C. 4Immediate Release

INCOME COMMERCIAL BANK INCOME

Net profits of all insured commercial banks increased in 1979 by over 19 percent to $$ 12.8$ billion. Both the return on assets and the return on equity rose to record levels for the decade. With interest rates rising, gross interest income continued to rise rapidly, but interest expense grew at an even faster pace. As a result, net interest margins grew more slowly in 1979 than a year earlier. Provisions for loan losses decreased as a percentage of assets; an increase in other noninterest expenses was equalled by an increase in noninterest income.

This release will resume regular publication with this issue. It is derived from the Report of Income, which was revised substantially in December 1978. From that time until the fall of 1980 final data were not available. A detailed analysis of commercial bank profits in 1979 appears in the September 1980 Federal Reserve Bulletin.
