Both publications bave provided comparative iggure on thelr reapective baees from the beginning of the fiecal year 1953. The announcement of February 17. 1954, with raepect to theee raporting changea may be found in the April 1954 is aue of the. Bulletin.

The monthly etatenent ahowa all recalpta and axpanditurae of the Government, inoluding those made from cash account held outelde the United statea Treasury. The dally etatament on the new bael wee flret lecued for February 17, 1954. In the dopoeite and witherawale shown, no diatinotion 10 made as to the type of acoounte (budget, truet, etc.). Tho depoite are on the baeis of oortirlcatee of dopoeit claared through the account of the Treasurer of the United Btatee. Total vitharawale are on the baele of checke pald or cash diebureemente made out of the Treaurer'e account. Some of the Withdrawal claealicicetione ohown are reported on the basio of malled reporta of ohecka laaued and are adjusted by meane of olearing accouata to the total of chacka paid. Exoept for relatively minor amounte, noncech interfund and other intragovernmental tranaactione are excluded. The public debt flguree in the dally etaterant alao are on a "olearance" basia, with the exception of thoee leeuance and retirament traneaotione reported on the bale of telegrame froa Federal Reeerve Banks. The cash income and outgo data appearing in the "Treasury Bulletin," beginning with the February 1956 isaue, are on a basis consistent with receifts from and payments to the public as derived in the 1957 and subsequent Budgets of the United States, Special Analysis A. Reconcillation to cash deposits and withdrawais in the account of the Tressurer of the United States is shown on the same basis as in the Budget documents. There is also shown the amount of net cash borrowing from, or repayment of borrowing to, the public. By these arrangements, data in accordance with the Budget classifications are made avallable month by month. Figures for back years have bean revised where necessary in order to make them as nearly comparable with the Buçget classifications as available data will permit. For this reason certain of the figures differ somewhat from those publishec in earlier Budget documents as well as in the Bulletin.

The Budget serles of cash transactions is designed to provice information on the flow of money between the public and the Federal Government as a whole, and therefore includes transactions not cleared through the Treasurer's acccunt. Recelpts end peyments include transactions both in budget accounts and in trust and deposit fund accounts. Operaticns of Government-sponsored enterprises are included in payments on a net basie as reflected in Treasury reports. Major intragovemmental transactions which are reported as both expenåtures and recelpts are eliminated from both. Noncash items which represent accrued obligations of the Govermment to make payments in the future are also eliminated from expenditures but are added later when actual payments are made. Recelrts from the exercise of monetary authority (mostly seizniorage on sllver) are excluded as not representing cash received from the public. Federal cash borrowing from the public includes net borrowing by the Treasury through public debt transactions and also net borrowing by Government agencies and Government-sponsored enterprises through sales of their own securities. It excludes changes in the public debt which do not represent direct cash borrowing from the public. The net effect of all these transactions with the public is replected in chanes in the balance in the Treasurer's account and in cash held outside the Treasury.

Cash transactions through the Treasurer's account are sinilar in general concept to those included in the Budget series, but are limited in coverage to transactions which affect the balance in that account. On the other hand, they include recelpts from the exercise of monetary authority, which are excluded from recelpte from the public in the Budget series.

Beginning with ifgures for the iscal year 1953, the series of transections with the public is based on the "Monthly Statement of Recelpts and Expenditures of the United States Government," which is complled from reports by all collecting and diebursing officers and includes those trensactions not cleared through the Treasurer's account. Cash deposits and withdrawals in the Treasurer's account, beginning with the figures for the same year, are reported in daily Treasury statements. For those years prior to 1953 both cash transactions series are based on a single source, namely, the earlier basis of dally Tressury statements which reported separate classifications for budget results, trust account transactions, etc.

Source and Availability of the Balance in the Treasurer's Account

The account of the Treasurer of tha United Statea rellects not only budget recelpta and expenditures but sloo trust, deposit fund, and public debt tranaactions.

The working carh of the Treasury is held mainly in Treasurer's accounts with Federal Reserva Banks and branches. As the balances in thess accounts become depleted, they are restored by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and loan accounte with thousands of commercisl banks throughout the country.

Deposita to tax and loan accounts occur in the mormal course of busineas under a unlform procedure applicsble to all banks whereby cuatomers of banks deposit with them tsx payments and funds for the purchass of Government aecurities. In most cases the transaotion involves merely the trsnsfer of money from a customer's account to the tax and loan account in the are bank. On occasiona, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banks are permitted to deposit in these accounts proceeds from subscriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account as well as for the account of their customers.

The tax and loan account system parmits the Treasury to leave funds in banks and in the compunitiea in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funds for its operations. In this way the Treasury is able to neutralize the effect of its fluctuatinj operations on bank reserves and the sconomy.

A detalled deacription of the Treasury'a depositary syatem may be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1955, pages 275-284.

(See also footnote 4). The subsequent distribution of this bigh level of unclassified rodemptions may be large enough in any manth to show redemptions of maturad bonds for a sories in Table which are greater than the total redemptions of that aeries as ahown in Table 3 , and to show a negative in the unmatured section of Table 4.
6 Reductions wers made in lssues and redemptions of Series E, $H, F, G$, $J$, and $K$ in $J u l y ~ 1954$ to compensate for the erroneous inclusion of relsaue transsctions in June 1954 as raported in the dsily Treesury statoment. The amounts involved were 8 follows: $$ 28$ million for lsaus of Ser1ss E and $E$ and $$ 27$ million for 1 saue of Series $F, G$, J , and K ; and $$ 35$ miliion for unclassified ratiremante.
7 Comparable data are not svailable prior to January 1950.

Source: Internal Revenve Servics reporta for detell of collectione by type of tax; dally Treaeury atetament for budget receipts fromi internel revenue through the fiacal jear 1952, and the manthly atetement of receipte and expeaditures of the Government for receipts thereafter (for oxplanetion of roporting beses in these publications, aee page II). Cortain dotail by type of tax is availeble coly from returne filed with the Intarnal Revenue Service. The figuree ahown include oollections for credit to opeciel accounts for certein island poeseasions, es reported by the Interanal Reveove Service. Beginning with the f1acel jear 1955, they include the amounts of tax collected in Puerto Rico upan articlea of merchandise of Puerto Rican manufecture coming into the linited States. Figures for 1954 have been revised to the same beale. Figures for previoue yeare include only amounte collected at porte of entry into the United Stetes.

1) Differences between the amounte of internel revenue reported by the Internel Reveave Servico ae collections for givan periods and the amounts reported in Treesury atatemeate as budget receipts for the same periode arose because of differences in the time when payments were included in the reepective reporte. Tax payments are included in budget receipts wheo they are roported ae credite to the account of the Treesurer of the United Statee. Prior to July 1954, they vere included in Internal Revenue Service collection reporte after the returns to which they applied had beon received in interael revenve offices. Under procedure begun in 1950 with withheld income tax and old age ingurance taxea and later extended to railroad retirement taxea and many axciees, these taxes are paid currently into Treasury depositariea and the depositary recefpta, es evidence of such paymente, are attached to quarterly returns to the Ioternal Revenue Service. under thie procedure, the paymente are included in budget receipte in the manth in which the depoeitary receipts are leourd to the toxpayers.

Revised accounting procedures effective July 1, 1954, extended the same prectioe to Interal Revenue Service collection reports.
2) Manthly and flacel year 1958 figures include sociel security tax on self-omploymont income, whioh is levied and oollected as part of the individual income tax beginging with the taxable year 1951. Earlier flacel year Ifgures oxclude this tax, on the beole of estimate beginning 1952 (seo fontnote 3), and it is included under "Old-age and diasbility inaurance.
3/ In Internel Revenve Sorvice reporte beginning Jenuary 2951, current collectione have not been soparetod as to type of tax but the breakdown ahown for fiecal jeare is based an ectimates made in eccordance with provisione of Sec. 201 of the Sociel Security Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. 401), for tranofer of tax receipte to the truet funde (eee "Budget Rece1pts and Expend 1tures," Table 1).
4) Beginning with the piscal yoar 1955, oollectiono abown include undiatributod depositary receipts and unapplied collectione. For excise taxee theee recolpte are included in the total anly. Total collections include "Taxes not otherwise oleselfied."
2/ Budget rece1pte for 1956 were reduced by $$ 3,566$ thousand repreesiting thx collections transferred to the Governmeat of Guam pursuant to the act epproved Auguet 1, 1950 ( 64 Stat. 39 ), but thie amount wee included in oollections reported by the Internal Revenue Service. Beginning with 1957, oucb collectione are excluded elso in Ioternal Reveau Sarrice reporte.

Reports by banks, bankers, securities brokers and dealers, and industrial and commercial concerne in the United States are made initially to ths Federal Reserve Banks, which forward consolidated rigures to the Treasury. Beginning April 1954, data reported by banks in the Territories and posaeselons of the United States are included in the published data.

The term "forelgner" as used in these reports covers all institutions and individuals domiciled outelde the United States and its Territories and possessions, the official inetitutions of foreign countries, wherever such institutions may be located, and international organizations. "Short-term" refers to original msturities of one year or less, and "long-term" refers to all other maturities. A detalled discussion of the reporting coverage, otatistical presentation, and definitions appeared in the June 1954 1ssue of the "Treasury Bulletin," pages 45-47. As a result of changes in presentation introduced in that issue, not all breakdowns previously published will be exactly comparable to those now presented.

The first three sections which follow are published monthly. They provide summaries, by periods and by oountries, of data on short-term banking liabilities to and claims on foreigners and transactions in long-term securities by foreigners, and present detalled breakdowns of the latest available preliminary data.

Section IV provides supplementary data in five tablea which appear at less frequent intervals. Table l, shortterm foreign liabilities and claims reported by nonfinancial concerns, is published quarterly in the January, April, July, and October iseues of the Bulletin. Table 2, long-term foreign liabilities and claims reported by banks and bankers, and Table 3 , estimated gold reserves and dollar holdings of foreign countries and international institutions, are published quarterly in the March, Jure, September, and December isoues. Table 4, foreign creôt and deblt balances in brokerage accounts, appears semiannually in the March and September iseues. Table 5, short-term 12abilities to forelgners in countries and areas not regularly reported separately by banking institutions, is presented annually in the April issue.
