

Schedule for Secretary of the Treasury Janet L. Yellen and Deputy Secretary of the Treasury Wally Adeyemo at the 2022 Annual Meetings of the IMF and World Bank

October 11, 2022

WASHINGTON —Secretary of the Treasury Janet L. Yellen and Deputy Secretary of the Treasury Wally Adeyemo will represent the United States in the 2022 Annual Meetings of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank Group (WBG) and participate in official events on the margins of the Annual Meetings from Tuesday, October 11, through Friday, October 14 in Washington, DC. Secretary Yellen will represent the United States at the G7 and G20 Finance Ministers and Central Bank Governors meetings.

Throughout the week, Secretary Yellen will continue to rally the global coalition of allies and partners holding Russia accountable for its illegal war against Ukraine and supporting the Ukrainian people and government. The Secretary will redouble efforts to advance a price cap on Russian oil, continue to lead the broad alliance leveling sanctions on Russia, and encourage our partners to accelerate and increase the scale of economic assistance to Ukraine. Secretary Yellen will also help lead the global response to the macroeconomic impacts of global shocks—including COVID-19 and Russia’s war of aggression—which have been particularly disruptive for emerging market and low-income countries.

Secretary Yellen will discuss the resilience of the American economy in the face of these headwinds, as well as actions the United States and our partners have taken to mitigate these challenges, including through advancing food security, addressing debt sustainability issues in emerging markets, and evolving the multilateral development banks (MDBs) to be better equipped to respond to the increasing frequency, scope, and complexity of global challenges. Additionally, the Secretary will underscore the importance of building on America’s largest-ever investment in fighting climate change—thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act and Bipartisan Infrastructure Law—to spur global action. Secretary Yellen will discuss how to build on this progress to meet global emissions goals including through more robust individual country actions, Just Energy Transition Partnerships (JETPs), and urging the MDBs to strengthen their climate ambition.

On Tuesday, October 11, Secretary Yellen will attend the G20 Joint Finance-Agriculture Ministerial Meeting on Food Insecurity. Later in the day, the Secretary will host bilateral meetings with Finance Minister of Indonesia Sri Mulyani Indrawati, Finance Minister of Ukraine Sergii Marchenko, and Finance Minister of India Nirmala Sitharaman.
