BANK DEBITS AND DEPOSIT TURNOVER

Bank debits to demand deposit accounts, except interbank and U. S. Government accounts, as reported by banks in 344 selected centers for the month of November aggregated $296.6 billion. During the past three months debits amounted to $944.2 billion or 9.9 per cent above the total reported for the corresponding period a year ago.

At banks in New York City there was an increase of 8.5 per cent compared with the corresponding three-months period a year ago; at 6 other leading centers the increase was 12.9 per cent; and at 337 other centers it was 9.8 per cent.

Seasonally adjusted debits to demand deposit accounts for all centers declined further in November to a level of $312.7 billion, 5 per cent below the September peak. Debits at New York City banks totaled $125.4 billion, more than 10 per cent below the September level. Preliminary estimates indicate a decline in the seasonally adjusted annual rate of turnover to 43.6 at 344 centers and 80.7 at New York City banks, down 7 and 17 per cent respectively from the September highs.
