BANK DEBITS AND DEPOSIT TURNOVER

Bank debits to demand deposit accounts, except interbank and U. S. Government accounts, as reported by banks in 344 selected centers for the month of February aggregated $240 billion. During the past three months debits amounted to $821 billion or 7.0 per cent above the total reported for the corresponding period a year ago.

At banks in New York City there was an increase of 5.8 per cent compared with the corresponding three-months period a year ago; at 6 other leading centers the increase was 8.5 per cent; and at 337 other centers it was 7.5 per cent.

Seasonally adjusted bank debits at 337 centers declined in February following a sharp rise in January. The total for the month of $105.4 billion was slightly above the level in late 1961 and about 9 per cent above the year earlier level. The seasonally adjusted annual rate of demand deposit turnover at banks outside New York and other financial centers declined to 27.1, a level also slightly above the late 1961 average.
