April 17, 1920.

BANK DEBITS

Below is given the Federal Reserve Board's weekly statement of debits to individual account, reported through the Federal Reserve banks by over 150 of the country's more important clearing houses. Transactions cover the weekly periods ending Wednesday, April 14 and 7 of the present year and April 16, 1919. The statement closes with a recapitulation giving comparative figures by reserve districts for centers reporting complete data for the three weeks under review.

Debits to individual account reported during the week ending April 14 by banks in 150 of the country's principal clearing house centers aggregated 9,651 millions, an increase over the preceding week of 671 millions, or about 7 per cent. Of this increase 515 millions represents the share of New York City banks, the rate of increase for this city being 12 per cent, as compared with 3 per cent for the remaining 149 centers. Increases shown for other important centers, except Boston, are relatively small, while banks in Chicago, Baltimore, St. Louis, Kansas City and Los Angeles report smaller totals than the week before.

Debits to individual account reported for the week ending April 16, 1919 aggregated 8,008 millions, or 1,643 millions less than for the corresponding week of the present year. As was the case last week, Kansas City is the only important center showing smaller figures this year than a year ago.
