Note: In the course of completing the 1971 revision of the industrial production index, seasonal adjustment factors and production levels have been reviewed for the period since January 1970. The effect of these revisions for the seasonally adjusted indexes for the past twelve months are shown as an attachment to this release. The complete results, including all series without seasonal adjustment for both the past year and back to 1954, will be available in the Industrial Production: 1971 Edition scheduled for distribution by September 1972.
