IN THE UNITED STATES

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

Corporate and municipal bond markets. The expected volume of new, publicly-offered, corporate and municipal securities this week is above the average weekly volume over the past year. The especially large municipal volume includes the $126.1 million New York City issue of general obligation bonds and the negotiated offering of $125.0 million of New Jersey Turnpike revenue bonds. Market conditions allegedly may lead to the postponement of the latter, however. Dominating the corporate volume will be two $75 million industrial offerings--one by Pennzoil United, the other by Philip Morris, Inc. The week's total long-term offerings will be boosted well over the $1.0 billion mark by a $400 million Export-Import Bank issue.

^{1/} Federal Reserve estimates are based upon published reports of issues sold and scheduled for offering; corporate rights offerings are included as of date subscription rights expire.

Yields on new and seasoned corporate bonds advanced sharply last week although the rise in the composite new issue series was severely dampened by a shift in the volume of issues carrying call protection. More indicative of yield movements was the behavior of the Commonwealth Edison issue--offered only two weeks earlier--which was released from syndicate with only one-third sold. In free market trading, the yield on this issue adjusted upward by 24 basis points. Despite sharply higher yields, new issues in many cases received only a fair reception, and thus, despite the above-mentioned syndicate termination, the volume of bonds in syndicate rose.

Yields on municipals also advanced sharply last week, but this higher yield level failed to spark significant investor interest. By the end of the week only 66 per cent of the week's competitively offered issues had been sold. In addition, the $220 million negotiated sale of Maryland State Roads Commission bonds was said to have been relatively unsuccessful. Inventories of bonds originally offered in recent weeks were partially reduced at the cost of considerable price-cutting. The Blue List rose to within about $50 million of the year's high.

1/ Data represent unpaid principal balances of the mortgages involved, exclusive of premiums, discounts, or other charges. Offerings are amounts of applications received during the period from sellers proposing that FNMA execute purchasing contracts. An immediate purchase contract covers existing mortgages which the seller must deliver to FNMA within 45 days. A standby commitment contract relates to proposed mortgages on housing not yet under construction which the seller must usually deliver within one year. Purchases include those under both immediate purchases and standby commitment contracts. Data exclude FNMA activity under Special Assistance and Management and Liquidating Programs.

Before averaging, new offerings are adjusted to a composite Aaa basis by deducting from the actual reoffering yield the excess of the weekly average yield for seasoned bonds of the appropriate industry-quality group over the composite average for seasoned Aaa-rated bonds (Moody's). Averages considered unrepresentative because of special characteristics of the offerings included are denoted by an asterisk.

NOTE: For retrospective data on aggregate foreign corporate and government security offerings in the United States see Exhibits I and J. There is no simple relationship between the data shown in the Exhibit and that shown in Exhibits I and J because the latter includes privately placed securities in the period in which funds are actually taken down but only in the amount of takedown while the placements shown in this exhibit are included when reported, frequently with little or no information concerning timing of takedown. Full or partial takedown may take place both prior and subsequent to the date a placement is reported.
