"Obligations" are the basis on which the use of funds is controlled in the Federal fovernment. They are recorded at the point at which the Covernment makes a firm commitment to acquire goods or services and are the first of the four key events--order, delivery. payment, consumption--which characterize the acquisition and use of resources. In Eeneral, they consist of orders flaced, contracts awarded, services received, and similar transactions requiring the disbursement of money.

The obligational stage of Government transactions is a strategic point in gauging the impact of the Covernment's operations on the national economy, since it frequently represents for business firms the Government commitment which stimulates business investment, including inventory purchases and employment of labor. Disbursements may not oceur for months after the Government places its order but the order itself usually causes immediate pressure on the private economy.

Obligations are classified according to a uniform set of categories which are based upon the nature of the trans action without regard to its ultimate purpose. All payment for salaries and wages, for example, are reported as personne compensation, whether the personal services are used in currer operations or in the construction of capital items.

Federal agencies and firms often do business with or another; in doing so, the"buying" agency records obligations and the "performing" agency records reimbursements. Table $\mathrm{FO}-1$, obligations that are incurred within the Govern ment are distinguished from those incurred outside the Govern ment. Tables FO-2, 3, and 4 show only those incurred outs ide

Obligation data for the administrative budget fun accounts were first published in the September 1967 Treasur Bulletin and the trust fund accounts were first publishe in the October 1967 Bulletin. Beginning with the April 196 Bulletin, the data are on the basis of the budget concept adopted pursuant to the recommendations of the President Commission on Budget Concepts.

This issue contains both the December and January Obligation data.

1/ For Federal Budget presentation a concept of "net obligations incurred" is generally used. This concept eliminates transactions within the Government and revenue and reimbursements from the public which by statute may be used by Government agencies without appropriation action by the Congress. Summary figures on this basis follow. (This data is on the basis of Reports on Obligations received from the agencies prior to reports submitted for Budget presentation and therefore may differ somewhat from the Budget document.)

For Federal Budget presentstion a concept or "net obligations incurred" is generally used. This concept eliminates transactions within the Government and revenue and reimbursements from the public which by statute may be used by Government agencies without appropriation action by the Congress. Sumary figures on this basis follow (This dsta is on the basis of Reports on Obligations received from the agencies prior to reports submitted for Budget presentation and

Source and Availability of the Balance in the Treasurer's Account

The working casn of the Treasury is held mainly in asurer's accounts with Federal Reserve banks and branches. the balances in these accounts become depleted, they are tored by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and n accounts with thousands of commercial banks throughout country

Deposits to tax and loan accounts occur in the normal rse of business under a uniform procedure applicable to all ks whereby customers of banks deposit with them tax payts and funds for the purchase of Government securities. most cases the transaction involves merely the transfer of ey from a customer's account to the tax and loan account in same bank. On occasions, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banks are permitted to deposit in these accounts proceeds from subscriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account as well as for the account of their customers.

The tax and loan account system permits the Treasury to leave funds in banks and in the commanities in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funds for its operations. In this way the Treasury is able to neutralize the effect of its fluctuating operations on bank reserves and the econormy.

A detailed description of the Treasury's depositary system may be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1955, pages 275-284.

Note: The computed annual interest charge represents the amount of On the basis of the daily Treasury statement. interest that would be paid if each interest-bearing issue outstanding at the end of each month or year should remain outstanding for a year at the applicable annual rate of interest. The charge is computed for each issue by applying the appropriate annual interest rate to the anount outstanding on that date (the amount actually borrowed in the case of securities sold at a premium or discount, beginning witb May 1960). The aggregate charge for all interest-bearing issues constitutes the total computed annual interest charge. The average annual interest rate is computed by dividing the computed annual interest charge for the total, or for any group of issues, by the corresponding principal amount. Beginning with data for December 3 1958, the computation is based on the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premium or discount. Prior to that date it was base on the coupon rate for all issues.

1) Included in debt outstanding at face amount, but discount value is used in computing annual interest charge and annual interest rate.
2) On United States savings bonds the rate to maturity is applied agai the amount outstanding.

Ce: Daily Treasury statement; Office of Debt Analysis in the Office of the Secretary
?: In these tables sales of Series A-F and J bonds are included at issue price, and redemptions and anounts outstanding at current redemption value. Series $G, H$, and $K$ are included at face value throughout. Matured bonds which have been redeemed are included in redemptions Matured J and K bonds outatanding are included in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the annual series have matured, and are then transferred to matured debt on which interest has ceased.
Sales and redemption figurea include exchanges of minor amounts of (1) matured Series $E$ bonds for Series $G$ and $K$ bonds from May 1951 through April 1957; (2) Series $F$ and J bonds for Series $H$ bonds beginning January 1960; and (3) U.S. Savings notes for Series H bonds beginning January 1972; however, they exclude exchanges of Seriea E bonds for Series H bonds, which are reported in Table SB-3.
Details by series on a cumulative basis and by periods for Series A-D combined will be found in the February 1952 and previous issues of the Treasury Bulletin.
Because there ia a normal lag in classifying redemptions, the distribution of redemption between sales price and accrued discount has been estimated. Beginning with the Treasury Bulletin of March 1961 the method of distributing redemptions between sales price and accrued discount has been changed to reflect the distribution shown in final reports of classified redemption. All periods shown have been revised on this basis.
4 Series F and G sales were discontinued April 30, 1952, and Series J and $K$ sales were discontinued April 30, 1957. Sales figures after April 30, 1957, represent adjustments.
5) Includes exchanges of Series 1941 F and $G$ savings bonds for $3-1 / 4 \%$ marketable bonds of 1978-83.
6/ Includes exchanges of Series 1948 F and G bonds for $4-3 / 4 \%$ marketable notes of 1964.
7/ Includes exchanges of Series 1949 F and G bonds for $4 \%$ marketable bonds of 1969.
8) Includes exchanges of Series 1950 F and G bonds for $3-7 / 8 \%$ marketable bonds of 1968.
9/ Includes exchanges of Series 1951 and 1952 F and G bonds for $3-7 / 8 \%$ marketable bonde of 1971 and 4\% marketable bonds of 1980.
10. Represents changes in the amounts of redemptions not yet clasaified between matured and unmatured issues.

* Less than $$ 500,000$.

United States savings notes were on sale May 1, 1967 through June 30, 1970. The notes were eligible for purchase by individuals with the simultaneous purchase of Series E savings bonds.

The principal terms and conditions for purchase and re demption and information on investment yields of saving notes appear in the Treasury Bulletins of March 1967 and Jun 1968.

The tables in this section are designed to provide data United States reserve assets and liabilities and other atistics related to the United States balance of payments d intermational financial position. A number of changes re introduced in the May 1967 Bulletin to increase the useIness of this section.

Table IFS-1 shows the reserve assets of the United ates, including its gold stock, special drawing rights held , the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary nd, holdings of convertible foreign currencies, and rerve position in the International Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-2 brings together the various statistical comnents of the liabilities which enter into the United States lance of payments calculated on the liquidity basis. The clusion of the United States reserve position in the Inmational Monetary Fund in Table IFS-1 requires that the "holdings of dollars" of the Fund be excluded from the data on liabilities to foreigners, in order to avoid double counting.

Table IFS-3 presents an area breakdown of United States liquid liabilities to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS-4 shows United States Treasury nonmarketable bonds and notes issued to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS-5 sets forth the factors which affect the United States position in the International Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-6 presents United States net monetary gold transactions with foreign countries and international and regional organizations.

Includes gold sold to the United States by the International Monetary Fund with the right of repurchase, and gold deposited by the International Monetary Fund to mitigate the impact on the U.S. gold stock of foreign purchases for the purpose or making gold subscriptions to the Fund under quota increases. For corresponding liabilities see Table TFS-2.
Includes gold in Exchange Stabilization Fund, which is not included in Treasury gold figures shown in daily Treasury statement. See "Account of the Treasurer of the United States," Table TVS-
Includes initial allocation on January 1, 1970 of $$ 867$ million, second allocation on January 1, 1971 of $$ 717$ million and third allocation on January 1, 1972 of $$ 710$ million of special drawing rights (SDR) in the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary Fund, plus or minus transactions in SDR.
Includes holdings of Treasury and Federal Reserve System
The United States nas the right to purchase foreign currencies equivalent to its reserve position in the Fund automatically if needed. Under appropriate conditions the United States could purchase additional amounts equal to the United States quota. See Table IFS-5.
6/ Reserve position includes, and gold stock excludes, $$ 259$ million gold subscription to the Fund in June 1965 for a U.S. quota increase which became effective on February 23, 1966. In figures published by the Fund from June 1965 through Jaruary 1966, this gold subscription was included in the U.S. gold stock and excluded from the reserve position
7) Includes gain of $$ 67$ million resulting from revaluation of the German mark in October 1969, of which $$ 13$ million represents gain on Germen mark holdings at time of revaluation. See also footnotes 3 and 4 , Table IFS-4.
8) Includes $$ 28$ million increase in dollar value of foreign currencies revalued to reflect market exchange rates as of December 31, 1971. See also footnotes 3 and 6, Table IFS-4.

The initial U.S. quota in the International Monetary Fund was $$ 2,750$ .11ion. The U.S. quota was increased to $$ 4,125$ million in 1959, $$ 5,160$ liion in February 1966, and to $$, 700$ million in December 1970. Under Articles of Agreement, subscription payments equal to the quota have made 25 percent in gold and 75 percent in dollars.
presents net Fund sales of gold to acquire U.S. dollars for use in ind operations. Does not include transactions in gold relating to gold epsit or gold investment (see Table IFS-2).
sitive figures represent purchases from the Fund of currencies of ther members for equivalent amounts of dollars; negative figures repreent repurchases of dollars, including dollars derived from charges on archases and from other net dollar income of the Fund. The United jatas has a commitment to repurchase within 3-5 years, but only to the stent that the Fund's holdings of dollars exceed 75 percent of the U.S. 1ota. Purchases of dollars by other countries reduce the U.S. commitment to repurchase by an equivalent amount.
3/ Beginning January 1970, includes dollars obtained by countries other than the United States from sales of gold to the Fund.
$4 /$ Represents the United States gold tranche position in the Fund (the United States quota minus the Fund's holdings of dollars), which is the amount that the United States could purchase in foreign currencies automatically if needed. Under appropriate conditions, the United States could purchase additional amounts equal to the United States quota.
5/ Includes $$ 259$ million gold subscription to the Fund in June 1965 for a U.S. quota increase which became effertive on February 23, 1966. In figures published by the Fund from June 1965 through January 1966, this gold subscription was included in the U.S. gold stock and excluded from the reserve position.
6/ Includes $$ 30$ million of special drawing rights. * Less than $$ 500,000$.

ground

Data relating to capital movements between the United es and foreign countries have been collected since 1935, jant to Executive Order 6560 of January 15, 1934, ExecuOrder 10033 of February 8, 1949, and Treasury regulations ilgated thereunder. Statistics on the principal types ata and the principal countries are published monthly " "Treasury Bulletin." Reports are filed with the FedReserve Banks by banks, securities brokers and dealers, nonbanking concerns in the United States. These statisare then consolidated, and are published by the Treasury romptly as possible.
The report forms and instructions used in the collection he statistics have been revised a number of times. The recent general revision of the report forms became effecwith reports as of May 31, 1963. 1/

The present form of the published presentation of the ital Movements" statistics was introduced in the May issue of the "Bulletin." The principal changes were rearrangement of the tables to bring together in separate ions all the data relevant to the same statistical series; expansion of the time series on aggregate liabilities claims reported by banks to show more detailed breakdowns ype of holder and type of liability and claim; and the entation of statistics not previously published on the t-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns.

c definitions

The term "foreigner" as used in the Treasury reports rs all institutions and individuals domiciled outside United States, including United States citizens domid abroad, and the foreign branches, subsidiaries and ces of United States banks and business concerns; the ral governments, central banks and other official iniutions of foreign countries, wherever located; and interonal and regional organizations, wherever located. The " "foreigner" also includes persons in the United States ine extent that they are known by reporting institutions e acting on behalf of foreigners.

In general, data are reported opposite the foreign counor geographical area in which the foreigner is domiciled, hown on the records of reporting institutions. For a er of reasons, the geographical breakdown of the reported may not in all cases reflect the ultimate ownership of assets. Reporting institutions are not expected to go ind the addresses shown on their records, and so may not ware of the country of domicile of the ultimate beneficiary. ;hermore, U.S. liabilities arising from deposits of dollars foreign banks are reported generally in the Treasury istics as liabilities to foreign banks, whereas the liLity of the foreign bank receiving the deposit may be to eign official institutions or residents of another country.

Data pertaining to branches or agencies of foreign offi$L$ institutions are reported opposite the country to which official institution belongs. Data pertaining to interional and regional organizations are reported opposite appropriate international or regional classification ept for the Bank for International Settlements and the opean Fund, which are included in the classification "Other tern Europe."
"Short-term" refers to obligations payable on demand or having an original maturity of one year or less. "Longterm" refers to obligations having an original maturity of more than one year, and includes securities having no contractual maturity.

Reporting coverage

Reports are required frombanks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States, including the branches, agencies, subsidiaries, and other affiliates in the United States of foreign firms. Institutions which have total reportable liabilities, claims or securities transactions below a specified exemption level, based on the average for the report dates during a six-month period, including the current report date, are exempt from reporting.

Banks file reports monthly covering their short-term and long-term liabilities to and claims on foreigners; an exemption of $$ 500,000$ is applicable to reports in each of these categories. Twice a year they also report their shortterm dollar liabilities to foreigners in countries not shown separately on the monthly report of liabilities. Banks, securities brokers and dealers, and in some instances, nonbanking concerns, report monthly their transactions in securities with foreigners; the applicable exemption level is $$ 100,000$.

Quarterly reports are filed by exporters, importers, industrial and comercial concerns, financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking firms if their liabilities or claims are $$ 500,000$ or more. Such firms also report the liquid portion of their claims for each monthend when they have reportable claims of $$ 1$ million or more. The foreign credit and debit balances of securities brokers and dealers are reported quarterly; the exemption level applicable to these reports is $$ 100,000$.

Description of statistics

Data collected on the Treasury Foreign Exchange Forms are published in the "Treasury Bulletin" in six sections. Each section contains all the data relevant to the same statistical series, with tables showing time series by type and country, and the detailed breakdowns of the latest available data.

Section I covers the short-term and long-term liabilities to forelgners reported by banks in the United States. The data exclude the holdings of dollars of the International Monetary Fund derived from payments of the United States subscription and from the exchange transactions and other operations of the Fund. (Liabilities representing the "gold investment" of the Fund, Nowever, are included.) The data also exclude U.S. Treasury letters of credit, and nonnegotiable, noninterest-bearing special notes of the United States held by international and regional organizations.

Section II presents the short-term and long-term claims on foreigners reported by banks in the United States, including claims held for their own account and for the account of their domestic customers. The data exclude convertible foreign currencies held by U.S. monetary authorities.

Sections III and IV show respectively the liabilities

to, and claims on, foreigners reported by exporters, importers, industrial and commercial firms,financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking concerns in the United States. The data exclude the intercompany accounts of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies. (Such transactions are reported by business firms to the Department of Commerce on its direct investment forms.) The data also exclude claims held through United States banks. Separate figures are shown in Section IV for the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns in the United States.

Section V contains data on transactions in all types of long-term domestic and foreign securities by foreigners reported by banks and brokers in the United States (except nonmarketable U.S. Treasury notes, foreign series, and nonmarketable U.S. Treasury bonds and notes, foreign currency series, which are shown in "International Financial Statistics" section, Table IFS-4). The data cover new issues of securities, transactions in outstanding issues, and redemptions of securities. They include transactions executed in the United States for the account of foreigners, and transactions executed abroad for the account of reporting institutions and their domestic customers. The data include some transactions which are classified as direct investments in the balance of payments accounts. The data exclude securities issued abroad by foreign subsidiaries of U.S. corporations, some of which are treated in the balance of payments as issues of U.S. corporations.

The geographical breakdown of the data on securitie transactions shows the country of domicile of the foreig buyers and sellers of the securities; in the case of out standing issues, this may differ from the country of th original issuer. The gross figures contain some offsettin transactions between foreigners. The net figures for tota transactions represent transactions by foreigners with Unite States residents; but the net figures for transactions 0 individual countries and areas may include some transaction between foreigners of different countries. Beginning wit data for 1969, transactions between foreigners in new issue not offered for sale to United States residents but manage by underwriters in the United States are excluded from th gross figures.

Section VI comprises two tables on the money credi and debit balances, as appearing on the books of reportin brokers and dealers in the United States, in accounts of for eigners with them, and in their accounts carried by foreigners

The data published in these sections do not cover al types of reported capital movements between the United State and foreign countries. The principal exclusions are thi intercompany capital transactions of business enterprise in the United States with their own branches and subsidiar. ies abroad or with their foreign parent companies, and capita transactions of the United States Government. Consolidater data on all types of capital transactions are published b the Department of Commerce in its regular rovorts on thi United States balance of payments.
