BANK DEBITS

Below is given the Federal Reserve Board's weekly statement of debits to individual account, reported through the Federal Reserve banks by over 150 of the country's more important clearing houses. Transactions cover the weekly periods ending Wednesday, August 13 and 20 of the present year, and in case of some of the reporting centers also the weekly period ending a year earlier, i. e. August 21, 1918.

Aggregate debits to individual account show a decrease for the week of over 6 per cent, the decrease reported for the New York City banks accounting for practically the entire decrease shown. It is notable that the banks in the Western districts report larger totals, while the banks in the Eastern and Southern districts - smaller totals than the week before. Figures for the corresponding week in 1918 cover transactions for five days only, and this fact should be borne in mind when comparisons of the latest figures with those of a year ago are attempted.
