CAPITAL MARKET DEVELOPMENTS
IN THE UNITED STATES

Corporate and municipal bond markets. This week's supply of new corporate security offerings, including the $66 million United Air Lines offering of convertible debentures for which stockholders subscription rights expire, will be roughly the same as last week's substantial total. Also on the calendar this week, but not included in the totals below, will be a $200 million plus secondary offering of the U.S. Government holdings of common stock of General Aniline and Film Company. In the municipal market, the total volume of offerings, including refundings, will be only about one-half of last week's very large total but will still be about as large as the weekly average over the past year.

1/ Federal Reserve estimates based on published reports of issues sold and scheduled for offering; corporate rights offerings are included as of the date subscription rights expire.

Bids by underwriters for last week's new offerings of corporate bonds were more in line with investors' expectations than they had been earlier this year, carrying the new corporate bond yield series up 7 basis points to 4.48 per cent, roughly the level existing early last December. At this higher level of yields, investor reception of the two new competitive offerings was appreciably better than that for similar issues in recent weeks, with the $70 million, Aa-rated Florida Power and Light Company offering an immediate sell-out. This rise in yields led to termination of the syndicate price restriction on an issue which had remained largely undistributed since late January, and the subsequent price decline on this issue raised the yield 9 basis points above that at which originally offered.

The favorable demand for the $116 million package of Public Housing Authority bonds last week had only limited impact on the congested condition of the municipal bond market. With somewhat less than three-fifths of the new offerings (other than PHA) distributed by the weekend, the success of the Public Housing offering merely kept dealers' advertised inventories of unsold securities from exceeding $800 million. Yields on seasoned State and local government bonds advanced further, with those on Aaa-rated issues going up 6 basis points to their highest level since last November.

1/ Neither mortgage nor bond yields take into account servicing costs which are much higher for mortgages than bonds. Generally, bonds pay interest semi-annually; mortgages, monthly. Mortgage yields, if computed as equivalent to a semi-annual interest investment, would be slightly higher than given in the table.

2/ Based on FHA field-office opinions about average bid prices in the private secondary market for new-home mortgages for immediate delivery. Separate data available for 25-year and—beginning July 1961—30-year mortgages with minimum downpayments, weighted by probable volume of transactions. Yields computed by FHA, assuming prepayment period of 12 years for 25-year mortgages and 15 years for 30-year mortgages. Over the period for which they can be compared, the movement of the two mortgage yield series has been similar. Dashed lines indicate periods of adjustment to changes in contractual interest rates.

3/ Based on FHA field office opinion on typical interest rates (rounded) on conventional first mortgages prevailing in the market areas of insuring office cities. Beginning with April 1960, rate relates only to new-home mortgages; prior to that date, rate related to both new as well as existing-home mortgages. Dashed line indicates this change in the series.

4/ See note for Exhibit G.
5/ Moody's Investor Service. Monthly averages of daily data. See Exhibit A.

Note: Averages of offering yields on all new issues of publicly offered corporate bonds rated Aaa, Aa and A by Moody's Investors Service (except serial and convertible issues, offerings of natural gas pipeline and foreign companies, and bonds guaranteed by the Federal Government) weighted by size of offering. Before averaging, new offerings are adjusted to a composite Aaa basis by deducting from the actual offering yield the excess of the weekly average yield for seasoned bonds of the appropriate industry-quality group over the composite average for seasoned Aaa-rated bonds (Moody's). Averages considered unrepresentative because of special characteristics of the offerings included are denoted by an asterisk.

Exhibit M

Foreign Government and Corporate Security Offerings and Placements in the United States

Part I: Public Offerings

Sale Date	Amount (millions of dollars)	Issuer and Description of Issue
A. Sold Jan. 1 through March 5
1/14	200.0	International Bank for Reconstruction and Development--4-1/2% bonds, maturing 1990, reoffered to yield 4.48%.
1/19	15.0	Republic of the Philippines--6-1/2% bonds, maturing 1980, reoffered to yield 6.66%.
1/25	20.0	Republic of Portugal--5-3/4 bonds, maturing 1985, reoffered to yield 5.97%.

B. Prospective Offerings

None.

Part II: Private Placement--Reported January 1 through March 5

Date reported	Amount (millions* of dollars)	Issuer and Description of Issue
1/11	25.0	Alberta Municipal Financing Corp.--4-5/8% debentures, maturing 1989, priced to yield 4.65%--no information available on takedown.
1/13	8.0	Beneficial Finance Co. of Canada--senior notes maturing 1984--no information available on takedown.
1/18	30.0	Province of Nova Scotia--4-1/2% sinking fund debentures, maturing 1989--no information available on takedown.

Note: For retrospective data on aggregate foreign corporate and government security offerings in the United States see Exhibits I and J. There is no simple relationship between the data shown in this Exhibit and that shown in Exhibits I and J because the latter includes privately placed securities in the period in which funds are actually taken-down but only in the amount of takedown, while the placements shown in this exhibit are included when reported, frequently with little or no information concerning timing of takedowns. Full or partial takedowns may take place both prior and subsequent to the data a placement is reported. *--Included in table for first time.
