February 26, 1970.

The seasonally adjusted money supply increased $800 million in the week ending February 18. The average level thus far in February is estimated at $199.3 billion, about the same as the average for the fourth quarter of 1969. Following reversal of the sharp January increase, the money supply has recently averaged about the same level as during the summer and fall of 1969. Time and savings deposits increased $400 million in the latest week following a similar increase in the preceding week.
