Treasury Financing Operations

State and Local Government Series Securities

On May 31 the Treasury announced that it was offering new nonmarketable securities to State and local government bodies. The securities are United States Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness -- State and Local Government Series, and United States Treasury Notes -- State and Local Government Series. The certificates will be issued for periods of three, six, and nine months, and one year. The notes will be available for terms of 18 months to seven years.

The interest rate on the securities will be established by the State or local government, so long as that rate is lower than the yield on marketable Treasury securities of comparable maturities. Thus, the new securities will provide a convenient means of investment by which State and local governments can avoid loss of exemption from Federal income tax for the interest on their own obligations.

Subscriptions for the securities, which will be issued in book-entry form, must be in multiples of $$ 5,000$. Application for purchase may be made at any Federal Reserve benk or branch.

Regulations covering the securities are contained in Department Circular, Public Debt Series No. 3-72.

9-Month and One-Year Bills

On May 17 tenders were invited for $$ 500$ million, or thereabouts, of 273-day Treasury bills, representing an additional amount of bills dated February 29, 1972, maturing February 28, 1973, and for $$ 1,200$ million, or thereabouts, of 365 -day Treasury bills to be dated May 31, 1972, to mature May 31, 2973, both series to be issued May 31. These issues were to refund $$ 1,701$ million of bills maturing May 31. Tenders were opened on May 23.

Tenders received for the 273-day bills totaled $$ 1,615$ million, of which $$ 501$ million was accepted, including $$ 11$ million of noncompetitive tenders. The average bank discount rate was 4.367 percent.

Tenders received for the 365 -day bills totaled $$ 2,150$ million, of which $$ 1,200$ million was accepted, including $$ 20$ million of noncompetitive tenders. The average bank discount rate was 4.466 percent.

"Obligations" are the basis on which the use of funds is controlled in the Federal Government. They are recorded at the point at which the Government makes a firm commitment to acquire goods or services and are the first of the four key events--order, delivery. payment, consumption--which characterize the acquisition and use of resources. In general, they consist of orders flaced, contracts awarded, services received, and similar transactions requiring the disbursement of money.

The obligational stage of Govermment transactions is a strategic point in gauging the impact of the Government's operations on the national econory, since it frequently repre sents for business firms the Government commitment which stimulates husiness investment, inciuding inventory purchases and employment of labor. Disbursements may not oceur for months after the Government places its order but the order itself usually causes immediate pressure on the private economy.

Obligations are classified according to a uniform set of categories which are based upon the nature of the transaction without regard to its ultimate purpose. A11 payments for salaries and wages, for example, are reported as personnel compensation, whether the personal services are used in current operations or in the construction of capital items.

Federal agencies and firms often do business with one another; in doing so, the"buying" agency records obligations, and the "performing" agency records reimbursements. In Table FO-1, obligations that are incurred within the Government are distinguished from those incurred outside the Government. Tables FO-2, 3, and 4 show only those incurred outside.

Obligation data for the administrative budget fund accounts were first published in the September 1967 Treasury Bulletin and the trust fund accounts were first published in the October 1967 Bulletin. Beginning wi th the April 1968 Bulletin, the data are on the basis of the budget concepts adopted pursuant to the recommendations of the President's Commission on Budget Concepts.

ource: Reports on Obligations, Standard Form 225, from agencies. See footnote 1, Table FO-4.
For Federal Budget presentation a concept of "net obligations incurred" is generally used. This concept eliminates transactions within the Government and revenue and reimbursements from the public whicb by statute may be used by Government agencies without appropriation action by the Congress. Summary figures on this basis follow. (This data is on the basis of Reparts on Obligations received from the agencies prior to reports submitted for Buaget presentation and tberefore may differ somewhat from the Budget document.)

Source and Availability of the Balance in the Treasurer's Account

The working cash of the Treasury is held mainly in Treasurer's accounts with Federal Reserve banks and branches. As the balances in these accounts become depleted, they are restored by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and loan accounts with thousands of commercial banks throughout the country.

Deposits to tax and loan accounts occur in the normal course of business under a uniform procedure applicable to all banks whereby customers of banks deposit with them tax payments and funds for the purchase of Government securities. In most cases the transaction involves merely the transfer of money from a customer's account to the tax and loan account in the same bank. On occasions, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banks are permitted to deposit in these accounts proceeds from subscriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account as well as for the account of their customers.

The tax and loan account system permits the Treasury to leave funds in banks and in the commanities in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funds for its operations. In this way the Treasury is able to neutralize the effect of its fluctuating operations on bank reserves and the economy.

A detailed description of the Treasury's depositary system may be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1955, pages 275-284.

Footnotes to Table FD-2

arce: On the basia of the daily Ireasury statement
The computed annual interest charge repreaents the amount of intereat that would be paid if each interest-bearing issue outstanding at the end of each month or year ahould remain outstanding for a year at the applicable annual rate of intereat. The charge is computed for each issue by applying the sppropriate annual interest rate to the mount outatanding on that date (the amount actually borrowed in the case of securities sold at a premium or discount, beginning with May 1960). The aggregate charge for all interest-bearing issues constitutes the total computed annual interest charge. The average annual interest rate is computed by dividing the computed annual interest charge for the total, or for any group of issues, by the corresponding principal amount. Beginning with data for December 31, 1958, the computation is based on the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premium or discount. Prior to that date it was based on the coupon rate for all iasues.
1/ Included in debt outstanding at face amount, but discount value is used in computing annual intereat charge and annual interest rate.
2) On United Statea savings bonda the rate to maturity is applied against. the amount outstanding.

Note: In these tables sales of Series A-F and J bonds are included at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption value. Series G,H, and K are included at face value throughout. Matured bonds which have been redeemed are included in redemptions. Matured $J$ and $K$ bonds outstanding are included in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the annual series have matured, and are then debt until all bonds of the annual series have matured,
1 Sales and redemption figures include exchanges of minor gmounts of (1) matured Series E bonds for Series $G$ and $K$ bonds from May 1951 through April 1957; (2) Series F and J bonds for Series $H$ bonds beginning January 1960; and (3) U.S. Savings notes for Series H bonds beginning January 1972; however, they exclude exchanges of Series $E$ bonds for Series H bonds, which are reported in Table SB-3
2) Details by series on a cumulative basis and by periods for Series A-D combined will be found in the February 1952 and previous issues of the Treasury Bulletin.
3) Because there is a normal lag in classifying redemptions, the distribution of redemption between sales price and accrued discount has been estimated. Beginning with the Treasury Bulletin of March 1961 the method of distributing redemptions between sales price and accrued discount has been changed to reflect the distribution shown in final reports of classified redemption. All periods shown have been revised on this basis.
$\sqrt[6]{ }$ Series $F$ and $G$ sales were discontinued April 30, 1952, and Series and $K$ sales were discontinued April 30, 1957. Sales figures after April 30, 1957, represent adjustments.
5. Includes exchanges of Series 1941 F and G savings bonds for 3-1/4\% marketable bonds of 1978-83.
6) Includes exchanges of Series $19,48 \mathrm{~F}$ and $G$ bonds for $4-3 / 4 \%$ marketable notes of 1964
7) Includes exchanges of Series 1949 F and G bonds for $4 \%$ marketable bonds of 1969.

The tables in this section are designed to providc data on United states reserve assets and liabilities and other statistics related to the United States balance of payments and international financial position. A number of changes were introduced in the May 1967 Bulletin to increase the usefulness of this section.

Table IFS-1 shows the reserve assets of the United States, including its gold stock, special drawing rights held in the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary Fund, holdings of convertible foreign currencies, and reserve position in the International Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-2brings together the various statistical conponents of the liabilities whichenter into the United States balance of payments calculated on the liquidity basis. The inclusion of the United States reserve position in the Intermational Monetary Fund in Table IFS-1 requires that the "holdings of dollars" of the Fund be excluded from the data on liabilities to foreigners, in order to avoid double counting.

Table IFS-3 presents an area breakdown of United States liquid liabilities toofficial institutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS-4 shows United States Treasury nonmarketable bonds and notes issued to orficial institutions of foreign ountries.

Table IFS-5 sets forth the factors which affect the United States position in the Intemational Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-6 presents United States net monetary gold transactions with foreign countries and international and regional organizations.

Table IFS-1. - U.S. Reserve Assets

1/ Includes gold sold to the United States by the International Monetary Fund with the right of repurchase, and gold deposited by the International Monetary Fund to mitigate the impact on the U.S. gold stock of foreign purchases for the purpose of making gold subscriptions to the Fund under quota increases. For corresponding liabilities see Table IFS-2.
2) Includes gold in Exchange Stabilization Fund, which is not included in Treasury gold figures shown in daily Treasury statement. See "Account of the Treasurer of the United States," Table TUS-4.
3/ Includes initial allocation on January 1, 1970 of $$ 867$ million, second allocation on January 1, 1971 of $$ 717$ million and third allocation on January 1, 1972 of $$ 710$ million of special drawing rights (SDR) in the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary Fund, plus or minus transactions in SDR.
4 Includes holdings of Treasury and Federal Reserve System.
The United States has the right to purchase foreign currencies equivalent to its reserve position in the Fund automatically if needed. Under appropriate conditions the United States could purchase addi tional amounts equal to the United States quota. See Table IFS-5.
6 Reserve position includes, and gold stock excludes, $$ 259$ million gold subscription to the Fund in June 1965 for a U.S. quota increase which became effective on February 23, 1966. In figures published by the Fund from June 1965 through January 1966, this gold subscription was included in the U.S. gold stock and excluded from the reserve position.
7) Includes gain of $$ 67$ million resulting from revaluation of the German mark in October 1969, of which $13 million represents gain on German mark holdings at time of revaluation. See also footnotes 3 and 4, Table IFS-4
8/ Includes $$ 28$ million increase in dollar value of foreign currencies revalued to reflect market exchange rates as of December 31, 1971. See also footnotes 3 and 6, Table IFS-4
2) Total reserve assets include increase of $$ 1,016$ million resulting from change in par value of the U.S. dollar on May 8, 1972, conaisting of $$ 828$ million total gold stock, $$ 822$ million Treaaury gold stock, $155 million special drawing rights and $$ 33$ million reserve position in the International Monetary Fund.

Note: Table is based on Ireasury Department data and on data reported to the Treasury Department by banks and brokers in the United States. Data correspond to statistics following in this section and in the "Capital Movements" section, except for minor rounding differences. Table excludes International Monetary.Fund "holdings of dollars," and boldings of U.S. Treasury letters of credit and nonnegotiable, non-interest-bearing special U.S. notes held by other international and regional organizations.

1) Represents liability on gold deposited by the International Monetary Fund to mitigate the impact on the U.S. gold stock of foreign purchases for the purpose of making gold subscriptions to the Fund under quota increases.
2) U.S. Goverment obligations at cost value and funds awaiting invest ment obtained from proceeds of sales of gold by the International Monetary Fund to the United States to acquire income-earning assets. Upon termination of investment, the same quantity of gold was reacquired by the International Monetary Fund.
3/ Includes Bank for International Settlements and European Fund.
Derived by applying reported transactions to benchmark data; breakdown of transactions by type of holder estimated 1900-1963. Tncludes securities issued by corporations and other agencies of the United States Goverment, which are guaranteed by the United States. 5/ Frincipally the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the Inter-American Development Bank.
6/ Includes difference between cost value and face value of securities in INF gold investment account. Liabilities data reported to the Treasury include the face value of these securities, but in this table the cost value of the securities is included under "Cold investment." The difference, whicb amounted to $$ 14$ million as of the end of 1971 , is included in this column.
1/ Includes total foreign holdings of U.S. Govermment bonds and notes, for which breakdown by type of holder is not available.
8/ Data on the two lines shown for this date differ because of changes in reporting coverage. Figures on the first line are comparable in coverage to those shown for the preceding date; figures on the second line are comparable to tbose shown for the following date.
2/ Includes $$ 17$ million increase in dollar value of foreign currency liabilities resulting from revaluation of the German mark in October 1969.
10/ Data on the second line differ from those on the first line because certain accounts previously classified as "orficial institutions" are included with "banks" and a number of reporting banks are included in the series for the first time.

Background

Data relating to capital movements between the United States and foreign countries have been collected since 1935 , pursuant to Executive Order 6560 of January 15, 1934, Executive Order 10033 of February 8, 1949, and Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. Statistics on the principal types of data and the principal countries are published monthly in the "Treasury Bulletin." Reports are filed with the Federal Reserve Banks by banks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States. These statistics are then consolidated, and are published by the Treasury as promptly as possible.

The report forms and instructions used in the collection of the statistics have been revised a number of times. The most recent general revision of the report forms became effective with reports as of May 31,1963 . 1/

The present form of the published presentation of the "Capital Movements" statistics was introduced in the May 1969 issue of the "Bulletin." The principal changes were the rearrangement of the tables to bring together in separate sections all the data relevant to the same statistical series; the expansion of the time series on aggregate liabilities and claims reported by banks to show more detailed breakdowns by type of holder and type of liability and claim; and the presentation of statistics not previously published on the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns.

Basic definitions

The term "foreigner" as used in the Treasury reports covers all institutions and individuals domiciled outside the United States, including United States citizens domiciled abroad, and the foreign branches, subsidiaries and offices of United States banks and business concerns; the central governments, central banks and other official institutions of foreign countries, wherever located; and international and regional organizations, wherever located. The term "foreigner" also includes persons in the United States to the extent that they are known by reporting institutions to be acting on behalf of foreigners.

In general, data are reported opposite the foreign country or geographical area in which the foreigner is domiciled, as shown on the records of reporting institutions. For a number of reasons, the geographical breakdown of the reported data may not in all cases reflect the ultimate ownership of the assets. Reporting institutions are not expected to go beyond the addresses shown on their records, and so may not be aware of the country of domicile of the ultimate beneficiary. Furthermore, U.S. liabilities arising from deposits of dollars with foreign banks are reported generally in the Treasury statistics as liabilities to foreign banks, whereas the liability of the foreign bank receiving the deposit may be to foreign official institutions or residents of another country.

Data pertaining to branches or agencies of foreign official institutions are reported opposite the country to which the official institution belongs. Data pertaining to international and regional organizations are reported opposite the appropriate international or regional classificetion except for the Bank for International Settlements and the European Fund, which are included in the classification "Other Western Europe."
"Short-term" refers to obligations payable on demand or having an original maturity of one year or less. "Longterm" refers to obligations having an original maturity of more than one year, and includes securities having no contractual maturity.

Reporting coverage

Reports are required frombanks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States, including the branches, agencies, subsidiaries, and other affiliates in the United States of foreign firms. Institutions which have total reportable liabilities, claims or securities transactions below a specified exemption level, based on the average for the report dates during a six-month period, including the current report date, are exempt from reporting.

Banks file reports monthly covering their short-term and long-term liabilities to and claims on foreigners; an exemption of $$ 500,000$ is applicable to reports in each of these categories. Twice ayear they also report their shorttexm dollar liabilities to foreigners in countries not shown separately on the monthly report of liabilities. Banks, securities brokers and dealers, and in some instances, nonbanking concerns, report monthly their transactions in securities with foreigners; the applicable exemption level is $$ 100,000$.

Quarterly reports are filed by exporters, importers, industrial and comercial concerns, financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking firms if their liabilities or claims are $$ 500,000$ or more. Such firms also report the liquid portion of their claims for each monthend when they have reportable claims of $$ 1$ million or more. The foreign credit and debit balances of securities brokers and dealers are reported quarterly; the exemption level applicable to these reports is $$ 100,000$.

Description of statistics

Data collected on the Treasury Foreign Exchange Forms are published in the "Treasury Bulletin" in six sections. Each section contains all the data relevant to the same statistical series, with tables showing time series by type and country, and the detailed breakdowns of the latest available data.

Section I covers the short-term and long-term liabilities to foreigners reported by banks in the United States. The data exclude the holdings of dollars of the International Monetary Fund derived from payments of the United States subscription and from the exchange transactions and other operations of the Fund. (Liabilities representing the "gold investment" of the Fund, however, are included.) The data also exclude U.S. Treasury letters of credit, and nonnegotiable, noninterest-bearing special notes of the United States held by international and regional organizations.

Section II presents the short-term and long-term claims on foreigners reported by banks in the United States, including claims held for their own account and for the account of their domestic customers. The data exclude convertible foreign currencies held by U.S. monetary authorities.

Sections III and IV show respectively the liabilities to, and claims on, foreigners reported by exporters, importers, industrial and comercial firms, financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking concerns in the United States. The data exclude the intercompany accounts of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies. (Such transactions are reported by business firms to the Department of Commerce on its direct investment forms.) The data also exclude claims held through United States banks. Separate figures are shown in Section IV for the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns in the United States.

Section $V$ contains data on transactions in all types of long-term domestic and foreign securities by foreigners reported by banks and brokers in the United States (except nonmarketable U.S. Treasury notes, foreign series, and nonmarketable U.S. Treasury bonds and notes, foreign currency series, which are shown in "International Financial Statistics" section, Table IFS-4). The data cover new issues of securities, transactions in outstanding issues, and redemptions of securities. They include transactions executed in the United States for the account of forelgners, and transactions executed abroad for the account of reporting institutions and their domestic customers. The data include some transactions which are classified as direct investments in the balance of payments accounts. The data exclude securities issued abroad by foreign subsidiaries of U.S. corporations, some of which are treated in the balance of payments as issues of U.S. corporations.

The geographical breakdown of the data on securities transactions shows the country of domicile of the foreign buyers and sellers of the securities; in the case of outstanding issues, this may differ from the country of the original issuer. The gross figures contain some offsetting transactions between foreigners. The net figures for total transactions represent transactions by foreigners with United States residents; but the net figures for transactions of individual countries and areas may include some transactions between foreigners of different countries. Beginning with data for 1969, transactions between foreigners in new issues not offered for sale to United States residents but managed by underwriters in the United States are excluded from the gross figures.

Section VI comprises two tables on the money credit and debit balances, as appearing on the books of reporting brokers and dealers in the United States, in accounts of foreigners with them, and in their accounts carried by foreigners.

The data published in these sections do not cover all types of reported capital movements between the United States and foreign countries. The principal exclusions are the intercompany capital transactions of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies, and capital transactions of the United States Government. Consolidated data on all types of capital transactions are published by the Department of Commerce in its regular reports on the United States balance of payments.

Government Corporations and Other Business-Type Activities

The financial statements of corporations and other busi-ness-type activities of the United States Government, which have appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" since the August 1956 issue, are compiled from reports submitted to the Treasury under Department Circular No. 966, issued January 30, 1956, and Supplement No. 1, Revised, issued June 16, 1965. These regulations were issued pursuant to the Budget and Accounting Procedures Act of 1950. They superseded Budget-Treasury Regulation No. 3, issued under Executive Order No. 8512 of August 13, 1940, as amended by Executive Order No. 9084 of March 3, 1942, under which financial statements previously published in the Bulletin were submitted.

Department Circular No. 966 requires submission of financial statements by all wholly owned and mixed-ownership Government corporations specifically included in the Government Corporation Control Act, as amended ( 31 U.S.C. 846, 856); and all other activities of the Goverment operating as revolving funds. Other activities and agencies whose operations, services, or functions are largely self-liquidating or primarily of a revenue-producing nature, and activities and agencies whose operations result in the accumulation of substantial inventories, investments, and other recoverable assets, were brought under the regulations as the agency accounting systems were developed to where they were capable of furnishing the required financial reports.

Four kinds of financial statements are called for by Department Circular No. 966. They are statements of financial condition, income and expense, source and application of funds, and certain financial contingencies. The statements of financial condition are published quarterly and appear as Section $I$, Table GA-I-1. The first statements of financial condition published under Circular 966 were as of March 31, 1956, and were presented in the August 1956 Bulletin. Loans shown on the statements of financial condition are classified by type and account in Section III, Table GA-III-2. Statements of income and expense and source and application of funds are published semiannually, for June 30 and December 31 reporting dates, and appear as Section I, Tables GA-I-2 and GA-I-3. The first of these statements under Circular 966 covered the fiscal year 1956, and were published in the January 1957 Bulletin. All funds shown in the statements are noted to indicate whether they are public enterprise revolving funds, intragovernmental revolving funds, trust or trust revolving funds, or general and special funds.

Supplement No. 1, when originally issued in 1956, extended the coverage to include all executive agencies and activities not previously reporting under Circular 966, but required only a statement of financial condition annually as of June 30. These were activities which were not principally of a businesstype nature. Those which had not yet developed formal accounting procedures to provide complete balance-sheet type statements were temporarily authorized to report only assets. Thus, the supplement rounded out provisions for information on properties and other assets, as well as liabilities, of the United States Government all of which is needed by Treasury for the compilation of complete Government-wide financial reports. The first comprehensive reporting under the original Supplement No. 1 was for June 30,1957 , and the data were published in the December 1957 Bulletin as Part B of Table 4 in Section I. Statements submitted under this supplement are now published annually in Section II, Table GA-II-1. The revision to Supplement No. 1 in 1965 made no basic change to the overall purpose of the originally issued supplement; it updated and consolidated 911 amendments to both the regulation and instructions.

Section I - Government Corporations and Other Business-Type Activities
(In thousands of dollars)

(PE) Public enterprise revolving funds
(IR) Intragovernmental revolving funds.
(TR) Trust revolving funds.
(G&) General and special funds (also includes loan accounts of enter prises in liquidation and foreign currency).
1/ Includes $$ 3$ million applicable to the economic opportunity loan fund, executive.
2 These amounts consist mainly of unexpended balances of general, spe cial, and revolving fund accounts against which checks may be drawn to pay proper charges under these funds. The funds are considered as assets of the agencies, but are not assets of the United States Gov ernment since funds must be provided out of cash balances of the Treasurer of the United States and future receipts to take care of checks to be issued against the balances.
3/ Includes foreign currency assets, representing loans and other receivables recoverable in foreign currency as well as balances of for eign currencies in United States depositaries, aggregating $$ 5,755$ mil lion in dollar equivalent. These currencies, acquired without the payment of dollars, were generated under various Government programs principally the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954, as amended, and the Nutual Security Acts, as amended. Dollar equivalents are computed for reporting purposes, to provide a conmon denominator for the currencies of the many countries involved. Foreign currencies on hand and on deposit and loans under section 104 (e) of the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954, as amended, are stated at the rates as of March 31, 1972, at which the United States could purchase currencies on the market for regular operating purposes. Other loans are stated at rates at which they are to be repaid or at rates in effect when the loans are extended. Currencies that are dollar denominated or guaranteed as to rates of exchange are stated at rates specified in the agreements.
4) Excludes personal property which had an original acquisition cost value of $$ 11$ million accounted for by this fund.
