BANK DEBITS AND DEPOSIT TURNOVER

Bank debits to demand deposit accounts, except interbank and U. S. Government accounts, as reported by banks in 344 selected centers for the month of December aggregated $400.1 billion. During the past three months debits amounted to $1,087.4 billion or 9.7 per cent above the total reported for the corresponding period a year ago.

At banks in New York City there was an increase of 12.5 per cent compared with the corresponding three-months period a year ago; at 6 other leading centers the increase was 3.9 per cent; and at 337 other centers it was 10.0 per cent.

Seasonally adjusted debits to demand deposit accounts reached a new high of $364.3 billion at banks in New York City in December, largely reflecting a substantial increase, at other reporting centers debits showed only small changes. The seasonally adjusted annual rate of turnover of demand deposits at banks outside New York City decreased to 35.2 from the 35.5 level of the previous two months but remained within the narrow range of fluctuations which has prevailed since spring.
