BUDGET MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to provisions of law I transmit herewith the Budget of the United States Govermment for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, together with this message, which is definitely a part thereof. The estimates have been developed after careful analysis of the revenues, obligations, and reasonable needs of the Government, and I recommend appropriations for the purposes specifically detailed in the tables which follow.

Part I

No mortal is permitted unfailingly to predict the future. This is particularly true of estimates which relate to the money values of property and services in a world of nations torn by dissension, by violent price fluctuations, and by forebodings of the future.

It is, therefore, a cause for congratulation within our own Nation to realize that a consistent, broad national policy, adopted nearly three ycars ago by the Congress and the President, has thus far moved steadily, effectively, and successfully toward its objective.

In March 1933 in spite of substantial increases in tax rates during the preceding administration, Federal tax receipts had fallen to such a low level that even normal expenses of Government could not be carried on without creating a mounting deficit. In addition to normal expenses the problem of millions of starving unemployed called for a relief program which obviously would greatly increase that deficit.

The national policy which we then adopted sought to stop the downward economic spiral by taking simultaneous action along a dozen fronts. The chief objectives were: To make bank deposits secure, to save farms and homes from foreclosure, to start public works on a large scale, to encourage home building, to increase farm crop values, to give useful work instead of a dole to the needy unemployed, to reduce all interest rates, to increase foreign trade in both exports and imports, to extend Government credit to railroads and other privately owned activities, to reduce unsound and generally disastrous speculation, to eliminate starvation wages, to seek a higher level of values, and then to maintain those values.

On the part of the Federal Govermment the many legislative acts creating the machinery for recovery were all predicated on two interdependent beliefs. First, the measures would immediately cause a great increase in the annual expenditures of the Government-many of these expenditures, however, in the form of loans which would ultimately return to the Treasury. Second, as a result of the simultaneous attack on the many fronts I have indicated, the receipts of the Government would rise definitely and sharply during the following few years, while greatly increased expenditure for the purposes stated, coupled with rising values and the stopping of losses would, over a period of years, diminish the need for work relief and thereby reduce Federal expenditures. The increase in revenues would ultimately meet and pass the declining cost of relief.

This policy adopted in the spring of 1933 has been confirmed in actual practice by the Treasury figures of 1934 , of 1935 , and by the estimates for the fiscal years of 1936 and 1937.

There is today no doubt of the fundamental soundness of the policy of 1933. If we proceed along the path we have followed and with the results attained up to the present time we shall continue our successful progress during the coming years.

Stated even more concisely, we can look forward today to a continued reduction of deficits, to increased tax receipts, and to declining expenditures for the needy unemployed. Let it be remembered that the major part of the increase in tax receipts anticipated in 1937 over 1936 from comparable sources is coming from old tax schedules. The only changes made last year in the tax schedule were, first, the elimination of the tax on checks and, secondly, slight increases in taxes on large incomes, on large estates, and on large corporations and in capital stock and excess profits taxes. By the elimination of the tax on checks we lost forty million dollars in revenue and the slight increases on estates and on personal and corporate incomes will add only about 222 million dollars to Government receipts this coming year. I emphasize that the great bulk of increased Government income referred to above results from increased earning power and profits throughout the Nation and not from the new taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1935.

Final success will depend, of course, on the strength of the efforts put forth by the employers of the United States greatly to increase the number of persons employed by them. The finances of the Government are in better condition than at any time in the past seven years. I say this because starting with the autumn of 1929 tax receipts began a steady and alarming decline while, at the same time, Government expenditures began a steady rise; today, tax receipts are continuing a steady climb which commenced in the summer of 1933, whereas Budget estimates for the next fiscal year will show a decreased need for appropriations.

The credit of the Government is at its highest. The average of the business men of the Nation stand ready to do their share. It is to be hoped that motives and attacks which spring only from the desire for political or financial power on the part of a few will not retard the steady progress we are making.

Our policy is succeeding. The figures prove it. Secure in the knowledge that steadily decreasing deficits will turn in time into steadily increasing surpluses, and that it is the deficit of today which is making possible the surplus of tomorrow, let us pursue the course that we have mapped.

In my Budget message of January 1935 I said, " I am, however, submitting to the Congress a Budget for the fiscal year 1936 which balances except for expenditures to give work to the unemployed. If this Budget receives approval of the Congress, the country will henceforth have the assurance that with the single exception of this item, every current expenditure of whatever nature will be fully covered by our estimates of current receipts. Such deficit as occurs will be due solely to this cause, and it may be expected to decline as rapidly as private industry is able to reemploy those who now are without work."
In looking at the revised estimates for the fiscal year 1936 I am more than pleased to find that we have not only accomplished what I said we would in my Budget message of a year ago but that the results with respect to both expenditures and receipts have surpassed expectations.

1. My Budget message of January 1985 forecast that the expenditures for the fiscal year 1936 would be $$ 8,520,000,000$. Our most recent estimate shows that our expenditures will be $$ 7,645,000,000$, or $$ 875,000,000$ less than originally forecast.
2. Receipts were estimated in January 1935 at $$ 3,992,000,000$. At the present time it appears that they will be $$ 4,411,000,000$, or an increase of $$ 419,000,000$.
3. The message of January 1935 forecast a gross deficit of $$ 4,528$,000,000 , and the most recent figures show that the deficit will be $$ 3,234,000,000$, or a decrease of $$ 1,294,000,000$.

This great improvement of the fiscal outlook during this present year has been brought about through policies which the Congress and the President initiated in 1933 and which we have since maintained.

Now let us look at the Budget for the fiscal year 1937:
To run all the regular activities of the Government I will need a total of $$ 5,069,000,000$. These regular activities include interest on the public debt, major public works, operations of the Civilian Conservation Corps, and agricultural benefit payments, but do not include strictly work relief items. I expect to pay for these regular activities with estimated receipts of $$ 5,654,000,000$, leaving an excess of receipts of $$ 585,000,000$. Out of this $$ 585,000,000$ I will need $$ 580,000,000$ for debt retirement, which will still leave $$ 5,000,000$ of excess receipts over expenditures after having paid for all of the regular expenditures of the Government plus debt retirement.

The item for relief remains. Without that item the Budget is in balance. To make today a formal Budget estimate of the amount necessary for work relief would be of necessity a difficult task. We have too recently reached our goal of putting three and one-half million people at work; and the beneficial effects from this program and from increasing expenditures on public works cannot be foretold as accurately today as it can two months from now. Furthermore, employment by private industry continues to show substantial gains over the figures of a year ago. It is reasonably certain that the tota: appropriations for work relief during the fiscal year 1937 will be far less than during the current fiscal year. It is estimated in this Budget that expenditures for recovery and relief out of unexpended balances of previous emergency appropriations will amount to $$ 1,103,000,000$. Including these expenditures the gross deficit for 1937, without an estimate for additional work relief, is less than the gross deficit for 1936 by $$ 2,136,000,000$. I do not anticipate that the need for additional relief funds will be as great as that sum.

To state the case even more precisely, the gross deficit of the Government in 1934 was $$ 3,989,000,000$; in $1935, $ 3,575,000,000$; in 1936 (estimate), $$ 3,234,000,000$; and in 1937 (estimated but not including any new appropriations for work relief), $$ 1,098,000,000$. 'Therefore, it is clear: First, that since June 30, 1934, the gross deficit of the Government shows a steady decrease during the fiscal years 1935 and 1936. Second, that if work relief appropriations by this session of the Congress were made up to a total of $$ 2,136,000,000$, the total gross deficit for the fiscal year 1937 would not exceed that of 1936 , which was the lowest gross deficit of the past three years. Therefore, it follows that by whatever amount the appropriation for work relief at this session is less than $$ 2,136,000,000$, the gross deficit for 1937 will be less than the deficit for 1936 by the same amount.

With this limitation and this excellent prospect clearly in mind, I am not including in this Budget estimates for additional relief appropriations. I shall transmit such estimates with far greater knowledge and, therefore, with greater accuracy in sufficient time before the adjournment of this session to give the Congress full opportunity to examine into the subject and to make the necessary appropriations.

The credit of the Government is in sound condition. On October 15, 1933, war-time issues of First and Fourth Liberty bonds were outstanding in the aggregate amount of $$ 8,200,000,000$, bearing interest at an average rate of about $41 / 8$ percent. Today this entire amount has been refunded, of which about $$ 5,000,000,000$ was exchanged for long-term bonds bearing interest at rates ranging from $23 / 4$ to $31 / 4$ percent per annum; $$ 1,900,000,000$ was exchanged for Treasury notes bearing interest from $11 / 2$ to $21 / 2$ percent per annum, and the balance was paid in cash. The average rate on the securities issued to refund the Liberty bonds is less than $23 / 4$ percent per annum, a saving of approximately $13 / 8$ percent a year, or an annual reduction in interest payments of more than $$ 100,000,000$ on these particular securities.

The average rate on the interest-bearing debt was on June 30, 1934, approximately 3.18 percent, whereas on November 30, 1935, it had been reduced to 2.575 percent.

If the Congress enacts legislation at the coming session which will impose additional charges upon the Treasury for which provision is not already made in this Budget, I strongly urge that additional taxes be provided to cover such charges. It is important as we emerge from the depression that no new activities be added to the Government unless provision is made for additional revenue to meet their cost.

Part II

RECOMMENDATIONS

The following recommendations are offered:
Appropriation transfer provisions.-The text accompanying a number of the estimates of appropriations has been drafted to include provision for transfer between appropriations within the same department. This provision will add a measure of administrative flexibility and will tend to promote economical execution of the program as a whole, and approval thereof by the Congress is recommended.

Repeal amendment to Agricultural Adjustment Act.-During the first session of the Seventy-fourth Congress the Agricultural Adjustment Act was amended so as to appropriate a sum equal to 30 percent of customs receipts to the Secretary of Agriculture to encourage exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities. No estimate of expenditure for account of this legislation is included herein; and repeal of the amendment is recommended for the following reasons:

By appropriating directly instead of authorizing an appropriation the amendment denies to the President the opportunity to consider the need and include appropriate estimates in the Budget; and it denies to the Congress the opportunity to review such estimates, in their relation to the whole program of the Government. The amendment violates the principles of the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act of 1934, and of the Budget and Accounting Act of June 10,1921 . It is in conflict with sound administration in that it provides in advance for large annual expenditures without any attempt to coordinate income and expense. The amendment was passed in the last days of the session as a result of conference agreement and without the debate and consideration by the Congress which the import of the measure clearly justifies.

Apportionments of appropriations.-Within the last few months control of the administrative expense of 20 emergency agencies has been vested in the Bureau of the Budget which after a general survey of all of them has effected substantial reductions in proposed expenditures for administrative purposes. Allowances for administrative expenses are subject to such adjustment as the status of the agency warrants.

The 20 agencies brought under the Budget are the Agricultural Adjustment Administration; Commodity Credit Corporation; Electric Home and Farm Authority; Export-Import Banks (2) ; Farm Credit Administration; Federal Coordinator of Transportation; Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works; Federal Emergency Relief Administration; Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation; Federal Home Loan Bank Board; Federal Housing Administration; Federal Savings and Loan System; Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; Federal Surplus Relief Corporation; Home Owners' Loan Corporation; National Recovery Administration; Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Tennessee Valley Authority.

It is recommended that section 3679 of the Revised Statutes be amended so as to bring all agencies of the Government, including Government-owned and Government-controlled corporations, within the authority of the Director of the Budget with respect to apportionments of appropriations and of other funds available to them.

Part III

REVIEW OF FISCAL YEARS 1935 AND 1936 AND THE FISCAL PROGRAM OF
This review concerns itself with cash actually received and paid out by the Treasury in the fiscal year 1935; and with the estimates of receipts, appropriations, and expenditures for the fiscal years 1936 and 1937. As elsewhere stated herein the program of regular activities for 1937 includes activities under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the Civilian Conservation Corps (Emergency Conservation Work), heretofore classed as emergency. Therefore the figures used herein for 1934,1935 , and 1936 have been adjusted to a comparable basis.

FISCAL YEAR 1935

Receipts.-Treasury receipts for the year ended June 30, 1935, were in excess of estimates prepared a year ago. Considering all sources except postal revenues, total receipts amounted to $$ 3,800$,467,202 , or $$ 89,000,000$ above the estimate. Internal revenue, including processing taxes on farm products, produced $$ 3,277,690,028$, exceeding the estimate by $$ 80,000,000$. Customs receipts amounted to $$ 343,353,033$, an increase over the estimate of $$ 56,000,000$. Miscellaneous receipts, including realization upon assets, estimated at $$ 227,184,181$, fell short of the estimate by $$ 48,000,000$; the amount actually received under this item was $$ 179,424,140$.

Expenditures.-While actual receipts for the year were greater than anticipated, actual expenditures were less than the amount estimated by $$ 1,205,000,000$. The aggregate of all expenditures was $$ 7,375,825,166$, against an estimate of $$ 8,581,069,026$. Approximately a billion dollars of this difference related to recovery and relief, and the regular agencies accounted for the remainder.
The total spent for recovery and relief was $$ 3,068,803,053$, whereas the 1936 Budget estimate was $$ 4,068,541,852$, exclusive of expenditures made under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and made by the Civilian Conservation Corps. This difference is partly due to this fact:

When the Budget for 1936 was prepared it seemed probable that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in all accounts except relief, would close the year with an excess of loans over repayments; and the amount of the net expenditures was estimated at $$ 556$,000,000 . However, because of improved business conditions, the demands for Corporation assistance were so much less than estimated and the repayments of loans so much greater, that the Corporation actually closed the year with net receipts of $$ 107,000,000$. Therefore, the net difference between the estimated expenditure and the actual result amounted to $$ 663,000,000$. Other agencies spent for recovery and relief $$ 337,000,000$ less than estimated.
For the operation and maintenance of regular departments and establishments of the Government, including the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the Civilian Conservation Corps, actual expenditures were $$ 2,912,537,509$, against the estimate of $$ 3,104,961,174$.

For statutory debt retirements there was expended $$ 573,558,250$, and for interest on the public debt $$ 820,926,353$, whereas the amounts budgeted for these items were, respectively, $$ 572,566,000$ and $$ 835,000,000$.

Deficit and public debt.-The year closed with a gross deficit of $$ 3,575,357,964$ instead of the estimate of $$ 4,869,418,338$. After deducting the amount paid out for statutory debt retirement the net deficit was $$ 3,001,799,714$. The increase in the total outstanding gross public debt was $$ 1,647,751,210$, which figure is properly obtained by subtracting from the net deficit the decrease in the general fund balance, the excess of receipts from trust funds, increment on gold, et cetera, over expenditures from the same accounts, and the amount of retirement of national-bank notes from the gold increment. As of June 30, 1935, the total outstanding gross public debt was $$ 28,700,892,624$, while on June 30,1934 , it was $$ 27,053,141,414$.

FISCAL YEAR 1936
Drawing upon the experience of the first six months of the current year it is possible to forecast with a fair degree of accuracy the results of financial operations for the whole 1936 fiscal period.

Receipts.-The same sources of income (excluding postal revenues) which a year ago were expected to produce receipts aggregating $$ 3,991,904,639$ are now expected to produce a total of $$ 4,410$, 793,946 .

Of the items comprising the whole, income taxes will develop $$ 1,434,112,000$, or $$ 246,000,000$ more than the 1936 Budget estimate.

Miscellaneous internal revenue exclusive of processing taxes is now estimated at $$ 1,873,091,000$, an increase of $$ 187,000,000$. Receipts from customs are expected to reach a total of $$ 353,191,000$, exceeding the original estimate by $$ 55,000,000$. Other changes, some upward and some downward, result in the new estimate of total receipts at a figure of $$ 419,000,000$ higher than shown in the Budget for 1936 which was presented a year ago.

The present estimate for processing taxes in 1936, included in above total, is in round figures $$ 529,000,000$, as against the original estimate of $$ 570,000,000$. Actual receipts for the five months ended November 30, 1935, totaled $$ 56,000,000$, while up to that date approximately $$ 148,000,000$ of due payments had been impounded as the result of preliminary court action.

It is pertinent to repeat here a.statement appearing in the Summation of the 1936 Budget: "Estimates of receipts contemplate continued collection of processing taxes. If the attack which has been made upon this act is sustained we will have to face the problem of financing existing contracts for benefit payments out of some form of new taxes."

Two new taxes, namely, the bituminous coal tax and the taxes upon carriers and their employees, both representing recent legislation, will contribute $$ 39,000,000$ not included in the original estimate of receipts for 1936. New taxes imposed by the Social Security Act and the Revenue Act of 1935 will not produce any income until the fiscal year 1937.

Expenditures.-Indications are that expenditures including debt retirement during the present fiscal year will not reach the amount budgeted by approximately $$ 875,000,000$; the total now foreseen is $$ 7,645,301,338$, against the original estimate of $$ 8,520,413,609$. Exclusive of debt retirement the total of expenditures is now estimated at $$ 7,093,276,338$, while the original comparable figure was $$ 7,883$,979,609 . For recovery and relief the revised estimate of expenditures for the fiscal year 1936 is less than the original Budget estimate by $$ 738,000,000$, and expenditures for all regular purposes, including Agricultural Adjustment Act and Civilian Conservation Corps, will be less by $$ 137,000,000$. Debt retirement will require $$ 84,000,000$ less than was budgeted and interest payments will be $$ 133,000,000$ less. All regular expenditures, excluding service on the public debt, will be greater than the original Budget estimate by about $$ 80,000,000$.

The reduction in interest payments from the amount budgeted, as referred to above, was due largely to the refunding of First and Fourth Liberty Loan bonds aggregating $$ 8,200,000,000$, at substantially lower rates of interest.

Deficit and public debt.-The revised estimates as set out herein show a gross deficit for the current fiscal year of approximately $$ 3,234,000,000$, instead of the original Budget forecast of $$ 4,529$,000,000 . After deducting the amount of statutory debt retirement the net deficit will be, in round figures, $$ 2,682,000,000$. The gross public debt as at June 30, 1936, should not be greater than $$ 31,000$,000,000 . This estimate assumes that the working balance in the Treasury on June 30, 1936, will be approximately the same as it was on June 30,1935 , namely, $$ 1,001,142,951$. Obviously, if the working balance is less, the gross debt will be less; and if it is greater, the gross debt will be greater.

The foregoing figures are set out in the following table for ready comparison between Budget estimates of a year ago and what are now considered probable.

THE FISCAL PROGRAM OF 1937
There is presented here a brief factual résumé of the principal features of the Budget for the fiscal year 1937, the details of which appear in subsequent text and tables. A few high points stand out and justify emphasis.

Without impairing the ability of the Government to carry on its normal functions and to prosecute those activities essential to continued recovery, the Budget reflects a substantial decrease in the spread between income and outgo. This is consistent with the prediction made in the Budget message a year ago and is possible because of progressive improvement in the economic status of the people. The state of national recovery is such that receipts from prevailing tax sources on the basis of present rates appear adequate for financing the ordinary operations of the Government in 1937, including service on the public debt; and no new or additional taxes are proposed.

Legislation enacted by the first session of the Seventy-fourth Congress makes it necessary to provide in the 1937 estimates new appropriation items aggregating $$ 667,000,000$. This total will become approximately $$ 767,000,000$ should the Congress reject the recommendation, hereinbefore offered, for repeal of that part of the Agricultural Adjustment Act which appropriates a sum equal to 30 percent of customs receipts to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Legislation enacted by the first session also permits including in these estimates a total of $$ 769,000,000$ of additional receipts, of which about 70 percent will accrue under the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act, the act levying taxes upon carriers and their employees, and the Social Security Act. It is worthy of note that but slightly less than 30 percent of this increase will be derived under the Revenue Act of 1935. This act, it will be recalled, slightly increased taxes on individuals whose net incomes exceed $$ 50,000$ per year; slightly increased estate taxes on larger fortunes with a corresponding increase in gift taxes; and in respect of corporations, decreased taxes on net earnings of small corporations while increasing in relative ratio the taxes on net income of larger corporations. The act also provided for an increase in taxes on capital stock and on excess profits of corporations. The effect of the excess-profits tax was to increase taxes on corporations which earned in excess of certain percentages of their adjusted declared value of capital stock.

The total revenue expected to be produced by these taxes in the fiscal year 1937 will be only $$ 222,000,000$, or 11 percent, over the income, estate, gift, capital-stock, and excess-profits taxes under the old law. Since collections in the fiscal year 1937 from income taxes and the estate tax only partially reflect the Revenue Act of 1935 , the above amount will be somewhat larger on a full year basis.

A Federal public-works program of $$ 405,000,000$ is recommended to meet in part the development and improvement requirements of the Government, and as a proper Federal contribution to work opportunity. While this program represents an increase of about $$ 187$,000,000 over the amount for similar purposes for which the Congress made specific appropriations for the current fiscal year, it is $$ 333$,000,000 less than the total amount made available for Federal public works in 1936, considering allotments made from emergency funds.

The success attending the operations of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration under emergency status justifies taking them into the Budget and program for 1937 as regular activities, and the estimates of appropriations and expenditures have been prepared accordingly. The appropriation recommended for Civilian Conservation Corps is for the period March 31, 1936, to March 31, 1937, and amounts to $$ 246,000,000$, while the appropriation for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration is for the full year and amounts to $$ 499,054,985$.

The following table gives a clear picture of the main figures proposed in this Budget and shows how they compare with similar figures for previous years.

Directing attention to a comparison between fiscal operations proposed for 1937 and now estimated for 1936, as set forth in the table, the following comment is pertinent:
Receipts.-Receipts in 1937 (exclusive of postal revenues and processing taxes and also, for purposes of comparison, exclusive of taxes imposed under the Social Security Act, the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act, and the act levying taxes upon carriers and their employees) are expected to reach a total of $$ 4,559,817,650$, an increase of $$ 716,665,704$ over similar receipts for 1936 now estimated at $$ 3,843,151,946$, and $$ 1,280,730,319$ over 1935 . It should be pointed out here that this increase is due largely to increased collections anticipated under the old schedules. As has been stated, only about $$ 222,000,000$ will be collected in 1937 as a result of new schedules in the Revenue Act of 1935.

From processing taxes the sum anticipated is $$ 547,300,000$, against the estimate of $$ 529,042,000$ for the current year, an increase of $$ 18,258,000$. Other taxes recently authorized by the Congress under the Social Security Act, the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act, and the act levying taxes upon carriers and their employees will produce $$ 547,100,000$ in 1937 and $$ 38,600,000$ this year, an increase of $$ 508,500,000$.

Thus 1937 receipts from all sources, except postal revenues, are estimated at $$ 5,654,217,650$, against the revised estimate of $$ 4,410$,793,946 for the current fiscal year. The increase in total receipts from stated sources is, therefore, $$ 1,243,423,704$.

Postal receipts for the coming year are estimated at $$ 705,000,000$, an increase of $$ 35,000,000$ over $$ 670,000,000$ anticipated in 1936. This is further evidence of the upward trend in economic conditions.
An examination of the detailed estimates of receipts for 1937 indicates a gain over 1936 in income tax of $$ 508,488,000$, the figures for the two years being respectively $$ 1,942,600,000$ and $$ 1,434,112,000$. Similarly, estimated receipts from miscellaneous internal revenue, exclusive of processing taxes, are up from $$ 1,873,091,000$ to $$ 2,103,114,000$, a gain of $$ 230,023,000$. Customs receipts are forecast at $$ 354,000,000$, substantially the same as anticipated for 1936. The reduction of $$ 22,654,296$ in probable miscellaneous receipts, from $$ 182,757,946$ to $$ 160,103,650$, brings the net increase in the estimates of these four classes of receipts to $$ 716$,665,704 , as stated.

The provisions of the Social Security Act, the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act, and the act levying taxes upon carriers and their employees are such that receipts during the fiscal year 1936 will be comparatively small while revenues from these sources in the next fiscal year will show substantial increases. The amounts estimated for 1937 from such new taxes in the order named are $$ 433,200,000$, $$ 12,300,000$, and $$ 101,600,000$.

Expenditures.-The expenditures for 1937 contemplated under this Budget will total $$ 6,752,606,370$, or approximately $$ 893,000,000$ less than is now estimated for 1936.

Of the two major categories of expenditure, namely, regular and recovery and relief, allowances for regular activities, including the Agricultural Adjustment Act and Civilian Conservation Corps, amount to $$ 5,649,781,738$ as compared with $$ 4,776,233,151$ for 1936 , an increase of $$ 873,548,587$. For recovery and relief, expenditures listed herein are those which will be made from unexpended balances, practically all of which will have been obligated prior to June 30 , 1936, and practically all of which have been allotted. The total of such expenditures in 1937 is estimated at $$ 1,102,824,632$, which is a decrease of $$ 1,766,243,555$ from the figure of $$ 2,869,068,187$ for 1936.

In regular expenditures there is included $$ 805,000,000$ for interest on the public debt, an increase of $$ 63,000,000$ over the same item for the current year; and $$ 580,125,000$ for statutory debt retirements, an increase of $$ 28,100,000$. The cost of service on the public debt in 1937, therefore, will exceed that for 1936 by $$ 91,100,000$.

Excepting debt retirement and interest, the net increase in expenditures for regular activities is $$ 782,448,587$ as compared with 1936. The major part of this increase is accounted for as follows: (a) For financing activities under the Social Security Act, the act levying taxes upon carriers and their employees, and the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act, $$ 485,000,000$; (b) for other new legislation, $$ 125,000,000$; (c) for increased public works, transferred from emergency appropriations, $$ 228,000,000 ;(d)$ for the veterans' adjustedservice certificate fund in order to bring the annual contribution of the Government nearer its actual liability under existing law, $$ 60,000,000$; and (e) for national defense, to meet the policy of the Congress and the Executive in making up for the delay by the United States in bringing the Navy up to the strength contemplated by the naval treaties of 1922 and 1930, and to provide replacement and improved equipment and additional personnel for the Army, $$ 193,000,000$.

In the War Department Appropriation Act for the fiscal year 1935 the Congress adopted a policy of increasing the average enlisted strength of the Army from 118,750 to 165,000 men and toward accomplishing such purpose appropriated an additional $$ 20,000,000$ for expenditure during that year. These funds are sufficient to maintain an average enlisted strength during 1936 of approximately 147,000 men. The estimates of expenditure included in this Budget are sufficient in amount to maintain this average during the fiscal year 1937, with the purpose in view of providing in the 1938 Budget the funds necessary to recruit the Army to such strength by the close of that year as will produce an average enlisted strength of 165,000 throughout the fiscal year 1939, the maximum indicated by the Congress. It is felt that this is as fast as the Government should proceed in this matter in the light of the present forecast of fiscal affairs.

The contemplated expenditures for the Civilian Conservation Corps show a decrease of $$ 308,383,000$ as against estimated comparable expenditures for 1936.

Deficit and public debt.-The gross deficit for the fiscal year 1937 is estimated at $$ 1,098,388,720$, including $$ 580,125,000$ for statutory debt retirement, or a net deficit of $$ 518,263,720$. It is estimated that the gross public debt on June 30,1937 , will amount to $$ 31,351,638,737$, as compared with an estimated debt on June 30,1936 , of $$ 30,933$,375,017 . The figure for 1937 does not include such amounts for work relief during the coming year as may be determined upon by the Congress.

Appropriations.-Appropriations recommended in this Budget aggregate $$ 6,400,000,000$, including probable supplemental items estimated at $$ 600,000,000$, while the appropriations already made and prospective supplemental items for the fiscal year 1936, exclusive of the appropriation of $$ 4,000,000,000$ for recovery and relief, amount to $$ 5,146,000,000$, an increase of $$ 1,254,000,000$ required for the fiscal year 1937 over the fiscal year 1936.
This increase is due to (1) additional appropriations amounting to approximately $$ 610,000,000$, including supplementals to be submitted later, required to finance new legislation enacted at the last session of Congress; (2) an appropriation of $$ 246,000,000$ to continue the operations of the Civilian Conservation Corps from March 31, 1936, to March 31, 1937; (3) an increase in specific appropriations of $$ 187,-$ 000,000 on account of general public works; and (4) increases in the general departmental requirements aggregating approximately $$ 211,-$ 000,000 , due largely to the increases in the Army, Navy, and the Department of Agriculture.

Existing authorizations for the Federal-Aid Highway System provide for appropriations of $$ 125,000,000$ for each of the fiscal years 1936 and 1937. Under these authorizations $$ 40,000,000$ has previously been appropriated for the fiscal year 1936. Toward the balance of $$ 85,000,000$ authorized for that year there is provided under the item " General Public Works Program" an estimate of $$ 60,000$,000 , which it is believed will be sufficient to meet commitments maturing during 1937. As to the authorization of $$ 125,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1937, language is included in this Budget having for its purpose the cancelation of this authorization for 1937 and making it applicable to the fiscal year 1938. This course appears fully justified in view of the fact that during the fiscal years 1933 to 1936, inclusive, there has been made available from emergency funds a total of approximately $$ 1,192,000,000$ for the construction of highways and the elimination of grade crossings, and that from these funds there will be available for expenditure during the fiscal year 1937 a total of more than $$ 250,000,000$ in addition to the $$ 60,000,000$ provided for in the General Public Works Program, previously referred to. Moreover, roads of secondary classification and farm to market roads are being constructed under allotments of emergency funds in amounts approximating $$ 115,000,000$.

The following table shows the approximate estimate of appropriations required to administer new legislation enacted during the last session of Congress, and also shows the amount of receipts anticipated in 1937 from new general tax provisions.

Because there has not been sufficient time to plan the organization and methods required, no detailed estimates are included in the Budget for expense to be incurred by the Social Security Board, and by the Bureau of Internal Revenue for collecting taxes authorized by the three new acts heretofore referred to. However, the probable expense has been approximated and is included in the total lump sum of $$ 600,000,000$ estimated to cover 1937 supplementals. The necessary estimates covering the remainder of the current year will be transmitted during the early days of the session, together with complete details for 1937. Likewise no estimate for administering the Potato Act has been prepared since it is believed this act should be amended along lines to be recommended by the Secretary of Agriculture, and a supplemental estimate can then be transmitted.

ANALYSIS OF REVENUE ESTIMATES

The revenues of the Federal Government are mainly dependent upon the tax structure and the level of business activity. Hence, in the preparation of revenue estimates in November of each year, the Treasury is required, assuming the continuance of the then existing tax structure, to forecast the probable trend of business activity for the ensuing 20 months-the period covering the remainder of the then current fiscal year and the next fiscal year.

Because of Federal practices in the collection of taxes, Federal revenues do not promptly reflect changes in business conditions. During a fiscal year income tax collections are for the most part derived from incomes of the two calendar years ending with December of the fiscal year. Thus, collections of income taxes during the latter half of the current fiscal year will be based upon the business volume of the calendar year 1935 and collections during the fiscal year 1937 will reflect the business volumes of the calendar years 1935 and 1936. Because of this lag in collections, receipts from income taxes are expected to provide a much larger proportion of total revenues as business activity increases. Collections from estate and gift taxes also lag behind changes in general business conditions, whereas most of the other sources of miscellaneous internal revenue taxes and customs duties reflect such changes almost immediately.
total estimated revenues
Total receipts, general and special accounts, are estimated (on Treasury statement basis) in the amounts of $$ 4,411,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 5,654,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1937, or increases of $$ 610,000,000$ and $$ 1,854,000,000$, respectively, over the actual receipts for the fiscal year 1935 .

Total receipts from customs and internal revenue, exclusive of the agricultural adjustment taxes, taxes upon carriers and their employees, the bituminous coal tax, and the social security taxes, are estimated at $$ 3,660,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 4,400,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1937. These amounts represent increases of $$ 560,-$ 000,000 and $$ 1,300,000,000$, respectively, over the amounts received from these sources for the fiscal year 1935.

Receipts from taxes levied under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and related legislation are estimated (on Treasury statement basis) at $$ 529,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1936, an increase of $$ 8,000,000$ over receipts for 1935. New sources of revenue, taxes upon carriers and their employees, and the bituminous coal tax, are estimated to yield $$ 33,000,000$ and $$ 5,000,000$, respectively, in the fiscal year 1936. Miscellaneous revenues and receipts from the realization upon assets are estimated at $$ 183,000,000$.

For the fiscal year 1937, receipts from the Agricultural Adjustment Act taxes and the taxes on cotton ginning and tobacco sales are estimated at $$ 547,000,000$; taxes upon carriers and their employees at $$ 102,000,000$; and the bituminous coal tax at $$ 12,000,000$. Receipts from the social security taxes, which will be collected for the first time in the latter half of the fiscal year 1937, are estimated at $$ 433,000,000$. Miscellaneous revenues and receipts from realization upon assets are estimated at $$ 160,000,000$.

For the years up to 1932 approximately one-third of the revenue from taxable sources came from customs duties and miscellaneous internal revenue taxes and about two-thirds from income taxes. By the fiscal year 1934 the proportion of revenue from income taxes had declined to less than one-third as a result of the severe decline in incomes during the depression years and the new and additional taxes on miscellaneous sources imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932 and subsequent acts. In the fiscal year 1935 the proportion of internal revenue derived from income taxes increased because of larger incomes and the partial effect of the Revenue Act of 1934 which provided for higher tax yields, and because collections from miscellaneous internal revenue taxes, with the exception of distilled spirits, increased only moderately. With a continuance of business recovery, receipts from income taxes may be expected to provide an increasing proportion of internal revenue.

effects of recent revenue legislation

Revenue legislation in the last session of Congress which affects revenue in the fiscal years 1936 and 1937 includes: (1) The extension to June 30 or July 31, 1937, of title IV, as amended, and parts I, II, III, and IV of title V, as amended, of the Revenue Act of 1932; (2) an act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act; (3) an act to levy an excise tax upon carriers and an income tax upon their employees; (4) the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act of 1935; (5) the Social Security Act; and (6) the Revenue Act of 1935.

The extension for two years, or until June 30 or July 31,1937 , of the temporary miscellaneous internal revenue taxes, additional customs duties, and changes in rates and exemptions imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, is estimated to produce $$ 418,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 502,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1937. The smaller amount for 1936 is mainly due to the fact that collections would have been received during July and, in some cases, during August 1935 if these taxes had not been extended.
The act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, approved August 24, 1935, imposed a tax upon the processing of rye, effective September 1, 1935, and a tax upon the first sale of potatoes harvested on or after December 1, 1935. The tax on rye is expected to yield about $$ 2,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 3,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1937. No appreciable amount of revenue is expected from the tax on potatoes.
The act to levy an excise tax upon carriers and an income tax upon their employees becomes effective March 1, 1936, and terminates February 28, 1937. It is estimated that these taxes will yield $$ 33,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 102,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1937. Revenue from the bituminous coal tax imposed by the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act, approved August 30, 1935, is expected to commence in January 1936 and the tax is estimated to yield about $$ 6,000,000$ in the latter half of the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 12,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1937.
Under the Social Security Act, approved August 14, 1935, title VIII imposes an excise tax on employers and an income tax on their employees, effective January 1, 1937, which are expected to yield $$ 305,000,000$ in the latter half of the fiscal year 1937. Title IX of the Act, which provides for an excise tax on employers of eight or more persons, becomes effective January 1, 1936, and collections from this tax will not be received until January 1937. It is estimated that this tax will provide $$ 128,000,000$ of revenue in the fiscal year 1937.

The effect of the Revenue Act of 1935 will be only partially reflected in revenue for the fiscal year 1937. The changes in the act in respect to income taxes and gift taxes apply to incomes and gifts of the calendar year 1936 and succeeding years. Therefore, additional revenue from these sources, resulting from provisions of this Act, will not be received until the second half of the fiscal year 1937. The revisions made in estate tax provisions will not appear in receipts until December 1936 because, although the changes became effective upon the date of passage of the act, August 30, 1935, returns are not required to be filed until 15 months after death. The changes in the act in respect to the capitalstock tax and excess profits tax will be fully reflected in collections of the fiscal year 1937. The following table summarizes estimated increases in receipts during the fiscal year 1937 due to the Revenue Act of 1935:

REVENUE ESTIMATES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1936

Total receipts from customs and internal revenue, exclusive of agricultural adjustment taxes, taxes upon carriers and their employees, and the bituminous coal tax for the fiscal year 1936 are estimated (on Treasury statement basis) at $$ 3,660,000,000$, an increase of $$ 560,-$ 000,000 over receipts of the fiscal year 1935, as shown on statement no. 1. The major sources of these revenues are summarized as follows:

|  | ${ }_{\substack{\text { Atuag, } \\ \text { cass }}}$ | ${ }_{\text {Estimatal }}^{\text {dase }}$ |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |
| Tot | 3,000.7 | 3,600.4 |

The estimated increases are the results of improvement in business conditions and changes in respect to income taxes and estate taxes incorporated in the Revenue Act of 1934 .

Income taxes.-Collections from current corporate income taxes are estimated at $$ 615,000,000$, an increase of $$ 150,000,000$ over collections of the fiscal year 1935. Collections from current individual income taxes are estimated at $$ 629,000,000$, an increase of $$ 181,000,000$ over collections of the fiscal year 1935.

Collections from back taxes are estimated to yield $$ 190,000,000$, an increase of $$ 4,000,000$ over collections of the fiscal year 1935. The high level of collections from this source is expected to continue because of the special efforts of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to collect back taxes and the changed policy of the Treasury in respect to its administration of depreciation allowances.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.-Revenue from taxes on capital stock, excess profits, estates, and gifts is estimated in the amount of $$ 353,000,000$, an increase of $$ 43,000,000$ over collections for 1935 . The gain is chiefly the result of an estimated increase in estate tax collections in consequence of estimated higher values of estates and the Revenue Act of 1934 , which will be fully reflected in collections in the fiscal year 1936.
Revenue from distilled spirits, wines, and fermented liquors is estimated at $$ 503,000,000$, an increase of $$ 92,000,000$ over the preceding year. The increase is mainly accounted for by an expected increase in the consumption of distilled spirits, as a result of improving quality, lower prices, enforcement activity and increasing incomes. Collections from taxes on tobacco manufactures are estimated at $$ 478,000,000$, an increase of $$ 19,000,000$ over collections of 1935 . The gain is attributed to an expected moderate increase in the consumption of small cigarettes. The estimated increase of $$ 24,000,000$ in documentary stamp tax collections reflects estimated increases in refunding of security issues and greater activity in trading on the stock exchanges.
Revenue from manufacturers' excise taxes is estimated at $$ 365,000,000$, an increase of $$ 23,000,000$ over collections of 1935. Miscellaneous taxes are expected to yield $$ 90,000,000$, or $$ 18,000,000$ less than collections of 1935. This decline is the net result of loss in revenue due to the repeal of the tax on checks, effective January 1, 1935, and estimated increases in other sources of revenue under this classification.
Changes in estimated collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue in the fiscal year 1936, as compared with actual collections in the fiscal year 1935, are summarized in the following table:

Agricultural adjustment taxes.-Collections from taxes levied under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and related legislation are estimated to yield $$ 524,000,000$, or $$ 2,000$,000 less than collections of the fiscal year 1935 . This decline is accounted for by estimated decreases from taxes on the processing of hogs, tobacco (due to a decrease in rates of tax effective Oct. 1, 1935), and sugar in excess of estimated gains from the taxes on the processing of wheat, corn, peanuts, and rice. The processing tax on rye, which was not effective in the fiscal year 1935, is expected to yield $$ 2,000,000$. The processing taxes on certain paper and jute products and the taxes on cotton ginning and on tobacco sales are expected to show slight change.

Other internal revenue taxes.-Collections from taxes upon carriers and their employees are estimated at $\$ 33,000,000$. This tax becomes effective March 1, 1936, and only one quarterly payment will be received in the fiscal year 1936. Under the act to levy an excise tax upon carriers and an income tax upon their employees, an excise tax is imposed on carriers equal to $3 \frac{1}{2}$ percent of the compensation (not in excess of $\$ 300$ per month) paid by it to its employees and an income tax of $3 / 2$ percent of the compensation (not in excess of $\$ 300$ per month) is imposed on each employee, as defined by the Act.

The Bituminous Coal Conservation Act of 1935 levies a tax of 15 percent on the sale price of bituminous coal at the mine, with the provision that coal producers who accept the Bituminous Coal Code shall be entitled to a credit of 90 percent of the amount of the tax. Revenue under this act is expected to commence January 1, 1936, and collections during the latter half of the fiscal year 1936 are estimated at $$ 6,000,000$.

Customs receipts.-Customs receipts (on collection basis) are estimated in the amount of $$ 352,000,000$, or $$ 7,000,000$ more than collections in 1935. Revenue from duties on distilled spirits and wines is estimated to decline $$ 8,000,000$ from the collections of 1935 , chiefly in consequence of the Canadian trade agreement, effective January 1, 1936, which lowered the duty on whisky, aged 4 or more years, from $$ 5$ to $$ 2.50$ per proof gallon. Revenue from dutiable imports, other than alcoholic beverages, is estimated to increase $$ 15,000,000$ over the amount collected in 1935.

Miscellaneous receipts.-Total receipts from miscellaneous revenues and the realization upon assets are estimated at $$ 183,000,000$, a decrease of $$ 76,000,000$ from the estimate carried in the Budget Summary of September 30,1935 . This decrease is due to a downward revision of about $$ 100,000,000$ in the estimate of repayment of investments, of which about $$ 70,000,000$ represent a decrease in the amount expected to be paid by the Public Works Administration on its obligations held by the Treasury from moneys received as repayments of loans made to States, municipalities, and railroads. These receipts will be used by the Public Works Administration as a revolving fund from which additional loans may be made. The decrease of $$ 100,000,000$ is partly offset by an upward revision of $$ 24,000,000$ in the receipts from various sources of miscellaneous revenue.

REVENUE ESTIMATES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1937

Total receipts from customs and internal revenue, exclusive of agricultural adjustment taxes, taxes upon carriers and their employees, the bituminous coal tax, and the social security taxes, for the fiscal year 1937, are estimated at $$ 4,400,000,000$, an increase of approximately $$ 740,000,000$ over the estimate for the fiscal year 1936. The estimated increase reflects expected further business improvement in the calendar year 1936 and the fiscal year 1937 and, in part, the effects of the Revenue Act of 1935.

Income taxes.-Collections from current corporate income taxes are estimated at $\$ 827,000,000$, an increase of $\$ 212,000,000$ over the estimated amount for 1936. Of this increase, $\$ 42,000,000$ is expected to result from changes under the Revenue Act of 1935. The major provisions of that Act affecting corporate income taxes are: The substitution of a graduated tax (except in the case of railroad corporations which continue having the privilege of filing consolidated returns), ranging from $12 \frac{1}{2}$ percent on net income not in excess of $\$ 2,000$ to 15 percent on net income in excess of $\$ 40,000$ for the single rate of $133 / 4$ percent imposed by the Revenue Act of 1934; the allowance of only 90 percent of dividends received from domestic corporations as a deduction from gross income; and an increase in rates of tax on personal holding companies.
Individual income taxes are estimated to yield $$ 936$,000,000 or an increase of $$ 307,000,000$ over the estimated collections for the fiscal year 1936. The increase in surtax rates on surtax net incomes in excess of $$ 50,000$ incorporated in the Revenue Act of 1935 is expected to provide $$ 62,000,000$ of this increase, Revenue from back taxes is estimated at $$ 180,000,000$ or $$ 10,000,000$ less than the estimate for 1936 .

Miscellaneous internal revenue.--Collections from the taxes on capital stock, excess profits, estates, and gifts are estimated in the amount of $$ 461,000,000$, or $$ 108$,000,000 more than the estimate for the preceding fiscal year. This increase is the result of estimated increases in collections of $$ 66,000,000$ in the capital stock tax and the excess-profits tax and of $$ 77,000,000$ in the estate tax, which together are considerably greater than the estimated decline of $$ 35,000,000$ in collections from the gift tax.
The increases in the capital stock and excess profits taxes are entirely due to the Revenue Act of 1935. Under that Act the rate of tax on capital stock was increased from $\$ 1$ to $\$ 1.40$ per $\$ 1,000$ of the adjusted declared value. The rate of tax on excess profits was changed from 5 percent under the Revenue Act of 1934 upon net incomes in excess of $12 \frac{1}{2}$ percent of the adjusted declared value of capital stock to 6 percent of net income in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 percent of adjusted declared value, and 12 percent on net income in excess of 15 percent of adjusted declared value. In consequence of the changes in excess profits tax provisions, corporations are expected to declare a higher capital stock valuation than under the 1934 act. The increase in the capital stock valuation and the higher rate of tax form the basis for the estimated increase in revenue.
The estimated increase in the estate tax reflects estimated higher values of estates and, in part, the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1935 , which lowered the specific exemption from $$ 50,000$ to $$ 40,000$ and increased the rates of tax. In the calendar years 1934 and 1935, large gifts were probably induced by expected increases in taxes on incomes and estates. In consequence, a large amount of revenue was received from the gift tax in the fiscal year 1935 and large collections are expected from this source in the fiscal year 1936. In the fiscal year 1937, revenues from the gift tax are expected to be in smaller amount, although the increased tax rates and reduction in the specific exemption from $$ 50,000$ to $$ 40,000$ under the Revenue Act of 1935 will be in effect.
Collections from taxes on distilled spirits, wines and fermented liquors, tobacco products, documentary stamps manufacturers' excise taxes and miscellaneous taxes are estimated to increase $$ 139,000,000$ in consequence of expected further business improvement.
The following table shows estimated collections from the principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue for the fiscal years 1936 and 1937:

Estimated receipts from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue

| All other. | 90.3 | 99.5 | 9.2 |
| Total miscellaneous internal revenue.....- | 1,856. 3 | 2, 103.1 | 248.8 |

Agricultural adjustment taxes.-Taxes under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and related legislation are estimated to yield $$ 547,000,000$, an increase of $$ 23,000,000$ over the estimate (on collections basis) for the preceding year. This gain is chiefly the result of estimated increases in the consumption of wheat, cotton, and hog products.

Other internal revenue taxes.-Revenue from taxes upon carriers and their employees is estimated at $102,000,000 , an increase of $$ 69,000,000$ over the estimate for 1936. Since the tax terminates February 28, 1937, only three quarterly payments will be received in the fiscal year 1937. Revenue from the bituminous coal tax is estimated to increase approximately $$ 6,000,000$ over the estimate for 1936, largely because the tax is effective during only part of the fiscal year 1936.

Collections from social security taxes, which will first appear in receipts in the fiscal year 1937, are estimated at $$ 433,000,000$. The taxes on employment, under title VIII of the Social Security Act, are estimated to yield $$ 305,000,000$ in the fiscal year 1937. This amount represents a tax of 2 percent on taxable pay rolls for 6 months, since the tax commences January 1, 1937, and is payable currently. Title VIII imposes an income táx of 1 percent on wages (not in excess of $$ 3,000$ per year) of every individual (excluding certain occupational groups and persons 65 years of age or over) and an excise tax on each employer equal to 1 percent of wages paid by him with the same salary limit and occupational and age exclusions.

Revenue under title IX of the Act is estimated at $$ 128,000,000$. This title imposes upon every employer of eight or more persons an excise tax equal to certain percentages of the wages paid by him (with certain occupational exclusions). The rate of tax is 1 percent in the calendar year 1936 and the taxpayer is allowed a credit for all contributions paid into a State unemployment fund not in excess of 90 percent of the tax. The act requires that the entire tax of 1 percent of taxable pay rolls shall be paid to the Federal Government in cases where States have not adopted approved unemployment compensation systems, and since it is unlikely that all States will have adopted approved systems during the calendar year 1936, the estimate of revenue in the fiscal year 1937 is larger than it would be with complete State coverage.

Customs receipts.-Total receipts from customs are estimated at $$ 354,000,000$, an increase of $$ 2,000,000$ over the estimate (on collection basis) for 1936. Collections from duties on distilled spirits and wines are estimated to be about $$ 6,000,000$ less than in the fiscal year 1936 because of lower duties on whiskies as provided in the Canadian Trade Agreement. Revenue from dutiable imports, other than alcoholic beverages, is estimated to increase $$ 8,000,000$ over the estimate for 1936.

Miscellaneous receipts.-Miscellaneous receipts for the fiscal year 1937 are estimated at $$ 160,000,000$, a decrease of $$ 23,000,000$ from the estimate of the preceding fiscal year. The major part of the decrease is accounted for by a decline in receipts of interest payments from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. In the fiscal year 1936 these receipts are increased abnormally by the amount of the May 1935 interest payment, which was deferred until July 1935, whereas in the fiscal year 1937 it is expected that the payments will be made as scheduled in November and in May.

ANALYSIS OF APPROPRIATION AND EXPENDITURE ESTIMATES

It. will be noted that Statement No. 2 presents in three parallel columns the appropriation estimates for 1937 and the actual appropriations for 1936 and 1935. Adjacent to these columns are three additional columns exhibiting the estimated expenditures for 1937 and 1936 and the actual expenditures for 1935. To avoid confusion in comparing the figures in these six columns, one should consider the basis upon which such figures are prepared.

With respect to the first three columns of figures, the 1935 and the 1936 columns carry the appropriations which have already been made by the Congress for those fiscal years. The 1937 column presents the amounts for the various organization units (i. e., departments, bureaus, establishments, and agencies) and objects which the President has recommended to the Congress for appropriation or authorization for the fiscal year 1937.

The appropriations, it should be observed, are of two general types-annual and permanent. The annual appropriations, ordinarily found in the departmental supply bills, are voted each year by the Congress. They are usually definite or specific as to amounts. They may be obligated only during the year to which they relate, their unexpended balances remaining available on the books for payment of obligations during 2 additional years before being closed into the so-called "surplus fund" of the Treasury. The permanent appropriations are automatically renewed each fiscal year over a period of time by virtue of permanent legislation, without annual action by the Congress. Such appropriations may be either specific or indefinite as to amounts. An example of the latter is the indefinite permanent appropriation to cover the interest on the national debt. This type of appropriation, while sometimes difficult to ascertain as to amount, does not preclude an estimated figure for the Budget. The number of the permanent appropriations was greatly reduced, effective July 1, 1935, by the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act of June 26, 1934. The Congress makes some appropriations available until expended, or until the object for which they are made is accomplished. These appropriations are without a definite time limit, and may, therefore, be called "no-year" appropriations. They are generally for the construction of Public Works projects.

Turning to the three columns under the caption "Expenditures", the column for 1935 shows the actual expenditure figures for that fiscal year. These figures, usually on a checks-issued basis, are adjusted at appropriate totals to the cash basis (checks-paid basis) as shown on the daily Treasury statement. The totals, therefore, are on an actual cash basis. The fact that this column shows expenditures which are larger than the appropriations made for 1935 is due to the carryover of prior obligations for payment in that fiscal year. The columns for 1936 and 1937 show the estimated expenditures for those fiscal years on a cash basis. The fact that the estimated expenditures for 1936 are less than the appropriations for that year, while the estimated expenditures for 1937 are greater than the estimates of appropriations for 1937 , is due to the expectation that a considerable amount of obligations under the 1936 appropriations will be carried over for payment in the 1937 fiscal year. The expenditure figures contained in these three columns are the ones which are carried in totals to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. Hence the Budget is, in effect, on a cash basis with respect to expenditures, as well as with respect to receipts.

The italicized items, other than those relating to the Agricultural Adjustment Act and Civilian Conservation Corps, appearing in Statement No. 2 represent emergency appropriations and expenditures. All expenditures under the above-mentioned organizations are classified as regular expenditures in this Budget. The totals of these various items are summarized and presented in the General Budget Summary under the expenditure group called "Recovery and relief." This group is carried in detail in Supporting Schedule No. 2.

Expenditures

The estimated expenditures for 1937 are $$ 893,000,000$ less than the estimated expenditures for 1936 , and $$ 623,-$ 000,000 less than the actual expenditures for 1935 .

Appropriations for the Fiscal Year 1937

The detailed figures representing the increases and decreases in the estimates of appropriations for 1937 in comparison with the appropriations actually made for 1936 are to be found in a summary table at the beginning of the estimates of appropriations for each department or establishment, as these estimates are presented in the subsequent pages of the Budget. The important items of increase or decrease are summarized below:

Legislative establishment

The appropriation estimates for 1937 show a net decrease below the appropriations for 1936 of nearly $$ 1,700,000$, due principally to a nonrecurring item of $$ 2,550,000$ for the air-conditioning of the Capitol, Senate, and House Office Buildings.
The estimates for the United States Senate show a net increase of $$ 42,072.82$. An increase of $$ 100,000$ for expenses of inquiries and investigations is offset by decreases of $$ 57,927.18$ for miscellaneous items, including the purchase of furniture, reporting debates and proceedings, etc.
For the House of Representatives an increased net appropriation of $$ 23,184$ is requested. The principal increases are $$ 4,240$ for salaries, office of the Sergeant at Arms; $$ 15,000$ for miscellaneous expenses; $$ 15,000$ for stenographic reports; and $$ 25,000$ for telephone and telegraph service. Decreases below 1936 appropriations are $$ 10,332$ for salaries, office of the Doorkeeper, and $$ 32,500$ due to three nonrecurring items.

The estimates submitted for the Architect of the Capitol show a net decrease of $$ 2,243,655$, which as stated above, is due principally to the nonrecurring item of $$ 2,550,000$ for air-conditioning the Capitol and other buildings. Increases requested for 1937 include $$ 184$,025 for Capitol Building and repairs; $$ 42,760$ for the improvement of the Capitol grounds, $$ 38,230$ for maintenance of the House Office Building; $$ 237,180$ for the Capitol power plant; and $$ 28,000$ for furniture, etc., for the Library of Congress. Decreases, other than the abovementioned nonrecurring item, include $$ 36,850$ for repair and equipment of the former quarters of the Supreme Court, $$ 81,540$ for maintenance of the Senate Office Building, and $$ 105,400$ for maintenance, repairs, etc., of the Library Building and Grounds.

The net increase in the estimates for Library of Congress amounts to $$ 190,418$, with increases of $$ 87,740$ for salaries; $$ 19,500$ for the Library; and $$ 75,000$ for printing and binding.

The increase for the Government Printing Office is confined to one item, $$ 300,000$, for public printing and binding.

INDEPENDENT OFFICES AND ESTABLISHMENTS

The estimates for 1937 for the Executive Office and independent establishments, excepting the Farm Credit Administration, Veterans' Administration, Tennessee Valley Authority, and the General Public Works Program total $$ 380,523,061$, as compared with appropriations of $$ 79,378,109$ for the fiscal year 1936. This increase of $$ 301,144,952$ is accounted for principally by estimates totaling $$ 54,212,460$, as a result of newly enacted legislation and an estimate of $$ 246,000,000$ for emergency conservation work not heretofore included in the group of independent establishments.

Exccutive Office

The estimates for 1937 for the Executive Office show a decrease of $$ 102$ below the appropriations for the current fiscal year.

American Battle Monuments Commission

The amount required for the Commission for 1937 is estimated at $$ 28,059$ less than the appropriation for 1936. Decreases of $$ 10,719$ in the item covering exchange losses, and $$ 30,000$ due to a reduction in the reserve to meet emergencies, are offset by increases of $$ 1,200$ for quarters, heat, and light allowances for employees abroad, and $$ 11,460$ for maintenance heretofore paid from available balances of continuing appropriations not available for 1937.

Board of Tax Appeals

The estimate for the Board for 1937 is in the same amount as the appropriation for 1936.

Central Statistical Board

The estimate of $$ 175,420$ for 1937 is a new item of appropriation, and will provide the necessary funds for personnel and other administrative expenses of the Central Statistical Board for the fiscal year 1937. This Board was established by the act of June 25, 1935, and is to continue for 5 years as the successor to the temporary board created by Executive Order No. 6225, of July 27, 1933.

Civil Service Commission.

The estimates for 1937 for the Commission provide a net increase of $$ 6,254,100$ over the appropriations for the fiscal year 1936. For administrative expenses $$ 2,335,000$ will be required in 1937, which represents a net increase of $$ 204,100$ over the appropriation for that purpose for 1936, an increase of $$ 281,280$ for expenses of examinations to provide additional postal employees as a result of the act of August 14, 1935, providing a 40 -hour work week for postal employees, being offset by decreases of $$ 900$ for printing, and $$ 76,280$ due to nonrecurring items provided in 1936. The remaining increase of $$ 6,050,000$ is in the estimate for retirement and disability funds, and is necessary to build up the civil service retirement and disability fund to a proper level.

Employees' Compensation Commission

The estimates for the Commission for 1937 show an increase of $$ 501,250$ over the appropriations for 1936 , of which $$ 500,000$ is required for the employees' compensation fund, due to an increase in the number of potential beneficiaries by reason of the additional personnel necessary to administer new legislation.

Emergency Conservation Work

The Emergency Conservation Work, familiarly known as the Civilian Conservation Corps, was created by Executive Order No. 6101, of April 5, 1933, under authority of the act entitled "An act for the relief of unemployment through the performance of useful public work and for other purposes ", approved March 31, 1933, to engage in forestry, forest protection, conservation, and improvement and developnent of public areas. The authority of the President under the original law having expired on March 31, 1935, an extension to March 31, 1937, was granted by section 14 of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935, approved April 8, 1935. The funds for the Civilian Conservation Corps have heretofore been obtained by transfers of unobligated balances of certain public works appropriations and by allotments of emergency appropriations. The estimate of $$ 246$,000,000 for 1937 is to maintain the Corps at a maximum strength of 300,000 , and is to be available until March 31, 1937, with $$ 10,000,000$ to be made immediately available.

Farm Credit Administration

The estimate of $$ 4,000,000$ for the Farm Credit Administration for salaries and expenses for the fiscal year 1937 is the same as the appropriation for 1936. Other funds of the Administration, however, amounting to approximately $$ 5,650,000$ are available for the same purposes. It is estimated, however, that the total cost of administration for 1937 will be $$ 1,317,370$ less than for 1936, due principally to the fact that funds available for 1936 include administrative expenses incidental to the making of loans to farmers for crop production and harvesting under the act of February 20, 1935 (Public, No. 11, 74th Cong.). Since no authority now exists for making loans of that character during the fiscal year 1937, administrative expenses will be decreased accordingly.

The estimated expenditure in 1937 of $$ 65,280$ for supervision of Federal credit unions from funds derived from fees collected and to be collected under the act of June 26, 1934, represents the initial expenditure of such fees.

Federal Communications Commission

The estimate of $$ 1,475,000$ for the Federal Communications Commission represents a decrease of $$ 50,000$ below the amount appropriated for 1936. It is not anticipated, however, that this decrease will result in the curtailment of any of the activities of the Commission.

Federal Home Loan Bank Board

The estimate for 1937 covers the expenses of the Board paid from permanent appropriations of receipts derived from assessments upon Federal Home Loan banks and from other sources, and provides an increase of $$ 173,768$ over the appropriation for 1936.

The annual appropriation of $$ 264,043$ for the Board for 1936 , made necessary by the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act of 1934, was carried to the surplus fund of the Treasury, having been rendered inoperative by the provisions of section 9 , act of May 28, 1935, which authorized the use of the receipts of the Board to defray its expenses.

Federal Power Commission

The estimates for the Commission for 1937 show an increase of $$ 1,361,976$ over the appropriations for 1936. The administration of the Federal Power Act of 1935 , approved August 26, 1935, is estimated to require $$ 1,412,400$ in 1937 , which increase, however, is offset by a decrease of $$ 50,424$ in the appropriation for payments to States from a special receipts fund authorized by the Federal Water Power Act. It is estimated that the administration of the Federal Power Act of 1935 will require a departmental force of 186 with salaries aggregating $$ 472,000$, a field organization of 163 employees with salaries aggregating $$ 446,600$; and $$ 496,800$ for travel, field rentals, and other expenses.

Federal Trade Commission

The estimates for the Commission for 1937 show a net decrease of $$ 164,309$ below the appropriations for the current year. They include increases of $$ 120,772$ for unlawful trade practices work and $$ 216,478$ for duties incident to voluntary trade practice agreements delegated to the Commission by Executive Order No. 7192 of September 26, 1935, and a decrease of $$ 2,000$ for printing and binding. They do not contemplate any appropriation for special investigations heretofore directed by Congress since it is anticipated that, with a single exception, these investigations will be completed during the fiscal year 1936 with available funds totaling $$ 576,226$, including $$ 110,000$ from 1935 appropriations. The remaining investigation is expected to be completed during 1937, and for this purpose an appropriation for 1936 has been continued available until December 31, 1936, by the Second Deficiency Act. fiscal year 1934, approved August 12, 1935.

General Accounting Office

The estimates for 1937 for the General Accounting Office exceed the appropriations for 1936 by $$ 336,240$.

This increase includes $$ 228,940$ for salaries and expenses; $$ 98,500$ for contingent expenses, and $$ 8,800$ for printing and binding; all due to the increasing volume of work incident to the establishment of new agencies by recent legislation, and for auditing the accounts of the Tennessee Valley Authority as provided by section 14 of the act of August 31, 1935.

Interstate Commerce Commission

The estimates of appropriations for 1937 for the Commission exceed the appropriation for 1936 by $$ 1,395,894$. This increase results mainly from the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, approved August 9, 1935, and the Air Mail Act of August 14, 1935. For administrative expenses a net decrease of $$ 252,465$ is shown for 1937 , which includes decreases of $$ 134,640$ for air-mail-contract work, for which a separate item of appropriation is proposed for 1937; $$ 52,254$ for the expenses of the sections of mails and files, docket, stenography, supplies and publications, and disbursement and appointments; $$ 63,651$ for expenses of the formal docket of the Commission; and miscellaneous items totaling $$ 41,900$. For the expenses of the Commissioners and their offices an increase of $$ 19,980$ is provided; as well as an increase of $$ 20,000$ for official reporting. The estimate of $$ 852,000$ for regulating accounts is the same as the amount appropriated for that purpose for the current year. The item for safety of employees is $$ 8,195$ less than the appropriation for 1936 because of a decrease in the expense of safety appliances inspections. For signal safety systems a decrease is shown of $$ 1,132$ below the current year appropriation due to a decrease in the expense of inspection of signal systems. For locomotive inspection the estimate for 1937 is $$ 11,238$ below the appropriation for the current year due to a decrease in the expense of field inspection, allowances for rent, clerical assistance, etc. While the estimate providing for the valuation of property of carriers is $$ 241,100$ below the current appropriation, it is anticipated that the Commission will be able to currently revise its valuation data and proceed with the valuation of pipe lines now in progress.

The estimates for 1937 include a new item of appropriation for " air-mail work" of $$ 160,000$. The act entitled "An act to amend the air-mail laws and to authorize the extension of the Air Mail Service ", approved August 14, 1935, directs the Commission to fix and determine from time to time fair and reasonable rates of compensation for the transportation of air mail, and at least once each year to examine the books, accounts, contracts, and entire business records of the holder of each air-mail contract. The duties delegated to the Commission by this act are greater than those assigned to it by former laws relating to the transportation of air mail.

The estimates for 1937 also include a new item of appropriation of $$ 1,700,000$ for the administration of the Motor Carrier Act, approved August 9, 1935, which provides for the regulating of interstate transportation by motor carriers. This estimate provides for 326 departmental employees and 146 field employees with salaries aggregating $$ 1,271,500$, and $$ 428,500$ for travel, rentals, and other expenses. The 1937 estimate for printing and binding for the Commission exceeds the appropriation for 1936 by $$ 50,000$, which additional amount is required to take care of printing and binding incidental to the administration of the Motor Carrier Act.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics

The estimate of $$ 1,177,550$ for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics for 1937 is the same as the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1936.

National Archives

The estimates for 1937 show an increase of $$ 142,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. This includes $$ 58,000$ for the preparation of the Federal Register under the act of July 26,1935 , and $$ 84,000$ for full year positions in 1937 which are carried for only a part of the current year.

National Capital Park and Planning Commission

The amount included in the estimates for the Commission for 1937 is $$ 400,000$ less than the amount appropriated for the current year. The estimates for 1937 contemplate the expenditure of $$ 200,000$ for the George Washington Memorial Parkway, and $$ 200,000$ for advances to the Maryland Capital Park and Planning Commission.

National Labor Relations Board

A new item of appropriation of $$ 735,000$ is provided for 1937 to enable the Board to administer the National Labor Relations Act of July 5, 1935, with a personnel consisting of 67 departmental employees and 79 field employees with salaries aggregating $$ 494,600$. For travel, printing and binding, reporting hearings, witness fees, and other purposes it is estimated there will be required $$ 240,400$. The act of July 5,1935 , provides for protecting the exercise by workers of full freedom of association, self-organization, and designation of representatives of their own choosing, for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of their employment or other mutual aid or protection.

National Mediation Board

The estimates for 1937 provide an increase of $$ 36,050$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. Increases of $$ 49,000$ for salaries and expenses, $$ 35,000$ for printing and binding, and $$ 7,050$ for additional travel, are partially offset by the exclusion of $$ 55,000$ appropriated in 1936 for arbitration and emergency boards, for which purposes it is proposed to continue the availability of unexpended balances of appropriations for prior years.

Payments to Employees of Exchange Losses

The estimate for 1937 for payments to officers and employees of the United States due to appreciation of foreign currencies is $$ 1,534,865$ less than the appropriation for this purpose for the fiscal year 1936. This decrease is due to the decline in the exchange value of the currency of certain foreign countries.

Railroad Retirement Board

The estimates for 1937 include three new items of appropriation for the Railroad Retirement Board totaling $$ 47,645,000$, and provide $$ 1,000,000$ for administrative expenses: $$ 25,000$ for printing and binding; and $$ 46,620$,000 for the retirement fund for payment of annuities to employees, representatives of employees, widows, widowers, or dependent next of kin of employees, as provided in the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, approved August 29, 1935. As payments to beneficiaries begin with the month of June 1936, provision has been made for the immediate availability of the fund upon approval of the appropriation act. It is estimated that the revenue derived by the Government during the fiscal year 1937 under this act, providing for the levy of an excise tax upon carriers and an income tax upon their employees, will far exceed the estimates of appropriation for expenditure by the Board in 1937. This excess, however, will diminish in subsequent years upon the retirement of additional employees.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation

An Annexed Budget has been set up for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which shows the details of its direct operations and allocations. In connection with the direct operations of the corporation, it is estimated that in 1937 repayments will exceed expenditures by $$ 125,000,000$, and this excess of credits is brought over to the General Budget Summary and Supporting Schedule No. 2, and to Statement No. 2, Estimates of Appropriations and Expenditures.

Securities and Exchange Commission

The estimates for 1937 show an increase of $$ 1,980,506$ over the appropriation for 1936, of which $$ 1,630,000$ is necessary for the administration of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, approved August 26, 1935, and the remainder to carry out the provisions of the Security Act, of 1933 and the Security Exchange Act of 1934.

Smithsonian Institution

The estimates for 1937 exceed the appropriations for 1936 by $$ 48,726$. This increase provides $$ 8,718$ for two additional employees for the National Museum, and for additional containers to safeguard and display the increasing number of exhibits in the National Museum; $$ 10,000$ for additional equipment for the preservation of collections of the National Museum; and $$ 30,000$ for printing and binding, of which $$ 3,800$ is for the annual report of the American Historical Association.

Tariff Commassion.

The estimates for 1937 show a decrease of $$ 10,000$ below the appropriations for 1936 , due to a reduction in travel requirements.

Tennessee Valley Authority

An Annexed Budget has been set up for the Tennessee Valley Authority as in 1936, with the appropriation requirements as they affect the general revenues of the Treasury brought into Statement No. 2. The net expenditures are carried to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. The appropriation requirements for the fiscal year 1937 amount to $$ 43,000,000$, and the details will be found under the caption "General Public Works Program."

Veterans' Adminisṫration

It is estimated that for 1937 the various activities of the Veterans' Administration will require a net increased appropriation of slightly more than $$ 67,000,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. To take care of the new legislation which restored to a 100 -percent basis the amount of pensions and benefits allowed prior to the Economy Act to veterans of the Spanish-American War, including the Boxer Rebellion and Philippine Insurrection, and to their widows and dependents, there will be required $$ 35,160,000$ more than that provided for 1936. An additional $$ 60,000,000$ over the $$ 100,000,000$ appropriated for 1930 for the adjusted-service certificate appropriated fund is also requested, in order to establish that find on a more definite basis consistent with the actual liability of the Government under existing law.

The increase of $$ 4,800,000$ in the item of administration is nade necessary by reason of the completion of the construction of additional hospitals, and the consequent availability of about 6,700 additional beds, all of which it is contemplated will be utilized for mental patients.

An increase of $\$ 1,057,000$ is also provided in the item of adjusted service and dependent pay, due to the provisions of the act approved August 23, 1935 (Public, No. $312,74 \div h$ Cong.), extending to January 2,1940 , the date for the filing of claims under the World War Adjustment Compensation Act.

The increases mentioned above, however, are offset by a decrease of $$ 15,790,000$ in the item of military and naval insurance, due to the fact that the volume of adverse decisions in contested war-risk insurance cases expected as a result of the decision of the United States Supreme Court of June 4, 1934, declaring unconstitutional the restrictive provisions in section 17, act of March 20, 1933 (48 Stat. 8), denying claimants the right to sue the United States, has failed to materialize. There is also a decrease of $$ 18,175,000$ in the item of hospital and domiciliary facilities and services, due to the fact that the additional construction program for 1937 requires only $$ 4,000,000$, as compared with $$ 22,175,000$ prorided during the fiscal year 1936.
The increase of $$ 2,974,125$ provided under trust-fund accounts is primarily due to an increase in the operations of the United States Government life-insurance fund.

gENERAL PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

An important item in the Budget for the fiscal year 1937 is the General Public Works Program, in which provision is made for the public-works requirements of the Government, such as Federal highways, river and harbor improvement, and other projects, including the construction program of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The estimates of appropriations for 1937 provide a total of $$ 404,960,000$ for these purposes as compared with $$ 218,409,000$ appropriated in 1936 directly to the respective departments and establishments involved, or an increase of $$ 186 ; 551,000$ over 1936. The estimates for 1937 are itemized as follows:

The estimate of $$ 300,000$ for the District of Columbia Alley Dwelling Authority contemplates continuation of the program for elimination of alley dwellings in the District of Columbia, as provided in the District of Colimbia Alley Dwelling Act of June 12, 1934. For this purpose $$ 700,000$ has heretofore been made available by allotments of emergency funds.

For the construction program of the Tennessee Valley Authority during 1937 the sum of $$ 43,000,000$ is provided, an increase of $$ 7,000,000$ over the appropriation for 1936. However, in addition to the appropriation of $$ 36,000,000$ in 1936 there is also available for expenditure during that year $$ 23,480,429$ from unexpended balance from former years, whereas the unobligated balance at the close of the fiscal year 1936, available for expenditure in 1937 , is estimated to be only $$ 927,816$. This will make a total availability of $$ 43,927,816$ for the fiscal year 1937 as compared with $$ 59,480,429$ for the fiscal year 1936 .

While the appropriation for 1936 for the construction program of the Veterans' Administration amounts to $$ 22,175,000$, the additional construction program to be undertaken in 1937 will require only $$ 4,000,000$. It will provide hospital and domiciliary facilities and services for mental cases principally in Michigan, Tennessee, Alabama, and Vermont.

For the Department of Agriculture there are submitted estimates of $$ 60,000,000$ for the Federal-aid highway system and $$ 8,000,000$ for forest roads and trails. This is an increase of $$ 28,000,000$ over the appropriation made for 1936. In the case of the Federal-aid highway system, the estimate of $$ 60,000,000$ applies against an unappropriated balance of $$ 85,000,000$ under the authorization of $$ 125,000,000$ contained in the act of June 18, 1934, for the fiscal year 1936 , and represents the amount estimated to be required to meet obligations maturing in the fiscal year 1937. The act of June 18, 1934, also authorized the appropriation of $$ 125,000,000$ for the fiscal year 1937, but in view of the fact that a total of $$ 1,000,000,000$ has been provided from emergency funds during the fiscalyear period 1933-36 for road construction, of which approximately $$ 230,000,000$ will be available for expenditure during the fiscal year 1937, it has been proposed, by the insertion of appropriate language in the item "Federal-aid highway system", that the authorization for 1937 be canceled as to that year and made applicable to the fiscal year 1938. The estimate of $$ 8,000,000$ for forest roads and trails, is composed of $$ 3,500,000$, the balance of the $$ 10,000,000$ authorized to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1936 and $$ 4,500,000$, part of the $$ 10$,000,000 authorized to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1937, in accordance with the provisions of the act approved June 18, 1934.

For public works under the Department of the Interior a total appropriation of $$ 91,310,000$ is requested for 1937. This will provide $$ 3,500,000$ for construction of roads on Indian reservations under the authority of the act of June 18, 1934; $$ 6,500,000$ for construction of roads and trails in national parks and monuments under authorization of the act of June 18, 1934; $$ 500,000$ for the construction of two continuous treatment buildings at St. Elizabeths Hospital to provide for the increased inmate population at this institution; $$ 9,600,000$ for continuation of construction of the Boulder Canyon Dam; $$ 6,500,000$ for continuation of construction of the All-American Canal, and $$ 64,710,000$ for continuation of construction and for administrative expenses on the following reclamation projects: Gila project, Arizona, $$ 2,500,000$; Salt River project, Arizona, $$ 2,300,000$; Central Valley project, California, $$ 18,000,000$; Grand Valley project, Colorado, $$ 200,000$; Boise project, Idaho (Payette Division), $$ 1,800,000$; Boise project, Idaho (drainage), $$ 160,000$; Carlsbad project, New Mexico, $$ 900,000$; Deschutes project, Oregon, $$ 450,000$; Owyhee project, Oregon, $$ 900,000$; Grand Coulee Dam project, Washington, $$ 22,000,000$; Columbia Basin project, Washington (economic surveys and investigations), $$ 250,000$; Yakima project, Washington (Roza Division), $$ 2,500,000$; Provo River project, Utah, $$ 2,750,000$; Casper-Alcova project, Wyoming, $$ 4,500,000$; Riverton project, Wyoming, $$ 900,000$; Shoshone project, Wyoming (Heart Mountain Division), $$ 1,750,000$; and for administrative expenses, $$ 2,850,000$.
The estimate of $$ 4,500,000$ under the Department of Justice is for buildings and equipment at penal and correctional institutions, and includes $$ 706,000$ for the Federal Industrial Institution for Women at Alderson, W. Va., the United States Southwestern Reformatory, El Reno, Okla., United States Hospital for Defective Delinquents, Springfield, Mo., and Federal Reformatory Camp, Petersburg, Va.; $$ 2,530,000$ for the establishment of new jails at Sandstone, Minn., in southern California, western Kentucky, eastern Oklahoma, northwestern Fiorida, and southern or eastern Texas; and $$ 1,264,000$ for the construction of dwelling houses for employees of the institutions at Atlanta, Ga., McNeil Island, Wash., Lewisburg, Pa., Alcatraz Island, Calif., Alderson, W. Va., Chillicothe, Ohio, El Reno, Okla., Springfield, Mo., La Tuna, Tex., Milan, Mich., and Petersburg, Va.
The estimate of $$ 3,800,000$ for public works under the Department of State is for the International Boundary Commission, United States and Mexico, and provides $$ 1,200,000$ for the Rio Grande rectification project under the convention concluded February 1, 1933, between the United States and Mexico; $1,600,000 for construction, including surveys and other preliminary expenses, of the United States portion of the project for flood control on the lower Rio Grande, as authorized by act approved August 19, 1935; and $$ 1,000,000$ for the construction of a diversion dam in the Rio Grande near El Paso, Tex., wholly in the United States, as authorized by the act of August 29,1935 . The funds requested for the Rio Grande rectification and lower Rio Grande flood projects are to continue work which has been started under allotments of emergency funds. No funds have heretofore been provided for the work in connection with the construction of the diversion dam at El Paso.

The estimate of $$ 61,050,000$ for public works under the Treasury Department includes $$ 3,350,000$ for continuation or completion of public-buildings projects under the Public Buildings Act, approved May 25,$1926 ; $ 50,000,000$ for construction of public buildings outside the District of Columbia to be selected by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General, acting jointly, from public-building projects specified in Statement No. 1 contained in House Report numbered 1879, Seventythird Congress, second session, as revised December 16, 1935, and Statement No. 2 attached thereto. For public buildings in the District of Columbia there is included $$ 7,700,000$ for 1937, apportioned as follows: Annex buildings, Government Printing Office, continuation, $$ 200,000$; new building, General Accounting Office, $$ 500,000$; additional building, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, $$ 2,000,000$; and new War Department building, $$ 5,000,000$.
For the War Department there is included an estimate of $$ 129,000,000$ for rivers and harbors, which is required for the prosecution of such projects of improvement heretofore specifically authorized by Congress as may be most desirable in the interests of commerce and navigation and for waterway improvements undertaken pursuant to the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935. This is an increase of $$ 119,000,000$ over the appropriation for 1936. Deducting $$ 9,850,000$, provided in 1936 for quartermaster construction for the Army, nonrecur-ring in 1937, leaves a net increase for public works under the War Department of $$ 109,150,000$.

defartment of agriculture

The estimates of appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year 1937 show a net decrease of $$ 110,414,388.61$ below the appropriations for 1936, of which $$ 55,641,856.14$ is due to the inclusion in the general Public Works program for 1937 of estimates for the construction of Federal-aid highways and forest roads and trails, the regular appropriations for which heretofore have been under the Department of Agriculture. Taking into consideration the omission of these two regular items from the estimates of the Department of Agriculture for 1937, the actual net decrease amounts to $$ 54,772,-$ 532.47. This net decrease consists of the difference between a number of increases and decreases, the principal element of increase being a net total of $$ 36,951,532$ made necessary by the enactment of new legislation during the first session of the Seventy-fourth Congress; and the principal decrease being an item of $$ 92,111,741.47$ provided for in 1936 by section 32 of the act of August 24, 1935, representing an amount equal to 30 percent of the gross receipts from duties collected under the customs laws, for exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities, and for which no estimate is submitted for 1937. The principal increases and decreases which go to make up the difference between the appropriations for 1936 and the estimates for 1937 are summarized as follows:

The net decrease of $$ 148,141$ in the estimates of the Office of the Secretary results from the transfer of $$ 181,-$ 201 to the new Office of the Solicitor, to cover salaries and expenses of legal personnel transferred from the Office of the Secretary and an increase of $$ 33,660$ for additional assistance and expenses in offices handling personnel, financial, and general operations. For the Office of the Solicitor, which appears for the first time in the estimates for 1937 as a separate unit, in addition to the item of $$ 181,201$ transferred from the Office of the Secretary, $$ 7,600$ is provided by transfer from other bureaus of the Department, with corresponding decreases in the estimates for such bureaus. For the Office of Information, the printing and binding of research and technical bulletins is estimated to require an increase of $$ 50,00 \mathrm{C}$. over the amount appropriated for 1936.
For the Office of Experiment Stations, which administers the various acts providing for Federal aid to the States, as well as to the Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico Agricultural Experiment stations, and which also maintains Federal agricultural experiment stations in Hawaii and Puerto Rico, an increase of $$ 630,500$ is provided, of which $$ 625,000$ is for statutory increases in the payments to States, Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico. For the special research fund established under the authorization contained in title I of the Bankhead-Jones Act of June 29,1935 , providing for special research by the Department of Agriculture in basic laws and principles relating to agriculture, and for the establishment and maintenance of research laboratories in the major agricultural regions and research at such laboratories, a statutory increase of $$ 400,000$ is provided.

For the activities of the Extension Service, which unit administers the Smith-Lever, Capper-Ketcham, Bankhead-Jones, and other acts which provide payments to States, Hawaii, and Alaska for cooperative agricultural extension work, a net increase of $$ 355,918$ is provided. Increases consist of a statutory provision of $$ 1,000,000$ for payments to States under the BankheadJones Act, and an increase of $$ 1,918$ in payments to Alaska. The increase of $$ 1,000,000$ in payments to the States also makes possible a total decrease of $$ 545,000$ in two other appropriations heretofore made annually for the same purpose.

The estimates of the Weather Bureau provide an increase of $$ 470,620$, consisting of $$ 182,020$ for strengthening its service and research activities, and $$ 288,600$ for the improvement of Federal airway meteorological service.

The estimates for the Bureau of Animal Industry show a net decrease of $$ 955,376$, which results from a decrease of $$ 1,103,116$ in the appropriation for indemnities for animals slaughtered on account of tuberculosis, made possible by the provision of funds for the same purpose under the item" Elimination of diseased cattle, Department of Agriculture ", to be found in the miscellaneous section of the estimates for the Department of Agriculture, and increases of $$ 50,000$ and $$ 96,900$ for animal husbandry investigations and for the enforcement of the poultry amendment to the Packers' and Stockyards Act, respectively.

Under the Bureau of the Dairy Industry there is a net increase of $$ 67,915$. Increases include $$ 35,000$ for investigations to locate superior sires, $$ 10,500$ for minor increases, and $$ 35,415$ in funds transferred from other bureaus, which increases are offset, in part, by a decrease of $$ 13,000$ under Red Danish cattle investigations.

The estimates of the Bureau of Plant Industry show a net decrease below the appropriations for 1936 of $$ 465,-$ 291. The transfer to other bureaus of the Department of functions heretofore performed by the Bureau of Plant Industry results in a decrease in the estimates of that Bureau of $$ 515,291$, which decrase is partially offset by increases of $$ 10,000$ for alfalfa investigations; $$ 25,000$ for breeding certain hardy disease-resisting fruits; and $$ 15,000$ for the National Arboretum at Washington, D. C.

The estimates of annual appropriations for the Forest Service, which unit is responsible for the promotion of sound forestry policy and practice in the United States, show a total increase of $$ 5,457,208$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. This increase consists of $$ 232,500$ for general administrative expenses; $$ 3,696,758$ for the protection and administration of the national forests; $$ 100,000$ for forest management investigations; $$ 55,000$ for range investigations; $$ 100,000$ for forest products investigations; $$ 56,000$ for forest economics investigations; $$ 1,000,000$ for tree planting in the Great Plains region; $$ 152,750$ for payments to States for cooperative forestfire prevention and suppression; $$ 14,200$ for cooperative distribution of forest planting stock; and $$ 50,000$ from receipt funds for acquisition of lands on the Uinta and and Wasatch National Forests, Utah.

For the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils a net increase of $$ 208,838$ is provided for 1937, consisting of $$ 10,000$ for agricultural chemical investigations; $$ 25,000$ for investigations of the industrial utilization of farm products and byproducts; $$ 10,000$ for investigations of agricultural fires; $$ 2,500$ for publication of statistics on naval stores; $$ 95,000$ for the cooperative soil survey of the United States; and $$ 10,000$ for investigations and coordination of soil tests for agronomic control. Transfers to the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils of functions heretofore performed by other bureaus of the Department, together with the funds for such work, account for the remaining $$ 56,338$.

The estimates for 1937 for the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine show a net decrease of $$ 2,953,536$ below appropriations for 1936. This decrease is due principally to nonrecurring items amounting to $$ 3,016$,000 , and transfers of functions amounting to $$ 20,600$ to other bureaus, which are offset by increases of $$ 30,000$ for screw-worm investigations; $$ 28,420$ for forest insect. investigations; $$ 15,000$ for strengthening the transit inspection service ; and $$ 7,500$ for investigations of combating foulbrood in bees. For the Bureau of Biological Survey, the increase of $$ 1,218,508$ in the estimates for 1937 includes $$ 750,000$ as the initial annual appropriation to the migratory bird conservation fund. Other principal items of increase for this Bureau include $$ 45,405$ for general administrative expenses; $237,903 for maintenance of mammal and bird reservations, the number and acreage of which have been materially increased by the use of emergency funds; $$ 100,000$ for the protection of migratory birds; $$ 40,000$ to extend game management surveys; and miscellaneous increases totaling $$ 55,200$.

The estimates of the Department of Agriculture for 1937 carry no figures for the Bureau of Public Roads, due to the inclusion of such figures in the general Public Works program to be found elsewhere in the Budget.

Under the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, an increase of $$ 29,000$ is provided, consisting of $$ 19,000$ for strengthening engineering phases of cotton-ginning investigations, and $$ 10,000$ for investigations for development of improved types of tillage equipment for cotton.

The estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics show a net increase of $$ 273,095$, of which $$ 250,000$ is to carry into effect the provisions of the Tobacco Inspection Act of August 23, 1935. This increase is offset, in part, by eliminating similar work now being done under other appropriations, with decreases totalling $$ 67,105$. Other increases include $$ 25,000$ for inauguration of reports on poultry and egg production; $22,500 for economic research in farm population and finance; $$ 15,000$ for strengthening supervision of grain inspection and miscellaneous increases of $$ 32,500$.
Under the Bureau of Home Economics, increases of $$ 25,600$ over 1936 are provided; and under the enforcement of the Grain Futures Act, $$ 5,140$ is included for additional services and expenses.

The estimates for the Food and Drug Administration provide an increase of $$ 615,000$ for more adequate and vitally necessary enforcement of the various activities under its control, which is partially offset by a transfer of $$ 3,800$ to the Office of the Solicitor. For the Soil Conservation Service, established in the Department of Agriculture in April 1935, in accordance with the provisions of the act approved April 27, 1935, an estimate of $$ 27,500,000$ is included for 1937 for the investigational and control activities in which this agency is engaged. During 1936 this work is being financed by allotments totaling $$ 29,912,812$ from emergency funds, and $$ 665$,408 of funds regularly appropriated to the Department of Agriculture for soil-erosion work.

Miscellaneous activities under the Department of $\mathbf{A} \underline{-}$ riculture for which increases are provided in 1937 include the Beltsville (Md.) Research Center, for which an increase of $\$ 50,000$ is provided for additional assistance, equipment, and supplies. For the elimination of diseased cattle, experimentation in livestock diseases, and the purchase of surplus dairy products an increase of $\$ 7,500,000$ is provided, pursuant to the authorization contained in the act approved August 24, 1935, amending the Agricultural Adjustment Act, which authorized an appropriation of $\$ 40,000,000$ for these purposes.

The Budget for 1937 provides for the continuation of the activities of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended. It is estimated that there will be advanced from the Treasury during 1937, against receipts from taxes to be collected on the processing of agricultural products, the sum of $$ 499,054,985$ to carry out the several adjustment programs contemplated for 1937. This amount is practically the same as the estimated advances for the fiscal year 1936, there being an increase for 1937 of only $$ 499,000$.

For reasons elsewhere set forth, no estimate is included for obligation during 1937 of the amount appropriated by section 32 of the act amending the Agricultural Adjustment Act, approved August 24, 1935. Under the provisions of this section an amount equivalent to 30 percent of the gross customs receipts of the preceding calendar year is appropriated for each fiscal year for encouraging the exportation of agricultural commodities, encouraging the domestic consumption of such commodities or products by diverting them from the normal channels of trade, and for other agricultural adjustment purposes. For 1936 the amount appropriated was $$ 92,111,741.47$.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

The estimates of the Department of Commerce for the fiscal year 1937, covering both annual appropriations and trust accounts, contemplate a net decrease below the appropriations for 1936 of $$ 455,225$. Decreases totaling $$ 1,573,160$ are offset by increases amounting to $$ 1,117,935$, the principal item of decrease being a nonrecurring item of $$ 1,500,000$ provided in 1936 for a census of agriculture.

For the Office of the Secretary of Commerce, an increase of $$ 39,960$ is provided, of which $$ 7,460$ is for salaries, $$ 7,500$ for contingent expenses, and $$ 25,000$ for printing and binding.

The activities of the Bureau of Air Commerce are estimated to require $$ 310,200$ more than provided for the current year. A gross increase of $$ 305,000$ in the appropriation "Air-navigation facilities", for modernization of radio facilities and additional personnel, is partly offset by a decrease of $$ 50,000$ for supervision of municipal airport construction. An increase of $$ 55,200$ is contemplated for 1937 in the appropriation "Aircraft in commerce ", for licensing, inspection, and air regulation.

The net increase of $$ 162,135$ in the estimates for the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce contemplates additional foreign offices and the strengthening of existing foreign and domestic offices to meet improved business conditions. This increase includes principal items of $$ 8,600$ for promoting commerce in Latin-America; $$ 12,200$ for a like purpose in the Far East; $$ 22,000$ for district and cooperative office service; $$ 23,000$ for export industries; $$ 15.200$ for domestic commerce; $$ 17,700$ for compiling foreign trade statistics; and $$ 12,000$ for the investigation of foreign trade statistics.

For the Bureau of the Census, in addition to the decrease of $$ 1,500,000$ for the census of agriculture heretofore mentioned, a further reduction of $$ 33,060$ is shown for 1937, resulting from the periodical variation of census duties.

The estimates of the Bureau of Navigation and Steambeat Inspection Service for 1937 carry an increase of $$ 162,000$ over the current appropriations, of which $$ 60,000$ is for the enforcement of the Dangerous Cargoes Act of August 26, 1935, and the Coastwise Load Line Act of August 27, 1935. The remaining $$ 102,000$ is for the purpose of strengthening both the departmental and field services. The Philippine trust fund, from which payment is made to the Treasury of the Philippine Islands of tonnage taxes collected in the United States on vessels coming from the Philippine Archipelago, shows a decrease of $$ 30,000$ below the amount required for 1936.

An increase of $$ 52,000$ for the National Bureau of Standards is to provide $$ 10,000$ for additional equipment and $$ 42,000$ for testing and inspection services.

For the Bureau of Lighthouses, the net increase of $$ 41,420$ over the appropriation for 1936 will provide $$ 11,800$ for four additional departmental employees, $$ 22,920$ for additional personnel in field offices and depots, and $$ 50,000$ for retired pay. Decreases in the estimates for 1937 totaling $$ 43,300$ are reflected in the item for salaries of lighthouse keepers, due to the installation of automatic equipment, and in the item for salaries of lighthouse-vessel employees, due to the replacement of lightships by other types of aid.
An increase of $$ 239,600$ in the estimates for the Coast and Geodetic Survey will provide increases of $$ 181,100$ for hydrographic work; $$ 42,000$ for automatic increases in the pay of commissioned officers; $$ 26,500$ for office personnel to process and apply the data obtained through the use of emergency funds; and miscellaneous increases totaling $$ 21,700$. This increase is partly offset by a decrease of $$ 31,700$ for Federal boundary and State surveys due to the progress which has been made in such work through the use of emergency funds.

A net decrease of $$ 10,100$ is shown in the estimates for the Bureau of Fisheries. A decrease of $$ 75,000$ in the amount required in 1937 for shellfish investigations, is partly offset by increases totaling $$ 64,900$, which provide $$ 27,080$ for fish food, $$ 14,900$ for the operations of a vessel for a shrimp investigation on the South Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, and $$ 15,000$ for replacement of the power plant on the Pribilof Islands and additional stream guards in Alaska. Miscellaneous increases total $$ 7,900$. An increased expenditure of $$ 10,000$ is provided from the trust fund for the fox and fur industries of the Pribilof Islands, for payments to persons engaged in killing and skinning foxes and fur seals.
The increase of $$ 45,000$ in the estimates of the Patent Office is due to an increase of 5 percent in the cost of printing and binding imposed by the Government Printing Office, effective August 29, 1935.
The increase of $$ 52,620$ in the estimates of the United States Shipping Board Bureau for 1937 is to take care of the salaries of employees of the Merchant Fleet Corporation detailed to the Bureau who become eligible for transfer to the Bureau rolls.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

The estimates of appropriations for the Department of the Interior for the fiscal year 1937 show a net decrease of $$ 19,374,134.25$ below the appropriations for the fiscal year 1936. It is proper to note, however, that elsewhere in the Budget, under the heading General Public Works Program, are included estimates for public works totaling $$ 94,310,000$ to be carried on by the Interior Department. Taking this amount into consideration the total amount estimated for 1937 for the Department of the Interior exceeds the total amount appropriated for 1936 by $$ 74,935,865.75$.

The principal items of decrease are $$ 14,000,000$ for the Bureau of Reclamation, for advances to the Colorado River Dam fund (Boulder Canyon project), $$ 7,500,000$ for roads in national parks and monuments, and $4,000,000 for roads on Indian reservations, for which provision has been made in the General Public Works Program for 1937.

The activities of the Division of Territories and Island Possessions which has heretofore obtained funds by transfer from the appropriation "Salaries, Office of the Secretary ", are estimated to require $$ 55,520$ for 1937, an increase of $$ 16,900$ over the amount of $$ 38,620$ transferred to it for the fiscal year 1936. For the Division of Grazing, an increase of $$ 150,000$ is asked for land classification work, of which $$ 68,000$ is transferred from the appropriation" Classification of lands, Geological Survey", together with new items of $$ 250,000$ for range improvements within grazing districts, and $$ 500,000$ for payment to the States of grazing fees, both of which items are authorized by the act of June 29, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269).

Decreased activities of the Petroleum Administration are reflected in the estimates of that organization, which show a reduction of $$ 150,000$ below the amount appropriated for 1936.

For the Mount Rushmore National Monument Commission, it is estimated $$ 150,000$ will be required for expenditure in 1937 to comply with the provisions of the act of August 29, 1935, an increase of $$ 95,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936.

For the administration of the National Bituminous Coal Commission, created by the act of August 30, 1935 , and for the activities of the office of the Consumers' Counsel of the Commission, initial appropriations are requested of $$ 900,000$ and $$ 90,000$, respectively.

The estimates of the General Land Office show decreases of $$ 100,000$ and $$ 25,000$, respectively, for surveying the public lands and for salaries and expenses in the Washington office and in the field. The amount of $$ 1,500,000$ estimated for expenditure in 1937 in connection with the permanent appropriation for payments to States from receipts under the Mineral Leasing Act, however, represents an increase of $$ 300,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936.

For the Office of Indian Affairs, in addition to the decrease of $$ 4,000,000$ for roads heretofore mentioned, additional decreases amounting to $$ 1,027,950$ result from nonrecurring items. Further decreases are $$ 85,000$ in the appropriation for the purchase and transportation of supplies and $$ 35,000$ for interest on Indian trust funds. Increases requested aggregate $$ 1,974,502$, and include $$ 601,503$ for compensation to Indians for lands or for the purchase of lands for Indians authorized by recent acts of Congress, $$ 116,464$ for the development of water supplies and the irrigation of land on Indian reservations, $$ 463,755$ for educating Indian children, $$ 542,740$ for the conservation of health among Indians, $$ 105,650$ for the general support of Indians and the administration of Indian property, and miscellaneous items totaling $$ 144,390$. Estimates of expenditures from Indian trust funds show an increase of $$ 435,000$.

For the Bureau of Reclamation, in addition to the item of $$ 14,000,000$ for the Boulder Canyon project heretofore mentioned, a decrease of $$ 50,000$ results from a continuation for 1937 of the availability for expenditure of an unexpended balance of the appropriation for 1936 for the Colorado River front work and levee system. The increase of $$ 71,500$ in the items under the Reclamation Fund is due, in part, to the need for additional personnel and other expenditures in the Washington, D. C., office, and, in part, to the increased cost of operating the distribution systems that have been extended to new lands on certain projects under allotments of Public Works Administration funds.

For the Geological Survey, the net increase in the estimates of appropriations for 1937 amounts to $$ 77,000$. Increases are provided of $$ 40,000$ for topographic surveys of Federal areas, $$ 38,000$ for geophysical work transferred from the Bureau of Mines appropriation for mineral mining investigations, $$ 10,000$ for gaging streams, $$ 14,000$ to meet increased printing needs, and $$ 25,000$ for increased mineral-leasing activities. The apparent decrease of $$ 50,000$ for classification of lands results from the transfer of $$ 68,000$ to the appropriation "Division of Grazing ", and an increase of $$ 18,000$ in the appropriation for classification of lands.

Estimates of the Bureau of Mines for 1937 are less by $$ 311$ than the total appropriations for 1936. Increases totaling $$ 46,510$ are oft'set by a reduction of $$ 8,821$ in the estimate of expenditure for gas production for helium plants, and $$ 38,000$ transferred to the Geological Survey appropriation for classification of lands.

The estimates of annual appropriations for the Na tional Park Service for 1937 show a net decrease of $$ 6,343,310$ below appropriations for 1936 . In addition to the decrease of $$ 7,500,000$ for roads in national parks and monuments heretofore mentioned, a decrease of $$ 82,000$ results from a nonrecurring item for additional land for the Vicksburg National Cemetery. The appropriation for the administration, protection, and maintenance of national military parks, battlefields, monuments, and cemeteries also shows a decrease of $$ 51,700$, resulting from a nonrecurring item of $$ 70,000$ for the purchase of additional land for the Kenesaw Mountain National Battlefield site, and an increase of $$ 18,300$ for additional operating costs at other military parks, battlefields, monuments, and cemeteries. There is also a decrease in the estimate of expenditures from trust accounts under the National Park Service of $$ 25,000$ occasioned by a reduction of $$ 40,000$ in the amount of donations for the purpose of the national park and monument system and an increase of $$ 15,000$ in the amount under the new National Park trust fund. The annual appropriation items for which increases are requested for 1937 total $$ 1,295,840$, and include $$ 16,500$ for salaries and expenses of the Washington office; $$ 72,440$ for the operation of national monuments and national historical parks and monuments; $$ 65,000$ for fighting forest fires, forest protection, and fire-prevention work; $$ 30,000$ for a survey of historic sites and buildings under the act of August 21, 1935; $$ 25,000$ for the investigation and purchase of water rights in national parks; $$ 775,900$ for operation and maintenance of public buildings in the District of Columbia; $$ 145,000$ for the operation and maintenance of public buildings outside the District of Columbia under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service; and $$ 166,000$ for a new item covering the operation and maintenance of Federal parks in and adjacent to the District of Columbia, which latter item represents a transfer of that amount from the appropriation for operation and maintenance of public buildings in the District of Columbia.

For the Office of Education, increased appropriations are asked of $$ 16,200$ for personnel and expenses in Washington, $$ 500,000$ for colleges for agriculture and mechanic arts as authorized by the act of June 29,1935 , and $$ 64,000$ for the further development of vocational education. For the vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry, an increased appropriation of $$ 871,920$ is asked, of which all but $$ 20,000$ is authorized by the Social Security Act of August 14, 1935.

The estimates of appropriations for the Territory of Alaska covering all accounts show a net increase of $$ 152,405$, and include increases of $$ 46,000$ for the biennial expenses of the Territorial legislature, $$ 11,600$ for the care and custody of the Alaska insane, and $$ 25,000$ for maintenance of roads. A decrease of $$ 20,000$ is shown in the estimates for maintenance of roads from Territorial receipts covered into the Treasury, as well as a decrease of $$ 50,000$ in connection with the Alaska Railroad appropriated fund. In connection with the permanent appropriation "Alaska Railroad special fund", an increase of $$ 130,000$ is requested for the operation of the Alaska Railroad, payable out of operating revenues. An increase of $$ 10,000$ is also requested in the amount of expenditures from funds to be contributed for the construction of roads in Alaska. The estimates for the Territory of Hawaii show an increase of $$ 47,000$ to take care of the biennial expenses of the Territorial legislature. For the temporary government of the Virgin Islands the estimates for 1937 show a decrease of $$ 26,500$ below the amount appropriated for 1936, due to decreases in administrative expenses, and to increased municipal revenues which permit of a reduction in the amount to be appropriated for defraying the deficit in the operating expenses of the municipalities.

For St. Elizabeths Hospital, the estimates for 1937 vary from the amounts appropriated for 1936 only to the extent of a decrease of $$ 25,000$ in the estimate of expenditures of pension money and personal funds of inmates. The estimates for the Columbia Institution for the Deaf show a decrease of $$ 3,850$ due to a nonrecurring item, and for Howard University and Freedmen's Hospital, increases of $$ 10,000$ and $$ 8,700$, respectively, are asked to meet increased operating costs.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

The estimates of appropriations for the Department of Justice for 1937 , exclusive of $$ 4,500,000$ for construction included in the general Public Works program, amount to $$ 40,243,058$, which is an increase of $$ 4,271,791$ over the appropriations for 1936 .

A net increase of $$ 948,400$ is shown in the estimates for the Office of the Attorney General, which covers salaries and expenses for the Department of Justice at Washington and the various activities in the field coming under the supervision of the Attorney General. Included in this increase is $$ 82,500$ for salaries to provide additional personnel due to the enactment of new legislation and the marked expansion of departmental and judicial activities. For contingent expenses the estimate for 1937 is $$ 57,000$ in excess of the appropriation for 1936 and provides increases of $$ 36,820$ for communication service, $$ 6,000$ for travel expenses, $$ 13,180$ for books for the Department, and $$ 1,000$ for supplies and materials. A net increase of $$ 12,000$ is provided for printing and binding for the Department of Justice and courts.

The estimate for the Federal Bureau of Investigation for 1937 amounts to $$ 5,800,000$, an increase of $$ 800,000$ over the appropriation for 1936. This increase will permit of the employment of 143 additional departmental employees with aggregate salaries of $$ 177,000$, and 145 additional field employees, including 112 new special agents, with salaries aggregating $$ 421,980$, and provides $$ 201,020$ for other expenses. It is anticipated that this increased appropriation will enable the Bureau not only to meet the normal increase in its activities but also to perform the additional duties required by section 333 of the Banking Act of 1935, amending the act to provide punishment for certain offenses committed against banks organized or operating under the laws of the United States or any member of the Federal Reserve System, so as to include any bank which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The increase of $$ 29,900$ in the estimate for the Bureau of Prisons will provide $$ 25,320$ for the salaries of 13 additional employees and $$ 4,580$ for travel expenses. For the enforcement of antitrust and kindred laws an appropriation of $$ 435,000$ is requested for 1937 which is the amount available for expenditure during the current fiscal year. A reduction of $$ 100,000$ is shown in the estimate for salaries and expenses in connection with veterans' insurance litigation. There also appears in the Budget for the first time an estimate for $$ 50,000$ to provide special instruction and training of United States attorneys and marshals, their assistants and deputies, and United States Commissioners, the purpose of which is to afford such officials, many of whom enter upon public office for the first time, a wider background of knowledge and greater capacity for effective law enforcement.

The estimates for 1937 for The Judiciary show a net increase of $$ 1,121,063$ over the appropriations for the fiscal year 1936. The items provided for under this title include the salaries and expenses of the Supreme Court and inferior courts, United States attorneys, marshals and clerks of courts, fees and expenses of commissioners, fees of jurors and witnesses, pay of bailiffs, supplies and miscellaneous expenses of the courts, and books for judicial officers. The estimates for the Supreme Court for 1937 show a net decrease of $$ 10,220$ below the amount appropriated for 1936. For contingent expenses of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, a decrease of $$ 10,000$ is shown below the appropriation for 1936, resulting from a nonrecurring item for the compiling, editing, and printing of a digest of the decisions of this court. For the Court of Claims a net decrease of $$ 665$ is shown in the estimates for 1937 below the appropriations for 1936. For the United States Court for China an increase of $$ 9,375$ is requested for 1937. This increase will provide $$ 3,000$ for the salary of a special judge to act temporarily during the absence of the regular judge of the court and $$ 500$ for an increase from $$ 5$ to $$ 10$ a day in the fee of the commissioner, both of which are authorized by the act of August 7,1935 , and $$ 4,750$ for allowances for living quarters, including heat, fuel, and light, to court officials and employees.

The estimate for salaries of circuit, district, and retired judges contains an increase of $$ 100,000$, consisting of $$ 12,500$ for an additional judge for the ninth judicial circuit and $$ 70,000$ for seven additional district judges, whose appointments are authorized by legislation enacted at the last session of Congress, and $$ 17,500$ for lapses in 1936 which are not deducted in 1937. An increase of $$ 5,000$ is recommended in the estimate for expenses of circuit and district judges for the travel of the additional judges. There is a net increase of $$ 30,000$ in salaries, fees, and expenses of marshals, consisting of an increase of $$ 30,460$ for additional deputy marshals to take care of the work of trust-fund accounting required by section 19 of the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act, and a decrease of $$ 460$ in travel expenses. The increase of $$ 170,510$ in salaries and expenses of district attorneys includes $$ 143$,510 for additional assistants and clerks, $$ 7,000$ for communication service, and $$ 20,000$ for travel expenses. An increase of $$ 55,000$ is recommended for salaries and expenses of clerks of courts, of which $$ 43,200$ is for additional deputy clerks to look after the trust-fund work required by section 19 of the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act; $$ 3,500$ for communication service; $$ 7,300$ for travel expenses; and $$ 1,000$ for miscellaneous items. For fees and expenses of conciliation commissioners an amount of $$ 300,000$ is recommended for 1937 , which is an increase of $$ 61,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. Of the increase of $$ 900,000$ requested for fees of jurors and witnesses, $$ 300,00$ is due to the restoration by section 3 of the annual appropriation act for 1936 of the allowance of subsistence expenses for witnesses, which had been suspended for several years by the Economy Act, while $$ 600,000$ is necessary because of the expansion in judicial activities. There is a net decrease of $$ 13,250$ for miscellaneous expenses of the courts, consisting of decreases of $$ 15,000$ for rent of court rooms and $$ 250$ for miscellaneous items, and an increase of $$ 2,000$ to provide a law clerk for the additional circuit judge authorized for the ninth judicial circuit.

A net increase of $$ 2,104,520$ is provided in the estimates for 1937 for penal and correctional institutions. These appropriations provide for the maintenance of the Federal penal and correctional institutions, for subsistence and care of United States prisoners in non-Federal institutions, and for the operation of the probation system of United States courts. To carry out the requirements of the order of the Attorney General dated April 12,1935 , providing for the reorganization of the custodial service of penal and correctional institutions, an increase of $$ 176,955$ is recommended. An appropriation of $$ 10,000$ is also requested to provide $$ 1,000$ for each of the 10 principal institutions for the training of personnel responsible for inmate supervision, consisting of study training course, actual service record, defensive tactics, and use of firearms.

It is estimated that there will be an increase in prison population at Federal institutions in 1937 of 7.3 percent over 1936, and to take care of this increase and to provide the necessary additional personnel increases are recommended for the United States penitentiaries at Leavenworth, $$ 325,860$; at Atlanta, $$ 126,480$; at McNeil Island, $$ 60,180$; and at Lewisburg, Pa., $$ 52,510$; for the Federal Industrial Institution for Women at Alderson, W. Va., $$ 13,655$; for the United States Industrial Reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, $$ 187,460$; for the United States Southwestern Reformatory at El Reno, Okla., $$ 96,830$; for the United States Hospital for Defective Delinquents at Springfield, Mo., $$ 52,500$; for the Federal Reformatory Camp at Petersburg, Va., $$ 23,860$; for the Federal jails at New York, New Orleans, Milan, Mich., and La Tuna, Tex., $191,980; and for Federal prison camps, $$ 130,490$. A net decrease of $$ 51,760$ is shown for the United States Penitentiary at Alcatraz Island, which is made up of a decrease of $$ 57,000$ in expenses of maintenance and operation due to reduction in the per capita cost and number of prisoners, and an increase of $$ 4,240$ in personnel. There is an increase for the National Training School for Boys at Washington, D. C., of $$ 33,470$, consisting of $$ 4,625$ for additional personnel and $$ 28,840$ for maintenance and operation. There is also recommended for the National Training School for Boys, $$ 36,000$ for repairs and alterations of cottage C, the gymnasium and school building, and the refrigeration system. An additional $$ 550,000$ is requested for the support of United States prisoners in non-Federal institutions due to an anticipated increase in the number of this class of prisoners. Probation system, United States courts, is increased $$ 96,505$ to supply this service in certain districts which do not have it and to provide additional probation officers in districts where the service is inadequate. For medical and hospital service, penal institutions, there is an increase of $$ 12,500$, of which $$ 10,618$ is to provide such service for the prison camps at Maxwell Field, Ala., and Kooskia, Idaho, and $$ 1,832$ is for automatic promotions of regular and reserve commissioned officers.

For the United States penitentiary at McNeil Island there is recommended for the extension of existing facilities and development of the island area an amount of $$ 400,000$ for use during 1937, with the ultimate cost of the entire project not to exceed $$ 1,000,000$.
Items appropriated for 1936 which will not appear in the Budget for 1937 are $$ 176,767$ for payment to special assistants to the Attorney General in the case of the United States vs. Pan American Petroleum. Company, and $$ 234,000$ for buildings and equipment, penal institutions.
The trust accounts of the Department of Justice consist of personal funds of prisoners and commissary and welfare funds at the several penal and correctional institutions, which are deposited in the Treasury and advanced on approved requisitions to disbursing officers for payment. The estimated obligations for 1937 are $$ 600,000$ for funds of prisoners and $$ 347,808$ for commissary and welfare funds, which are increases over 1936 of $$ 50,000$ and $$ 47,808$, respectively.

DEPARI'MENT OF LABOR

The appropriation increases provided for the Department of Labor for 1937 aggregate $$ 9,769,500$, including $$ 8,717,000$ resulting from legislation enacted during the Seventy-fourth Congress.

For the Office of the Secretary, an increase of $$ 149,000$ will provide $$ 78,000$ for additional personnel required for the predetermination of wages of employees on Federal public works pursuant to the act of August 30, 1935 , and additional library personnel ; $$ 15,000$ for promotion for health, safety, and employment; $$ 19,500$ for contingent expenses of the Department; and $$ 36,500$ for printing and binding, due to increased activities of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The estimates of the Bureau of Labor Statistics for 1937 show a reduction of $$ 200,000$ below the appropriation for 1936, resulting from the completion during that year of the special investigation covering the cost of living in the United States, making further funds unnecessary for that purpose. To meet the needs of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during 1937 an increase of $$ 365,000$ is provided, of which $$ 10,000$ is for miscellaneous repairs to immigrant stations. The remaining $$ 355,000$ is for salaries and expenses, and will provide $$ 50,025$ for the automatic promotion of immigrant inspectors as authorized by law ; $$ 15,000$ for departmental personnel; $$ 180,000$ for additional field personnel; $$ 40$,000 for overtime of immigration inspectors paid by railroad and other transportation lines and deposited in the Treasury to the credit of miscellaneous receipts; and $$ 70,000$ for additional deportations of undesirable aliens.

For the Children's Bureau, the estimates for 1937 show an increase of $$ 8,470,000$ over appropriations for 1936. This increase covers new items authorized by title V of the Social Security Act, approved August 14, 1935, as follows: $$ 320,000$ for necessary administrative expenses in performing the duties imposed under the act; $$ 3,800,000$ for grants to States for maternal and childhealth services; $$ 2,850,000$ for grants to States for services for crippled children ; and $$ 1,500,000$ for grants to States for child-welfare services. For the Women's Bureau the increase of $$ 26,500$ will provide additional personnel and expenses deemed necessary to take care of increased activities relating to working conditions, hours, and wages of women in industry.

An increase of $$ 800,000$ in the estimates of the United States Employment Service will provide the $$ 4,000,000$ authorized for appropriation in 1937 in the act of June 6,1933 , creating this service. The estimate of $$ 165,000$ for the Bituminous Coal Labor Board appears as a new item in the estimates for 1937, and provides for the salaries and expenses of the Board in performing the duties imposed by the Bituminous Coal Conservation Act of 1935. It provides $$ 82,500$ for salaries of the members of the Board and other necessary personnel, $$ 5,000$ for printing and binding, and $$ 77,500$ for all other expenses.

NAVY DEPARTMENT

The estimates of appropriations for the Navy Department and Naval Establishment for the fiscal year 1937 total $$ 551,308,399$, as compared with appropriations aggregating $$ 483,468,879$ for the fiscal year 1936 . These figures include trust accounts estimated at $$ 1,717,100$ for 1937 and $$ 1,737,500$ for 1936. However, when the amounts reappropriated and made available from unexpended balances for prior years, together with the unexpended balances and allotments from emergency appropriations, are taken into consideration, the totals contemplated for expenditure amount to $$ 621,900,000$ for 1937 and $$ 603,500,000$ in 1936, indicating an increase in the requirements for 1937 of $$ 18,400,000$. These estimates represent the minimum amount which is considered necessary to maintain the Navy as an efficient military unit, and especially to provide for orderly progress in the construction of ships, aircraft, and shore facilities, and an increase in the number of officers and men toward the strength contemplated for the treaty-navy under the approved naval policy. The increase provided for 1937 is principally for the construction of ships and aircraft, and for additional officers and men necessary to man the ships and aircraft that will be in commission during 1937, and may be subdivided under two general heads; one covering construction work, and the other as pertaining to expenses of maintenance and operation. For construction, which includes naval vessels, aircraft, and public works, the amount estimated for expenditure in 1937 is $$ 280,300,000$, as against $$ 290,500,000$ for 1936 , a decrease of $$ 10,200,000$. For the maintenance and operation of the fleet and shore activities, the estimates for expenditure in 1937 amount to $$ 339,800,000$, an increase of $$ 28.600,000$ over the amount of $$ 311,200,000$ available for 1936.

The estimates for 1937 provide an increase of approximately $$ 17,000,000$ in the amount required for pay and allowances of officers and men of the Navy. This increase is based on the program to gradually increase the Navy to the strength contemplated for a treaty-navy and provides pay and allowances for 6,500 additional men for 1937, which will bring the enlisted strength of the Navy to 100,000 on June 30,1937 ; the rating-up of enlisted men to pay grades commensurate with the duties assigned them; additional midshipmen; additional officers and men on flight duty, involving increased pay for flying; increase in the cost of rations; additional officers and men on the retired list; and an additional number of enlisted men passing to the fleet reserve after 16 or 20 years of active service.

The estimates for the Naval Reserve Force show an increase of $$ 1,437,000$ over the appropriation for 1936 , which will provide for the training of additional numbers of officers and men of the various classes of the Naval Reserve. The total number to receive training in 1937 will approximate 4,450 officers and 17,200 men, including aviation cadets.
For the maintenance and operation of fleet and shore stations, exclusive of Naval Reserve, Marine Corps, and aviation activities, an increase of $$ 5,000,000$ is provided for 1937 , which is due partly to additional expenses required for the older vessels because of their increasing age and to expenses of commissioning and operating new vessels, and partly to lack of funds in prior years to completely meet the operating and maintenance requirements and provide for necessary improvements in the military efficiency of the fleet.

The estimates for public works for 1937 total $$ 5$, 000,000 , as compared with appropriations for 1936 of $$ 18,399,000$. It is expected, however, that approximately $$ 11,500,000$ will be expended in 1936 from allotments from emergency appropriations and balances brought forward from prior years. It is also anticipated that approximately $$ 9,700,000$ of similar balances will be carried forward for expenditure during 1937. If these additional funds are taken into consideration, the amounts estimated for expenditure in 1937 total $$ 14,700,000$ as compared with a total of $$ 29,900,000$ estimated for expenditure in 1936, indicating a decrease in expenditures of $$ 15,200,000$ below 1936. The estimates for 1937 provide for 15 additional projects considered of the highest priority among those contained in the approved list of naval projects to be undertaken as funds are made a vailable.

The estimates of appropriations for the aviation activities of the Navy for 1937 cover amounts required for maintenance and operation, and for the procurement of new aircraft. The estimates for maintenance and operation, including experimental and research work and instruments, exceed the appropriations for 1936 by $$ 3,733,350$. This additional amount will provide for the maintenance and operation of the number of aircraft that will be in service in 1937, together with other expenses incident to flight training of more officers and men.

For new aircraft, the estimates for 1937 call for the expenditure of $$ 22,250,000$, as compared with $$ 26,715,660$ appropriated in 1936, a facial decrease in cash appropriations for 1937 of $$ 4,465,660$. The Navy Appropriation Act for 1936, however, included $$ 8,500,000$ to pay for aircraft purchased under contracts entered into during prior years, and also authorized the entering into of contracts during 1936 for the purchase of additional aircraft to the amount of $$ 6,590,000$ in excess of the amount appropriated. The estimate of appropriations for 1937 includes $$ 6,590,000$ to pay for the aircraft purchased under the contract authorization contained in the 1936 act, and authorizes the entering into of contracts during 1937 for the purchase of additional aircraft to the amount of $$ 12,000,000$ in excess of the appropriation requested. Taking these adjustments into consideration, the 1936 act authorized new contracts for procurement of aircraft under cash and contract authorizations in the amount of $$ 24,805,660$, while the 1937 estimates, calculated on a similar basis, contemplate the procurement of aircraft during 1937 by cash and contract authorization totaling $$ 27,660,000$, or an increase in procurement authority of $$ 2,854,340$ over 1936 . It is anticipated that under these estimates 273 planes may be procured for the Regular Navy and 44 planes for the Reserves, as replacements, and that 60 planes will be procured toward increasing the number of planes to the strength contemplated under the program for the development of naval aviation.

For the Marine Corps, the estimates for 1937 involve an increase of $$ 1,664,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936 and provide for an increase of 20 additional second lieutenants; an increase in the number of enlisted men from 16,000 for 1936 to 17,000 by June 30,1937 ; an increase in the number of officers and men of the Marine Corps Reserve and aviation cadets that will be provided training; and increases for subsistence, clothing, and other allowances for such additional personnel.

For the construction of naval vessels, $$ 182,500,000$ is estimated for appropriation in 1937, as compared with $$ 126,905,000$ appropriated in 1936, an increase of $$ 55$,595,000 . These figures, however, do not represent the total funds available. The 1936 appropriation act reappropriated and made available $$ 6,000,000$ from unexpended balances of annual appropriations for prior years. Large unexpended balances from regular appropriations and allotments from emergency funds are also to be carried forward for expenditure in 1936 and 1937, amounting to approximately $$ 100,000,000$ applicable to 1936 and $$ 60,500,000$ to 1937 . If these additional funds are taken into account, the expenditures for 1936 will approximate $$ 233,000,000$ and for $1937, $ 243,000,000$, an increase in anticipated expenditures over 1936 of $$ 10$,000,000 . The amount of $$ 243,000,000$ available for 1937 will provide for continuing work on 94 of the vessels now under construction and for beginning the construction of 18 new vessels to be laid down in July 1936, as follows: Toward the completion of 18 vessels laid down between 1929 and 1934 under regular naval appropriations, $$ 44,100,000$; toward the completion of 20 vessels laid down in 1934 under an allotment from emergency construction funds, $$ 37,900,000$; toward the completion of 32 vessels laid down in 1933 and 1934 under an allotment from National Industrial Recovery Act funds, $$ 51$,700,000 ; to carry forward the construction on 24 vessels laid down in 1936 under regular naval appropriations, $$ 83,800,000$; and to lay down 12 destroyers and 6 submarines at the beginning of the fiscal year 1937. $$ 14,000,000$. There is also included $$ 11,500,000$ to continue the work of providing guns and ammunition, as new construction, toward completion of the 52 vessels laid down under emergency appropriations.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The estimates of appropriations for the Department of State for the fiscal year 1937 reflect a net decrease of $$ 609,913$ below the appropriations for 1936 , increases of $$ 214,835$ and $$ 942,000$ for the operating expenses of the Office of the Secretary of State and the Foreign Service, respectively, being offset by a decrease of $$ 111,998$ in the amount for international obligations, commissions, bureaus, and so forth; and nonrecurring items of $$ 1,625,000$ for acquiring and furnishing of Government property at Shanghai, Rio de Janiero, Ottawa, and Helsingfors, and $$ 29,750$ for payment to widows of Foreign Service officers who died in the service of an amount equal to one year's salary of their deceased husbands. The estimates for 1937, are, however, exclusive of $$ 3,800,000$ for public works included in the general Public Works program.
The increase of $$ 214,835$ for the Office of the Secretary of State is accounted for principally by increases of $$ 141,240$ in the item of salaries for additional permanent personnel required to handle the increasing activities of that office, $$ 4,300$ in contingent expenses, $$ 32,850$ for printing and binding, $$ 5,970$ in the amount required for expenses of collecting, editing, etc., the official papers of the Territories of the United States, and $$ 30,000$ in the amount required to be appropriated for the expenses of the Committee for Reciprocity Information to represent the President in receiving the views of persons interested in any proposed foreign trade agreement.

An increase of $$ 48,105$ in salaries of Foreign Service officers is requested for 1937 to take care of automatic promotions authorized by the Foreign Service Act of February 23,1931 . There is also an increase of $$ 89,700$ for the transportation of Foreign Service officers, of which $$ 70,000$ is for bringing home on statutory leaves of absence officers who have not been in the United States for a number of years, and the remaining $$ 19,700$ is required by reason of the withdrawal of a 25 -percent discount formerly allowed by some trans-Atlantic steamship companies. There is a net decrease in the estimate for office and living quarters, Foreign Service, of $$ 9,000$, composed of an unexpended balance in the appropriation for 1936 of $$ 75,955$ not requested for 1937 , which is largely offset by increases of $$ 59,540$ for allowances to meet anticipated increases in personal leases of officers and employees, $$ 5,600$ for living allowances for ten additional employees, and $$ 1,815$ for maintenance of the new consulate at Osaka, Japan. The increase of $$ 50,000$ requested for cost-of-living allowances for diplomatic, consular, and Foreign Service officers and clerks will permit of an increase in allotments for such purposes to approximately 85 percent of the total amount permitted under existing regulations. For representation allowances, an appropriation of $$ 125$,000 is recommended for 1937. No appropriation has been made for this purpose since 1932, but it is felt that our diplomatic and consular officers should not be longer required to pay from their own funds expenses necessarily incurred in the proper representation of the United States in foreign countries. The increase of $$ 22,900$ in connection with the Foreign Service retirement and disability appropriated fund is the maximum appropriation permitted under the Foreign Service Act. The estimate for salaries of Foreign Service clerks, which shows an increase of $$ 18,000$ over the amount appropriated for 1936 , will permit of the employment of approximately 18 add - tional consular clerks whose services are urgently needed. The increase of $$ 29,345$ in the estimate for miscellaneous salaries and allowances for the Foreign Service will provide $$ 20,400$ for the salaries of employees necessary to supervise the construction of new buildings to be erected in Shanghai, Rio de Janeiro, and Ottawa, for which appropriations were provided at the last session of Congress, and $$ 8,945$ for 24 additional employees at diplomatic missions and consulates.
The net increase of $$ 567,950$ in the estimates for contingent expenses of the Foreign Service is principally due to an increase of $$ 505,000$ in the amount required for furniture and furnishings at our embassies, legations, and consulates, including $$ 20,000$ for the transportation thereof to the respective posts in foreign countries; and $$ 50,000$ to reimburse the Navy Department for the expense of installation and operation of short-wave radio facilities in the most important missions and consulates.

The estimate for contributions by the United States to international commissions, congresses, and bureaus for 1937 amount to $$ 885,620$, which represents an increase of $$ 39,350$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. For the expenses of participation by the United States in the meeting of the International Radio Consulting Committee to be held in Rumania in 1937, an appropriation is requested of $$ 18,500$. The net decrease of $$ 35,000$ in the estimate for the International Boundary Commission, United States and Mexico, results from a nonrecurring item of $$ 60,000$ provided in 1936 for an investigation to determine the best means of effecting canalization of the Rio Grande from Caballo Reservoir site to the International Diversion Dam near El Paso, and a decrease of $$ 500$ for printing, binding, and photography, or a total decrease of $$ 60,500$, which is partly offset by an increase of $$ 25,500$ for maintenance and preservation of the rectified channel of the Rio Grande where it forms the international boundary, which work is being accomplished under the convention of February 1, 1933. For the expenses of the United States in connection with the arbitration under the convention concluded April 15, 1935, between the United States and Canada, of what is known as the "smelter fumes controversy", arising through complaints of damage done in the State of Washington by fumes discharged from the smelter of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail, British Columbia, an appropriation is requested of $$ 60,000$, which is intended to cover the entire cost of the arbitration.

The estimate for General and Special Claims Conventions, United States and Mexico for 1937 is $$ 124,274$, which represents a reduction of $$ 104,848$ below the appropriation made for 1936. All work to be performed under this appropriation in connection with the special claims, which consisted of determining the lump sum due from Mexico under the terms of the convention of April 24, 1934, has been completed and no more funds will be required for this purpose ; the awards to be made American claimants from this amount will be determined by the Special Mexican Claims Commission, established by the act of April 10, 1935, for this purpose. The amount requested in the estimate for 1937 is for the use of the American Agency and the General Claims Commission in closing up the work of adjudicating the general claims, which should be completed by February 1, 1937.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The appropriations requested by the Treasury Department for 1937 show a net increase of $$ 8,340,608.08$ over the actual appropriations provided for 1936. These are increases of $$ 4,000,000$ for subscriptions to paid-in surplus of Federal Land Banks, $$ 1,662,800$ for expenses of Emergency Banking Gold Reserve and Silver Purchase Acts, $$ 65,760$ to provide for personnel for the Office of the General Counsel, $$ 762,510$ for salaries and expenses of the Division of Disbursement, $$ 68,010$ for the purchase of distinctive paper for United States securities, $$ 204,200$ for collecting the revenue from customs, and $$ 5,000,000$ for customs refunds and drawbacks. For the Bureau of Internal Revenue, an increase of $$ 1,931,740$ is asked for salaries and expenses for the purpose of augmenting tax collections. For salaries and expenses of the Federal Alcohol Administration, created by the act approved August 29, 1935, an initial appropriation is sought of $$ 550,000$.
It is estimated that the increasing work of the Bureau of Narcotics will require $$ 25,530$ more than the appropriations for 1936 to provide for additional agents and related expenses. For the Coast Guard, the net additional funds requested amount to $$ 2,064,755$, of which amount $$ 1,242,500$ is for additional airplanes. Other increases due, in part, to the commissioning of new vessels constructed under allotments of emergency funds. include $$ 629,620$ for salaries, pay, and allowances; $$ 130,545$ for outfits; $$ 32,500$ for rebuilding and repairing stations, $$ 186,110$ for repairs to vessels; and $$ 5,000$ for contingent expenses. The 1937 estimates for fuel and water and for civilian employees show decreases below the amount appropriated for 1936 of $$ 118,200$ and $$ 43$,320, respectively. The work of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing it is estimated will require an increase of $$ 340,183$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. The estimates of the Secret Service show an increase of $$ 246,995$ for additional personnel for the Secret Service Division and for additional personnel and expenses for suppressing counterfeiting and other crimes.
For the Public Health Service, a net increase of $$ 9,586,748$ is asked, the principal items being $$ 8,000,000$ for grants to States, and $$ 1,500,000$ for investigation of diseases, pursuant to the provisions of the Social Security Act. The latter item for investigation of diseases permits the elimination of the existing appropriation of $$ 240,000$ for field investigations of public health and $$ 25,000$ for studies of rural sanitation. Other substantial increases are $$ 47,076$ for pay of commissioned officers, $$ 241,540$ for pay of personnel and maintenance of hospitals, $$ 39,300$ for the Quarantine Service, and $$ 16,460$ for the Division of Mental Hygiene.
A net decrease of $$ 68,571,700$ in the estimates of the Public Buildings Branch of the Procurement Division results from nonrecurring items of $$ 68,000,000$ for sites and construction of public buildings, $$ 100,000$ for outside professional services, and $$ 700,000$ for relief of contractors; and increases of $$ 88,300$ for repairs, $$ 110,000$ for operating force, $$ 25,000$ for operating supplies, and $$ 5,000$ for furniture for public buildings. Items covering the construction of public buildings for 1937 are included in the estimates for the General Public Works Program. For the Supply Branch of the Procurement Division an increase of $$ 390,000$ in the estimates for 1937 provides $$ 140,000$ for salaries and expenses, and $$ 250,000$ for augmenting the general supply revolving fund due to the increased volume of Government purchases.
The amount required for debt retirements and interest charges for 1937 show an increase of $$ 91,100,000$ over appropriations for 1936.

Decreases in the estimates of appropriations for 1937 other than those specifically enumerated above, include principally in the items of $$ 12,000,000$ for payments to Federal Land Banks due to reductions in interest rates on mortgages, $$ 482,032.92$ representing a nonrecurring item for the memorial in Paris, France, to the personnel of the American Expeditionary Forces, $$ 70,000$ for recoinage of minor and silver coins, $$ 228,520$ due to the discontinuance of National and Federal Reserve Bank notes, $$ 27,000,000$ for refunding internal-revenue collections, and $$ 152,000$ representing a nonrecurring item for additional protection at United States mints. A further decrease of $$ 1,132,000$ is estimated in connection with the permanent appropriation for expenses of loans, Public Debt Service, and of $$ 78,000$ in the permanent appropriation for contingent expenses, national currency reimbursable. There is also a net decrease of $$ 25,000$ in the estimates of appropriations for trust accounts due to a reduction in this amount in the item Philippine trust account, Bureau of Internal Revenue.

WAR DEPARTMENT

The estimates of appropriations for the War Department for the fiscal year 1937 show a net increase of $$ 20$,$326,956.57$ over the appropriations for 1936 , consisting of an increase of $$ 122,214$ for departmental activities; an increase of $$ 23,725,276$ for military activities, of which amount $$ 1,225,894$ is due to legislation enacted during the first session of the Seventy-fourth Congress; a decrease of $$ 5,985,880.43$ for nonmilitary activities; and an increase of $$ 2,465,347$ for the Panama Canal. There is also included in the General Public Works Program for 1937, an estimate of $$ 129,000,000$ for continuing the work of improvement on rivers and harbors and other waterways. If this amount is taken into consideration the total estimates for the War Department for 1937 exceed the total appropriations for 1936 by $$ 149,326,956.57$.

The principal items of increase in connection with the departmental activities are $$ 59,011$ for the employment of additional personnel due to the increased volume of work, and $$ 48,912$ for printing and binding. In connection with the military activities of the War Department, the estimates of The Adjutant General's Department for 1937 show a net decrease of $$ 220,453$, of which amount $$ 191,453$ is for participation of the National Guard in special field exercises or maneuvers and for which provision is made for 1937 in the estimates for the National Guard, and $$ 30,000$ for a nonrecurring item for the purchase of books, less $$ 1,000$ for increases in salaries and expenses of the Command and General Staff School.

The net increase of $$ 6,137,885$ for the military activities of the Finance Department includes an increase of $$ 6,-$ 383,286 for automatic increases in pay and allowances of military personnel provided for by law and by the Promotion Act of July 31, 1935; for pay of 28,250 additional enlisted men on a full year's basis in 1937 who were recruited in monthly increments during 1936, for 25 additional nurses, for an increase of 98 Air Corps officers on flying duty, and for pay of additional retired officers, enlisted men, and nurses. Expenses of court-martials and for the apprehension of deserters are estimated at $$ 10,000$ below the amount required for 1936, while the hire of civilian employees in the field will require an increased appropriation of $$ 35,730$. Travel of military and civilian personnel is estimated at $$ 271,131$ less than the amount appropriated for 1936 , due to a number of changes in travel requirements for the fiscal year 1937.

For the Quartermaster Corps, a net decrease of $$ 3,289,814$ is shown. Decreases of $$ 9,850,000$ for a nonrecurring item covering the construction of buildings, utilities, or appurtenances at military posts, and of $$ 1,587,098$ on account of other items of expenditure which do not recur in whole or in part in 1937, are offset by an increase of $$ 5,559,192$ in the estimate for subsistence of the Army, due to increase in the cost of the Army ration; an increase of $$ 310,192$ in the regular supplies of the Army, due principally to providing forage for an increased number of animals; an increase of $$ 1,447,977$ for transportation of the Army, due to the necessity for major repairs to Army transports, the purchase of one new mine planter, and the maintenance, repair, and operation of a larger number of motor vehicles; an increase of $$ 384,182$ to provide for the purchase of additional animals in 1937; and an increase of $$ 431,000$ to cover the purchase of land adjacent to the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., for the protection and augmentation of the water supply for the academy.
For the Signal Corps, the increase of $$ 393,139$ is to provide for additional field employees and for additional plant and equipment required to provide increased radio and other communication facilities, and for research and development work. The estimates of the Air Corps show an increase of $$ 16,616,600$ for 1937, mainly for the procurement of airplanes. The activities of the Medical Department are estimated to require $$ 17,247$ less than the amount appropriated for 1936. For the Corps of Engineers, an increased appropriation is requested of $$ 62,685$ to be used principally for military surveys and maps. For the Ordnance Department a net increase of $$ 481,316$ is provided, to be used principally for the procurement of ammunition and bombs needed to provide for deficiencies in the types used by airplanes. For the seacoast defenses of the United States, insular possessions, and the Panama Canal, the increase for 1937 is $$ 509,024$, which will provide certain vital improvements. The increase in the Corps of Cadets at the United States Military Academy from 1,374 to 1,960, which was authorized by the act of June 7,1935 , makes it necessary to provide for an increase of $$ 734,848$ for the pay and allowances of cadets and civilian employees and the maintenance and operation of the academy.

For the National Guard, a net increase of $2,355,829 is provided for 1937. Due to the motorization of National Guard Units and the organization of some 70 new units, the hire of caretakers will require the appropriation of $$ 273,572$ more than was provided for 1936 , while the expense of camps of instruction will require an additional $$ 252,370$, of which $$ 192,370$ represents a transfer from the appropriation under The Adjutant General's Department for special field exercises of the Army. Other increases include $$ 332,627$ for armory drill pay, due to increased attendance; $$ 1,713,055$ for new airplanes, spare engines and parts, to replace unserviceable equipment; $$ 238,277$ for the overhauling and maintenance of airplanes, engines, and equipment; $$ 102,150$ for antiaircraft equipment; and $$ 165,833$ for miscellaneous items to meet additional requirements, due principally to the increase in the strength of the National Guard provided in 1936. Decreases total $$ 722,055$, and include nonrecurring items of $$ 89,951$ and $$ 140,000$, respectively, for forage and purchase of animals; $$ 69,817$ for reduced purchases of new motor equipment; $$ 363,302$ representing a part of the 1936 appropriation obligated in 1935 for which no corresponding obligation is indicated as between the funds for 1936 and 1937; and $$ 58,985$ for miscellaneous decreases of minor character due to changed conditions.

The increase of $$ 284,705$ requested for the Organized Reserves is necessary to provide for the detail of 100 additional Air Corps reserve officers for 1 year with tactical units of the Regular Army Air Corps, while the decrease of $$ 384,308$ in the estimate for Reserve Officers Training Corps is due principally to the fact that no additional Reserve Officers Training Corps units will be established during 1937 as was the case in 1936.

For the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, an increase of $$ 54,672$ is to provide for the purchase of ammunition for the national rifle matches.

The estimates of appropriations for the nonmilitary activities of the War Department for 1937 which show a net decrease of $$ 5,985,880.43$ below appropriations for 1936 include a decrease of $$ 122,422.43$ in the estimate of the Finance Department, due to the payment of a special claim in 1936 which is nonrecurring in 1937; a decrease of $$ 753,400$ in the amount required for the United States High Commissioner to the Philippine Islands, and a net decrease of $$ 4,762,918$ in the estimates of the Corps of Engineers for river and harbor work and for floodcontrol projects. In connection with the Corps of Engineers, increases in the estimates for 1937 are requested of $$ 4,620,629$ for maintenance only of river and harbor works, and of $$ 741,453$ for flood-control projects, which are offset, however, by decreases of $$ 10,000,000$ for work of improvement on rivers and harbors, for which estimates are included in the General Public Works Program for 1937, and a decrease of $$ 125,000$ for a nonrecurring item for protective works and measures.

The estimates for the Panama Canal show an increase of $$ 2,465,347$ over the amount appropriated for 1936. For maintenance and operation of the Canal, a net increase of $$ 2,389,201$ in the amount to be appropriated is necessary, due to the use during 1936 of $$ 2,100,000$ from reserve balances and the nonavailability of such reserve funds for 1937. The estimate of $$ 7,089,201$ for the current operating expenses of the Canal proper for 1937 includes $$ 750,000$ for the overhauling of the Pacific locks. In addition, $$ 1,800,000$ is required for the replacement of worn-out, obsolete, and excessively deteriorated facilities and $$ 400,000$ for betterments or for increasing the capacity of existing facilities.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

Since it is contemplated that the Post Office Department shall be self-supporting insofar as practicable, the estimates therefor are included as an Annexed Budget. The excess of appropriations over revenues is payable from the general fund of the Treasury and this excess is carried to Statement No. 2 of the Budget for 1937 and the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules.

The estimated expenditures for postal operations for the fiscal year 1937, including $$ 25,000$ for the payment of claims out of general revenues of the Treasury, amount to a total of $$ 783,934,149$. The postal revenues for that year are estimated to amount to $$ 705,000,000$, indicating a deficit for the fiscal year 1937 of $$ 78,934,149$, to be paid from the general revenues of the Treasury. Due to the upturn in business conditions and a corresponding increase in the requirement for additional postal services, and to the gradual reduction and finally the elimination of the various economy measures limiting salaries, postal expenditures have steadily increased since 1934. During the last session of Congress there was enacted the socalled " 40 -hour-week" law for postal employees, which became effective October 1, 1935, the air-mail act under which the Interstate Commerce Commission fixed increased rates of compensation of air-mail contracts, and other acts of minor importance, which involve a total additional expenditure for 1937, without benefit to the postal revenues, estimated at $$ 28,900,000$.

The estimates for compensation of postal personnel for 1937 total $$ 575,925,000$, an increase of $$ 23,725,000$ over the estimated requirements for 1936. To meet the additional obligations required for personnel under the 40 -hour-week law $$ 27,370,000$ is required, which is an increase of $$ 4,885,000$ over the amount required for that purpose for the 9 -month period from October 1, 1935, to June 30, 1936. The remaining increase of $$ 18,840,000$ is due to an anticipated increase in the volume of mails and for the extension of postal service and facilities to meet public requirements.

For the transportation of mails, exclusive of personnel, the estimated expenditures for 1937 are $$ 167,838,000$, which amount represents a net decrease of $$ 638,000$ over the estimated expenditures for 1936. This net decrease involves a reduction in the requirements for ocean mail under the Merchant Marine Act of $$ 2,350,000$, predicated on anticipated adjustments of existing contracts, and increases totaling $$ 1,612,000$, which include $$ 1,000,000$ for railroad transportation, $$ 250,000$ for domestic air mail, $$ 350,000$ for foreign air mail, all due to extension of routes and services, and $$ 112,000$ for miscellaneous adjustments.

For the miscellaneous expenses of the Department the estimated expenditures for 1937 total $$ 40,146,000$ as compared with $$ 39,980,000$ for 1936 , an increase of $$ 167,000$. While estimated increases are provided for various items totaling $$ 1,290,000$, a decrease of $$ 1,123,000$ is also shown, caused by the completion of new public buildings containing quarters for post offices and the consequent elimination of expenses in connection with the rent and operation of privately owned buildings which are vacated.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The estimates of appropriations for the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1937 are to be found in an annexed budget with appropriation requirements as they affect the general revenues of the Treasury brought into Statement No. 2. The net expenditures are carried to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. The appropriation requirements for 1937, insofar as they constitute a charge upon the United States Treasury, are estimated at $$ 5,700,000$, which is the amount previously fixed by Congress as the Federal contribution to the government of the District of Columbia. The details of the requirements of the District of Columbia are to be found in the summary and supporting schedules of the Annexed Budget.

Total estimate or appropriation....
Section 12 of the Printing Act, approved January 12, 1895 (U. S. C., title 44 , sec. 14), is hereby amended to read as follows:
"The Joint Committee on Printing may permit the Public Printer to authorize any executive department or independent office or establishment of the Government to purchase direct for its use such printing, binding, and blank-book work, otherwise authorized by law, as the Government Printing Office is not able or suitably equipped to execute or as may be more economically or in the better interest of the Government executed elsewhere; and such Joint Committee also may authorize the Public Printer to procure services, materials, and supplies for use of the Government Printing Office without regard to the provisions of section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 41, sec. 5) whenever the aggregate amount involved is less than $$ 50$.,

Printing and binding for Congress chargeable to the foregoing appropriation, when recommended to be done by the Committee on Printing of either House, shall be so recommended in a report containing an approximate estimate of the cost thereof, together with a statement from the Public Printer of estimated approximate cost of work previously ordered by Congress within the fiscal year for which this appropriation is made.

During the fiscal year [1936] 1937 any executive department or independent establishment of the Government ordering printing and binding from the Government Printing Office shall pay promptly by check to the Public Printer upon his written request, either in advance or upon completion of the work, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof, as the case may be, and bills rendered by the Public Printer in accordance herewith shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment: Provided, That proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of delivered work paid for in advance shall be made monthly or quarterly and as may be agreed upon by the Public Printer and the department or establishment concerned. All sums paid to the Public Printer for work that he is authorized by law to do shall be deposited to the credit, on the books of the Treasury Department, of the appropriation made for the working capital of the Government Printing Office, for the year in which the work is done, and be subject to requisition by the Public Printer.

All amounts in the Budget for the fiscal year [1937] 1938 for printing and binding for any department or establishment, so far as the Bureau of the Budget may deem practicable, shall be incorporated in a single item for printing and binding for such department or establishment and be eliminated as a part of any estimate for any other purpose. And if any amounts for printing and binding are included as a part of any estimates for any other purposes, such amounts shall be set forth in detail in a note immediately following the general estimate for printing and binding: Provided, That the foregoing requirements shall not apply to work to be executed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

No part of any money appropriated in this Act shall be paid to any person employed in the Government Printing Office while detailed for or performing service in the executive branch of the public service of the United States unless such detail be authorized by law (act July 8, 1985, 49 Stat., p. 475).

Permanent specific appropriation:

Cooperative Agricultural Extension Work-
For the purpose of paying the expenses of cooperative agricultural extension work and the necessary printing and distributing of information in connection with same, there is permanently appropriated $$ 480,000$ for each year, $$ 10,000$ of which is paid annually to each State which has by action of its legislature assented to the provisions of the act. There was also appropriated an additional sum of $$ 600,000$ for the fiscal year following that in which the foregoing appropriation first became available, and for each year thereafter for seven years a sum exceeding by $$ 500,000$ the sum appropriated for each preceding year, and for each year thereafter there is permanently appropriated the sum of $$ 4,100,000$ in addition to the sum of $$ 480,000$. The additional sums are allotted annually to each State by the Secretary of Agriculture and paid in the proportion which the rural population of each State bears to the rural population of all the States as determined by the next preceding Federal census, but no payment out of the additional appropriations can be made in any year to any State until an equal sum has been appropriated for that year by the legislature of such State, or provided by State, county, college, local authority, or individual contributions from within the State, for the maintenance of cooperative agricultural extension work. On May 16, 1928 (U. S. C., Supp. VII, title 7, secs. 386-386b), this appropriation was amended to include a permanent allotment to the Territory of Hawaii of $$ 10,000$ plus an additional sum of $$ 12,935.43$, subject to the same terms and conditions as the original act. The permanent annual appropriation was thereby increased to $$ 4,602,935.43$. Under the 1930 census the amount of money available to Hawaii increased by $$ 3,160$, thereby automatically raising the total amount available under the original Smith-Lever Act by this amount. The Act of March 4, 1931, provides that the Smith-Lever Act and Acts supplementary thereto be increased without diminishing the amount now received by any State or other Territory, to carry out the provisions of this Act in the Territory of Puerto Rico and specifies that the appropriation for 1933 and subsequent years shall be $$ 50,000$, this amount to be increased by $$ 10,000$ annually, or such part thereof as may be necessary, until the total to which Puerto Rico is entitled under the provisions of this Act is reached. The permanent annual appropriation is thereby increased to $\mathbf{[ $ 4 , 6 8 6 , 0 9 6 ]} $ 4,696,096$ (U. S.C., title 7, secs. 342, 343; U. S. Special Deposit (66.2-400) Agricultural Adjusiment Administration
(Cotton)-
This fund operates to take care of financial transactions in connection with the acquisition and disposition of spot cotton and cotton futures contracts by the Secretary of Agriculture as provided for by part 1, title I of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, approved May 12, 1933, as amended, and the disposition of the proceeds from the sale of such cotton holdings in the following manner:
(a) The excess of the price at which cotton is sold over 6 cents per pound (price at which the Secretary of Agriculture options cotton to producers) is paid to producers when the sale results from the exercise of an option by producers or is paid to the 1933 Cotton Producers' Pool when the sale is of cotton transferred to the pool by cotton option holders.
(b) The 1 cent excess of the price at which the Secretary sells cotton to producers by option ( 6 cents) over the purchase price of cotton from the Farm Credit Administration ( 5 cents basis price) is used to cover the carrying charges on cotton holdings.
No acreage payments are disbursed from this fund. The following is a statement of the receipts and disbursements from this fund for the period July 25, 1933 to June 29, 1935:

This fund does not depend upon any appropriation for replenishment as the proceeds from the sale of cotton holdings will presumably take care of:
(1) The repayment of all loans.
(2) Carrying charges and expenses of handling the cotton.
(3) Payments to producers by virtue of their option contracts.
(4) Administrative expenses.

Receipts and disbursements for this fund during subsequent periods will depend almost entirely upon:
(1) Sales of cotton holdings.
(2) Payments to producers on account of options exercised.
(3) Loans repaid.
(4) Cotton futures hedging transactions.

The monthly carrying costs on the present holdings of spot cotton are approximately $$ 126,000,000$.

All loans from commercial banks were paid on or before July 31, 1935, and are consolidated under loan from the United States Treasury.

Special Deposit (66.2-401) Agricultural Adjustment Administration-
This fund operates to take care of advances of 4 cents per pound to participants in the cotton pool, on participation trust certificates on cotton held by the pool.

This account is now practically inactive, as there are no further applicants for 4-cent advances.

The following is a statement of cash receipts and disbursements for the period January 12, 1934, through June 29, 1935:

The activity of this account is contingent upon the fluctuation in price of cotton futures and the number of bales hedged. As at June 29, 1935, futures contracts were held- 813,600 bales.

Special Deposit (66.2-403) Agricultural Adjustment Administration-
This fund operates to take care of second advances of 2 cents per pound to participants in the cotton pool on participation trust certificates on cotton held by the pool.

This account is now inactive except for minor adjustments, as it has been superseded by a new cash account 66.2-404.
