BANK DEBITS

Bank debits for the week ending March 28 totaled $9,100,000,000 or $1,022,000,000 less than for the preceding week. This difference represents mainly the amount of checks in payment of income taxes and newly issued Treasury certificates that passed through clearing and were charged to individual accounts during the earlier week. All the leading centers, except Pittsburgh, report smaller totals than the week before, New York City alone reporting a decrease of $486,000,000, or 48 per cent of the total decrease shown.

As compared with the corresponding week in 1922 aggregate debits for the week under review show an increase of $996,000,000, or about 12 per cent. Larger figures than last year are shown for all the larger centers.

Debits to individual accounts are reported to the Federal Reserve Board by banks in leading clearing house centers. The total number reporting this week is 253, of which 243 are included in the summary by Federal Reserve districts.
