losses from fire, storm, shipwreck, war, or other casualty, or from theft not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, reported on individual returns, Form 1040.
- 17/ Medical, dental, etc., expense paid for care of taxpayer, his wife, or a dependent, not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, which exceed 5 percent of the net income computed without the deduction. Maximum deduction is $2,500 on the return for husband and wife or for the head of a family, $1,250 for all other individuals.
- 18/ Other deductions include certain bad debts, net operating loss deduction, amortizable bond premium on corporation bonds, expenses incurred for the management and maintenance of property held for the production of taxable income, the net loss from rent and royalties reported in sources of income, as well as alimony paid reported on individual returns, and losses from fire, storm, shipwreck, etc., reported on fiduciary returns.
- 19/ Net income is the sum of (1) income tax net income on Form 1040, (2) gross income on Form 1040A, and (3) in tables including fiduciary returns, Form 1041, the income tax net income taxable to the fiduciary.
- 20/ The net income used for classification and tabulation of taxable fiduciary returns is the income tax net income taxable to the fiduciary, that is, after the deduction for the amount distributable to beneficiaries and without regard to the victory tax net income. Data for taxable fiduciary returns include data for estates and trusts filed (improperly) on Form 1040, which have net income taxable to the fiduciary.
- 21/ The 1942-1943 tax is the final tax computed from both the 1942 and 1943 taxes, and is the liability of the taxpayer on 1942 and 1943 incomes.
- 22/ Income and victory tax on 1943 income is the tax computed on the income reported for 1943 and includes either the normal tax and surtax (or optional tax paid in lieu thereof) or the alternative tax, and net victory tax, after deducting the tax credits relating to income tax paid at source on tax-free covenant bonds and income tax paid to a foreign country or United States possession. For individual returns, the tax on 1943 income is without regard to the comparison with 1942 tax liability as provided under the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943; and, therefore, does not include the tax adjustments necessary for the merging of the 1942 and 1943 tax liabilities. This tax on 1943 income is conceptually comparable with the total tax tabulated in last year's report; except that the former (1943) includes the victory tax and the two tax credits are deducted.
- 23/ Census Bureau estimates.
- 24/ Includes Alaska.
- 25/ The personal exemption allowed the head of a family and a married person living with husband or wife for the entire year is $1,200 and that of a single person, a married person not living with husband or wife, or an estate is $500. A trust is allowed, in lieu of personal exemption, a credit of $100 against net income. The personal exemption tabulated for individual returns, Form 1040A, is ascertained from the taxpayer's status which is indicated on the return.
- 26/ The credit for a dependent is $350 if Form 1040 is filed, or $385 if Form 1040A is filed. However, in the case of a taxpayer who is head of a family only by reason of one or more dependents for whom he would be entitled to credit, the credit is allowed for each of such dependents except one.
- 27/ Earned income credit is 10 percent of earned net income (not to exceed $14,000) or 10 percent of net income, whichever is smaller. The credit tabulated for the optional returns, Form 1040A, is estimated at 9.4 percent of gross income (equivalent to 10 percent of the income after deductions aggregating 6 percent of gross income).
- 28/ Normal tax and surtax are reported on (1) returns without sales or exchanges of capital assets, (2) returns with a net loss from such sales, and (3) returns with a net gain from sales or exchanges of capital assets, unless the alternative tax is imposed. The optional returns, on which optional tax is paid in lieu of normal tax and surtax, and returns showing only a net victory tax are tabulated under returns with normal tax and surtax so that taxes for all returns may be presented.
- 29/ Alternative tax is reported on returns showing an excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss, but only if such tax is less than the sum of normal tax and surtax computed on net income which includes the net gain from sales or exchanges of capital assets. Alternative tax is the sum of a partial tax (normal tax and surtax) computed on net income reduced for this purpose by the excess of net long-term capital gain over the net short-term capital loss, and 50 percent of such excess.
- 30/ Returns with no net income are those wherein total deductions and, in the case of fiduciary returns, the amount distributable to beneficiaries equal or exceed total income, regardless of the amount of victory tax net income or victory tax liability.
- 31/ Nontaxable returns with net income are: Form 1040 on which personal exemption, credit for dependents, and earned income credit exceed income tax net income and there is no victory tax; Form 1040A on which credit for dependents reduces gross income to an amount shown as nontaxable in the optional tax table and there is no victory tax.

1/ Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for purposes of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purpose of computing the annual interest charge and rate of interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90% per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.53%. 2/ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury, and securities guaranteed as to interest only, are not included in this table.

Statutory Limitation on the Public Debt

Section 21 of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, provides that the face amount of obligations issued under authority of that Act, and the face amount of obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States (except guaranteed obligations held by the Secretary of the Treasury), shall not exceed in the aggregate $275 billion outstanding at any one time. Obligations issued on a discount basis, and subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the owner, are included in the statutory debt limitation at current redemption values.

1/ Excludes (1) postal savings bonds and (2) Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).

2/ It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.

3/ Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom.

"Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates. 4/ Bank restricted issues may not be acquired by commercial banks (with minor exceptions) prior to a specified date. See footnote 2, page 21.

Sales and Redemptions of United States Savings Bonds

United States savings bonds were first offered for sale in March 1935. Bonds of series A-D were sold between March 1935 and April 1941. Series E, F, and G bonds have been on sale since May 1, 1941.

Series A-E bonds are 10-year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, and yield 2.90% per annum if held to maturity. Series F bonds are 12-year discount bonds sold at 74% of maturity value, and yield 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G bonds are 12-year current income bonds, sold at par, bearing interest at 2-1/2% per annum, and redeemable at par at maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity.

Purchases of series A-D bonds were limited to $7,500 issue price in any one calendar year. These bonds were available to all subscribers prior to April 1, 1940, and to individuals only after that date. Purchases of series E bonds are limited to $3,750 issue price in any one calendar year, and may be made only by individuals (defined as natural persons only). The limit for series F and G combined is $100,000 issue price in any one calendar year ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). Series F and G bonds are available to all subscribers except commercial banks. Commercial banks, however, were permitted to purchase these bonds during certain periods and with certain restrictions. For details concerning these periods and restrictions see "Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9, and "Treasury Bulletin" for February 1946, page 37, footnote 9, and page A-22. For details concerning features, investment yields, and redemption values see "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945, pages A-4 and A-5.

Series A bonds matured in 1945, and series B bonds in 1946. Series C bonds began to mature in January 1947. Matured bonds turned in for redemption are included in the figures on redemptions. Matured bonds outstanding are reflected in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the series have matured, when they are transferred to matured debt upon which interest has ceased, in accordance with the practice of the Daily Treasury Statement.

In the following tables sales figures are quoted at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption values. Amounts of series G outstanding are quoted at par.

Note: It should be noted that State figures presented in this table are not necessarily comparable with sales data by State inasmuch as bonds which have been purchased in one State may have been redeemed in another. Moreover, the figures shown in this table are based on current redemption values, whereas the sales figures are shown at issue price. Data on redemptions by State are not available prior to October 1944.

Sales and Redemptions of Treasury Savings Notes

Treasury savings notes were issued in three series, series A from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, series B from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, and series C which have been on continuous sale since September 14, 1942. All of series A and B and some of series C notes have matured.

Series C notes are sold at par, and accrue in value each month, yielding 1.07% per annum if held to maturity (3 years from date of issue). These notes may be used in payment of taxes any time after 2 months after issue, or may be redeemed for cash any time after 6 months after issue. For details concerning features, investment yields, and tax payment or redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945, pages A-4 and A-5. For details concerning the features of series A and B notes, see "Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury" for 1942, pages 207 and 220.

In the following tables sales and redemptions of Treasury savings notes are shown at par value. Matured notes turned in for redemption (either for cash or for tax payment) are included in the figures on redemptions. Matured notes outstanding are reflected in the interest-bearing debt until all notes of the series have matured, when they are transferred to matured debt upon which interest has ceased, in accordance with the practice of the Daily Treasury Statement. For sales and redemptions of series A and B notes by fiscal years and months, see "Treasury Bulletin" for February 1946, pages 42 and 43.

<sup>1/</sup> Excludes Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).<sup>2/</sup> Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, except that prices of Treasury bonds for the period prior to October 1, 1939, represent closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange. "When issued" prices are included in history beginning October 1, 1939. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.<sup>3/</sup> Market convention treats the yield to earliest call date as more significant when an issue is selling above par; the yield to matu-<sup>4/</sup> rity as more significant when an issue is selling at or below par.<sup>5/</sup> Included in the Average Yield of Long-Term Taxable Treasury Bonds. Issues which commercial banks may not acquire prior to a specified date (with minor exceptions).<sup>6/</sup> Quoted on a yield basis.<sup>7/</sup> Not quoted on April 30, 1947.<sup>8/</sup> This security was issued on May 1, 1947, in the amount of $1,100 million.<sup>9/</sup> Excludes postal savings bonds.

Notes: Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used. Monthly and weekly (old series) data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.

1/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of average see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. The partially tax-exempt series was discontinued on December 15, 1945 because there were no longer any bonds of this classification due or callable in 15 or more years.

Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax. For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussion of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

2/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised beginning with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.56%. See footnote 2.

3/ Holiday.

4/ Government bond market closed.

Capital Movements Between the United States and Foreign Countries

This chapter on Capital Movements between the United States and Foreign Countries and Position in Foreign Currencies is divided into four main groups. Section I of Capital Movements, the Historical Summary, contains data regarding capital movements, by the principal types of data and by years, starting with 1935. The last thirteen months are also shown. Each type of data is then broken down into its chief components in the same chronological detail.

Section II supplies a geographic breakdown by principal countries for the last thirteen months. The total capital movements are given first and then the principal categories are shown separately. In addition, at this point, the total outstanding claims on and liabilities to foreign countries are each presented.

Details with respect to capital movements and short-term claims and liabilities are presented in Section III as of the latest month for which the data are available.

The last group contains information regarding the net position in foreign currencies of United States banks and brokers, their outstanding foreign exchange contracts and purchases and sales of foreign exchange, both spot and forward. This section covers a twelve-month period.

Figures for previous periods may be obtained from the following sources:

Supplement to the "Treasury Bulletin" on "Capital Movements between the United States and Foreign Countries, January 1942 through April 1945", for details during that period.

"Treasury Bulletin", November 1945, for capital movements, and position in foreign currencies by months, 1942-1945.

"Treasury Bulletins", March 1942 and earlier, for details covering years back to January 2, 1935.
