

May 7, 2015 revisions and additions

Revisions to the March G.19 extending back to January 2006 were primarily caused by updated seasonal factors and the benchmarking of estimates to data released by the Department of Education and the U.S. Census Bureau. The finance companies new car loan terms of credit series shown in prior releases were discontinued and replaced with new series that use different methodology. Please see the G.19 'About' page for more information.
