¹ $150,000,000 included in appropriations for 1930 for Federal Farm Board revolving loan fund. No corresponding figure included for 1931.

The foregoing table shows that the total of the estimates of appropriations payable from the Treasury in this Budget is $145,696,000 less than the appropriations for 1930. The estimates in the Budget, however, contain no amount for the revolving loan fund for the Federal Farm Board, for which $150,000,000 is included in the appropriations for 1930. Therefore, for purposes of comparison, $150,000,000 should be deducted from the amount of the appropriations for 1930. Eliminating this item from the 1930 total the estimates of appropriations in the Budget for 1931 exceed the appropriations for 1930 by $4,304,000. Concerning the Federal Farm Board, I am simply delaying the presentation to the Congress of an estimate for an additional amount for the revolving loan fund until it is known more definitely what further amount will be needed. This will not in any way hamper the board, as it has sufficient funds at present and an estimate will be presented to the Congress in ample time in advance of any requirements for more money.

Through nonrecurring items and justified reductions in other items funds have been found to make increases in certain of our activities without enlarging to any appreciable extent the total of the estimates for 1931 over the appropriations for 1930. I am indicating below, in round figures, the larger items of increase and decrease.

With regard to the increases for 1931 there are certain activities which I desire to bring especially to the attention of the Congress.

Rivers and harbors, flood relief, and Boulder Dam.—The estimates herewith contain an increase of $5,000,000 for flood control and $5,000,000 for rivers and harbors over the appropriations for these purposes for the current fiscal year. Moreover, the completion this year of the work on the Ohio River will release about $5,000,000 for other river and harbor work so that, in effect, the increase in the estimates for rivers and harbors is $10,000,000. With regard to the Boulder Dam project authorized by the act of Congress approved December 21, 1928, the details have not been completed in time to permit of this project being included in the estimates contained in this Budget. It is contemplated to present to the Congress at an early date an estimate to cover the initiation of this work.

Departments of State and Justice.—I am asking for considerable increases in the appropriations for these two departments for the fiscal year 1931 as compared with appropriations for the fiscal year 1930. I feel that the importance of the functions devolving upon these two departments in the conduct of our foreign affairs and in law enforcement and the administration of our penal system are of vital concern to the Nation and that both departments require more generous appropriations. The increase requested for the Department of State is more than $2,443,000, or about 16½ per cent, and that for the Department of Justice is more than $4,079,000, or about 14½ per cent. I am satisfied that these increases will reflect benefits to the Nation greater than can be measured in terms of the increased cost.

Indians.—As wards of the Nation the Government has an obligation to the Indians which concerns not alone their present but their future welfare. To raise the standard of their living, to adequately provide for their health and education, and to advance their opportunity for profitable employment are the concern of the Government. In order that we may meet more fully our obligations to the Indians, I am asking for an increase of something more than $3,100,000 over the appropriations for the current year. This increase is requested so that we may more adequately meet the need for educational and health work among the Indians and for their industrial assistance and advancement. I do not feel, however, that we should wait until the next fiscal year to make a general improvement in our Indian affairs. Rather do I feel that we should commence this now. This will require additional funds for the current fiscal year for which an estimate will be presented to the Congress.

Forest protection.—For the protection of our forests I am asking for a substantial increase in appropriations, amounting to more than $2,000,000. We have been spending in past years large amounts on the suppression of fires. In the last five years these expenditures have amounted to more than $8,000,000, and the best estimate is that $3,500,000 will be required this current fiscal year. We can not hope to eliminate entirely the necessity for spending money in the suppression of fires, but our efforts should be to minimize this necessity by more and more adequate protection measures. This is essential, not merely to effect a saving in the cost of suppressing fires, but to prevent the incalculable loss which results from the destruction of our forests. Such loss involves not only the timber itself, but the protection which it affords against soil erosion and floods. As the custodian of the national forests, national parks, and other public lands the Federal Government is responsible for their protection. The obligations of this stewardship can not be met within the limits of the present appropriation and it is for this reason that I am asking for an increase to commence a program of more adequate protection of our forests. The protection of our present holdings certainly outweighs in importance the acquisition of further lands which would add to the areas requiring protection. For this reason I am not submitting in this Budget an estimate for the full $3,000,000 authorized for 1931 for the acquisition of lands for the protection of watersheds. The amount requested for such acquisition is $2,000,000.

BUILDINGS

The public-building program authorized by the act of May 25, 1926, and enlarged by amendments to the original act, is now proceeding at a satisfactory rate of progress. At the outset unavoidable delays were experienced because of difficulties encountered in acquiring sites, it being necessary in some cases to resort to condemnation proceedings in the courts. Many of these difficulties have been overcome and it is expected that the work will now proceed expeditiously, resulting in the completion of 34 new or enlarged buildings in the fiscal year 1930 and 40 in the fiscal year 1931. The program calls for a total expenditure of approximately $300,000,000 in addition to the proceeds of sale of abandoned property. Individual projects have already been authorized by the Congress at limits of cost in excess of $260,000,000. There were brought forward into the fiscal year 1930 appropriation balances aggregating $41,481,099. This is increased by appropriations made at the last session of the Congress, amounting to $39,475,500, making the total amount available for expenditure $80,956,599. Of this amount the Treasury Department contemplates spending about $59,500,000 in the fiscal year 1930. The Budget for 1931 carries estimates for public buildings, including the purchase of additional land in Washington, amounting to $30,000,000. Supplemental thereto an estimate of about $5,000,000 will be submitted at a later date when the Treasury Department has concluded its survey of new projects which it is desirable to undertake at this time. The appropriation of these amounts will provide the Treasury with ample funds to continue the work during the fiscal year 1931.

The War Department is also carrying forward a building program, involving an ultimate expenditure of about $118,000,000, for the housing of military personnel, made necessary by the need for the replacement of World War temporary construction and to provide for the increase in the pre-war strength of the Regular Army. There has already been appropriated for this purpose $37,193,899, and $16,062,860 is carried in the estimates for 1931 with authority to make contracts for $3,000,000 additional. The estimates for 1931 also carry $3,311,000 for technical buildings for the air services of the Army and Navy, and $3,176,000 for other buildings for various purposes for the Army, Navy, and Panama Canal.

For completing the $15,000,000 program for additional hospital facilities for the Veterans' Bureau, $2,000,000 is provided for liquidating contracts previously authorized by the Congress.

New building construction for the Indian Service has been allowed for a total of $2,303,000, including reservation and nonreservation schools, hospitals, and administration buildings.

Provision is made for construction projects at several Federal penitentiaries. For Leavenworth, $22,000 is provided; for Atlanta, $79,000; for McNeil Island, $139,000; and $450,000 is included for continuing the construction of the industrial reformatory at Chillicothe.

In furtherance of the $10,000,000 program for houses and offices for our foreign representatives, $1,700,000 is included in these estimates. The annual appropriations under this program are limited to $2,000,000, but the lesser amount has been included in the Budget because of the fact that the amount of the current estimate added to unexpended balances from prior appropriations will be sufficient to carry on the program during the fiscal year 1931.

Altogether this Budget carries estimates of more than $59,240,000 for the construction of buildings, including the procurement of sites, with a contract authorization for a further expenditure of $3,000,000. To the sum of these two amounts there should be added the additional $5,000,000 for the public-building program for which, as stated, an estimate will be submitted later in the year.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

The estimates for direct appropriations for the War and Navy Departments for 1931 provide a total of $719,089,000 for national defense. This is exclusive of all items of a nonmilitary character. In addition to the normal maintenance and operation requirements of these two departments, provision is made for carrying forward the Air Service programs of the two services, the housing program of the Army, and the requirements of the Navy with regard to the modernization of old battleships and the construction of new ships authorized by the act of February 13, 1929, as well as the light cruisers and submarines authorized by prior law. With regard to the 15 new cruisers authorized by the act of last February, provision is made for continuing work on the two cruisers already laid down and on the aircraft carrier and three cruisers to be laid down late in the fiscal year 1930 and for the commencement of the construction of the second and third blocks of five cruisers each, late in the fiscal year 1931.

AIR SERVICE

Under the Air Service programs for the Army and Navy I am asking for a total of $33,000,000 for the procurement of airplanes, their engines, spare parts, and accessories. In addition to this I am asking for the same purposes for the Coast Guard, Department of Commerce, and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics a total of $460,000. With regard to the Army, provision is made for the procurement of the 443 airplanes pertaining to the fourth increment of the 5-year program authorized by the Congress. This program calls for 1,515 planes to be on hand and on order on June 30, 1931, and it is believed that this goal will be reached or closely approached by the funds already appropriated and the amounts estimated in this Budget. The present shortage in the program is about 40 planes pertaining to prior increments. No amount has been specifically included in the 1931 estimates to make up this shortage in view of the possibility of its reduction or complete elimination before the final increment is reached. Concerning the Navy Air Service, the last, or fifth, increment of the 5-year program authorized by the Congress will be reached in 1931. This program contemplates about 1,000 planes and 2 lighter-than-air ships to be on hand and on order at the close of that fiscal year. To accomplish this, provision is made for the procurement of 269 airplanes, including their equipment, and for continuing the work on the 2 lighter-than-air ships now under contract. In addition to the amounts which we are spending for the acquisition of aircraft we are also spending large sums for lighting and equipping airways, the inspection and licensing of commercial planes and pilots, and furnishing weather reports necessary to the carrying on of aerial navigation. For these purposes there is included in the estimates of the Department of Commerce $8,925,830 and in those for the Weather Bureau of the Department of Agriculture $1,400,000. It is estimated that by the end of the fiscal year 1931 there will be about 18,400 miles of airways lighted and equipped.

THE FRENCH DEBT

In the message transmitting the 1930 Budget to the Congress, the French debt was discussed. A portion of the indebtedness of France, representing surplus war materials purchased on credit, was due to mature during the fiscal year 1930, unless the agreement of April 29, 1928, providing for the funding of the entire indebtedness of France to the United States, should be ratified by both France and the United States, in which case this indebtedness would be merged in the general indebtedness of that Government to the United States. In the spring of this year it seemed clear to the Treasury that the Government of France would ratify the French debt agreement prior to August 1, 1929, the maturity date of $400,000,000 face amount of these obligations mentioned in last year's Budget message. The Congress of the United States was considering the question of recessing for two or three months and the Treasury was faced with the situation that the debt agreement would be ratified by France, that certain obligations of that Government would mature on August 1, that the Congress would not be in session, and that there was no authority on the part of the Executive branch of the Government other than to submit the obligations on their maturity date for payment.

The matter was submitted to the Congress with a recommendation that, in the event the funding agreement was ratified by France, in accordance with its terms, prior to August 1, 1929, the Secretary of the Treasury, with the approval of the President, be authorized to enter into an agreement with France providing for the postponement of the date of the maturity of the obligations in the principal amount of $400,000,000 from August 1, 1929, to such time as the Congress should approve or disapprove the funding agreement, but in no event beyond May 1, 1930, provided, however, that France should agree to pay interest on such obligations, the interest so paid to be credited against the annuities first due under the funding agreement. After consideration, House Joint Resolution 80, embodying these provisions, was passed by both Houses of Congress, but failed to receive the formal approval of the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate before adjournment, consequently failing to be enacted into law by August 1, 1929.

The French Government ratified the funding agreement under date of July 27, 1929. Relying upon the expression of the sentiment of the Congress on the matter, as contained in the joint resolution, the Secretary of the Treasury, with the approval of the President, in an exchange of correspondence agreed with France to extend the maturity date of the obligation in question upon the terms and conditions set out in the resolution. The House joint resolution was subsequently enacted into law, being approved by the President on October 17, 1929. The question, therefore, of the maturity of these obligations is temporarily disposed of. The French debt agreement will be submitted to the Congress in the early part of December. If it receives the approval of the Congress, all of the obligations of France representing the purchase of surplus war material on credit will be merged, under that agreement, in the general debt of France to the United States. The payments thereafter made will conform to the annuities specified in that agreement.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES

The receipts and expenditures shown in detail in the Budget are summarized in the following statement:

Summary (exclusive of postal revenues and postal expenditures paid from postal revenues)

	Estimated, 1931	Estimated, 1930	Actual, 1929
Receipts:
Customs.....	$602, 000, 000	$602, 000, 000	$602, 262, 786. 17
Income tax.....	2, 460, 000, 000	2, 480, 000, 000	2, 330, 711, 822. 66
Miscellaneous internal revenue.....	640, 000, 000	635, 000, 000	607, 307, 548. 98
Miscellaneous receipts.....	523, 727, 666	532, 263, 434	492, 968, 067. 24
Total receipts.....	4, 225, 727, 666	4, 249, 263, 434	4, 033, 250, 225. 05
Total expenditures (including reduction of the public debt required by law to be made from ordinary receipts).....	4, 102, 938, 700	4, 023, 681, 900	3, 848, 463, 189. 63
Excess of receipts.....	122, 788, 966	225, 581, 534	184, 787, 035. 42

These figures include net expenditures from the revolving loan fund of the Federal Farm Board to the amount of $200,000,000 in 1931 as compared with an estimated net expenditure of $75,000,000 for the same purpose in the current fiscal year 1930. Eliminating these figures, for the purpose of comparison, from the estimated expenditures of both years shows the estimated expenditures for all other purposes for the fiscal year 1931 to be about $46,000,000 less than those for the fiscal year 1930.

The amounts which are shown in this Budget as representing the receipts, expenditures, and surplus for the fiscal years 1929 and 1930 differ materially from those contained in the Budget for 1930, as shown by the following table:

	1930		1929
	Estimated in this Budget	Estimated in the 1930 Budget	Actual	Estimated in the 1930 Budget
Receipts.....	$4, 249, 263, 434. 00	$3, 841, 295, 829. 00	$4, 033, 250, 225. 05	$3, 831, 735, 661. 00
Expenditures.....	4, 023, 681, 900. 00	3, 780, 719, 647. 00	3, 848, 463, 189. 63	3, 794, 745, 469. 00
Surplus.....	225, 581, 534. 00	60, 576, 182. 00	184, 787, 035. 42	36, 990, 192. 00

The increase in actual receipts for 1929 over the estimate can be attributed mainly to an unforeseen increase in receipts from the individual income tax. On the expenditure side, while there were a number of increases and decreases in particular items, the total excess of actual expenditures over the estimate, $54,000,000, is but slightly in excess of the amount paid to the railroads on account of back mail pay, an expenditure which could not have been anticipated in the estimate.

For the current fiscal year 1930 there is a marked improvement over the financial situation as estimated in the Budget for 1930 transmitted to the Congress in December, 1928. Compared with the estimate of one year ago the receipts show an increase of about $408,000,000 and the expenditures about $243,000,000. On the receipt side the increase in the estimate is reflected generally in the income tax, $305,000,000, due to an abnormal increase in the incomes reported by individuals for 1928 and to this exceedingly prosperous business year; miscellaneous internal revenue, $76,000,000, derived in the main from a steady expansion of the tobacco tax and increased stamp-tax receipts; customs, $20,000,000; and miscellaneous receipts, about $7,000,000. On the expenditure side the principal items making up the increase in the estimate are $75,000,000 for the net expenditures from the revolving loan fund of the Federal Farm Board, $77,000,000 for public-debt retirements, $12,790,000 for the postal deficiency, $23,000,000 for the construction and modernization of naval ships, $42,000,000 for the Treasury Department, pertaining mainly to the settlement of war claims and the public building program, and $11,800,000 for the Veterans' Bureau.

TAX REDUCTION

With an estimated surplus of over $225,000,000 this year and $122,000,000 next year it is felt that some measure of reduction in taxes is justified. Since the fiscal year 1921 four reductions in taxes have been made. Experience has shown that each reduction in taxes has resulted in revenue in excess of the mathematically computed return under the reduced rates. Undoubtedly an increase in the prosperity of business brought forth by tax reduction is partly responsible for this experience. Such reduction gives the taxpayer correspondingly more for his own use and thus increases the capital available for general business. Under the present circumstances I am in favor of a reduction in income taxes to be effective on returns for the calendar year 1929, which will be due March 15, 1930. Payment under these returns will be made during the last half of the current fiscal year 1930 and the first half of the coming fiscal year 1931, so that the reduction will be reflected in the two years for which we now anticipate a surplus. I therefore recommend that taxes upon incomes for the calendar year 1929 be reduced in the approximate sum of $160,000,000. I would suggest to the Congress that this be effected, as recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury, by reducing by 1 per cent the rate of the normal tax on the incomes of individuals and corporations, applicable to 1929 incomes and payable in the calendar year 1930. This will afford either directly or indirectly relief to the maximum number of taxpayers. Our effort will be to conduct our financial requirements so as to continue the benefits of reduced taxation for succeeding calendar years. It would not, however, at this time be safe to extend the period of the reduction. A year hence we will know more definitely whether the condition of our finances justifies a continuation or extension of the reduction.

CONCLUSION

Our finances are in sound condition. The public debt which at its peak in August, 1919, amounted to $26,596,000,000, stood at $16,931,000,000 on June 30, 1929. We are wisely committed to a policy which insures the further progressive reduction of the debt. We will reach in 1931 for the first time the period when the annual reduction required by law in the principal of the debt will be greater than the annual interest charges on the debt. We are also committed to the annual amortization of our other long term commitments—such as the adjusted service certificate of the veterans of the World War and our liability under the retirement laws affecting civilian personnel. Our estimated expenditures for this and the next year are well within our expected receipts. With the recommended reduction in taxes the margin between the two will be considerably lessened, but to what extent we do not definitely know to-day. This situation emphasizes the necessity for a careful scrutiny of any proposed additional activities which would involve a material increase in expenditures in order that we may not jeopardize either the balanced condition of the Budget or the continuation of the benefits of reduced taxation.

HERBERT HOOVER.

DECEMBER 2, 1929.

EXPLANATORY SYNOPSIS OF ESTIMATES OF APPROPRIATIONS

TOTAL FOR ALL BRANCHES OF THE GOVERNMENT

(Exclusive of Postal Service payable from postal revenue)

Appropriated for 1930.....	$3, 976, 141, 651. 26
Budget estimates for 1931.....	3, 830, 445, 231. 86
Decrease.....	145, 696, 419. 40

The appropriations for 1930 include $150,000,000 for the revolving fund of the Federal Farm Board for which no amount is included in the Budget estimates for 1931, but estimates for 1931 to meet the need for additional funds under the authorization of $500,000,000 contained in the "Agricultural marketing act" approved June 15, 1929, will be transmitted when requirements for such additional funds are more definitely known. When this item of $150,000,000 is taken into account there is a net increase of $4,303,580.40.

SENATE

Appropriated for 1930.....	$2, 951, 651. 60
Estimated additional amount required for 1930 to meet the provisions of the "Legislative pay act of 1929" approved June 20, 1929.....	285, 640. 00

Estimate for 1931.....	182, 050. 00

OFFICE OF THE ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL

Appropriated for 1930.....	$2, 506, 800. 40
Estimated additional amount required for 1930 to meet the provisions of the "Legislative pay act of 1929" approved June 20, 1929.....	34, 775. 38
Total for 1930.....	2, 541, 575. 78
Estimate for 1931.....	11, 084, 346. 98
Increase.....	8, 542, 771. 20

The 1930 appropriations provided $10,000 for preliminary plans and estimates for completion of the Senate Office Building, $545,000 for new equipment for the Capitol power plant, $600,000 for a site for additional building for the Library of Congress, and $300,000 toward the construction of buildings for the Botanic Garden. The Budget estimates for 1931 include $3,614,668 for enlarging the Capitol Grounds, $2,730,350 toward completion of the Senate Office Building, $1,500,000 to continue construction of building for the House of Representatives, $365,425 for construction of steam lines from the Capitol to the power plant, $30,000 for care of buildings acquired on site for addition to Library of Congress and preliminary plans for new buildings, $576,398 for completion of building for Botanic Garden, $1,000,000 toward the construction of the building for the Supreme Court. There is a net increase of $175,930.20 for maintenance, repairs, improvements, and miscellaneous items.

BOTANIC GARDEN

Appropriated for 1930.....	$173, 060
Budget estimate for 1931.....	173, 790
Increase.....	730

This is for increases in salaries.

THE BUDGET, 1931

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Appropriated for 1930.....	$2, 068, 612
Estimate for 1931.....	2, 248, 722
Increase.....	180, 110

There is an increase of $68,600 for additional employees, $13,410 for promotions, $45,000 for purchase of books and papers, $23,000 for printing and binding, and $1,900 for custody and maintenance of the Library Building. It is estimated that expenditures from gifts and trust funds will increase from $205,000 in 1930 to $232,700 in 1931.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

Appropriated for 1930.....	$3, 419, 000
Estimate for 1931.....	3, 270, 000
Decrease.....	149, 000

There is an increase of $51,000 in general expenses of the Office of Superintendent of Documents to print the document catalogues required by law, but due to an appropriation in 1930 of $200,000 for equipment for the new addition to the Government Printing Office which is not included in the 1931 estimates, the result is a net decrease of $149,000.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE

Appropriated for 1930.....	$533, 120
Deduct amount transferred to Treasury Department for White House police.....	85, 900
Available for 1930.....	447, 220
Budget estimate for 1931.....	422, 320
Decrease.....	24, 900

The decrease of $24,900 is accounted for by a decrease of $36,000 representing the items provided in 1930 for special works or purposes not needed in 1931, and an increase of $2,600 in salaries and $8,500 in contingent expenses.

ALASKA RELIEF FUND

Appropriated for 1930.....	$15, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	15, 000

This is an indefinite appropriation of 10 per cent of the receipts collected outside of incorporated towns in Alaska. The funds are divided equally among the four district judges to be used in caring for indigent and incapacitated persons. On July 1, 1929, there was an unexpended balance of $4,261.46 to the credit of this fund for redistribution.

AMERICAN BATTLE MONUMENTS COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$600, 000
Previous continuing appropriations.....	2, 695, 750
Total.....	3, 295, 750
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 000, 000

These are continuing appropriations. The estimate for 1931 is for continuing construction of the memorials upon battle fields and in cemeteries in Europe in commemoration of the services of the American Expeditionary Forces, as authorized by the act of March 4, 1923. The original limitation of $3,000,000 was increased by the appropriation act for the fiscal year 1930 to $4,500,000.

ARLINGTON MEMORIAL BRIDGE COMMISSION

Previous continuing appropriations.....	7, 800, 000
Total.....	9, 800, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 000, 000

These are continuing appropriations. The authorized appropriation, including the bridge and its approaches, is $14,750,000.

BOARD OF MEDIATION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$302, 270
Reappropriated from unexpended balance.....	46, 000
Total available for 1930.....	348, 270
Budget estimate for 1931.....	328, 380
Decrease.....	19, 890

This decrease is made possible by economies effected in the item for salaries and expenses.

BOARD OF TAX APPEALS

Appropriated for 1930.....	$663, 863
Unexpended balance of appropriation for 1928 reappropriated.....	62, 000
	<hr/>
Budget estimate for 1931.....	725, 863
	690, 000
Decrease.....	35, 863

There is a decrease in the amount for salaries of $2,930, and for miscellaneous expenses, $37,933; and an increase for printing and binding of $5,000.

BUREAU OF EFFICIENCY

Appropriated for 1930.....	$224, 330
Budget estimate for 1931.....	224, 330

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$1, 226, 862
Reappropriated from unexpended balance of 1928.....	25, 700
Apportionment of deficiency appropriation.....	146, 150
Total for 1930.....	1, 398, 712
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 362, 952
Decrease.....	35, 760

In the deficiency act of March 4, 1929, the commission was given $200,000, available for 1929 and 1930, for the specific purpose of finishing its work of securing qualified personnel for the Prohibition Unit. By December 1, 1929, an eligible register will be completed, from which all vacancies may be filled. Therefore, while a decrease for 1931 is shown as compared with the available appropriations for 1930, if the comparison is made with the normal appropriation for 1930, an increase of $110,390 has been given. The increases are made up as follows: For additional personnel, $99,390; for traveling expenses, $10,000; and for contingent expenses, $1,000.

COMMISSION OF FINE ARTS

Appropriated for 1930.....	$9, 080
Budget estimate for 1931.....	9, 080

There is an increase in salaries from $4,280 to $5,720 to provide a stenographer-typist at $1,440. There is a decrease in printing and binding from $1,700 to $260, the commission not requiring funds in 1931 for the printing of a report.

EMPLOYEES' COMPENSATION COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$4, 073, 326
Reappropriated from unexpended balance 1928.....	4, 000
Total for 1930.....	4, 077, 326
Budget estimate 1931.....	4, 210, 000
Increase.....	132, 674

The amount estimated for 1931 provides for an increase of $100,000 in the compensation fund due to an increase in the number of claims filed and to the increased cumulative cost of death and permanent disability claims; for additional personnel, $24,904, due to the increase in work connected with the administration of the three acts administered by the commission; for medical examinations, travel and miscellaneous expenses, $12,770; and a decrease of $5,000 for printing and binding.

FEDERAL BOARD FOR VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$8, 799, 520
Budget estimate for 1931.....	8, 420, 400
Decrease.....	379, 120

The figures for 1931 involve a decrease of $779,120 for the vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry. This decrease is due to the expiration of the law authorizing an appropriation for this purpose. There is an increase of $400,000 for further cooperation with the States in the development of agriculture and home economics.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD

Appropriated for 1930.....	$151, 790, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 900, 000
Decrease.....	149, 890, 000

There is an actual increase of $110,000 for the Division of Cooperative Marketing which was transferred to the board on October 1, 1929, from the Department of Agriculture. The appropriations for 1930 include an item of $150,000,000 for the revolving fund. The Budget estimate for 1931 does not include any amount for this purpose, but estimates for 1931 to meet the need for additional funds under the authorization of $500,000,000 contained in the "Agricultural marketing act" approved June 15, 1929, will be transmitted when requirements for such additional funds are more definitely known.

FEDERAL OIL CONSERVATION BOARD

Appropriated for 1930.....
Budget estimate for 1931.....	$22, 220
Increase.....	22, 220

The board has been operating through an appropriation of $50,000 made in the first deficiency act, fiscal year 1925, approved January 20, 1925, and subsequent extensions. The balance of this appropriation will be exhausted in the course of the fiscal year 1930. The work projected by the board is only partially completed and this appropriation is recommended for further prosecution of the work.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$179, 500
Budget estimate for 1931.....	187, 250
Increase.....	7, 750

The increase in the Budget estimate for 1931 consists of $5,500 for salaries of additional employees required in connection with the auditing activities of the commission, $250 for miscellaneous expenses, and $2,000 in the amount estimated to be required for payments to States of their portion of the receipts from licenses issued under the Federal water power act.

FEDERAL RADIO COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$164, 440
Budget estimate for 1931.....	168, 610
Increase.....	4, 170

The net increase of $4,170, further augmented by moderate reductions made possible in miscellaneous items of expenditure below the schedule for 1930, is to provide engineering personnel.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

Appropriated for 1930.....	$2, 605, 741
Budget estimate for 1931.....	2, 560, 336
Decrease.....	45, 405

This is a permanent indefinite appropriation, and the 1931 Budget estimate is an estimate of the probable expenditures for that year.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$1, 277, 760
Reappropriated from unexpended balance.....	9, 729
Total appropriated for 1930.....	1, 287, 489
Expended from the above during 1929.....	44, 803
Net amount available for 1930.....	1, 242, 686
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 437, 460
Increase.....	194, 774

The 1930 appropriation act reappropriated $12,000 of the 1928 unexpended balance. This balance later proved to be $9,729, as shown above.

The increase for 1931 is to continue an investigation of power and light supplied by public utilities, directed by Senate Resolution 83, first session, Seventieth Congress, for which $85,000 was appropriated for 1929 in the deficiency act of May 29, 1928, and an investigation of chain-store systems, directed by Senate Resolution 224, first session, Seventieth Congress. For these investigations $262,000, to be immediately available, was included in the 1930 appropriation.

GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE

Unexpended balances of appropriations for 1928 and 1929.....	48, 800
Transferred from Interior Department appropriations.....	5, 100
Total.....	4, 145, 900
Budget estimate for 1931.....	4, 181, 000
Increase.....	35, 100

There is an increase in salaries from $3,915,600 to $3,950,000, involving an increase in personnel of 24. Printing and binding is increased from $30,000 to $93,000, but there is approximately the same decrease in the contingent expense appropriation, the reduction resulting from the transfer of $63,000 to printing and binding for the purchase of tabulating cards heretofore bought from the contingent appropriation.

HOUSING CORPORATION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$243, 450
Reappropriation of 1928 unexpended balance.....	154, 500
Total for 1930.....	397, 950
Budget estimate for 1931.....	298, 950
Total decrease.....	99, 000

The decrease is made up as follows: For the administrative work in the field in the collection of moneys due on property gradually being liquidated, $1,000; Government hotels, $98,000. The large reduction here is due to the tearing down of the Capitol group of buildings, leaving only the Plaza group for housing of Government employees.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$7, 548, 825
Reappropriation of 1928 unexpended balance.....	665, 000
Total for 1930.....	8, 213, 825
Budget estimate for 1931.....	10, 329, 963
Increase.....	2, 116, 138

Of this increase, $1,000,000 is due to an estimate of appropriations under the "General railroad contingent fund," which it is estimated will be received and invested during the fiscal year 1931. This item has heretofore been included only in the statement of receipts and expenditures. It is also included this year, for the first time, in the estimate of appropriations in accordance with the policy of having the appropriation estimates reflect the amounts of the indefinite appropriations. An increase of $1,007,313 is provided for the valuation of the property of carriers. This will enable the commission to make material progress in bringing the valuation to date in accordance with the principles laid down in the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the "O'Fallon" case; an increase of $86,620 for the general work of policing the accounts of carriers which are greatly in arrears; of $14,345 for the inspection of locomotives; and $7,860 for safety device inspection.

MOUNT RUSHMORE NATIONAL MEMORIAL COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	-----
Budget estimate for 1931.....	$60, 000

This commission, created by the act of February 25, 1929, is for the purpose of completing the carving of the Mount Rushmore National Memorial on Rushmore Mountain in the Black Hills of South Dakota to commemorate the foundation, expansion, preservation, and unification of the United States. There is an authorization of $250,000, of which amount $100,000 was appropriated for the fiscal years 1929 and 1930.

NATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR AERONAUTICS

Appropriated for 1930.....	$1, 292, 200
Made available by reappropriation of the unexpended balance, fiscal year 1928.....	7, 800
Appropriated by second deficiency act, 1929, apportioned to the fiscal year 1930.....	208, 000
Total available for 1930.....	1, 508, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 321, 000
Decrease.....	187, 000

The estimate for 1931, compared with the total availability for 1930, involves a reduction of $208,000 for seaplane channel and $30,000 for heating plant, not required for 1931, and a reduction of $150,000 in the amount required for the construction of the large wind tunnel, total reduction, $388,000; and an increase of $60,000 for the construction of a hangar to replace the present old war-time hangar, which is to be razed to make room for building construction by the War Department, and $141,000 for additional material, equipment, and personnel necessary to enable the committee to carry forward its work in research, including the operation of the large wind tunnel and seaplane channel, now under construction; total increase, $201,000. Deducting the total increase of $201,000 from the total decrease of $388,000 results in a net decrease of $187,000.

PORTO RICAN HURRICANE RELIEF COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	-----
Budget estimate for 1931.....	$1, 000, 000

Public Resolution 74, approved December 21, 1928, authorized the appropriation of $8,150,000 for the relief of Porto Rico by reason of damages suffered from the hurricane of September 13 and 14, 1928. A total of $7,150,000 was appropriated by the first and second deficiency acts, fiscal year 1929, both approved March 4, 1929. The Budget estimate for 1931 provides the remainder of the amount authorized by the act of December 21, 1928, namely, $1,000,000, all of which is required for the purpose of making loans to individual coffee and coconut planters, fruit growers or other agriculturists in the island of Porto Rico.

Increase.....	614, 738. 76

In salaries there is an increase from $2,025,611 to $2,422,250 as follows: Care of Southern Railway Building, $86,639; care of new Internal Revenue Building, $300,000; for promotions within grades, $10,000. There is an increase of personnel involved of 357. In general expenses there is an increase from $947,841 to $1,165,940, as follows: Maintenance of Southern Railway Building, $21,800; maintenance of Internal Revenue Building, $200,000; rent, $2,000; emergency repairs, $5,000; new cables, Washington Monument, $3,500; repairs to Army Medical Museum Building, $9,000; repairs to Winder Building, $20,000; repairs to elevators, $5,000; repairs to boilers, $4,500; repaving West Executive Avenue and State Place, $35,000; total $305,800. The decreases are, installation of boilers, $40,000; demolition of temporary building 7, $5,000; leveling floors, $10,000; miscellaneous maintenance, rent, repairs to buildings, etc., $32,701; total, $87,701, leaving a net increase in general expenses of $218,099.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$100, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....
Increase.....	100, 000

This commission has been operating through an appropriation of $260,000 carried in the executive and independent offices appropriation act for the fiscal year 1927, approved April 22, 1926, which is nearly exhausted.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$1, 106, 183
Reappropriation of 1928 unexpended balance.....	1, 390
Total for 1930.....	1, 107, 573
Budget estimate for 1931.....	1, 189, 683
Increase.....	82, 110

The amount for 1931 involves an increase for personnel of $19,150; of $2,000 for the purchase of an electrical pump for fire protection; $25,000 for the construction of a gallery to house the collection of mammals; $7,000 for fire-proofing a temporary building in which is housed a valuable collection of aircraft; $1,000 for the purchase of additional reference books to classify the collections; $20,000 for the administration, maintenance, and exhibition in New York of the Gellatly Art Collection. By the terms of the deed of gift, this collection, which is valued at several million dollars, is to remain in New York City and be maintained by the Nation for a period of four years. There is an increase of $4,000 for printing and binding, and $3,960 for miscellaneous expenses.

TARIFF COMMISSION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$789, 000
Reappropriated unexpended balance of appropriation for 1928.....	36, 000
Total for 1930.....	825, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	825, 000

The aggregate amount for the service of the Tariff Commission remains unchanged.

UNITED STATES GEOGRAPHIC BOARD

Appropriated for 1930.....	$9, 200
Budget estimate for 1931.....	14, 660
Increase.....	5, 460

This increase is for the purpose of printing the decisions of the board. No report has been printed for 10 years, the decisions being in leaflet form.

UNITED STATES SHIPPING BOARD AND MERCHANT FLEET CORPORATION

Appropriated for 1930.....	$11, 494, 000
Made available by reappropriation of the unexpended balance of prior year.....	229, 964
Total available for 1930.....	11, 723, 964
Budget estimate for 1931.....	6, 396, 000
Decrease.....	5, 327, 964

The Budget estimates for 1931, compared with the total available for 1930, carry a net reduction of $5,327,964. This reduction is made up of an estimated reduction in the deficit pertaining to the operation of ship lines and activities, $1,894,850, of which $640,535 pertains to the sale or anticipated sale of ship lines during 1930 and 1931; a reduction in the annual expense of maintaining inactive (or spot) vessels, $1,203,150; a reduction in the amount available for reconditioning and operating ships for carrying coal to foreign ports, $1,729,964, no amount being included in the Budget for 1931 specifically for this purpose, and a reduction in the estimate for direct appropriation for research and experimental development in ship and machinery design, construction, and operation, $500,000, the Budget containing provision for the continuance of the availability of the unexpended balance of this amount through the fiscal year 1931.

VETERANS' BUREAU

Appropriated for 1930.....	$499, 975, 000
Government life insurance fund: Losses, loans, and investment of receipts.....	97, 400, 000
Comparable total for 1930.....	597, 375, 000
Appropriations for 1931, Budget estimates.....	511, 225, 000
Government life insurance fund: Losses, loans, and investment of receipts—Budget estimate for 1931.....	78, 530, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	589, 755, 000
Net decrease.....	7, 620, 000

Eliminating the items of expenditures from the self-supporting Government life insurance fund, the estimates for appropriation of funds for 1931 exceed the 1930 comparable availability for similar purposes by $11,250,000.

For salaries and expenses an increase of $2,000,000 is requested for personnel in new hospitals and an increase in the legal division of central office to handle the increasing number of claims cases.

An additional $4,550,000 is included in the estimates for military and naval compensation, largely for retired pay of emergency officers under the act of May 24, 1928. Retirements under this act greatly exceed the number anticipated.

An increase of $3,950,000 for medical and hospital services is requested for maintenance, equipment, and operation, excluding personnel, of new hospitals and to provide for the increasing number of nonservice connected cases.

For military and naval insurance an increase of $4,750,000 is asked for in the 1931 estimates.

The $2,000,000 estimated for hospital facilities and services will complete the appropriation of $15,000,000 authorized in the act of May 23, 1928, of which $6,000,000 was appropriated for 1930.

Increase 1931 over 1930 for regular continuing activities.....	5, 943, 869

This increase of $5,943,869 includes increases amounting to $1,531,103 for research work and $2,019,500 for fire protection of the national forests.

The principal increases and decreases in amounts included in the estimates for 1931 as compared with the availability for 1930 are as follows:

For the Office of the Secretary there is a decrease of $103,440 for rent of buildings due to the probability of the Government acquiring title to buildings now rented, an increase of $10,550 for new positions and promotions, and $49,500 for reroofing both wings of the present department building and the purchase of automobiles.

For the Office of Information there is an increase of $100,000 for printing and binding to enable the department to print material which has accumulated under increased appropriations for research work, and $10,000 for two additional editorial writers.

For the library there is an increase of $3,000 for two additional employees.

For the Office of Experiment Stations there is an increase of $14,000 for administering acts making appropriation for the use of State agricultural experiment stations, $5,000 for extending the acts to the Territory of Hawaii, and $2,000 for additional work at insular experiment stations.

For the Office of Extension Service there is an increase of $10,000 for extension work in Alaska pursuant to the act of February 23, 1929; $5,000 for farm forestry to cooperate with additional States under the Clark-McNary Act; $55,000 for cooperative marketing specialists to meet the needs of the Federal Farm Board; and $3,000 for administration. These increases are offset in part by the omission of special funds for extension work in flood relief for which $61,615 was available in 1930.

For the Weather Bureau there is an increase of $56,000 for improving the general service and $600,000 for furnishing additional weather forecast service to aviation.

For the Bureau of Animal Industry there is an increase of $11,400 for Inspection and Quarantine Service; $34,000 for tick eradication; $65,210 for investigations of the breeding, feeding, and management of domestic farm animals; $74,000 for poultry feeding and breeding; $56,220 for investigations of animal diseases; and $20,000 for meat inspection. These increases are offset in part by a decrease of $171,000 for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, and $15,300 for the eradication of dourine in horses, both decreases being due to progress which has been made in eradication work.

For the Bureau of Dairy Industry there is an increase of $38,500 for investigations in dairying and dairy herd improvement, $11,000 for the purchase of land near Beltsville, Md., and a decrease of $30,000 due to the inclusion in 1930 appropriations of funds for the establishment of a dairy station at Lewisburg, Tenn., which now requires funds for operation only.

For the Bureau of Plant Industry there is an increase of $19,948 for forest pathology; $59,500 for cotton production and cotton diseases; $104,000 for research work in improving wheat and rice growing; $25,000 for further physical improvements at the Cheyenne, Wyo., dry-land agricultural station; $102,269 for horticultural investigations; $18,800 for the introduction of foreign plants; and $28,500 for miscellaneous items.

For the Forest Service there is an increase of $188,500 for prevention of forest fires; $1,500,000 for fire roads and trails; $331,000 for forest fire protective improvements; $50,000 for control of insects, rodents, and diseases affecting forests; $300,000 for cooperation with States and others in fire prevention and suppression in other than Government forests, under the Clark-McNary Act; $238,000 for forest research work under the McNary-McSweeney Act; $111,950 for administration and improvements of the national forests. For expenditures under permanent and indefinite appropriations for the national forests there are estimated increases of $270,000 for payments to States of the required percentage of forest receipts, and $300,000 in payments from funds received from the States and others for cooperative work in national forests and forests adjacent thereto.

For the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils there is an increase of $53,430 for chemical investigations of agricultural products; $36,000 for soil surveys; $41,000 for soil fertility investigations; and $38,635 for other chemical investigations affecting agriculture.

For the Bureau of Entomology there is an increase of $268,442 for investigating the history and habits of insects injurious and beneficial to agriculture and determining methods of destroying those that are injurious.

For the Bureau of Biological Survey there is an increase of $46,727 for destroying rodents and predatory animals; $21,200 for research studies concerning wild animal life including their relation to forests; $18,987 for protection of migratory birds; $23,800 for protection, production, and utilization of fur-bearing animals and reindeer in the United States and Alaska; $30,400 for maintenance of animal and bird reservations and refuges; $125,000 for acquisition of areas for migratory-bird reservations under the act of February 18, 1929. These increases are offset in part by a reduction of $161,816 in the amount for land purchases and physical improvements at the Bear River, Utah, bird refuge, the amount estimated being the final installment under the legislative authorization.

For the Bureau of Public Roads there is an increase of $75,000 for research work on machinery used on farms where the control of the corn borer is a problem, this work being carried on in 1930 with the unexpended balance of the corn-borer appropriation; $20,000 for research work on machinery used for cotton ginning and for the distribution of fertilizers; and $10,000 for studying engineering problems in connection with irrigation and drainage.

For the Bureau of Agricultural Economics there is an increase of $28,000 for studies in farm management and practice; $61,900 for acquiring and diffusing information relative to the marketing and distribution of farm products; $65,000 for collecting and publishing estimates of the production of agricultural crops and live stock; $40,000 for collecting and disseminating information relative to foreign supply and needs of agricultural products; $35,000 for cooperative work in making inspections and certifications of farm products on sale at certain markets; $70,740 for collecting and distributing information relative to market supply, demand, and movement of agricultural products (market news service); $40,000 for enforcement of regulatory acts pertaining to cotton futures; unwarranted destruction of produce received by commission merchants; and standards of cotton, grain, and produce containers, making a total increase of $340,640, which is offset in part by the omission of an estimate for the operation of Center Market for which $150,000 is available in 1930. The appropriation for cooperative marketing was transferred to the Federal Farm Loan Board on October 1, 1929.

For the Bureau of Home Economics there is an increase of $40,200 for studies of food and of the utilization of agricultural products in homes.

For the Plant Quarantine and Control Administration there is an increase of $54,000 for improving the inspection service at ports; $96,000 for improving the inspection service at the Mexican border; $20,955 for interception, inspection, and disposition of articles transferred in violation of quarantines; $52,000 for control of the European corn borer. There is an apparent increase of $80,000 for control of the gypsy moth, but taking into account a proposed supplemental estimate for 1930 of $100,000, there would be a decrease of $20,000. There is an apparent increase of $208,000 for Japanese beetle control, but taking into account a proposed supplemental estimate for 1930 of $188,000 there would be an actual increase of $20,000. These increases are offset in part by a decrease of $55,120 for control of the pink bollworm and $13,700 for date scale eradication due to completion of an adopted program of work.

For the Grain Futures Administration there is an increase of $15,000 due to the necessity for opening another office in the Northwest and of strengthening the Washington office.

For the Food and Drug Administration there is an increase of $75,000 for preventing manufacture and sale of adulterated, misbranded, or deleterious foods and drugs. This increase is offset in part by the omission of an item of $16,300 for collaboration with other departments, provision therefor being contained in an item which authorizes transfers of funds from departments for work done for them.

For experiment and demonstration stations in the South and West there is an increase of $10,000 for physical improvements at Huntley, Mont., and Jeanerette, La.

For the collection of seed loans there is an increase of $80,000 due to additional work in making collections on loans to farmers in the Southeast on account of losses due to hurricanes.

For special corn borer research $250,000 of the unexpended balance of the corn borer appropriation was continued available for 1930, and it is recommended for 1931 that there be continued available from the unexpended balance $125,000, which will exhaust this fund. There have been added, however, to regular appropriations in the department $125,000, so that the same amount will be available for this special research work for 1931 as for 1930.

For the operation of the national arboretum there is included $30,000 to begin the care of land which has been acquired.

For forest roads and trails there was an appropriation of $8,000,000 for 1930, of which $1,500,000 was expended in the fiscal year 1929, leaving $6,500,000 available for 1930. A supplemental appropriation of $2,000,000 will be required for 1930, which would provide for a total expenditure of $8,500,000 during the current fiscal year. Due to reduction in the last few years of the margin between the total authorizations and the total appropriations, $7,500,000 should be sufficient for 1931.

For the Federal-aid highway system $74,000,000 was appropriated for 1930, of which $26,500,000 was expended in 1929, leaving $47,500,000 available for 1930. A supplemental appropriation of $31,500,000 will be required for 1930, which would provide for a total expenditure of $79,000,000 for the current fiscal year. Due to the reduction of the margin between the total authorizations and the total appropriations in the last few years, $75,000,000 should be sufficient for the fiscal year 1931.

For special barley investigations $25,343 was appropriated for 1930. Estimates for this activity for 1931 are merged with the regular appropriations for 1931 for the Bureau of Animal Industry and Plant Industry.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Appropriated for 1930.....	$58, 795, 609
Reappropriated from unexpended balance.....	100, 000
Balances available from 1929-30 appropriations.....	71, 228
Comparable total for 1930.....	58, 966, 837
Budget estimate for 1931.....	52, 382, 270
Net decrease.....	6, 584, 567

The net decrease of $6,584,567 is effected through the need for less funds in 1931 than in 1930 by the Census Bureau for taking the Fifteenth Decennial Census and by the Lighthouse Service for vessel construction.

The appropriations for the Office of the Secretary are increased $41,560, being $3,060 for salaries, $30,000 for printing and binding, and $8,500 for contingent items.

The $10,000 apparent increase for the Radio Division is a current requirement availability increase of $60,000 for the reason that the current year available total provides $50,000 for construction not asked for in 1931. Thirty thousand dollars of this increase is for personnel and $30,000 for monitoring equipment.

For aeronautics the estimate submitted is $2,509,210 more than the appropriations for the current year. Two hundred seventy-three thousand eight hundred thirty dollars of this increase is for pay and expenses of additional inspection personnel for rapidly growing requirements under inspection and licensing of aircraft, pilots, and mechanics and for the overhaul and replacement of 9 of the 20 planes used in the inspection service. The increase will also provide for examining and rating aeronautical schools as required in the act of February 28, 1929. An increase of $2,235,380 is included for maintenance and operation of lighted airways to be in operation by June 30 next, the construction of 3,000 additional miles in 1931, and its maintenance and operation for a part of the year. The program also includes a considerable extension of the teletype system of weather reporting.

The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce is increased from $4,548,547 to $4,811,660, or a total of $263,113. This will permit an increase of $127,113 for growth in the activities especially concerned with foreign trade, $71,000 for the promotion of domestic commerce by means of surveys and studies of problems of production and marketing, and $65,000 for establishing and strengthening district offices.

An increase of $186,135 is requested for the Steamboat Inspection Service, from $1,187,220 to $1,373,355. This will provide 45 additional assistant inspectors at a total cost of $130,500, an increased travel allowance of $25,000, additional field clerks at $25,920, and will increase by $5,240 the bureau personnel. The Bureau of Navigation increase of $41,480 from $355,820 to $397,300 is recommended principally on account of the act of March 2, 1929 "to establish load lines on American vessels."

The Bureau of Standards estimates call for an increase of $232,101 which is further virtually increased by $100,000 representing the amount in the 1930 appropriations for power-plant equipment that need not be supplied in 1931. This increase will be applied to the expanding needs of the bureau in testing, principally Government materials; research; and standardization; $173,000 has been added for increase of personnel, $75,000 for remodeling the old power-plant building, $75,000 for miscellaneous equipment, and $9,000 for various contingent expenses.

A reduction has been made in the allowances for the Lighthouse Service from $11,539,980, appropriated for 1930, to $11,367,700, estimated for 1931. Decreased requirements for vessel construction amounting to $605,000 make possible this reduction and at the same time permit substantial increases in the other appropriations of the service. General expenses, the regular maintenance appropriation, is increased by $201,500, making the total estimate $4,500,000. Retired pay requires $49,000 more to meet the gradual advance in obligations under this appropriation; the salaries appropriations for vessel and other field services are increased by $53,220; and other aids by $129,000. The total estimate of $1,354,000 for construction will provide a new tender at $550,000 for use on the Gulf Coast and will permit the following program for other aids to navigation; $255,800 for the completion of seven projects upon which work is now in progress; $343,500 to continue work upon nine more; $129,500 to begin work upon eight; and $75,200 to begin and complete within that amount the construction of four projects.

For the Coast and Geodetic Survey an increase of $395,244 has been provided, from $2,515,860 to $2,911,104, which amount is further actually increased by $58,000 included in 1930 for construction of a tender that is not recurring in 1931. Other appropriation items are increased in a total amount of $468,244 as follows: Atlantic coast survey, from $122,500 to $174,500, for wire drag work especially along the shores of Long Island Sound and for revision of surveys of Atlantic waters farther south by larger vessels of the service; magnetic work, from $47,380 to $58,780, for building repairs and replacement of equipment; Federal boundary and State surveys, from $88,600 to $314,124, for an enlarged program of control surveys to expedite topographic mapping; repairs of vessels, from $78,000 to $91,000; pay of officers and men of vessels, from $653,000 to $717,000, to man a new survey vessel for the Atlantic coast service; pay and allowances of commissioned officers, from $555,000 to $627,820, of which $19,000 is for automatic promotions and $53,820 for additional personnel for the enlarged programs under State surveys and resurvey work of the Atlantic coast; office salaries, from $483,000 to $510,000, for additional personnel and moderate promotions; and general expenses, from $64,680 to $67,180, for replacement of equipment.

The increase of $26,510, from $2,198,550 to $2,225,060, for the Bureau of Fisheries is in effect an increase of $161,510, taking into consideration $125,000 appearing in the 1930 total for a new power vessel and $10,000 for improvements at the La Crosse, Wis., fish-cultural station that need not be provided in 1931. This will add $29,260 to salaries appropriations for necessary increases in personnel; $10,000 to fish propagation, for the operation of additional stations; $17,500 to maintenance of vessels, for two vessels being added to the fleet; $9,250 for technical study of problems in fishery industries; $6,500 for equipment items in protecting seal and salmon fisheries of Alaska; $24,000 to improve the Fairport, Iowa, biological station; and $65,000 for a by-products plant on the Pribilof Islands.

The estimate for the Patent Office is an increase of $210,550, from $3,333,800 to $3,544,350, adding to the personnel roll 52 examiners, 6 supervisors, 15 clerks, and 5 messengers.

The available total of $2,374,670 for the Bureau of Mines for 1930 includes $100,000 reappropriated for construction in the helium work at Amarillo, Tex. Excluding this nonrecurring item, the estimate of $2,549,480 for the fiscal year 1931 contemplates an increase of $274,810 distributed as follows: Investigating mine accidents, from $422,000 to $438,640, to rebuild explosives testing laboratory destroyed by fire at the Bruceton, Pa., experimental mine, and for study and testing of equipment used in promotion of mine-safety work; operating mine-rescue cars and stations, $326,130 to $330,530, for an associate engineer at Norton, Va., in the promotion of health and safety work; mineral mining investigations, from $144,220 to $165,000, to expedite the study of mining methods and costs; helium plants, from $95,800 to $306,190; economics of mineral industries, from $285,000 to $307,600, for current reports on coal distribution, additional studies of distribution and utilization of petroleum products, and for further expansion of the work in mineral statistics.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Appropriated for 1930.....	$311, 346, 075. 78
Budget estimate for 1931.....	304, 302, 347. 74
Net decrease.....	7, 043, 728. 04

The estimates for the office of the Secretary of the Interior are increased from $929,000 to $958,500 for personnel and contingent expenses.

The diminishing cost of the administration of the public-land service accounts for the decrease in the estimates for the General Land Office from $2,159,400 to $2,134,350.

The estimates for the Bureau of Indian Affairs are increased from $16,673,215 to $19,798,029. This net increase of $3,124,814 includes $1,327,500 for education; $688,400 for conservation of health; $275,000 for industrial assistance and advancement; $464,487 for irrigation and drainage of and water supply for Indian lands; $224,000 for general support of Indians and administration of Indian property; and $162,000 for administrative salaries and expenses of the Indian Service.

The estimates for the Bureau of Pensions are decreased from $243,211,000 to $236,599,400. The appropriation for Army and Navy pensions is decreased from $221,000,000 to $214,000,000, a result occasioned by the decrease in the number of Civil War pensioners. The annual amount for financing the Government's liability to the civil-service retirement and disability fund is increased from $20,500,000 to $20,850,000 to keep pace with the annual increase in the Government pay roll.

The estimates for the Bureau of Reclamation are increased from $8,078,000 to $8,346,000. Provision is made for continuing the availability of the balances of certain prior year authorizations from the reclamation fund to the extent of $2,967,000. In addition, expenditures totaling $290,000 from power revenues are authorized, and it is also proposed to use $693,000 of funds advanced by water users for the construction, operation, and maintenance of reclamation projects. There would thus be available for expenditure by the Bureau of Reclamation in 1931 a total sum of $12,296,000.

For the Geological Survey, the estimates are increased from $2,085,800 to $2,421,800. This increase of $336,000 includes $37,000 for topographic mapping in cooperation with the States and $94,000 for other topographic mapping; $50,000 for geologic surveys; a new item of $100,000 for fundamental research in geologic science; $7,500 for mineral resources investigations in Alaska; $25,000 for gauging streams, and $17,000 for engraving and printing geologic and topographic maps.

The estimates for the National Park Service are increased from $7,595,940 to $7,752,515, to provide for the normal increase in the number of park visitors.

There is an increase from $1,052,140 to $1,341,005 in the estimates for the Bureau of Education. The following increases are provided: $31,920 for administrative personnel and expenses, $143,325 for education of natives of Alaska (including $71,000 for a new industrial school in southeastern Alaska), $21,620 for medical relief in Alaska, $50,000 on account of the study of secondary education in the United States, and a new item of $50,000 for beginning a 3-year investigation of teacher training in the United States. The investigation of land-grant colleges, for which an appropriation of $8,000 is available in 1930, will be completed during that year.

An increase from $239,400 to $314,800 in the estimates for the Territorial governments of Alaska and Hawaii is largely due to the fact that the Territorial legislatures will meet in biennial session during 1931. The estimate for the Alaska Railroad is decreased from $1,200,000 to $1,000,000, because of increased earnings and decreased capital outlays by the railroad.

For St. Elizabeths Hospital there is an increase from $1,430,000 to $1,513,248. This represents a decrease of $475,000 supplied in 1930 for the completion of the medical and surgical building, and provides $120,000 for the construction and equipment of a tuberculosis building, $300,000 for beginning the construction of a male receiving building (to cost $1,050,000), $130,000 for repairs and improvements, including increased capacity for the heating and power plant, and an increase of $8,248 for additional personnel.

For Columbia Institution for the Deaf, there is an increase from $120,000 to $125,000, the increase of $5,000 being for personnel and equipment.

The estimates for Howard University are increased from $600,000 to $610,000. There are decreases on account of the 1930 items of $240,000 for the completion of the chemistry building, and $40,000 for completing the dormitory for young women. There are increases of $90,000 for additional personnel and administrative expenses, and $200,000 for beginning the construction of an educational classroom building with an authorized cost of $460,000.

The estimates for Freedmen's Hospital are increased from $260,180 to $424,000. The increase includes $155,000 for a hospital addition for obstetrical patients, and $8,820 for salary and subsistence expenses.

The estimated amounts required under various permanent and indefinite appropriations total $20,963,700 as against $25,712,000 for the fiscal year 1930.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Appropriated for 1930.....	$27, 937, 370
Budget estimate for 1931.....	32, 017, 292
Increase.....	4, 079, 922

The estimate for salaries, Department of Justice, contains an increase of $43,900 for additional legal and clerical personnel in the department and $9,000 for increasing the salaries of the Solicitor General, Assistant to the Attorney General, and the six Assistant Attorneys General, while $56,140 has been deducted for the personnel in the office of the Superintendent of Prisons which is now being paid from this appropriation but which is provided for in a separate estimate for 1931, resulting in a net reduction in the estimate for salaries, Department of Justice, from $1,228,300 to $1,225,060.

The estimate of appropriation for traveling and miscellaneous expenses, Department of Justice, which is chargeable with the traveling expenses of all officers and employees of the department not provided for by specific appropriations, has been increased from $18,100 to $24,000 to meet the requirements of the service.

The increase in protecting interests of the United States in customs matters from $113,170 to $120,210 includes an attorney at $4,600, a stenographer at $1,440, and $1,000 for an increase in the salary of the Assistant Attorney General at New York in charge of this activity.

There is an increase in the estimate for detection and prosecution of crimes from $2,307,720 to $2,781,419. The principal part of this increase is required to meet the large increase in the number of field investigations of alleged violations of Federal statutes throughout the United States, and which is reflected to some extent in the work of the administrative office at Washington. Additional personnel for the Division of Identification and Information of this bureau is also provided for in the estimate to meet the increasing demands for criminal identification data from peace officers and law-enforcement officials.

In the Budget for 1931 there appears for the first time an estimate for salaries and expenses, Office of the Superintendent of Prisons, amounting to $192,878, which consists of $157,878 for personnel and $35,000 for traveling expenses as compared to $56,140 for the present personnel of this office which is being paid from the appropriation salaries, Department of Justice, and $13,000 for traveling expenses of this personnel for which there is a separate appropriation entitled "Inspection of prisons and prisoners," an increase over all of $123,738 for 1931. The purpose of this estimate is to provide specific funds for an organization unit at Washington to supervise the maintenance and care of United States prisoners under the proposed plan for reorganization of the Federal penal system.

The increase in the estimate for salaries of circuit, district, and retired judges from $1,930,000 to $2,099,000 is required to pay the salaries of judges appointed pursuant to legislation authorizing additional circuit and district judges and creating the tenth judicial circuit, and the salaries of additional retired judges.

The Federal Government has accepted the cession by the State of Colorado of exclusive jurisdiction over the lands embraced within the Rocky Mountain National Park, and the estimate for salaries, National Park Commissioners, is increased from $16,000 to $18,000 to provide for the salary of the United States States commissioner for this park.

The act of March 2, 1929, transferred the jurisdiction over appeals from the Patent Office in patent and trademark cases from the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia to the United States Court of Customs Appeals and changed the name of the latter court to the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Some additional personnel and promotions are recommended on account of the increase in work caused by this transfer, which, however, have been largely offset by reductions in the rent and the cleaning force, as it is expected that the court will occupy space in one of the new Government buildings shortly after July 1, 1930, the net result being an increase from $110,260 to $111,320 in this estimate.

Increases are contained in the following estimates relating to law enforcement, in order to expedite the work of the courts and bring it up to date: Salaries, fees, and expenses of marshals, from $3,780,000 to $3,880,000; salaries and expenses of district attorneys, from $1,526,000 to $1,678,550; pay of regular assistant attorneys, from $1,223,400 to $1,479,700; pay of special assistant attorneys, from $359,600 to $450,000; and salaries and expenses of clerks, United States courts, from $1,943,400 to $2,105,060. These estimates provide for increases in salaries of some of the United States attorneys, marshals, and clerks of courts, and part of their office forces, additional personnel where necessary, and additional funds for traveling and other expenses.

The estimates for fees of commissioners and fees of jurors and witnesses, over which the department has no administrative control, are increased respectively from $550,000 to $600,000 and from $3,500,000 to $3,700,000, to meet the increase in the business of the courts. There is an increase in rent of court rooms, United States courts, from $78,000 to $118,000, to provide necessary space for the new judges and to meet anticipated increases in rentals in some places; pay of bailiffs, etc., which includes not only the attendance per diem of bailiffs, criers, and jury commissioners but also the traveling expenses of circuit and district judges, and meals and lodging of jurors and bailiffs in United States cases when ordered by the court, is increased from $455,000 to $485,000; and the increase from $890,360 to $950,000 in miscellaneous expenses, United States courts, is to promote stenographers and messengers to judges in meritorious cases, employ stenographers and messengers for the new judges, and provide additional funds for expenses in connection with condemnation proceedings outside the District of Columbia.

The estimate for United States penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kans., is increased from $1,036,910 to $1,623,357, of which amount $1,051,612 is for the main prison at Leavenworth with an estimated average daily population of 3,400 prisoners; the remaining $571,745 is for the operation of a branch prison in the Disciplinary Barracks at Fort Leavenworth, where it is expected to maintain an average daily population of 1,300 prisoners of a definite type. The estimate for United States penitentiary, Atlanta, Ga., is increased from $923,319 to $1,045,837, based on an estimated average daily population of 3,300 prisoners, while the estimate for United States penitentiary, McNeil Island, Wash., is increased from $381,872 to $438,708, for an estimated average daily population of 1,000 prisoners. For maintenance of the capacity daily average of 500 inmates at the Federal Industrial Institution for Women, Alderson, W. Va., the estimate for that institution is increased from $286,210 to $393,125. The estimate for United States Industrial Reformatory, Chillicothe, Ohio, is increased from $331,320 to $568,690, to maintain an average daily population of 1,200 prisoners. The increase in the estimate for National Training School for Boys, Washington, D. C., from $208,000 to $215,080 is to provide for the employment of a physician-psychiatrist, steward-dietitian, and chief of mechanical service.

The following items are included in the estimates for construction projects at the several institutions: Leavenworth, $22,300; Atlanta, $79,000; McNeil Island, $139,000; and $450,000 to continue the construction of the Industrial Reformatory at Chillicothe, in addition to the $550,000 already appropriated, the total amount to be expended for this purpose being limited by law to $3,000,000.

Provision has been made for the interchange of not to exceed 10 per cent of the amounts appropriated under penal and correctional institutions on the objects named therein, except appropriations for construction and repair, working capital, and support of United States prisoners, with a restriction that the total of any appropriation shall not be increased by more than 10 per cent. Also the working capital funds for the United States penitentiaries at Leavenworth and Atlanta have been combined into a single fund, for the industrial enterprises authorized at those penitentiaries, including payment of obligations for such purposes for prior years.

Under the act of March 4, 1925, providing for the establishment of a probation system in the United States courts except in the District of Columbia, there are now employed seven salaried probation officers. For the extension of this activity, the estimate for probation system, United States courts, is increased from $25,000 to $200,000, to provide for the salaries and expenses of 54 salaried officers and for the expenses of voluntary officers appointed by the court for temporary service.

The increase from $2,450,000 to $3,000,000 in the estimate for support of United States prisoners is due principally to the increase in the number of Federal prisoners confined in State institutions and increases in the rates charged by such institutions. Also there is paid from this appropriation the expenses of operating the United States jail in New York City, which cares for prisoners awaiting trial, short-term prisoners, and prisoners temporarily detained pending transportation to a Federal penitentiary.

The estimate for defending suits in claims against the United States is reduced from $80,000 to $70,000, based on expenditures during preceding years.

A reduction is made in the estimate for salaries and expenses, Pueblo Lands Board, from $33,000 to $25,000, as it is expected that the work for which this board was established will be finished before the close of the fiscal year 1931.

The estimate for salaries and expenses of commissioners, Court of Claims, has been reduced from $79,180 to $41,790, because the law authorizing the appointment of these commissioners will expire on January 10, 1931, and there is recommended for 1931 a pro rata amount of the appropriation for 1930.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Appropriated for 1930.....	$10, 774, 430
Budget estimate for 1931.....	12, 219, 770
Increase.....	1, 445, 340

The increase for 1931 is apportioned among several of the activities of the department, as follows:

Salaries, Office of the Secretary.....	$2, 100
Contingent expenses.....	13, 500
Printing and binding.....	25, 000
Expenses of regulating immigration.....	885, 000
Miscellaneous expenses, Bureau of Naturalization.....	253, 940
Investigation of child welfare, Children's Bureau.....	42, 000
General expenses, Children's Bureau.....	5, 800
Salaries and expenses, Women's Bureau.....	50, 000
United States Employment Service.....	168, 000

The increase for salaries in the Office of the Secretary is to provide principally a $1,000 increase in the salary of each of the two assistant secretaries.

The increase of $13,500 in the item of contingent expenses is to equip and supply additional personnel and to rent punching and tabulating machines necessary to administer the act of March 2, 1929.

The increase in the amount for printing and binding is to meet the increased needs of the department.

The increase for expenses of regulating immigration is for the pay and authorized expenses of 200 additional immigrant inspectors and 114 clerks in the field, and 14 employees in the District of Columbia, to administer the acts of March 2 and 4, 1929, and for inspection at new international bridges, roads, and tunnels.

The increase for miscellaneous expenses, Bureau of Naturalization, is for the administration of the act of March 2, 1929, which provides for the issue of citizenship papers to wives and children of naturalized citizens, the issue of duplicate papers for certain lost or mutilated originals, and the annual preparation of a statistical report under section 10 of the act. The increase provides for the following additional personnel: 67 employees in the District of Columbia and 37 junior naturalization examiners and 40 clerks in the field.

The increases for the Children's Bureau are for expansion of the study of juvenile delinquency.

The increase for the Women's Bureau is for a study of human waste, with especial relation to women's employment.

An increase of $168,000 is recommended for the United States Employment Service for expansion of farm labor employment activities, and to assist ex-service and rehabilitated men of the World War and men discharged from the Regular Army in finding employment.

NAVY DEPARTMENT

Appropriated for 1930.....	$362, 061, 247
Made available by transfer from the naval supply account fund.....	3, 500, 000
Made available by reappropriation of unexpended balances for prior years.....	1, 132, 023
Total for 1930.....	366, 693, 270
Budget estimate for 1931.....	$380, 392, 526
To be made available by transfer from the naval supply account fund.....	2, 000, 000
To be made available by reappropriation of unexpended balances for prior years..	700, 000
Total for 1931.....	383, 092, 526
Increase.....	16, 399, 256

The estimates for 1931 will provide for 84,500 enlisted men for the Navy and 18,000 enlisted men for the Marine Corps, the same as for 1930; for the maintenance, repair, and operation of practically the same number of ships in commission as will be in commission at the close of 1930; for the maintenance and operation of shore stations; for numerous public works projects, including continuation of work on ammunition storage facilities; for the completion of the fifth increment and the 5-year naval aircraft program, calling for 1,000 useful planes on hand and on order at the close of the fiscal year 1931; for continuation of work on the two large dirigibles now under contract; for the completion of the modernization of the battleships Pennsylvania and Arizona, as authorized by the act of February 25, 1929, and for continuing construction of ships authorized prior to February 13, 1929. For the 15 cruisers and 1 aircraft carrier authorized by the act of February 13, 1929, provision is made to carry forward work on 2 cruisers already laid down, for 3 cruisers and the aircraft carrier to be laid down late in the fiscal year 1930, and for the remaining 10 cruisers to be commenced late in the fiscal year 1931.

The Budget estimate for 1931 shows a net increase of $16,399,256 over 1930. The principal items of difference are as follows: "Engineering" increased from $20,436,300 (including $750,000 transferred from the naval supply account fund) to $21,215,000 (including $1,000,000 to be transferred from the naval supply account fund) which provides $750,000 for tools and machinery for shops, the same as for 1930, and increases of $628,700 for safety and salvage devices for submarines, $50,000 for screw-thread gages and $100,000 due to changes in status of ships; "Construction and Repair" increased from $18,677,500 (including $750,000 transferred from the naval supply account fund) to $18,941,300 (including $1,000,000 to be transferred from the naval supply account fund), which includes $750,000 for tools and machinery for shops, the same as for 1930, and $1,070,000 for safety and salvage devices for submarines as against $450,000 for this purpose for 1930; "Pay, Subsistence, and Transportation, Navy" increased from $154,512,782 (including $578,500 reappropriated from unexpended balance for prior years) to $157,056,963, due principally to automatic increases under operation of law; "Public Works" increased from $5,197,350 to $7,500,000, due to additional requirements for ammunition storage facilities and improvements of naval air stations and other navy yards and stations; "Aviation, Navy" increased from $31,430,000 to $32,230,000 to provide additional funds required toward the construction of the two large dirigibles now under contract; total for the Marine Corps from $25,156,877 to $25,741,693 due principally to automatic increases in pay and allowances of officers and men under operation of law, and increased requirements for subsistence and clothing; "Major Alterations, Naval Vessels" increased from $450,000 for 1930 for the completion of the modernization of the Oklahoma and Nevada, to $7,400,000 for 1931 for the completion of the modernization of the Pennsylvania and Arizona for which purpose $7,400,000 was appropriated in the second deficiency act, 1929, to carry this work through 1929 and 1930; "Increase of the Navy" increased from $48,550,000 (including $2,000,000 transferred from the naval supply account fund) to $49,800,000 to provide funds necessary to carry forward work on ships laid down under authorizations made prior to February 13, 1929, and for work on the 15 light cruisers and 1 aircraft carrier authorized by the act of February 13, 1929, as set forth above—the Budget estimate is based on a program of ship construction requiring a total of $62,325,000 for 1931, the difference between this amount and the amount of $49,800,000, carried in the Budget, to be provided from the cash balance of over $28,000,000 carried from 1929 to 1930, of which at least $12,525,000 is expected to be carried from 1930 to 1931; and the other items of differences involve miscellaneous increases and decreases predicated upon the requirements of the naval service.

Deducting the amounts pertaining to public works, major alterations of vessels, and increase of the Navy, there remains available for 1930, $311,925,920, and for 1931, $317,827,526, indicating an increase of $5,901,606 for 1931 over 1930 for current and ordinary requirements.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

Appropriated for 1930	$818, 235, 725
Budget estimate for 1931	838, 970, 577
Net increase	20, 734, 852

The Budget estimate of $838,970,577 for postal requirements in the fiscal year 1931 represents an increase over the appropriations for the previous year of $20,734,852, or 2.53 per cent. The postal revenues for 1931 are estimated at $754,400,000, an increase of $29,000,000 over the estimate for the previous year, or 4 per cent. On this basis the estimated postal deficiency for 1931 would be $84,570,577, but it is expected that probable unexpended balances in appropriations, which are usual in a service of this magnitude, will amount to at least $6,070,577, and that the estimated deficiency will not be in excess of $78,500,000. Using the same method of computation it is estimated that the deficit for the fiscal year 1930 will not be more than $84,000,000. The operating deficit for the fiscal year 1929, which does not include retroactive mail pay to railroads, is estimated at $86,309,514.

The principal items of increase or decrease which go to make up the net increase in the 1931 estimates over the 1930 appropriations are as follows:

An increase of $47,590 in departmental salaries, to provide an executive assistant to the Postmaster General and additional personnel in the offices of the First Assistant, Third Assistant, and Chief Inspector.

A decrease of $50,000 in the provision for freight, express, or motor transportation of equipment, due to appropriations for these purposes in 1929 and 1930 being in excess of apparent needs.

An increase of $100,000 for compensation of assistant postmasters, to provide for routine appointment and promotion of assistant postmasters.

An increase of $6,950,000 for clerks, watchmen, messengers, and laborers at first and second class post offices, to provide for automatic promotions provided by law and normal increase in the force to handle the larger volume of mail.

A decrease of $100,000 for clerks at third-class post offices, due to the appropriations for the past two years being in excess of apparent needs.

An increase of $143,600 for miscellaneous items at first and second class post offices, to provide additional telephone service and increases in salaries and personnel of the janitor force.

An increase of $75,000 for village delivery service, to provide for the growth of the service and automatic promotions.

An increase of $3,955,000 for city-delivery carriers, to provide for necessary additional carriers and automatic promotions.

An increase of $750,000 for special-delivery fees, to provide for probable further increase in this class of business.

An increase of $550,000 for rural-delivery service, to provide for the extension of existing routes and the establishment of new routes.

An increase of $145,000 for power-boat service, to provide for the probable increased cost of new contracts.

An increase of $3,500,000 for railroad transportation and mail-messenger service, to provide for handling the normal increase in the volume of mail transported.

An increase of $100,000 for railway mail service salaries, to provide for necessary increase in the force and automatic promotions.

An increase of $100,000 for railway postal clerks travel allowances, made necessary by increase in force principally during the fiscal year 1930.

An increase of $1,600,000 for foreign-mail transportation, to provide for increased volume of mail to be transported by steamships and for air-mail service to foreign countries.

An increase of $100,000 for balances due foreign countries, to provide for increased service rendered by foreign postal administrations in the territorial transportation of foreign mails.

An increase of $1,700,000 for contract air-mail service, to provide for the continued growth of this service.

An increase of $655,000 for star route service, to provide for probable increased cost of new contracts on existing routes and for the establishment of new routes.

A decrease of $50,000 in manufacture of postage stamps, etc., due to a small decrease in stamp production and reduced demand for postal cards.

A decrease of $300,000 in indemnities on domestic mail, due to improved methods of handling registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery matter.

An increase of $170,000 for rent, light, and fuel, to provide for additional quarters and space for handling the mails and the increased cost of renewing leases.

An increase of $300,000 for vehicle service, to provide for handling the increased volume of mail and the purchase of new equipment for the Government-owned motor-vehicle service.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Appropriated for 1930	$14, 794, 945. 68
Budget estimate for 1931	17, 238, 659. 14
Increase	2, 443, 713. 46

The estimate for salaries, Department of State, is increased from $1,340,000 to $1,854,765, which increase consists of $242,085 for additional permanent and temporary personnel and $189,700 for the employment of permanent personnel to replace Foreign Service officers now on temporary detail to the department, $6,000 for increasing the salaries of the Undersecretary of State and the four Assistant Secretaries of State, $50,000 for promotion of other departmental personnel, and $26,980 for increases in salaries due to reallocations made by the Personnel Classification Board in 1929 and 1930 and which will be reflected in 1931.

The principal items which make up the increase in contingent expenses, Department of State, from $70,705 to $117,818 are $20,002 for furniture and fixtures, $10,926 for typewriters and office machines, and $4,215 for communication service. The sum of $10,000 was included in the 1930 appropriation for examination of estimates in the field of the Departments of State and Commerce by the House Subcommittee on Appropriations, and a like amount is requested for 1931 to continue this examination.

There is an increase in printing and binding, Department of State, from $210,000 to $277,665, mainly for the enlarged publication program of the Department of State, which contemplates publishing the United States Treaty Series, issuing weekly press releases and monthly treaty bulletins, and bringing Foreign Relations as nearly as possible up to date. Funds are also provided to enable the department to catch up with the regular printing and binding and avoid carrying work over from year to year, which it has been found necessary to do in the past.

An increase is recommended for passport agencies, Department of State, from $72,130 to $79,025, of which $3,280 is for the purpose of increasing the salaries of employees in these agencies to the average of the salary range, and the remainder is for the employment of temporary personnel during the busy season, traveling expenses, rent, and typewriters and office machines.

The estimate of $15,000 for collecting and editing official papers of the Territories of the United States is recommended pursuant to the act of February 28, 1929, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to authorize the collection and editing of official papers of the Territories of the United States now in national archives,' approved March 3, 1925," which authorizes an appropriation of $125,000 for the purposes of the act with a provision that not more than $50,000 shall be appropriated for any one year.

On the basis of expenditures during preceding years, the estimate for salaries, chargés d'affaires ad interim, is increased from $24,000 to $30,000, for payment of the additional salary authorized by law to diplomatic or consular officers while in charge of a post during the absence of the principal officer.

The increase in the estimate for allowance for clerks at embassies and legations from $398,400 to $456,850 is composed of $30,150 for additional personnel, and $28,300 for promotions.

Contingent expenses, foreign missions, is increased from $919,100 to $1,411,325, of which $30,262 is for additional personnel including two supervisors of construction in connection with the erection of embassy and legation buildings in foreign countries, $38,001 for promotions, $57,020 for miscellaneous current expenses, $24,942 for rent of offices, and a new item amounting to $342,000 for rent, heat, and light of living quarters for diplomatic officers in foreign countries where there are no Government-owned residential buildings.

The expenditures under expenses of Foreign Service inspectors have been comparatively small during recent years, but the department advises that it is the intention to increase the force of inspectors if the additional Foreign Service officers recommended in the 1931 Budget are allowed, and with that in view this estimate is increased from $22,000 to $25,000.

The increase recommended in the estimate for allowance for clerks at consulates from $1,645,000 to $1,884,266 consists of $81,026 for promotions, $57,420 for additional consular clerks, and $100,820 for the employment of personnel to secure trade information for the use of the Secretary of Commerce as provided by the act of February 14, 1903.

Contingent expenses, United States consulates, is increased from $1,063,000 to $1,782,140, of which increase $25,099 is for additional personnel including two supervisors of construction in connection with the erection of consular buildings in foreign countries, $27,603 for promotions, $78,278 for traveling expenses including $28,278 for travel within consular districts in foreign countries and $50,000 to be used by consular officers when visiting in the United States on their statutory leave for travel in conferring with business men at important commercial centers, $10,000 for telegraphing information regarding trade opportunities, $10,000 for subscription to important trade journals, $35,250 for miscellaneous current expenses, $110,910 for rent of offices including $53,000 for rent at Shanghai during construction of the consulate general on the present site, and a new item of $422,000 for rent, heat, and light of living quarters for consular officers in foreign countries where there are no Government-owned residential buildings.

An increase is recommended for immigration of aliens, Department of State, from $505,640 to $614,797, of which $5,640 is for additional personnel and promotions in the department, $62,570 for additional clerical personnel in the field including $30,000 on account of the national origins act and $28,000 for consular clerks to be employed in connection with the examination of intending emigrants in Canada and Mexico, $20,022 for promotion of consular clerks, $14,593 for rent of offices, and $6,332 for miscellaneous current expenses.

The estimate for salaries, Foreign Service officers, has been increased from $3,001,000 to $3,298,500, which increase includes $167,500 for 67 new officers in addition to the 40 now on temporary detail to the department whom it is proposed to send to the field after they have been replaced by permanent personnel, and $130,000 for promotion of 178 officers.

The scope of the text of transportation of Foreign Service officers has been materially extended to cover items of expense not heretofore allowed, and the total amount of the estimate has been increased from $410,000 to $518,000, which includes an increase from $45,000 to $110,000 for the return on statutory leave of officers who have performed three years or more of continuous service abroad and who shall while on such leave be available for trade conference work or duty in the department, $12,000 to meet the increase in the rates of subsistence as provided by the subsistence expense act of 1926, and $31,000 for an increase in the members of officers' families.

The amount recommended for inclusion in the 1931 Budget toward financing the Foreign Service retirement and disability fund is the same as the appropriation for 1930, $216,000, and is based on the advice of the Government actuary.

Section 12 of the act of May 24, 1924, authorizes the President to grant to diplomatic missions and to consular offices at capitals of countries where there is no diplomatic mission of the United States representation allowances out of any money which may be appropriated for such purpose from time to time by Congress, and there is submitted for the first time an estimate for such allowances amounting to $92,000.

The estimate for water boundary, United States and Mexico, is increased from $58,000 to $71,660, the principal items of this increase being $3,600 for an assistant engineer and $7,160 for new gages and cable stations for stream gaging.

For the maintenance of the boundary line between United States and Canada and Alaska and Canada, as provided by the treaty of February 24, 1925, there is recommended an increase from $29,525 to $33,125, consisting of $4,600 for a geodetic engineer and an increase of $300 in the salary of the secretary, but the increase in this estimate is reduced to $3,600 by decreases in other items.

Waterways treaty, United States and Great Britain: International Joint Commission, United States and Great Britain, is increased from $164,000 to $191,585. The allotment for the United States section of the commission is increased from $34,000 to $60,355, an amount of $16,230 is recommended for investigation by the Public Health Service of probable damage to human life by fumes from the smelter at Trail, British Columbia, in conjunction with the investigation which the Agriculture Department is conducting as to the effect of these fumes on plant and animal life, while the amount for the measurement of the waters of the Kootenai and other boundary rivers is reduced from $90,000 to $75,000, making a net increase in this estimate of $27,585.

A reduction has been made in the estimate for the Foreign Service buildings fund from $2,000,000 to $1,700,000, as this amount with the unexpended balances from prior appropriations will be sufficient to carry the building program through the fiscal year 1931, all funds provided for this purpose being available until expended.

The estimate for marking the boundary line between the United States and Canada and Alaska and Canada, under the treaty of April 11, 1908, is reduced from $23,960 to $17,460, as the field work has been completed and it is expected that all maps, reports, and other office work will be finished in 1931, after which no appropriation will be required for this purpose.

Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany, and Tripartite Claims Commission, United States, Austria, and Hungary, is reduced from $132,927 to $125,075, and it is thought that the work of these commissions will be completed in 1931 and no further appropriations will be required.

In connection with the above summary it should be stated that of the $41,481,099.03 unexpended balances for public buildings under act of May 25, 1926, brought forward into 1930 from the previous fiscal year it is expected that about one-half will be carried forward into 1931, correspondingly increasing the amount available for that year and decreasing the amount available in 1930. If the amounts carried over are eliminated in respect to both years the decrease of $32,468,859.83 will be changed to an increase of $9,012,239.20.

This increase of $9,012,239.20 is the net result of the estimates for 1931 showing increases in the amounts approved for certain purposes compared with the appropriations for 1930, and decreases in others, the principal items of increase or decrease being as follows:

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CLERK AND SUPERINTENDENT

An increase of $25,000 for contingent expenses, to provide for the increased requirements of the Bureau of Customs and Coast Guard headquarters for office equipment, and to effect necessary replacements in the department's stock of typewriters.

DIVISION OF BOOKKEEPING AND WARRANTS

An increase of $50,000 in the estimated requirements for recoinage of silver coins.

PUBLIC DEBT SERVICE

A decrease of $219,500 in the annual appropriation for expenses incident to the maintenance of the public debt service, due to transfer of certain work and the personnel employed thereon to the Office of Treasurer of the United States, and to the continued reduction in the amount of the public debt. In the indefinite appropriation items there is a decrease of $35,135 for "Expenses of Loans" authorized by the act of September 24, 1917, due to a reduction in the force on work connected with public debt issues, and there is an increase of $52,703 in the item "Preparation, Custody, and Delivery of Farm Loan Bonds (Reimbursable)," due to greater activities in bond issues of this class.

CUSTOMS SERVICE

A net increase of $479,300 in administrative expenses, including $52,390 for 24 additional positions at headquarters in Washington and $440,000 for additional personnel in the field. There is also a decrease of $13,090 in the provision for contingent expenses. Aside from administrative expenses there is a reduction of $500,000 in the indefinite appropriation item "Debentures or Drawbacks, Bounties or Allowances."

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BUREAU

An increase of $80,000 to provide for the increasing and complicated work of this activity.

TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES

An increase of $48,660 to provide for work and personnel transferred from other branches of the Treasury Department and for one-step promotions to eligible employees two or more steps below the average of their grade.

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

An increase of $200,000 in the indefinite appropriation "Salaries and Expenses of National Bank Examiners" to provide for examination of the trust departments of national banks.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

A net decrease of $303,870 in the appropriation for expenses of collecting the internal revenue, made possible by a reduction of $232,300 now paid for rent of privately owned property because of the prospective occupancy on July 1, 1930, of the new Internal Revenue Building in Washington, and a further decrease in travel expenses of $56,500. The amount for personal services in the District of Columbia is increased to provide for the appointment of 25 attorneys and 25 stenographers in the Office of the General Counsel. The amount required for this additional personnel is reduced to $64,580 because of a reduction in the messenger force, due to greater facility of handling business in the new Internal Revenue Building. There is also an increase of $10,000,000 in the item for refunding taxes illegally collected, due to increased requirements for this purpose.

COAST GUARD

An increase of $2,298,869 involving $44,545 for additional salaries at headquarters in Washington, $1,030,146 for pay and allowances due principally to automatic promotions, additional men for new vessels placed in commission, and provision for mileage heretofore appropriated for separately, $283,150 for outfits and ship chandlery, including lifeboats, radio supplies, and ammunition, $269,000 for rebuilding and repairing stations, $72,000 for communication lines, including new lines in Florida, $1,330,000 for reconditioning 12 Navy destroyers to replace 12 destroyers now in the Coast Guard service, the continued operation of which is no longer economical because of large expenditures for repairs, $800,000 for 5 fast offshore patrol boats, $20,000 for 10 high-speed picket boats, and $320,000 for new seaplanes and their equipment. The estimates for 1931 also provides $800,000 for completing the ninth cutter of the 10 new cutters recently authorized by law and $100,000 for commencing the last cutter, also $45,000 for establishing a new Coast Guard station at Quillayute River, Wash.

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

A decrease of $251,260, due principally to reduction in number of plate printers and junior operators incident to the new small currency program, and reductions made possible through consolidation of appropriation items heretofore carried separately.

SECRET SERVICE DIVISION

An increase of $28,600 due principally to an increase of $18,400 for the White House police force, and $10,200 for the Secret Service force in the field.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

An increase of $619,229 made up principally of $19,684 for automatic promotions of commissioned officers, $56,844 for 18 additional commissioned officers, 14 of which are for assignment to duty in consular offices in Canada and Mexico as technical advisers in immigration cases, $20,900 for 16 additional acting assistant surgeons and $27,000 for 15 additional sanitary inspectors for border quarantine stations, $314,826 for increased personnel and expenses of hospitals due principally to new hospitals being opened in Cleveland and Detroit as well as a new relief station in Philadelphia. In addition to the foregoing $200,000 is provided for replacing quarantine boats at New York, San Diego, and Honolulu.

OFFICE OF THE SUPERVISING ARCHITECT

The appropriations for the fiscal year 1930 for public building construction under the act of May 25, 1926, and for additional land in the so-called "triangle" in the District of Columbia amounted to $39,475,500. The unexpended balance on July 1, 1929, of appropriations made in previous years for the same purposes amounted to $41,481,099.03, making the total available for 1930, $80,956,599.03. Against this total the Treasury contemplates spending $59,562,934 in the fiscal year 1930, leaving $21,393,665.03 to be carried over to the fiscal year 1931. The Budget for 1931 includes $30,000,000 for buildings and land and a supplemental estimate of $5,000,000 for new projects will be transmitted at a later date when the Treasury Department has concluded its survey of projects desirable to be undertaken at this time. On this basis the estimates for 1931 are $4,475,500 less than the appropriations for 1930, but because of the fact that public building appropriations are immediately available and available until expended comparison between appropriations in one year and estimates for the succeeding year are useful only for statistical purposes.

Aside from public buildings and land the estimates for the Office of the Supervising Architect are $936,520 in excess of the appropriations for 1930, made up of $150,000 for enlarging and remodeling public buildings, $300,000 for rent of temporary quarters during reconstruction, $40,000 for mechanical equipment, $44,670 for general expenses of public buildings, $350,000 for operating force, $90,000 for furniture and repairs to same, and $143,500 for operating supplies. The increases in the above-mentioned items for operating expenses are principally due to the enlargement of old buildings and the expected completion of 40 new buildings in 1931. There is a decrease of $180,000 in the amount provided for outside professional services.

MILITARY AND NONMILITARY ACTIVITIES (EXCLUSIVE OF NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS AND PANAMA CANAL)

The amount estimated for the maintenance and operation of the Regular Army, supplemented by the use of other funds which will be available to the War Department for this purpose, will provide for an average strength throughout the year of 12,000 commissioned officers, 998 warrant officers, and 118,750 enlisted men, exclusive of the Philippine Scouts, for which an average enlisted strength of 6,500 is provided. The amount estimated for the civilian components will provide for the training of 20,000 reserve officers for an average of two weeks and of 840 reserve officers for periods varying from one month to one year, of which number 322 will be on active duty for one year with the Army Air Corps; for the attendance of 37,500 men at citizens' military training camps in the United States and 3,000 in the Philippine Islands; for an enrollment of 127,500 students in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps units; and for the maintenance of the National Guard at an aggregate strength of 190,000.

The Budget estimate also provides for essentials connected with the maintenance and operation of active military posts, camps, and stations as now constituted. The estimates for 1931 for these purposes for barracks and quarters, other buildings, and utilities, amount to a total of $11,152,060, which is a decrease of $498,724 from the appropriation for 1930, made possible by new construction. For new construction at military posts, under the Army housing program, including the United States Military Academy, of barracks and quarters and utilities and appurtenances thereto, there is carried in the 1931 Budget the sum of $16,062,860, an increase of $1,620,910 over the amount appropriated for this purpose for 1930. In addition to the amount submitted for appropriation, provision is made in the 1931 Budget for obligation by contract to the extent of $3,000,000.

Provision is made for necessary Army transportation, including the operation of the Army transport service, and for the purchase of 1,500 horses, 500 mules, and $495,650 worth of new motor cars, trucks, ambulances, and motor cycles; for the maintenance in part of war reserves; for surveillance of and protection of stocks of ammunition to prevent deterioration and spontaneous combustion; for the upkeep of existing fortifications and accessories, and for carrying forward the general plan for the protection of the Panama Canal.

For the Air Corps of the Regular Army $35,823,473 is estimated as against a net appropriation for the fiscal year 1930 of $32,440,785. In addition, the Budget makes provision for Army aviation to the extent of $36,766,825, various sums aggregating this amount being included in the estimates for the pay and supply branches of the Army for application to the maintenance, operation, and expansion of the Air Corps of the Regular Army and in the estimates for the National Guard, Organized Reserves, and Reserve Officers' Training Corps. The amount provided in the Budget estimates for the purchase of airplanes, their spare parts and accessories, aggregates $18,423,548, of which $16,939,586 is for the Air Corps of the Regular Army, $849,825 for the National Guard, and $634,137 for the Organized Reserves and Reserve Officers' Training Corps. The amount provided in the Budget for the purchase of new airplanes will procure 443 such planes for the Regular Army Air Corps, the total number pertaining to the fourth increment of the 5-year expansion program.

The estimates provide $500,000 for the national rifle matches on the same basis as for the fiscal year 1930.

Excluding all items of a nonmilitary character, the total amount provided for national defense in the War Department Budget estimates is $339,418,362.

The Budget estimates for military activities of the War Department show a net increase of $7,719,151 over the amount appropriated for 1930, due principally to the depletion of surplus stocks left over from the World War, to the growth of the retired lists of the Army, and to increased requirements of the Air Corps expansion program, and the Army housing program.

Funds recommended will care for the various nonmilitary activities of the War Department, such as national cemeteries, national military parks, national monuments and memorials, the Alaska cable and telegraph system, and roads, bridges, and trails in Alaska.

For rivers and harbors, $55,000,000 is carried for the maintenance and improvement of existing river and harbor works, an increase of $5,000,000 over the appropriation for 1930. This is in addition to $6,862,600, which is approximately the annual amount available from permanent specific and indefinite appropriations and contributed and advanced funds. For flood control on the Mississippi River $35,000,000 is estimated as against $30,000,000 appropriated for 1930, and for flood control on the Sacramento River $1,000,000 is estimated, being the same amount as the appropriation for 1930. In addition $350,000 will be available from contributed funds for flood-control work on these two rivers. For the maintenance and operation of Dam No. 2, Muscle Shoals, Ala., including its hydroelectric power plant, $260,000 is estimated. The total provided for all items of river and harbor work, including flood control and maintenance and operation of Dam No. 2, Muscle Shoals, is $98,982,600.

NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS

The Budget estimate provides for the maintenance and operation of the 11 branch homes of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers and for aid to State and Territorial homes for disabled soldiers and sailors.

PANAMA CANAL

For the Panama Canal the Budget estimates provide for essentials necessary for the normal maintenance and operation of the canal, and for the sanitation and civil government of the Canal Zone. In addition, provision is made for capital additions consisting of $400,000 for continuing the construction of permanent quarters for canal employees; $200,000 for a modern fireproof ward for male insane; $10,000 for conversion of Balboa Harbor channel lights; $132,000 for the purchase of three towing locomotives; and $2,000,000 for continuing the construction of the Madden Dam across the Chagres River, at Alhajuela, Panama, commenced during the fiscal year 1929, to provide for additional storage of water for use in the operation of the canal. The total cost of this dam, including approach road and a hydroelectric power unit, is estimated at $12,000,000.

In connection with Budget estimates for maintaining and operating this great national asset the following information is of interest:

The investment in the canal and its adjuncts is partly for national defense and partly commercial. To June 30, 1929, the investment charged to national defense was $113,127,338, and to commercial use $273,680,596, the total investment being $386,807,934, which is exclusive of fortifications, military posts, and naval bases. The total gross revenues from the opening of the canal to June 30, 1929, amounted to $407,156,730, derived from tolls, taxes, and business operations. Deducting from this the expenses incident to transiting vessels through the canal, $113,665,996, and expenses connected with business operations, $176,107,669, which includes the value of services, supplies, and materials sold, leaves a net revenue, excluding interest on the investment, of $117,383,065. Of this, $109,958,896 was from tolls and taxes and $7,424,169 from business operations. Included in the expense account for the canal are fixed annual charges of $989,938 for depreciation and amortization of canal fixed property and $887,949 for depreciation on canal plants and equipment. The amount of tolls collected has increased from $5,631,781 in 1917 to $27,123,534 in 1929, the increase for 1929 over 1928 amounting to $180,021.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Net increase.....	3, 340, 113

Increases for salary advancements amounting to approximately $100,000 are provided in the various estimates for personal services. Provision is also made for additional personnel in certain offices, including $42,640 in the building inspection division and $16,020 for the Public Utilities Commission. In the office of the director of traffic $14,580 is provided for the employment of civilian personnel to replace policemen now detailed to that office, and $60,000 is provided for purchase and installation of traffic signals, which will permit the assignment to other duties of certain traffic policemen.

To carry out the provisions of the act of March 2, 1929 (45 Stat., p. 1487), for the establishment of the Farmers' Produce Market, $300,000 is provided, and $10,000 is recommended for the construction at Eastern and Western Markets of market sheds for the use of farmers retailing farm produce. An item of $10,000 is included for repairs to the roof of the Municipal Building, and in addition to the $205,000 already available for the construction of a central garage and shops for the highway department, there is recommended for that purpose a further sum of $150,000. For construction and equipment of a building for the northeastern branch library $150,000 is included.

For the purchase of land and for the preparation of plans for buildings for the Municipal Center, estimates of $3,000,000 and $65,000 are submitted.

The estimates for the highway department include $211,000 for the elimination of the Fern Street grade crossing, $145,000 for the elimination of the Michigan Avenue grade crossing, and $250,000 toward the replacement (at a total cost of $500,000) of the Connecticut Avenue bridge over Klinge Valley. Under the refuse department is an increase of $25,000 for cleaning streets and an estimate of $550,000 for the purchase of land and beginning the construction (at a total cost of $850,000) of two high-temperature incinerators for the destruction of combustible refuse.

For street lighting in 1931 there is provided an estimate of $915,000, together with an unexpended balance from the 1929 appropriation of approximately $85,000. For improvements to playgrounds, an increase of $29,000 is provided.

For operating the public schools, the estimates for 1931 amount to $10,018,110, an increase of $385,510. This increase, aside from providing longevity increases in compensation of teachers, additional teachers for the schools and teachers' colleges, and additional personnel in the administrative and custodial forces, includes $62,000 for completing equipment of the stages and $50,000 for other equipment and repair of equipment at Central and Dunbar High Schools, $25,000 for repairs to school buildings, and $30,000 for remodeling and equipping the Wilson and Miner Normal Schools for use as teachers' colleges.

For buildings and grounds, the Budget provides $2,710,000 for new construction and $300,700 for the purchase of school building sites, making a total of $3,010,700 as compared with 1930 appropriations of $2,352,000. The estimate of $2,710,000 for new construction provides $300,000 for completion of construction of the Alice Deal Junior High School; $300,000 for completion of the Charles W. Eliot Junior High School; $600,000 for continuing construction of a new building for the Business High School; $75,000 for two new gymnasiums at the Gordon Junior High School; $15,000 for a shop for instruction in automobile repairing at the Columbia Junior High School; $225,000 for an 8-room third-story addition at the Powell Junior High School; $130,000 for a 4-room addition at the Congress Heights School; $200,000 for a new platoon school building in northeast Washington; $200,000 for a junior high school building in northeast Washington; $55,000 for the construction of the Western High School athletic field; $50,000 for a combination gymnasium and assembly hall at the Deanwood School; $200,000 for an 8-room extensible building, including gymnasium and assembly hall at Northampton Street and Broad Branch Road; $80,000 for a 4-room extensible building in Wesley Heights; $80,000 for a 4-room extensible building at Tenth and Franklin Streets NE., and $200,000 for a 12-room addition to the Anthony Bowen School.

The estimates for the police department total $3,097,745 as compared with $3,083,950 for 1930. Provision is made for a captain in the traffic bureau, and for two lieutenants and the increased compensation of 10 additional privates in the detective bureau. A decrease in the allowances for officers and men mounted on horses or motor cycles is offset by an increase in the estimate of appropriation for purchase and maintenance of motor vehicles.

The estimates for the fire department include $34,500 for new fire apparatus and $150,000 for a site for a new fire station for engine company No. 16 (now located at Twelfth and D Streets NW.) and truck company No. 3 (now located at Fourteenth Street and Ohio Avenue NW.).

Under the health department the estimate of appropriation for hygiene and sanitation in the public schools is increased from $78,600 to $93,920, to provide for an additional dental clinic and for additional medical inspectors and nurses, and there is an increase of $5,100 for the public crematorium for repair of equipment.

The estimates for the juvenile, police, and municipal courts, and for the court of appeals, show little change over current appropriations. The estimates for the supreme court are increased by approximately $15,000, due chiefly to increased expenses resulting from the legislation providing an additional justice for that court.

The estimates for the Department of Public Welfare amount to $5,129,927, as compared with $4,507,080 for 1930. An increase of $14,365 for the jail is due to an increase in number of inmates. The appropriation items for the workhouse and reformatory have been consolidated in the interest of better accounting methods, with estimates totaling $976,620, as compared with 1930 appropriations of $565,440. The increase of $411,180 includes $22,680 for additional personnel and $13,500 for additional maintenance, due to increased number of inmates; a consolidation in the maintenance item of $65,500 for fuel; $190,000 for construction of buildings, including $150,000 for the construction of buildings in a walled inclosure for the more difficult prisoners; $135,000 for repairs and improvements, including $30,000 for laundry machinery and equipment, $32,500 for an improved water-supply system, and $55,000 for remodeling the heating and power plant; and a direct appropriation of $50,000 for the working-capital fund. A decrease of $15,000 in the estimate for the National Training School for Boys is occasioned by a decrease in the number committed to that institution. An additional amount of $175,000 is provided for completing the nurses' home at Gallinger Hospital.

The estimates for the District Training School provide $130,000 for the construction of a domestic service building, and include increases of $12,000 for repairs and improvements to buildings and grounds and $8,500 for equipment of the employees' building and the superintendent's residence. For replacement of farm buildings at the Industrial Home School for Colored Children, $12,000 is provided. The estimates for personal services and general expenses at the Home for Aged and Infirm are increased by $14,580 on account of increased number of inmates. There is a decrease of $5,000 in the item for repairs and improvements; and increases of $3,000 for extension of water mains, $3,400 for motor-vehicle equipment, $25,000 for purchase and installation of electrical equipment, and $8,000 for remodeling and enlarging the infirmary building. For support, at St. Elizabeths Hospital, of indigent insane of the District of Columbia, there is an increase of $143,472, due to increased number of patients and increased per capita cost of maintenance.

The estimate for reclamation and development of Anacostia Park includes an increase of $150,000 for the purchase of land.

For public buildings and parks, the estimates provide a total increase of $139,385. For the continued development of park improvements, the estimates include $100,000 for Meridian Hill Park, $134,755 for the Rock Creek and Potomac connecting parkway, $25,000 for Anacostia Park, $10,000 for the improvement of newly acquired reservations, $15,000 for minor auxiliary structures, $3,000 for Rock Creek Park lights, and $14,300 for the Burroughs Recreational Center. For the park police there is an increase of $12,330. For the work of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, including the purchase of land for park and playground purposes, $1,000,000 is provided.

An increase of $17,000 is recommended for additional personnel and expenses at the Zoological Park.

For water service, the estimates amount to $1,647,860, as compared with 1930 appropriations of $1,495,330. There are increases of $40,000 for beginning a survey of water waste, $35,000 for laying service mains, and $50,000 for replacing old water mains. The estimate for installing hydrants is decreased by $25,000, due to the progress made in this direction during the last two years. The estimates include $20,000 for lowering a water main in New Hampshire Avenue from M Street to Dupont Circle, $110,000 for a water main from Bryant Street pumping station to Georgia Avenue, and $75,000 for purchase and installation of a new pump at the Bryant Street pumping station. An appropriation for 1930 of $105,000 for a main in M Street NW., from Eleventh Street to New Jersey Avenue, is reappropriated for laying a main in Eleventh Street NW., from Florida Avenue to Kenyon Street, and west on Kenyon Street to Thirteenth Street.

The total of the estimates for permanent and indefinite appropriations is $2,482,500. The decrease of $570,000 under the appropriations for 1930 is occasioned by the decreased estimate of expenditures for extension of streets and avenues and to an expected decrease in trust-fund deposits.

RETIREMENT OF THE PUBLIC DEBT REQUIRED TO BE MADE FROM ORDINARY RECEIPTS

Estimate of expenditures under indefinite appropriations for 1930, revised as shown in the
Budget for 1931.....	$623, 894, 100
Budget estimate for 1931.....	635, 324, 000
Increase.....	11, 429, 900

This amount is made up of an increase of $12,904,000 in sinking fund operations, a decrease of $1,450,000 in retirements from proceeds of principal and interest of foreign government obligations, a decrease of $54,100 in retirements of bonds and notes from estate taxes, an increase of $40,000 in forfeitures, gifts, etc., and a decrease of $10,000 in retirements from net earnings derived from intermediate credit banks.

INTEREST ON THE PUBLIC DEBT

Estimate of expenditures under indefinite appropriations for 1930, revised as shown in the
Budget for 1931.....	$656, 000, 000
Budget estimate for 1931.....	619, 000, 000
Decrease.....	37, 000, 000

The reduction for 1931 below 1930 is due to the continued curtailment of the public debt.

The estimated expenditures for the fiscal year 1930, as shown in the Budget for that year, was $640,000,000. Due to the high money rates which have prevailed for some time past it has been necessary to increase the estimated expenditures for that year by $16,000,000.

THE CHART PRESENTATION

The chart presentation of the estimates of receipts, expenditures, and appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, given opposite page A2, sets forth graphically the source of income and how the average dollar of the estimated expenditures and appropriations is apportioned to organization units and functions in the Budget for the fiscal year 1931.

Chart 1 exhibits the estimates of appropriations by organization units, exclusive of the Post Office Department payable from postal revenues and gives the allocation of the average dollar to the several departments and establishments for which the appropriations are recommended. It will be seen that of the average dollar to be appropriated 0.75 cent is for the legislative establishment; 17.13 cents for independent offices, of which 15.72 cents is for the Veterans' Bureau; that 4.40 cents is for the Department of Agriculture; 8.11 cents for the Department of the Interior; 10.14 cents for the Navy Department; 12.44 cents for the War Department; 42.71 cents for the Treasury Department, of which 17.77 cents is for interest on the public debt and 15.36 cents for reduction in principal of the public debt payable from ordinary receipts; and only 4.32 cents for the Departments of Commerce, Justice, Labor, and State, the District of Columbia, and the Executive Office.

Chart 2 gives the estimates of appropriations by governmental functions and exhibits the purpose for which the average dollar is to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1931. It shows that of each dollar recommended for appropriation 3.41 cents goes for general functions; 36.43 cents for military functions, of which 19.17 cents is for national defense and 17.26 cents for military pensions, retirement pay of the Coast Guard, annuities, World War allowances, and life-insurance claims. It also shows that of the average dollar to be appropriated 16.81 cents is for civil functions, of which 0.97 cent is for promotion, regulation, and operation of marine transportation, and 6.32 cents for public works. Of the total, 43.35 cents of each dollar included in the estimates is for nonfunctional purposes. This includes 4.37 cents for refunds, drawbacks, and like appropriations, 16.93 cents for public-debt retirements, and 16.50 cents for interest on the public debt.

Chart 3 gives the estimates of expenditures by organization units for the fiscal year 1931. Of the average dollar to be expended it shows that 10.85 cents will be disbursed by the Veterans' Bureau; 4.07 cents by the Department of Agriculture; 1.25 cents by the Department of Commerce; 6.97 cents by the Department of the Interior; 0.77 cent by the Department of Justice; 0.29 cent by the Department of Labor; 9.38 cents by the Navy Department; 10.99 cents by the War Department; 0.39 cent by the State Department; 43.82 cents by the Treasury Department, of which 15.49 cents represents reduction in principal of public debt payable from ordinary receipts, and 15.09 cents for interest on the public debt; 1.11 cents by the District of Columbia; 1.91 cents for postal deficiency; 4.18 cents for investment of trust funds; 3.28 cents to be disbursed by the legislative branch, the independent establishments other than the Veterans' Bureau, and the Executive Office; and 4.92 cents for the Federal Farm Board, including loans.

Chart 4 gives the estimate of expenditures by governmental functions. It supplies information showing for the average dollar the general end or purpose to be accomplished by the expenditures during the fiscal year 1931. Of the average dollar to be expended during that fiscal year 3.19 cents will be spent for the general functions of the Government; 32.58 cents will go for military functions, of which 17.25 cents is for national defense, and 15.33 cents for military pensions, retirement pay of the Coast Guard, annuities, World War allowances, and life-insurance claims. The chart also shows that 19.05 cents will be expended for civil functions, of which 2.15 cents goes for promotion, regulation, and operation of marine transportation, 6.64 cents for public works, and 10.26 cents for other civil functions; that 45.18 cents will be expended for nonfunctional operations, of which 8.99 cents represents refunds and miscellaneous; 30.57 cents for fixed-debt charges, of which 15.48 cents is for public-debt retirements payable from ordinary receipts, and 15.09 cents for interest on the public debt; and 5.62 cents for the disbursement of trust funds.

Chart 5 exhibits the estimated receipts of the Government by sources of revenue, exclusive of postal revenues for the fiscal year 1931. Of the average dollar to be received 73.36 cents comes from internal revenue, 14.25 cents will be received from customs, and 12.39 cents will be derived from miscellaneous sources, such as interest and discount, sale of Government property, public-domain receipts, fees, fines, penalties and forfeitures, gifts and contributions, repayments of investments, District of Columbia receipts, Panama Canal receipts, and trust-fund receipts.

The amounts which form the basis for computing the allocation of the average dollar for the estimates of appropriations by functions for the fiscal year 1931, Chart 2, are given in detail in Budget Statement No. 11. The data used for the income statement, Chart 5, are supplied by Budget Statement No. 6; the data for computing the average dollar for the estimated expenditures by functions, Chart 4, are given in Budget Statement No. 14. The data for Chart 3, giving the average dollar allocation of the estimates of expenditures by organization units, are given in Budget Statement No. 2, and similar data for Chart 1 are given in the recapitulation of estimates of appropriations.

Chart 5 does not include the estimated postal revenues for the fiscal year 1931, because such revenues are not considered receipts of the general fund.

DESCRIPTION OF GOVERNMENTAL FUNCTIONS

INTRODUCTION

A classification by governmental functions has for its purpose to set forth the general end or purposes accomplished by the expenditures made by the several organization units of the Government. Each function of government represents a service rendered directly to the people or else a service performed as a means of promoting, protecting, regulating, or administering services directly rendered.

The classification set forth on statements Nos. 11 and 14 presents, first, the general functions of the Government. These correspond closely to the main organs of government established by the Constitution. The general functions have been divided into the following:

1. Legislative,
2. Judicial,
3. Executive, and
4. General administration.

The activities and duties of each of these deal with matters in all other functional fields.

Of the specific functions it is important in the case of the National Government to segregate clearly the expenditures for military and distinctly war purposes from expenditures for civil services. Therefore a segregation is made of the specific functions into the following classes:

1. Military functions.
2. Civil functions.
3. Nonfunctional expenditures.

The military functions represent those activities conducted for military and war purposes and include those activities of special war agencies and expenditures made by civil services arising from war conditions. These were of special importance during the recent World War, and some of them are likely to continue for an indefinite period.

The civil functions include those functions of government which have to do with the promotion of friendly relations with foreign powers; those which have to do with the conservation of social order and property; those which have to do with the conservation of natural resources and economic interests of the people; those activities which relate to the promotion and protection of health, the care and education of Indians, and the promotion of public education, educational research, and science.

The nonfunctional expenditures include certain important expenditures which are of a nonorganizational character. These are for the most part expenditures arising out of war, such as interest on and redemption of public debt, investments, refunds, and disbursement of trust funds.

The "refunds" and "investments" are segregated from other departmental expenditures because the former represents the repayment or refund of the whole or part of an amount previously received in payment of indebtedness to the United States, and the latter represents expenditures made in the purchase of notes, bonds, and other choses in action, and loans to foreign governments, railroads, and the like, which are not expenses of operation but the conversion of cash into other assets.

DEFINITIONS OF GOVERNMENTAL FUNCTIONS

For the purpose of defining the expenditures or appropriations comprehended within each general function, the following definitions are given:

Legislative.—Under this function are grouped only those activities of Congress as a legislative body.

Judicial.—Under this function are grouped those expenditures having to do with the judicial branch of the Government. It includes all United States courts expenses other than the District of Columbia courts which are included under "Local government."

Executive.—Under this function are included the direct cost of the Executive Office, including the salary and expenses of the President and Vice President and the cost of maintaining the Executive Mansion and grounds.

General administration.—Under this heading are grouped the expenditures of certain administrative agencies which are of a general character, dealing with matters in all the various fields of administrative functions and those departmental expenditures which can not now be allocated to specific civil functions.

This general title includes expenditures for (1) financial administration, (2) Government supply services, (3) public-buildings service, (4) civil pensions and allowance administration, and (5) institutional and general expenses.

Under "Financial administration" are included the Treasury fiscal services, the Bureau of the Budget, the services having to do with the collection of taxes, the public-debt service, and the General Accounting Office.

Under "Government supply services" are included those organization units of the Government whose function it is to supply personnel, services, or materials to all other agencies of the Government. It includes such services as the Civil Service Commission, the Bureau of Efficiency, the Government Printing Office, the Superintendent of Public Documents, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Government fuel yards in the District of Columbia, the General Supply Committee, and the Coordinator of General Supply.

Under "Public buildings service" are included all expenses incurred in connection with the maintenance and operation of public buildings within and without the District of Columbia. It includes the maintenance and operation of the Capitol Building and Grounds, the Senate and House Office Buildings, the Capitol power plant, all other building maintenance and operation expenditures connected with the legislative branch, and like expenses for maintenance and operation of buildings under the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks of the National Capital, Interior Department buildings, Treasury Department buildings, public buildings under the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, public buildings and grounds under the Chief of Engineers of the Army, and the Congressional Library buildings and grounds.

The "Civil pensions and allowance administration" comprises the general expenses of the Employees' Compensation Commission and the cost of administering the act retiring civil-service employees, which is supervised by the Pension Office of the Interior Department. It excludes the payments made out of the employees' compensation fund, which are reported under "Promotion of labor interests."

The "Institutional and general expenses" include only the salaries and expenses of the Treasury and Interior Departments not directly chargeable to any specific civil function. These include the salaries of the chief clerk's office of the Treasury Department (other than those relating to buildings service); other institutional services of the Treasury Department, such as appointment division, the printing division, the disbursing clerk, and the mail and files division; and like expenses of the Interior Department.

National defense.—Under this general title are included the military activities of the War Department, the naval and military activities of the Navy Department, and the special-defense appropriations given directly to the civil departments. It excludes all trust-fund expenditures.

Under "War Department" are included the salaries and contingent expenses of the department proper and all military activities involved in recruiting, training officers and men at schools and training camps, maintenance and operation of armed forces, and provisions for war equipment and stores, which comprehend the purchase, operation, maintenance, or construction, as the case may be, of fortifications, ordnance, ammunition, and other military equipment and supplies.

Under the "Navy Department" are included the salaries and contingent expenses of the department proper, and all naval and military activities involved in the maintenance, equipment, and training of regular forces, the militia and other reserve forces as indicated in the preceding paragraph, inclusive of the cost of operation, maintenance, construction, or purchase of vessels, ordnance, ammunition, and of plants and materials for the manufacture of supplies and equipment for use by the Navy.

Special war agencies.—Under this caption are included the war agencies organized in 1917 as a result of the World War.

Military pensions, annuities, World War allowances, and life-insurance claims.—Under this group are included all payments to persons by way of accruals or fixed charges made as compensation for past military services to the Government, including pensions on account of disability or death due to military service, pensions on account of services, allowances on account of military and naval services in the World War, losses on Government life-insurance policies, and salaries and expenses of the United States Veterans' Bureau; also the salaries and expenses of the Pension Office of the Interior Department exclusive of the administration of the act retiring civil-service employees.

Foreign relations and protection of American interests abroad.—Under this general title of civil functions are included the activities of the State Department in the conduct of relations with foreign governments, local representation abroad, cooperation for settlement of international controversies, and the promotion of friendly intercourse with foreign peoples.

General law enforcement.—Under this general title are included the activities having to do with the enforcement of the general laws and the administration and enforcement of special acts like the national prohibition act, the narcotic act, and the investigation and prosecution of war-contract frauds.

Provision for control of currency and banking.—Under this function are included the expenses incurred in connection with the regulation of currency and of banking through the office of the Comptroller of the Currency and public-debt service; the Federal Reserve Board; the Federal Farm Loan Bureau; and the expenditures made by the Bureau of the Mint and mint and assay offices in the maintenance of a money standard.

Administration of Indian affairs.—Under this caption are grouped the expenditures of the National Government in the care and education of the Indian wards of the Nation.

Administration of public domain.—Under this general title are included the activities of the Government having to do with the care and utilization of public lands and the care and utilization of the national forests.

Promotion and regulation of commerce and industry.—Under this general title are included those activities of the several departments and independent establishments having to do with the promotion and regulation of commerce and industry.

Promotion, regulation, and operation of marine transportation.—Under this general title are included the activities having to do with the preparation of charts and sailing directions, the supplying of public facilities for navigation, the provision for a merchant marine, and the rescue and relief of seamen and passengers, including the activities of the United States Shipping Board and Merchant Fleet Corporation and the Coast Guard Service.

Promotion and regulation of land transportation.—Under this general title are included those activities of the Government having to do with the promotion and regulation of land transportation, including the Federal control of transportation systems exercised during the World War, and the payments and advances made by the Government since the termination of Federal control in the form of guaranties as provided by the transportation act of 1920.

Postal Service.—Under this general title are included the deficiencies in postal revenues paid from the Treasury.

Promotion and regulation of agriculture.—Under this function are grouped the activities of the Department of Agriculture in the promotion of agriculture and game preservation and the expenses incurred through the State Department in the support of the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, Italy.

Promotion and regulation of fisheries.—Under this function are grouped those activities of the Department of Commerce in the propagation and distribution of food fishes, the protection of Alaska seal and salmon fisheries in Alaska, and other like activities.

Promotion of labor interests.—Under this particular function are grouped the activities of the independent establishments and the Department of Labor having to do with the compilation of labor laws and statistics, the investigation of labor questions, the improvement in housing conditions, the establishment of employment agencies, the payments made by the United States Employees' Compensation Commission to Government employees from the compensation fund, and other like activities.

Immigration and naturalization.—Under this general title are included the expenses involved in regulating immigration, preventing importation of contract labor, the enforcement of laws against alien anarchists, deportation of aliens, care of interned aliens, and the regulation of naturalization.

Promotion of public health.—Under this general title are included those activities having to do with the promotion and protection of public health, exclusive of the Medical Corps of the Army, the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Navy Department, the medical corps of institutions for the care of aged and sick soldiers and sailors, and like expenditures of the Veterans' Bureau, all of which are reported under military functions.

Promotion of public education.—Under this general caption are included those activities of the several departments and independent establishments having to do with the promotion of public education and all activities of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

Science and research.—Under this general title are included the activities of the Government having to do with the investigation and publication of knowledge gained and verified by exact observation; the reporting of results of investigations that have been worked out and systematized concerning some subject or group of subjects of ascertained facts, and the principles covering or attempting to give adequate expression to a great natural group or division of knowledge. In addition, it also includes those research activities conducted for the purpose of adding to human knowledge, such as investigations of some phenomenon or series of phenomena by experimental methods to discover facts or to coordinate them as laws.

Public works.—Under this general heading are included the capital expenditures of the Government in constructing public works within and without the District of Columbia other than those outlays for plant facilities and additions which, being essential to the proper performance of specific activities, are included under their respective functions.

This function is subdivided to segregate the expenditures under the captions of:

1. General supervision, design, and overhead;
2. Public improvements; and
3. Government plant additions.

The first subdivision represents the general expenses incurred in designing and supervising the construction of public improvements and plant additions.

The second subdivision comprises the capital outlays made by the Government in the construction of public works, such as the Panama Canal, rivers and harbors, and flood-control structures, railroad construction in Alaska, construction of irrigation systems by the Reclamation Service, public roads and rural post roads, hospital construction and hospital facilities for war patients, and like capital expenditures.

The third subdivision comprises those structures which are constructed or additions made thereto which are built primarily to house the personnel of the Government and to provide proper facilities for the efficient operation of governmental activities. It includes the cost of construction and cost of improvements only, the operation and maintenance expense being reported under "Public buildings service."

The structures comprehended within this group are those purchased or built under the direction of the Architect of the Capitol; the acquisition or construction of diplomatic premises and buildings by the State Department; the construction work performed under the Supervising Architect of the Treasury in erecting public buildings in Washington, customhouses, courthouses, and post offices, and like structures.

Revenue-producing enterprises.—Under this general title are included the operations of the Government which are (or it is assumed will become) self-supporting.

The only activities included in this group at the present time are the operation of the Center Market, District of Columbia, by the Department of Agriculture, and the maintenance and operation of the Panama Canal and of the Alaska Railroad.

Local government.—Under this function are included the expenditures of the local government in the District of Columbia and the Territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and other insular possessions and such aid as is given to State governments by the National Government in the form of subventions, exclusive of specific grants for education, public health, construction of rural post roads, etc.

Relief expenditures.—Under this general title are grouped those expenditures of the Government made in giving relief to American citizens abroad, contributions toward the maintenance of foreign hospitals which admit citizens of the United States, and other like welfare operations, both foreign and domestic, such as those conducted to alleviate the distress and suffering in foreign countries.

Refunds, losses, contingencies, and miscellaneous.—Under this general title of nonfunctional expenditures are grouped the expenditures made by the Government in repayment or refund of the whole or part of an amount or amounts previously received in payment of indebtedness to the United States, losses and contingencies, such as charges on bullion sold, recoinage of gold, silver, and minor coins, and other bullion and coinage losses, and miscellaneous expenses incurred by the Government in connection with tercentenary and other celebrations.

Investments.—Under this general title of nonfunctional expenditures are grouped those expenditures made by the Government in the purchase of notes, bonds, and other choses in action; loans to foreign governments; and loans to railroads, exclusive of advances to carriers and the American Express Co., under section 209 of the transportation act of 1920, which are reported under "Promotion and regulation of land transportation," C-8.

Fixed debt charges.—Under this general heading are grouped the expenditures made from ordinary receipts in the redemption and purchase of outstanding bonded indebtedness and payments to the sinking fund. It also includes the amount of interest paid on the public debt, all of which is payable from ordinary receipts. It excludes refunding operations and additional redemptions paid from surplus and balances.

Trust funds.—Under this general heading are grouped all expenditures made by the Government (including District of Columbia trust funds) in the nature of repayments of amounts not subject to demand or claim by the United States. It is the repayment of those moneys received by the Government in trust for private purposes and over which it exercises the responsibility of custodian rather than owner.

DESCRIPTION OF BUDGET STATEMENTS

The Budget statements given herein supply data regarding the income and outgo of the Government, actual and prospective, during the last completed fiscal year, the year in progress, and the ensuing fiscal year. They also give financial data showing (1) the financial condition of the Treasury at the end of the last completed fiscal year (balance sheets), (2) the means by which such condition was reached (operating statements), and (3) the public-debt transactions and the condition at the close of business June 30, 1929.

Statement No. 1 is the master or key statement of the Budget. This statement, it will be seen, shows not merely the balance in the general fund at the end of the two last completed years, the estimated surplus that will exist at the end of the year in progress, and the estimated balance at the end of the ensuing fiscal year if the financial proposals contained in the Budget are adopted, but the means by which this balance has been and will be reached. It shows, in a word, the revenues and expenditures of the Government, past and prospective, for these years and exhibits the effect of these amounts in increasing or decreasing the available balance of the general fund.

In considering the showing, past and prospective, it should be noted that payments in respect to the reduction of the public-debt figure among the general-fund expenditures of the Government. The total amount of debt redemptions included among the general-fund expenditures during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, amounted to $673,-204,717.33, of which $549,603,703.75 was required by existing law to be made from ordinary receipts, and the remainder, $123,601,013.58, represents the amount of general fund applied to the redemption of debt in addition to that now required by law to be made from ordinary receipts.

The estimated surplus of $225,581,534 for the fiscal year 1930 is reached after deducting the sum of $630,365,600 for the reduction of public debt now required by existing law to be made from ordinary receipts. Taking this item into account, it shows that the ordinary revenue exceeds all other estimated ordinary expenditures by $855,947,134, or an estimated improvement in the financial condition of the Government of this amount for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930.

The estimated surplus of receipts of $122,788,966 for the fiscal year 1931 has been decreased by the inclusion of $635,324,000 for debt redemptions out of ordinary receipts. Adding these redemptions to the estimated surplus of receipts reported in Statement No. 1 indicates an improvement of the financial condition of the Government of $758,112,966 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931.

Statement No. 2 supports Statement No. 1 and supplies the details of the expenditures made for 1929, compared with the estimates for 1930, and the proposals for 1931, by main branches or administrative divisions of the Government.

Statement No. 3 is a detailed statement showing the agencies collecting Government revenue by sources. It supplies the actual revenue items collected in 1929 and estimates of the revenue items to be collected by the several departments and other organization units during the fiscal years 1930 and 1931.

Statement No. 4 is a detailed statement of receipts, summarizing the items in Statement No. 3 by sources under organization units.

In Statement No. 5 the expenditures are classified according to character rather than by organization units, as is done in Statements 1 and 2. It will thus be noted that a distinction is made between those expenditures which are for the current operations of the Government, those that are of a nonadministrative character, those for construction work, including national-defense structures, and other expenditures. The importance of the distinctions here made may be seen from the fact that though the expenditure program for 1931 calls for a total expenditure of $4,102,938,700, only $1,096,468,000 is for the current operations of the Government. The latter sum, it will be seen, is $10,831,300 more than the corresponding item for the year in progress, 1930. Nonadministrative expenses, including such items as interest on the public debt, pensions, etc., call for the expenditure of no less than $1,469,400,400 in 1931.

Statement No. 6 also supports Statement No. 1 and supplies details of the sources of revenue of the Government. It sets out in detail the sources from which the income of the Government was derived in 1929 and is expected to be derived in 1930 and 1931.

Statement No. 7 has to do with the operations of the Post Office Department and Postal Service, payable from postal revenues. Beginning with the fiscal year 1923, the departmental expenditures of the Post Office Department at Washington are also financed from the postal receipts.

This statement shows the results of the operations, which for 1929, 1930, and 1931, show a deficit, and gives in detail the expenditures made and to be made out of the postal revenues. The deficiency in postal revenues, it will be noted, is carried in Statement No. 1 and represents the amount of money which will need to be advanced from the general fund to meet the program recommended in the Budget for the Postal Establishment.

Statements Nos. 8 and 9 give a summary of the complete operations on accrual basis of the Panama Canal and Shipping Board Merchant Fleet Corporation, respectively, showing the relationship of the purely governmental transactions of these agencies to their total transactions.

Statement No. 10 shows the transactions in various accounts, funds, and authorizations for the fiscal years concerned.

Statement No. 11 summarizes the estimates of appropriations by governmental functions for the fiscal year 1931 and the appropriations made for the fiscal year 1930. This statement sets forth the general end or purposes to be accomplished by the expenditure of the appropriations recommended for 1931, compared with the appropriations which have already been made for the fiscal year 1930. The classification given on this statement presents first the general functions of the Government. This corresponds closely to the main organs of the Government established by the Constitution. The general functions have been divided into (a) legislative, (b) judicial, (c) executive, and (d) general administration.

The specific functions are segregated to distinguish the expenditures for military and distinctly war purposes from expenditures for civil services; therefore the segregation made in this statement divides the specific functions into (a) military functions, (b) civil functions, and (c) nonfunctional operations. This statement not only gives the amount of money recommended for appropriation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, compared with the actual appropriations already made by Congress for the fiscal year 1930, but it also shows the percentages of the amounts allocated to the different purposes.

This statement will be found interesting and informative, showing as it does the approximate amounts devoted to important Government activities and interests.

It will be found that a total of $128,082,858.98 is carried for general functions, which include the legislative, judicial, executive, and the general administrative operations of the Government which can not be allocated to specific civil functions.

The sum of $1,366,647,531 is provided for military functions, which includes military pensions, retirement pay, annuities, World War allowances, and national defense.

The amount recommended for national defense is divided into two classes: Army, $308,744,101; Navy, $339,767,199.

The amount provided in the Budget for military pensions and allowances includes $215,667,400 for pensions, $417,925,000 for World War allowances, and $1,226,210 for retirement pay of the Coast Guard.

The amount recommended for civil functions totals $630,782,101.88. Under this general function $16,731,865.60 is allowed for foreign relations and protection of American interests abroad; $48,909,854 for general law enforcement, which includes activities having to do with the enforcement of general laws and the administration and enforcement of special acts like the national prohibition act and the narcotic act; $8,663,499 for the control of currency and banking; $20,598,029.74 for the administration of Indian affairs; $35,528,139 for the administration of public domain, which includes those activities of the Government having to do with the care and utilization of public lands and the care and utilization of national forests; $25,307,821 for the promotion and regulation of commerce and industry, which includes the activities of the Tariff Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, the Patent Office, and those activities of the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce having to do with the promotion and regulation of commerce and industry; $36,549,757.50 for the promotion, regulation, and operation of marine transportation, which includes $6,396,000 for the Shipping Board and Merchant Fleet Corporation; $10,330,763 for the promotion and regulation of land transportation; $51,530,236 for the promotion and regulation of agriculture; $2,225,060 for the promotion and regulation of fisheries; $6,000,170 for the promotion of labor interests; $10,178,930 for immigration and naturalization; $20,656,661.74 for promotion of public health; $12,459,605 for promotion of public education; $22,804,468.30 for science and research; $54,033,806 for local government, including the District of Columbia.

For public works under civil functions, $237,176,161 is carried, which includes $98,972,600 for rivers and harbors, flood control, and items of similar character; $84,500,000 for roads; $8,346,000 for Reclamation Service; $1,000,000 for railroads in Alaska; and $44,357,561 for other public improvements and Government plant additions.

Under nonfunctional appropriations is carried a total of $1,626,432,740, which includes $164,044,500 for refunds, losses, contingencies, and miscellaneous; $635,324,000 for public-debt retirements payable from ordinary receipts; $619,000,000 for interest on the public debt; and $230,700,200 for disbursement and investment of certain trust funds.

Statement No. 12 summarizes the estimates of appropriations by character and objects of expenditure for the fiscal year 1931 and the appropriations made for the fiscal year 1930. It makes a distinction between those appropriations already made and herein recommended for (a) current expenses, (b) fixed charges, (c) acquisition of property, (d) payment of debt, and (e) payments for rights and obligations.

Statement No. 13 shows the expenditures of the Government, exclusive of the Postal Service, for the fiscal years 1926 to 1929, inclusive, under the same classification as appears in Statement No. 12.

Statement No. 14 gives similar data to that presented by Statement No. 12. It is a summary of expenditures classified by governmental functions for the fiscal year 1931 compared with prior years. It not only gives the amount of money spent but that which it is estimated will be spent during the current fiscal year and the ensuing fiscal year. It also furnishes the percentages allocated to the different functions of the Government. The expenditures given for the fiscal year 1929 are on the basis of checks drawn and charged to appropriation accounts, authorizing withdrawal of cash from the Treasury as reported by the Secretary of the Treasury in the "Combined statement of receipts and disbursements, balances, etc., of the United States," brought to the actual cash expenditure by an adjustment figure.

Statement No. 15 gives the appropriations recommended and appropriations made by Congress during the fiscal year 1930, compared with the fiscal year 1929, classified by organization units, including those appropriations made by Congress for which no estimates were submitted by the Chief Executive.

Statement No. 16 summarizes the estimates of appropriations for the fiscal year 1931 and appropriations for 1930. It shows the amounts and percentages applied to current operations of the Government by Government departments and offices.

Statement No. 17 exhibits the appropriations made for the years 1930 and 1929.

Statement No. 18 gives the amount of annual, permanent, or other appropriations, including balances of appropriations for prior fiscal years, available for expenditure during the fiscal year in progress, 1930, as of November 1, 1929. This statement shows the total amount available for expenditure during the fiscal year 1930 to that date.

Statement No. 19 is a consolidated current balance sheet; that is, it consolidates the general fund, which includes all other expendable funds, with the loan funds.

Statement No. 20 is a statement of operations of the general fund showing how the condition reported in the general-fund balance sheet was reached.

Statement No. 21 is a statement of operations of the public-debt (loan) funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929. It shows the receipts and expenditures of the loan funds for that year.

Statement No. 22 is a consolidated statement of operations showing how the condition reported in Statement No. 19 was reached.

Statement No. 23 is a summary statement of outstanding debt at the close of business June 30, 1929, compared with June 30, 1928, and June 30, 1916, on the basis of revised figures reported in the "Statement of the public debt of the United States." It shows that the gross outstanding debt on June 30, 1916, was $1,225,145,567.53 and that the gross debt as of June 30, 1928, was $17,604,290,562.93, while the gross debt outstanding on June 30, 1929, was $16,931,197,747.60. It will be noted that the gross debt was reduced over $650,000,000 in the fiscal year 1929.

Statement No. 24 is a detailed statement of outstanding debt at the close of business June 30, 1929, compared with June 30, 1928, and June 30, 1916. It supports Statement No. 23.

Statement No. 25 exhibits the securities owned by the United States Government on June 30, 1929, with a memorandum as to capital stock of various corporations.

Statements Nos. 26, 27, and 28 report information regarding the sinking-fund operations for the fiscal year 1929 and the estimated operations for the fiscal years 1930 and 1931, respectively.

Statement No. 29 supplies information as to the proposed borrowings from the public for redemptions and purchases of public-debt issues during the fiscal year 1931, compared with those expected to be made in 1930 and the actual borrowings and redemptions which were made during the fiscal year 1929, exclusive of those certificates of indebtedness which are issued and redeemed within the same fiscal year.

Statement No. 30 summarizes and compares by classification services and grades for the fiscal years 1931, 1930, and 1929, the average number of employees, the average salary rates, and the total salaries of the personnel of the executive departments and independent establishments in the District of Columbia classified under the act of March 4, 1923, as amended.

Statement No. 31 summarizes and compares by departments and independent establishments, for the fiscal years 1931, 1930, and 1929, the average number of employees, the average salary rates, and the total salaries of the personnel in the District of Columbia classified under the act of March 4, 1923, as amended.

NOTE.—Estimated figures for 1931 and 1930 in Budget Statement No. 1, above, are based on existing revenue laws. The Budget contains a recommendation that taxes be reduced upon incomes for the calendar year 1929. If this recommendation is adopted it is estimated that during the last half of the fiscal year 1930 and the first half of the fiscal year 1931 there would be a total reduction of approximately $160,000,000 in the estimated receipts.

Printing and binding for Congress chargeable to the foregoing appropriation, when recommended to be done by the Committee on Printing of either House, shall be so recommended in a report containing an approximate estimate of the cost thereof, together with a statement from the Public Printer of estimated approximate cost of work previously ordered by Congress within the fiscal year for which this appropriation is made.

During the fiscal year [1930] 1931 any executive department or independent establishment of the Government ordering printing and binding from the Government Printing Office shall pay promptly by check to the Public Printer upon his written request, either in advance or upon completion of the work, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof, as the case may be, and bills rendered by the Public Printer in accordance herewith shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment: Provided, That proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of delivered work paid for in advance shall be made monthly or quarterly and as may be agreed upon by the Public Printer and the department or establishment concerned. All sums paid to the Public Printer for work that he is authorized by law to do shall be deposited to the credit, on the books of the Treasury Department, of the appropriation made for the working capital of the Government Printing Office, for the year in which the work is done, and be subject to requisition by the Public Printer.

All amounts in the Budget for the fiscal year [1931] 1932 for printing and binding for any department or establishment, so far as the Bureau of the Budget may deem practicable, shall be incorporated in a single item for printing and binding for such department or establishment and be eliminated as a part of any estimate for any other purpose. And if any amounts for printing and binding are included as a part of any estimates for any other purposes, such amounts shall be set forth in detail in a note immediately following the general estimate for printing and binding: Provided, That the foregoing requirements shall not apply to work to be executed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

No part of any money appropriated in this act shall be paid to any person employed in the Government Printing Office while detailed for or performing service in any other executive branch of the public service of the United States unless such detail be authorized by law (act Feb. 28, 1929, vol. 45, p. 1399).

Permanent specific appropriation:
Cooperative Agricultural Extension Work—
For the purpose of paying the expenses of cooperative agricultural extension work and the necessary printing and distributing of information in connection with same, there is permanently appropriated $480,000 for each year, $10,000 of which is paid annually to each State which has by action of its legislature assented to the provisions of the act. There was also appropriated an additional sum of $600,000 for the fiscal year following that in which the foregoing appropriation first became available, and for each year thereafter for seven years a sum exceeding by $500,000 the sum appropriated for each preceding year, and for each year thereafter there is permanently appropriated the sum of $4,100,000 in addition to the sum of $480,000. The additional sums are allotted annually to each State by the Secretary of Agriculture and paid in the proportion which the rural population of each State bears to the total rural population of all the States as determined by the next preceding Federal census, but no payment out of the additional appropriations can be made in any year to any State until an equal sum has been appropriated for that year by the legislature of such State, or provided by State, county, college, local authority, or individual contributions from within the State, for the maintenance of cooperative agricultural extension work. On May 16, 1928 [(45 Stat., p. 542)] (U. S. C., Supp. III, title 7, secs. 386-386b), this appropriation was amended to include a permanent allotment to the Territory of Hawaii of $10,000 plus an additional sum of $12,935.43, subject to the same terms and conditions as the original act. The permanent annual appropriation was thereby increased to $4,602,935.43 (U. S. C., title 7, secs. 342, 343; U. S. C., Supp. III, title 7, secs. 386-386b).....				$4,602,936.00	$4,602,936.00

Eradication of Foot-and-Mouth and Other Contagious Diseases of Animals—

In case of an emergency arising out of the existence of foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, contagious pleuropneumonia, or other contagious or infectious disease of animals which, in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture, threatens the livestock industry of the country, he may expend, in the city of Washington or elsewhere, any unexpended balances of appropriations heretofore made for this purpose, in the arrest and eradication of any such disease, including the payment of claims growing out of past and future purchases and destruction, in cooperation with the States, of animals affected by or exposed to, or of materials contaminated by or exposed to, any such disease, wherever found and irrespective of ownership, under like or substantially similar circumstances, when such owner has complied with all lawful quarantine regulations: Provided, That the payment for animals hereafter purchased may be made on appraisement based on the meat, dairy, or breeding value, but in case of appraisement based on breeding value no appraisement of any animal shall exceed three times its meat or dairy value, and except in case of an extraordinary emergency, to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, the payment by the United States Government for any animals shall not exceed one-half of any such appraisements: Provided further, That the sum of $10,000 of the unexpended balance of the appropriation of $3,500,000, contained in the second deficiency appropriation act, fiscal year 1924, approved December 5, 1924, for the eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease and other contagious or infectious diseases of animals, is hereby made available during the fiscal year [1930] 1931 to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to control and eradicate the European fowl pest and similar diseases in poultry (U. S. C., title 21, secs. 112-115, 117-119, 129, 130; act Feb. 16, 1929, vol. 45, pp. 1198, 1199).

General object (title of appropriation), date of acts, references to United States Code or Statutes at Large, and estimated amount required for each detailed object				Total amount to be appropriated under each head of appropriation	Amount appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930
Permanent indefinite appropriation: Refunds to Depositors, Excess of Deposits, National Forests Fund— All money received by or on account of the Forest Service for timber, or from any other source of forest-reservation revenue, is covered into the Treasury of the United States as a miscellaneous receipt; and there is appropriated so much as may be necessary to make refunds to depositors of money deposited by them in excess of amounts found actually due from them to the United States, and so much as may be necessary to refund to the rightful claimants such sums as may be found to have been erroneously collected for the use of lands, or for timber or other resources sold from lands located within, but not a part of, the national forests, or for alleged illegal acts done upon such lands, which acts are subsequently found to have been proper and legal (U. S. C., title 16, sec. 499)-----				$75,000.00	$75,000.00
5330 Miscellaneous refunds: Expenditures—1931, $75,000; 1930, $75,000; 1929, $81,176.
Permanent specific appropriation: National Forest Reservation Commission— A sum sufficient to pay the necessary expenses of the commission and its members, not to exceed an annual expenditure of $25,000, has been appropriated, to be paid out on the audit and order of the president of the commission, which audit and order is conclusive and binding upon all departments as to the correctness of the accounts of the commission (U.
