Special Deposits (12-066.2.400), Agricultural Adjustment Administration (Cotton)—

This fund operates to take care of financial transactions in connection with the acquisition and disposition of spot cotton and cotton futures contracts by the Secretary of Agriculture as provided for by part 1, title I, of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, approved May 12, 1933, as amended, and the disposition of the proceeds from the sale of such cotton holdings in the following manner:

(a) The excess of the price at which cotton is sold over 6 cents per pound (price at which the Secretary of Agriculture options cotton to producers) is paid to producers when the sale results from the exercise of an option by producers or is paid to the 1933 Cotton Producers' Pool when the sale is of cotton transferred to the pool by cotton option holders.

(b) The 1 cent excess of the price at which the Secretary sells cotton to producers by option (6 cents) over the purchase price of cotton from the Farm Credit Administration (5 cents basis price) is used to cover the carrying charges on cotton holdings.

(1) The repayment of all advances from the United States Treasury.
(2) Carrying charges and expenses of handling the cotton.
(3) Payments to producers by virtue of their option contracts.
(4) Administrative expenses.

Receipts and disbursements for this fund henceforth will practically consist of:

(1) Minor receipts of moneys in course of collection.
(2) Payments to producers on account of options exercised.
(3) Final settlement of participation trust certificates purchased.
(4) Administrative expenses.
(5) Final settlement of claims by General Accounting Office, Claims Division.

All loans from commercial banks were paid on or before July 31, 1935; all advances from United States Treasury have been repaid, and all are included in repayments of loans from banks and others.

Analysis of field expense items of appropriations in these estimates explain field operations in the conduct of hydrographic, geodetic magnetic, tidal, current, and other surveys. In the field the records of observations are entered on suitable forms or in suitable record books. These data are forwarded to the Washington office of the Bureau where they are analyzed, collated, and made available for public use through the medium of nautical charts, printed tide tables, coast pilots, and publications containing data necessary for use in establishing local surveys based on control that is standard throughout the North American Continent.
The analysis and collation of the field data are accomplished by the personnel paid from this appropriation. A distribution of costs, by projects, follows:
Compilation and printing of nautical charts		$311,980		$313,980		$317,000
Preparation of data for printing tide and current tables		50,480		50,480		50,480
Preparation of data for printing publications containing data necessary for use of civil engineers who base local surveys on standard control		98,380		98,380		97,180
Construction, repair, and maintenance of surveying instruments and equipment used in field work of the Bureau		39,520		39,520		39,520

During the fiscal year [1938] 1939 the head of any department or independent establishment of the Government having funds available for scientific and technical investigations and requiring cooperative work by the Geological Survey on scientific and technical investigations within the scope of the functions of that bureau and which it is unable to perform within the limits of its appropriations may, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, transfer to the Geological Survey such sums as may be necessary to carry on such investigations. The Secretary of the Treasury shall transfer on the books of the Treasury Department any sums which may be authorized hereunder, and such amounts shall be placed to the credit of the Geological Survey for the performance of work for the department or establishment from which the transfer is made: Provided, That any sums transferred by any department or independent establishment of the Government to the Geological Survey for cooperative work in connection with this appropriation may be expended in the same manner as sums appropriated herein may be expended: Provided further, That any funds herein appropriated for the Geological Survey for cooperative work may be utilized prior to July 1, [1937] 1938, as required to enable the Geological Survey to continue its cooperative work pending reimbursement from cooperative agencies, the amount so utilized to be repaid to the appropriation from which advanced (50 Stat. 599);

During the fiscal year [1938] 1939, upon the request of the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy is authorized to furnish aerial photographs required for mapping projects, insofar as the furnishing of such photographs will be economical to the Federal Government and does not conflict with military or naval operations or the other parts of the regular training program of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps flying services, and the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to reimburse the War or Navy Department for the cost of making the photographs, such cost to be confined to the actual cost of gasoline, oil, film, paper, chemicals, and the labor performed in developing the photographic negatives and the printing of copies of photographs, and the per-diem expenses of the personnel authorized by law, together with such incidental expenses as care and minor repairs to plane and transportation of personnel to and from projects, and the War Department or the Navy Department, on request of the Department of the Interior, is authorized to furnish copies to any State, county, or municipal agency cooperating with the Federal Government in the mapping project for which the photographs were taken. In the event that the Director of the Geological Survey deems it advantageous to the Government, the Geological Survey is authorized to contract with civilian aerial photographic concerns for the furnishing of such photographs (50 Stat. 599–600);

Appropriations herein made, and funds transferred thereto, shall be available for payment of the costs of packing, crating, and transportation (including drayage) of personal effects of employees upon permanent change of station, under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior (50 Stat. 600);

PUERTO RICO RECONSTRUCTION ADMINISTRATION

Emergency Relief, Puerto Rico Special Fund—

NOTE.—The Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration was established by Executive Order No. 7057, dated May 28, 1935, for the purpose of initiating, formulating, administering, and supervising a program of approved projects for providing relief and work relief and for increasing employment within Puerto Rico. To accomplish this purpose the Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration has adopted plans for rural rehabilitation, rural electrification, forestation and reforestation, slum clearance and construction of low-cost housing, construction of a series of buildings for the University of Puerto Rico, and economic, social, and agricultural surveys. This program has been financed by allocations of $34,868,395 from the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935, which funds were made available for expenditure until June 30, 1940, under the provisions of the act of February 11, 1936, Public No. 442, 74th Congress; and $6,000,000 from the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1936. By Executive Order No. 7689, dated August 12, 1937, the Secretary of the Interior was designated Administrator of this activity.
