Reappointment of Robert H. Hinckley, Ogden, Utah, as Assistant Administrator in charge of far western territory for the Works Progress Administration, was announced today by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

Mr. Hinckley returned to the Administration after strong urging upon the part of Administrator Hopkins. He resigned March 1, 1936.

The States under Mr. Hinckley's supervision will be California, Utah, Oregon, Montana, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico. Present regional field headquarters of the Works Progress Administration is San Francisco.

R. C. Jacobsen, who succeeded Mr. Hinckley, has been appointed assistant field representative for the Chicago area, with supervision over Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, and Kansas.

Wayne Coy, Indiana Works Progress Administrator, has relinquished his activity as field representative with supervision over Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia. The States of Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky have been transferred to the jurisdiction of the Chicago regional office, while West Virginia has been shifted to the Philadelphia regional headquarters, it was announced.
