OF BUREAUCAPITAL MARKETS DEVELOPMENTS
IN THE UNITED STATES

Corporate and municipal bond markets. The volume of new, publicly-offered corporate securities expected this week will be slightly above the average weekly volume over the past year, while that of comparable municipals will be below average. The largest corporate issue will be a $75 million offering by Borden, and none of the municipal offerings will be for as much as $25 million. The week's supply will be supplemented, however, by $650 million of publicly-offered FNMA participation certificates ($250 million of pc's will be sold to government trust accounts), and a $50 million offering by British Columbia Hydro and Power. Thus, total public offerings should be well above a billion this week.

^{1/} Federal Reserve estimates are based upon published reports of issues sold and scheduled for offerings; corporate rights offerings are included as of date subscription rights expire.

Yields on new and seasoned corporate bonds were essentially unchanged last week, but new issues were not enthusiastically received. The Textron offering was finally made, though the amount was reduced from $100 million to $50 million. Interstate Power's bonds were released from syndicate, and in free market trading, the yield on these bonds advanced 6 basis points. Lastly, the two Ohio Power offerings, totalling $70 million, which were to have been made this week, were postponed until August.

Yields on municipals were down slightly while new issues met with a good reception last week. Of special note were the sell-out's of the $100 million of California Water bonds and the $27 million of New York City bonds, both with maturities stretching out as far as the year 2017. In addition, there was a decline in the Blue List of advertised inventories.

Stock prices. Though last Monday the Middle East crisis led to a rather substantial drop in common stock prices, throughout the rest of the week prices advanced in active trading. By Friday's close, Standard and Poor's index of 500 stocks stood at 91.56, a full 1.77 above the close the previous Friday. Trading volume averaged 9.7 million shares a day.

A standby commitment contract relates to proposed mortgages on housing not yet under construction which the seller must usually deliver within one year. Purchases include those under both immediate purchases and standby commitment contracts. Data exclude FNMA activity under Special Assistance and Management and Liquidating Programs.

5/8	5.1	Sorenco Ltd. -- % secured notes maturing 1987 -- no information available on takedown.

Note: For retrospective data on aggregate foreign corporate and government security offerings in the United States see Exhibits I and J. There is no simple relationship between the data shown in the Exhibit and that shown in Exhibits I and J because the latter includes privately placed securities in the period in which funds are actually taken down but only in the amount of takedown while the placements shown in this exhibit are included when reported, frequently with little or no information concerning timing of takedown. Full or partial takedown may take place both prior and subsequent to the date a placement is reported.
