" buligations" are tro basis on wich the use of funds is controlled in the Federal joverment. They are recorded at the point ${ }^{\text {at }}$ which the Government makes a irm commitmert to Acquire goods or services and are the first of the four key events-order, delivery, payment, consumption--whic! characterize the acłuisition and use of resources. In general, they consis: of orders placed, contracts aharded, semices received snd similsr iransactions requiring the disbursement of money.

The obligational stage of Government transactions is a strategic point in gauging the impact of the Government's operations on the national economy, since it frequently represents for business firms the Government commitment which stimula+es business investment, including inventory purchases and employment of labor. Disbursements may not occur for months after the Government places its order but the order itself usually causes immediate pressure on the private economy.

Obligations are classified according to a uniform set

Of: categories which are based upon the nature of the transaction without regard to its ultimate purpose. All payments for salaries and wages, for example, are reported as personnel compensation, whether the personal services are used in current operations or in the construction of capital items.

Federal agencies and firms often do business witt: one another; in doing so, the "buying" agency records otligations, and the "performing" agency records reimbursements. In Table l, obligations that are incurred within the Government are distinguished from those incurred outside the Government. Tables 2, 3, and 4 show only those incurred outside.

Obligation data for the administrative budget fund accounts were first published in the September 1967 Treasury Bulletin and the trust fund accounts were first published in the October 1967 Bulletin. Beginning with the April 1968 Bulletin, the data are on the basis of the budget concepts adopted pursuant to the recommendations of the President's Commission on Budget Concepts.

This concept eliminates transactions within the Government and revenue and reimbursements from the public which by statute may be used by Government agencies without appropriation action by the Congress. Sumnary figures on this basis priation action by the Congress. Summary fogures on this basis received from the agencies prior to reports submitted for Budget

Table 4. - Gross Obligations Incurred Outside the Federal Government

[^0]The account of the Treasurer of the United States reflects not only budget receipts and expenditures but also trust, deposit fund, and public debt transactions.

The working cash of the Treasury is held mainly in Treasurer's accounts with Federal Reserve banks and branches. As the balances in these accounts become depleted, they are restored by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and loan accounts with thousands of commercial banks throughout the country.

Deposits to tax and loan accounts occur in the normal course of business under a uniform procedure applicable to all banks whereby customers of banks deposit with them tax payments and funds for the purchase of Government securities. In most cases the transaction involves merely the transfer of money from a customer's account to the tax and loan account in the same bank. On uccasions, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banks are permitted to deposit in these accounts proceeds from subscriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account as well as for the account of their customers.

The tax and loan account system permits the Treasury to leave funds in banks and in the communities in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funds for its operations. In this way the Treasury is able to neutralize the effect of its fluctuating operations on bank reserves and the economy.

A detailed description of the Treasury's depositary system may be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1955, pages 275-284.

The takiles in this section arr draignr-f tu pr vidr. iata un United states reserve assets and liabilitiws and ofier s.atistics related to tho United States balance ui payment a arid international l'inancial position. A number of changes were int roduced in the Nay 19.7 Wulletin to increase the usefulness of this sectiun.

Table 1 shows the reserve assots of the United states, including its gold stock, holdings of convertible foreign surrencies, and reserve position in the International Monetary Fund. In accordance with Fund policies the United States has the right to draw foreign currencies equivalent to its reserve position virtually automatically if needed. (Under appropriate conditions the United States culd draw additional amounts erqual to the United States quota of $$, 1,0$ million. This presentation corresponds to the treatment of Unitert States monetary reservas in the United States balance of payments a.counts.

Table 2 brings together the various statistical components of the liabilities which enter into the United States balance of payments calculated on the liquidity basis. The inclusion of the United States reserve position in the International Monetary Fund in Table 1 requires that the "holdings of dollars" of the Fund be excluded from the data on liabilities to foreigners, in order to avoid double counting. For further explanation of this exclusion from the liabilities statistics, see headnote to "Capital Movements" section.

Tatle 3 presents an area breakdown of United States liquid liabilities to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table 4 shows United States Treasury nonmarketable bonds and notes issued to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table 5 sets forth the factors which affect the United States position in the International Monetary Fund.

Table i. presents United States net monetary gold trarisgctiuns with. Coreign countries and international and regional organizations.

Table 2. - U.S. Liquid Liabilities to Foreigners
(In millions of dollars)

Note: Table is based on Treasury Department data and on data reported the Treasury Department by banks and brokers in the United States.
Data correspond to statistics following in this section and in the "Capital Movements" section, except for minor rounding differences. Table excludes International Monetary Fund "holdings of dollars." and holdings of U.S. Treasury letters of credit and nonnegotiable, non-interest-bearing special U.S. notes held by other international and regional organizations. The liabilities figures are used by the Department of Commerce in the statistics measuring the balance of international payments of the United States on the liquidity basis; however, the balance-of-payments statistics include certain adjustments to Treasury data prior to 1963 and some rounding differences, and may differ because of varying timing in incorporating revisions of Treasury data. The table does not include certain nonliquid liabilities to foreign official institutions which enter into the calculation of the official reserve transactions balance by the Department of Commerce.

1) Represents liability on gold deposited by the International Monetary Fund to mitigate the impact on the U.S. gold stock of foreign purchases for the purpose of making gold subscriptions to the Fund under quota increases.
2) U.S. Government obligations at cost value and funds awaiting investment obtained from proceeds of sales of guld by the International Monetary Fund to the United States to acquire income-earning assets. Upon termination of investment, the same quantity of gold can be reacquired by the International Monetary Fund.

3/ Includes Bank for International Settlements and European Fund. ' of transactions by type of holder estimated 1960-1963. Includes securities issued by corporations and other agencies of the United States Government, which are guaranteed by the United States.
5/ Principally the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the Inter-American Development Bank.
6/ Includes difference between cost value and face value of securities in IMF gold investment account. Liabilities data reported to the Treasury include the face value of these securities, but in this table the cost value of the securities is included under "Gold investment." The difference, which amounted to $$ 34$ million as of the end of 1968 , is included in this column.
7) Includes total foreign holdings of U.S. Government bonds and notes, for which breakdown by type of holder is not available.
8/ Data on the two lines shown for this date differ because of changes in reporting coverage. Figures on the first line are comparable in coverage to those shown for the preceding date; figures on the second line are comparable to those shown for the following date.

Nota: The initial U.S. quota in the International Monetary Fund was $$ 2,750$ million. The U.S. quota was increased to $$ 4,125$ million in 1959, and to $$ 5,160$ million in February 1966. Under the Articles of Agreement, subscription payments equal to the quota have been made 25 percent in gold and 75 percent in dollars.
1 Represents net Fund sales of gold to acquire U.S. dollars for use in Fund operations. Does not include transactions in gold relating to gold deposit or gold investment (see Table 2).
2/ Positive figures represent purchases from the Fund of currencies of other members for equivalent amounts of dollars; negative figures represent repurchases of dollars, including dollars derived from charges on drawings and from other net dollar income of the Fund. The United States has a comitmant to repay drawings within 3-5 years, but only to the extent that the Fund's holdings of dollars exceed 75 percent of the U.S. quota. Drawings of dollars by othar countries reduce the U.S. commitment to repay by an equivalent amount.
3/ Represents the United States gold tranche position in the Fund (the United States quota minus the Fund's holdings of dollara), which is the amount that the United States could draw in foreign currencies virtually automatically if needed. Under appropriate conditions, the United States could draw additional amounts equal to the United States quota.
4/ Represents $$ 600$ miliion IMF gold sale to United States (1957), less $6 million gold purchase by IMF from another member with U.S. dollars (1948).
5) Includes $259 million gold subscription to the Fund in June 1965 for a U.S. quota increase which became effective on February 23, 1966. In figures published by the Fund from June 1965 through January 1966, this gold subscription was included in the U.S. gold stock and excluded from the reserve position.

Background

Data relating to capital movements between the United States and foreign countries have been collected since 1935, pursuant to Executive Order 6560 of January 15, 1934, Executive Order 10033 of February 8, 1949, and Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. Statistics on the principal types of data and the principal countries are published monthly in the "Treasury Bulletin." Reports are filed with the Federal Reserve Banks by banks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States. These statistics are then consolidated, and are published by the Treasury as promptly as possible.

The report forms and instructions used in the collection of the statistics have becn revised a number of times. The most recent general revision of the report forms became effec+ive with reports as of May 31, 1963. I/

The present form of the published presentation of the "Capital Movements" statistics was introduced in the May 1969 issue of the "Bulletin." The principal changes were the rearrangement of the tables to bring together in separate sections all the data relevant, to the same statistical series; the expansion of the time series on aggregate liabilities and claims reported by banks to show more detailed breakdowns by type of holder and type of liability and claim; and the presentation of statistics not previously published on the shortterm liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns.

Basic definitions

The term "foreigner" as used in the Treasury reports covers all institutions and individuals domiciled outside the United States, including United States citizens domiciled abroad, and the foreign branches, subsidiaries and offices of United States banks and business concerns; the central governments, central banks and other official institutions of foreign countries, wherever located; and international and regional organizations, wherever located. The term "foreigner" also includes persons in the United States to the extent that they are known by reporting institutions to be acting on behalf of foreigners.

In general, data are reported opposite the foreign country or geographical area in which the foreigner is domiciled, as show on the records of reporting institutions. For a number of reasons, the geographical breakdown of the reported data may not in all cases reflect the ultimate ownership of the assets. Reporting institutions are not expected to go beyond the addresses shown on their records, and so may not be aware of the country of domicile of the ultimate beneficiary. Furthermore, U.S. liabilities arising from deposits of dollars with foreign banks are reported generally in the Treasury statistics as liabilities to foreign banks, whereas the liability of the foreign bank receiving the deposit may be to foreign official institutions or residents of another country.

Data pertaining to branches or agencies of foreign official institutions are reported opposite the country to which the official institution belongs. Data pertaining to international and regional organizations are reported opposite the appropriate international or regional classification except for the Bank for International Settlements and the European Fund, which are included in the classification "Other Western Europe."
"Short-term" refers to obligations payable on demand or having an original maturity of one year or less. "Long-term" refers to obligations having an original maturity of more than one year, and includes securities having no contractual maturity.

Reporting coverage

Reports are required from banks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States, including the branches, agencies, subsidiaries, and other affiliates in the United States of foreign firms. Institutions which have total reportable liabilities, claims or securities transactions below a specified exemption level, based on the average for the report dates during a six-month period, including the current report date, are exempt from reporting.

Banks file reports monthly covering their short-term and long-term liabilities to and claims on foreigners; an exemption of $$ 500,000$ is applicable to reports in each of these categories. Twice a year they also report their short-term dollar liabilities to foreigners in countries notshown separately on the monthly report of liabilities. Banks, securities brokers and dealers, and in some instances, nonbanking concerns, report monthly their transactions in securities with foreigners; the applicable exemption level is $$ 100,000$.

Quarterly reports are filed by exporters, importers, industrial and commercial concerns, financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking firms if their liabilities or claims are $$ 500,000$ or more. Such firms also report the liquid portion of their claims for each month-end when they have reportatle claims of $l million or more. The foreign credit and debit balances of securities brokers and dealers are reported quarterly; the exemption level applicable to these reports is $$ 100,000$.

Description of statistics

Data collected on the Treasury Foreign Exchange Forms are published in the "Treasury Bulletin" in six sections. Each section contains all the data relevant to the same statistical series, with tables showing time series by type and country, and the detailed breakdows of the latest available data.

Section I covers the short-term and long-term liabilities to foreigners reported by banks in the United States. The data exclude the holdings of dollars of the International Monetary Fund derived from payments of the United States subscription and from the exchange transactions and other operations of the Fund. (Liabilities representing the "gold investment" of the Fund, however, are included.) The data also exclude U.S. Treasury letters of credit, and nonnegotiable, noninterestbearing special notes of the United States held by international and regional organizations.

Section II presents the short-term and long-term claims on foreigners reported by banks in the United States, including claims held for their own account and for the account of their domestic customers. The data exclude convertible foreign currencies held by U.S. monetary authorities.

Sectiuns 111 ant IV show ru：pec：i：1y the diabibitics to， and claims on，foreigners reported ty exportert，impurters， industrial and cosmercial firins，financial institutions uther than banks and brokers，and other norbanking lancer\％s in the United States．The data exclude the intercompany nccuurits of trasimess enterprises in the Unitol juates with their uwn branches ara sut sidiaries abruad or with their fure ist parent cumpanics．（Such transactions are l＂ported by business tirms to the Departmant ui Comacree on it lirect investan nt forms．） The data aliso excluide clains held thuyta Unithl states banks．

Section $V$ contains data on transactions in all types of long－term domestic and foreign securities by foreigners report－ ad by kanks and trokers in the United St atcs（except nonmarket－ able U．S．Treasury notes，foreign series，and nonmarketable U．S．Treasury bonds and notes，foreign currency series，which are showr in＂International Financial Statistics＂section， Table 4）．The data cover new issues of securities，transac－ tions in outstanding issues，and redemptions of securities． They include transactions executed in the United States for the account of forcigncrs，and transactions executed abroad for the gccount of reporting institutions and their domestic customers． The data include some transactions which are classified as direct investments in the balance of payments accounts．The data exclude securities issued abroad by foreign subsidiaries of U．S．corporations，some of which are treated in the balance of payments as issues of U．S．corporations．

The geographical breakdown of the data on securities transactions shows the country of domicile of the foreign buy－ ers and sellers of the securities；in the case of outstanding issues，this may differ from the country of the original is－ suer．The gross figures contain some offsetting transactions between foreigners．The net figures for total transactions represent transactions by foreigners with United States resi－ dents；but the net figures for transactions of individual coun－ tries and areas may include some transactions between for－ eigners of different countries．Beginning with data for 1969， transactions between foreigners in new issues not offered for sale to United States residents but managed by underwriters in the United States are excluded from the gross figures．

Section VI comprises two tables on the money credit and debit balances，as appearing on the books of reporting brokers and dealers in the United States，in accounts of foreigners with them，and in their accounts carried by foreigners．

The data published in these sections do not cover all types of reported capital movements between the United States and foreign countries．The principal exclusions are the inter－ company capital transactions of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies，and capital lrans－ actions of the United States Government．Consolidated data on all types of capital transactions are published by the Depart－ ment of Commerce in its regular reports on the United States balance of payments．
