[^2]_FEDERAL FISCAL OPERATIONS

"Obligations" are the basis on which the use of funds is controlled in the Federal Covernment. They are recorded at the point at which the Covernment makes a firm cummitment to acquire goods or services and are the first of the four key eventsm-order, delivery payment, consumption--which characterize the acquisition and use of resources. In general, they consist of orders flaced, contracts awarded, services received, and similar transactions requiring the disbursement of money.

The obligational stage of Government transactions is a strategic point in gauging the impact of the Covernment's operations on the national economy, since it frequently represents for business firms the Government commitment which stimulates business investment, including inventory purchases and employment of labor. Disbursements may not occur for months after the Government places its order but the order itself usually causes immediate pressure on the private economy.

Obligations are classified according to a uniform set of categories which are based upon the nature of the transaction wi thout regard to its ultimate purpose. All payments for salaries andwages, for example, are reported as personne] compensation, whether the personal services are used incurrent operations or in the construction of capital items.

Federal agencies and firms often do business with onf another ; indoing so, the"buying" agency records obligations, and the "performing" agency records reimbursements. In Table FO-1, obligations that are incurred within the Government are distinguished from those incurred outside the Government. Tables $\mathrm{FO}-2,3$, and 4 show only those incurred outside.

Obligation data for the administrative budget func accounts were first published in the September 1967 Treasur. Bulletin and the trust fund accounts were first publisher in the October 1967 Bulletin. Beginning with the April 1966 Bulletin, the data are on the basis of the budget concepts adopted pursuant to the recommendations of the President': Conmission on Budget Concepts.

For Federal Budget presentation a concept of "net obligations incurred" is generally used. This concept eliminates transactions within the Government and revenue and reimbursements from the public which by statute may be used by covermment agencies without approwhich by statute may be used by Covernment agencies without appro priation action by the Congress. Sumary figures on this basis follow. (This data is on the basis of Reports on Obligations received from the agencies prior to reports submitted for Budget

FEDERAL OBLIGATIONS

Source and Availability of the Balance in the Treasurer's Account

The working cash of the Treasury is held mainly in Treasurer's accounts with Federal Reserve banks and branches. As the balances in these accounts become depleted, they are restored by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and loan accounts with thousands of commercial banks throughout the country.

Deposits to tax and loan accounts occur in the normal course of business under a uniform procedure applicable to all banks whereby customers of banks deposit with them tax payments and funds for the purchase of Government securities. In most cases the transaction involves merely the transfer of money from a customer's account to the tax and loan account in the same bank. On occasions, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banks are permitted to deposit in these accounts proceeds from subscriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account as well as for the account of their customers.

The tax and loan account system permits the Treasury to leave funds in banks and in the communities in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funds for its operations. In this way the Treasury is able to neutralize the effect of its fluctueting operations on bank reserves and the economy.

A detailed description of the Treasury's depositary system may be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1955, pages 275-284.

Footnotes to Table FD-2

ree: On the basis of the daily Treasury statement.
e: The computed annual intereat charge representa the amount of interest that would be paid if each intereat-bearing issue outatanding at the end of each month or year should remain outstanding for a year at the applicable annual rate of intereat. The charge ia computed for each iaaue by applying the appropriate annual interest rate to the amount outatanding on that date (the amount actually borrowed in the case of aecuritiea aold at a premum or diacount, beginning with May 1960). The aggregate charge for all intereat-bearing issuea conatitutes the total computed annual interest charge. The average annual interest rate is computed by dividing the computed annual interest charge for the total, or for any group of issues, by the corresponding principal amount. Beginning with data for December 31, 1958, the computation is based on the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premium or discount. Prior to that date it was based on the coupon rate for all issues.
1/ Included in debt outstanding at face amount, but discount value is used in computing annual interest charge and annual interest rate.
2/ On United States savings bonds the rate to maturity is applied against the amount outstanding.

Jote: In these tables aalea of Seriea A-F and J bonds are included at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption value. Series $G, H$, and $K$ are included at face value throughout. Matured bonds which have been redeemed are included in redemptions. Matured $J$ and $K$ bonds outstanding are included in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the annual series have matured, and are then transferred to matured debt on which interest has ceased.
$\checkmark$ Salea and redemption figures include exchanges of minor amounts of (1) matured Seriea E bonda for Series $G$ and $K$ bonda from May 1951 through April 1957; (2) Series $F$ and $J$ bonds for Seriea $H$ bonds beginning January 1960; and (3) U.S. savings notes for Series $H$ bonds beginning Januery 1972; however, they exclude exchanges of Seriea E bonds for Series $H$ bonds, which are reported in Table SB-3.
3 Details by aeries on a cumulative basis and by periods for Series A-D comblned will be found in the February 1952 and previous issues of the Treasury Bulletin.
3/ Because there is a normal lag in classifying redemptions, the distribution of redemption between ales price and accrued discount has been estimated. Beginning with the Treasury Bulletin of March 1961 the method of distributing redemptions between sales price and accrued discount has been changed to reflect the distribution shown in final reports of classified redemption. All periods shown have been revised on thia bssis.
4/ Series F and G sales were discontinued April 30, 1952, and Series J and $K$ sales were discontinued April 30 , 1957. Sales figures after April 30, 1957, represent adjustments.
2) Includes exchanges of Series 1947 F and G savings bonds for $3-1 / 4 \%$ marketable bonds of 1978-83.
6/ Includes exchanges of Series 1948 F and $G$ bonds for $4-3 / 4 \%$ marketable notes of 1964.
7) Includes exchanges of Series 1949 F and G bonds for $4 \%$ marketable bonda of 1969.
8/ Includes exchanges of Series 1950 F and G bonds for $3-7 / 8 \%$ marketable bonds of 1968
2 Includes exchanges of Series 1951 and 1952 F and $G$ bonds for $3-7 / 8 \%$ marketable bonds of 1971 and $4 \%$ marketable bonds of 1980.
10 Represents changes in the amounts of redemptions not yet classified between matured and unmatured issues. Lesa than $500,000.

The tables in this section are designed to provide data on United States reserve ascets and liabilities and other statistics related to the United States balance of payments and international financial position. A number of changes were introduced in the May 1967 Bulletin to increase the usefulness of this section.

Table IFS-I shows the reserve assets of the United States, including its gold stock, special drawing rights held in the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary Fund, holdings of convertible foreign currencies, and reserve position in the International Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-2 brings together the various statistical components of the liabilities whichenter into the United States balance of payments calculated on the liquidity basis. The inclusion of the United States reserve position in the International Monetary Fund in Table IFS-l requires that the "holdings of dollars" of the Fund be excluced from the data on liabilities to foreigners, in order to avoid double counting.

Table IFS-3 presents an area breakdown of United States liquid liabilities to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS-4 shows United States Treasury nonmarketable bonds and notes issued to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS-5 sets forth the factors which affect the United States position in the Intemational Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-6 presents United States net monetary gold transactions with foreign countries and international and regional organizations.

Background

Data relating to capital movements between the United States and foreign countries have been collected since 1935 , pursuant to Executive Order 6560 of January 15, 1934, Executive Order 10033 of February 8, 1949, and Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. Statistics on the principal types of data and the principal countries are publisbed monthly in the "Treasury Bulletin." Reports are filed with the Federal Reserve Banks by banks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States. These statistics are then consolidated, and are published by the Treasury as promptly as possible.

The report forms and instructions used in the collection of the statistics have been revised a number of times. The most recent general revision of the report forms became effective with reports as of May 31, 1963. 1/

The present form of the published presentation of the "Capital Movements" statistics was introduced in the May 1969 issue of the "Bulletin." The principal changes were the rearrangement of the tables to bring together in separate sections all the data relevant to the same statistical series; the expansion of the time series on aggregate liabilities and claims reported by banks to show more detailed breakdowns by type of holder and type of liability and claim; and the presentation of statistics not previously published on the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns.

Basic definitions

The term "foreigner" as used in the Treasury reports covers all institutions and individuals domiciled outside the United States, including United States citizens domiciled abroad, and the foreign branches, subsidiaries and offices of United States banks and business concerns; the central governments, central banks and other official institutions of foreign countries, wherever located; and international and regional organizations, wherever located. The term "foreigner" also includes persons in the United States to the extent that they are known by reporting institutions to be acting on behalf of foreigners.

In general, data are reported opposite the foreign country or geographical area in which the foreigner is domiciled, as shown on the records of reporting institutions. For a number of reasons, the geographical breakdown of the reported data may not in all cases reflect the ultimate ownership of the assets. Reporting institutions are not expected to go beyond the addresses shown on their records, and so may not be aware of the country of domicile of the ultimate beneficiary. Furthermore, U.S. liabilities arising from deposits of dollars with foreign banks are reported generally in the Treasury statistics as liabilities to foreign banks, whereas the liability of the foreign bank receiving the deposit may be to foreign official institutions or residents of another country.

Data pertaining to branches or agencies of foreign offiaial institutions are reported opposite the country to which the official institution belongs. Data pertaining to international and regional organizations are reported opposite the appropriate international or regional classification except for the Bank for International Settlements and the European Fund, which are included in the classification "Other Western Europe."
"Short-term" refers to obligations payable on demand or having an original maturity of one year or less. "Longterm" refers to obligations having an original maturity of more than one year, and includes securities having no contractual maturity.

Reporting coverage

Reports are required frombanks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States, including the branches, agencies, subsidiaries, and other affiliates in the United States of foreign firms. Institutions which have total reportable liabilities, claims or securities transactions below a specifled exemption level, based on the average for the report dates during a six-month period, including the current report date, are exempt from reporting.

Banks file reports monthly covering their short-term and long-term liabilities to and claims on foreigners; an exemption of $$ 500,000$ is applicable to reports in each of these categories. Twice a year they also report their shortterm dollar liabilities to foreigners in countries not shown separately on the monthly report of liabilities. Banks, securities brokers and dealers, and in some instances, nonbanking concerns, report monthly their transactions in securities with foreigners; the applicable exemption level is $$ 100,000$.

Quarterly reports are filed by exporters, importers, industrial and comercial concerns, financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking firms if their liabilities or claims are $$ 500,000$ or more. Such firms also report the liquid portion of their claims for each monthend when they have reportable claims of $$ 1$ million or more. The foreign credit and debit balances of securities brokers and dealers are reported quarterly; the exemption level applicable to these reports is $$ 100,000$.

Description of statistics

Data collected on the Treasury Foreign Exchange Forms are published in the "Treasury Bulletin" in six sections. Each section contains all the data relevant to the same statistical series, with tables showing time series by type and country, and the detailed breakdowns of the latest available data.

Section $I$ covers the short-term and long-term liabilities to foreigners reported by banks in the United States. The data exclude the holdings of dollars of the International Monetary Fund derived from payments of the United States subscription and from the exchange transactions and other operations of the Fund. (Liabilities representing the "gold investment" of the Fund, however, are included.) The dats also exclude U.S. Treasury letters of credit, and nonnegotiable, noninterest-bearing special notes of the United States held by international and regional organizations.

Section II presents the short-term and long-term cleims on foreigners reported by banks in the United States, including claims held for their own account and for the account of their domestic customers. The data exclude convertible foreign currencies held by U.S. monetary authorities.

Sections III and IV show respectively the liabilities
, and claims on, foreigners reported by exporters, imporars, industrial and comercial firms, financial institutions ther than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking concerns the United States. The data exclude the intercompany acounts of business enterprises in the United States with neir own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their forign parent companies. (Such transactions are reported by usiness firms to the Department of Commerce on its direct avestment forms.) The data also exclude claims held through aited States banks. Separate figures are shown in Section $V$ for the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking conerns in the United States.

Section V contains data on transactions in all types f long-term domestic and foreign securities by foreigners eported by banks and brokers in the United States (except onmarketable U.S. Treasury notes, foreign series, and nonarketable U.S. Treasury bonds and notes, foreign currency eries, which are shown in "International Financial StatisLcs" section, Table IFS-4). The data cover new issues of ecurities, transactions in outstanding issues, and redemplons of securities. They include transactions executed in ue United States for the account of foreigners, and transations executed abroad for the account of reporting instistions and their domestic customers. The data include some ransactions which are classified as direct investments in re balance of payments accounts. The data exclude securiLes issued abroad by foreign subsidiaries of U.S. corporalons, some of which are treated in the balance of payments issues of U.S. corporations.

The geographical breakdown of the data on securities transactions shows the country of domicile of the foreign buyers and sellers of the securities; in the case of outstanding issues, this may differ from the country of the original issuer. The gross figures contain some offsetting transactions between foreigners. The net figures for total transactions represent transactions by foreigners with United States residents; but the net figures for transactions of individual countries and areas may include some transactions between foreigners of different countries. Beginning with data for 1969, transactions between foreigners in new issues not offered for sale to United States residents but managed by underwriters in the United States are excluded from tho gross figures.

Section VI comprises two tables on the money credit and debit balances, as appearing on the books of reporting brokers and dealers in the United States, in accounts of foreigners with them, and in their accounts carried by foreigners.

The data published in these sections do not cover all types of reported capital movements between the United States and foreign countries. The principal exclusions are the intercompany capital transactions of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies, and capital transactions of the United States Government. Consolidated data on all types of capital transactions are published by the Department of Commerce in its regular reports on the United States balance of payments.

1/ Data on the two lines shown for this date differ because of changes in reporting coverage. Figures on the first line are comparable in coverage to those shown for the preceding date; figures on the second line are comparable to those shown for the following date.
2/ Data on the second line differ from those on the first line because those claims of U.S. banks on their foreign branches and those claims of U.S. agencies and branches of foreign banks on their head offices and foreign branches which were previously reported as loans are included in "other short-term claims"; and a number of reporting banks are included in the series for the first time.

Note: Data represent estimated oficicial and private holdings of marketable U.S. Government securities with an original maturity of more than one year Data shown as of end year 1968 through end year 1970 (first column) are based on November 30,1968 benchmark Survey of holdings and the regular monthly reports of securities transactions (see Table CM-V-3). Data shown for end year 1970 (second column) through latest date are based on a benchmark survey as of January 31,1971 , and the monthly transactions reports. For statistical convenience, the new series is introduced as of December 31, 1970 , rather than as of the survey date. The differe between the two series is believed to arise from errors in reporting during the period between the two benchmark surveys, from shifts in ownership not involving purchases or sales through U.S. banks and brokers, and from physical transfers of securities to and from abroad It is not posaible to reconcile the two series or to revise figures for earlier dates.

Government Corporations and Other Business-Type Activities

The financial statements of corporations and other busi-ness-type activities of the United States Government, which have appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" since the August 1956 issue, are compiled from reports submitted to the Treasury under Department Circular No. 966, issued January 30, 1956, and Supplement No. 1, Revised, issued June 16, 1965. These regulations were issued pursuant to the Budget and Accounting Procedures Act of 1950. They superseded Budget-Treasury Regulation No. 3, issued under Executive Order No. 8512 of August 13, 1940, as amended by Executive Order No. 9084 of March 3, 1942, under which financial statements previously published in the Bulletin were submitted.

Department Circular No. 966 requires submission of financial statements by all wholly owned and mixed-ownership Government corporations specifically included in the Government Corporation Control Act, as amended (31 U.S.C. 846, 856); and all other activities of the Government operating as revolving funds. Other activities and agencies whose operations, services, or functions are largely self-liquidating or primarily of a revenue-producing nature, and activities and agencies whose operations result in the accumulation of substantial inventories, investments, and other recoverable assets, were brought under the regulations as the agency accounting systems were developed to where they were capable of furnishing the required financial reports.

Four kinds of financial statements are called for by Department Circular No. 966. They are statements of financial condition, income and expense, source and application of funds, and certain financial contingencies. The statements of financial condition are published quarterly and appear as Section I, Table GA-I-1. The first statements of financial condition published under Circular 966 were as of March 31, 1956, and were presented in the August 1956 Bulletin. Loans shown on the statements of financial condition are classified by type and account in Section III, Table GA-III-2. Statements of income and expense and source and application of funds are published semiannually, for June 30 and December 31 reporting dates, and appear as Section I, Tables GA-I-2 and GA-I-3. The first of these statements under Circular 966 covered the fiscal year 1956, and were published in the January 1957 Bulletin. All funds shown in the statements are noted to indicate whether they are public enterprise revolving funds, intragovernmental revolving funds, trust or trust revolving funds, or general and special funds.

Supplement No. 1, when originally issued in 1956, extended the coverage to include all exccutive agencies and activities not previously reporting under Circular 966, but required only a statement of financial condition annually as of June 30. These were activities which were not principally of a businesstype nature. Those which had not yet developed formal accounting procedures to provide complete balance-sheet type statements were temporarily authorized to report only assets. Thus, the supplement rounded out provisions for information on properties and other assets, as well as liabilities, of the United States Government all of which is needed by Treasury for the compilation of complete Government-wide financial reports. The first comprehensive reporting under the original Supplement No. 1 was for June 30, 1957, and the data were published in the December 1957 Bulletin as Part B of Table 4 in Section I. Statements submitted under this supplement are now published annually in Section II, Table GA-II-1. The revision to Supplement No. 1 in 1965 made no basic change to the overall purpose of the originally issued supplement; it updated and consolidated sll amendments to both the regulation and instructions.

Section IV - Trust Funds

1/ State unemployment funds used for benefit payments. For the period August 1961 to February 1964, withdrawals by States were reduced by reimbursements to State accounts from the Federal Extended Compensation Account.
2/ Established by the Employment Security Act of 1960 , approved September 13, 1960 ( 42 U.S.C. 1101 (a)), into which are deposited tax receipts transferred in accordance with the act and from which are paid the administrative expenses of the employment security program and reimbursement for tax refunds. Receipts consist of appropriated and unappropriated transfers of tax collections.
3/ Net of repayments.
4 Amounts represent excess of collections from Federal Unemployment tax over expenditures for benefits and administrative expenses which excess was appropriated from the general fund to this account. (Includes amounts appropriated to the State Unemployment Accounts). Beginning 1961, such excess is transferred between book accounts within the Unemployment Trust Fund.
5 Extended unemployment compensation benefits under the empioyment security amendments of 1970 (P.L. 91-373) and the amendments to the Social Security Act (P.L. 92-224).
6/ For payment of benefits and refunds ( 45 U.S.C. 360). Figures exclude interim advance of $$ 15$ million from the Treasury and subsequent repayment, both in 1940.
