BANK DEBITS

Below is given the Federal Reserve Board's weekly statement of debits to individual account, reported through the Federal Reserve banks by over 150 of the country's more important clearing houses. Transactions cover the weekly periods ending Wednesday, January 28 and 21 of the present year, and January 29, 1919. The statement closes with a recapitulation giving comparative figures by reserve districts for centers reporting complete data for the three weeks under review.

Aggregate debits to individual account reported for 150 clearing house centers for the week under review were 8,995.6 millions or 13.4 per cent below the corresponding total shown the week before, all the more important centers, except Cleveland, reporting smaller figures. More than one-half of the decline is due to the shrinkage in transactions reported for New York City. As compared with corresponding figures for the week ending January 22, 1919, an increase of 1,806.7 millions, or over 25 per cent, is shown. Larger than average increases since last year in weekly debits are reported for banks in Boston, Cleveland, Baltimore, Detroit, Dallas, San Francisco and Los Angeles.
