"Obligations" are the basis on which the use of funds is controlled in the Federal Government. They are recorded at the point at which the Government makes a firm commitment to acquire goods or services and are the first of the four key events--order, delivery, payment, consumption--which characterize the acquisition and use of resources. In general, they consist of orders placed, contracts awarded, services received, and similar transactions requiring the disbursement of money.

The obligational stage of Government transactions is a strategic point in gauging the impact of the Government's operations on the national economy, since it frequently represents for business firms the Government commitment which stimulates business investment, including inventory purchases and employment of labor. Disbursements may not occur for months after the Government places its order but the order Itself usually causes immediate pressure on the private econoryy.

Oligations are classified according to a uniform set of categories which are based upon the nature of the transaction without regard to its ultimate purpose. All payments for salaries and wages, for example, are reported as personnel compensation, whether the personal services are used in current operations or in the construction of capital items.

Federal agencies and firms often do business with one another; in doing so, the "buying" agency records obligations, and the "performing" agency records reimbursements. In Table FO-1, obligations that are incurred within the Government are distinguished from those incurred outside the Government. Tables $\mathrm{FO}-2,3$, and 4 show only those incurred outside.

Obligation data for the administrative budget fund accounts were first published in the September 1967 Treasury Bulletin and the trust fund accounts were first published in the October 1967 Bulletin. Beginning with the April 1968 Bulletin, the data are on the basis of the budget concepts adopted pursuant to the recommendations of the President's Commission on Budget Concepts.

Source and Availability of the Balance in the Account of the U.S. Treasury

The working cash of the Treasury is held mainly in 'Treasury's accounts with Federal Reserve banks and branches. As the balances in these accounts become depleted, they are restored by calling in (transferring) funds from the tax and loan accounts with thousands of commercial banks throughout the country.

Deposits to tax and loan accounts occur in the normal course of business under a uniform procedure applicable to all banks whereby customers of banks deposit with them tax payments and funds for the purchase of Government securities. In most cases the transaction involves merely the transfer of money from a customer's account to the tax and loan account in the same bank. On occasions, to the extent authorized by the Treasury, banks are permitted to deposit in these accounts proceeds from subscriptions to public debt securities entered for their own account as well as for the account of their customers.

The tax and loan account system permits the Treasury to leave funds in banks and in the communities in which they arise until such time as the Treasury needs the funds for its operations. In this way the Treasury is able to neutralize the effect of its fluctuating operations on bank reserves and the economy.

A detailed description of the Treasury's depositary system may be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1973, pages 282-285.

Note: The computed annual interest charge represents the amount of intereat that would be paid if each interest-bearing issue outstanding at the end of each month or year should remain outstanding for a year at the applicable annusl rate of interest. The charge is computed for each issue by applying the appropriate annual interest rate to the amount outstanding on that date (the amount actually borrowed in the case of aecurities sold at a premium or discount, beginning with May 1960). The aggregate charge for all interest-bearing iasues constitutes the total computed annual interest charge. The average annual rate ia computed by dividing the computed annual interest charge for the towal, or zor any group of issues, by the corresponding principal amount. Beginning with data for December 31, 1958, the computation is based on the rate of effective yield for issues sold at premium or discount. Prior to that date it was based on the coupon rate for all issues. 1/ As of July 1974, includes Federal Financ injBank.
2) Excludes Federai Financing Bank.

3 Included in debt outstanding at face amount, but discount value ia used in computing annual interest charge and annual interest rate. / On United States savings bonds the rate to maturity is applied agalinst the amount outstanding.
2/ As of July 31, 1974, Monthly Statement of the Public Debt of the U.S. the colurn heading was changed to "Covernment account series" which includes Treasury deposit funds in addition to those sccounts previoualy shown as special issues.

Source: Monthly Statement of the Public Debt of the U.S.; Office of Market Analysis, United States Savings Bonds Division
Note: In these tables sales of Seriea A-F and J bonda are included at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption value. Series $G, H$, and $K$ are included at face value throughout. Matured bonds which have been redeemed are included in redemptions. Matured $J$ and $K$ bonds outstanding are included in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the annual series have matured, and are then tranaferred to matured debt on which interest has ceased.

1) Sales and redemption figures include exchanges of minor amounta of (1) matured Series E bonds for Series $G$ and $K$ bonds from May 1951 through April 1957; (2) Series $F$ and $J$ bonds for Seriea $H$ bonds beginning January 1960; and (3) U.S. savings notes for Series H bonds beginning January 1972; however, they exclude exchanges of Series $E$ bonds for Series H bonds, which are reported in Table SB-3.
2) Details by series on a cumulative basis and by periods of Series A-D combined will be found in the February 1952 and previous issues of the Treasury Bulletin.
3) Because there is a normal lag in classifying redemptions, the distribution of redemption between sales price and accrued diacount has been estimated. Beginning with the Treasury Bulletin of March 1961 the method of distributing redemptions between asles price and accrued discount has been changed to reflect the distribution shown in final reports of classified redemption. All periods shown have been revised on this basis.
4/ Series F and G sales were diacontinued April 30, 1952, and Series J and K sales were discontinued April 30, 1957. Sales rigures after April 30, 1957, represent adjustments.
5/ Includes exchanges of Series 1941 F and G ssvings bonds for 3-1/4\% marketable bonds of 1978-83.
4) Includes exchangea of Series 1948 F and $G$ bonds for $4-3 / 4 \%$ marketable notes of 1964.
7/ Includes exchanges of Seriea 1949 F and G bonds for $4 \%$ marketable bonda of 1969.
8/ Includes exchanges of Seriea 1960 F and G bonds for 3-7/8\% marketable bonds for 1968.
5) Includes exchanges of Series 1951 and 1952 F and G bonds for 3-7/8\% marketable bonds of 1971 and $4 \%$ marketsble bonds of 1980.
10/ Represents changes in the amounts of redemptions not yet classified between matured and unmatured issues.

[^24]The tables in this section are designed to provide data on United States reserve assets and liabilities and other statistics related to the United States balance of payments and international financial position. A number of changes were introduced in the May 1967 and July 1972 issues of the Bulletin to increase the usefulness of this section.

Table IFS-1 shows the reserve assets of the United States, including its gold stock, special drawing rights held in the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary Fund, holdings of convertible foreign currencies, and reserve position in the International Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-2 brings together statistics on liabilities to foreign official institutions, and liquid liabilities to all other forelgners, which are used in the United States balance-of-payments statistics.

Table-IFS-3 presents an area breakdown of United Statea liabilities to official inatitutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS-4 shows United States Treasury nonmarketable bonds and notes issued to official institutions of foreign countries.

Table IFS -5 sets forth the factors which affect the United States poaition in the International Monetary Fund.

Table IFS-6 presents a measure of weighted-average changes in exchange rates between the United Statea dollar and the currencies of certain other countries.

Table IFS-1. - U.S. Reserve Assets
(In millions of dollars)

1) Includes gold aold to the United Statea by the Interrationsl Monetary Fund with the right of repurchase, and gold deposited by the International Monetary Fund to mitigate the impact on the U.S. gold stock of foreign purchases for the purpose of making gold subacriptions to the Fund under quota increases. For corresponding liabilities see Table IFS-2.
2) Prior to December 1974 , excludea gold held by the Exchenge Stabilization Fund. On December 9, 1974, the Treasury acquired all gold held by the Exchange Stabilization Fund. See" Account of the U.S. Treagury, "Table UST-3.
3 Includes initial allocation on January 1, 1970 of $$ 867$ million, second allocation on January 1, 1971 of $$ 777$ million and third allocation on January 1, 1972 of $$ 710$ million of special drawing rights (SDR) in the Special Drawing Account in the International Monetary Fund, plua or minus transactions in SDR.
3) Includes holdings of Treasury and Federal Reaerve Syatem

5 The United States has the right to purchase foreign currencies equivalent to ita reserve position in the Fund automatically if needed. Under appropriate conditions the United Statea could purchase additional amounts equal to the United Statea quota. See Table IFS 5.
6 Reserve position includes, and gold stock excludea, $$ 259$ million gold subscription to the Fund in June 1965 for a U.S. quota increase which became effective on February 23, 1966. In figurea published by the Fund from June 1965 through January 1966 , thia gold subscription was included in the U.S. gold stock and excluded from the reserve poaition.
I) Includea gain of $$ 67$ million resulting from revaluation of the German mark in October 1969 , of which $$ 13$ million repreaents gain on German mark holdings at the time of revaluation. See albo footnotes 3 and 4, Table IFS-4.
8 Includea $$ 28 \mathrm{million}$ increase in dollar value of foreign currencies revalued to reflect market exchange rates as of December $31,1971$. See also footnotes 3 and 5, Table IFS-4.

2/ Total reserve assets include increase of $$ 1,016$ million resulting from change in par value of the U.S. dollar in May 1972, conaisting of $$ 828$ million total gold stock, $$ 822$ million Treesury gold stock, $$ 155$ million special drawing rights and $$ 33$ million reserve position in the International Monetary Fund
10/ Totsl reserve assets include increase of $$ 1,436$ million resulting from change in par value of the dollar on October 18, 1973, consisting of $$ 1,165$ million total gold stock, $$ 1,757$ million Treasury gold atock, $$ 217$ million special drawing rights, and $$ 54$ million reserve position in the International Monetary Fund.
11) Beginning JU2y 1974, the DMF adopted a technique for valuing the SDR based on a weighted-average of exchange rates for the currencles of 16 member countries. The United States SDR holdings and reserve position in the IMF are also valued on this basis beginning July 1974. At valuation used prior to July 1974 (SDR $1=$ 1.20635$ ), the following end-of-month valuea amounted to (in millions of dollara):

Table IFS-5. - U.S. Position in the International Monetary Fund

Note: The initial U.S. quota in the International Monetary Fund was $$ 2,750$ million. The U.S. quota was increased to $$ 4,125$ million in $1959, $ 5,160$ million in February 1966 , and $$ 6,700 \mathrm{million}$ in December 1970, and revalued to $$ 7,274$ million in May 1972 and $$ 8,083$ million in October 1973 as & result of changes in the par value of the dollar. Under the Articles of Agreement, subscription payments equal to the quota have been made 25 percent in gold and 75 percent in dollars.

1) Represents net Fund sales of gold to acquire U.S. dollars for use in Fund operations. Does not include transactions in gold relsting to gold deposits or gold investment (see Tsble IFS-2).
2 Positive figures represent purchases from the Fund of currencies of other members for equivalent amounts of dollars; negative figures represent repurchases of dollars, including dollars derived from charges on purchases and from other net dollar income of the Fund. The United States has a commitment to repurchase within 3-5 years, but only to the extent that the Fund's holdings of dollars exceed 75 percent of the U.S. quota. Purcheses of dollars by other countries reduce the U.S. commitment to repurchase by an equivalent amount.
2) Beginning January 1970, includes dollars obtained by countries other than the United States from sales of gold to the Fund.
3) Represents the United States gold tranche position in the Fund (the United States quota minus Fund'a holdings of dollars), which $1 s$ the amount that the United Ststes could purchase in foreign currencies automatically if needed. Under appropriate conditions, the United States could purchase additional amounts equal to the United States quots.
4) Includes $$ 259$ million gold subscription to the Fund in June 1505 for & U.S. quote increase which became effective on February 23, 1766. In figures published by the Fund from June 1965 through January 1966 , this gold subscription wes included in the U.S. gold stock and excluded from the reserve position.
6/ Includes $$ 30$ million of special drawing rights.

Table IFS-6. - Weighted-Average of Exchange Rate Changes for the Dollar transections.
Exchange rate data used in constructing the indices reported here differ somewhat from those used in earlier calculations to more accurately reflect end-of-period currency values.
The equations used are as follows:
Equation one is uaed to calculate a trade-weighted average of changes in the dollar cost of foreign currencies:
(EQ1) $\quad E_{m}=\Sigma\left(\triangle S / \mathrm{fc}_{j} * M_{i} / \Sigma M\right)$
Where: $E_{m}$ is the weighted average of percentage changes in the dollar cost of individual foreign currencies:
$\Delta $ / \mathrm{fc}_{\mathrm{i}}$ is the percent change in the dollar cost of foreign currency $i$; and
$M_{i} / \Sigma M$ is U.S. imparts from country $i$, as a proportion of total U.S. imports from all countries in the set.
Equation two is used to calculate a trade-weighted average of changes in the foreign exchange cost of dollars:
averages to provide an overall measure of exchange rate change:

Where: $m / m+x$ is U.S. imports as a proportion of its total trade with all. countries in the set; and $x / m+x$ is U.S. exports as a proportion of its total trade with all countries in the set.

Background

Data relating to capital movements between the United States and foreign countries have been collected since 1935, pursuant to Executive Order 6560 of January 15, 1934, Executive Order 10033 of February 8, 1949, and Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. Statistics on the principal types of data and the principal countries are published monthly in the "Treasury Bulletin." Reports are filed with the Federal Reserve Banks by banks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States. These statistics are then consolidated, and are published by the Treasury as promptly as possible.

The report forms and instructions used in the collection of the statistics have been revised a number of times. The most recent general revision of the report forms became effective with reports as of May $31,1963.1 /$

The present form of the published presentation of the "Capital Movements" statistics was introduced in the May 1969 issue of the "Bulletin." The principal changes were the rearrangement of the tables to bring together in separate sections all the data relevant to the same statistical series; the expansion of the time series on aggregate liabilities and claims reported by banks to show more detailed breakdowns by type of holder and type of liability" and claim; and the presentation of statistics not previously published on the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns.

Basic definitions

The term "foreigner" as used in the Treasury reports covers all institutions and individuals domiciled outside the United States, including United States citizens domiciled abroad, and the foreign branches, subsidiaries and offices of United States banks and business concerns; the central governments, central banks and other official institutions of foreign countries, wherever located; and international and regional organizations, wherever located. The term "foreigner" also includes persons in the United States to the extent that they are known by reporting institutions to be acting on behalf of foreigners.

In general, data are reported opposite the foreign country or geographical area in which the foreigner is domiciled, as shown on the records of reporting institutions. For a number of reasons, the geographical breakdown of the reported data may not in all cases reflect the ultimate ownership of the assets. Reporting institutions are not expected to go beyond the addresses shown on their records, and so may not be aware of the country of domicile of the ultimate beneficiary. Furthermore, U.S. liabilities arising from deposits of dollars with foreign banks are reported generally in the Treasury statistics as liabilities to foreign banks, whereas the liability of the foreign bank receiving the deposit may be to foreign official institutions or residents of another country.

Data pertaining to branches or agencies of foreign offisial institutions are reported opposite the country to which the official institution belongs. Data pertaining to international and regional organizations are reported opposite the appropriate international or regional classification except for the Bank for International Settlements and the European Fund, which are included in the classification "Other Western Europe."
"Short-term" refers to obligations payable on demand or having an original maturity of one year or less. "Longterm" refers to obligations having an original maturity of more than one year, and includes securities having no contractual maturity.

Reporting coverage

Reports are required from banks, securities brokers and dealers, and nonbanking concerns in the United States, including the branches, agencies, subsidiaries, and other affiliates in the United States of foreign firms. Institutions which have total reportable liabilities, claims or securities transactions below a specified exemption level, based on the average for the report dates during a six-month period, including the current report date, are exempt fram reporting.

Banks file reports monthly covering their short-term and long-term liabilities to and claims on foreigners; an exemption of $$ 500,000$ is applicable to reports in each of these categories. Twice a year they also report their shortterm dollar liabilities to foreigners in countries not shown separately on the monthly report of liabilities. Banks, securities brokers and dealers, and in some instances, nonbanking concerns, report monthly their transactions in securities with foreigners; the applicable exemption level is $$ 100,000$.

Quarterly reports are filed by exporters, importers, industrial and comercial concerns, financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking firms if their liabilities or claims are $$ 500,000$ or more. Such firms also report the liquid portion of their claims for each monthend when they have reportable claims of $$ 1$ million or more. The foreign credit and debit balances of securities brokers and dealers are reported quarterly; the exemption level applicable to these reports is $$ 100,000$.

Description of statistics

Data collected on the Treasury Foreign Exchange Forms are published in the "Treasury Bulletin" in six sections. Each section contains all the data relevant to the same statistical series, with tables showing time series by type and country, and the detailed breakdowns of the latest available data.

Section I covers the short-term and long-term liabilities to foreigners reported by banks in the United States. The data exclude the holdings of dollars of the International Monetary Fund derived from payments of the United States subscription and from the exchange transactions and other operations of the Fund. (Liabilities representing the "gold investment" of the Fund, however, are included.) The data also exclude U.S. Treasury letters of credit, and nonnegotiable, noninterest-bearing special notes of the United States held by international and regional organizations.

Section II presents the short-term and long-term claims on foreigners reported by banks in the United States, including claims held for their own account and for the account of their domestic customers. The data exclude convertible foreign currencies held by U.S. monetary authorities.

Sections III and IV show respectively the liabilities to, and claims on, foreigners reported by exporters, importers, industrial and commercial firms,financial institutions other than banks and brokers, and other nonbanking concerms in the United States. The data exclude the intercompany accounts of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies. (Such transactions are reported by business firms to the Department of Commerce on its direct investment forms.) The data also exclude claims held through United States banks. Separate figures are shown in Section IV for the short-term liquid claims of large nonbanking concerns in the United States.

Section V contains data on transactions in all types of long-term domestic and foreign securities by foreigners reported by banks and brokers in the United States (except nonmarketable U.S. Treasury notes, foreign series, and nonmarketable U.S. Treasury bonds and notes, foreign currency series, which are shown in "International Financial Statistics" section, Table IFS-4). The data cover new issues of securities, transections in outstanding issues, and redemptions of securities. They include transactions executed in the United States for the account of foreigners, and transactions executed abroad for the account of reporting institutions and their domestic customers. The data include some transactions which are classified as direct investments in the balance of payments accounts. The data exclude securities issued abroad by foreign subsidiaries of U.S. corporations, some of which are treated in the balance of payments as issues of U.S. corporations.

The geograpincal breakdown of the data on securities transactions shows the country of domicile of the foreign buyers and-sellers of the "securities; in the case of outstanding issues, this may differ from the country of the original issuer. The gross figures contain some offsetting transactions between foreigners. The net figures for total transactions represent transactions by foreigners with United States residents; but the net figures for transactions of individual countries and areas may include some transactions between foreigners of different countries. Beginning with data for 1969, tyansactions between foreigners in new issues not offered for sale to United States residents but managed by underwriters in the United States are excluded from the gross figures.

Section VI comprises two tables on the money credit and debit balances, as appearing on the books of reporting brokers and dealers in the United States, in accounts of foreigners with them, and in their accounts carried by foreigners.

The data published in these sections do not cover all types of reported capital movements between the United States and foreign countries. The principal exclusions are the intercompany capital transactions of business enterprises in the United States with their own branches and subsidiaries abroad or with their foreign parent companies, and capital transactions of the United States Government. Consolidated data on all types of capital transactions are published by the Department of Comerce in its regular reports on the United States balance of payments.

Table CM-VI-2. - Foreign Debit Balances (Due from Foreigners) by Country

Note: The reporting form covering this data series was discontinued with

1) Through December 31, 1972, Bermuda included with Bahamas the March 1976 report. Data represent the money debit balances (due
2) Through December 31, 1975, Surinam included with Netherlands Antillea. from foreigners), that appeared on the books of reporting brokers and dealers in the United Ststes, in accounta of foreigners with them, and in their accounts carried by foreigners.

Foreign currenci es reported herein inti.s. dollar equivalents were acquired without direct payment of dollars, for the most, part in connection with foreign assistance and agricultural trade development programs authorized by various provisions of law. These currencies are generally referred to as "nonpurchased" foreign currencies to distinguish them from currencies purchased with dollars from banks or other commercial sources. The currencies are held in the custody of The Department of the Treasury until such time as they are either sold for dollars to Government agencies or trans~ ferred to Government agencies for expenditure without charge to appropriations, as specifically authorized by law.

Prior to July 1, 1953, foreign currencies acquired by Government agencies wi thout direct payment of dollars generally were available to the collecting agencies to defray operating expenses and were not subject to the regular appropriation processes.

The act of July 15, 1952, Sec. 1415 ( 66 Stat. 662), provided that after June 30, 1953, i1.s. arencies could no longer expend foreign currencies belonging to the U.S. Government except as provided annually in appropriation acts. Subsequent legislation required executive departments and agencies, wi th certain exceptions, to reimburse the Treasury in dollars for the foreign currencies used. Executive Orders No. 10488 dated September 23, 1953, and No. 10900 dated January 5, 1961, as amended, provided for the issuance of regulations by the Secretary of the Treasury governing the purchase, custody, deposit, transfer, and sale of foreign exchange by all Executive Departments and agencies of the U.S. Government.

Accordingly, Treasury Circular No. 930 was issued on October 19, 1953, effective December 1, 1953. These regulations provided for the transfer of department and agency foreign currency balances as of November 30, 1953, into Treasury custody, and the flow of future collections through.Treasury accounts; and established requirements with respect to withdrawals from Treasury accounts; limitations on purchases and amounts of holdings; the use of foreign depositaries; and accounting for the currencies. Treasury Circular No. 930 as revised October 20, 1961, added certain requirements governing foreign currency reporting and accounting.

Figures are stated in dollar equivalents, computed for reporting purposes, to provide a common denominator for the currencies of the many foreign countries involved. It should not be assumed that dollars, in amounts equal to the balances, are actually available for the general use of the U.. . Government, since most of the currencies are inconvertible and restricted as to uses by the terms of agreements between the United States and the foreign governments.

The tables exclude the counterpart funds owned by and held in accounts of the foreign governments. The use of such funds is subject to approval of the United States, and transactions therein are included in reports of the Agency for International Development. The tables also exclude the i'.j. purchases of foreign currencies which are under dollar accountability and reported as dollar transactions.

Detailed data, by account, agency, program, foreign country, units of currency, and related dollar equivalents, were published annually in the Combined Statement of Receipts, Expenditures and Balances, from fiscal 1958 through 1969. Beginning with fiscal 1970, only summary data by country and account are shown in the Combined Statement; however, detailed data is published semiannually in the report, Foreign Currencies Held by the U.S. Government.
