BANK DEBITS

An increase of over $1,000,000,000 in the volume of business, as measured by debits to individual accounts reported to the Federal Reserve Board for banks in 154 important clearing house centers, is indicated for the week ending September 14. The aggregate for the week was $7,135,000,000, compared with $6,094,000,000 for the preceding week - an increase of about 17 per cent. Larger figures are reported for all the important centers, the increases being substantial, except in the case of Baltimore for which only a nominal change is shown.

As compared with the week ending September 15, 1920, total debits for the week under review show a decrease of $1,800,000,000, or about 20 per cent, compared with a lag of about 14 per cent for the immediately preceding week. Smaller figures are reported for all the important centers, the largest decreases being shown for industrial centers: the decrease for Detroit was about 28 per cent, for Chicago - 29 per cent, for Boston - 36 per cent, for Pittsburgh - 38 per cent and for Cleveland - 39 per cent. For New York City the decrease has been approximately equal to the average decrease for all reporting centers.
