BANK DEBITS

Aggregate debits to individual account as reported by 146 of the country's leading clearing house associations for the week ending December 22, were 9,696 millions, or 460 millions more than for the immediately preceding week. This increase in bank debits, in which all the larger centers, except Minneapolis, participate, reflects mainly the larger volume of holiday trade.

As compared with the corresponding week in 1919, debits for the week under review are 441 millions smaller, the total for New York City alone showing a reduction of 364 millions, while many of the larger centers, including Philadelphia, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, San Francisco and Los Angeles, report larger figures than the year before.
