(CAPITAL MARKET DEVELOPMENTS
IN THE UNITED STATES

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF ST. LOUIS
ON The volume of public security financing to obtain new capital was very light this past week, but is expected to pick up substantially this week. This past week, ended September 6, no large corporate issues were offered, and a $36 million State of Washington issue was the only large State and local government bond issue sold. This week, ending September 13, a $100 million corporate issue and two large State and local issues with par value of $36 million are scheduled for offering.

Bond yields. Yields on most seasoned long-term bonds rose last week. U. S. Government bond yields, after a month of stability, rose four basis points, reflecting largely the scope of the Treasury's refunding offering; this brought them back to 4.03 per cent, the high for the year. Aaa-rated corporate bond yields were up one basis point to 4.30 per cent, the highest level since late last September, while yields on Baa-rated issues also increased a basis point to 4.84 per cent. Yields on Aaa-rated State and local government bonds advanced three basis points to 3.12 per cent, the highest level since mid-August 1961; Baa-rated municipal yields, however, were stable.

Yields on new corporate bonds, adjusted to an Aaa basis, averaged 4.35 per cent last week, up eight basis points from the early August level and the highest since last summer.

Short- and intermediate-term interest rates. Rates on Treasury bills declined somewhat from their recent highs last week, but yields on intermediate-term U. S. Government obligations continued to rise. Rates on 3-month and 6-month bills fell three and two basis points, respectively; yields on 3-5 year Government obligations rose three basis points further to 3.88 per cent, the highest level since early February 1962. The average effective Federal funds rate went back to 3.50 per cent. Other rates were unchanged.

Mortgage recordings. Seasonally adjusted nonfarm mortgage recordings of $20,000 or less expanded 3 per cent further in May, the latest period for which data are available on a three-month moving average basis. The monthly rate of $3,060 million was a new high and was 8 per cent above a year earlier.

Federally underwritten mortgages accounted for 20 per cent of total loans recorded in June. This share compared with 21 per cent in May, but was the same as a year earlier and moderately higher than in June of 1961.

The average size of all loans recorded increased in June to 112.8 per cent of the 1959 average. This was also a new high, although the increase this June was less pronounced than in the corresponding period a year earlier.

Stock prices. Common stock prices advanced further in very active trading last week. Prices, as measured by Standard and Poor's composite index of 500 stocks, closed at 72.84 on September 6, slightly below the new all-time peak reached the previous day. Trading volume averaged 6.1 million shares a day, 1.4 million shares more than the previous week and the highest average since the near-record of early June 1962.

More detailed information concerning recent capital market developments is presented in the attached exhibits.

1/ Standard and Poor's composite index of 500 common stocks, weekly closing prices, 1941-43-10. Monthly data are averages of daily figures rather than of Friday's only. High and low are for Friday's data only.

2/ Standard and Poor's composite stock yield based on Wednesday data converted to weekly closing prices by Federal Reserve. Yields shown are for dates on which price index reached its high or low.

3/ Averages of daily trading volume on the New York Stock Exchange.

4/ End of month figures for member firms of the New York Stock Exchange which carry margin accounts; excludes balances secured by U. S. Government obligations.

5/ Wednesday figures for weekly reporting member banks. Excludes loans for purchasing or carrying U. S. Government securities. Prior to July 1, 1959, such loans are excluded only at banks in New York and Chicago. Weekly reporting banks account for about 70 per cent of loans to others. For further detail see Bulletin.

1/ Total recordings data are estimates based on reports from about 450 areas and include mortgages of $20,000 or less secured by nonfarm real estate, primarily residential properties. FHA-insured loans represent gross amount of insurance written, and VA-guaranteed loans the gross amount of loans closed, on 1-4 family houses. Other recordings data are derived as a residual, although total recordings and VA and FHA loans are not strictly comparable in concept or timing.

2/ Three-month moving average, seasonally adjusted by Federal Reserve.

3/ This index relates the average size of mortgage recordings for each month (total dollar recordings divided by number of mortgage recordings) to the average size during 1959.

Note: Averages of offering yields on all new issues of publicly offered corporate bonds rated Aaa, Aa and A by Moody's Investors Service (except serial and convertible issues, offerings of natural gas pipeline and foreign companies, and bonds guaranteed by the Federal Government) weighted by size of offering. Before averaging, new offerings are adjusted to a composite Aaa basis by deducting from the actual reoffering yield the excess of the weekly average yield for seasoned bonds of the appropriate industry-quality group over the composite average for seasoned Aaa-rated bonds (Moody's). Averages considered unrepresentative because of special characteristics of the offerings included are denoted by an asterisk.

8/6	5.0	Austrian Investment Finance Corp.--notes, maturing 1973--no information available on takedown

Note: For retrospective data on aggregate foreign corporate and government security offerings in the United States see Exhibits I and J. There is no simple relationship between the data shown in this Exhibit and that shown in Exhibits I and J because the latter includes privately placed securities in the period in which funds are actually takedown but only in the amount of takedown, while the placements shown in this exhibit are included when reported, frequently with little or no information concerning timing of takedowns. Full or partial takedowns may take place both prior and subsequent to the date a placement is reported.
