BANK DEBITS.

Below is given the Federal Reserve Board's weekly statement of debits to individual account, reported through the Federal Reserve banks by over 150 of the country's more important clearing houses. Transactions cover the weekly periods ending Wednesday, October 29 and 22, of the present year, and in case of most of the reporting centers also the weekly period ending a year earlier, i.e., Oct. 30, 1918.

Aggregate debits to individual account were over 400 millions below the exceptionally large figure of the preceding week, all the large centers, except New York, Kansas City and San Francisco, reporting decreases. Relatively the heaviest declines were shown for the clearing house banks in Boston, Detroit and St. Louis. As compared with corresponding 1918 figures, available for 141 cities, debits to individual account were about 15 per cent larger, the increase in the New York City banks alone constituting about three-fourths of the total increase. Of the large cities, Philadelphia and Kansas City alone reported smaller figures than a year ago.

The statement closes with a recapitulation giving comparative figures by reserve districts for 155 centers reporting complete data for the two most recent weeks, also like figures for the 141 centers for which data are available for the past week and the week ending October 30, of last year.
