

STATEMENT FOR THE PRESS

Released for publication
Sunday morning, Mar. 18;
not earlier.

St. 3412.
Federal Reserve Board,
March 17, 1923.

BANK DEBITS

Bank debits for the week ending March 14 totaled $9,294,000,000, compared with $10,896,000,000 for the preceding week. This decline of about 15 per cent reflects the usual mid-month recession from the larger volume of bank debits characteristic of the first week of the month. Smaller figures are shown for all the leading centers, except Pittsburgh and Detroit. For New York City the decline for the week was $1,141,000,000, or over 70 per cent of the total decline shown.

As compared with the corresponding week in 1922, aggregate debits for the report week show an increase of about $778,000,000, or 9 per cent. Larger figures than last year are shown for all the principal centers, except Boston, Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis. Particularly heavy increases, as compared with last year, are shown for Detroit - 32 per cent - and Los Angeles - 35 per cent.

Debits to individual accounts are reported to the Federal Reserve Board by banks in leading clearing house centers. The total number reporting this week is 252, of which 241 are included in the summary by Federal reserve districts.
