BUDGET MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Congress of the United States:

The Budget of the United States Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, which I transmit herewith, is a reflection of a world at war. Carrying out the mandate of the people, the Government has embarked on a program for the total defense of our democracy. This means warships, freighters, tanks, planes, and guns to protect us against aggression; and jobs, health, and security to strengthen the bulwarks of democracy. Our problem in the coming year is to combine these two objectives so as to protect our democracy against external pressure and internal slackness.

The threatening world situation forces us to build up land, sea, and air forces able to meet and master any contingency. It is dangerous to prepare for a little defense. It is safe only to prepare for total defense.

Total defense means more than weapons. It means an industrial capacity stepped up to produce all the matériel for defense with the greatest possible speed. It means people of health and stamina, conscious of their democratic rights and responsibilities. It means an economic and social system functioning smoothly and geared to high-speed performance. The defense budget, therefore, must go beyond the needs of the Army and Navy.

It is not enough to defend our national existence. Democracy as a way of life is equally at stake. The ability of the democracies to employ their full resources of manpower and skill and plant has been challenged. We meet this challenge by maximum utilization of plant and manpower and by maintaining governmental services, social security, and aid to those suffering through no fault of their own. Only by maintaining all of these activities can we claim the effective use of resources which our democratic system is expected to yield, and thus justify the expenditures required for its defense.

The National Program

In this Budget I am presenting a program for 1942, carefully worked out to combine these objectives. This program, including defense and nondefense activities, will cost about 17.5 billions of dollars. For the same period, we expect the largest national income for the Nation as a whole and also the largest tax receipts.

In addition to, but essentially and rightly as a complement to this program, the time has come for immediate consideration of assuring the continuation of the flow of vitally necessary munitions to those nations which are defending themselves against attack and against the imposition of new forms of government upon them.

Such a complementary program would call for appropriations and contract authorizations over and above this Budget. The sum of all these defense efforts should be geared to the productive capacity of this Nation expanded to literally its utmost efforts.

THE DEFENSE PROGRAM AND DEFENSE EXPENDITURES

Sixty-two percent of the expenditures proposed in this Budget are for national defense. No one can predict the ultimate cost of a program that is still in development, for no one can define the future. When we recall the staggering changes in the world situation in the last six months, we realize how tentative all present estimates must be.

These expenditures must be seen as a part of a defense program stretching over several years. On the basis of the appropriations and authorizations enacted for national defense from June 1940 up to the present time, plus the recommendations for supplementary appropriations and authorizations for 1941 and the recommendations contained in this Budget for 1942, we have a program of 28 billion dollars.

This is a vast sum, difficult to visualize in terms of work actually to be done. If we can prove that we are able to organize and execute such a gigantic program in a democratic way, we shall have made a positive contribution in a world in which the workability of democracy is challenged.

This defense program is summarized below:

	Appropriations, authorizations, and recommendations (June 1940, 1941, 1942) [In millions of dollars]
Army	$13,704
Navy	11,587
Expansion of industrial plant	1,902
Other defense activities	1,287
Total	28,480

The Army funds provide for the training and maintenance of a force of men increasing from 250,000 in June 1940 to 1,400,000 in 1942, equipped with the most modern devices of motorized and mechanical warfare. The Navy estimates continue the construction of our over-all Navy and contemplate the doubling of naval personnel. There is provision for a great increase in the number of Army and Navy planes and for training pilots, technicians, and ground crews.

Behind the lines a whole new defense industry is being built with the financial support of the Federal Government. One hundred and twenty-five new plants are under contract; more are planned.

In submitting these recommendations, I have not covered the full requirements of the civilian training program. At present, surveys are under way which will provide a basis for transmitting an estimate of funds needed for the extension of this essential defense activity. In the current fiscal year, over a million men and women are included in the various programs of apprentice training, vocational training in trade schools and engineering colleges, work-experience shops, and pilot training.

Expenditures under the defense program during the last six months amount to 1,750 million dollars. This is two and one-half times the amount spent for national defense in the same period of the fiscal year 1940. However, these expenditures understate the progress already made. In six months, contracts and orders for 10 billion dollars have been placed. This means that in addition to present defense production, all over the country more factories, large and small, are getting ready rapidly to increase production. Once these preparations have been completed actual deliveries and expenditures will be greatly accelerated.

I expect actual expenditures to be stepped up to four and three-quarter billion dollars in the six months ending June 1941 and to almost 11 billion in the fiscal year 1942. We shall actually expend more than 25 billion dollars for defense within a 3-year period. This can be accomplished, but only if management, labor, and consumers cooperate to the utmost.

NONDEFENSE EXPENDITURES

The increased military expenditures permit a substantial reduction in nondefense expenditures, particularly for those activities which are made less necessary by improved economic conditions. Obligations such as interest, pensions, and insurance benefits are fixed. Almost as fixed are the appropriations for which the Congress has already

Digitized for FRASER
http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

made legislative commitments—security grants to the States, Federal aid for highways, the 30 percent of tariff revenue set aside for reducing agricultural surpluses, and similar items. Together, these fixed items make up nearly half of the nondefense expenditures I am proposing for the fiscal year 1942. For the items subject to administrative rather than legislative action, I have been able to reduce expenditures by 600 million dollars or 15 percent. This reduction and its relation to total expenditures are shown below:

Expenditures	Estimated in millions of dollars		Percent change
	1942	1941
Defense program	$10,811	$6,464	+67
Fixed commitments	3,196	2,984	+7
Other activities	3,478	4,094	−15
Total (excluding returns from Government corporations)	17,485	13,542	+29

Certain reductions are possible in carrying out the established policies relating to public works and relief, but little change can be made in the regular operating costs of government. As I indicated in my Budget Message last year, the operating costs of the regular departments are already down to the bedrock of the activities and functions ordered by the Congress. In spite of the defense pressure on many of these regular programs, expenditures will be kept below the level of the current year.

SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PROGRAMS

It is our policy to retain the ideals and objectives of our social and economic programs in the face of war changes. The costs of those programs affected by economic activity are flexible. Because of the defense effort some of these programs can be carried on at a lower cost. In other cases, no curtailment is possible without sacrificing our objectives.

We should realize, however, that even with a fully functioning defense effort there will remain special areas of need and that social security, agricultural benefits, and work relief contribute to total defense in terms of the health and morale of our people.

Social-security programs.—I recommend the continuance in full measure of the social-security programs. This includes not only the payment of old-age benefits as required by law but also aid to youth and continued payments toward the State aid of old persons not covered by the insurance benefits; aids to children and to the physically handicapped. In total, these services will require approximately the same expenditure as in the current fiscal year, except for some increase in grants to the States as required by law.

Furthermore, I deem it vital that the Congress give consideration to the inclusion in the old-age and survivors insurance system and the unemployment compensation system of workers not now covered.

Agricultural programs.—The increased domestic market for farm products, resulting from defense expenditure, will improve the income position of many farmers. At the same time the curtailment of foreign markets, particularly in cotton, wheat, and tobacco, would leave large numbers of these farmers in a serious plight without the continuance of the farm programs. After weighing both of these factors, I estimate a reduction of 45 million dollars in the agricultural programs. We are definitely maintaining the principles of parity and soil conservation.

Public works.—During this period of national emergency it seems appropriate to defer construction projects that interfere with the defense program by diverting manpower and materials. Further, it is very wise for us to establish a reservoir of post-defense projects to help absorb labor that later will be released by defense industry.

With this in mind, I am recommending reductions for rivers and harbors and flood-control work. Where possible, without placing the projects or the water users thereof in jeopardy, reductions are proposed in the expenditures for reclamation projects. I have requested that further contracts for the construction of public buildings outside the District of Columbia be held in abeyance for the present. On the other hand, I have recommended funds for power and other projects considered essential to national defense.

Projects under construction, or on which bids have been solicited, will go forward to completion. Throughout the Federal service other projects are being deferred until a more appropriate time. However, surveys and the planning of new projects will go forward so that construction can be resumed without delay. This will produce a long list of public work projects, apart from defense construction, arranged according to priorities. Such a list could be submitted to a future Congress for the appropriation of funds to put it into operation.

Work Projects Administration.—The defense program has already resulted in a substantial increase in production, employment, and national income. Although industrial production is now running 20 percent above the average level of 1929, there are still many persons either unemployed, or employed as emergency workers, or incapable of steady employment.

The defense program will lead to further reemployment, and also to a further increase in the labor force and to a shift from part-time to full-time or over-time employment. But even under the full defense program we cannot expect full absorption of the labor force because some people just cannot be fitted into the picture. There will be some localities with a labor shortage at the same time that others have a labor surplus. There will be shortages of particular skills and aptitudes at the same time that others are in surplus.

I recommend an appropriation of 995 million dollars for work relief for the full fiscal year. This is 400 million dollars less than the amount required for the present fiscal year. It will not be necessary to use this full amount if the defense program should result in a more general reemployment than is presently indicated. The expenditure can also be reduced if employers will contribute by hiring unskilled or semi-skilled or older workers for those jobs where special skills are not required.

We must face the fact that even with what we call "full employment" there will remain a large number of persons who cannot be adjusted to our industrial life. For this group, the Government must provide work opportunities.

FINANCING THE NATIONAL PROGRAM

Estimates of expenditures and revenue compared.—The defense program dominates not only the expenditure side of the Budget, but influences also the expected revenue. Economic activities and national income are rising to record heights. From a higher national income a greater revenue will flow, although in the case of most taxes there is, of course, a time lag. The revenue for the fiscal year 1941 will reflect some of the increase in defense activities; the revenue for the fiscal year 1942 will be affected to a larger extent; but the full impact will not be felt before the fiscal year 1943.

The revenue for the fiscal year 1942 is expected to be 9 billion dollars. It will exceed the revenue collected in the fiscal year 1940—the last year before the start of the present defense program—by 3 billion dollars. One-half of this increase will come from the defense taxes already enacted by the Congress, the other half from the increase in national income.

Digitized for FRASER
http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

The revenue expected for 1942 will be 1.6 billions larger than the total of all nondefense expenditures. This 1.6 billions is greater than the annual expenditure on defense before the present program started, but less than will be necessary for maintaining the Army and Navy at the new level.

Estimates of receipts for 1942 and 1941 are set forth below:

Receipts	Estimated in millions of dollars		Percent change
	1942	1941
Progressive taxes on individuals and estates	$1,979	$1,571	+26
Profit and capital taxes on corporations	2,839	1,745	+63
Customs, excise, stamp, and miscellaneous taxes	2,756	2,657	+4
Employment taxes for Federal old-age and survivors insurance	725	668	+9
Other employment taxes	243	230	+6
Miscellaneous receipts (including back income taxes)	429	422	+2
Total receipts (excluding returns from Government corporations)	8,971	7,293	+23
Deduct net appropriation for Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund	696	640	+9
Net receipts (excluding returns from Government corporations)	8,275	6,653	+24

Under present tax laws, deficits of 6.2 billion dollars in 1941 and 9.2 billion dollars in 1942 may be expected. The calculations follow:

Summary	Estimated in millions of dollars
	1942	1941
Expenditures	$17,485	$13,542
Receipts	8,275	6,653
Excess of expenditures over receipts	9,210	6,889
Less return of surplus funds from Government corporations		700
Deficit	9,210	6,189

In presenting the above calculations, I am assuming that the Congress will accept the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury that the earmarking of taxes for retirement of defense obligations be repealed; and the proposal of the Postmaster General that the 3-cent rate on first-class postage be continued.

Tax policy.—There is no agreement on how much of such an extraordinary defense program should be financed on a pay-as-you-go

Digitized for FRASER
http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

basis and how much by borrowing. Only very drastic and restrictive taxation which curtails consumption would finance defense wholly on a pay-as-you-go basis. I fear that such taxation would interfere with the full use of our productive capacities. We have a choice between restrictive tax measures applied to the present national income and a higher tax yield from increased national income under less restrictive tax measures. I suggest, therefore, a financial policy aimed at collecting progressive taxes out of a higher level of national income. I am opposed to a tax policy which restricts general consumption as long as unused capacity is available and as long as idle labor can be employed.

We cannot yet conceive the complete measure of extraordinary taxes which are necessary to pay off the cost of emergency defense and to aid in avoiding inflationary price rises which may occur when full capacity is approached.

However, a start should be made this year to meet a larger percentage of defense payments from current tax receipts. The additional tax measures should be based on the principle of ability to pay. Because it is the fixed policy of the Government that no citizen should make any abnormal net profit out of national defense, I am not satisfied that existing laws are in this respect adequate.

I hope that action toward these ends will be taken at this session of the Congress.

I see many ways in which our tax system can be improved without resort to restrictive tax levies. By adjustments in the existing tax laws the present rates of progressive taxation could be made fully effective, as I believe the Congress intended.

We must face the fact that the continued maintenance of an expanded Army and Navy and the interest on our defense debt will call for large Federal expenditures in the years ahead. Our tax system must be made ready to meet these requirements.

I am as much concerned about our long-run need for an improved tax system as I am about the immediate necessity of financing the defense program.

I have often expressed my belief that no really satisfactory tax reform can be achieved without readjusting the Federal-State-local fiscal relationship. I urge a thorough investigation of the possibilities of a comprehensive tax reform; I propose that meanwhile we make all possible progress in improving the Federal tax system.

Borrowing.—A substantial part of the defense program must, of course, be financed through borrowing. Individual investors will be given increased opportunities to contribute their share toward defense through the purchase of Government securities. Such borrowing is not hazardous as long as it is accompanied by tax measures which assure a sufficient tax yield in the future. This raises the question of the debt limit. The Congress, by making appropriations and levying taxes, in fact, controls the size of the debt regardless of the existence of a statutory debt limit. If the Congress, subsequent to the establishment of a statutory debt limit, makes appropriations and authorizations which require borrowing in excess of that limit, it has, in effect, rendered that prior limit null and void. In the first 130 years of our national life, the Congress controlled the debt successfully without requiring such a limit. In view of these facts, I question the significance of a statutory debt limit, except as it serves as a fiscal monitor.

Digitized for FRASER
http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

The fiscal policy outlined here would be in accord with our objective of financing the defense program in an equitable manner, facilitating full use of our national resources, and avoiding inflationary policies which would aggravate the problems of post-defense adjustment.

The debt problem.—For more than 25 years the world has been in a state of political turmoil and its economies have been out of balance. This world condition is reflected in unbalanced budgets in all countries. Here, the first World War, the war against the depression, the present defense program, all resulted in large additions to the Federal debt.

I understand the concern of those who are disturbed by the growth of the Federal debt. Yet the main fiscal problem is not the rise of the debt, but the rise of debt charges in relation to the development of our resources.

The fight for recovery raised national income by more than 30 billion dollars above the depression depth. In the same period the total annual Federal interest charges increased by 400 million dollars. Even if these interest charges increase, they can scarcely present a serious fiscal problem so long as a high level of national income can be maintained.

Investors are fully aware of this fact. The bonds of the United States Government are the safest securities in the world because they are backed by the best asset in the world—the productive capacity of the American people. Our tax burden is still moderate compared to that of most other countries.

It should be borne in mind that our national debt results from wars and the economic upheavals following war. These conditions are not of our own making. They have been forced upon us. The national debt of almost all nations would be far lower today if competitive armaments had not existed during the past quarter of a century. If this war should be followed, as I hope it will, by peace in a world of good neighbors, then the complete elimination of competitive armaments will become possible. Only in such a world can economic stability be restored.

Digitized for FRASER

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

If a high level of economic activity can be maintained during the defense period and—what will be a more difficult task—maintained in the post-defense period, then the fiscal needs can be readily met.

The Budget of the United States presents our national program. It is a preview of our work plan, a forecast of things to come. It charts the course of the Nation.

The necessity for loading the present Budget with armament expenditures is regretted by every American. A wry turn of fate places this burden of defense on the backs of a peace-loving people.

We can meet the demands of armament because we are a people with the will to defend and the means to defend. The boundaries of our productive capacity have never been set.

The whole program set forth in this Budget has been prepared at a time when no man could see all the signposts ahead. One marker alone stands out all down the road. That marker carries not so much an admonition as a command to defend our democratic way of life.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

ANALYSIS OF REVENUE ESTIMATES

The estimates of the revenues of the Federal Government are prepared in the Treasury Department in December of each year for the current fiscal year and for the fiscal year next ensuing.

Inasmuch as the tax revenue from practically every major source is directly dependent, although in varying degree, upon business conditions during the period in respect of which the taxes are levied, it is necessary to forecast the general business situation for a period ending approximately 18 months later. This forecast is based upon the analysis of a wide variety of financial and other economic data and includes a forecast of the direction and the magnitude of the movements of industrial production, profits, security and commodity prices, employment, pay rolls, and other components of business activity. In view of the well-recognized uncertainty involved in forecasting the various phases of business activity, accentuated again this year by the international situation, such forecasts, and the concomitant estimates of future revenues, may be revised from time to time to take account of changing conditions.

Upon these business forecasts depend the estimates of the aggregate amounts of corporation and individual incomes as well as the distribution of such incomes among various income classes, and the volume of consumption of commodities upon which taxes are levied. Consideration must be given to the fact that changes in the various indicators of business activity are not reflected immediately or in direct proportion in the various sources of revenue. Thus, in periods of rising business activity profits and taxable incomes rise more than proportionately to the increase in the volume of business because of the relative inflexibility of certain costs. In addition, consideration is given to the fact that the increase in the amount of income-tax collections which will result from a given increase in individual incomes is accentuated under a progressive rate schedule because not only is the individual taxpayer's income greater but also the taxpayer pays a larger percentage of the higher income as income tax.

Changes in business conditions, in the amounts of income, and in the volume of consumption and importation of commodities are reflected more immediately in the receipts from some taxes than from others because of the variation in the method of collection of the taxes. For example, many of the miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes are collected each month on the tax liabilities of the previous month. However, collections from taxes such as the estate and gift taxes and the tax under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act, are made upon liabilities of a much earlier period and therefore do not respond as promptly to changes in general business conditions.

The lag between the time income is received by taxpayers and the time of receipt of income taxes based upon such incomes is particularly important in its effect upon total tax receipts in any given year. Thus, in general, the changes in incomes in the calendar year 1940 will not be reflected in income-tax receipts until the income-tax returns are filed on or before March 15, 1941. Because of the privilege of making quarterly installment payments of these tax liabilities the collections will be received throughout the calendar year 1941, thus falling into the receipts of fiscal years 1941 and 1942. Hence the estimated current income-tax receipts, both corporation and individual, for the fiscal year 1941 are made up partly from payments on calendar year 1939 incomes and partly from payments on calendar year 1940 incomes. Similarly, fiscal year 1942 estimates of income-tax receipts include some payments based upon the incomes of each of the calendar years 1940 and 1941.

In presenting the revenue estimates in the foregoing statement an adjustment has been made in the total to reflect the changes brought about by the amendments to the Social Security Act. There has been created on the books of the Treasury the "Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund" to which was transferred on January 1, 1940, the amounts standing to the credit of the Old Age Reserve Account. For the fiscal year 1941 and each subsequent fiscal year there is appropriated to the fund an amount equivalent to 100 percent of the taxes received under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, with the proviso that the estimated administrative expenses of the Treasury and the Social Security Board with respect to the collection of taxes and the payments from the fund shall be repaid to the Treasury. In order to show the amount of revenue applicable to the general expenditures of the Government there has been deducted from the total receipts a sum equivalent to the net appropriation to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund. For comparable purposes there has been deducted from the total receipts in 1940 the amounts transferred to the Old-Age Reserve Account and to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund. The analysis of revenue estimates set forth below is based on the total revenues and receipts and not on the net amount after adjustment.

Total Revenues and Receipts

Total revenues and receipts, general and special accounts, are estimated (on daily Treasury statement basis, unrevised) in the amounts of $7,653 millions for the fiscal year 1941, and $8,972 millions for the fiscal year 1942. The estimated amount of total receipts in the fiscal year 1941 represents an increase of $1,728 millions over total receipts of $5,925 millions in fiscal year 1940, while the estimated amount of total receipts in the fiscal year 1942 represents an increase of $1,319 millions over the estimated total receipts for the fiscal year 1941.

The following table shows the percentage distribution of the classified sources of revenue, of the actual receipts for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940, and of the estimated receipts for the fiscal years 1941 and 1942:

Percentage distribution of total revenues and receipts

General and special accounts	Actual, 1939	Actual, 1940	Estimated, 1941	Estimated, 1942

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	3.3	4.5	6.9	1.9
Total revenues and receipts	100.0	100.0	100.0	100.0

A comparison of the estimates of receipts from each important source of revenue with the actual receipts in fiscal year 1940 is presented below. The detail of estimated receipts in the fiscal years 1941 and 1942 and actual receipts in the fiscal year 1940 is shown in Statement No. 1, page A3.

FISCAL YEAR 1941

Total receipts to general and special accounts in the fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $7,653 millions. This total is $1,728 millions above actual total receipts of $5,925 millions in the fiscal year 1940. Net receipts—total receipts less the net appropriation for the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund—are estimated at $7,013 millions, an increase of $1,626 millions over the comparable figure for the fiscal year 1940.

Each broad class of revenue with the exception of customs contributes to the estimated increase in the fiscal year 1941 over fiscal year 1940. The principal increases come in income taxes and miscellaneous internal revenue. The increases are due both to increasing business activity and new tax legislation. The customs estimate is lower because of the effect of the war on international trade.

The sources of the revenues estimated for fiscal year 1941 as compared with actual receipts for fiscal year 1940 may be broadly summarized as follows:

Total receipts by sources of revenue

[In millions of dollars]

General and special accounts	Actual, 1940	Estimated, 1941
Income taxes	2,125.3	3,055.0
Miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes	2,344.6	2,871.0
Employment taxes	833.2	891.2
Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act	4.9	6.8
Customs	348.6	302.0
Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	268.2	527.2
Total	5,924.8	7,653.2

Income taxes.—Receipts from income taxes are estimated at $3,055 millions, an increase of $930 millions over actual receipts in the fiscal year 1940. Collections of current corporation and current individual income taxes in the fiscal year 1941 are derived from tax liabilities established in calendar years 1939 and 1940, whereas fiscal year 1940 receipts depend upon the income levels of calendar years 1938 and 1939. As the calendar year 1939 is common to both fiscal years, the increase in fiscal year 1941 receipts is attributable to a combination of (1) higher income levels estimated for calendar year 1940 as compared to calendar year 1938, and (2) the increased rates applicable to calendar year 1940 incomes because of changes in the law.

Current corporation income taxes are estimated to be $1,443 millions, an increase of $485 millions, or 51 percent over actual receipts in the fiscal year 1940. The two revenue acts passed in 1940 increased the corporation rate from the prevailing 16½–19 percent rates of the 1938 act to 22.1 percent plus a defense tax of 1.9 percent of net income for corporations with net incomes in excess of $25,000. The graduated rates of small corporations were increased 1 percent plus a defense tax of 10 percent of the basic tax by the Revenue Act of 1940, approved June 25, 1940. The increase due to these tax increases is offset to a minor extent by the allowance of a 2-year loss carryover and the full deduction against ordinary income of long-term capital losses, both provisions being part of the Revenue Act of 1939, but effective for the first time in calendar year 1940.

Current individual income-tax collections are estimated at $1,222 millions, an increase of $330 millions, or 37 percent over the actual collections of the previous fiscal year. The Revenue Act of 1940 decreased personal exemptions by 20 percent, increased surtax rates on incomes from $6,000 to $100,000, and added a defense tax of 10 percent of the basic tax or net income after the basic tax, whichever is less. The Public Salary Tax Act which eliminated exemption of State and local governmental employees' salaries from Federal taxation was effective for years beginning after December 31, 1938. Fiscal year 1941 is the first year in which a full year's collections from this additional tax base will be received.

Back corporation and individual income taxes which reflect collections of delinquent liabilities of past years are estimated at $255 millions, an increase of $2 millions over fiscal year 1940.

Initial collections of the corporation excess-profits tax to be received in fiscal year 1941, representing only partial collections of calendar year 1940 liabilities, are estimated to be $106 millions.

The excess-profits tax, part of the Second Revenue Act of 1940, levies graduated rates from 25 percent on adjusted excess-profits net income of less than $20,000, to 50 percent on adjusted excess-profits net income in excess of $500,000. Adjusted excess-profits net income is the difference between the excess-profits net income of the taxable year and the excess-profits credit plus $5,000. The excess-profits credit may be either (a) 8 percent of invested capital of the taxable year, or (b) 95 percent of the average base period (1936–1939) net income plus 8 percent of net capital additions or minus 6 percent of net capital reductions in the taxable year. In determining the average base period income, one deficit year shall be treated as zero.

Declared value excess-profits tax collections are estimated to amount to $24 millions, an increase of $6 millions over the preceding year. As in the case of the income tax, the increase is due to higher business levels estimated in calendar year 1940 as compared to calendar year 1938. The defense tax of 10 percent of the tax rate formerly in effect also contributes to the increase.

Unjust enrichment taxes, which are currently back taxes principally based on liabilities incurred in calendar year 1936, are estimated to decrease from $9 millions in the fiscal year 1940 to $5 millions, as the outstanding claims for these taxes have been decreased by collections.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Total miscellaneous internal revenue receipts are estimated at $2,871 millions, a total of $526 millions above actual receipts in the fiscal year 1940. Most of the major sources of revenue in this group contribute to the estimated increase.

Capital-stock tax receipts are estimated at $167 millions, an increase of $34 millions over the previous fiscal year. The increase represents a higher declaration of capital-stock value because of increased earnings anticipated by corporations in calendar year 1940 as compared with calendar year 1939 and the defense rate increase of 10 percent.

Estate-tax collections in the fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $317 millions as compared with $331 millions in the fiscal year 1940. The 1940 collections included a large payment from one estate and allowance for the nonrecurrence of this item more than offset the estimated rising value of the property composing the estates on which taxes will be paid in fiscal year 1941. The defense taxes on estates in fiscal year 1941 are small for two reasons: First, because the Revenue Act of 1940 was approved June 25, 1940, just prior to the beginning of the fiscal year 1941, and second, because there is a 15-month interval between the date of death of a decedent and the due date for payment of the tax.

Gift-tax collections are estimated to be $31 millions, an increase of $2 millions over collections of $29 millions in the fiscal year 1940.

Liquor taxes are expected to produce $811 millions or $186 millions above actual receipts in the fiscal year 1940.

Tobacco-tax receipts are estimated at $692 millions, or $84 millions above actual receipts of $608 millions in the fiscal year 1940. The tax on cigarettes, including the floor-stocks tax, estimated to provide $614 millions, will bring most of the total revenues under this group as well as $81 millions of the increase.

Stamp taxes are expected to bring $36 millions, or a decrease of $2 millions from actual receipts in the fiscal year 1940.

Manufacturers' excise-tax collections are estimated at $624 millions. Defense taxes are estimated to bring a large part of the estimated gain of $177 millions over actual collections in the fiscal year 1940. Each tax source within this group is estimated to show a gain over 1940, with gasoline showing the largest part of the rise.

Miscellaneous tax collections are estimated at $193 millions, or $44 millions above fiscal year 1940 collections.

Changes in estimated collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue in the fiscal year 1941 as compared with actual collections in the fiscal year 1940 are summarized in the following table:

Collections of miscellaneous internal revenue by principal sources

[In millions of dollars]

Source	Collection basis
	Actual, 1940	Estimated, 1941	Increase(+) or decrease (−), 1941 over 1940
Capital-stock tax	132.7	166.8	+34.1
Estate tax	330.9	317.3	−13.6
Gift tax	29.2	31.3	+2.1
Liquor taxes	624.1	810.5	+186.4
Tobacco taxes	608.1	691.9	+83.9
Stamp taxes	38.7	36.2	−2.4
Manufacturers' excise taxes	446.7	623.5	+176.8
Miscellaneous taxes	149.3	193.4	+44.1
Total miscellaneous internal revenue	2,359.6	2,871.0	+511.4

Employment taxes.—Total employment taxes for the fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $891 millions, an increase of $58 millions over actual receipts of $833 millions in the fiscal year 1940.

Receipts under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, formerly title VIII of the Social Security Act, are estimated at $668 millions. This is an increase of $63 millions over actual receipts of $605 millions in the fiscal year 1940, which, to date, is the highest fiscal year figure attained since taxes were first received under this act in 1937. Since the rates of tax are the same, the increase is the result of estimated higher levels of business activity plus the inclusion for the first full fiscal year of the net addition to the legal tax base resulting from the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, approved August 10, 1939. The major changes in coverage under this act were the inclusions of service on American vessels, employees of member banks of the Federal Reserve System, individuals aged 65 and over, and the exclusion of certain groups of farm workers. Inasmuch as the inclusion of individuals aged 65 and over was made retroactive to January 1, 1939, taxes for five quarters were collected on this base in the fiscal year 1940. The other major changes in coverage became effective January 1, 1940, so that revenues from such coverage were included in the fiscal year 1940 receipts to the extent of only one quarter's liability. It should be noted that the Social Security Act amendments of 1939 prevented the 50 percent increase in rates on January 1, 1940, which would have applied to wages in calendar years 1940, 1941, and 1942.

Receipts from the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act, are expected to decline to $88 millions from actual receipts of $108 millions in the fiscal year 1940. The drop will be the first since taxes under this act and its predecessor were first received in 1936. The passage of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 is primarily responsible for the decline in revenues because it effected a decrease in coverage of individuals' wages, i. e., wages in excess of $3,000 a year, which more than offset an increase in coverage of employees. Another reason for the decline is the fact that railroad employees were removed from coverage under this act by the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act which became effective July 1, 1939. The decline in the legal tax base is partly offset by an increase in the taxable compensation which has been forecast for the remainder of the base.

Receipts from the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 are estimated at $135 millions. The increase, as compared to fiscal year 1940 receipts of $121 millions, is attributable only in part to the higher level of railroad pay rolls in April 1940–March 1941, the period for which liabilities are paid in the fiscal year 1940, as compared with pay rolls in the corresponding period of the previous year. The larger portion of the increase is due to the rise in the rate of tax from 2¾ percent on both employees and employers to 3 percent on both employees and employers, effective January 1, 1940. Only one quarter's tax liabilities were collected at the 3-percent rate in the fiscal year 1940 as against the four quarters of fiscal year 1941.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.—Receipts under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act are estimated at $7 millions, an increase of $2 millions over receipts in the fiscal year 1940. This act, which became effective July 1, 1939, was in effect throughout the fiscal year 1940, but because of the lag of one quarter in making payments of liabilities, receipts in the fiscal year 1940 included contributions covering only three quarters' liabilities as compared to four quarters' liabilities in fiscal year 1941. The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (approved June 25, 1938) requires carriers to pay contributions under it rather than under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, as was the case prior to July 1, 1939.

Customs.—Customs duties are expected to fall to $302 millions in the fiscal year 1941. This total represents a drop of $47 millions, or 13 percent, from the fiscal year 1940 level, which was unusually high, in the light of the state of foreign affairs, principally because of large imports of sugar, liquors, and wool.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Miscellaneous revenues and receipts in the fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $527 millions, an increase of $259 millions from the fiscal year 1940 total.

FISCAL YEAR 1942

Fiscal year 1942 total receipts are estimated at $8,972 millions, an increase of $3,047 millions over actual receipts in fiscal year 1940 and of $1,319 millions over the estimated receipts in fiscal year 1941. Each of the broad classifications of revenue with the exception of customs and miscellaneous revenues and receipts contributes to the estimated increase in the fiscal year 1942 over the fiscal year 1941. Estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1942 as compared with estimated receipts in fiscal year 1941 are broadly summarized as follows:

Total receipts by sources of revenue

[In millions of dollars]

General and special accounts	Estimated, 1941	Estimated, 1942
Income taxes	3,055.0	4,509.5
Miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes	2,871.0	3,029.3
Employment taxes	891.2	961.3
Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act	6.8	7.2
Customs	302.0	295.0
Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	527.2	169.4
Total	7,653.2	8,971.7

Income taxes.—Total income taxes which reflect for the first time the full effect of the revenue acts passed in 1940, are estimated to amount to $4,510 millions. This total, which exceeds the highest collections previously recorded, $3,945 millions in fiscal year 1920, represents an increase of $1,455 millions or 48 percent over the estimated collections of the previous fiscal year and $2,384 millions or 112 percent over actual receipts of $2,125 millions in fiscal year 1940. The same factors responsible for the increase in receipts in fiscal year 1941 as compared to fiscal year 1940, increases in both business levels and tax rates, are accountable for the continuation of the increase in fiscal year 1942.

Current corporation income taxes are estimated to be $2,092 millions, an increase of 45 percent over fiscal year 1941 estimated receipts, while current individual income tax collections are estimated to increase 31 percent to $1,604 millions. Back income taxes are estimated to be $260 millions.

Fiscal year 1942 receipts representing a full year's collections of the corporation excess-profits tax are estimated at $522 millions, an increase of $416 millions over the estimate of the previous fiscal year.

As a result of the estimated higher incomes, the declared value excess-profits tax collections are estimated at $29 millions, an increase of $5 millions over the preceding year.

Unjust enrichment taxes are estimated to decline to $3 millions as the collections still further reduce the remaining claims for this back tax.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Miscellaneous internal revenue tax receipts are estimated at $3,029 millions, an increase of $158 millions over estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1941. Each major classification of receipts shows an increase over the 1941 estimates.

Estimated fiscal year 1942 receipts from the capital stock tax amounting to $193 millions reflect the effect of higher business levels estimated for calendar year 1941 as compared to calendar year 1940.

Estate tax collections of $342 millions are expected in the fiscal year 1942, an increase of $24 millions over the fiscal year 1941, principally because a larger percentage of the estate taxes paid will have been subject to the defense tax as compared with those of the previous fiscal year.

Collections from the gift tax are expected to be $33 millions as compared to $31 millions in fiscal 1941.

Liquor-tax collections are estimated at $840 millions, an increase of $29 millions over the fiscal year 1941 estimate. The gain takes place in spite of the nonrecurrence of $23 millions in floor-stocks taxes applicable only in the fiscal year 1941.

It is estimated that collections from tobacco taxes will rise to $717 millions or $25 millions above the fiscal year 1941 estimates. With the exception of the floor-stocks taxes on cigarettes, which apply only in the fiscal year 1941, no decrease is expected in any of the other taxable items in this group.

Collections from stamp taxes are estimated at $40 millions, a gain of $4 millions over the estimate for the fiscal year 1941.

Manufacturers' excise taxes are expected to advance to $666 millions. This is a gain of $43 millions over estimated 1941 collections. Each of the taxes in this group shows an increase over the estimates for 1941.

Miscellaneous taxes are estimated at $199 millions, a figure $5 millions over the 1941 estimate. The only significant decrease in this group is in the tax on bituminous coal, which is scheduled to expire April 26, 1941.

Changes in estimated collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue in the fiscal year 1942 as compared with the estimates for the fiscal year 1941 are summarized in the following table:

Collections of miscellaneous internal revenue by principal sources

[In millions of dollars]

Source	Collection basis
	Estimated, 1941	Estimated, 1942	Increase(+) or decrease (−), 1942 over 1941
Capital-stock tax	166.8	193.4	+26.6
Estate tax	317.3	341.7	+24.4
Gift tax	31.3	32.8	+1.5
Liquor taxes	810.5	839.5	+29.0
Tobacco taxes	691.9	716.6	+24.7
Stamp taxes	36.2	40.0	+3.7
Manufacturers' excise taxes	623.5	666.4	+42.9
Miscellaneous taxes	193.4	198.9	+5.5
Total miscellaneous internal revenue	2,871.0	3,029.3	+158.3

Employment taxes.—Employment taxes receipts are estimated at $961 millions, an increase of $70 millions over estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1941.

Receipts under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, formerly title VIII of the Social Security Act, are estimated at $725 millions. The increases of $121 millions over actual receipts of $605 millions in the fiscal year 1940, and of $58 millions over estimated receipts of $668 millions in the fiscal year 1941 are largely the result of substantial increases in the forecast of taxable pay rolls. The increase over the fiscal year 1940 is accounted for by the fact that the latter year included receipts of only one quarter's liabilities from the groups brought under the act by the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939. The fiscal year 1940 did, however, include receipts from five quarters' liabilities from individuals aged 65 and over as compared to four quarters in later years, but the net effect is a large increase in the tax base since fiscal 1940.

Receipts from the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act, are expected to increase slightly from $88 millions in the fiscal year 1941 to $91 millions. Prior to July 1, 1939 when the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act placed employees of railroads under a separate unemployment-compensation system, such tax liabilities of railroads were included under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act. Tax liabilities occurring in the calendar year 1939 were payable in the calendar year 1940, and therefore the receipts in the first 6 months of the fiscal year 1941, July through December 1940, reflect some of the tax liability now transferred entirely to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.

This decrease in the legal tax base in fiscal 1942 as compared to 1941 has been more than compensated by a forecast rise in income taxable under this act.

Receipts under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 are estimated at $145 millions as compared to $135 millions in the fiscal year 1941. The entire increase is attributable to the increased railroad pay rolls which are expected to follow the forecast expansion of industrial activity since there have been no changes in the act.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.—The receipts under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act are expected to increase slightly from $6.8 millions in the fiscal year 1941 to $7.2 millions.

Customs.—Receipts from customs duties are estimated to decrease slightly from the level of 1941, to $295 millions. The decline is small because larger imports from areas not affected by hostilities are expected to somewhat offset further decline in imports from countries whence imports are cut off.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Miscellaneous revenues and receipts are estimated at $169 millions, a decrease of $358 millions from estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1941.

EXPLANATORY INTRODUCTION TO STATEMENT NO. 2

The following statement presents in three parallel columns the appropriation estimates for the fiscal year 1942 and the actual appropriations for 1941 and 1940. Adjacent to these columns are three additional columns showing the estimated expenditures for 1942 and 1941 and the actual expenditures for 1940. To avoid confusion in comparing the figures in these six columns the basis upon which the figures are presented should be explained.

With respect to the first-mentioned three columns of figures, the 1940 and 1941 columns carry the appropriations which have already been made by Congress for the various departments, bureaus, establishments, and agencies of the Government for these fiscal years. The 1942 column presents the amounts for these organization units which the President is recommending to the Congress for appropriation for the fiscal year 1942.

The appropriations, it will be observed, are of two general types—annual and permanent. The annual appropriations, ordinarily found in the departmental supply bills, are voted each year by the Congress. They are usually definite and specific as to amounts. They may be obligated only during the year to which they relate, but remain available for payment of unliquidated obligations for 2 years thereafter before any unused balance is covered into the surplus fund of the Treasury. The permanent appropriations are automatically renewed each year over a period of time by virtue of permanent legislation, without annual action by the Congress. Such appropriations may be either specific or indefinite as to amounts. An example of the latter is the indefinite appropriation to cover the interest on the public debt. This type of appropriation, while sometimes difficult to ascertain as to amount, does not preclude an estimated figure for use in the Budget. The Congress makes some appropriations available until expended, or until the object for which they are made is accomplished. These appropriations are without a definite time limit and may, therefore, be called "no-year" appropriations. They are generally for the construction of public works projects.

Turning to the three columns under the caption "Expenditures," the column for 1940 shows the actual expenditure figures for that fiscal year. These figures, usually on a checks-issued basis, are adjusted at appropriate totals to the cash (checks-paid) basis, as shown on the daily Treasury statement. The totals, therefore, are on an actual cash basis. The columns for 1941 and 1942 show the estimated expenditures for these fiscal years on a cash basis. The figures in these three columns are those carried in totals to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. Hence, the Budget is, in effect, on a cash basis with respect to expenditures, as well as with respect to receipts.

SYNOPSIS OF APPROPRIATION ESTIMATES

Presented herewith are brief explanatory data concerning particularly the increases and decreases in the appropriation estimates included in the Budget for the fiscal year 1942. The synopsis has been prepared for the purpose of setting forth a condensed comparison of the 1942 appropriation estimates with the corresponding appropriations for the fiscal year 1941. More detailed information concerning each estimate will be found in the section of this Budget entitled "Estimates of Appropriations in Detail."

Legislative Establishment

The estimates of appropriations for the legislative establishment for the fiscal year 1942 total $26,755,783, a net increase of $2,830,072 above the appropriations for the fiscal year 1941.

Senate

The estimate of $3,875,374 for the United States Senate shows a net decrease of $22,000. Nonrecurring items totaling $27,000 are partially offset by increases for clerical assistance to Senators and committees.

House of Representatives

The estimate for the House of Representatives is $9,125,918, a net decrease of $23,430 as compared with appropriations for the fiscal year 1941. Nonrecurring items totaling $33,610, including $30,000 for payments to dependents of deceased Congressmen, are partially offset by increases for employees of committees, for additional stenographic assistance, and for the offices of the sergeant at arms and the physician.

Legislative miscellaneous

The miscellaneous legislative group, for which the estimate is $265,940, includes regularly the Capitol Police Force, the Joint Committee on Printing, the Office of Legislative Counsel, and the cost of preparing appropriation statements. For the fiscal year 1941 there is also included in the group the Joint Committee on Inaugural Ceremonies of 1941, for which $35,000 was appropriated. This nonrecurring item, offset by an increase of $2,500 for the Office of Legislative Counsel, constitutes the decrease of $32,500 reflected in the estimate as compared with the total appropriation for the fiscal year 1941.

Architect of the Capitol

The estimate for the Architect of the Capitol, $3,996,354, is $1,966,801 in excess of the appropriation for the fiscal year 1941. This increase consists of repairs, maintenance, and improvements, as follows: Capitol buildings, grounds, and terraces, $777,215; Senate Office Building, $33,529; House Office Buildings, $109,720; Capitol Power Plant, $240,901; Library of Congress, $805,436.

Botanic Garden

The Botanic Garden estimate of $194,787 reflects an increase of $90,000 over 1941 appropriations because of provision being made for the construction of additional greenhouses.

Library of Congress

The estimate of $3,889,499 for the Library of Congress is $329,201 in excess of the appropriations for the fiscal year 1941. Net increases appear as follows: $167,566 for salaries and expenses for the library (exclusive of buildings), $100,000 for books and periodicals, $52,500 for printing and binding, and $9,135 for contingent expenses and miscellaneous items.

Government Printing Office

The estimate of $5,359,430 for the Government Printing Office includes increases totaling $522,000 in excess of appropriations for the fiscal year 1941, of which $472,000 is for public printing and binding and $50,000 for personal services in the Office of the Superintendent of Documents.

Judicial Establishment

The estimates for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of trust accounts, amount to $12,607,782, of which $576,260 pertains to the Supreme Court of the United States and $12,031,522 to the other Federal courts.

For the Supreme Court there is an increase of $13,260 for salaries, miscellaneous expenses, and care of building and grounds.

For the other Federal courts, exclusive of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, there is a net increase of $794,292 for salaries and other expenses, largely due to an increase in the number of Federal judges recently authorized by law.

For the Administrative Office of the United States Courts there is an increase of $35,580 for salaries, and a decrease of $20,000 in contingent expenses, resulting in a net increase of $15,580.

These estimates have been included in the Budget as submitted to the Bureau of the Budget without revision, pursuant to section 201 of the Budget and Accounting Act, and the act to provide for the administration of the United States courts, and for other purposes, approved August 7, 1939.

Executive Establishment

Under Reorganization Plan III, which was submitted in accordance with the Reorganization Act of 1939 and became effective on June 30, 1940, the intradepartmental management of certain agencies was improved through various internal adjustments. There was established in the Treasury Department a Fiscal Service bringing together the Office of the Treasurer of the United States, the Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, and the Public Debt Service.

The semi-independent Federal Alcohol Administration was abolished and its functions placed under the Secretary of the Treasury to be administered through the Bureau of Internal Revenue. In the Department of the Interior the Bureau of Fisheries and the Biological Survey were consolidated into the Fish and Wildlife Service, while the Office of the Recorder of the General Land Office was abolished.

The Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation were consolidated into the Surplus Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture.

In the Department of Labor the offices of commissioner of the several ports and the offices of district commissioner of immigration and naturalization were abolished.

In the Civil Aeronautics Authority the Administrator was made the chief administrative officer with respect to all functions other than those relating to economic regulation and those primarily of a rule-making and adjudicative character.

Reorganization Plan IV, which became effective June 30, 1940, provided for a number of interdepartmental reorganizations. The functions relating to the Dominican Customs Receivership were transferred from the Division of Territories and Island Possessions in the Department of the Interior to the Department of State. The approval of compromises under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act was transferred from the Attorney General to the Secretary of the Treasury. The disbursement functions of United States marshals and of the Post Office Department were permanently transferred to these agencies from the Treasury Department. The functions of regular interbuilding messenger service within the District of Columbia and the transportation of mail between Government agencies and the City Post Office were consolidated in the Post Office Department. Those activities of the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture relating to soil- and moisture-conservation operations conducted on lands under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior were transferred to the latter department.

The functions of the Air Safety Board were consolidated with those of the five-member Civil Aeronautics Authority which was redesignated as the Civil Aeronautics Board and which continues as an independent agency although certain routine office services are performed for it by the Department of Commerce. The Administrator of Civil Aeronautics and the Weather Bureau of the Department of Agriculture were placed under the Secretary of Commerce.

Those functions of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of the Interior relating to the enforcement of minimum-wage provisions on Federal construction contracts were transferred to the Secretary of Labor. The functions of the Secretary of Navy relating to State marine and nautical schools were transferred to the United States Maritime Commission.

The responsibilities of the Department of the Interior relating to St. Elizabeths Hospital, Freedmen's Hospital, Howard University, and Columbia Institution for the Deaf were transferred to the Federal Security Agency, which also received the Food and Drug Administration from Department of Agriculture.

Reorganization Plan V, effective June 14, 1940, transferred the Immigration and Naturalization Service from the Department of Labor to the Department of Justice.

Executive Office of the President

For the White House Office proper, there is an increase in 1942 of $2,060 for personal services, offset by a decrease of $52,080 in nonrecurring items in the appropriation for the Executive Mansion and grounds, a net decrease of $50,020.

For regular activities of the Bureau of the Budget the estimates show an increase of $200,900 above the appropriation for the fiscal year 1941, principally for additional personnel necessary to further the improvement of the Federal financial reporting system, a project in the developmental stage during the current fiscal year. A study of the economic effects of the Federal fiscal programs is to be intensified, and the staff for administrative studies throughout the executive establishment is to be expanded. For national defense the estimate of $200,000 compares with the fiscal year 1941 allocation of $100,000 on practically a 6-month basis from the emergency fund for the President.

For regular activities of the National Resources Planning Board the estimate of $701,390 is $8,610 less than the appropriation for the fiscal year 1941, the decrease representing transfers to other agencies for services permanently transferred to such agencies. For the planning activities of the Board in the interest of national defense the estimates show an increase of $480,000 over the allocations of funds received by the Board from the emergency fund for the President. This will provide personnel and other expenses for continuance of studies begun during the fiscal year 1941, and for preparation of advance plans for defense and post-defense situations, in cooperation with Federal agencies and with State, regional, and local planning boards.

No increase in regular funds is requested for the Office of Government Reports for the fiscal year 1942. The estimate for activities related to the national defense is $520,000 in excess of the current allocation to the office from the emergency fund for the President for part of the fiscal year 1941, and will provide for additional personnel and expenses for these activities in Washington and in the field offices on an expanded basis throughout a full year.

Emergency Funds for the President

The estimates submitted for the fiscal year 1942 provide emergency funds for the President totaling $200,000,000 in cash and $25,000,000 in contract authorizations. Of this amount $66,000,000 and $34,000,000, respectively, are required to liquidate contract authorizations under the emergency funds granted to the President in the War and Navy appropriation acts. The remaining $100,000,000 appropriation, as well as the contract authorizations of $25,000,000, is to provide for a fund to enable the President through appropriate agencies of government to provide for unforeseen emergencies affecting the national security and defense in the fiscal year 1942.

American Battle Monuments Commission

An increase of $19,250 over the $135,000 appropriation for the current fiscal year is estimated for the American Battle Monuments Commission for the fiscal year 1942. Curtailment of certain activities is offset by repair and maintenance operations deemed indispensable during the forthcoming fiscal year. The net increase provided by the estimate will be available to the Commission for contingencies or emergencies at present unforeseen.

American Negro Exposition

The act of May 24, 1940 (54 Stat. 220), authorized an appropriation to assist in defraying the expenses of the American Negro Exposition held in Chicago, Ill., to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the emancipation of the Negro. The full amount of the authorization, $75,000, was appropriated.

Benjamin Harrison Memorial Commission

The act of August 9, 1939 (53 Stat. 1274), established the Benjamin Harrison Memorial Commission to formulate plans for the construction of a memorial to Benjamin Harrison and authorized an appropriation of $2,500. The full amount of the authorization was appropriated.

Board of Tax Appeals

The estimates of $554,000 for the Board of Tax Appeals for the fiscal year 1942 show a decrease of $3,000 as compared with the appropriations for the fiscal year 1941, due to nonrecurring printing and binding requirements.

Canal Zone Biological Area

The act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 724), established the Canal Zone biological area on Barro Colorado Island in Gatun Lake, C. Z., for preservation and equipment of the area for scientific observations and investigations, and authorized an annual appropriation of not to exceed $10,000 as the Federal share in the expenses of the project. The estimate of $10,000 for the fiscal year 1942 is for the purpose of carrying out the intent of the authorization act.

Civil Service Commission

The estimates of $110,498,562 for the Commission are $10,007,562 more than the appropriations and allotments made for the fiscal year 1941. All of this increase is chargeable to the civil service retirement and disability fund, the appropriation for which has been increased by $10,157,562, in accordance with the recommendations contained in the Nineteenth Annual Report of the Board of Actuaries, which report was transmitted to Congress on June 10, 1940. Offsetting this is a decrease of $150,000 in the appropriation to provide for national defense activities compared with the allocations made from the President's emergency fund for the fiscal year 1941.

Council of National Defense

The estimates of $17,850,000 for the fiscal year 1942 for the Council of National Defense represent an increase of $4,682,466 over the $1,000,000 appropriated and the $12,167,534 allocated from the emergency fund for the President for the fiscal year 1941. This increase is necessary in order to permit the council and its subordinate bodies to operate on a full year basis and for necessary expansion of their activities in the ensuing fiscal year in order more effectively to coordinate industry and resources for the national security and welfare.

In addition to the cash appropriation recommended above, an amount of $2,150,000 is provided for contract authorizations for the fiscal year 1942. This amount is for the Office for Coordination of Commercial and Cultural Relations Between the American Republics and represents an increase of $1,100,000 over the amount allocated to that office from the emergency fund for the President for contract authorizations for the fiscal year 1941.

The Alley Dwelling Authority

The Authority contemplates continuing its slum-clearance program under the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, for which purpose the United States Housing Authority has earmarked $15,000,000 for loans to The Alley Dwelling Authority and has already approved loan contracts totaling $13,572,000. It is anticipated that the remainder of the earmarked fund will be obligated by the end of the current fiscal year. These loan contracts cover 9 projects, 7 for Negroes and 2 for white occupancy, and will provide in all more than 2,700 new dwelling units.

The Authority will continue its management of completed projects, receipts from which in 1942 are expected to total some $600,000.

Employees' Compensation Commission

The estimates for the Commission for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of appropriations from special funds and trust accounts, aggregate $5,499,367, an increase of $396,367 over the appropriations for the same purposes for the fiscal year 1941. Provision is also made for the reappropriation of $40,000 of the special fund transferred to the regular appropriation in 1940. Thus the estimate increases the amount available by $436,367, of which $36,367 is for salaries and expenses and $400,000 is for the employees' compensation fund for the payment of medical expenses and compensation benefits.

With respect to the appropriation from special funds, three separate items are involved.

Under the employees' compensation fund, civil works, $175,000 is estimated, or $18,200 less than provided for 1941. This decrease is made possible through the decrease in payments to compensation beneficiaries provided for out of this fund.

The 1942 estimate of $675,000 for the employees' compensation fund, emergency conservation work, is $600 less than provided in 1941.

For the employees' compensation fund, emergency relief, there is made available all of the unexpended balance of the special fund set up on the books of the Treasury pursuant to the provisions of the acts of 1935 to 1939 and 1941, estimated at $5,370,000.

There is a small increase of $500 indicated in the trust account for relief and rehabilitation, Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, corresponding to the expected receipts on this account which will be expended or invested during the fiscal year 1942.

Federal Communications Commission

The estimates of $4,259,729 for the Federal Communications Commission represent an increase of $283,389 over the appropriations and allotments for the fiscal year 1941. The estimate for salaries and expenses, amounting to $2,315,229, represents an increase of $138,889, and will provide for the employment on a full-year basis those employees authorized on a part-time basis in the fiscal year 1941 for the Commission's technical division, telephone regulation, monitoring stations, and for the purchase of scientific equipment. The estimate of $1,920,000 for national defense activities is $320,000 more than the amount allotted for the fiscal year 1941, and will enable the Commission to employ additional field personnel and purchase additional equipment required for this program. These increases are offset by a 1941 nonrecurring item of $175,000 for relocating monitoring stations and a decrease of $500 for printing and binding.

Federal Power Commission

The estimates of $2,754,437 for the Federal Power Commission for 1942 represent a net increase of $94,987 over the amounts appropriated or allotted for the fiscal year 1941. Increases of $95,000 in the salaries and expenses appropriation to enable the Commission to take on additional personnel to keep abreast of its current work, and $3,487 representing mandatory payments to States from the proceeds of special license fees collected in accordance with the Federal Power Act, are offset by a decrease of $3,500 in the appropriation for printing and binding. The appropriation of $150,000 for national defense activities is equivalent to the two national defense allocations from the President's emergency funds made during the current fiscal year.

Federal Trade Commission

The estimates, amounting to $2,360,000 for the Commission for 1942, represent an increase of $60,000 over the appropriations for 1941. This increase has been allowed in the salaries and expenses appropriation in order to permit the Commission to employ additional personnel to keep abreast with its current work.

Foreign Service Pay Adjustment

The estimate for the fiscal year 1942 of $1,000,000 is a decrease of $280,000 below the appropriation for the fiscal year 1941. Executive Order No. 8269, dated October 11, 1939, has had the effect of reducing materially the number of countries in which exchange relief is paid. The decrease is also attributed in part to changes in assignments of personnel in foreign countries and the depreciation of certain foreign currencies.

Gallipolis Sesquicentennial Commission

Under authority of a joint resolution approved August 10, 1939 (53 Stat. 1346), there was established this Commission to provide for participation by the United States in the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the settlement of the city of Gallipolis, Ohio. The resolution authorized an appropriation of $10,000, which amount was appropriated.

General Accounting Office

The estimates for the General Accounting Office total $10,763,880, an increase of $5,457,340 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of emergency relief funds. The increase consists of $3,330,000 to cover costs of regular work being financed in the fiscal year 1941 from emergency funds and $2,127,340 to meet the increase in work anticipated for the fiscal year 1942 as a result of the national defense program and the increase in benefit payments by the Social Security Board.

Interstate Commerce Commission

The estimates of $9,120,250 for the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1942 represent an increase of $61,500 over the amounts appropriated for the fiscal year 1941. All of this increase was made in the Commission's "Motor Transport Regulation" appropriation. This will permit the Commission to employ additional personnel for its enforcement responsibility arising out of the safety and hours of service regulations applicable to private carriers, which became effective August 1, 1940.

Maritime Labor Board

No estimate is submitted for 1942 for the Maritime Labor Board. The Board was established for a period of 3 years from the date of approval of the act creating it (act of June 23, 1938, 53 Stat. 535). This period expires June 22, 1941.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics

The estimate for the general administrative expenses of the committee, amounting to $4,567,890, represents an increase of $1,792,890 over the appropriation for 1941. Approximately one-half of this increase will be used for employing additional personnel in the Langley and Ames laboratories and in the new airplane engine research laboratory which is now under construction. The balance will be used to purchase new equipment for these laboratories and to augment the personnel of the Washington office of the committee.

National Archives

Estimates totaling $993,340, a net increase of $60,480 over the appropriations for the current fiscal year, are submitted. Additional personnel, supplies, and equipment to enable the agency to care for increased accessions and provide adequate service, particularly with reference to World War period material in great demand by defense agencies, are included in the gross increase of $92,885, which is offset by $34,905 in nonrecurring items.

National Capital Park and Planning Commission

The estimate of $1,300,000 for the National Capital Park and Planning Commission includes $850,000, the same amount as for the fiscal year 1941, for continuance of the program of land acquisition for the park, parkway, and playground system of the District of Columbia, as authorized by section 4 of the Capper-Cramton Act of May 29, 1930. Section 4 of the act authorizes a total appropriation of $16,000,000, of which, including the present estimate, there will have been made available $9,178,700.

The estimate also provides $250,000 for further acquisition of land for the George Washington Memorial Parkway on the Maryland side of the Potomac River, the expenditure of which is contingent upon provision by the State of Maryland of an equal sum for this purpose.

The remaining increase of $200,000 is for extensions of the Anacostia park system into Maryland. In accordance with section 1 (b) of the Capper-Cramton Act one-third of this sum is provided by the Commission and two-thirds is an advance to the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, repayable in 8 years by that agency.

National Labor Relations Board

The estimates of the National Labor Relations Board for the fiscal year 1942 amount to $2,952,740, an increase of $51,740 over 1941. For personal services an increase of $126,740 is provided, offset in part by a decrease of $74,500 in miscellaneous expenses and $500 in printing and binding. In connection with miscellaneous expenses it should be noted that while a reduction of $74,500 is shown, there is actually an increase of $35,994 in comparable items because of the transfer of $110,494, representing the amount provided for rent of office space in the District of Columbia, to the appropriation for salaries and expenses, public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia, under the Public Buildings Administration.

National Mediation Board

The 1942 estimates for the National Mediation Board, including the National Railroad Adjustment Board, total $383,900, an increase of $16,000 over the appropriations for 1941. This increase is represented by two additional clerical positions for the National Mediation Board, additional compensation for referees for the National Railroad Adjustment Board, and by two clerical positions, offset by a decrease in the amount provided for printing.

Protection of Interests of the United States in Matters Affecting Oil Lands in Former Naval Reserves

No estimate is submitted for the fiscal year 1942 as it is anticipated that final disposition of these matters will be made during the current fiscal year within the limits of the appropriation of $25,850 available.

Railroad Retirement Board

The estimate of $3,114,094 for the general expenses of the Board for administration of the Railroad Retirement Act is $626,094 more than the amount appropriated in 1941. The largest net increase, $523,958, is for salaries, accounted for by $542,468 increase for the prior service records project authorized by the act of October 9, 1940, and a reduction of $18,510 for regular work. A net increase of $102,136 is for other expenses, composed of $32,719 for the prior service records project, $1,528 for transfer to the Treasury, $118,261 for rents, and reductions in travel of $50,102 and fees $270.

For printing and binding, the estimate of $55,676 is an increase of $7,676 over the appropriation for 1941 almost entirely due to the prior service records project.

For the railroad retirement appropriated account, the estimate of $140,850,000 is an increase of $18,250,000 over the 1941 appropriation.

For the railroad unemployment insurance administration fund, the estimate of $6,750,000 represents (1) an estimate of 10 percent of contributions under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, and (2) an estimate of balances of amounts collected on account of railroad employees under title IX of the Social Security Act, and transferred to this appropriation.

Securities and Exchange Commission

The estimates amounting to $5,440,000 for the Securities and Exchange Commission for 1942 represent a net increase of $40,000 over the amount appropriated for 1941. An increase of $50,000 is allowed in the Commission's salaries and expenses appropriation to enable the Commission to carry out its duties in connection with the administration and enforcement of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, approved August 22, 1940. The increase is offset by a decrease of $10,000 in the Commission's appropriation for printing and binding.

Selective Service System

For the operation and maintenance of the Selective Service System, there is provided the sum of $33,500,000.

Smithsonian Institution

Estimates for the Smithsonian Institution, including the National Gallery of Art, exceed by $406,100 the appropriations for the fiscal year 1941. The National Gallery of Art estimate shows an increase of $233,300 to project 1941 operating expenses to a full year basis during the fiscal year 1942. The Gallery is expected to be open to the public during only the latter part of the current fiscal year. This increase will also make possible the utilization of additional space and employment of the operating services attendant upon permanent exhibition of the recent gift of another large and valuable private collection not contemplated in prior estimates of maintenance costs.

In the Smithsonian Institution proper, the general expense estimate shows an increase of $114,290, of which $73,000 is to furnish protection to the collections in the Freer Gallery of Art by an air-conditioning installation. Additional personnel and supplies to make possible administrative and custodial improvements deemed essential are contemplated by the estimate, the gross increase of $142,100 being offset by nonrecurring repair items and savings in the amount of $27,810. In the preservation of collections item, the increase of $31,510 is to alleviate by means of additional personnel and supplies substandard conditions, with respect both to custodial employees and to upkeep of collections and exhibition areas. The printing and binding estimate of $100,000 is $27,000 in excess of the appropriation for the current fiscal year, such increase being provided to begin publication of a backlog of scientific data accumulated through several prior years.

Tariff Commission

The estimates for 1942, $905,000 for general administrative expenses and $15,000 for printing and binding, are the same as the amounts appropriated for 1941. Indications are that the work load of the Tariff Commission will continue at approximately its present level through the fiscal year 1942.

Temporary National Economic Committee

No estimate is submitted for the fiscal year 1942 as the Committee's existence, by the terms of the joint resolution creating it, terminates upon the expiration of the Seventy-sixth Congress. Total appropriations for the Committee equal the total authorization, $1,100,000.

Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission

The total amount of $3,000,000 authorized by law for the construction of a memorial to Thomas Jefferson having been appropriated in full, no estimate is submitted for the fiscal year 1942.

United States Commission for the Celebration of the Two-Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of Thomas Jefferson

A joint resolution approved September 24, 1940 (54 Stat. 960), authorized the establishment of the above-designated Commission and an appropriation of $5,000 in furtherance of the object indicated. An appropriation in that amount was included in the First Supplemental Civil Functions Appropriation Act, 1941 (54 Stat. 1037).

United States Golden Gate International Exposition Commission

Under authority of a joint resolution approved July 9, 1937 (50 Stat. 488–493), this Commission was established to provide for participation by the United States in the exposition to be held in San Francisco, Calif., in 1939, and $1,500,000, the full amount authorized, was appropriated. A joint resolution approved May 14, 1940 (54 Stat. 215), authorized a further appropriation of $200,000 to continue such participation during the calendar year 1940. The full amount of this additional authorization was also appropriated.

United States Maritime Commission

The estimates of $160,190,000 for the Maritime Commission for 1942 represent a net decrease of $24,500,000 from the amounts appropriated for 1941 due to the nonrecurring item of $40,000,000 appropriated for the Commission's marine and war risk insurance fund for the fiscal year 1941. Offsetting this decrease in part is an increase of $15,500,000 which has been recommended for the Commission's construction fund in order to enable it to carry out its ship construction program and other activities. Provision is also made for the Commission to contract for additional ship construction in the amount of $180,000,000 during the fiscal year 1942.

An item of $190,000 for State marine schools, previously included under the Navy Department's appropriation, is included with the United States Maritime Commission's estimate for 1942, pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan IV.

United States New York World's Fair Commission

Under authority of a joint resolution approved July 9, 1937 (50 Stat. 493), this Commission was established to provide for participation by the United States in the New York World's Fair, 1939, and $3,000,000, the full amount authorized, was appropriated. A joint resolution approved May 14, 1940 (54 Stat. 215), authorized a further appropriation of $275,000 to continue such participation during the calendar year 1940. The full amount of this additional authorization was also appropriated.

United States University of Pennsylvania Bicentennial Commission

Under authority of a joint resolution, approved June 20, 1940 (54 Stat. 492), there was established a Commission to provide for participation by the United States in the celebration of the two-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the University of Pennsylvania by Benjamin Franklin. The resolution authorized an appropriation of $10,000, of which $1,500 was appropriated.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION

The estimates for the Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of trust funds and estimates included in the General Public Works Program, amount to $605,193,162, an increase of $27,366,178 over the 1941 appropriations.

An amount of $104,726,912 has been included in "Salaries and expenses" to provide for all expenses of administering and operating the central office in Washington, regional offices, hospital and domiciliary facilities, and other field units, including the cost of administering the compensation, pension, and insurance programs for veterans. This represents an increase of $3,512,232 over the appropriations under this head for 1941. This increase has been found necessary because of the new National Service Life Insurance program and other increased insurance activities in connection with the expansion of the armed forces, and because of the constantly increasing number of beneficiaries in veterans' facilities.

The estimate for veterans' compensation and pension payments is $453,597,000, representing a decrease of $2,895,304 from the amount appropriated for 1941.

The amount included for military and naval insurance is $16,240,000, a decrease of $3,760,000 from 1941 appropriations.

An amount of $485,000 has been included for "Adjusted service and dependent pay" to carry on payments due under the World War Adjusted Compensation Act in cases where such benefits are not covered by issuance of adjusted-service certificates.

The amount of $10,000,000 is included for payments on adjusted-service certificates. There was no appropriation for this purpose for the fiscal year 1941, because of the continued availability of prior year appropriations.

A new appropriation entitled "National service life insurance" in the amount of $20,000,000 has been provided for transfer to the "National service life insurance trust fund" as may be required to meet obligations of that fund because of the extra hazards of military or naval service.

Under trust funds, there is an increase of $56,144,000 caused primarily by the creation of the "National service life insurance trust fund." The amount of $47,000,000 included for this fund represents the estimated receipts from premiums plus the $20,000,000 to be transferred from the appropriation "National service life insurance."

FEDERAL LOAN AGENCY

Under the authority of the Reorganization Act of 1939 this Agency supervises and coordinates the functions of the Electric Home and Farm Authority, Export-Import Bank of Washington, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Federal Housing Administration, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with its subsidiary agencies. In exercising its functions the Loan Agency avails itself wherever possible of the existing facilities of the agencies in the loan group.

The estimate of $200,000 for administrative expenses for the Federal Loan Agency for 1942 is the same as the amount made available in 1941 but exceeds actual expenditures in 1940 by $120,113. The amount recommended is to provide for the increased supervision and coordination of these agencies which it is expected will take place during 1942.

Electric Home and Farm Authority

No estimate has been included in the 1942 Budget for the administrative expenses of the Electric Home and Farm Authority because it expires as an agency of the Government on June 30, 1941.

Export-Import Bank

The limitation on the amount of loans for general purposes which the bank may have outstanding has been increased by Congress from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 and in addition thereto loans are authorized up to $500,000,000 for special purposes to countries in the Western Hemisphere. The estimate of $220,000 for 1942 is $95,000 in excess of that made available for 1941. It is expected that by the end of 1942 loans and commitments will be about $400,000,000. The amount recommended is in line with the increased responsibility and activity of the bank.

Federal Home Loan Bank Board

Under general supervision of the Board are the 12 Federal home loan banks, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, consisting of Federal and State savings and loan associations, savings banks, and insurance companies. The purpose of the Federal home loan bank system is to perform a service in the field of home mortgage credit similar to that of the Federal Reserve System in the field of commercial banking. The amount included for administrative expenses for 1942 is $1,500,000, or $150,000 more than that made available in 1941. A steady increase in the assets and membership of the Federal home loan bank system has occurred. The amount recommended will permit the Board to furnish increased supervision to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and to perform additional examinations in the field, and is commensurate with the increase in membership and assets of the system.

Federal Housing Administration

For administrative expenses for 1942 the estimate is $13,388,000, all of which will be paid from the funds of the Administration. This compares with $13,300,000 made available in 1941. The insurance of lending institutions on loans to repair, modernize, and improve property and the building of new structures under title I and the insurance of mortgages on existing structures under title II expire on June 30, 1941. On the other hand, the insurance of new construction under title II in the present fiscal year shows a considerable increase over 1940 and indications are that this trend will continue into 1942.

Included in the 1942 estimates for renovation and modernization loans and insurance fund which is available for the payment of losses under title I insurance is $7,000,000, payable from the funds allotted to the Administration by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. This compares with $7,000,000 made available for 1941, $4,000,000 of which was from Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds and $3,000,000 from the funds of the Federal Housing Administration. While the percent of loss is being steadily reduced, it has been more than offset by the increased volume of business being transacted under this title. The making of new loans under this title expires June 30, 1941, but losses will continue until the loans expire.

Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation

The 1942 estimate of $389,874 is $89,874 in excess of that provided for 1941. The increase is caused by continued expansion in the number of insured institutions and the amount of their assets, and provides for some supervision of the liquidation of problem institutions during 1942.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation was created in 1933 to provide home mortgage relief to distressed home owners. Corporation loans ceased on June 13, 1936, and since that time its principal functions have been the collection of outstanding loans and the management and disposal of the real estate it has acquired by foreclosure.

The estimate of $19,400,000 for the fiscal year 1942 is approximately $2,600,000 less than the amount provided for the fiscal year 1941. A reduction in the number of foreclosed properties held by the Corporation and an improvement in the condition of the accounts outstanding account for the decrease.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation

The 1942 estimate of $9,890,680 is $640,680 in excess of that made available for 1941. Congress increased the borrowing capacity of the Corporation, and it is anticipated that there will be an increase in its activities for general and defense purposes which will take place during the current fiscal year and continue into the fiscal year 1942.

FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY

Under the fourth plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Food and Drug Administration, except those functions relating to the administration of the Insecticide Act and the Naval Stores Act, was transferred to the Federal Security Agency from the Department of Agriculture. St. Elizabeths Hospital, Freedmen's Hospital, Howard University, and Columbia Institution for the Deaf were transferred from the Department of the Interior.

The estimates for the Federal Security Agency for the fiscal year amount to $894,209,685, exclusive of trust accounts. This represents a net decrease of $88,819,024 from the amounts shown as appropriated for the various constituent agencies for 1941. (Amounts shown as appropriated for 1941 are the actual appropriations adjusted on account of transfers made pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan IV.) This decrease includes certain items which do not reflect changes in the amounts available for the regular work of the Agency as follows: $110,000,000 for defense items in the Office of Education, National Youth Administration, and Social Security Board; $200,000 emergency relief appropriation to the Public Health Service for community sanitation in 1941 not estimated for in 1942; and $805,008 transferred from various appropriations for rent and maintenance in the District of Columbia to the appropriation "Salaries and expenses, public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia, Public Buildings Administration." Excluding the above items, a net increase of $22,185,984 is shown for 1942 in "regular" items.

The decrease of $88,819,024 and net increase in regular items of $22,185,984 are distributed through the various units of the Federal Security Agency as follows:

The estimate of $1,510,016 for the Office of the Administrator, exclusive of travel, and printing and binding for the Agency, includes $81,019 shown in 1941 as transferred from Departments of Interior and Agriculture under Reorganization Plan IV and represents a decrease of $2,903 under the appropriations for the same purpose in 1941.

The estimate of $1,118,026 for printing and binding includes $26,264 shown in 1941 as transferred from the Departments of Interior and Agriculture under Reorganization Plan IV and represents a decrease of $41,238 below the 1941 appropriations for this purpose.

There was no consolidated appropriation for travel for the Agency in 1941. The estimate of $1,815,916 for 1942 consists of $1,772,374 as appropriated to constituent units of the Agency in 1941 and transferred to this appropriation for 1942 plus an increase of $43,542. Of this increase, $37,162 was for the Social Security Board, $4,500 for the Office of Education, and $1,880 for the office of the Administrator.

The estimate of $125,000 for the American Printing House for the Blind represents an increase of $10,000 over 1941 due to the inclusion of the appropriation "To promote the education of the blind (interest)" as a permanent appropriation in 1942 instead of as a trust account in 1941.

The estimate of $270,000,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps represents a gross decrease of $9,994,900 from the amount shown as appropriated in 1941. After deducting $13,910 for transferred rent items, the net decrease in regular items is $9,980,990. The estimate provides for the operation of 1,400 camps and an average daily enrollment of 259,500, including Indians and territorials, in 1942, as against 1,500 camps and an average daily enrollment of 281,000, including Indians and territorials, in 1941.

The estimate of $142,360 for Columbia Institution for the Deaf represents a net decrease of $640 under the appropriation for 1941, accounted for by an increase of $3,360 for new personnel offset by nonrecurring items of $4,000.

The estimate of $2,415,926 for the Food and Drug Administration represents a decrease of $128,230 below the amounts shown as appropriated for 1941. The decrease is made up of the following: $230 in salaries and expenses; $125,000 in enforcement of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; $650 in enforcement of the Tea Importation Act; $500 for Milk Importation Act enforcements; $1,050 for Caustic Poison Act; and $800 for enforcement of the Filled Milk Act. All of the above decreases are due to transfer of travel to the consolidated travel appropriation for 1942.

The estimate for Freedmen's Hospital for 1942 is $756,303, a net increase of $184,378 over the 1941 appropriation. The net increase is accounted for by increases of $7,920 for new personnel for the general unit; $52,880 for personnel for the new tuberculosis unit; $100,000 for repairs and alterations, representing about 40 percent of a contemplated 4-year rehabilitation program; $35,000 for equipment, representing about 20 percent of a contemplated 5-year rehabilitation program; $23,578 for other obligations; $5,000 for transfer to Howard University for heat, light, and power; offset by decreases of $30,000 for nonrecurring items and $10,000 on account of increases in receipts from pay patients.

The estimate of $790,180 for Howard University represents an increase of $43,020 over the appropriations for 1941. The increases are $14,820 for new personnel and $28,200 for equipment and repairs and alterations.

For the National Youth Administration, the estimate of $101,821,045 represents a gross decrease of $32,835,075 under the amount shown as appropriated for 1941. After deducting $32,500,000 for defense items and $45,300 for transferred rent, the net decrease in regular items is $289,775. The decrease consists of a reduction of $267,000 in the amount required for Treasury handling of National Youth Administration checks and $22,775 in miscellaneous items.

The estimates for the Office of Education for 1942 amount to $29,298,890 of which $9,550,000 is in permanent appropriations and $19,748,890 is in annual appropriations. This represents a net decrease of $74,748,610 from the 1941 appropriation total of $104,047,500. After deducting $75,500,000 for defense items and $220 for transferred rent, a net increase of $751,610 is shown in regular items. This increase consists of $350,000 in the appropriation for further development of vocational education; $405,500 in cooperative vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry; $17,900 in salaries for the Office of Education; $1,800 in salaries and expenses for the Office of Vocational Education; $220 in salaries and expenses, Vocational Education, which makes the estimate of $113,000 the same as 1941 after transferring the rent item of $220 to Public Buildings Administration; these increases are offset by decreases of $15,000 in general expenses, $3,810 for library service and research, and $5,000 for the study of higher education for Negroes. The decrease in general expenses is accounted for by transfer of $15,300 for travel to the consolidated travel appropriation and allowance of a small increase of $300. The decrease of $3,810 for library services and research consists of $1,310 transferred to the consolidated travel appropriation and $2,500 transferred to the consolidated printing and binding appropriation. The decrease of $5,000 for the study of higher education for Negroes conforms to the limited authorization for this project.

The estimate of $33,094,533 for the Public Health Service represents a net increase of $43,013 over the total of the amounts shown as appropriated for 1941. After deducting from the 1941 appropriations $200,000 for emergency relief and $2,400 for transferred rent, the net increase in regular items becomes $245,413.

The net increase is made up of the following increases: $5,940 for salaries, Office of the Surgeon General; $47,388 for miscellaneous expenses, of which $35,000 results from transfer of stationery supplies to this appropriation from the consolidated printing and binding appropriation for 1942 and $10,000 for drayage transferred to this appropriation from the appropriation for pay of personnel and maintenance of hospitals; $45,362 for pay, etc., commissioned officers, including $10,026 for automatic promotions, $10,600 for waiting orders pay, $11,842 for 5 commissioned officers for the narcotic farm at Lexington, Ky., authorized on part-year basis in 1941, $3,158 for 1 dental surgeon at Lexington, $6,316 for 2 assistant dental surgeons for out-patient service for increased Coast Guard personnel, $31,580 for 10 assistant surgeons for the Division of Venereal Diseases, and $15,820 for full annual salaries for 20 assistant surgeons for the Coast Guard and national defense provided in the 1941 supplemental appropriation act for 9 months, offsetting which there are decreases of $37,260 because of increased reimbursements and $6,720 because of new quarters available at the Lexington, Ky., hospital; decrease of $6,000 for the National Institute of Health due to nonrecurring items; a net decrease of $31,191 for pay of personnel and maintenance of hospitals accounted for by $69,711 transferred to the central travel appropriation and $83,100 of other nonrecurring items partially offset by increases of $46,603 for cash allowance for meals of certain employees not assigned to quarters and miscellaneous increases of $75,017, largely in personal services for out-patient care of Coast Guard patients; decrease of $35,600 in quarantine service due entirely to transfer of travel to the central travel appropriation; decrease of $8,500 in the appropriation for interstate quarantine services entirely due to the travel transfer; decrease of $4,700 in control of biologic products, $2,200 because of transfer of travel and decrease of $2,500 for personal services; increase of $50,000 in expenses, Division of Venereal Diseases, of which $18,420 is for control in national defense areas and $31,580 for reimbursement for commissioned officers; increase of $180,314 for the Division of Mental Hygiene, $7,720 for the hospital at Fort Worth, Tex., $239,239 for the hospital at Lexington, Ky., decrease of $54,445 for nonrecurring items and $12,200 on account of transfer of travel; and increase of $2,400 in disease and sanitation investigations to leave the 1942 estimate of $1,625,000 the same as 1941 after transferring the rent item of $2,400 to Public Buildings Administration.

The estimate of $1,276,699 for St. Elizabeths Hospital represents an increase of $1,414 over the appropriation for 1941. The increased amount provides for continuation of services for the estimated patient load at $1.80 per patient-day.

The estimates for the Social Security Board for 1942 amount to $450,044,791, a net increase of $26,834,831 over the appropriations for 1941. The net increase is made up of the following increases: $4,131 for salaries for officers of the Board; $1,098,189 in salaries for the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance; $56,907 in salaries, Bureau of Public Assistance; $25,000,000 in grants to States for old-age assistance; $2,000,000 in grants to States for unemployment compensation administration; $3,000,000 for grants to States for aid to dependent children; and $100,000 for payments for operation of public employment offices. There are offsetting decreases of $37,688 in salaries, Bureau of Employment Security, $2,386,708 in miscellaneous expenses, and $2,000,000 due to inclusion of the supplemental appropriation for selecting, testing, and placement of defense workers in 1941 but not estimated for 1942. The net decrease in miscellaneous expenses of $2,386,708 is made up of $743,178 transferred for District of Columbia rent to the Public Buildings Administration, transfer of $1,465,703 to the central travel appropriation, transfer of $477,900 to Treasury Department appropriations for handling of checks, offset by an increase in regular items of $300,073, of which $73,530 is for supplies and materials, $118,664 for rents, and $39,255 for equipment, and $68,624 for miscellaneous items.

Trust accounts.—The 1942 estimates totaling $25,364,500 represent a net increase of $10,311,803 over 1941. An increase of $10,300,000 is in the Civilian Conservation Corps savings fund. A decrease of $5,197 is estimated in Public Health Service trust accounts, $6,493 in the National Institute of Health gift fund, partially offset by increases of $1,264 in personal funds and earnings of inmates of narcotic farm and $32 in money and effects of former patients, Public Health Service. An increase of $27,000 is estimated for St. Elizabeths Hospital trust accounts, $10,000 in pension money, and $17,000 in personal funds of patients. A $10,000 decrease is due to change of trust account "To promote the education of the blind (interest)," American Printing House for the Blind in 1941, to a permanent appropriation for 1942.

FEDERAL WORKS AGENCY

Exclusive of items in the General Public Works Program, the 1942 estimates for the Federal Works Agency provide for the Office of the Administrator, $312,000, an increase of $62,315 over the amount appropriated for 1941. Of this increase approximately $35,000 is for consolidation, in the Office of the Administrator, of certain library services for the constituent units of the Federal Works Agency, and approximately $27,000 is for strengthening the most essential services of the office to enable the Administrator more adequately to discharge his responsibility in supervising and directing the activities of the Agency.

For the Public Buildings Administration, $20,453,005 is recommended, a net increase over 1941 of $4,366,985. Of this amount, $3,795,405 applies to buildings inside the District of Columbia and $571,580 to buildings outside the District of Columbia. The items of increase for buildings inside the District of Columbia are $1,305,930 for rent, operation, maintenance, repair, and protection of rented or Federal-owned space for which appropriations are regularly made to this Administration, and $2,489,475 formerly included in other appropriations, now being transferred to this appropriation. For the first time rent and maintenance costs, except those borne from corporation or other special funds and a few minor exceptions, are brought together in one appropriation. The items of increase for buildings outside the District of Columbia include $176,100 for normal repair and preservation of new buildings, $457,000 for extraordinary major repairs of old buildings, and $88,480 for rent, operation, and maintenance of space. The total increase is offset by a decrease of $150,000 for furniture and furnishings for the New York Customhouse.

For the Public Works Administration $620,000 is provided for administrative expenses from funds available to the Administration. This is a decrease of $2,965,000 under 1941. The work of this agency is rapidly tapering off and will be substantially completed by the end of the fiscal year 1942.

For the United States Housing Authority $3,675,000 is provided from the funds of the Authority for administrative expenses. This is a decrease of $835,000 under 1941. While the management phase of the program will steadily increase, the primary phases of the program will be completed and the construction phase will begin to taper off in 1942. For annual contributions $10,000,000 from Treasury funds is provided. It is estimated that only $6,000,000 will be spent in 1941 and that the balance of the $10,000,000 1941 appropriation will be available for annual contribution payments estimated to reach $14,000,000 in 1942.

GENERAL PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

The appropriation estimates for the General Public Works Program for 1942 amount to $483,856,595, a decrease of $43,131,995 from appropriations made for 1941. There is no 1942 estimate for contract authorizations as against $16,395,000 in contract authorizations for 1941. The General Public Works Program includes public construction items such as Federal highways, river and harbor improvements, flood control and reclamation projects, but excludes items directly connected with the national defense program, such as construction of battleships and other naval vessels, the purchase or construction of airplanes, construction at military posts and naval shore establishments, and the installation of protective devices and additional facilities for the Panama Canal, for which estimates are provided elsewhere in the Budget.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Public Works

The estimate totaling $9,009,020 submitted for the Committee includes an amount of $3,409,020 for continuing the construction of the Ames Research Laboratory authorized in the Third Deficiency Act, fiscal year 1939, and an amount of $5,600,000 for the continued construction of the new airplane engine research laboratory which was authorized in the First Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1941.

Federal Security Agency, Public Works

Included in the 1942 estimates for the Federal Security Agency are three public works items for St. Elizabeths Hospital: $700,000 for two continuous treatment buildings; $635,000 for construction of a building for storeroom, warehouse, laundry, and industrial shops; $785,000 for purchase of farm land and construction of necessary buildings thereon.

Tennessee Valley Authority, Public Works

There is included in the 1942 Budget $69,800,000 under the above heading, or $4,800,000 in excess of 1941 appropriations which are comprised of $40,000,000 for the regular 1941 program and $25,000,000 for the first year of a 3-year national defense power program estimated to cost $65,800,000. The $69,800,000 for 1942 includes $39,700,000 for the regular program and $30,100,000 for the second year of the national defense power program. In order to expedite the national defense power program $2,350,000 from revenues and savings in excess of estimates for 1941 will be expended during the present year in addition to the $25,000,000 appropriated.

The financing of the Authority's program is not limited to annual appropriations. Other funds are derived from power revenues, the sale of fertilizer, proceeds of bond sales, reappropriated balances of earlier appropriations, and miscellaneous receipts. A more extended statement of the Authority's operations and means of financing appears in the Annexed Budget.

Federal Works Agency, Public Works

The estimates for 1942 for public works under the Federal Works Agency total $141,869,700, a reduction of $30,284,840 under 1941. Included in the 1942 estimates is $131,000,000 for the Public Roads Administration, as compared with $140,990,000 for 1941. The net decrease of approximately $10,000,000 is due to a reduction of $15,000,000 for the elimination of grade crossings and an increase of $5,000,000 for the Federal-aid highway system, partially to restore sums expended for the repair or reconstruction of highways and bridges on the Federal-aid highway system which have been damaged or destroyed by floods, hurricanes, earthquakes, or landslides, as authorized by section 3 of the act approved June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 994). Also included in the 1942 estimates is $10,869,700 for the Public Buildings Administration, a decrease of $20,294,840 from 1941. The decrease is accounted for by reductions of $14,997,540 for construction of public buildings outside the District of Columbia for which no amount is included, present funds being sufficient to meet existing contract obligations, and $5,297,300 for the continuation of the construction, the acquisition of sites and the beginning of construction of public buildings in the District of Columbia. The following tabulation shows the amounts recommended for 1942 for projects in the District of Columbia and the 1941 appropriations therefor:

	Appropriations, 1941	Amount included in 1942 Budget
West central heating plant	$1,500,000	$2,400,000
General Accounting Office		5,000,000
Land for future construction	322,000	700,000
Annex buildings, Government Printing Office		200,000
Extension and remodeling, Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Economics Building		800,000
Site, State Department Annex Building		920,000
National Archives Building		849,700
Total	1,822,000	10,869,700

The limits of cost for the west central heating plant, the General Accounting Office, and the extension and remodeling, Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Economics Building are $3,900,000, $9,850,000, and $1,600,000 respectively. The General Accounting Office Building is in lieu of the previous authorization which had a limit of cost of $4,700,000 for the remodeling and addition of two wings to the old Pension Office, at present occupied by the General Accounting Office. An appropriation of $2,000,000 was made in 1935 partially to finance this project.

Veterans' Administration, Public Works

The amount included for the fiscal year 1942 for hospital and domiciliary facilities is $3,500,000. This estimate provides funds for a new facility in the Massachusetts-Rhode Island area; completion of work at Fort Howard, Md.; additional beds at Canandaigua, N. Y.; and such major reconditioning, replacements, and alterations as are necessary at existing facilities.

Department of Agriculture, Public Works

The only item in the Department of Agriculture appropriation estimates for public works is national forest roads and trails, $9,955,500, an increase of $955,500 over the 1941 appropriation. This estimate will leave an unappropriated balance of $1,044,500 in the authorization for the fiscal year 1941, contained in the act of June 8, 1938, and will leave entirely unappropriated the 1942 authorization of $10,000,000, provided in the act of September 5, 1940.

Department of Commerce, Public Works

The estimates for public works under the Department of Commerce for the fiscal year 1942 total $34,100,000. Of this amount, $600,000 is for the construction and equipment of a laboratory building for scientific research and for testing equipment, materials, and supplies at the National Bureau of Standards in the District of Columbia. The remaining amount of $33,500,000, which is $6,500,000 less than the amount provided for 1941, is for the completion of the program for the construction, improvement, and repair of not to exceed 250 public airports and other public landing areas, in the United States, its Territories and possessions, for national-defense purposes.

Department of the Interior, Public Works

The estimates for 1942 for public works under the Department of the Interior amount to $89,986,950, an increase of $5,566,900 over the 1941 appropriations.

For the construction of additional transmission lines and substations for the disposal of power generated at the Bonneville and Grand Coulee Dams, and for operation, maintenance, and marketing expense, $12,958,500 is provided, which represents an increase of $2,458,500 over the 1941 appropriations. Of the total estimate $2,000,000 is to be held in reserve for the construction of transmission lines from the Grand Coulee Dam to such points as may be approved by the President to supply industries engaged in national-defense production. The estimate contains an increase of $235,600 for operation and maintenance of new mileage of transmission lines and other facilities completed in 1941 or to be completed in 1942.

The amount recommended for the Bureau of Indian Affairs is $4,953,450, a net decrease of $948,850 from 1941 appropriations. There is a decrease of $1,194,350 for the continuation of construction of irrigation systems on Indian reservations. The principal item of decrease is for the Colorado River project in Arizona, where funds are provided only for completing contract requirements with respect to the construction of the Head Gate Rock Dam and 2,000 feet of the main canal. For the construction or major repair of buildings and utilities there is an increase of $245,500. Included under this item is $895,000 to meet the contractual obligation authorized in 1941 for the replacement of the Indian sanatorium at Tacoma, Wash.

The estimates for the Bureau of Reclamation total $62,800,000, or $922,000 less than the total appropriation for 1941. The estimates contemplate an expenditure of $9,495,000 from the Reclamation fund and $53,305,000 from the general fund of the Treasury.

The net increase for the total program from the Reclamation fund is $1,023,000. The amount recommended for expenditure from the Reclamation fund will permit orderly progress of construction on the several projects involved. An increase of $1,000,000 is provided for the Colorado-Big Thompson project in Colorado, principally to permit continuous progress on the Continental Divide tunnel and to begin construction on the Granby Reservoir. Provision is also made for beginning construction on the Anderson Ranch Dam to serve the Arrowrock division of the Boise project in Idaho. There are other items of increase or decrease, depending upon the requirements of the respective projects.

The net decrease for all projects financed from the general fund of the Treasury is $1,660,000. An increase of $2,500,000 is provided for the practical completion of the Parker Dam power project, Arizona-California. There is an increase of $1,400,000 for the Central Valley project in California. These increases are offset by the omission of estimates for the Pine River project, Colorado, $800,000, and the Colorado River project, Texas, $5,500,000, which will be completed during the current year, a reduction of $40,000 in the amount for continuing investigations with respect to the San Luis Valley project in Colorado, $5,000 for administrative expenses, and a reduction of $4,000,000 for the Grand Coulee Dam project in Washington. The estimate for the Grand Coulee Dam project contemplates the completion of the dam and all features within the reservoir area, but does not make any provision for going forward with the development of the pumping plant or irrigation facilities. The estimates also contemplate the use of $3,500,000 for further development of water-conservation and utilization projects in the arid and semiarid States, $500,000 for the commencement of construction of transmission lines for distribution of electricity to be produced at the Fort Peck project, Montana, and $2,500,000 for beginning the construction of the Valley Gravity Canal and storage project to insure an adequate water supply to many farmers in Texas.

To expedite the development of additional power, $5,000,000 is recommended for the Boulder Canyon project, an increase of $1,000,000 over the 1941 appropriation. There is also an increase of $500,000 for the All-American Canal, approximately $2,000,000 being required to meet contract payments on this work during the fiscal year 1942.

The estimates for the National Park Service include $3,000,000 for the construction of roads and trails, of which $2,250,000 is required to meet contract obligations authorized in the Interior Department Appropriation Act for 1941; $6,000,000 for the continuation of work on the Blue Ridge and Natchez Trace Parkways, of which $4,500,000 is to meet contract obligations authorized by the 1941 Interior Appropriation Act, and not to exceed $700,000 is for additional construction on the George Washington Memorial Parkway, and $275,000 for the construction of physical improvements in areas under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service. These projects consist principally of improvements to sanitary facilities and utility services, mostly in the national parks.

Department of Justice, Public Works

The estimates for public works under the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1942 total $454,700, representing an increase of $209,700 over 1941 appropriations.

The 1942 estimates include $73,950 for construction and repair at the United States Penitentiary, McNeil Island, Wash., of which $65,450 is for extension of existing facilities and $8,500 for continuing the development of the island area; and $380,750 for extension or improvement of existing facilities at other penal and correctional institutions.

War Department, Public Works

There is included a total of $121,113,325 for public works of the nonmilitary activities of the War Department. No amount is carried under this head for military activities for 1942 as military construction is currently limited primarily and largely to temporary structures directly connected with the immediate national defense program.

The amount for nonmilitary activities consists of $20,000,000 for the prosecution of such projects of improvement of rivers and harbors heretofore authorized by Congress as may be most desirable in the interests of commerce and navigation; $70,000,000 for prosecuting work of flood control on various rivers and waterways authorized under the Flood Control Act of June 22, 1936, as amended and supplemented by the Flood Control Acts of August 28, 1937, June 28, 1938, and August 11, 1939, including $998,342 for transfer to and expenditure by the Department of Agriculture for continuing the making of preliminary examinations and surveys for run-off and water-flow retardation and soil-erosion prevention on the watersheds of flood-control projects; $22,000,000 for continuing flood-control work on the Mississippi River and tributaries under the Mississippi River Flood Control Act of May 15, 1928, as amended and supplemented by the acts of June 15, 1936, and June 28, 1938; $98,325 for completing the authorized flood-control project on the Sacramento River, Calif., in accordance with the provisions of the act of August 26, 1937; $1,845,000 for completing the construction and installation of a hydroelectric power plant at Fort Peck Dam, Mont.; and $7,170,000 for continuing the construction of a power house and installation of 10 hydroelectric generating units at Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River, Oreg.

The amount of the 1942 estimate for public works of a nonmilitary character under the War Department is $18,630,675 less than the amount appropriated for this purpose in 1941 and consists of decreases of $9,047,000 for river and harbor improvements; $55,000 for general flood control; $8,000,000 for Mississippi River flood control; $1,143,675 for Sacramento River flood control; $155,000 for hydroelectric plant at Fort Peck Dam, Mont.; and $230,000 for hydroelectric plant at Bonneville Dam, Columbia River, Oreg.

Department of State, Public Works

The estimates of appropriations under the Department of State for the fiscal year 1942 amount to $1,947,400, a decrease of $112,600 from the 1941 appropriations. Nonrecurring projects in 1941 amount to $962,029, thus providing a gross increase for 1942 of $849,429.

The 1942 estimate provides $500,000 for public buildings for diplomatic and consular establishments abroad, an increase of $200,000. The principal building projects to be constructed in 1942 will be located in Latin America and Australia. The estimate provides $950,000 for continuing the lower Rio Grande flood-control project, the same amount that was appropriated for 1941. An estimate of $490,900 is included for completion of the control and canalization of the Rio Grande. The estimate provides $6,500 for the construction of a fence on the Mexican border around Cordova Island at El Paso, Tex., as an aid to the enforcement of the alien and smuggling laws.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Under Reorganization Plan III, approved by the President pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation were consolidated, effective June 30, 1940, into an agency designated as the Surplus Marketing Administration. Under Reorganization Plan IV, also effective June 30, 1940, those functions of the Soil Conservation Service in the Department of Agriculture dealing with soil and moisture conservation operations conducted on lands under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior were transferred to the latter Department.

Excluding the item in the General Public Works Program and the trust accounts, the Budget estimates for the Department of Agriculture as now constituted provide for direct appropriations in 1942 totaling $992,631,309, as against comparable direct appropriations in 1941 of $1,135,697,019, a decrease for 1942 of $143,065,710. Reappropriations of unobligated balances under various appropriations and of collections of principal and interest on Farm Credit Administration loans are contemplated for 1942 to the extent of $29,023,684 as against similar reappropriations for 1941 of $72,290,528, a decrease of $43,266,844.

The total availability for 1942 (direct appropriations plus reappropriations and collections of principal and interest) is, therefore, $186,259,866 less than in 1941, the principal items of increase and decrease being accounted for as follows:

In the Office of the Secretary there is a net reduction of $117,662. This amount consists of reductions of $149,472 due to the elimination of the appropriation for rent of buildings in the District of Columbia, which amount has been transferred to the Federal Works Agency in accordance with the objective of centralizing in that agency the functions of building rentals in the District, together with custodial and maintenance costs, $5,000 representing reimbursement for certain guard services heretofore paid from the appropriation "Salaries, Office of the Secretary," and $4,190 resulting from the elimination of personal services no longer required by virtue of the enactment of the Transportation Act of 1940. These decreases are offset, in part, by increases of $8,000 for additional personnel to enable the Secretary to delegate certain regulatory functions as provided by the act of April 4, 1940 (Public, No. 446), and $32,600 involving transfers from other units of the Department. Corresponding reductions in the same aggregate amount have been made in the appropriations of those units.

The increase of $3,180 for the Office of the Solicitor is wholly accounted for by a transfer of that amount from the Bureau of Animal Industry, with a corresponding reduction in the appropriation of the latter agency.

The special research fund has been decreased $200,000, with the insertion in the language of a proviso that none of this reduction be applied to the special research laboratories operated in cooperation with the States.

The increase of $70,000 for salaries and expenses, Extension Service, is for additional personnel to provide for strengthening the relationships between the office of the director and those of the State directors of extension work. In addition, an increase of $38,000 is provided under the heading of Federal payments for agricultural extension work for the employment of additional extension workers in Puerto Rico, making a total increase of $108,000 for the Extension Service for 1942 over 1941.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has been designated by the Secretary as the over-all planning, program development, and agricultural economic research agency of the Department. The net increase of $2,256,100 shown for 1942 for this bureau over the regular appropriation of $863,900 for 1941 is entirely accounted for by transfers between appropriations. The sum of $2,262,895 represents total transfers of that amount from units of the Department from whose appropriations allotments in the same amount were made in 1941 for aiding in formulating programs for authorized activities. Offsetting reductions of the same amount have been made in the estimates for those units involved in this transfer of funds. The difference, $6,795, has been transferred to the Federal Works Agency in connection with the objective of centralizing in that agency the functions of building rentals in the District of Columbia.

In the estimate for the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations there is an increase of $25,320 for additional personnel and other expenses to meet the need for additional services resulting from the impact of world economic conditions upon American agriculture.

The estimates provide an increase of $1,507,232 in the direct appropriations of the Bureau of Animal Industry. Unobligated balances to be reappropriated for 1942 are estimated to be $750,000, a decrease of $3,250,000. Total availability, therefore, is $1,742,768 below 1941. The estimate of direct appropriation for eradicating tuberculosis and Bang's disease is increased by $1,543,140, necessitated in part by the reduction in the amount available for reappropriation from $4,000,000 in 1941 to $750,000 in 1942; that for eradicating cattle ticks is reduced $25,000; that for hog cholera control, $7,725; and that for meat inspection, $3,180, which sum has been transferred to the Office of the Solicitor.

For the Bureau of Plant Industry the estimates show a decrease of $510,000, accounted for almost entirely by the elimination of an item of $500,000 provided during 1941 for a 3-year program for investigations of rubber plants and methods of rubber production in the Western Hemisphere.

Under the Forest Service, there is a net increase of $579,000 in direct appropriations. This is accounted for by increases of $300,000 for forest-fire cooperation with the States; $1,000,000 of direct appropriation for the acquisition of additional forest land; and $245,000 for the acquisition of land by reappropriation of national forest receipts in certain States as provided by specific legislation. These increases are partially offset by decreases due to transfers of $22,000 and $644,000, respectively, to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and to the proposed new item for "white pine blister rust control," and a decrease of $300,000 because of nonrecurrence of the 1941 item for completion of the Federal undertaking with respect to the New England hurricane damage. Considering an unobligated balance of $869,236 which is also available in 1941 plus the $300,000 appropriated directly for the New England hurricane item, the reduction for 1942 on that item is actually $1,169,236.

For the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering the estimates show a net decrease of $43,011 in 1942. Increases of $17,481 for agricultural engineering investigations are more than offset by decreases of $36,942, due to the transfer of certain agricultural chemical investigations to the new regional laboratories at Albany, Calif., and New Orleans, La., which work will be financed from the funds specifically provided for operation of the laboratories, and $20,050 for industrial utilization of farm products and byproducts because of the fact that this activity will be similarly transferred to the regional laboratory at Peoria, Ill.

The estimates of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine show a net decrease of $60,985. This decrease consists of the elimination of the item of $13,485 for eradication of the citrus canker, no longer considered to be a serious menace, and a decrease of $100,000 under the item for Dutch elm disease eradication because of the progress being made in the control of this disease. This total decrease is partially offset by small increases, totaling $52,500, for barberry eradication, control of the Mexican fruitfly, maintenance and operation of a new laboratory at Beltsville, Md., and for increased personnel and operating expenses at the new quarantine station at Hoboken, N. J. A transfer of $400,000 heretofore provided under this Bureau for blister rust control has been made to the proposed new item for "white pine blister rust control."

The act of April 26, 1940 (Public, No. 486), authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture, in cooperation with other agencies, to use such sums as are made available for forest protection against white pine blister rust. To carry out the provisions of this act, a new consolidated appropriation item is included in the Budget which provides funds for its execution as follows: $215,000 for the Department of the Interior, an entirely new fund, and $1,194,000 for the Department of Agriculture, which represents an increase of $365,000 over the total of $1,044,000 available in 1941 from appropriations made for the Forest Service and the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

The estimates include an increase of $37,802 for the Agricultural Marketing Service. Of this increase, $25,000 is for strengthening the activities under the Grain Standards Act in connection with soybean inspection, and $4,000 represents an item for weather and crop relationship research, carried as a separate item in 1941, but merged with crop and livestock estimates in 1942.

There is an increase of $10,000 for the Bureau of Home Economics which will provide, in part, for the maintenance and operation of a laboratory at the Beltsville Research Center.

For the Commodity Exchange Administration there is an increase of $11,000 for the enforcement of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended by the act of October 9, 1940.

In the estimate for the Soil Conservation Service there is a net increase of $1,751,144. This amount consists of an increase of $3,839,000 for cooperation with soil conservation districts, which increase is partially offset by decreases of $1,000,000 in demonstration projects, $1,000,000 in technical cooperation with other agencies, $11,400 transferred to the Office of the Secretary, $75,000 transferred to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and $1,456 for services no longer required by reason of the enactment of the Transportation Act of 1940.

Under the appropriation for "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources, Department of Agriculture," for carrying out the provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of February 29, 1936, and the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, there is an apparent net increase of $60,364,480. Taking into account, however, an unobligated balance of $23,400,000 available to be carried forward from 1941 into 1942, the actual net increase in 1942 funds is $36,964,480. This increase is intended to restore the agricultural adjustment program approximately to the $500,000,000 level contemplated by the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, including $4,000,000 for the operation of the four regional laboratories authorized by section 202 (d) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, which laboratories will be established on a full-time basis beginning with the fiscal year 1942. Provision is also made for transfers of $600,000 and $35,520, respectively, to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and the Federal Works Agency.

Provision is made in the 1942 Budget for an appropriation of $49,866,160 and for authority to incur additional obligations not exceeding $162,000,000 payable in the fiscal year 1943, for parity payments in connection with 1942 crops. It is also proposed that obligation of both the direct appropriation and the contract authorization be made subject to advance Presidential approval of parity-payment rates. The amount of the direct appropriation, $49,866,160, excludes $125,000 transferred to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and $8,840 to the Federal Works Agency.

The amount recommended for administrative expenses of the Commodity Credit Corporation for 1942 is $500,000 less than the funds made available in 1941, but is $207,502 in excess of the actual obligations incurred in 1940. The increase over 1940 is provided to enable the Corporation to acquire, store, and dispose of the increasing amount of commodities in which it is interested. The funds for administrative expenses are not appropriated from the Treasury but are made available from the funds of the Corporation.

The Surplus Marketing Administration, created under Reorganization Plan III, approved by the President pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, is responsible for the disposal of surplus agricultural commodities. Its funds are made available from two sources: (1) A regular appropriation carried in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, and (2) a permanent appropriation authorized by section 32, as amended, of the act entitled "An act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes," approved August 24, 1935, which authorizes the use of an amount equal to 30 percent of customs receipts for this purpose. The estimate for 1942 contemplates an appropriation of $100,000,000 under each of the above items, or a total of $200,000,000. Compared with a total of $235,924,611 provided for 1941 for surplus removal, the 1942 Budget contemplates a decrease of $35,924,611.

The 1942 estimate for carrying out the provisions of the Sugar Act of 1937 proposes a direct appropriation of $47,923,960, without provision for the use of unobligated balances of prior year appropriations. Compared with a total availability of $47,975,000 for 1941, which sum includes a reappropriation of 1940 balances to the extent of $1,300,000, there is an actual decrease of $51,040 accounted for by transfers of $50,000 to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and $1,040 to the Federal Works Agency.

The total availability for 1941 for administration of the Federal Crop Insurance Act is $5,523,200, comprised of a direct appropriation of $5,423,200 and a reappropriation of 1940 unobligated balances in the sum of $100,000. For 1942 the estimate provides for a direct appropriation of $5,734,488 without provision for the use of prior year balances. The net increase in total availability for 1942 as against 1941 is, therefore, $211,288, made up of $100,000 for storage costs and other handling charges, $200,000 for Agricultural Adjustment Administration expenses of State and county agricultural committees. This is offset in part by transfers of $76,800 to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and $11,912 to the Federal Works Agency.

The Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1940, provided $20,000,000 as a part of the Federal investment in the stock of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. Provision for an additional subscription is not necessary for the fiscal year 1942, resulting in a decrease of that amount.

For the farm-tenancy loan program authorized by title I of the Bankhead-Jones Act, there was authorized for loans in 1941 the sum of $50,000,000 to be obtained from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The 1942 Budget also provides for $50,000,000 to be obtained from the same source.

For liquidation and management of resettlement projects, Farm Security Administration, the estimates provide $738,689, a decrease of $761,250 below the 1941 appropriation. This decrease will be almost entirely offset by charging an additional amount of this expense to the trust account for payments in lieu of taxes and for operation and maintenance of resettlement projects, Farm Security Administration.

The total 1941 availability for land utilization and retirement of submarginal land under title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act is $3,024,595, consisting of a direct appropriation of $2,099,675 and a reappropriation of $924,920 remaining unobligated from the 1940 appropriation for this program. The 1942 estimates provide for a direct appropriation of $2,278,239, plus reappropriation of any balance remaining unobligated at the close of 1941. Thus there is a facial increase of $178,564 over 1941, but actually a decrease of $746,356 on the basis of available funds, made up of transfers of $737,000 and $9,356, respectively, to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and the Federal Works Agency.

Section 2 (a) of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1941, made available the sum of $187,992,084 for rural rehabilitation, of which $62,992,084 was provided by direct appropriation for general purposes of the program, and $125,000,000 by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for rehabilitation loans. The 1942 estimates provide for a direct appropriation of $66,000,000 for general purposes, together with the unobligated balance under section 2 (a) of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1941, and in addition, $100,000,000 to be obtained from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for rehabilitation loans. The amount available for loans has been decreased by $25,000,000 in the anticipation that improved economic conditions will reduce somewhat the number of applications for this type of Government assistance. The estimate of $66,000,000 for direct appropriation represents a net increase of $3,007,916 to enable Farm Security Administration to service properly the accumulated number and amount of outstanding loans.

The act of August 28, 1937, declared it to be the policy of Congress to assist in providing facilities for water storage and utilization in the arid and semiarid areas of the United States and authorized the appropriation for this purpose of such sums as Congress might, from time to time, determine to be necessary. The Department of Agriculture Appropriation Acts for 1940 and 1941 each provided $500,000 for this purpose, and the 1942 estimates include a like amount. The regular annual appropriations have in the past been used largely for formulation and maintenance of a program of projects as required by the basic act. During 1941 and 1942 approximately $250,000 of the funds will be used for project loans. These project loans will be supplemented from funds made available for rural rehabilitation. The estimate of the additional amounts thus made available in 1941 is $3,000,000 and in 1942, $2,350,000.

The estimate of $3,946,000 for salaries and expenses for the Rural Electrification Administration for the fiscal year 1942 is an increase of $272,575 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1941. The amount included gives consideration to the accumulating workload of the Administration in auditing, supervising the operation, and assisting in the load building of completed projects.

The estimate of $40,000,000 for loans is the annual amount authorized by Congress under the Rural Electrification Act. In 1941 $100,000,000 was made available for this purpose as a loan by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and in 1942 the loan funds are to be made available from the same source.

The estimate of $3,810,000 for the Farm Credit Administration for salaries and expenses for the fiscal year 1942 is $44,290 more than the 1941 appropriation. The gross amount, including reimbursements and reappropriations that will be available for 1942, is $9,039,341, or an availability decrease of $387,625 from 1941. The amount included for 1942 gives consideration to the decreased volume of loans being made under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration, but provides for an increase in the cost of supervising credit unions and for an additional amount of cooperative marketing studies.

As in 1941, no appropriation estimate has been included in the 1942 Budget for crop loans. Such loans for 1942 are estimated by the Farm Credit Administration at $23,000,000. Collections of interest and principal of outstanding loans, which are made available for this purpose, together with the unexpended balances of such collections from 1941, will be sufficient to furnish the amount estimated for loans in 1942.

The estimate of $8,350,000 for the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation for the fiscal year 1942 represents a decrease of $350,000 under the amount made available in 1941, but is $307,542 more than actual expenditures during the fiscal year 1940. The 1942 estimate gives consideration to the increasing delinquency of the loans of the Corporation and the acquisition, management, and disposal of real estate acquired as a result of foreclosures. The administrative expenses of the Corporation are not appropriated from the funds of the Treasury but are made available from the funds of the Corporation.

Under the classification "Trust accounts" there appears a decrease of $250,000 in the item of payments in lieu of taxes and for operation and maintenance of resettlement projects, Farm Security Administration. Pursuant to section 3 of the act of June 29, 1936 (40 U. S. C. 431–434), receipts derived from resettlement projects are covered into this trust account and are available to the Farm Security Administration for the purposes indicated above. It is estimated that the receipts to be covered into this fund in 1942 will be $250,000 less than those of the current year. In the item of State rural rehabilitation corporation funds there is a decrease of $225,000. This fund derives from agreements with individual rural rehabilitation corporation directorates transferring to the Farm Security Administration all corporate assets and delegating to the Administrator complete and exclusive powers of management of corporation properties. All collections plus unencumbered balances are available for all of the purposes of the Corporation, and the $1,925,000 included in the 1942 Budget is based upon the best available estimate of 1942 collections.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Under Reorganization Plan III, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Administrator of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, effective June 30, 1940, was made chief administrative officer of the Authority with respect to all functions other than those relating to economic regulation and certain other activities primarily of a rule-making and adjudicative character which were entrusted to the five-member Board of the Authority. Under Reorganization Plan IV the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the Office of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, and the functions of the Air Safety Board were transferred, effective June 30, 1940, to the Department of Commerce, and the Air Safety Board was abolished and its functions consolidated with the functions of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, thereafter known as the Civil Aeronautics Board within, but independent of, the Department in the performance of its rule-making, adjudicative, and investigative functions. Also, under Reorganization Plan IV, the Weather Bureau was transferred, effective June 30, 1940, from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Commerce.

For 1942 estimates aggregating $74,809,101, exclusive of public works and trust funds, are recommended for all units now included in the Department of Commerce. The amount is $30,092,171 less than the 1941 appropriations.

The net increase under the Office of the Secretary is $288,637. An increase of $29,760 is recommended for additional employees to strengthen several units in the Secretary's office and to meet additional pay-roll obligations due to the reallocation of several positions by the Civil Service Commission.

For printing and binding, increases aggregating $145,900 are recommended, of which $15,000 is for the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to permit the printing of the new "Foreign Commerce Weekly"; $48,000 is for the Weather Bureau, $32,000 being the first installment on a 5-year program for the printing of the decennial Climatic Summary of the United States and $16,000 being for increased printing requirements due to expansion of the work of the Bureau; $82,900 for transfer to this appropriation for printing and binding for the Office of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, which amount includes an increase of $10,000, principally for revision of old and issuance of new publications and building up a reserve stock of forms.

There is an increase of $155,820 for a staff to service the National Inventors Council, financed for part of the current year by an allotment of $115,000 from the President's emergency fund.

The foregoing increases are offset by decreases of $9,250 in the contingent fund of the Department and $10,000 in the appropriation for traveling expenses because of the elimination by Congress of funds for salaries of the Industrial Economics Division for 1941; $2,500 in the printing and binding appropriation because of savings to be made in the Coast and Geodetic Survey through the use of a machine; and miscellaneous other decreases.

For the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce there is a gross increase of $76,560, of which $15,680 is to strengthen the work of the Bureau in its analysis of income distribution by size; $11,600 is to provide for additional employees to be assigned to final product analyses in the National Income Division; $30,360 is to provide a modest organization to make studies of small business problems; and $18,920 is to reestablish the checking of statistics of imports and exports compiled in the New York office of the Bureau. These increases are offset by a reduction of $21,000 estimated to be saved through changes in the printing requirements of the Bureau, making a net increase for the Bureau of $55,560.

The estimates for the Bureau of the Census reflect a decrease of $10,897,395 due to progress toward the completion of the Sixteenth Decennial Census.

For the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation there is a gross reduction of $69,120, of which $18,720 represents the salaries of temporary employees to enforce the provisions of the Motor Boat Act of April 25, 1940. The remaining $50,400 represents the salaries of a group of employees provided for in 1941 to give the same supervision over the personnel of vessels in the coastwise and nearby foreign service as now exercised over the personnel of vessels operating in foreign and intercoastal services. Provision was made for this personnel as a national-defense measure, in anticipation of the passage of pending authorizing legislation. The act of October 17, 1940 (Public, No. 869), does not authorize such extensive supervision, and funds in the amount currently available will not be required. In addition to the reduction recommended on this account for 1942, steps have been taken to place in reserve a considerable portion of the 1941 appropriation. Against the foregoing decreases there is an increase of $6,240 to permit the completion, during the first three months of the fiscal year 1942, of the work authorized by the act of April 25, 1940, referred to above, making a net reduction for this Bureau of $62,880.

Increases aggregating $401,000 are recommended for the National Bureau of Standards, exclusive of $600,000 for a new laboratory building carried in the public-works program. Of this amount $14,225 is for the employment of two instrument makers, six janitors and laborers, and a medical officer; $11,075 is for the replacement of worn-out equipment in the power plant; $30,000 is for the continuation of the 5-year program for tool replacements; $32,200 is for major repairs and alterations to shops; $48,500 is for expansion in the testing, inspection, and information service for testing incidental to the national-defense program, revision of the Bureau's publication on the physical properties of metals, preparation of standards for sale, and for increased pay-roll obligations due to the reallocation of positions by the Civil Service Commission; $25,000 for research in several fields for national-defense purposes; and $240,000 for the replacement of a building and equipment, recently destroyed by fire, for broadcasting standard radio frequencies. Reductions are recommended aggregating $74,000, of which $39,000 is on account of tool replacements and the construction of a fence around the property of the Bureau; and $35,000 is for the purchase of equipment for testing fuel and lubricants; making a net increase for the Bureau of $327,000.

Increases aggregating $224,080 are recommended for the Coast and Geodetic Survey. This amount consists of $41,780 for coastal survey work in Alaska, including $26,000 for special aerial photographic equipment; $5,400 for magnetic and seismological work, including the completion of the observatory at Sitka, Alaska; $50,000 for additional control surveys as a part of the expanded mapping program; $15,000 for pay and subsistence of men to operate the new vessel to be constructed during 1941; $6,600 for changes in grades of wireless operators; $21,000 for pay and allowances of commissioned officers; $37,900 for additional personnel in the District of Columbia principally for chart production and distribution work, and for increased pay-roll obligations due to the reallocation of a number of positions; $21,000 for equipment and for miscellaneous office expenses; and $25,400 for the compilation, printing, and distribution of aeronautical charts. Against these increases there are reductions of $1,528,420, consisting of $13,500 for the completion of the wire-drag survey of Boston Harbor; $31,000 for the purchase of a new press, and for the acquisition of chart paper; $58,400 for the purchase of a press, camera, and chart paper for aeronautical chart production; $520 for small salary savings; and $1,425,000 for the construction of vessels; thereby resulting in a net reduction of $1,304,340 for this office in 1942.

The amount recommended for the Patent Office is $219,080 in excess of the appropriations for 1941. This amount is composed of $147,000 to meet increased pay-roll obligations due to the reallocations of a large number of positions; $16,800 for an additional Interference Board; $10,280 for additional miscellaneous personnel; $23,000 for additional photolithographing expense; $10,000 for the purchase of equipment and supplies; and $20,000 for binding periodicals and foreign patents, against which increases there is a reduction of $8,000 provided in 1941 for a camera and scanners for microfilm work.

Increases recommended for the Weather Bureau, aggregating $628,940, include $424,040 for continuing on a full annual basis the aviation weather service in continental United States, overseas to Portugal and Hawaii, and elsewhere provided for on a part-year basis in 1941; $8,000 for placing the new district forecast office in Boston on a full annual basis; $37,000 to establish new district forecast centers at Billings, Mont., and Seattle, Wash.; $10,000 for research in air mass analysis; $18,000 for research in automatic observational methods; $121,500 for forecast, radiosonde, and other work in Alaska financed in 1941 by funds appropriated to the War Department; $5,000 for the installation and equipment of 100 new volunteer climatological stations; and $5,400 to permit the intensive training in advance meteorology of 20 forecasting employees of the Bureau. Reductions of $70,100 on account of equipment purchases in 1941 result in a net increase for this Bureau of $558,840.

For the Office of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, exclusive of public works and trust accounts, $41,550,986 is recommended, a reduction of $18,970,791 under the 1941 appropriation. Items of increase consist of $87,619 for personal services and other expenses for the Office of the Administrator; $2,827,776 for the maintenance of air navigation facilities such as teletype circuits, radio ranges and markers, field aids and lighting, and communication service; $4,200 for miscellaneous expenses of the technical development branch; $412,640 for personal services and other expenses incident to the enforcement of safety regulations; and $131,050 for operating the Washington National Airport on a full annual basis, or total increases of $3,463,285. These increases are offset by decreases of $16,400 due to the abolishment of the procedural review unit, $120,912 savings in rent in the District of Columbia through the removal of the offices to the Washington National Airport; $440,696 for the purchase of equipment in 1941 for the maintenance of air navigation facilities and for other units; $86,700 due to equipment purchases and for temporary employees engaged on construction work, Washington National Airport; $2,636,580 for the establishment of air navigation facilities; $19,000,000 for curtailment of the civilian pilot training program; and $132,788 in miscellaneous items; or a total of $22,434,076.

A net reduction of $137,122 is recommended in the estimates for the Civil Aeronautics Board, due to savings effected through reorganization and the transfer to the Public Buildings Administration of funds for the payment for rented space used in the District of Columbia, despite specific increases totaling $77,797 to take care of increased work. The increase is necessary to permit the Board to dispose of the volume of work now coming before it by reason of the increased activity in aviation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Under the third plan on Government reorganization pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Bureau of Fisheries and the Bureau of Biological Survey in the Department of the Interior, with their respective functions, were consolidated, effective June 30, 1940, into one agency in the Department of the Interior known as the Fish and Wildlife Service. The functions of the consolidated agency are administered under the direction and supervision of the Secretary of the Interior by a Director and not more than two Assistant Directors, who are appointed by the Secretary and perform such duties as he shall prescribe. The offices of Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries and the offices of Chief and Associate Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey were abolished and their functions transferred to the consolidated agency. The office of Recorder of the General Land Office was abolished. The functions of the Recorder are exercised under the direction and supervision of the Secretary of the Interior through such officers or employees of the General Land Office as he may designate.

Under the fourth plan on Government reorganization pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the functions of the Soil Conservation Service in the Department of Agriculture, with respect to soil and moisture conservation conducted on any lands under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior or transferred to the Department of the Interior, were placed, effective June 30, 1940, under the direction and supervision of the Secretary of the Interior through such agency or agencies in the Department of the Interior as the Secretary shall designate.

The Budget estimates for the Department of the Interior, general and special accounts, for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of items of public works, aggregate $68,749,388, a decrease of $4,446,874.89 from 1941 appropriations. In the figure of $68,749,388 is $61,100,288 for annual appropriations, which is $4,026,874.89 below the annual appropriations for the current year. The amount for permanent appropriations is $7,649,100, a decrease of $420,000 from 1941. In addition, the estimates for 1942 under various trust accounts aggregate $5,942,340, a decrease of $413,400 from the current year.

Annual appropriations.—For the immediate Office of the Secretary there is an increase of $57,480. This increase includes transfers of $16,340, of which $3,800 is from Soil and Moisture Conservation funds transferred in 1941 under Reorganization Plan IV from the Department of Agriculture; $4,680, representing the salaries of two employees transferred from the salaries and expenses appropriation for National Capital parks; and $7,860 for salaries of employees now on detail to the Photographic Section of the Division of Information and paid in 1941 from funds appropriated to the Bureau of Reclamation. The remainder of the increase is for additional personnel in the Secretary's Office, $1,620; the Division of Personnel Supervision and Management, $11,120; the Division of Information, $7,880; the Division of Finance, $8,300; the establishment of an Office of Special Adviser on Labor Relations, $7,600; and $6,660 to cover increased pay-roll obligations due to the reallocation of positions by the Civil Service Commission. A net increase of $1,440 for the Office of the Solicitor represents a transfer from the appropriation "Salaries, Office of Secretary of the Interior."

Because of the expiration of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, on April 25, 1941, no estimate is submitted for the administrative expenses of the Bituminous Coal Division or for salaries and expenses, Consumer's Counsel Division, Office of the Solicitor. The appropriations for these two functions for 1941 aggregated $2,531,366.

A net increase of $4,100 for the Division of Territories and Island Possessions will provide for an Assistant Supervisor of Alaskan Affairs.

For the Grazing Service there is a net increase of $100,000. Increases for the normal expenses of the Service include $9,200 to complete the reorganization of the headquarters office in the District of Columbia and $48,950 is provided for the operation of the grazing districts in the field, including three new districts in Colorado and New Mexico. These increases are offset by the elimination of several field positions, nonrecurring equipment items of expense not required in 1942, and by a reduction of $10,000 in the amount provided for district advisers. An additional $75,000 is included for the rental of grazing lands as authorized by the Pierce Act of June 23, 1938. This is a receipt limitation. The first appropriation for this purpose was provided for the fiscal year 1940.

In the soil and moisture conservation operations transferred from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of the Interior, a decrease of $43,000 is possible due to the elimination of certain nonrecurring items of expense. The amount recommended for 1942 is $2,250,000.

The contingent expenses estimate shows an increase of $29,810, due in part to the transfer of funds from the Fish and Wildlife Service, and in part to a nonrecurring amount for the purchase of equipment for the various bureaus of the Department. An increase of $42,760 is recommended for printing and binding. This increase is apportioned principally to the National Park Service for the printing of informative circulars demanded by fee-paying visitors, to the Bureau of Mines for printing the revised first-aid manual, to the Fish and Wildlife Service for the publication of approximately 30 major manuscripts, in addition to 15 or more reprints of various publications, and the amount transferred from the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture to the Department of the Interior. The net reduction in the several appropriations under the Office of the Secretary is $2,329,176.

For the General Land Office there is a net decrease of $92,940. The principal item of decrease is $143,880 under the estimate for surveying public lands, for which the amount recommended is $750,000. Other items of decrease are reorganization savings, $2,000; the biennial appropriation for maps of the United States, $10,000; and the payment to States of 5 percent of proceeds from sales of public lands, $5,000. The principal item of increase is an amount of $50,000 for the administration and fire protection of the Revested Oregon and California Railroad and Reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road Grant Lands. The act of August 28, 1937, provides that 25 percent of the receipts from these lands may be made available for administration. An increase of $15,440 is recommended for strengthening General Land Office field functions.

The total estimate for the Bureau of Indian Affairs, exclusive of trust funds and public works projects, is $402,755.89 less than the 1941 appropriation. The total amount recommended is $27,020,808. Increases under general expenses include $16,200 for salaries in the District of Columbia, of which $4,000 is transferred from another appropriation and $6,400 represents the reallocation of positions. The remainder is for additional personnel in the Fiscal Division and the Budget office. An increase of $8,500 is recommended for the rental of accounting machines in the Washington office to permit more expeditious handling of accounts. For the maintenance of agency buildings an increase of $12,000 is recommended.

The act of June 11, 1940 (Public, No. 590, 76th Cong.), authorized an appropriation of $75,000 to reimburse Indian allottees and Indian heirs of allottees for all taxes paid on so much of their allotted lands as, having been patented in fee prior to the expiration of the period of trust, without application by or consent of the patentee, has been or may be restored to trust status through cancelation of the fee patent by the Secretary of the Interior. To carry out the purposes of this act $50,000 is included in the estimates. To liquidate the contractual authorization for the acquisition of land for Indian tribes $325,000 is provided, and further contractual authority is omitted. Increases totaling $37,360 are recommended for industrial assistance and advancement, of which $24,750 is for salaries and expenses of 10 employees to assist in credit activities on some of the larger reservations, and $7,200 represents a transfer from another estimate. The increase is more than offset by other changes, including the elimination of nonrecurring items, resulting in a net decrease of $6,280 in this item. For the maintenance of domestic and stock water supplies for Indians in Arizona, New Mexico, and Utah an increase of $10,000 is recommended. There is a net increase of $22,033 in the amount provided for the operation and maintenance of Indian irrigation projects. This increase is to provide principally for operation and maintenance costs in connection with new developments.

There is a net increase of $38,690 on account of Indian educational activities. The principal item of increase is $103,900 for education of natives of Alaska, largely for greater attendance in the day and boarding schools, the repair and maintenance of buildings, freight, operation and repair of vessels, and supervision and general administration. This increase is offset to a considerable extent by reductions in the amounts required for education of Indian pupils in the States, due to some shrinkage in attendance, and to a decrease in the amount recommended for educational loans.

There is an increase of $151,405 for health activities among the Indians in the United States and the natives of Alaska, of which $105,200 is due to additional positions required to put nurses and other institutional employees in all Indian hospitals, except those in Alaska, on a 44-hour week. Provision was made in 1941 for a 44-hour week for Indian hospitals where the average daily patient load was 45 or above. The remainder of the increase is due principally to additional personnel, freight, supplies, and equipment required for the medical service in Alaska, including full-year operation for two new hospitals provided for in 1941 on a part-year basis.

For general support of Indians and administration of Indian property there is a net reduction of $643,980. In each of the past three emergency relief appropriation acts, a specific appropriation was made to the Office of Indian Affairs for the relief and rehabilitation of needy Indians. When the 1941 relief bill was reported to the House, the committee stated that this item should be included in the regular Interior Department appropriation bill. In this estimate $1,300,000 is provided for the relief and rehabilitation of needy Indians as compared with $2,000,000 provided for 1941. This item will not appear in the relief bill for 1942. An increase occurs in the estimate for the Reindeer Service in Alaska in the amount of $15,740, to permit more adequate supervision and handling of the newly acquired reindeer herds. There is a reduction of $50,000 in the amount required to pay interest on Indian trust funds deposited in the United States Treasury.

For the Bureau of Reclamation there is a net increase of $33,000 on account of the operation and maintenance of existing irrigation systems paid from the reclamation fund. Increases on this account aggregate $53,000, of which $26,000 is for operating and maintaining the expanded distribution system and repairing canals damaged by major slides on the Owyhee project, Oregon, and $15,000 for repairs to the Elephant Butte Dam of the Rio Grande project, New Mexico-Texas. These increases are offset by reductions in the amounts allowed for other projects. Other items for the Bureau of Reclamation will be found under the General Public Works Program.

For the Geological Survey net increases aggregating $1,254,990 are included. Items of increase include $1,215,- 990 for the extended mapping program of strategic areas. Funds for 1941 have been provided by transfer from an appropriation for such purpose made to the War Department. An increase of $50,000 is provided for cooperative stream gaging in the United States. The estimates for the Geological Survey include $195,000 for completing studies relating to strategic and critical minerals, authorized by section 7 of the act of June 7, 1939, wherein a specific authorization for the appropriation of $150,000 a year for 4 years was made. The principal item of decrease is an amount of $50,000 for this purpose. Because of defense requirements this work will be completed 1 year earlier than originally planned.

For the Bureau of Mines there is a net increase of $754,590, the principal items of which are $930,000 for manganese beneficiation pilot plants and laboratory research work now being carried on with transferred funds from the War Department appropriation "Expediting production"; $34,960 for the purpose of speeding up the work of the Bureau in the gathering and compilation of statistics relating to strategic metals, as well as for a continuation of special canvasses and surveys of various metals of mineral origin that are directly related to industrial preparedness and munitions manufacture; and $10,000 for the construction of a building suitable for an electric furnace experimental laboratory adjacent to the Bureau of Mines electrotechnical laboratory at Norris, Tenn. These increases are offset by a principal reduction of $200,000 in the appropriation for the investigation of domestic sources of mineral supply.

The 1942 estimates for the National Park Service, exclusive of items in the General Public Works Program, show a net increase of $217,100, resulting from increases amounting to $882,545 and decreases aggregating $665,445. The principal items of decrease are $375,000 for the development and rearrangement of grounds surrounding the Thomas Jefferson Memorial in West Potomac Park, Washington, D. C.; $86,000 for the Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission; $76,130 for National Historical Parks and Monuments; $44,500 for the Andrew Johnson National Monument, Tenn.; $25,000 for the Patrick Henry National Monument, Tenn.; and $22,405 for the General Grant National Park, Calif. (now part of Kings Canyon National Park). Items of increase include $75,000 for the United States Travel Bureau, heretofore financed from emergency fund allotments; $160,100 for salaries and expenses of National Capital Parks; $80,500 for the administration, protection and maintenance of Mammoth Cave National Park, Ky., including cave operations heretofore handled by the Mammoth Cave Operating Committee; and general increases for administration of the national parks, monuments, and other areas, due to additional requirements for road maintenance, snow removal, especially in those areas opened for winter sports, extension of park facilities, collection of fees, and the increased use of the parks.

There is a net increase of $418,257 in the Fish and Wildlife Service. This increase is accounted for principally in the amount to be paid to States under the Wildlife Restoration Act of September 2, 1937. This fund is derived from taxes on firearms, shells, and cartridges, and under the law not less than 92 percent thereof is to be apportioned to the several States. Other items of increase include $30,940 for the operation of new hatchery facilities; $24,280 for the full time operation of 3 new fishery laboratories in Puerto Rico, Alaska, and College Park, Md.; $18,680 for Alaskan fisheries, principally for improvements on the Pribilof Islands; $32,000 for the continuation of research heretofore financed through the allocation of funds appropriated to the Department of Agriculture pursuant to the Bankhead-Jones Act; and $80,550 for maintenance of mammal and bird reservations, including the construction of certain facilities on new refuges. These increases are offset by miscellaneous reductions, including $100,000 for studies with reference to the king-crab fishery off the coast of Alaska, $30,000 for the construction of a diversion dam on Sandy River in Oregon, $28,500 for nonrecurring construction and equipment items in connection with the enforcement of the Alaska game law, and $37,710 for nonrecurring items for the propagation of food fishes.

The estimates under the head of Government in the Territories show a net increase of $67,490 for Alaska. There is an increase of $114,500 for the construction and maintenance of roads, bridges, and trails in Alaska under the jurisdiction of the Alaska Road Commission, including $26,000 for rebuilding the wharf at Juneau. Provision is made for an additional five insane Alaska patients in the Morningside Hospital at Portland, Oreg., which involves an increase of $3,240. The principal decrease offsetting these and other minor increases is $50,000, a biennial appropriation for the expenses of the Alaskan Legislature. There is a reduction of $47,000 in the estimates for the Territory of Hawaii which is due to the omission of the biennial appropriation for the expenses of the Territorial legislature made in odd-numbered years.

There is an increase of $37,720 for the government of the Virgin Islands, which amount includes $30,000 as an additional contribution to assist the municipality of St. Croix in meeting operating expenses. The remainder of the increase is for personal services in connection with leprosy control and the purchase of equipment for the cooperative division of the agricultural experiment station in St. Croix and its extension station in St. Thomas for municipal homesteaders. There is a net reduction in the total estimate for Government in the Territories of $4,121,490. The principal item of decrease is represented by the elimination of the special appropriation of $4,000,000 for continuing work in Puerto Rico by the Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration. Relief needs in this Territory will be met through operations financed from appropriations made for relief purposes.

The 1942 estimates of permanent appropriations aggregate $7,649,100, a decrease of $420,000 from 1941. The reduction is accounted for by a reduction of $440,000 in the Alaska Railroad special fund and an increase of $20,000 in the item covering payment to States from receipts under the Grazing Act.

There is a net decrease of $413,400 in trust accounts, occasioned by a decrease of $304,100 in the accounts under the control of the Bureau of Reclamation, $9,300 in the accounts under the control of the Fish and Wildlife Service, and $100,000 in funds contributed by the Territorial Government and others for the improvement of roads, bridges, and trails in Alaska.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

The estimates for the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of public works projects and trust accounts, amount to $66,126,090, which, compared with appropriations for the fiscal year 1941, involves a net increase of $4,667,903. This is composed of an increase for the Federal Bureau of Investigation of $2,681,200; an increase for the Immigration and Naturalization Service of $733,961; an increase for penal and correctional institutions of $284,915; an increase for salaries and expenses of field services in connection with the Federal courts pertaining to the offices of district attorneys, United States marshals, pay of bailiffs, fees of witnesses, etc., of $232,270; and an increase for salaries and expenses of other units of the Department of Justice of $735,557.

The increase of $2,681,200 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation is required in part to provide for an increase of 500 special agents in the field, with the attendant personnel and miscellaneous expenses, in addition to 1,547 such agents provided by existing appropriations for the fiscal year 1941. This increase in the number of special agents is predicated upon the additional investigative work required of this service in connection with the national-defense program. Provision is also made for additional fingerprint classifiers, with attendant personnel and miscellaneous expenses to handle the additional work imposed upon this bureau by the Alien Registration Act of 1940. It now appears that supplemental appropriations will be required for the fiscal year 1941 to provide for necessary investigative work in connection with the national-defense program, including investigations required by the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

Under Reorganization Plan V, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Immigration and Naturalization Service was transferred, effective June 14, 1940, from the Department of Labor to the Department of Justice. Soon after the transfer this Service was charged with the task of administering the Alien Registration Act, 1940, approved June 28, 1940, requiring for the first time in our history, the registration and fingerprinting of all aliens in this country. Under the law the registration was required to be completed by December 26, 1940, and it is now estimated that the number of aliens will approximate 4,500,000. This legislation made necessary the expansion of the Service which in Washington is now housed in 6 widely separated rented buildings.

The estimates for the Immigration and Naturalization Service reflect an increase over existing appropriations for the fiscal year 1941 of $611,738, exclusive of the estimates for printing and binding and contingent expenses which have been transferred to and consolidated with like appropriations for the Department of Justice. For these two items an increase of $122,223 pertaining to the requirements of this Service is included in the Budget estimates, making a total increase for said Service of $733,961.

A supplemental appropriation of $3,000,000 was provided to cover the expenses of the registration of aliens for the fiscal year 1941, but both the number of aliens to be registered and the cost of such work was underestimated. It now appears that an additional appropriation of approximately $2,000,000 will be required for work in connection with registration of aliens during the current year. Therefore, the total cost for the registration of aliens for the current fiscal year will approximate $5,000,000. Further, the Alien Registration Act requires the registration and fingerprinting of alien children reaching the age of 14 years, aliens employed as seamen, and all aliens entering the country for any reason, which it is estimated will involve about 1,000,000 registrations during each future year. There is included $1,200,000 in the Budget for 1942 for the compilation of data and the consummation of the work relating to registration commenced during 1941, as well as to provide for the registration and fingerprinting during 1942 of about 1,000,000 additional aliens, as stated above.

As a result of the registration of aliens, and the administration of the national-defense program by other Federal agencies, the work relating to immigration and naturalization has been greatly increased. In addition to the investigative work involved, large numbers of persons are requesting the Service to furnish information so that they may establish documentary evidence of citizenship as a prerequisite for their obtaining employment by industry and Federal and local governmental agencies; other large numbers of requests are being made by persons seeking certificates of derivative citizenship; and there is a large increase in the number of aliens making applications for naturalization. To provide for reasonable administration of the immigration and naturalization work will require an additional amount of $2,533,961, which offset by a reduction of $1,800,000 required for alien registration, leaves a net increase of $733,961 over available appropriations for 1941.

In view of the fact that the various functions and procedures of this Service are so intermingled and interwoven, one with another, it is proposed that with the exception of the items for printing and binding and contingent expenses, mentioned above, the requirements of the Service be provided for by one appropriation which should make for better and more flexible administration and result in some economies of operation.

The increase of $284,915 recommended for penal and correctional institutions is necessary to provide for an anticipated increase of approximately 4½ percent in prison population for the fiscal year 1942. There are 29 penal and correctional institutions, comprising 6 penitentiaries, 5 reformatories, 11 Federal jails, 5 prison camps, 1 hospital, and a boys' training school. For a number of years the Army disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., have been occupied as a Federal prison under a revocable lease from the War Department. During the current fiscal year this prison has been returned to the War Department for use in connection with the national-defense program, and the Federal prisoners were transferred to other Federal penal institutions.

The increase of $232,270 for salaries and expenses, offices of district attorneys, United States marshals, etc., is necessary to provide for additional personnel and expenses incident to the increase in the number of Federal judges recently authorized by law.

The increase of $735,557 for salaries, contingent expenses, printing and binding, and travel expenses for other units of the Department of Justice not included above is required to provide for the increase in duties imposed upon the Department in connection with the national-defense program and the increase in the number of Federal judges.

For the fiscal year 1941, $575,000 was appropriated for compensation of special attorneys. For the fiscal year 1942 only $200,000 is recommended for special attorneys in the field, and $367,200 is transferred to the various operating units of the Department to provide for salaries of special attorneys where the work falls under the head of any general division of the Department, thus permitting the appropriation for special attorneys in the field to be confined exclusively to attorneys whose services are needed for a single, express purpose and whose employment can be terminated after they have completed such particular duty. This change in estimates of appropriations is made pursuant to a recommendation contained in the report of the House Committee on Appropriations on the 1941 appropriation bill.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Under the provisions of Reorganization Plan V and in accordance with the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Immigration and Naturalization Service was, effective July 1, 1940, transferred from the Department of Labor to the Department of Justice. This necessitated a transfer of $10,188,427 of appropriations for the fiscal year 1941 to the Department of Justice, including not only direct appropriations for the Immigration and Naturalization Service but related items for travel, contingent expenses, and printing and binding. In addition, the Department of Labor transferred $3,350 to the Post Office Department under Reorganization Plan IV.

The estimates for the Department of Labor for the fiscal year 1942 aggregate $23,777,680, an increase of $765,067 over the comparable appropriations for 1941.

Under the heading "Office of the Secretary" the estimates provide a total of $4,598,850, which includes, in addition to salaries in the Secretary's Office, proper provision for salaries and expenses, Office of the Solicitor, the Division of Labor Standards, the Conciliation Service, the Division of Public Contracts, liaison with the International Labor Organization, and for other expenses pertaining to the Labor Department as a whole, including contingencies, travel, and printing and binding. The net total increase in these items amounts to $795,817, of which $458,010 represents transfers from departmental appropriations where corresponding decreases have been made, and $337,807 is for other increases. The estimate for salaries of the Office of the Secretary proper shows an increase of $43,740, all of which, except $4,600 for one additional position, represents transfers included in the $458,000 referred to above. There is an increase of $2,627 for contingent expenses, $289,700 for traveling expenses, principally for inspectors of the Wage and Hour Division provided for on annual and full-force basis, and $6,500 for printing and binding.

In the Office of the Solicitor, the estimate shows an increase of $418,870. The entire amount of this increase represents transfers of legal and related clerical positions from other agencies of the Department under a consolidation of all departmental legal services by the Secretary in the Office of the Solicitor. Corresponding reductions have been made in the estimates for the services from which the positions were transferred.

In the Division of Labor Standards the estimates show an increase of $38,240 principally for placing on a full-time basis positions in the apprenticeship section, which were provided for part of 1941.

The estimate for the Conciliation Service shows an increase of $60,920 over the 1941 appropriation. The increase provides for salaries and expenses of 20 additional conciliators necessary because of expanding industrial activities.

The item for "Salaries and expenses, International Labor Organization," shows a decrease of $12,280 which is due to the moving of the International Labor Office from Geneva, Switzerland, to Canada. The Division of Public Contracts shows a net decrease in its estimate of $52,500, due to the transfer of legal and clerical positions, involving $80,840, to the office of the Solicitor, offset in part by 14 new positions, amounting to $28,340, necessary because of the increased number of Government contracts.

For the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a total estimate of $1,077,420 is submitted, a net decrease under the amount appropriated for 1941 of $30,160. This decrease is accounted for by nonrecurring items totaling $106,800, against which are increases of $76,640, for statistical work relating to construction and public employment, productivity and labor costs, and wholesale prices and the publication of a labor yearbook.

The estimates for the Children's Bureau aggregate $12,211,400, a decrease of $5,100 under the total appropriation for 1941. Of the total, $11,200,000 represents grants to States in amounts authorized by the Social Security Act, as amended. The balance, $1,011,400, includes $370,500 for the regular administrative and research work of the Children's Bureau; $276,900 for salaries and expenses in connection with the enforcement of the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and $364,000 for carrying out the responsibilities of the Children's Bureau in connection with the grants to States for maternal and child health services, services for crippled children, and child welfare services under title V of the Social Security Act.

For the Women's Bureau, the estimate shows a net increase of $2,000 over the amount of $154,700 appropriated for 1941. The increase includes $5,000 for making studies of the 1940 census figures as they relate to employment of women, against which there is a decrease of $3,000 for a project completed in 1941.

While the estimates for the Wage and Hour Division, which total $5,733,310, indicate an apparent increase of $2,510 over the 1941 appropriation, actually the increase is $370,820. The estimate reflects a reduction for legal personnel, transferred to the office of the Solicitor of the Department of Labor and other positions transferred to other offices of the Department. The estimates for this division provide the amount necessary to employ the inspection force on a full-time basis in 1942.

NAVY DEPARTMENT

The naval estimates for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of trust funds and contract authorizations, aggregate $3,358,732,186. The estimates provide for the liquidation of existing contract authorizations and for personnel, supplies and material required to carry on expanded operations for the Navy and Marine Corps during the fiscal year 1942.

The estimates are allocated to Bureaus and activities as follows:

Office of the Secretary	$415, 895, 933
Bureau of Navigation	55, 152, 643
Bureau of Ships	206, 470, 000
Bureau of Ordnance	167, 570, 000
Bureau of Supplies and Accounts	61, 758, 000
Bureau of Medicine and Surgery	5, 560, 000
Bureau of Yards and Docks, including public works	275, 469, 860
Bureau of Aeronautics	434, 550, 000
Marine Corps	72, 887, 900
Major alterations to naval vessels	142, 000, 000
Replacement of naval vessels	1, 515, 000, 000
Departmental salaries and expenses	6, 417, 850
Total	3, 358, 732, 186

In addition to the estimates of cash requirements for 1942 described above, contract authorizations of $38,672,894 and $150,000,000 have been provided for public works and for alterations to naval vessels, respectively. Under the existing emergency legislation the amounts provided for departmental salaries and expenses may be supplemented to whatever extent may be deemed necessary by the use of field appropriations.

The total receipts under trust accounts for the year are estimated at $3,085,000.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

The Post Office Department estimates are included as an Annexed Budget, since the excess of expenditures over the postal revenues is paid from the general fund of the Treasury, and only such excess is carried to statement No. 2 of the Budget for 1942 and to the General Budget summary and supporting schedules.

It is estimated that the postal revenues for the fiscal year 1942 will amount to $795,000,000. The estimates of appropriations included in the Annexed Budget aggregate $846,012,587, exceeding the estimated postal revenues by $51,012,587, which amount will be charged against the general fund of the Treasury.

The details concerning the estimates for the Post Office Department will be found in the summary tables and explanatory statement under the Annexed Budget.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The estimates of this Department for the fiscal year 1942, exclusive of construction projects and trust accounts, amount to $19,768,928, a net decrease of $261,152 below the comparable appropriations for the fiscal year 1941. This net decrease is made up as follows: $32,780 for the Office of the Secretary of State, and $555,600 for the Foreign Service, less increases of $327,228 for international obligations, commissions, bureaus, etc.

The net decrease of $32,780 in the estimates for the Office of the Secretary of State consists of $67,380 for personal services, $26,100 for printing and binding, and $5,000 for collecting and editing official papers of Territories of the United States, a total decrease of $98,480, from which are deducted increases of $53,000 for national defense activities, and $12,700 for contingent expenses.

The estimate for salaries of Foreign Service officers shows a net increase of $66,600 for automatic promotions as authorized by law. The estimate for salaries of Foreign Service clerks, is increased $30,000 to provide salary rates of alien clerks which will more nearly conform to local wage standards. For salaries and allowances of miscellaneous employees in the Foreign Service, there is a net increase of $33,000, including $24,000 for eight additional couriers due to unsettled conditions abroad, and $9,000 to adjust salaries of alien clerks more nearly in line with local wage standards.

The estimate for transportation of Foreign Service officers and employees shows a net decrease of $5,800. This is accomplished by a reduction of $17,800 in the allowance for transportation of ambassadors and ministers, offset by increases of $2,000 for regional conferences in the Western Hemisphere, and $10,000 for temporary details of employees caused by unsettled world conditions.

There is a net increase of $12,900 in contingent expenses of the Foreign Service, composed principally of $55,000 for travel expenses of eight additional couriers, and $5,000 for radio broadcasts to foreign posts; less decreases of $14,180 for household furniture, $25,000 for repairs to Government buildings, $2,500 for returning old records to the National Archives, $2,336 for Foreign Service regulation binders, $2,150 for motor vehicles, and $864 for radio receivers.

In the estimate for the Foreign Service retirement and disability appropriated fund, there is an increase of $12,700 to provide for the current annual cost, interest on the deficit, and an annual amount for amortization which will place the fund in a position to meet all obligations within the next 44 years.

The estimate for representation allowances has been increased from $150,000 to $170,000, more nearly to meet the requirements of the Service. There is recommended for United States contributions to international commissions, congresses, and bureaus for the fiscal year 1942, $1,074,228, as against $1,083,000 for the fiscal year 1941, a decrease of $8,772. An estimate is included for a new item of $15,000 for arbitration of claims between the United States and the Netherlands.

The estimate for emergencies arising in the diplomatic and consular service has been decreased $725,000. Should the amount recommended be insufficient to provide for unforeseen emergencies, there is a provision in this appropriation that whenever the President finds a state of emergency exists, endangering the lives of American citizens in any foreign country, he may make available for expenditure for the protection of such citizens not to exceed $500,000 by transfer to this appropriation from the various appropriations under the head "Foreign Intercourse," and that reimbursements by American citizens to whom relief has been extended shall be credited to any appropriation from which funds have been transferred for such purposes.

The estimate for the convention for promotion of inter-American cultural relations contains a net increase of $17,000, composed principally of $24,000 to provide a maximum annual salary of $3,000 to professors going from the United States to other American republics; less a decrease of $6,930 because of the failure of Colombia to ratify the convention.

An increase of $8,200 is recommended for the International Boundary Commission, United States and Mexico, to provide principally for an engineering investigation to determine the uses of the waters of the Colorado River along the boundary between the United States and Mexico.

The estimate for the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission contains an increase of $5,000 to match the amount it is understood will be appropriated by Canada for this activity.

There is an increase of $336,300 in the estimate for cooperation with the American republics, composed principally of $47,040 for selecting, translating, and disseminating Government publications to the other American republics; $101,000 for travel of students, professors, and educational, professional, and artistic leaders, including not only citizens of the United States, but of the other American republics; $50,000 for survey of noncompetitive plant resources of the American republics; $25,000 for a survey of strategic and deficient minerals; $22,500 for cooperation in maternal and child welfare; $15,000 for student training in weather forecasting; $13,000 for tidal investigations and magnetic observations; $12,500 for the promotion of travel between the American republics; and $43,840 for various cultural projects sponsored by the Library of Congress.

Appropriations for the fiscal year 1941 for various international commissions and conferences, and miscellaneous items, which will not be required for the fiscal year 1942, amount to $45,500.

The expenditures from trust accounts for the fiscal year 1942 are estimated at $2,816,880, an increase of $7,700 above the fiscal year 1941.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Under Reorganization Plan III, approved by the President pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939 and made effective July 1, 1940, there was vested in the Secretary of the Treasury full authority for the administration of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act. As a result the functions of the former Federal Alcohol Administration have been correlated with the activities of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Also under this plan those functions of the Treasury Department pertaining to financing and fiscal activities were consolidated in a Fiscal Service, under the direction of a permanent Fiscal Assistant Secretary.

Exclusive of trust funds, the Budget estimates of the Treasury Department provide for direct appropriations in 1942 totaling $2,105,409,917, an increase of $66,323,614, over the 1941 figures. Reappropriations of unobligated balances are contemplated for 1942 to the extent of $22,854,394, a decrease of $23,830,000 from 1941. The total direct appropriations plus reappropriations available for 1942 represents, therefore, an increase of $42,493,614 over amounts available for 1941. In addition, a contract authorization of $6,370,000 is included in the Budget for the completion of three Coast Guard cutters. The principal items of increase and decrease are accounted for as follows:

Annual appropriations.—The total 1942 Treasury Department estimates for annual appropriations amount to $309,346,405, which is a decrease of $35,920,471 below the annual appropriations for 1941. This net decrease results from the omission of nonrecurring appropriations totaling $10,631,741 for administrative expenses, Treasury Department, made in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1941; from the omission of an appropriation of $60,000,000 made for the fiscal year 1941 for strategic and critical materials; and from a reduction of $1,267,000 in amounts required for payment of interest on mortgages of the Federal land banks and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. These decreases are offset in part by increases of $21,000,000 for refunding internal revenue collections, $4,800,000 for Customs refunds and draw-backs, and $10,178,270 in the annual operating appropriations.

The $10,178,270 increase in annual operating appropriation estimates results from the following detailed increases: National-defense activities of the Department, $1,774,030, of which $1,103,075 is in Coast Guard estimates; administration of the Revenue Act of 1940, $5,122,890 (including $25,800 for stationery supplies); $1,130,337 for the disbursement and clearing of checks for the Social Security Board; $1,422,196 for production of United States currency, securities, revenue stamps, etc.; and $728,817 for other purposes, principally for contingent expenses, printing and binding, stationery, and additional personnel in the Bureau of Customs and the Procurement Division.

In connection with the various items of increase mentioned in this synopsis for handling Social Security Board benefit-payment checks, it should be understood that not all of these increases are required by increased number of checks but result, in part, from the fact that prior to the fiscal year 1942 the Social Security Board has transferred funds to the Treasury Department for the performance of this work.

The principal items of increase and decrease by bureaus and offices are as follows:

The estimates of the Office of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1942 total $38,999,360, which is an increase of $569,000 over the appropriations for 1941. This increase is the result of a requirement for $36,000 to continue in 1942 national-defense activities of the Office of the Secretary, which are being carried on in 1941 from an allocation of funds from the emergency fund for the President and $1,800,000 to carry out the purposes of Executive Order No. 8389 of April 10, 1940, as amended by subsequent Executive orders, issued under the provisions of section 5 (b) of the act of October 6, 1917 (40 Stat. 411–415), as amended, for foreign exchange and property control. The Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1940, appropriated $700,000 for this purpose, to remain available until June 30, 1941. These increases are offset in part by decreases of $867,000 and $400,000 for payments to Federal land banks and to the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, respectively, on account of reductions in interest rates on mortgages.

An increase of $66,800 is recommended for the Division of Research and Statistics for the purpose of continuing in 1942 the collection and compilation of statistics for the Secretary of the Treasury in connection with the national-defense program. This work is being carried on in 1941 from funds allocated from the emergency fund for the President.

The estimates for the Office of the Chief Clerk amount to $553,200, which is an increase of $120,204 over the appropriations for 1941. There is an increase in the salary appropriation of $14,755, of which $8,875 is for salaries of employees being paid in 1941 from an allocation from the emergency fund for the President. They will continue to be needed in 1942 to handle clerical work incident to the national-defense activities of the Department. The remainder of the increase in this appropriation, $5,880, is for the transfer of two employees now detailed to this office and for two additional employees. The increase in the appropriation for contingent expenses, $105,449, consists of $70,900 for expenses incident to the national-defense activities of the Department, $8,000 for equipment for additional employees in the Office of the Treasurer of the United States required to clear Social Security Board benefit payment checks, $8,887 for rental of additional mechanical equipment, and the remainder is for purchase of office machines and supplies, including operating supplies for the Treasury Department Buildings.

Total estimates for the Custody of Departmental Buildings, $760,504, show a net decrease of $520 in the appropriation for the operating force and an increase of $116,900 in the appropriation for the guard force. The increase consists principally of $77,600 for additional guards made necessary by the existing national emergency, and $27,300 to provide adequate relief for guards on regular permanent assignments.

The estimates for the Division of Printing amount to $1,317,440, which is an increase of $170,480 over the appropriations for 1941. Of this increase, $56,500 is for stationery supplies and printing and binding required for the Department's national-defense activities, principally for the Coast Guard; $25,800 is for stationery supplies for the Bureau of Internal Revenue to administer the Revenue Act of 1940; $53,000 is for the Procurement Division to provide for regular needs met in recent years from emergency appropriations; and the remainder, $35,180, is for check copies and stationery supplies required in the Division of Disbursement and the Office of the Treasurer to issue and clear approximately 17,395,000 Social Security Board benefit payment checks, and for increased printing and binding and stationery supplies for the various bureaus and offices of the Department.

Appropriation estimates for the Office of Commissioner of Accounts amount to $3,372,073, which is a decrease of $5,714,361 below the appropriations for 1941. This net decrease results principally from nonrecurring appropriations of $4,625,700 and $1,953,041 for administrative expenses, Bureau of Accounts and Division of Disbursement, respectively, made in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1941; an increase of $817,800 for the Division of Disbursement required to issue approximately 17,395,000 checks for the Social Security Board, an increase of $27,580 for the Bureau of Accounts largely on account of an increased volume of work incident to the national-defense program, and $25,000 additional for the transportation of mutilated United States paper currency to Washington for redemption.

The total annual estimates of appropriations for the Bureau of the Public Debt amount to $3,488,450, which is an increase of $313,450. A $314,000 increase has been provided for purchase of distinctive paper for the manufacture of United States currency which is offset to the extent of $550 by a nonrecurring equipment item.

The annual estimates of the office of the Treasurer of the United States for 1942 total $1,845,160, which is an increase of $48,240 over the appropriations for 1941. This net increase is the result of increases of $532,480 for additional personnel, and $5,760 for additional personnel for redemption of Federal Reserve notes, and a decrease of $490,000 for a nonrecurring appropriation for administrative expenses made in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1941. The increase in the salary appropriation of $532,480 is made up principally of $295,700 for the cost of clearing checks for the Social Security Board and $204,000 for clearing checks issued on account of the national defense program.

Appropriation estimates of the Bureau of Customs for 1942 total $40,086,280, which is an increase of $4,986,280 over the appropriations for 1941. The major increase is an item of $4,800,000 in the appropriation for payment of refunds and drawbacks. The increase of $186,280 in the operating appropriation is principally for additional customs guards and for additional personnel required for inaugurating a new and improved method of determining the clean content of imported wool for customs purposes.

In view of the great difficulty of estimating the requirements for refunds and drawbacks, Bureau of Customs, and for refunding internal revenue collections, Bureau of Internal Revenue, there is submitted in the 1942 Budget amended appropriation language which will make these items indefinite appropriations, under which the Department may spend the amount that may be required for these specific purposes.

The total of the annual estimates of the Bureau of Internal Revenue for 1942 is $135,696,350, which is an increase of $24,469,540 over the appropriations for 1941. The principal increases are $21,000,000 in the appropriation for refunding internal revenue collections, and $5,097,090 for additional personnel and incidental expenses to collect the internal revenue. Of the latter amount, approximately $3,000,000 is on account of additional employees provided for by supplemental appropriations on a part-year basis in 1941. These increases are offset in part by reductions of $1,622,000 in the salaries and expenses appropriation for refunding processing taxes, and $5,550 under the appropriation for additional income tax on railroads in Alaska.

The estimates for the United States Processing Tax Board of Review and the Bureau of Narcotics for 1942 are $20,000 and $24,805, respectively, less than the appropriations for 1941, the decreases representing principally items for rent in the District of Columbia recommended for transfer to the Public Buildings Administration, Federal Works Agency.

The total estimates for 1942 for the Coast Guard amount to $65,381,150, which is an increase of $1,103,075 over the appropriations for 1941. This net increase is the result of increases of $29,740 for salaries in the office of the Commandant, $6,579,665 for pay and allowances, $163,000 for replacement of airplanes, $266,000 for construction of vessels and shore facilities, $2,120,000 for special projects, vessels, and aids to navigation; and $115,000 for retired pay of former Lighthouse Service employees. These increases are offset in part by decreases of $6,861,890 in the appropriation for general expenses, and $1,308,440 in the appropriation for civilian employees. The increases are principally attributable to the national-defense activities of the Coast Guard, resulting in additional enlisted personnel and in construction and equipment of vessels and other facilities. In addition to the above-mentioned total for the Coast Guard, there is included a contract authorization of $6,370,000 for the completion of three Coast Guard cutters, construction of which will be started with amounts included in the 1942 estimates.

The estimate for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for 1942 of $10,000,000 is an increase of $1,551,776 over the appropriation for 1941. This increase consists of $1,210,572 for engraving and printing United States currency, revenue stamps, and checks, and $341,204 for plant replacements and repairs.

Appropriation estimates of the Secret Service Division for 1942 amount to $1,280,943, which is a decrease of $33,457 below the appropriation for 1941. Nonrecurring items of $163,000 for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1941 and $1,500 for uniforms and equipment for the White House police are offset in part by increases totaling $131,043 for additional personnel and incidental expenses to care for the increased work of the division. Of this increase, $130,400 is required to continue in the fiscal year 1942 the national-defense activities of the division being financed in 1941 from an allocation of funds from the emergency fund for the President.

The estimates of the Bureau of the Mint for the fiscal year 1942 total $3,512,840, which is a decrease of $443,580 below the appropriations for 1941. This net decrease is the result of nonrecurring items totaling $844,792, principally for replacement and improvement of equipment in the mints, which are offset in part by increases totaling $401,212. The increases consist of $5,646 for salaries and incidental expenses in the Office of the Director of the Mint, $172,500 for shipments of gold and silver from San Francisco to Denver and from New York to West Point, respectively, and $223,066 for installation of electric furnaces and replacement and repair of worn equipment.

The Procurement Division estimate for 1942 amounts to $889,000, which is a reduction below the 1941 appropriations of $63,198,173. This net decrease results from nonrecurring items of $3,400,000 for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1941, and $60,000,000 for strategic and critical materials. These decreases are offset in part by an increase of $201,827 for salaries and expenses of the Procurement Division. The increase is for expenses of a statistical division, and increases in Federal specifications and Federal Standard Stock Catalog work.

Permanent appropriations.—The estimates of permanent appropriations for 1942 total $2,622,163,512, an increase of $334,544,085 over 1941. This increase includes $125,000,000 for interest payments on the public debt, $209,250,000 for debt retirement, including the special fund required to be set aside for redemption of national defense series obligations under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1940, and $294,885 for expenses of loans under the Bureau of the Public Debt for additional funds to reimburse the Post Office Department for expenses connected with the handling of United States savings bonds and for reimbursement to Federal Reserve banks for expenses incurred in their capacity as fiscal agents of the United States in connection with security issues. There is a decrease of $800 for a nonrecurring item under the Office of the Treasurer of the United States.

Trust accounts.—The estimates of appropriations under this head total $1,893,878,895, which is an increase of $164,975,525 over the requirements for 1941. This increase includes $70,428,325 for payments from the Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund, $94,537,200 for the investment of and payments from the unemployment trust fund, and $10,000 to cover the expenses incurred by the Bureau of Customs in supplying certain information relating to weights of Philippine sugar shipments in connection with the quota of the Philippine Islands as provided in the Sugar Act of 1937.

WAR DEPARTMENT

Military activities.—For liquidation of obligations accruing under prior contract authorizations, for all operating expenses of the Military Establishment, and for the augmentation of supplies, equipment, and facilities for carrying forward that part of the national defense program pertaining to the War Department, the Budget for the fiscal year 1942 provides for appropriations totaling $5,967,294,672, exclusive of trust funds. In addition, the estimates propose the granting of contractual authority to the Secretary of War to incur obligations to the extent of $996,258,195 for additional supplies, equipment, and facilities, for the liquidation of which obligations estimates of appropriations will be submitted to Congress in the Budget for the fiscal year 1943.

The above-mentioned estimates of appropriations and contract authorizations are allocated to the bureaus and activities of the War Department, as follows:

	Appropriations	Contract authorizations
Contingencies of the Army	$60,000
Expediting production	498,367,500	$195,867,500

Departmental activities.—For departmental salaries, contingent expenses, and printing and binding there are provided in the Budget for the fiscal year 1942 estimates for direct appropriations totaling $9,181,137. It is estimated that under special legislative authority, granted because of the existing emergency in national defense, the estimates for direct appropriation will be supplemented, during the fiscal year 1942, by the allotment of a total of $19,624,741 from field appropriations for military activities. The allocation of these funds to the departmental offices and activities of the War Department is as follows:

	Appropriations	Estimated allotment from field appropriations
Salaries, Office of—
Secretary of War	$579,600	$1,654,931
Chief of Staff	331,170	446,140

Army Medical Museum	14,400
Printing and binding	901,598	4,886,826
Grand total, departmental activities	9,181,137	19,624,741

Civil activities.—The net decrease of $5,975,215 for the civil activities of the War Department (exclusive of the Panama Canal, items under the General Public Works Program, and trust accounts) consists mainly of increases of $456,701 for cemeterial expenses arising from the expansion of the Army and of $24,752 for Alaska Communications System resulting largely from protective measures for the system and needs to handle increased traffic, and decreases, due to reduced requirements, of $3,345,270 for maintenance of river and harbor improvements, $799,900 for emergency flood control on tributaries of the Mississippi River, $1,100,000 for alteration of bridges over navigable waters, and of $1,210,350 for surveys and mapping of strategic areas due to a transfer of this item to the Department of the Interior program.

For the Panama Canal the 1942 estimates show an increase of $7,886,555. This deviation consists of increases of $19,932,000 for the construction of additional facilities, $103,006 for the civil government, and decreases of $21,170 for sanitation and $12,127,281 in the requirements for maintenance and operation due largely to a current decrease in the amount required for special protective works.

Trust accounts.—There is a net decrease in 1942 under this head of $3,573,769, due principally to a reduction in funds advanced for flood control.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The estimates of appropriations for the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1942, together with prior-year appropriations, are to be found in an Annexed Budget. The net expenditures, to the extent that they affect the general fund of the Treasury, are carried to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. The appropriation requirements for 1942, insofar as they constitute a charge upon the United States Treasury, are estimated at $6,000,000, the same amount appropriated for 1941. The details of the requirements of the District of Columbia are to be found in the summary and supporting schedules of the Annexed Budget.

Schedules of Obligations

In order to bring out information which is pertinent to an understanding of the personnel situation as it actually exists, a new form of personal service schedule is used on an experimental basis in the 1942 Budget under five appropriation items: Salaries and expenses, Federal Trade Commission; Salaries, Public Assistance Division, Federal Security Agency; Salaries, General Land Office, Department of the Interior; Salaries, Department of State; and Salaries and expenses, Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department.

The purpose of the new schedule is to: (1) Show the actual man-years and cost for 1940, (2) show the additional amounts required on account of promotions, reclassifications, etc., (3) reflect the commitments carried forward from year to year, (4) present clearly the increase or decrease in authorized positions resulting from the increase or decrease in funds available therefor, (5) put the estimates for personal services on a factual basis through the use of actual expenditures for 1940 as a base, (6) limit lapses to those resulting from delay in filling new positions, and (7) prevent the carrying of unfilled positions in the schedules of obligations in excess of the amount available therefor.

It will be noted that the 1940 column shows the actual number of man-years and cost of performing the work. The 1941 and 1942 columns do not show the positions carried forward into those years from 1940, but are confined in the 1941 column to the changes in man-years because of over-commitments in 1940, or an increase in available funds for 1941, and in 1942 to changes allowed in the current estimate.

The following is a brief definition of the various adjusting items included in the new schedule form:

Amount earned (permanent) represents the actual time in a pay status in terms of man-years and the actual gross salary earned during the year and is obtained from the actual pay-roll records.

Change in positions represents the increase or decrease in the number of authorized positions as the result of the increase or decrease in available funds, and the total annual cost of such positions.

Unfilled authorized positions within appropriation available represents the difference between the number and annual compensation provided for the total authorized positions by the appropriation for 1939, and the number of man-years and the amount actually paid to the incumbents of these positions during the fiscal year 1940.

Leave without pay represents the number of man-years and the amount of compensation accrued on authorized positions during the year for any excessive amount of leave without pay.

Automatic promotions represents for 1940 the difference between the increased commitment on account of such promotions on an annual basis and the amount actually included for such promotions in the "amount earned" item. The amount opposite this caption in the 1941 column is the full annual commitment for promotions effected during that year.

Administrative within-grade promotions.—Commitments shown opposite this caption are determined in the same manner as for automatic promotions.

Civil-service reclassifications.—Commitments shown opposite this caption are determined in the same manner as for automatic promotions.

Commitment brought forward represents the total commitments carried forward from the preceding fiscal year.

Total commitment (permanent) is the sum of the preceding entries beginning with "Change in positions" and represents the base commitment to be carried forward into the succeeding fiscal year.

Deduct—Delay in effecting changes in positions.—In the case of an increase in the number of positions shown under "Change in positions," this entry represents the number of man-years and the computed compensation for the period during which the positions were not actually filled. In the case of a decrease in the number of positions shown under "Change in positions," this entry represents the number of man-years and the amount earned by those employees who were dropped from the rolls after the beginning of the fiscal year.

Deduct—Excess of commitments over actual cost, 1941 only, represents the difference between the computed annual cost of automatic promotions, administrative promotions, and civil-service reclassifications and the amount estimated to be paid for these purposes during the year.

Deduct—Other commitments shown above, 1940 only, represents the commitments incurred during the year which are not included in the obligations for that year and, hence, must be deducted in order to arrive at the actual obligations for the year.

Net pay roll (permanent) is mathematically computed and in the 1940 column must agree with the amount shown as "Amount earned (permanent)."

The remaining adjusting entries are the same as those now in use.

Statement of proposed expenditures for purchase, maintenance, repair, and operation of motor-propelled and horse-drawn passenger-carrying vehicles, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, as required by 5 U. S. C. 78

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

Appropriation	For purchase					Old vehicles still to be used	Total maintenance, repair, and operation, all cars	Public purpose and users
	New vehicles (motors unless otherwise indicated)		Old vehicles to be exchanged		Net cost of new cars
	Number	Gross cost	Number	Allowance (estimated)
Public printing and binding	2	$1,750	2	$600	$1,150		$1,350	New cars to be used for official business by the officials of the Government Printing Office when in writing ordered by the Public Printer.

Printing and binding for Congress chargeable to the foregoing appropriation, when recommended to be done by the Committee on Printing of either House, shall be so recommended in a report containing an approximate estimate of the cost thereof, together with a statement from the Public Printer of estimated approximate cost of work previously ordered by Congress within the fiscal year for which this appropriation is made.

During the fiscal year [1941] 1942 any executive department or independent establishment of the Government ordering printing and binding from the Government Printing Office shall pay promptly by check to the Public Printer upon his written request, either in advance or upon completion of the work, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof, as the case may be, and bills rendered by the Public Printer in accordance herewith shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment: Provided, That proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of delivered work paid for in advance shall be made monthly or quarterly and as may be agreed upon by the Public Printer and the department or establishment concerned. All sums paid to the Public Printer for work that he is authorized by law to do shall be deposited to the credit, on the books of the Treasury Department, of the appropriation made for the working capital of the Government Printing Office for the year in which the work is done, and be subject to requisition by the Public Printer.

All amounts in the Budget for the fiscal year [1942] 1943 for printing and binding for any department or establishment, so far as the Bureau of the Budget may deem practicable, shall be incorporated in a single item for printing and binding for such department or establishment and be eliminated as a part of any estimate for any other purpose. And if any amounts for printing and binding, including the total cost of work produced on the multilith, multigraph, and other similar equipment are included as a part of any estimates for any other purposes, such amounts shall be set forth in detail in a note immediately following the general estimate for printing and binding: Provided, That the foregoing requirements shall not apply to work to be executed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

No part of any money appropriated in this Act shall be paid to any person employed in the Government Printing Office while detailed for or performing service in the executive branch of the public service of the United States unless such detail be authorized by law (54 Stat. 478–479).

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS

Purchases may be made from the foregoing appropriation under the "Government Printing Office," as provided for in the Printing Act approved January 12, 1895, and without reference to section 4 of the Act approved June 17, 1910 (41 U. S. C. 7), concerning purchases for executive departments.

SEC. 2. No part of the funds herein appropriated shall be used for the maintenance or care of private vehicles.

SEC. 3. In expending appropriations or portions of appropriations contained in this Act, for the payment for personal services in the District of Columbia in accordance with the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, the average of the salaries of the total number of persons under any grade in the Botanic Garden, the Library of Congress, or the Government Printing Office, shall not at any time exceed the average of the compensation rates specified for the grade by such Act, as amended, and in grades in which only one position is allocated the salary of such position shall not exceed the average of the compensation rates for the grade, except that in unusually meritorious cases of one position in a grade, advances may be made to rates higher than the average of the compensation rates of the grade, but not more often than once in any fiscal year, and then only to the next higher rate: Provided, That this restriction shall not apply (1) to grades 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the clerical-mechanical service; (2) to require the reduction in salary of any person whose compensation was fixed as of July 1, 1924, in accordance with the rules of section 6 of such Act; (3) to require the reduction in salary of any person who is transferred from one position to another position in the same or different grade in the same or a different bureau, office, or other appropriation unit; (4) to prevent the payment of a salary under any grade at a rate higher than the maximum rate of the grade when such higher rate is permitted by the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, and is specifically authorized by other law; or (5) to reduce the compensation of any person in a grade in which only one position is allocated.

SEC. 4. Whenever any office or position not specifically established by the Legislative Pay Act of 1929 is specifically appropriated for herein or whenever the rate of compensation or designation of any position specifically appropriated for herein is different from that specifically established for such position by such Act, the rate of compensation and the designation of the position, or either, specifically appropriated for herein, shall be the permanent law with respect thereto; and the authority for any position specifically established by such Act which is not specifically appropriated for herein shall cease to exist.

1937, as amended, including personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; the purchase and exchange of lawbooks, books of reference, periodicals, and newspapers; rents in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; the purchase (including exchange), operation, maintenance and repair of motor-propelled and horse-drawn passenger-carrying vehicles to be used only for official purposes; hire, with or without personal services, of work animals, animal-drawn and motor-propelled vehicles, and watercraft; printing binding; travel expenses, including not to exceed $2,000 for expenses of attendance at meetings concerned with the work of the corps when specifically authorized by the Director; construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of buildings, but the cost of any building erected hereunder shall not exceed $25,000; and all other necessary expenses; of which $176,880,000 shall be available only for pay, subsistence, clothing (and repair thereof), transportation, and hospitalization of enrollees; and $325,000 may be expended in the District of Columbia for salaries and expenses of the office of the Director; $280,000,000: Provided, That an enrollee in the Civilian Conservation Corps, or member, or former member of the Military Establishment, who shall furnish blood from his or her veins for transfusion to the veins of an enrollee or discharged enrollee of the Civilian Conservation Corps undergoing treatment in a Government or civilian hospital authorized to treat such patient, shall be entitled to be paid therefor a reasonable sum not to exceed $50 for each of such transfusions undergone: Provided further, That the Director may authorize the exchange of motor-propelled and horse-drawn vehicles, tractors, road equipment, and boats, and parts, accessories, tires, or equipment thereof, in whole or in part payment for vehicles, tractors, road equipment, or boats, or parts, accessories, tires, or equipment of such vehicles, tractors, road equipment, or boats which the corps has acquired: Provided further, That expenditures under the several classes of objects of expenditure for which this appropriation is available shall not exceed by more than 10 per centum the amounts estimated for such objects of expenditure by classes, in the schedule for the fiscal year 1941 appearing in the Budget for such fiscal year under this head, such amounts to be amended to reflect any proportionate change which each should bear in connection with the total amount appropriated herein, and any such excess up to 10 per centum must be approved in writing by the Federal Security Administrator in such amounts as he shall designate: Provided further, That the foregoing proviso shall not apply, to whatever extent the President shall direct, in the event of an emergency declared, by the President, to exist] (54 Stat. 581).

[The Federal Security Agency Appropriation Act, 1941, is amended by striking out "$176,880,000" under the heading "Civilian Conservation Corps" and inserting in lieu thereof "$166,880,000": Provided, That upon the written recommendation of the Federal Security Administrator and with the approval of the President, the limitations upon the amount of expenditures under the several classes of objects of expenditure as fixed by the third proviso under such heading in such Act may be exceeded by more than the 10 per centum permitted therein.]

[Such Act is further amended by adding after the last sentence under such heading the following:]

["Notwithstanding the limitation herein on expenditures by the Office of the Director within the District of Columbia, the Director, Civilian Conservation Corps, in administering the funds herein appropriated is authorized, with the approval of the Federal Security Administrator, to fix the amount of and to transfer to the Office of the Director the funds necessary to carry out the functions transferred with the approval of the Federal Security Administrator from cooperating agencies to the Office of the Director"] (16 U. S. C. 584; 54 Stat. 581, 1033).

NOTE.—For the fiscal year 1942, the appropriation under the above title, exclusive of $5,100 transferred to "United States official mail and messenger service, Post Office Department (general fund)," pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan No. IV, is transferred to other appropriations as shown in the following subheads.

For all necessary expenses to carry into effect the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to establish a Civilian Conservation Corps, and for other purposes", approved June 28, 1937, as amended, including personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; the purchase and exchange of lawbooks, books of reference, periodicals, and newspapers; the purchase (including exchange), operation, maintenance, and repair of motor-propelled and horse-drawn passenger-carrying vehicles to be used only for official purposes; hire, with or without personal services, of work animals, animal-drawn and motor-propelled vehicles, and watercraft; printing and binding; travel expenses, including not to exceed $2,000 for expenses of attendance at meetings concerned with the work of the corps when specifically authorized by the Federal Security Administrator; construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of buildings, but the cost of any building erected hereunder shall not exceed $25,000 as follows:

For pay, subsistence, medical services, etc.: For pay, subsistence, travel, clothing (and repair thereof), medical services, including hospitalization, fees and travel of physicians, dentists, veterinarians and nurses, burial of enrollees, payment (not exceeding $50 for any one transfusion) to any enrollee of the Civilian Conservation Corps or other individual furnishing blood for transfusion to the veins of an enrollee or discharged enrollee of the Civilian Conservation Corps undergoing treatment in a hospital authorized to treat such patient, $167,277,329.

Sea Food Inspections, Food and Drug Administration—

Under authority of "An Act to amend section 10A of the Federal Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906, as amended", approved August 27, 1935 (21 U. S. C. 372a), the Federal Security Administrator provides inspection of sea food products upon the application of packers. This service is supported in part by the appropriation "Enforcement of the Sea Food Inspectors Act", Food and Drug Administration, and partly by fees charged the packers which are used to employ additional inspectors and for administrative, equipment, and maintenance costs necessary to provide an adequate and efficient inspection service. These unearned fees are covered into the Treasury as a special trust fund and are appropriated and made available for refunds (21 U. S. C. 372a).

Estimate 1942, $10,000 Appropriated 1941, $25,000
Revised 1941, $10,000

52 Refunds to sea-food packers: Obligations—1942, $10,000; 1941, $10,000; 1940, $29,906.

Coal-tar Colors Certification Fees, Food and Drug Administration—

Under authority of section 706 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of June 25, 1938 (52 Stat. 1058), the Federal Security Administrator provides for the listing and certification of coal-tar colors upon the application and payment of fees by manufacturers. Such fees are to be in an amount necessary to provide, maintain, and equip an adequate service for such purpose. This service is supported by the appropriation for the enforcement of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. Fees are paid in advance and are either immediately deposited to "Miscellaneous receipts" or to a special trust account for future transfer, if earned, to "Miscellaneous receipts", or, if unearned, are appropriated and made available for refund. Revenues on deposit in the special trust account are for refund or transfer to "Miscellaneous receipts" (decision of Comptroller General, No. A44002).

Estimate 1942, $4,000 Appropriated 1941, $4,000

52 Refunds to coal-tar colors manufacturers: Obligations—1942, $4,000; 1941, $4,000; 1940, $430.

NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION

Youth Work and Student Aid, National Youth Administration—

PAR. 1. Part-time youth work and student aid: To enable the National Youth Administration, which is hereby extended to and including June 30, [1941] 1942, under the supervision and direction of the Federal Security Agency, to engage in the following types of programs for assistance to needy young persons, $95,984,000, namely:

(a) To provide part-time employment for needy young persons in schools, colleges, and universities to enable such persons to continue their education.

(b) To provide employment and training for unemployed young persons on public projects of the following types:

(I) The construction, improvement, and repair of non-Federal public buildings and grounds, parks, and other recreational facilities; bridges, highways, roads, streets, and alleys; airports and airway facilities; water and sanitation facilities; facilities for conservation; irrigation and flood control; pest eradication; and work on all other non-Federal public facilities including cooperative associations receiving financial assistance from the Rural Electrification Administration or other public agencies;

(II) The construction, improvement, and repair of buildings or other facilities of Federal agencies;

(III) The production, repair, and renovation of goods, articles, and foodstuffs for needy individuals and for public institutions providing that products so produced do not replace normal purchases of such individuals or institutions;

PAR. 4. The Administrator of the National Youth Administration shall, subject to the approval of the Federal Security Administrator, fix the monthly earnings and hours of work for youth workers engaged on work projects financed in whole or in part from the appropriation in paragraph 1, but such determination shall not have the effect of establishing a national average labor cost per youth worker on such projects during the fiscal year [1941] 1942 substantially different from the national average labor cost per such worker on such projects prevailing at the close of the fiscal year [1940] 1941: Provided, That the National Youth Administrator shall so distribute funds among the several States for the operation of the projects specified in paragraph 1 (b) of this title that the amount made available during the fiscal year for the operation of such projects for the benefit of the young people of each individual State shall bear the same ratio to the total funds made available for this purpose in all States as the youth population of that State bears to the total youth population of the United States.

PAR. 5. Funds appropriated under paragraph 1 shall be so apportioned and distributed over the period ending June 30, [1941] 1942, and shall be so administered during such period as to constitute the total amount that will be furnished during such period for the purposes set forth in paragraph 1.

PAR. 6. No non-Federal construction project costing in excess of $5,000 shall be undertaken or prosecuted under paragraph 1 unless and until the cosponsor has made a written agreement to finance such part of the entire cost thereof as the Federal Security Administrator determines, under the circumstances, is an adequate contribution taking into consideration the financial ability of the cosponsor. The National Youth Administrator, subject to the approval of the Federal Security Administrator, shall prescribe rules and regulations relating to the valuation of contributions in kind by cosponsors of projects through furnishing the use of their own facilities and equipment and the services of their own employees, which shall also allow credit only to the extent that the furnishing of such contributions represents a financial burden which is undertaken by the cosponsors on account of National Youth Administration projects.

PAR. 7. The National Youth Administration is authorized to receive from cosponsors of non-Federal projects contributions in services, materials, or money, any money so received to be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States. Such contributions shall be expended or utilized as agreed upon between the cosponsor and the National Youth Administrator.

PAR. 8. All receipts and collections by reason of operations authorized in paragraph 1, except cash contributions of cosponsors of projects, shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

PAR. 9. In considering employment of persons upon work projects prosecuted under the appropriation in paragraph 1, the National Youth Administration shall determine whether such persons are able to perform the work on work projects to which they can be assigned and no person shall be employed or retained for employment on any such project whose work habits are such or work record shows that he is incapable of performing satisfactorily the work to which he may be assigned on the project.

PAR. 10. No alien shall be given employment or continued in employment on any work project prosecuted under the appropriation in paragraph 1 and no part of the money appropriated in paragraph 1 or paragraph 2 shall be available to pay any person who has not made or who does not make affidavit as to United States citizenship, such affidavit to be considered prima facie evidence of such citizenship.

PAR. [12] 11. No person shall be employed or retained in employment in any administrative position, or in any supervisory position on any project, and no person shall receive assistance in the form of payments or otherwise from the United States for services rendered under the National Youth Administration, under the appropriation in paragraph 1 or paragraph 2 unless such person before engaging in such employment or receiving such assistance subscribes to the following oath:

"I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office (or employment) on which I am about to enter (or which I now occupy). So help me God."

[The National Youth Administrator shall designate administrative and supervisory employees to administer such oath, but no fee shall be charged therefor.]

PAR. 12. The National Youth Administrator is authorized to designate administrative and supervisory employees to administer such oaths as are required by paragraphs 10 and 11, and such other oaths as may be required in the operation of the program, which oaths shall be administered without fee or charge. Such oaths shall have the same force and effect as oaths administered by notaries, justices of the peace, and other Federal and non-Federal officers qualified to administer oaths.

PAR. [11] 13. No person in need who refuses a bona fide offer of private employment under reasonable working conditions which pays the prevailing wage for such work in the community where he resides and who is capable of performing such work shall be employed or retained in employment on out-of-school work projects under the funds appropriated in paragraph 1 for the period such private employment continues available.

PAR. [13] 14. No portion of the appropriation in paragraph 1 or paragraph 2 shall be used to pay any compensation to any person who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States through force or violence.

[PAR. 14. The provisions of Executive Order Numbered 7916, dated June 24, 1938, shall not apply to positions the compensation of which is payable from the appropriations in paragraphs 1 and 2 and such appropriations shall not be available for the compensation of the incumbent of any position placed in the competitive classified civil service of the United States after January 10, 1939.]

PAR. 15. In carrying out the purposes of the appropriation in paragraph 2, the National Youth Administrator, subject to the approval of the Federal Security Administrator, is authorized to accept and utilize voluntary and uncompensated services, to appoint and compensate, without regard to civil-service laws or the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, officers and employees, and to utilize, with the consent of the head of the Federal agency by which they are employed, Federal officers and employees, and with the consent of the State or local government, State and local officers and employees at such compensation (without regard to the Classification Act of 1923, as amended) as shall be determined by the National Youth Administrator to be necessary, and to prescribe their authorities, duties, responsibilities, and tenure: Provided, That notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph, the President is authorized to exercise the powers conferred by the Act of November 26, 1940 (Public, No. 880), with respect to employees of the National Youth Administration.

PAR. 16. Appointments in any State to Federal positions of an administrative or advisory capacity under the appropriation in paragraph 2 shall be made from among the bona fide citizens of that State so far as not inconsistent with efficient administration.

PAR. 17. In making separations from the Federal service, or furloughs without pay to last as long as three months, of persons employed within the District of Columbia, under the provisions of paragraph 2, the appointing power shall give preference, as nearly as good administration will warrant, in retention to appointees from States that have not received their share of appointments according to population: Provided, however, That soldiers and sailors, and marines, the widows of such, or the wives of injured soldiers, sailors, and marines, who themselves are not qualified, but whose wives are qualified to hold a position in the Government service, shall be given preference in retention, in their several grades and classes, where their ratings are good or better.

PAR. 18. The provisions of the Act of February 15, 1934 (48 Stat. 351), as amended, relating to disability or death compensation and benefits, shall apply to persons receiving compensation from the appropriation in paragraph 1 for services rendered as employees of the United States: Provided, That this section shall not apply in any case coming within the purview of the workmen's compensation law of any State, Territory, or possession, or in which the claimant has received or is entitled to receive similar benefits for injury or death: Provided further, That for carrying out the purposes of this paragraph there shall be made available to the United States Employees' Compensation Commission from the appropriation in such paragraph 1 the sum of $90,000, or so much thereof as such Commission, with the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, estimates and certifies to the Secretary of the Treasury will be necessary for such purposes.

PAR. 19. The National Youth Administrator, subject to the approval of the Federal Security Administrator, is authorized to consider, ascertain, adjust, determine, and pay from the appropriation in paragraph 1 any claim arising out of operations thereunder accruing after June 30, [1940] 1941, on account of damage to, or loss of, privately owned property caused by the negligence of any employee of the National Youth Administration, while acting within the scope of his employment. No claim shall be considered hereunder which is in excess of $500 or which is not presented in writing within one year from the date of accrual thereof. Acceptance by a claimant of the amount allowed on account of his claim shall be deemed to be in full settlement thereof, and the action upon such claim so accepted by the claimant shall be conclusive.

PAR. 20. Any person who knowingly and with intent to defraud the United States makes any false statement in connection with any application for any project authorized in paragraph 1, or diverts, or attempts to divert, or assists in diverting, for the benefit of any person or persons not entitled thereto, any portion of the appropriation in paragraph 1, or any services or real or personal property acquired thereunder, or who knowingly, by means of any fraud, force, threat, intimidation, or boycott, or discrimination on account of race, religion, political affiliations, or membership in a labor organization, deprives, or attempts to deprive, or assists in depriving any person of any of the benefits to which he may be entitled under such appropriation, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. The provisions of this paragraph shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other provisions of existing law.

PAR. 21. The paragraphs herein under the National Youth Administration may be cited as the "National Youth Administration Appropriation Act, [1941] 1942".

Section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (41 U. S. C. 5) shall not be construed to apply to any purchase with funds appropriated under this title when the aggregate amount involved in such purchase does not exceed the sum of $100.

If during the fiscal years 1941 or 1942 functions are transferred by the Federal Security Administrator from or between any of the said offices or bureaus, the Administrator may, subject to the approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, transfer from or between the appropriations herein made for salaries for the Social Security Board the amounts necessary for personal services in connection with the functions so transferred.

Not to exceed five per centum of any of the foregoing appropriations for salaries for the Social Security Board may, subject to the approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, be transferred by the Administrator to any other of such appropriations, but no appropriation may be increased more than five per centum thereby.

Miscellaneous Expenses, Social Security Board—

For all expenses, not otherwise appropriated for, necessary to enable the Social Security Board to carry into effect the provisions of the Social Security Act as amended (42 U. S. C. 301–1305), including public instruction and information, and the procurement of information relating to the death of individuals entitled to benefits, receiving benefits, or upon whose death some other individual may become entitled to benefits, under title II of said Act, from proper State and local officials, including officials of the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii or individuals designated by such State and local officials, and as authorized by the Administrator for personal services on a piece-work basis or otherwise in connection with the procurement of such information without regard to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes and the provisions of other laws applicable to the employment and compensation of officers and employees of the United States, which expenses shall include reproducing and photographic equipment; newspapers, press clippings (not to exceed $1,500), and periodicals; purchase and exchange of law books and books of reference; library membership fees or dues in organizations which issue publications to members only or to members at a lower price than to others, payments for which may be made in advance; alterations and repairs; purchase and exchange (not exceeding $3,500), operation, maintenance, and repair of passenger-carrying automobiles; and transfer of household goods and effects, as provided by the Act of October 10, 1940 (Public, No. 839), and regulations promulgated thereunder (including employees transferred from duty at Baltimore, Maryland, to duty at Washington, District of Columbia), $3,091,807 (54 Stat. 587–590).

Estimate 1942, $3,091,807 Appropriated 1941, [a] $5,478,515

[a] Transferred from "Salaries and expenses, Social Security Board."

National Defense Housing, Office of Administrator, Federal Works Agency—

[National defense housing: To enable the Federal Works Administrator to carry out the purposes of the Act entitled "An Act to expedite the provision of housing in connection with national defense, and for other purposes", H. R. 10412, as enacted into law during the Seventy-sixth Congress, $75,000,000, to be expended in accordance with the provisions of such Act, to remain available until expended, and to be available for all necessary administrative expenses for the purposes hereof, including personal services and rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, printing and binding, and purchase, repair, operation, and maintenance of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles; and in addition to such appropriation, authority is granted to enter into contracts or otherwise to incur obligations for the above purposes in amounts not to exceed in the aggregate $75,000,000: Provided, That in no case under the foregoing appropriation or contractual authorization shall the fixed fee to be paid the contractor under any contract entered into without reference to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes of the United States on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis exceed 6 per centum of the estimated cost of the contract, exclusive of the fee, as determined by the Administrator or the head of such Federal agency through which he may act: Provided further, That the fact that a contract is entered into under the provisions of the above mentioned Act without reference to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes of the United States shall not be construed to render inapplicable the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1931, as amended by the Act of August 30, 1935 (49 Stat. 1011; U. S. C., title 40, sec. 276 (a)), or the provisions of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; U. S. C., title 41, secs. 35–45), to any contract to which the provisions of either or both of such Acts would otherwise apply] (54 Stat. 1115)
