

Statement from Secretary Mnuchin on President Trump's Budget Proposal

March 16, 2017

Washington— Secretary of the Treasury Steven T. Mnuchin issued the following statement today in response to President Donald J. Trump's budget proposal:

“President Trump's discretionary budget plan released today focuses Treasury on our core missions of collecting revenue, managing the nation's debt, protecting the financial system from threats, and combating financial crime and terrorism financing. It will ensure that we have the resources we need to enforce the nation's tax laws, while investing in cybersecurity and prioritizing resources on initiatives that promote technology, efficiency and modernization across the agency.”

####