Reporting Bases

Data on recelpts, expenditures, and debt which appear In the "Tressury Bulletin" are based largely on two Treasury financial reports, the "Daily Statement of the United States Treasury" and the "Monthly Statement of Receipts and Expencitures of the United States Government." Certain monetary statistics are based at least in part on the "Circulation Statement of United States Koney." Where these statements are given as sources for individual tables, they are cited by mame only. Their respective reporting bases are described below. For other data in the Bulletin, information on sources or reporting beses is given in connection with the tables themselves.

The montbly statement of receipts and expenditures was first published for February 1954, and replaced the dally statement as the primary source of information on budget results and other receipt and expenditure data classifled by type of account. At the same time, the daily statement was changed to a statement of cash deposits and withdrawals affecting the account of the Treasurer of the United States. Both publications have provided comparative figures on their respective bases from the beginning of the flscal year 1953. The announcement of February 17 , 1954, with respect to these reporting changes may be found in the April 1954 issue of the Bulletin.

The monthly statement shows all recelpts and expenditures of the Government, including those made from cash accounts held outside the United States Treasury. The information 18 complled from reports by the Treasurer of the United states and by all other collecting and disbursing agencies, including those agencies which maintain checking accounts in commercial banks. These reports cover transactions recorded in the accounts of the agencies during the reporting period. The net of the transactions as complled from these reports is reconciled in the monthly statement to changes in the balance in the Treasurer's account and in cash held outside the Treasurer's account and changes in the public debt outstanding.

Receiptr of taxes and customs duties are reported on a collections basis. Other receipts are reported partially on a collections basis and partially on a deposits basis. Expenditures, except interest on the public debt, are reported on the basis of checks issued or cash payments made by disbursing officers. Transactions of an interfund or intragovernmental nature are included on the same basis even though the actual 18 suance of checks may not be involved. Interest on the public debt is included on an accrual basis beginning with figures for June 1955 and the piscal year 1955. Prior to that, it was included on a due and payable basis. The same reportins basis as that in the monthly statement provides the flscal year figures for the Treasury's "Comoined Statement of Receipts, Expend-1tures and Ealances of the United States Government" and for actual receipts and expenditures in the "Budget of the United States Government."

Beginning with the final statement for the fiscal year 1960 , the monthly statement reports totals for net budget receipts and budget expenditures after deduction of certain interfund transactions which are included in the detall of both budget recelots and budget expenditures. The transactions deducted consist of interest payments and minor amounts of certain other payments made by Government agencies to the Treasury. This reporting change was made in accordance with the plan stated in the President's Budget Nessage of January 18,1960 . It does not affect the surplus or deficit. Figures for earlier periods shown in the Treas ury Bulletin were revised to the new reporting basis in the September 1960 1saue. The interfund transactions deducted under this procedure do not include payments to the Treasury by wholly owned Government corporations for retirement of their capital stock and for disposition of earnings. These capital transfers have been excluded currentiy from budget receipts and budget expenditurea beginning July 1 , 1948, and f1gures for prior fiscal years back through 1932 were revised accordinsly at that time.

The dally statement on the new basis was first isoued for February 17, 1954. In the deposits and witharawala as shown, no distinction is made as to the type of accounts (budget, trust, etc.). The deposits are on the basis of certificates of deposit cleared through the account of the Treasurer of the United States. Total withdrawals are on the basis of checks pald or cash disbursements made out of the Treasurer's account. Some of the withdrawal classifications shown are reported on the basia of malled reports of checks 1saued and are adjusted by means of clearing accounts to the total of checks pald. Except for relatively minor amounta, noncash interfund and other intragovernmental transactions are excluded. The public debt figures in the dally statement also are on a "clearance" basis, with the exception of those issuance and retirement transactions reported on the basis of telegrams from Federal Reserve Banks. Noncash debt transactions are included, however.

The dally statement before February 11 , 1954 , covered not only transactions cleared through the Treasurer's account but also certain Government agency transactions which were handled through commercial bank accounts, and included noncash interfund and other intragovernmental transactions. It provided information similar to that in the present daily statement with respect to the status of the Treasurer's account, and similar to that in the present end-of-month dails statement with respect to debt issuance, retirement, and amount outstanding. Receipts and expenditures, however, were classified by type of account, and the budget results shown

In the dally statement were used as the basis for reflecting the results under the Fresident's budget progran as enacted by the Congress.

Recelpts were on the basis of deposits as they cleared the Treasurer's account. Expenditures cleared through the the Treasurer's account were reported on two successive bases. Through 1946 they were on the basis of checks paid by the Treasurer of the United States. Beginning with 1947, expenditures made through the faclilties of the Treasury Department's Division of Disbursement were on the basis Of checks issued, while certain others, principally those Of the Department of Defense and its predecessor organizations, were on the basis of checks paid. Transactions handled through commercial bank accounts, consisting of market transactions in public debt and guaranteed securities, were as reported by the agencies. Interest on the public debt was included on a due and payable basis beginning with November 1949 and on a checks-paid basis prior to that time.

The circulation statement reflects transactions through the Preasurer's account which affect monetary stocks of gold and silver and the amounts of coin and currency in the money supply of the country. It is lssued later than the daily statement, however, and the figures are based on transactions consummated during the reporting period even though some may not have cleared the Treasurer's account during that period.

Previously the corresponding a mounts were included, respectively, in budget receipts and budget expenditures, and only the excess of receipts over expenditures, if any, was transferred to the tmast account by appropriation. Excess of collections from Federal unemployment tax over expenditures for tenefits and administrative expenses each year is deposited in this account to maintain a reserve of $$ 200$ million available for loans to States when reeded to replenish the tslances in their accounts in the trust fund. Reginning 1961, these transfers are from the adoinistration fund in the trust account; previously they were from the general fund. Any remaining excess is credited to the Staie accounts (42 U.S.C. 1101 - 1103).

Table 12.- Investments of Specified Trust Accounts in Public Debt Securities
by Issues, as of June 30,1964

Consolidated cash transactions reported in the Treasury Bulletin are on a basis consistent with Federal receipts from and paymenis to the public as derived in the Budget of the United States (in the Budget for 1965 in Special Analysis A). Shown also is the amornt of net cash borrowing from, or repayment of borrowing to, the public. Revisions of the figures for earlier years have been made where necessary to make them as nearly comparable with current Budget classifications as available data will permit. For this reason certain of the figures differ somewhat from those published in previous Budget doccuments as well as in the Bulletin.

This series of cash transactions is designed to provide information on the flow of money between the public and the Federal Government as a whole, and therefore includes transactions not cleared through the account of the Treasurer of the United States. Receipts and payments include transactions both in administrative budget accounts and in trust and deposit fund accounts. Major intragovernmental transactions which are reported as both expenditures and receipts are excluded from both. Noncash items representing the obligations of the Government to make payments in the future also are eliminated from expenditures currently, but are added later when actual payments are made. These items consist of certain interest accrued on the public debt and expenditures involving the issurnce of a few special public debt securities. Checks outstanding, deposits in transit, and other clearing accounts are excluded from payments. Receipts from the exercise of monetary authority are excluded as not representing cash received from the public. Federal cash borrowing from the public includes net borrowing by the Treasury through public debt transactions and also net borrowing by Government agencies and Government-sponsored enterprises through sales of their own securities. It excludes changes in the public debt which do not represent direct cash borrowing from the public. The net effect of all these transactions with the public is reflected in changes in the balance in the Treasurer's account and in cash held outside the Treasury.

Source and Availability of the Balance in the Treasurer's Account

The account of the Treasurer of the United Statea reflects not only budget recelpta and expenditurea but also trust, deposit fund, and public dabt tranaactions.

The working cash of the Traasury is held mainly in Treasurer'a accounta with Federal Reaerve Banka and branches. As the balances in these accounts become depleted, they are (restorad by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and loan accounts with thousands of commercial banka throughout the country.

Deposita to tax and loan accounta occur in the normal course of businese under a uniform procedure applicable to 811 banke whereby cuctomers of banks deposit with thom tax paymenta and funds for the purchase of Government aecurities. In moat cases the tranaaction involvea merely the transfer of money from a customer's account to the tax and loan aocount in the same bank. On occasions, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banka are parmitted to deposit in these accounts proceada from subacriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account aa woll as for the account of their cutomera.

The tax and loan account aystam permite the Treasury to leave funda in banks and in the commanities in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funda for its operations. In thls way the Treasury 18 able to neutralize the effect of ita fluctuating operations on bank reaerves and the economy.

A detalled deacription of the Traaaury's dopositary ayotem may be found in the Annual Report of the seoretary of the Treaaury for 1955, pages 275-284.

2/ Through June 1958, the balance of the Treasurer was reduced when Treasurer's checks were issued and the amount of the checks was carried as a liability until paid. Effective July 1958, the balance is not reduced until the checks are paid, a procedure also applying to checks drawn on the Treasurer by Government disbursing officers and agencies.
3/ Amounts shown beginning January 1963, are net of uncollected items, exchanges, etc. Previously these items were included under liabilities.

Table 2.- Computed Interet Charge and Computed Interest Rate on Federal Securities

Source: On the basis of the daily Treasury statement.
Note: The computed annual interest charge represents the amount of interest that would be paid if each interest-bearing issue outstanding at the end of each month or year should remain outstanding for a year at the applicable annual rate of interest. The charge is computed for each issue by applying the appropriate annual interest rate to the amount outstanding on that date (the amount actually borrowed in the case of securities sold at a premium or discount, beginning with May 1960) The aggregate charge for all interest-bearing issues constitutes the total computed annual interest charge. The average annual interest rate is computed by dividing the computed annual interest charge for the total, or for any group of issues, by the corresponding principal amount. Beginning with data for December 31, 1958, the computation is based on the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premiur or discount. Prior to that date it was based on the coupon rate for all issues.
1/ Cuaranteed securities incliuded are those held outside the Treasury.
2) Total includes "Other bonds" through 1960; see Table 3 .

3 Included in debt outstanding at face amount, but discount value is used in computing annual interest charge and annual interest rate.
6/ On United States savings bonds the rate to maturity is applied against the amount outstanding.

Table 4.- Redemptions of Matured and Unmatured Savings Bonds
(In millions of dollars)

Source: Daily Treasury statement; Office of Debt Analysis in the Office of the Secretary.
Note: In these tables sales of Series A-F and J bonds are included at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption value. Series G, H, and $K$ are included at face value throughout. Matured bonds which have been redeemed are included in redemptions. Matured $J$ and $K$ bonds outstanding are included in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the annual series have matured, and are then transferred to matured debt on which interest has ceased.

1) Sales and redemption figures include exchanges of minor amounts of (1) matured Series E bonds for Series G and K bonds from May 1951 through April 1957 and (2) Series $F$ and $J$ bonds for Series $H$ bonds beginning January 1960; however, they exclude exchanges of Series $E$ bonds for Series H bonds, which are reported in Table 3.
2/ Details by series on a cumulative basis and by periods for Series A-D combined will be found in the February 1952 and previous issues of the Treasury Bulletin.
3/ Because there is a normal lag in classifying redemptions, the distribution of redemptions between sales price and accrued discount has been estimated. Beginning with the Treasury Bulletin of March 1961 the method of distributing redemptions between sales price and accrued discount has been changed to reflect the distribution shown in final reports of classified redemptions. All periods shown have been revised on this basis.
4 Series $F$ and $G$ sales were discontinued April 30, 1952, and Series J and $X$ sales were discontinued April 30, 1957. Sales figures after April 30, 1957, represent adjustments.
5/ Includes exchanges of Series 1941 F and G savings bonds for 3-1/4\% marketable bonds of 1978-83.
6/ Includes exchanges of Series 1948 F and G bonds for $4-3 / 4 \%$ marketable notes of 1964 .
I) Includes exchanges of Series 1949 F and G bonds for $4 \%$ marketable bonds of 1969.
8/ Includes exchanges of Series 1950 F and G bonds for $3-7 / 8 \%$ marketable bonds of 1968.
2/ Includes exchanges of Series 1951 and 1952 F and G bonds for 3-7/8\% marketable bonds of 1971 and 48 marketable bonds of 1980.
10/ Represents changes in the mounts of redemptions not yet classified between matured and unmatured issues.

Table 3.- Treasury Bonds
(Price decimals are $32 n d s$ )

Amount issued on August 4, 1964, was $$ 1,000$ million.
Beginning April 1953, prices are closing bid quetations in the over-thecounter market. Prices for prior dates are the mean of closing bid and ask quotations, except that before October 1, 1939, they are clnsing prices on the New Ynrk Stnck Exchange. "When issued" prices are included in the history beginning October 1, 1939. Dates of highs and lows in case of recurrence are the latest dates.

3/ Issues included in advance refunding offer dated July 8, 1964. For further details, see "Public Debt Operations," Table 5.
4/ On callable issues market conventinn treats the yield to earliest call date as more significant when an issue is selling above par, and to maturity when it is selling at par or below.
5) Included in the average yield of long-term taxable Treasury bonds as shown under "Average Yields of Long-Term Bonds."
YIELDS OF TREASURY SECURITIES, JULY 3I. 1964

Table 1.- Average Yields of Treasury and Corporate Bonds by Periods

Source: Beginning April 1953, Treasury bond yields are reported to the Treasury by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, based on closing bid quotations in the over-the-counter market. Yields for prior periods were computed on the basis of mean of closing bid and ask quotations. Moody's Investor Service is the source for the average of Aas corporate bonds.

given number of years as follows: April 1953 to date, 10 years; April 1952 - March 1953, 12 years; October 1941 - March 1952, 15 years. For bonds currently in the series, see Table 4 under "Market Quotations on Treasury Securities" in this issue of the Bulletin
2) One or more new long-term bonds added to the average (see footnote 1). An existing bond dropped from the average (see footnote 1).

1) Excludes money held by the Treasury and money held by or for the account of the Federal Reserve Banks and agents.
2/ The following paper currencies are in process of retirement and are redeemable from the general fund of the Treasury: Gola certificates issued before January 30, 1934, silver certificates issued before July 1, 1929, Treasury notes of 1890 , Federal Reserve notes issued before the series of 1928, Federal Reserve Bank notes, and national bank notes. The Treasury notes of 1890 have been in process of retirement since March 1900 (31 U.S.C. 411) upon receipt by the Treasury, the Federal Reserve Bank notes since June 12, 1945 (12 U.S.C. 45 note), and the national bank notes since December 23, 1915 (12 U.S.C. 441). Retirement of the others was authorized by the old Series Currency Adjustment Act, approved June 30, 1961 (31 U.S.C. 912-916). The act authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to determine from time to time the amount of currency of the following types which have been destroyed or lost, and to reduce the amounts thereof on the books of the Treasury: Gold certificates issued before January 30, 1934; silver certificates, United States notes, Federal Reserve Bank notes, and national bank notes all issued before July 1, 1929; Federal Reserve notes issued prior to the series of 1928; and Treasury notes of 1890. Accordingly, the Secretary of the Treasury has determined that the following paper currencies have been destroyed or irretrievably lost and so will never be presented for redemption: On October 20, 1961, $1 million of Treasury notes of 1890; and on August 27, 1962, $9 million of gold certificates, $$ 15$ million of silver certificates, $$ 18$ million of Federal Reserve notes, $$ 1$ million of Federal Reserve Bank notes, and $$ 15$ million of national bank notes.
3/ Highest amount to date.
4/ Issued prior to January 30, 1934.
Includes $$ 15$ million issued before July 1, 1929.
6/ Includes $$ 18$ million issued prior to the series of 1928
2) Based on the Bureau of the Census estimated population. Through fiscal 1958 the estimated population is for the conterminous United States (that is, exclusive of Alaska, hawaii, and the outlying areas such as Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands). Beginning with fiscal 1959 the estimates include Alaska, and with fiscal 1960, Hawaii. Less than $$ 500,000$.
